What's Your Experience?

—)o(—

Can you buy your Dry Goods any cheaper in the large and luxurious stores for cash than you can from us with our smaller and less expensive shop, where you can get a little accommodation if you need it?

I frequently ask my customers this question and the answer is invariably No. I have always been in a position to meet the lowest prices in town, no matter where or what; but I have never been in a better position to make close prices than now, and as a consequence some Wonderful Bargains are just to hand.

GENUINE THANKSGIVING AND STOCK-TAKING SALE.

For the next Thirty Days I intend running off my whole stock at about COST price, previous to stock taking, in order to save the expense of unrolling and measuring the goods, which requires expensive additional help. In this way the cost of stock-taking clerks will be taken off the price of goods and my customers will get the benefit.

I will give my customers any of the goods advertised by any of the Friday and Saturday "Bargain Day" stores at the same prices any day of the week. Look as long as you like—let your search take you where it may—but don't spend a cent until you have compared what we have to offer with what is offered elsewhere.

HEALTH OFFICERS

Held a Meeting in Toronto Yesterday.

A SHELBURNE DOCTOR'S TROUBLES

Cases of "Sycosis Parasiticus" Otherwise Known as Barber's Itch, Caused a Sensation in the Place—Horse-Meat Sausages Said to Be Made in Toronto.

Toronto, Ontario, November 13.—The Provincial Board of Health commenced its sittings yesterday in the Parliament buildings. Those in attendance were: Dr. J. Macdonald, Hamilton, chairman; Dr. P. H. Bryce, secretary; Dr. F. Rae, Oshawa; Dr. J. J. Cassidy, Dr. C. W. Covernton, Toronto; Dr. H. Vaux, Brockville; Dr. E. E. Kitchen, St. George.

The attendance of the board was directed for about a quarter of an hour to a peculiar communication from Dr. Norton, Medical Health Officer in the village of Shelburne, Ontario. It complained that some five or six cases of barber's itch—sycosis parasiticus, the doctors called it—had occurred in the village within the past three months. All the victims had complained that they had contracted the disease in a certain barber shop. As a consequence the villagers were incensed against the uncleanly barber and wanted him, the health officer, to close up his shop.

It was decided to require the barber to destroy his brushes, combs, razors, etc., or to turn them over to the Provincial Health Department to disinfect. The barber's shop and linen will also be disinfected.

Then the board turned its attention to horse sausages. A letter was received from a medical health officer in the eastern part of the province informing the board that certain enterprising speculators were buying up old horses at a dollar per head and shipping them to Toronto, where they were killed and manufactured into sausages, although they were shipped ostensibly for fertilizing purposes.

Several members of the board considered that if the horses had died of no specific disease but were killed and their flesh steamed the meat would be innocuous. The prejudice against horseflesh as an article of diet determined the board to investigate the matter thoroughly and bring the guilty parties to account.

A letter was then read from John Richardson, M.L.A., on the practice already exposed in The World, of feeding dead horses to hogs, charging a farmer in the County of York with this practice. He related that a county constable had seen the hogs at McKay's farm tearing at the carcass of a dead horse.

Dr. Bryce said that the County Crown Attorney was to prosecute the man upon an information he had laid against him.

The Committee on Sewerage reported on the disposal of sewage for Woodstock. They found that the water supply from springs 3 1-2 miles distant gave "a liberal quantity of pure sanitary water," and would, it was estimated, be sufficient for a city of 25,000 people. The sewage system of the town at present includes the drainage of surface water and the committee recommend that the separate system be employed. The report continues: "Here in Woodstock, although the quantity of sewage is not large still it has been allowed to enter the small River Thames, which runs through many miles of fine farming country, supplying drink to many people, but more especially the farm animals.

"Towns are already taking or contemplating taking their water supply from this stream, and therefore more necessity exists that some other system of sewage disposal be adopted than emptying it into running streams." For the "north side" they recommend that the sewage ne caused to flow over ten acres of land lying between the C.P.R. and the Thames, immediately to the north of Admiral-street, which property is peculiarly adapted to the downward intermittent filtration. Eventually, they say, the south side sewage will have to be dealt with, and they recommend that the sewage from the Dundas-street sewer be pumped 13 feet, so as to be run on to the same plot of land, and that the municipal council should require the disinfection of the effluent before discharging into running water of the sewage from any tannery or woolen mill dealing with hides from South America, South Africa or Syria.

The Committee on Epidemics remark upon the immunity from diphtheria which was so remarkable in the previous quarter. A fairly large demand continued for anti-toxine, 40 bottles having been sent out, most if it to Brantford. The death of Pasteur is deplored as a loss to all students of preventive medicine. The report remarks that smallpox is practically stamped out in the United States and Canada has been free from it for six months. The only disease whose prevalence throughout the quarter has been noted has been enteric fever, and this has been caused, in the opinion of the committee, by the dry weather of June and July, followed by the rains of August, showing that low water in wells was responsible. They hoped to be able to make scientific recommendations, however, that would obviate thise difficulty. The report was adopted.

The same committee presented the report of an investigation into the causes of death in the family of John McLuhan in July, 1895, when five deaths out of eight cases of diphtheria took place in the township of Proton, near Dundalk. The committee recomended that "the most that can be expected of the practitioner in doubtful cases of membraneous croup and in all suspected cases of diphtheria is to report immediately to the local Board of Health or to the medical health officer. The onus of clearing up the causation of these obscure cases should then rest on the local Board or its executive officer."

The local Health Board of Port Colborne complained against what they termed a nuisance maintained by the Dominion Government on the Welland Canal. They complain that a small stream running from the Grand River to the canal is unsanitary, but Dr. Bryce has written them that the nuisance is caused by those living along the banks within the local Board's jurisdiction.

A letter was also read from Galt, complaining of the condition of Mill Creek, running through the town. The water will be analyzed.

In regard to an outbreak of diphtheria at Whitney, Ont., on the line of the Ottawa, Arnprior and Parry Sound Railway, the infected buildings were ordered destroyed.

Another letter was read from Dr. Norton of Huntsville about the feeding of offal to hogs.

The following comparative statement of typhoid cases throughout the province was presented: Barrie, no cases; St. Catharines, 10 cases, no deaths; Paris, 10 cases, three deaths; Owen Sound, 12 cases, five deaths; Ingersol, no cases; St. Mary's, six cases, no deaths; Sarnia, no cases; Carleton Place, no cases; Belleville, 15 cases, two deaths; Napanee, 19 cases, one death; London, 67 cases, one death; Chatham, 62 cases, no deaths; Collingwood, 3 cases, 1 death; Port Hope, 50 cases, 3 deaths; Peterboro, 8 cases, 2 deaths; Lindsay, 6 cases, 1 death; Stratford, 17 cases, 1 death; Hamilton, 67 cases, 3 deaths; Cobourg, 2 cases, no deaths; Kingston, 20 cases, 4 deaths; St. Thomas, 16 cases, 2 deaths; Aylmer, 1 death. The majority of these cases are attributed either to impure water, mostly well water, or to bad drainage.

The Board then adjourned till 10.30 a.m. to-day.

ANOTHER GRAND WEDDING.

Equal in Brilliancy to the Marlborough-Vanderbilt Affair Last Week.

New York, Nov. 13.—Under a bright, clear sky, and within the portals of St. Thomas' Church, where, less than a week ago Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt was made the Duchess of Marlborough, Miss Pauline Payne Whitney, daughter of William C. Whitney, former secretary of the navy, was shortly after noon yesterday wedded to Almeric Hugh Paget, the youngest son of the late Gen. Lord Alfred Paget, and grandson of the first Marquis of Anglesea. As far as the ceremonials go, the affair was not less brilliant than the Marlborough-Vanderbilt wedding. It was, perhaps, more distinguished, though the bridegroom, again an Englishman, does not inherit a title. On this occasion, numbered among the wedding guests were President Cleveland and members of his Cabinet, who journeyed from Washington to do honors to the young couple. There were present, too, Governor Morton and a score of diplomats. It was, indeed, a state occasion, as well as a great social function.

Long before noon the church was crowded and all were anxiously awaiting the coming of the bridal party. In the meantime, the musical program, which was one of an exceptionally high order, was proceeded with. Edouard De Reszke, the basso of the Italian Opera Co., sang to organ accompaniment. Franz Ondricek, the violinist, who has just arrived from Europe, to play his first American engagement, followed with "The Elegie," by Laub, to organ accompaniment. Then came the great treat of the musical program when Mme. Nordica and M. De Resske sang a duet, "The Crucifix," by Faure, also to organ accompaniment. Mme. Nordica earned much admiration by her superb rendition of the "Ave Maria," by Gounod, which was made even more effective with a violin obligato by Mr. Franko and accompaniment by the organ and full string orchestra with harp.

Handel's "Largo" was played by Mr. Franko with all the strings, harp and organ, and the choir sang to organ accompaniment the Bridal March from Weber's "Der Freischutz." There was also organ selections by Mr. Warren.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bride and groom, Mr. Whitney and the best man went into the vestry, where the marriage registry was signed. While this was going on musical selections were rendered by the organ, orchestra and soloists.

The wedding breakfast was served at the Whitney mansion. About 100 of Miss Whitney's nearest friends had been invited. Among those who participated were President Cleveland, Secretary Lamont, Governor and Mrs. Morton, the British ambassador, Sir Julian Pauncefote, Lord Westmeath and Lady Colebrooke. The wedding gifts were numerous and valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars. Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland sent a large two-handled silver cup and Secretary Lamont a beautiful painted fan.

Mr. Whitney presented his daughter with the famous Whitney family jewels. In addition he gave her a magnificent necklace, consisting of over 250 pearls and 200 diamonds. Another beautiful necklace, composed of over 200 green opals and diamonds was the gift of Charles William Bingham.

Other presents were made by Lady Paget, diamond brooch; Earl and Countess of Essex, silver box; Sir Edwin and Lady Colebrooke, silver centre piece; Marquis de Talleyrand, fan and parasol; Whitelaw Reid, four gold open-work dishes; Count Sierstorpff, fan, pearl and gold sticks; Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, diamond leaf pin; Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, feather fan, ivory sticks; a complete traveling case by the groom's family; Mr. Depew, silver coffee service; Mrs. Astor, silver dessert service; Mr. and Mrs. Thomas F. Gilroy, gold mounted scent bottle; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Croker, large silver edged mirror; Mr. and Mrs. John Jacob Astor, large silver vase; Mrs. Chamberlain, silver dish.

The bride and bridegroom will go to Minnesota for a short time, and as the winter sets in will sail for the Riviera and thence to Cairo.

Good News For Workmen.

Baltimore, Nov. 12.—The Maryland Steel Company to-day started up the fires in furnace "A" at Sparrow's Point. After 23 months of idleness the indications are that the plant will be in full operation within a few weeks, giving work to 800 men. The Sparrow's Point works are controlled by the Pennsylvania Steel Company.

TRIAL OF THE TWINS.

Developments in the Assize Courts Yesterday.

MORE RULING OUT OF EVIDENCE.

The Alleged Conspiracy to Insure Mrs Hyams Not Allowed to Come Before the Judge and Jury—Damaging Evidence Given by Elevator Experts.

Toronto, Ontario, November 13.—Yesterday was another of those variegated days which the Crown has been experiencing since the commencement of the second trial of the Hyams twins; as on the day before, the Crown had decidedly the worst of the struggle during the earlier portion of the day's proceedings and decidedly the better of it when the hour for adjournment was reached.

As had been previously announced, the arguments touching upon the right of the Crown to introduce testimony bearing upon the alleged conspiracy of the prisoners to insure the life of Mrs. Martha Wells Hyams for a sum approaching $300,000 and then accomplish her death by foul means were taken up before the noon recess. The jury was excused and Mr. Osler and Assistant Attorney-General Cartwright argued the point more from a moral standpoint, the legal proofs of their right to introduce the evidence having been previously submitted to His Lordship, as had those of the other side. The defence were evidently satisfied with the showing they had made in this respect and offered nothing further in the way of argument. His Lordship's ruling that the evidence should not be presented to the jury was hardly in the nature of a surprise; Mr. Justice Street had already similarly ruled in an emphatic manner and the Crown had been unable to materially strengthen its plea on this occasion and apparently had relied upon the court's acceptance of its moral views for its success in the attempt.

The prisoners were unmistakably relieved when the court announced its decision and they probably had every occasion to feel happier; as the evidence of this damning plot against the life of Willie Wells' sister, as it would have been presented by the Crown, would doubtless have ended very materially towards an adverse verdict at the hands of the jury.

The story of this "subsequent insurance," as it is generally termed, shows that Harry and Dallas Hyams, the diminutive twins, had attempted to insure Martha Wells, Harry's wife, for the sum of $290,000 in the following companies.

Equitable Life Assurance	$80,000
Mutual Life of New York	50,000
Sun Life	20,000
Standard of Edinburgh	10,000
Standard of Edinburgh, additional application	75,000
United States Life	20,000
Mutual Reserve Fund	25,000
Confederation Life	10,000

The Crown had expected to prove that the premiums on these sums were far beyond the means of the prisoners and that there could have been but one object in the insurances, and that object murder. Reasonable proof of a contemplated murder of this calibre might have had the effect on the jury hoped for by the Crown and the refusal of His Lordship to admit it was a very decided victory for the defence, though it exploded for the interested spectators all hope of the sensation which would naturally have accompanied the introduction of the evidence.

The arguments referred to above having been disposed of, the Crown went ahead with its mechanical expert testimony, introducing witnesses who were inclined to the belief that an accident could never have occurred to destroy the life of poor Willie Wells in the manner suggested in the defence's theories. The most important of these witnesses was Mr. Fensom an elevator manufacturer, and a gentleman well acquainted with the workings of hoists similar to that employed in the Colborne-street warehouse. Mr. Fensom had recently made a number of experiments with this particular lift and had made a special study of the weight shaft and the possibilities of an accident of the sort contended by the defence did occur, and stated most positively that it was among the impossibilities for the weight to have become detached in the manner described, as the cage and weight were too evenly balanced to permit of any slack in the main rope, even should an obstruction in the weight shaft succeed in stopping the cage in its ascent or descent.

Another witness, Mr. Riches, a wholesale dealer of this city, gave some testimony tending to show that two days subsequent to the killing he had purchased the entire stock of groceries contained in the Hyamses' warehouse and had found many traces of blood on the various packages as he removed them. Should it be shown that the stains were made by the blood of the dead boy, it might become a much more difficult proposition for the defence to prove that Willie Wells met his death at the base of the elevator shaft and altogether in an accidental manner.

Mr. Osler and Crown Attorney Dewart for the Crown, and Mr. Lount and Mr. Johnston for the defence are getting to be quite mechanical as a result of their many experiments with the weights, rope and other tools formerly used in the deadly elevator, and some of them are intensely amusing as well as interesting. It was stated in the court room yesterday that during the morning session Mr. Osler and Witness Galt had made a number of practical experiments with the fatal weight and its hook, but the immediate presence of the portly Mr. Lount and his legal confreres rendered any positive knowledge of the experiments impossible to those who were unfortunate enough to be seated beyond the north railing of the jury box.

Ivorine for the Teeth.

Asks only a trial. Boasting will not whiten teeth; Ivorine for the teeth does. Extravagant claims will not render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine never fails to do this. Ivorine for the teeth asks for an opportunity to demonstrate its value. Dentists have affirmed it and the public corroborate professional opinion, but do you know, as every tooth loving man or woman ought to know Ivorine for the teeth is best?

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1895.

WILLIAM WORTHINGTON, of Cincinnati, who died recently, carried life insurance amounting to $200,000. Possibly the beneficiaries under the policies, were not aware of this large amount or Mr. Worthington may have died less recently.

THE Montreal Star remarks that "Europe shows a decided inclination to have Turkey for Thanksgiving this year." We should, according to the way things are now, have genuine cause for thanksgiving if there were no Turkey.

THE San Francisco Chronicle has the following as the results of the Monroe doctrine flapdoodle of a certain class of American newspapers: "There will be no Anglo-American war over the Venezula dispute. As in all other instances of "British aggression" in this hemisphere, the sequence of events will be this:

1. Our sturdy reaffirmation of the Monroe doctrine.
2. Marked inattention of Great Britain to doctrine and reaffirmation.
3. Retaliatory inattention on our part to the inattention of Great Britain.
4. Peace with honour, paid for by Venezuela."

AUSTRALIA is now permanently in the swim as a competitor with America in the live cattle trade with England. The London Field, just out, says the Southern Cross arrived at Deptford recently with 550 live bullocks from Australia, and that shipment, the first of any size, is to be followed by others, the Australians being satisfied with the results of their trial shipments. Canadian exporters will need to watch cattle trade developments closely with an eye to rates and facilities for shipping, the principal factors in a large business of this kind. Canada is favorably situated for a remunerative share of the business with the motherland, so long as the carrying and other interests are willing to accommodate themselves to the situation.

THE monthly statements of the public debt and revenue for October appeared in the Canadian Gazette. Compared with 1894 the month's revenue shows an increase of $371,000, with 1893 an increase of $115,000, and with 1892 a decrease of $163,000. Of the month's increase of $371,000 no less than $332,000 is from customs, which shows that the new taxes of 1895 are bringing in more revenue. No comparison bearing on the state of trade is possible with October, 1894, because the same tariff is not in force, but a customs tariff designed to increase the 1894 revenue by $1,500,000 or more, and an excise revenue two or three hundred thousand dollars heavier. Mr. Foster calculated in his budget that he would get $1,700,000 or $1,800'000 more out of his additional taxes. With this and a reduction of $2,400,000 in the expenditure Mr. Foster calculated he would pull through. The revenue for the four months ending October 31st has been thus increased by $958,000, but the expenditure is only $436,000 less, so that Mr. Foster is running behind or ahead on the expenditure, and bids fair to face another deficit. Interim expenditure statements, however, are of little value, as experience has shown. The expenditure can never be ascertained until the close of the fiscal year, but the revenue can. As to the net debt, while it is over $5,000,000 in excess of this date last year, it can be shown that a heavy liability is left out of the statement.

Exposure to cold, damp winds, may result in pneumonia unless the system is kept invigorated with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Captain Sweeney, U. S. A., San Diego Cal. says: "Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy is the first medicine I have ever found that would do me any good." Price 50c. Sold by John Nugent, 359 George Street.

Pleasant as Syrup.

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, Ont., states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as a syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases.

FARMERS' INSTITUTES.

Schedule of Meetings for the Coming Winter.

The schedule of meetings arranged for the coming winter, has been prepared and issued by Mr. F. W. Hodson of the Ontario Agricultural College. The dates of the meetings for this district are as follows: West Peterborough, at Lakefield, Jan. 14th, and Peterborough (town), Jan. 14th. The delegates and subjects are as follows:

Mr. L. W. Steinhoff, Stratford, Ont., "Selecting and Feeding Dairy Cows for Profit," address and discussion, one hour; "Advantages of Cheese and Butter-making as a Branch of Farming," address and discussion, 40 minutes: "An Address suitable to Locality," "The Ontario Agricultural College."

Mr. Jas. McEwinz, Drayton, Ont., alternate with Prof. Shuttleworth, "Essentials to Successful Farming," "Underdraining," "Mistakes made in Farming," "The Manufacture and Management of Fertilizers on a Farm," "Farm Implements and their Care." Evening subjects—"Defects in our Educational System," "Brain Culture as a Catch Crop on the Farm."

EAST PETERBOROUGH.

Norwood, Jan. 21st; Keene, Jan. 24th. The deputations and subjects are as below:—

Mr. David McCrae, Guelph.—"Horse Breeding," "Cattle Feeding," "The Wool Trade," "Breeding and Feeding Sheep," "Clover Culture," "Our Best Grasses," "Rye and Ripe." Evening subjects—"Country Homes," Our Farm Life." Time, from thirty minutes to one hour, including discussion.

Mr. D. W. Beadle M.A., Toronto.—"Apple Orchard; site, soil, preparation of the ground, selection of trees, planting, cultivating and pruning." "Varieties for Home Use and for Foreign and Home Markets; Gathering the Fruit, Packing and How to Market," "Injuries to Fruit Trees Caused by Insects Boring into the Wood, Eating the Leaves and Sucking the Sap; Injuries to the Fruit," "Benefits of Spraying for the Destruction of Insects, the Prevention of Diseases, and the Securing of More and Better Fruit" (illustrated with drawings), "Spraying Requisites Discussed, and illustrated by drawings," "Hints on the Cultivation of Pears and Plums, and the Selection of Varieties," "Small Fruits; their Value, How to Plant and Cultivate." Evening Subjects—"Insect Foes and Insect Friends, with illustrations by magic lantern," "Fungi Injurious to the Crops of the Farmer and of the Fruitgrower, illustrated with the magic lantern." Time thirty minutes.

Mr. J. J. Ferguson, Smith's Falls, Ont.—"Building Up a Serviceable Dairy Herd," time for lecture forty minutes; discussion fifteen minutes: "Some Practical and Profitable Advances in Dairying," lecture thirty minutes, discussion ten minutes; "Fodder Corn; Its Value and Methods of Handling It," lecture forty minutes, discussion twenty minutes; "Selection and Care of the Dairy Cow," lecture forty-five minutes, discussion ten minutes. Evening Subjects—"The Necessity of Agricultural Education," lecture thirty minutes; "Theory and Practice," lecture thirty minutes; "The Farmer's Position, Present and Prospective," lecture thirty minutes; "The Ontario Agricultural College," lecture thirty minut

FARM PUPILS.

Why anyone should pay £25 to be taught farming, as a number of young Englishmen have been charged in Kansas, or $25, or even 25 cents, is something almost beyond the comprehension of the average Canadian. In the Old Country the practice of paying premiums by apprentices to any trade is a time-honoured one which does not prevail in the new world, where, on the contrary, the embryonic mechanic is usually paid a certain amount of wages during his apprenti eship. There have been, it is true, some Old Countrymen who have been induced, through the representations of so-called emigration associations which not infrequently wear a semi-philanthropical cloak, to pay handsome bonuses to Ontario farmers, but he would be a pretty useless individual lacking either in brain or brawn who could not engage himself on a Canadian farm without being taxed heavily for the privilege of working for nothing and boarding himself. The fact that during the past autumn five thousand young Ontario and Quebec farmers secured remunerative employment in the harvest fields of Manitoba would indicate that there is room for a good many persons wishing to acquire experience in the art of agriculture—and who are willing to work—without that expense to themselves or their fathers which is imposed by these associations. The Governments, whether Local or Federal, should be the agencies through which these strangers should be placed on farms, and every facility should be afforded them by the Government officials in their laudable aim; at any rate it would be one step towards the inauguration of that vigorous immigration policy of which we have heard so much and seen so little.—Star.

FLYING OVER THE RAILS.

Fast Express Trains in England, on the Continent and in America.

Washington, Nov. 12.—Commercial Agent T. E. Moore has made a report to the Department of State on European railroads and railroad speed. Russia built the greatest number of miles of new railroad during the year, 678 miles; England the least, 224 miles. The average rate of speed per hour for fast express trains was: England 51.75 miles; Germany 51.25, France 49.88, Belgium 45.04, Holland 44.73, Italy 42.34, Austria-Hungary 41.75 miles. The best speed of an English train is given at 63 1-4 miles per hour, when a record was made of eight hours and 55 minutes between London and Aberdeen. The widespread interest caused by this wonderful performance had not ceased when news came from the United States of the record on the New York Central Railroad between New York and Buffalo, a distance of 436 1-2 miles, which was made in 407 minutes or an average of 64 1-2 miles per hour.

SHOT HIS COMRADE.

A Chicago Man Who Killed His Companion, Thinking Me Was a Deer.

Mutley, Wis., Nov. 12.—Edward R. Stockley, Jesse R. Morgan and James Morgan, all of Chicago, left here yesterday to hunt deer. They located themselves in the deer run-ways near Sand Creek, a few miles from here. Mr. Stockley left his post for some reason, going directly towards Jesse Morgan, who was hidden in the dense underbrush. Mr. Morgan heard a crashing of branches some distance from him and thinking it was caused by a deer fired. As he did so a scream startled him, and, on going to the spot, where the supposed deer lay, Mr. Morgan was horrified to find he had killed his friend and companion. Mr. Morgan is almost crazy with grief.

ALMOST TORN TO PIECES.

A Mount Forest Young Man Instantly Killed by Machinery.

Hamilton, Nov. 12.—William Andersen of Mount Forest was instantly killed in Watertown this morning while trying to put on a belt. He was caught in it and almost torn to pieces. He was about 19 years of age.

NEWFOUNDLAND'S TROUBLES.

No Hope of Honest Reforms—Twelve Men Left on Bleak Labrador's Coast

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 12.—The Telegram, the Government organ, admits to-day the hopelessness of expecting any honest reforms from the present Government, owing to the pressure of the demands of its political supporters, unless the Ministry is compelled to pursue an economic course by the action of the Governor or the Colonial Office.

Much destitution is reported from the northern outports. A whole fishing crew of 12 men were left at one of the bleakest harbors of Labrador a fortnight ago, with scarcely any provisions owing to the vessel which went to bring them home being unable to reach them. The whole party will inevitably perish unless speedy relief is sent, so the Government has ordered a mail steamer to proceed to Labrador and rescue them.

The steamer Neptune arrived here today with another cargo from the wrecked steamer Mariposa. The wreck is still in splendid condition. A diver who examined her bottom says she lies in a cradle of rocks. There is only one hole through her and there should be no difficulty in floating her next spring.

Will Call on Mr. Chamberlain

London, Nov. 12.—A deputation of representatives of the British West Indies will call upon Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, on Thursday to discuss the trade relations between the British West Indies and the United States, and will also discuss the question of sugar bounties.

More Captures by the Petrel.

Sandusky, Ohio, Nov. 12.—Four American fishermen were arrested off the shores of North Bass Island last evening by the Canadian cruiser Petrel. The vessel had been cruising about the islands all day and after making the arrest started off in the direction of Amherstburg.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

UNCONSCIOUS OF DANGER!

Many people buy Clothing without fully considering who they are buying from or what they are getting. You know that when you sell an article that is the product of your own hands, you know just what it contains and can thus guarantee it.

If you did not manufacture the article, but bought it from somebody else, you could not honestly guarantee it. This is where OAK HALL CLOTHING has the call over all others.

We make every article we sell. We know what it is then from stem to gudgeon. We know how they are made and can thus guarantee them Every Suit bears our name. Would we likely deceive you with goods bearing our trade mark? This is sensible talk. BUY OF THE MAKERS.

THE McCARTHY CASE.

Another Despatch Confirming This Remarkable Recovery.

Had Bright's Disease—Was Given Up to Die—Got Well—Calls Dodd's Kidney Pills His Doctor and Stays Cured.

Special to the Examiner.

OTTAWA, Nov. 13.—A despatch from Richmond reached the Citizen and Free Press here and copied by both of them was the first news, to a wide circle of interested friends, of the recovery of Mr. J. McCarthy, harnessmaker, of that place, from a hopeless condition of Bright's disease. His friends had expected to hear of his death at any time.

Inquiry direct with Richmond confirmed the fact that his shop was open and that the late patient was hard at work.

"Is it true that he owes his life to Dodd's Kidney Pills?" was asked.

'Yes. He gives that remedy all credit, for he had quit the doctors and took no other medicine," was the answer.

"Mr. McCarthy had been running down for some time from Bright's disease and deciding, after hearing of another remarkable cure in the same vicinity, to use Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"He was not disappointed, and after a few weeks re-opened his shop."

Such were the replies confirmatory of the original dispatch concerning this remarkable cure.

It seems only necessary for any person despairing of life to let go all other remedies and use Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Out of over a million boxes sold there has never been one complaint that Dodd's Kidney Pills has disappointed expectations.

Mr. McCarthy calls these pills his doctor, and so they are; and are used at present in a million homes in Canada.

Motorman Instantly Killed.

Aurora, Ill., Nov. 12.—A street car crashed into a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy freight thain at 2.30 this afternoon, instantly killing Motorman George Kerr. The street car was going down grade when the brake got away from the motorman. He stuck to his post trying to stop the car until the crash came. The passengers and conductor escaped through the rear door unhurt.

A Woman Instantly Killed.

Barrie, Nov. 12.—Miss Allingham, a music teacher of Hawkstone, was struck and instantly killed this afternoon by a Grand Trunk special freight train on the public crossing south of Oro station. It is supposed she was walking home along the track and did not hear the approaching train.

Gigantic Fly Wheel Burst.

Albany, Nov. 12.—A gigantic flywheel burst in the power house of the Albany Railway Co. this afternoon. Two houses, one of them two blocks from the power house, were wrecked.

An Old Man Killed.

Penfrew, Ont., Nov. 12.—An old man named Robillard was struck on the head and instantly killed on the C.P.R. crossing in the outskirts of the town this afternoon.

Quiet Wedding at Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The marriage of Mr. H. J. Skynner of Brandon to Miss Girouard, eldest daughter of Judge Girouard of the Supreme Court, took place this morning. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Canon Campeau, in the private chapel of His Grace Archbishop Duhamel. Owing to the recent death of Mrs. Girouard's mother, the wedding was very quiet, only members of the bride's family being present. Mr. and Mrs. Skynner will leave for their home in Brandon, stopping off at Toronto and other places en route for a few days.

Fish For Sale But No Buyers.

Halifax, N.S., Nov. 12.—Mail advices from Newfoundland to-day say insurance rates in St. John's have been increased 2 per cent. Hundreds of schooners are at St. John's with cargoes of fish unable to sell them, no one being willing to buy.

King Charles Entertained.

London, Nov. 12.—King Charles of Portugal was entertained at luncheon at the Mansion House by the Lord Mayor to-day. Lord Salisbury was present.

Many people, when a little constipated, make the mistake of using saline or other drastic purgatives. All that is needed is a mild dose of Ayer's Pills to restore regular movement of the bowels, and nature will do the rest. They keep the system in perfect order.

IS SHORTIS INSANE?

Efforts Made to Save Him from the Gallows.

PRESSING THE CASE AT OTTAWA.

Furness Line Bidding For the Winter Steamship Subsidy—O. A. Howland, of Toronto, as a Deep Waterways Commissioner General News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—George G. Foster of Montreal, counsel for Shortis in the recent murder trial at Valleyfield, had an interview with the Minister of Justice yesterday, presenteld him with all the papers of the case, and pressed for the commutation of the death sentence to life imprisonment on the ground of insanity.

Mrs. Shortis came up to Ottawa with Mr. Foster, but did not visit the department.

The principal ground for the petition is that due weight was not given by the jury to the medical testimony. In support of this the petitioners produce affidavits signed by Dr. Bucke of London, Ont., Dr. Clark of Toronto, Dr. Charles Clarke of Kingston, and Dr. Anglin of Montreal, all of whom swear that notwithstanding the verdict they believe the prisoner was incapable of judging between right and wrong on the 1st of March last, when the murderous acts were committed, and was insane, and is so to-day.

The Minister promised Mr. Foster to look carefully into the representations laid before the Department.

Mr. Foster afterwards called on Sir Adolphe Caron and had an interview with him. This being done he returned to Mrs. Shortis, who was for an hour and a half walking in front of the main entrance to the departmental block, to communicate the result of his mission. The nature of the woman's mission was not known to the numerous passersby and she was not troubled by the gaze of the curious in any way.

Whatever the report of the Minister may be, the case will have to be finally disposed of by the Cabinet.

The matter of the propsed steamship line during the winter between St. John and Liverpool was under discussion in Council to-day. The Government fully intended reaching a decision on the subject this afternoon, but, owing to the late arrival in the city of Messrs. Hughes of Halifax and Burnett of Boston, representing the Furness line, who desire to submit a tender for the proposed service, the question could not finally be disposed of. The Furness line people have made an offer to the Beaver line to undertake the service jointly, but it is said the Beaver line will not entertain the proposal.

Now that the United States Government has appointed commissioners to report on the deep waterways project, it is expected that the Canadian Government will take similar action soon. It is generally expected that Mr. Howland, M.L.A. for South Toronto, will be one of the commissioners. The other two will be engineers of high standing, the names of Messrs. Thomas Monro and T. S. Rubidge being mentioned in this connection.

The Premier has not received any official advices of the reported visit of the Premier of Newfoundland, Sir William Whiteway, to Ottawa to resume federation negotiations, but if he does come he will receive a cordial welcome.

Mr. Justice Meredith held weekly High Court sitting here to-day, when the appeal of County Solicitor Powell against the recent taxation of his costs in the Cumming's Bridge arbitration was heard. The judge practically upheld the taxation by Mr. J. P. Featherston, but made an order that if within two weeks Mr. Powell could secure a fiat of the taxing officer in Toronto for a higher counsel fee, the county should pay it; costs of motion to be paid by Mr. Powell.

The second case was one in which the county contended that the solicitor's pay was provided for by a county by-law. He held that in attending meetings of joint city and county committees, he was doing more than the by-law called for, and hence was entitled to aditional remuneration. The judge decided otherwise and Mr. Featherston's taxation was upheld.

Mr. Cassels proceeded with his argument before the Supreme Court this morning in the case of Charlebois v. Delap, and when he had concluded Howland, Q.C., followed on the same side. Arnoldi, Q.C., was then heard for the bondholders and Delap, and was addressing the court at the time of adjournment.

Canadian woodsmen, it appears, have been refused permission to work in the forests of Maine during the coming winter under the alien contract law.

The Canada Atlantic and Parry Sound Railways will have passenger trains running into the new depot at the canal basin by December 15th.

The Stage of Convalescence.

Is at once interesting and critical. The patient, carefully guarded at this period and provided with the means essential to health, may be enabled once more to enjoy the inestimable blessing of health. On the other hand, neglect of even minor needs, at this period, is likely to impose upon him the life-long penalty of ill-health, resulting in a wasted life. The assimilative processes are, at the time, sure to be impaired, and nerve tone overtaxed in its resistance to the assaults of disease; will both sadly need impetus which Maltine with Coca Wine alone can give.

By the action of Maltine with Coca Wine upon the digestive processes, which it rapidly strengthens, and its permanent and striking influence upon the nervous system, to which it gives vigor and tone, the restorative power of the body is immensely increased, and strength and vigor come to the invalid so quietly as to seem almost impossible. Experience, however, has demonstrated its efficiency in convalescence, as well as in the various forms of which debility, arising from faulty nutrition, manifests itself. Sold by all druggists.

Doctors recommend Norway Pine Syrup because it is the best cure for coughs and colds. Price 25c. and 50c. at druggists.

Shiloh's Cure

is sold on a guarantee, it cures Incipient Consumption. It is the best Cough Cure. Only one cent a dose. 25 cts., 50 cts., and $1.00. Sold by John Nugent, 399 George street.

Fort William, Ont.

Mr. William Day, of Fort William, Ont. says: Two years ago my wife was very ill with dyspepsia. No remedy that she could find gave any relief. Finally she tried Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. That is now more than two years ago and she has had no return of the malady. I also have had occasion to use B. B. B. and I cannot speak too highly in its favour. I always recommend it to my friends and in every case with good results. Yours truly, WM. DAY.

FARR FOUND GUILTY.

He Tried to Burn Wife and Children in Order to Elope.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—The most sensational criminal trial that ever occupied any of the Manitoba courts ended to-night when the jury in the Farr case returned a verdict of guilty of arson and attempted murder.

The charge against Farr was that on the night of April 12 last he set fire to his residence for the purpose of cremating his wife and four children; also to defraud the insurance company of $1000, which had been placed on the furniture the week previous. Prisoner's motive for the crime was to get the money and elope with Miss Robertson, with whom he had carried on a liaison for three or four years past.

The strangest part of this strange case is that Farr succeeded in keeping both the wife and paramour in perfect ignorance of the double life he was leading. Counsel for the prisoner failed to arouse suspicion that either Farr's wife or his dupe, Miss Robertson, were in any way connected with setting the fire.

The judge and jury were both convinced that the prisoner alone was a criminal, and one of the deepest dye.

AN ENGLISHMAN FOUND DEAD.

A Letter on Him Gives Directions as to the Disposal of His Wealth.

New York, Nov. 12.—A young man supposed to be Peter Wooley, of Woolwich, England, was found dead in front of No. 16 East Eighteenth-street last evening, and the circumstances led the police to believe that the young man had committed suicide.

The police patrol wagon was summoned and the body was removed to the Thirtieth-street station, where it was discovered that the dead man's chin and neck were burned apparently with carbolic acid. A letter found in his pocket read:

"Please give this to the British Consul-General: Peter Wooley, youngest son of Margaret Wooley, of Plumstead, Kent, England, desires that you will let the Woolwich branch of the Bank of England know of his death, so that his brother, William Henry Woolwich, may get what money there is belonging to me. If you will do this I shall be much obliged. P. W."

A pocketbook and $1.30 in money was found in his pockets. From his appearance the police believe that he did not work for his living, as his hands were soft and smooth.

The Pools not all Dead yet.

Even a blind man can see that more clearly than daylight, or else why should so many continue to use ill smelling, oily, and often useless preparations for the relief of pain, when a preparation just as cheap, elegant, more powerful, and penetrating as Nerviline is can be purchased from any dealers in medicine? Nerviline cures instantly aches and pains. Nerviline is the most efficacious remedy for internal pains, Nerviline applied externally subdues the most intense pain almost at once.

BERNARD R. POOLE
Veterinary Surgeon and Dentist

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot stop work every minute to bother with an irritating skin disease, or a hacking cough that insists on breaking into his bargain-making. Neither will he wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula, or consumption. "That," he will tell you "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine that permeates the whole body as water goes through a sponge. It is a microbe hunter and a microbe killer. It is a well-known fact that many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of living in this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering, bronchial, throat and lung diseases. Don't allow a druggist to persuade you into taking something that he says is "just as good." Maybe it's better for him—better for his profits. Take the "Golden Medical Discovery"—the greatest discovery of the age. In addition, in order to know yourself better, send to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, and get in return, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a book of 1008 pages, illustrated, and is full of common sense talk that any one who can read will understand.

And here is the testimony of Mrs. E. E. ENDERS, of Carey, Ohio, in regard to the "Golden Medical Discovery": "I had a troublesome skin disease. I suffered much from surface sores. Nothing helped me until I tried the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' A year or two later I had lung trouble. Again the 'Discovery' cured me."

(Mrs.) E. E. Enders

HIGHWAY ROBBERY NEAR CENTREVILLE.

A Young Man "Held up" and Robbed—The Footpads not Thought to be Strangers.

On Saturday evening the usual peaceable and law-abiding character of South Monaghan was blackened by a bold highway robbery. On Saturday evening, Mr. Woods, son of Mr. George Woods, was returning home after leaving a friend at the G. T. R. station at Fraserville. When he was about half a mile east of Centreville he was stopped by two men, dragged out of his buggy and his pockets rifled. Fortunately he had only fifty cents with him and this the robbers took, but they did not take anything else found in the pockets.

The general impression in the vicinity is that the robbers are not strangers to the locality and that in attacking Mr. Woods they made a mistake in their man. A young man had been about Centreville during the day and had very injudiciously displayed a large sum of money—about $100—the result of his summer's work on a farm. He had expressed his intention of going somewhere in the direction Mr. Woods lived, and said he would first go to some place near Fraserville and get a horse and buggy to make the trip. It is supposed that young Mr. Woods was mistaken for the young man with the large sum of money, whose financial flushness may have been noticed by some loungers, who took measures accordingly, but only succeeded in subjecting themselves, if detected, to a very severe punishment for the sake of only fifty cents.

ATTEMPTED HOUSEBREAKING.

There seems to be an epidemic of lawlessness in this township at present. On Monday night, Nov. 11, an attempt was made to break into the residence of Mr. Wallace Morrison. Mrs. Morrison, his mother, was awakened during the night by a noise at the door. She arose and struck a light and the noise ceased. Investigation by her son showed that the fastening of the front door had been nearly wrenched off. The intruder decamped before he could be seen, but the door bore traces of his work and tracks were seen made by feet shod with rubbers.

ANOTHER MIDNIGHT PROWLER.

A few nights previously the house of Mr. Thomas Woods was feloniously entered. Mr. Woods on awakening during the night detected the presence of a stranger in the house. He urged Mr. Woods to keep quiet so that he could get near the intruder without being observed. But Mrs. Woods in her excitements and alarm was unable to repress an outcry, and the would-be burglar took the alarm and fled, pursued by Mr. Woods, who, undressed as he was, could not follow far. He, however, got sight of the rascal, but could not recognize him. He is only able to state that he was a man of short stature.

THE BICYCLE CLUB'S CONCERT.

The Attendance was Large and the Promenade Enjoyed.

The entertainment given under the auspices of the Bicycle Club in the skating rink last evening for the visiting wheelmen was largely attended although the chilliness of the rink somewhat mitigated the pleasure of the occasion.

Mr. R. M. Roy gave a number of selected limelight views which proved most interesting. Pictures of a number of noted wheelsmen were thrown on the big canvas as well as a number of local views and humourous subjects.

The Fire Brigade band was in attendance for the evening and their selections were greatly enjoyed, as this is the first opportunity the public has had of hearing the band play since the close of the summer open air concerts. Little 'Rastus, the mascot, did some very clever dancing during the evening, but it was too chilly for the band to remain and play for the hop which was to have followed, and which therefore had to be dropped from the programme.

"I Can't Quit."

So say the tobacco slaves, and they tell the truth. How to make it easy is easily told. Griffith's Success as Faust.

The Toronto Star has this to say of John Griffith's presentation of "Faust," which will be seen at the opera house here on Tuesday evening, Nov. 19th: "Perhaps for the money, there is not a better bargain in theatrical attractions in this city this week than the presentation of 'Faust' by Mr. John Griffith at the Toronto Opera House. Last year Mr. Griffith made a great success, and so many friends, that on his return last night the theatre was packed. Mr. Griffith's supporting company is far and away ahead of last year, and the production is in every way improved. Miss Nadine Winston gives a very sweet conception of the role of Marguerite, and Frank Lyman is a well contained and clever Faust. It can honestly be said, therefore, that the 'Faust' at the Toronto is worth a great deal more than is paid to see it. 1d

A MOST ENJOYABLE EVENING WITH THE A.O.F.

The Members of Court Stanley Give an "At Home" Last Night.

Great success attended the "At Home" held under the auspices of Court Stanley, Ancient Order of Foresters, in Unity Hall, last evening.

The chair was occupied by Mr. A. H. Webb, who in a few brief remarks explained that the order was not so much an insurance organization as a benefit society. The dues were low, but when a member was ill the benefits accruing to him were large. He drew four dollars a week from the court, besides being attended by a free physician. In case of his wife's death he received $50 for funeral expenses, and when he, himself, passed away his family were given $100 for the same purpose. In Peterborough the order grown and flourished since the inauguration of Court Stanley.

During the evening the following excellent and varied programme was rendered:

BENSFORT BRIDGE.

Continued Improvement in Progress on the Connecting Link.

To-day (Wednesday, Nov. 13,) about twenty teams from South Monaghan passed over this bridge for Peterborough.

The approaches are greatly improved. On the South Monaghan side the contracts for gravelling the half mile of approach have been let to Messrs. Jos. Wood, Adam Pimmett and Robert Weaver, respectively. On the Otonabee side the grading has been completed from the bridge to the first culvert, to the full height. The remaining stretch, including the road to Robert Dyell's, is to be filled, graded and generally improved with as much expedition as possible. The committee in charge of the construction of the bridge and the approaches are not allowing any grass to grow under their feet.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY.

The Meetings Commence on Sunday Afternoon Next and Continue on Monday.

In Keene on Sunday and Monday next a rally of Sunday Schools will be held. On Sunday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock a meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, which will be addressed by Mrs. Duncan, of Toronto, President of the Toronto Primary Union, on the lesson of the day, "Saul Rejected," and by Mr. G. M. Elliott, of Napanee, editor of "Our Sunday Schools." In the evening at 7 o'clock the same speakers will give addresses.

On Monday Mrs. Duncan will hold a Sunday School Institute in the Methodist church, the meetings beginning at 4 o'clock in the afternoon and 7.30 o'clock in the evening. Mr. S. R. Armstrong, of Peterborough, will be present in the evening, when he will deliver an address on a live Sunday School subject.

A cordial invitation is extended to all to be present and those interested in Sunday School work are expressly urged to attend.

WE PRIDE OURSELVES

On Keeping the Best Class of Goods in the Trade, of Having Everything Exactly as we Advertise it and of Underselling all Competitors, Quality Considered.

In this age when small stores are trying to compete with large concerns the temptation is great to reduce the quality of their goods in order that their prices may appear as low as that of the larger stores. They are often tempted to do and say many things, that, under other circumstances, they themselves would consider unmanly.

OUR BUSINESS IS GROWING and we mean it shall grow if close prices will do it. We prefer small profits and large returns to large profits and small returns on long credit.

In the JACKET DEPARTMENT we lead the trade. Cable repeat orders this week.

50 Jackets, good value at $6.00, this week's price..... $4 00
25 Jackets, good value at $15.00, this week's price..... $10 00

No old styles to offer you here, but the latest imported this season.

HEALTH BRAND UNDERWEAR.

We are repeating these goods every week. We have no old job lots to offer you but the latest styles.

Every garment GUARANTEED NOT TO SHRINK. If these goods shrink in the washing we will give you new ones for them.

We do not confine ourselves to the above Brand but keep the best of every line bought right and sold at close cash prices.

LIVE LAKEFIELD.

(From Our Own Correspondent.

Dr. Brannell, of Rochester, N.Y., and Mr. Wesley Sherin joined the Casement-Fraser hunting party last Friday.

Messrs. Quinlan, Evans, Mulholland and Long, of Port Hope, Hall and Doak, of Millbrook, Thornton, of Omemee, and Messrs. Shortly, McWilliams, Johnson, Turner, Huffman, O'Donnell and others, of Peterborough, were in the village last Thursday, in attendance at the funeral of the late Capt. Reynolds.

Mr. James Morrison is moving into the house owned by Mr. W. H. Hunter, and formerly occupied by Mr. Walter Madill.

Mr. Elijah Hurl is moving into the house formerly occupied by Mr. Jas. Morrison.

Mr. Andrew Shearer, of Keene and formerly principal of our Public School, was in the village on Tuesday.

Rev. Mr. Bryan will deliver an address at the annual meeting of the Lakefield Branch of the Bible Society on Thursday evening, in the Presbyterian church.

Mr. McCarthy has Mr. Jas. Wilson's house moved in position.

R Graham & Sons are offering mantles and millinery at reduced prices. $3 50 mantles for $2.50. Dollar hats for 50 cents. Other goods equally low.

Mr. James Cullen, of Smith, has purchased another farm.

The ladies of the Methodist church will hold their annual tea and entertainment in the Town Hall on Thanksgiving Day.

The Lakefield cheese factory shipped away their cheese on Tuesday, closing their most successful year since the opening of the factory, making over sixty tons during the season. They are now commencing to operate their butter factory and are prepared to receive all good pure milk, and will manufacture butter at 3½c. per pound from milk delivered at the factory. They wish it understood that they do not desire milk tainted with turnips.

On Thursday last, while Mr. and Mrs. Garbutt were getting reading to come down to the village, Mrs. Garbutt heard a crash in the front part of the house, and on going in expected to find a fallen picture or something of that sort, but on looking around found the headlight over their west door broken, and looking down the road in both directions there was no one in sight who could have thrown a stone. Mr. Garbutt at last came to the conclusion that it must have been a spent rifle ball, as he heard shooting in the neighborhood a few minutes afterwards. Sportsmen should be careful.

OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. Wm. Hunter, with his steam thresher "Favourite," is doing some excellent work this fall. He was engaged in the barn of Mr. Wm. Duffis & Sons, Elm Grove farm, last week, and threshed 2,000 bushels of oats and 150 bushels of spring wheat in one day. This shows no lack of energy in Mr. Hunter's management of his threshing machine.

An entertainment will be given by S. S. No. 8, Otonabee football club in Zion hall, on Dec. 3rd. An excellent programme is being prepared, and a very enjoyable time is expected.

DOURO.

On Sunday last, Father Keilty, parish priest of Douro, preached a powerful sermon on Purgatory.

He took as his text, "Other foundation no man can lay but that which is laid, which is Christ Jesus. Now if any man build upon this foundation gold, silver, precious stones, wood, hay, stubble, every man's work shall be manifest, for the day of the Lord shall declare it, because it shall be revealed in fire, and the fire shall try every man's work of what sort it is. If any man's work abide which he hath built thereupon he shall receive a reward. If any man's work burn he shall suffer loss but he himself shall be saved yet so as by fire."—I Cor. iii, 15.

PERSONAL.

Mr. A. E. Best, of Peterborough, is now in charge of a Lindsay dry goods department.

Mr. Joseph Crowe has returned to Toronto after spending a few days in town with his family.

Mr. J. S. Sharpe, Western Freight Agent for the Beaver Line of steamships, is in town town to day.

—A joint meeting of the Sewerage and Street and Bridge Committees will be held this evening in the clerk's office.

Dr. Moher and family have taken up their residence in town permanently, Dr. Moher succeeding to Dr. Brennan's practice.

Rev. Newton Hill, pastor of the Omemee Methodist church, it is understood, has been invited to the pastorate of the Canton circuit.

Senator Sanford, the Hamilton Herald says, is troubled with rheumatism and has gone to Hot Springs in the hope of getting rid of it.

Mrs. Norman Hyneman, of Picton, and Mrs. Geo. Stenton, of Park street, are at present in Lindsay, where the latter's mother is lying at the point of death.

The Lindsay Post says:—"Mr. Percy McLean, of Peterborough, is engaged to look after the Matthews pork packing establishment in Lindsay for the coming winter."

Mr. and Mrs. G. K. Martin were serenaded last evening, at their residence on Dublin street, by the Sons of England Band. Several selections were played in a manner which demonstrated the rapid manner in which the band is progressing. Already the organization is one which is a credit, indeed, to the town. Mr. Martin handsomely entertained the boys.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Held their regular meeting on Monday night. There was a large attendance. Mr. Anderson occupied the chair, and as it was to be a promise meeting there was not a leader appointed. There was a large number took part, repeating their favourite promise and telling why. This was very encouraging. We are glad to further announce the growing interest in the society, there being three propositions for membership. This is indeed encouraging and we hope it will continue.

ST. PAUL'S.

The topic on Monday night, "The Promises, why they are so dear to me," was introduced by Mr. Smith, the Y. M. C. A. secretary, in a very plain but forcible manner showing that the Bible was a book filled with promises, to be drawn in every case of trial and doubt. These promises never failed, but to get the most good from them we should become familiar with them, making them a part of ourselves. It being a memory meeting, Bibles and hymn books were prohibited. The singing was fully better than usual and the precious promises brought out were of a very helpful nature, most of them being introduced by personal testimony as to their worth.

To Keep You in Mind.

We would just say that our Indian Summer Wall Paper Sale will be in full swing this week. That means that prices will be made rock-bottom for all grades, all patterns—all the wall papers in the house. Our reason for this is a good one: We must have more room for our Christmas goods, and the wall papers must go. Cornice Poles and Window Shades will also suffer still greater reductions than last week. No disappointment in prices at the Peterborough Bookstore. A. H. STRATTON & Co.

ACQUATICS.

"Wag" Harding, the light-weight, who holds the championship of England, has been very free with his challenges of late, but his announcement that he does not want to row till next September will not be allowed to hold as a condition in championship racing. Gaudaur, of Orillia, wants a match, and Harding must come to the scratch in a reasonable time or forfeit. The recognized limit in cases of challenges is six months, but Gaudaur is willing to allow the Englishman an extra thirty days. Failing a match race in this time, Harding must forfeit his title. Though the Australian, Stanbury, has nominally accepted Harding's offer, nobody believes that he has any intention of going to England. In any case, his money is not posted, and Harding must acknowledge the liberal challenge of the Canadian, as follows:—

Sporting Editor of the Globe,—Sir,—I have just returned from Texas. During my sojourn there there was a deal of talk about my rowing Mr. "Wag" Harding. I find the same theme current here. I also hear several reports about Mr. Stanbury and others rowing Mr. Harding. The latter gentleman, I am given to understand, is willing to row Mr. Stanbury in September, ten months hence. Now, I don't think that any champion has a right to postpone a race between himself and a rival to so distant a date, therefore, I herewith offer to row Mr. Harding for the championship of England, of America, and of the world, to which by all the recognized laws of such things, I am entitled, on any date between April 1 next and July 1, or any course that Mr. Harding may select, for £200, £300, £400, or £500 a side. Mr. Harding to allow me £50 expenses. Or, if that doesn't suit him I will allow him £100 expenses to row me in America, over any course I may name. As a proof of my bona fides I herewith deposit $500 with the Sporting Editor of the Globe, said money to be forwarded to any qualified English stakeholder directly Mr. Harding posts equal deposit. Trusting that this will lead to a match,

I am, etc.,
J. G. GAUDAUR,
Champion of America.

Toronto, Nov. 12, 1895.

THE WHEEL.

Zimmerman is said not to have had sufficient training for his race with Parsons in Australia, and to have been unaccustomed to the grass track. The race was a scratch affair, and the man who defeated him is not considered the best rider in the country. Megson, the champion, is credited with having ridden a mile under two minutes.

The Southern Pacific Railway Company is contemplating the construction of a bicycle path eighteen miles in length, to run parallel with the company's tracks. It is proposed to run special pacing engines for record-breaking purposes. Whether engines or lightning are used for pacemaking it will be found that riding a mile a minute on machines as they are at present constructed is an utter impossibility, and besides the friction would not permit it.

Messrs. Harley and Payson Davidson, Steimal and Penseyres, the last of the racers who have been in town for the last ten days, left for home early this morning. They cannot say too much of their courteous treatment by the Peterborough people.

CURLING.

A number of important questions were brought before a meeting of the Kingston curlers last night. One was the advisability of forming a Granite rink in connection with the club for the benefit of junior members. Kingston is the divisional line for granite and iron rinks, all west playing granite and all east playing iron. The suggestion was supported by a communication received from the Bay of Quinte "colts" who in past years have been holding home and home matches. The club is in favour of discarding home and home matches and holding an annual bonspiel.

Maher is Champion.

Pittsburg, Nov. 12.—To-night J. J. Quinn, the backer of Peter Maher, wired The Times from New York that Corbett had forfeited the championship to Maher. Quinn says that Maher stands ready to defend the title in either public or private against any other aspirant for the honor in the world.

To say the sports were surprised at the result of Monday's fight is putting it mildly, says the N. Y. Herald. They all expected Maher to win, but were astonished at the easy way in which O'Donnell was whipped. It is regarded as a certainty that Fitzsimmons will now challenge Maher.

All the old-timers who have howled around the ringside in great battle battles of former days were present. There were five thousand of them, and their white and nervous faces rose tier on tier from the paltid square of the roped arena to the windowed roof. Fistiana may be dead as claimed, but the love of it is still in its old place at the foundation of the human heart, along with the ancient instincts that taught men the use of spear and cestus, cuirass, shield and buckler. The sight of the crowd would have surprised men who have never seen a boxing match. Here were brokers, who spar with Wall-street six days in the week and go to church on Sunday. Here were Fifth-avenue chaps, strange, tremulous and quiet, who eyed the men around them as though suspicious of some overt act. Theatrical men sat cheek by jowl with bookmakers, policemen in civilians' clothes and Bowery toughs. Nevertheless the gathering was orderly as ringside throngs go.

"I can do you as a quick a did that fellow," said Maher as Corbett stepped into the ring.

The result of the battle was a great surprise. O'Donnell, instead of showing the expected cleverness, was, in the language of the sports, a "stiff." He was like a pigmy in Maher's hands, and didn't strike him once. He was simply a counterfeit in spite of the booming he had received at the hands of Corbett and Brady.

O'Donnell went to his quarters, looking dazed and ashamed of himself, but he had no excuses to offer. He acknowledged his defeat and evidently felt heartbroken over it. That Maher has improved wonderfully since he was beaten by Fitzsimmons was evident to all, and there were many who believed him capable of beating anybody alive.

The Million Versus the Hundred.

It is for the million. It is for the table of the working man. It is within the reach of all. And it is wholesome. It is healthful. It makes blood. It makes hope. It stimulates. and this is what the Bord aux Claret Co, has been doing with its clear French Wines. The whole country is buying clarets, sherries and burgundies now at $3. and $4 per dozen. And there is not an ache in a hogshead. The light wines of France, pure, and supple. A boon to the whole people. One can treat a friend now when he comes to the house. One can have a bottle of wine on the table with dinner, to aid in the assimilation and digestion of his food, and thus promote health. Address Bordeaux Claret Co, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Weak, Nervous Women.

One to whom a night's rest was unknown.

Strength and good health restored.

I was subject to frequent attacks of nervousness that seemed to sap all my vitality and left me in a state of weakness and misery. I could not relish food and such a thing as a good night's rest was unknown. Incapable of any exertion and with an ever present tired and despondent feeling. Medicines that I took did not do any good; it was a case of gradually becoming weaker and weaker. Hearing of Scott's Sarsaparilla and its success with similar cases to mine, I used it, and from the first few doses began to get better, appetite returned, got natural and refreshing sleep. I grew stronger, in fact life seemed to be fanned into activity.—Lottie Graham, 174 Crawford Street, Toronto.

For any weakness of the nerves, pale and sallow complexion, loss of appetite use the best blood and nerve remedy extant, Scott's Sarsaparilla. Insist on getting Scott's—imitations do not cure.

OLD AGE AND YOUTH.

A Kindred Influence Affects Each —Sergeant Willison M. Copp and Mrs. John Dinwoodie.

The Former Under 30 and the Latter Nearly 80 Years of Age— Both Cured of Extreme Nervous Prostration by South American Nervine.

Down by the sea, in the thriving town of Newcastle, N. B., resides Sergeant Willison M. Copp, a creditable representative of the militia of the Maritime Provinces. He is a young man under 30 years of age. This fact, however, did not prevent him a short time since suffering from nervous prostration. It took a grip of him, that looked as though his days were numbered. Quoting his own words: "Friends and relations despaired of my life." He was influenced, after every other effort had failed, to try South American Nervine, and it effected a complete cure. No wonder he says:—"This remedy is the best on earth."

Mrs. John Dinwoodie, of Flesherton, Ont., is a lady who has reached well nigh to fourscore years of age. She has been a resident of Flesherton for forty years. Everybody knows her, and knows that her word is as good as her bond. Three years ago, through the loss of a beloved daughter she became prostrated with nervous trouble. No medicine, or doctor's skill did her any good. Sorrow and age appeared to combine to number her days. But it was not to be so. South American Nervine came to her relief. She took twelve bottles of the medicine, with the result that today she is in the enjoyment of the best of health and her shattered nerves have again become healthy and strong. The secret of South American Nervine is that it immediately works on the nerve centres through which comes all disease, and this being the case it matters not whether one is young or old, this medicine is certain to effect a cure. HAT GOSSIP.

The Colors and Shapes We Shall Wear This Winter.

On top of a high studio building in New York a certain artist finds joys and sorrows. In a big sunny room he has collected his treasures which glow and shimmer with bright colors, and occasionally deepen into black shadows. But not a spot of white enters this sanctum. Even a newspaper thrown by some careless visitor, on a couch rich in Eastern coloring, will strike our friend with a chill as from the North Pole.

The millinery shops, filled with autumnal and early winter hats, remind one of this studio. Everywhere glows the rich coloring of Oriental climes, and not a speck of white is to be seen. Marie Antoinette hats have wide brims caught up straight in front, but they are becoming only to picturesque girls, and, therefore, will have but a short stay. A number of felt novelties, braided to resemble straw, are shown. They seem, however, to be a demi-season device of the manufacturer, and one turns from them to the narrow brimmed, modest hats which are trimmed with modest ruches of chameleon ribbon standing above a rather high crown. Until these hats are adopted by the shop girl, they will be very popular. A chou of ribbon or a stiff rosette with wings makes a chic finish for the hats, while softer and more feminine effects are acquired by ostrich tips and sprays of late flowers—asters, golden rod, and hydrangeas.

WITH CHAMELEON RIBBONS.

Honest Help.

Thousands of men are suffering because they lack the courage to make known their early errors and to endeavour to remedy them. Nervous weakness, loss of manhood and the many ills due to early discretions, excesses or overwork can be quickly, successfully and permanently cured if you will only let the right people know what ails you. Write to me in confidence and I will tell you free of charge how to get cured. I have nothing to sell, but am desirous of honestly helping you. Perfect secrecy assured. Describe your case and address with stamp:—L. A. Edwards, P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

AS HARD AS CEMENT.

Attempt to Cut Into a Mummy of the Ptolomaic Period.

When the Rev. Dr. John F. Goucher of the Woman's College in Baltimore was in Egypt last winter he secured a number of relics in the way of antiquities. Among the most valued of these are two mummies that Dr. Goucher secured in Cairo at the National Museum, which is in charge of Brysch Bey, who has manifested a great interest in American institutions of learning. When he learned that Dr. Goucher was in search of Egyptian antiquities he helped him materially in securing a lot of valuable relics that are now all stored in the Woman's College. It has been Dr. Goucher's intention for some time to make an anatomical examination of the mummies, but his single attempt was not a pronounced success. Both of the mummies are bodies of women. The larger of the two is of the Ptolomaic period, or, in other words, the woman lived in Egypt about 2,000 years ago. The other is apparently that of a girl, and from the elaborate decoration of the outer case, it is presumed she was of royal blood, says Dr. Goucher. There is no inscription on the outside to mark the period of her life, but from the manner in which the outside wrappings are placed, it is very evident that the mummy is of the 21st dynasty. Dr. Goucher was very fortunate in procuring this mummy, as all of a like character are carefully preserved by the National Museum. Brysch Bey, however, succeeded in getting this valuable trophy for the doctor.

It was the larger mummy that Dr. Goucher attempted to open and examine recently. It was in the wooden case that held the mummy when it was taken from the catacombs, and down the center of it ran an inscription from the "Book of the Dead," that clearly indicated that the mummy was of the Ptolomaic period.

When the mummy proper was lifted from the case it did not look unlike a large sack covered with pitch. Dr. Goucher went to work on the outside covering with a pair of shears, but he found that his task was a harder one than he had contracted for. The pitch layer was finally pierced, and then a couple of newspaper-men, one armed with a pair of tin-cutting shears and the other with a screw-driver and hammer, assisted the doctor in tearing away the next covering. This covering was of linen, and if the bands had not parted from the ravages of twenty centuries it would have come off in rolls. Most of the upper covering consisted of pads of linen that were placed in various positions to give shape to the body, which is an evidence that the Egyptians were as vain about the beauty of contour in death as their American sisters are in life. After these pads were removed more wrappings were reached. These were wound with great uniformity, and at one place they covered the breast like a pair of suspenders crossed in the back. Under this were broad strips of linen running longitudinally. All this was removed with comparative ease. Finally a layer of pitch was reached that looked as if the embalmer had poured a great quantity of it on the body before commencing the process of winding it up with linen. The substance was as hard as cement, and after working diligently on it for a half-hour, the doctor and his assistants managed to expose the left elbow and also to remove enough of the deposit to show the contour of the right hand. The arms were crossed over the breast. The bone of the elbow glistened white in comparison with the deposit that covered the body, and, if there was any skin, it had become hardened and was broken off with the pitch. Around the neck were a great number of linen bandages, and, although Dr. Goucher cut away a great portion, he only succeeded in showing the contour of the head. Neither bone nor skin was reached. The examination of the mummies will be indefinitely postponed.

Voluminous.

A Philadelphia lawyer said a very bright thing the other day. He was seated with a group of friends, and they were discussing in a desultory way the leading topics of the day. One of the parties present, Mr. ——, persisted in monopolizing more than his share of the conversation, and his views did not at all accord with those of the lawyer. As the men separated one of them said to the lawyer:

"That —— knows a good deal, doesn't he?"

"Yes," replied the lawyer: "he knows entirely too much for one man; he ought to be incorporated."

Curious, Isn't It?

Mr Joseph D. Weeks explains the increasing activity of English iron mills as a result of the inability of America mill to fill orders. They can and do sell as cheaply as the English mills, but they have more business than they can handle and are obliged to refuse contracts. This is a curious way of being ruined by a "free trade traiff."

HOW LONDON IS FED.

Astonishing Amount of Vegetables and Fruits Consumed.

London would get along very indifferently without its vegetables and fruits, the annual consumption of which is, of course, very large, says The St. James Budget. England is a great vegetable and fruit country, but it cannot produce anything like the quantity required for the metropolis alone, and, as in the case of meat, we have to depend largely for our supplies on the Continent and other places. Indeed, not very long ago the Dutch Government sent a special representative to this country to discover what could be best grown in Holland to supply the London market. He suggested cabbages. The superintendent of Covent Garden very soon put him right on this point. Cabbages were out of the question, as they would not keep long enough, and so the Dutchmen who cater for London now grow potatoes, onions, carrots, beetroot and such like. There are three large vegetable markets in the metropolis—Covent, Spitalfields and the Borough—and several smaller ones. For potatoes there are the Great Northern and Midland depots, and also that of the Great Eastern railway. Covent Garden is by far the most important market.

What the precise quantity of vegetables is that annually comes to London there is no possibility of ascertaining. At Covent Garden, for instance, toll is taken upon certain loads which arrive at the market, and which occupy what is called casual ground. But a large portion of the market is not "casual ground," but let from year to year to growers within a radius of fifteen miles, who can put down upon that area anything they grow without giving the market authorities any account of the quantities. No record, therefore, is kept of the vegetables passing through the market, and which find their way to the smaller markets, such as that in Farringdon street, and so on to the consumers. Market gardening in this country has developed considerably during the last twenty years, and of late farmers have been keen competitors with market gardeners in growing the more easily raised vegetables. Farmers now cultivate not only greens and cabbages of all kinds, but peas, broad beans, turnips and turnip greens and early potatoes. Indeed, the market gardener is being altogether hit rather hard, for in that class of vegetables in which the farmer does not compete, the foreign producer, as we have already said, comes in. Early in the year, turnips, carrots, peas and beans arrive from France, the Canary Islands, Madeira and Algeria. Lettuces, carrots, cucumbers, beetroot and red cabbages are brought in large quantities from Holland, and radishes and tomatoes from France and the Channel Islands.

Until recently celery was a very paying crop in this country, realizing from £40 to £70 an acre. Now farmers grow it, and the price has decreased considerably. A very large quantity is consumed in London. Yorkshire and Lincolnshire are famous celery counties for the supply of the metropolis. A good deal of the asparagus that comes to London is grown down Evesham way, but much of that consumed in the metropolis comes from Toulouse, Dijon, Paris and Spain. Cabbage and cauliflower are mainly home products. A good deal of the latter comes from around London, and people about the streets early must have noticed great wagon loads passing along to the market. We have said there are no means of getting at exact figures, but W. J. Gordon, whom we have already quoted, and who has devoted a good deal of attention to this subject, gives the following quantities, which we dare say are as nearly accurate as possible, consumed in London per annum:

	Tons.
Potatoes	400,000
Cabbages	111,000
Turnips	60,000
Onions	50,000
Carrots and parsnips	50,000
Green Peas	20,000
Cucumbers	200
Rhubarb	900
Celery	800
Asparagus	300
Turnip-tops, herbs, etc.	500

But vegetables are only one class of food disposed of at the markets we have been noticing; fruit has also to be taken into account. There is no doubt that far more fruit, both fresh and tinned, is now consumed in London than there used to be. Indeed, the trade has grown to a very great extent. As in the case of vegetables, it is very difficult to get at the exact quantities, but it has been estimated that the home-grown and imported consumed in London can not be far short of a hundred thousand tons a year. In this total oranges bulk largely, no fewer than between 800,000,000 and 900,000,000 being used annually. Currants and raisins combined reach a total of 12,000 tons. In this connection it may be interesting to give the total imports of fruits for last year, a considerable proportion of which was, of course, consumed in London:

	Bushels.	Value.
Apples	4,967,560	£1,376,411
Oranges	6,503,950	1,878,985
Lemons	1,299,808	377,255
Cherries	310,765	166,168
Plums	777,411	302,106
Pears	1,309,114	411,325
Grapes	885,302	470,428
Unenumerated	1,836,273	568,734
Total	17,380,996	£5,496,446

A Shrewd Peasant.

A countryman went to a lawyer, laid before him a case in dispute, and then asked him if he would undertake to win the suit.

Lawyer—Most certainly I will undertake the case. We are sure to win!"

Peasant—So you really think it is a good case?

Lawyer—Undoubtedly, I am prepared to guarantee you will get a verdict in your favor.

Peasant—Well, then sir, I don't think I'll go to law this time, for, you see, I have just given you my opponent's case and not my own.

BEAR AND BABY STORY.

It is an Old-Fashioned Theme, But the Facts Make It Worth Telling.

Mrs. Samuel Gibbons, of Clarksburg, while picking berries with her two small children and two 10-year-old nieces in William W. Gallup's mountain pasture last Friday, had an exciting adventure.

Mrs. Gibbons and the children had gone up the old Eliza Kostchun road, which is unused and partially overgrown, and they were picking raspberries. Mrs. Gibbons had left her 18-month-old boy with her 6-year-old daughter Stella in the shade of a thicket beside a spring, and she, with her nieces, Reda and Fannie Gibbons, was busily engaged a short distance down the road, when little Stella came running down crying and screaming: "Baby's crying, and there's an awful noise in the bushes, and it is a big black thing."

The mother was acquainted with backwood districts, and she know it was a bear with cubs, and the baby crying the chances of the little one's escaping were small indeed. The mother's heart was faint, and she told her nieces she couldn't bear the sight of her mangled child in the bear's jaws.

Little Reda started toward the baby first and said: "I'll get baby some way."

Then the mother and the little children bravely hurried up the road. On coming to the spot where the baby lay the mother screeched, and that screech was heard by her husband, who was haying in the valley a mile and a half away.

The sight she saw was enough to maddem any mother, for through that thicket came a bear, growling and showing no sign of fear. Reda darted ahead, grabbed the baby and placed him in his mother's arms. They then ran, the children clinging to the mother's skirts and the mother clasping the crying baby closely to her breast. And they did not stop until they reached the road, fully three-quarters of a mile distant. There they met Mr. Gibbons, who had heard the screaming and was hurrying toward them from the hay field.

This is the story that a Transcript representative gained in an interview with the mother and their children at their home.

It is believed that two cubs were with the bear, for large and small bear tracks were seen in and about this thicket, Sunday, when an unsuccessful hunt was made for bruin. Mrs. Gibbons said she met an aged and thickset man Saturday, who said he had seen a bear and two cubs on the mountain that day. There is much talk in Clarksburg of a grand bear hunt.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from eleven prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.05	6.98
North American	1.73	6.07	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.03	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy.....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Rev. Mr. Mullen conducted a communion service in the Presbyterian church here on Sabbath, the 3rd inst. The rev. gentleman preached a most suitable and profitable sermon from the text, "God is Love." The whole remarks and service throughout were enjoyed by everyone present.

There has been a great rage among the boys of the village lately for catapults, and of course every boy secured one, and was amusing himself in his boyish way till some of the more daring ones began to try them on the windows of some of the buildings in the village, and this caused the constable to interfere, and now all the boys have to use their elastics in the backyard.

A number of our villagers have been away for the past eight days on a deer hunt, but as yet some of them have not succeeded very well. The last word heard from the Bottum party was they had not killed one; but not so with the veteran hunter, Mr. Robert Hayes, who is over seventy years old; oh, no! he stays near home and kills a large buck. On Friday afternoon last he took his gun and boat and paddled down about three miles to Pigeon lake, and was not long there before he saw a large buck in the lake, and of course he paddled out to it, levelled his double barrel at it, but it would not go off, and his next best move was to get some person who had a gun that would go off every time, and he called Mr. Stevenson, who happened to be in hearing of him, and he soon despatched the much sought game and then towed into the village, where it was found that the two old men had secured a buck weighing over 200 lbs. There is no use in going near the north pole to hunt when such fine deer can be shot with a shotgun, with No. 2 shot, a couple of miles from the village.

EAST CHANDOS.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. John Baskin and family have returned to the mill and are now prepared for business.

Mr. W. Woodbeck has moved to the farm of Mr. Elijah Hubble, and is building a new house.

Mr. William Liscomb has moved to the south part of the township to a new farm.

We understand that the Parcels Bros. are about purchasing a farm in Belmont.

Mr. Isaac Hoard has returned to his farm near the school house.

We understand that our local hunters are having good success this fall. One party of six have succeeded in getting eleven deer, and have returned home well satisfied.

Mr. Jas. Hubble is now building a blacksmith shop and dwelling house. That is what is needed here.

Mr. W. J. Daniels has discovered a vein of copper on his farm and intends to develop it.

Mr. Whitley and Mr. Abbot, of Seymour, were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler last week.

We are happy to learn that Mrs. M. Woodbeck's arm is doing as well as can be expected under the circumstances.

Master Frank Woodbeck has returned home from Fraserville, where he has been engaged in a cheese factory the past summer. We are pleased to see him looking so well. That part of the country must have agreed with him.

The school in S. S. No. 7 is closed for the winter. We understand that Miss Trotter gave good satisfaction as teacher.

Mrs. C. S. Prouty, of Island Bay, has been visiting her son, Mr. H. S. Prouty, for the past few days.

LAKEWOOD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Our cheese factory has closed after a fairly successful season, considering the low prices. The amount of milk was larger than ever before. We will be sorry to lose Mr. Lowry for a time, but hope for his return next spring.

The patrons of the Chandos cheese factory held a meeting last Wednesday evening. After much talk and discussion it was decided to hold an entertainment in the factory on Friday, Nov. 15th. Outsiders are invited to come and we promise them all a good tea and programme.

The hunters have all taken advantage of the fine weather lately and a large number of deer have been killed, both by the settlers and the many parties of hunters from a distance camped at Loon, Jacks, Clear and other lakes.

The tea meeting at Foster's on Tuesday evening was a grand success. There was a large gathering and a most enjoyable time was spent. Mr. Alf. Bass ably filled the chair. A fish pond social was held on Thursday evening to dispose of the remainder of the cakes and pies. The proceeds amounted to over $23 clear. The following programme was rendered:

Chorus	Choir
Chairman's Address	Mr Lowry
Recitation	Mr Lowry

Miss Forsythe, of Peterborough, was in the village this week.

The Ladies Aid in connection with the Methodist church will hold a pie social in in the town hall, on Thanksgiving night, Nov. 21st.

Mr. T. J. Drain, of Norwood, was in the village last week.

Mr. Wm. White has moved to Douro to take charge of Mr. Yourex's mill there.

Mrs. Macnachtan, of Cobourg, addressed a women's meeting in the Presbyterian church on Tuesday afternoon. After the meeting lunch was served by the ladies of the congregation in the basement.

On Sunday, Nov. 17th, Mrs. Duncan, of Toronto, and Mr. Elliott, of Napanee, will give addresses on Sunday School Work in the afternoon, at 2 o'clock, and in the evening at 7 o'clock, in the Presbyterian church to which all are cordially invited.

On Monday, Nov. 18th, an institute meeting will be held in the Methodist church in the afternoon at 4 o'clock, and in the evening at 7. Addresses will be delivered by Mrs. Duncan, of Toronto, Mr. Elliott, of Napanee, and others.

Owing to the institute meeting on Monday night, the Y. P. S. C. E. will hold their usual weekly meeting on Tuesday night at 7 p. m. The Social Committee will be on hand to welcome all who come.

BELMONT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Mr. James Watkins, of Toronto, has purchased the farm of Mr. German Varty, on Belmont Lake, and intends to engage in raising poultry. He also intends to provide accommodation for summer boarders.

Mr. Mark Scott, of Havelock, has taken the contract of excavating the cellar and laying the foundation of Mr. Watkins dwelling.

Mr. German Varty has purchased a farm nearer Havelock.

Mr. William Young and party have returned from deer hunting and report a good time and fair success. One of the deer tipped the scales at 250 pounds, dressed.

Mr. Charles Wilder and party have returned, bringing with them two fine deer.

Messrs. Daniel Ellis, Brookes Ellis, Sanders and Brown have returned from the north, having secured seven fine deer. This party has had remarkable success considering the time they were hunting.

Mr. Liscombe, of the Belmont iron mines has taken a contract from the Crawford Gold Mining Company to pump water out of the Crawford Gold Mine for the purpose allowing intending purchasers a chance to view the interior of the shafts. The work is sure to be well done under the management of Mr. Liscombe.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people youthful. Dr. Pierces Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists sell the "Discovery."

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros., the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earthquake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won.

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98
SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10.

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

		Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.	SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
	SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	50
	HAT	$2.00	98	$1.02
	Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not a store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

Can you buy your Dry Goods any cheaper in the large and luxurious stores for cash than you can from us with our smaller and less expensive shop, where you can get a little accommodation if you need it?

I frequently ask my customers this question and the answer is invariably No. I have always been in a position to meet the lowest prices in town, no matter where or what; but I have never been in a better position to make close prices than now, and as a consequence some Wonderful Bargains are just to hand.

GENUINE THANKSGIVING AND STOCK-TAKING SALE.

For the next Thirty Days I intend running off my whole stock at about COST price, previous to stock taking, in order to save the expense of unrolling and measuring the goods, which requires expensive additional help. In this way the cost of stock-taking clerks will be taken off the price of goods and my customers will get the benefit.

I will give my customers any of the goods advertised by any of the Friday and Saturday "Bargain Day" stores at the same prices any day of the week. Look as long as you like—let your search take you where it may—but don't spend a cent until you have compared what we have to offer with what is offered elsewhere.

THE HYAMS TRIAL.

Yesterday the Crown Had the Best of It.

A SILENT WITNESS DISCOVERED.

That Little Block of Wood Which Has Been So Much Sought For Turns Up —Elevator Experts Not Allowed to Testify—The Judge Annoyed.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—The counsel for the Crown in the case of the Hyamese twins spent a considerable portion of the time devoted to yesterday's session in lugging into the court-room various sections of the elevator and weight shafts of the Colborne-street warehouse, as well as other portions of the now notorious structure wherein Willie Wells met so tragic a death on the cold morning of January 16, 1893. In fact, during the afternoon's proceedings it appeared to the interested spectator as if Mr. Osler and his untiring assistants were determined upon bringing up the entire warehouse on the instalment plan, and as Mr. Curry or Detective Cuddy would produce some new "slice" of the ill-fated warehouse to be gazed upon and studied by the jury and its bearing upon the issue to be plausibly explained by the Crown prosecutor and Witness Aldridge, the interest in this new venture against the unhappy prisoners became more and more intense, and caused His Lordship to inquire: "Did the owner give the Crown permission to tear down the building?"

But these exhibits are of far more than passing importance to the Crown's side of the case; in fact they may prove to be the "missing links" in the chain of evidence which the prosecution did not succeed in forging around the diminutive fellows with a mania for insuring other lives than their own on the occasion of their last appearance in the prisoners' dock. Certain it is, however, that the introduction of one of these exhibits was directly the cause of a very considerable uneasiness on the part of the legal gentlemen who are appearing for the accused.

It will be recalled that in the weight shaft where the obstruction to the weight is alleged by the defence to have occurred there is now a hole, saw marks on the side showing that a small portion of the shaft had been removed. The witness Hackney proves that a piece of the corner had been sawed out, and the defence contends that projecting from that piece was the obstacle which served to check the progress of the weight and brought about its freedom from the hook that it might fall and crush out the life of the young man whose timely death permitted his employers, the greedy little twins, to live in luxury and practical idleness until the cold hand of the law stepped in and claimed them as its just and proper prey.

Witnesses have testified that on looking up the weight shaft before and about the time of the killing they had noticed the presence of the obstruction referred to; and as the missing piece, removed within a very few days after the death of the heavily-insured young man, had never been found, it came to be practically admitted that the obstruction had really existed, but it remained for a witness of yesterday, Carpenter Aldridge, who had been despatched to the warehouse to remove certain portions of the weight shaft for the purposes of illustration, to find the much-wanted piece of wood that had been sawed out of the shaft. It is an insignificant-appearing piece of well-worn lumber, but when fitted to its old place in the shaft corner, it looms up, from the prosecution's standpoint, as an object of the greatest value. It fits into the saw-made gap as perfectly as a glove; there is not projection enough to arrest a feather in its downward flight, let alone a ponderous iron casting weighing more than 200 pounds, and its discovery and the subsequent successful experiments in the presence of the jury certainly did not augur well for the future welfare of the pale faced, tricky appearing chunks of humanity who used to be engaged in the conduct of a "fake" warehouse and an alleged mercantile agency whose main feature seemed to be the realization of large sums of money through insurance policies on the lives of relatives and friends who, the Crown claims, would kindly shuffle off this mortal coil at their own special instance and request.

The Hyams twins were much affected by the Crown's disclosures; and the joyous smiles which they had worn ever since His Lordship ruled out the testimony of the elevator experts, in the morning, gave way to a look of pain and anguish as Mr. Osler piled up evidence after evidence, and in a practical manner that the theories of the defence respecting the weight shaft obstacles were, like the section of the shaft now on exhibition, full of holes. It looked blue enough for the Crown when the luncheon hour was reached yesterday; some of its most cherished testimony had been knocked into a cocked hat by His Lordship and the twins, happy in the knowledge that matters were shaping themselves in a manner favorable to their cause, were all smiles and dimples and when they filed in to court at 2 o'clock closely guarded by a couple of powerful constables they had every appearance of the unconcern and sickening pleasure which usually accompanies a belief in an early acquittal of so serious, yet uncertain, a charge. But the gentlemen of the prosecution were by no means discouraged: they went about their task in the afternoon with a vim and earnestness that augured not well for the prisoners and when the hour for adjournment had been reached, the impression among those who have followed the case from its very incipiency seemed to be that the Crown had succeeded in placing its case in better position than at any time during the present or the former trial.

Many of the witnesses who have testified during the present trial have difficulty in making their testimony correspond with that given during the last Assizes or before the Police Magistrate and it becomes necessary for the counsel to read former testimony, that the witnesses might be enabled either to affirm or deny the correctness of such previous statements. Of course all this takes time, and the counsel for the defence are wont to object to that mode of procedure, the result being that His Lordship is frequently called upon to render a decision which he frequently does by allowing that method of refreshing the witnesses' memory to proceed. The same methods and the same objections were very much in evidence yesterday and His Lordship was, a number of times, obliged to render the well-known decision. Mr. Justice Ferguson is an extremely good-natured gentleman, but there seems to be a limit even to his good nature, as was evidenced in the afternoon, when he replied as follows to one of these objections by counsel for the defence: "How many rulings do you want on that point; is this trial going to be all rulings and nothing else? If this thing is going to come up so often, I think it would be better to have another officer appointed to make the rulings, while I try the case."

The crowd smiled audibly and the 21 constables engaged in the court room blurted out their stern orders commanding peace and quiet.

Brother-in-law Aylesworth was called just before adjournment yesterday evening and that very important witness will take the stand the first thing to-day.

THE SEALERS CLAIMS.

Despatches Between Sir Julian Pauncefote and the Earl of Kimberley Published in London.

London, Nov. 13.—The correspondence between Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador at Washington, and the Government from Ma 8, 1894, to August 31, 1895, respecting the claims in connection with the Behring Sea seizures, has just been issued. The correspondence previous to Congress rejecting the proposal to pay a lump sum is mainly formal and without special interest. It contains Sir Julian's letters to Lord Kimberley, stating the amount of the claims with interest as $700,000, and the compromise at $425,000, but which was rejected by Congress.

After April 7, when Sir Julian explains the postponing of the negotiations and the visit of the Canadian delegation to Washington, nothing passed until August 31, when Lord Salisbury wrote to Sir Julian that the latters statements had been read with careful attention, adding: "I need scarcely say that the arguments you bring forward in supoprt of the validity of the claims have the entire approval and concurrence of Her Majesty's Government. The attempt made by Mr. Morgan to dispute them seems to have been largely founded on misapprehension, and Her Majesty's Government canont doubt that when the full facts are before the public of the United States the liability of that country to make compensation, which has never been denied by its Government, will be generally recognized both in and outside of Congress."

Lord Salisbury concludes as follows: "The Behring Sea claims arise out of the direct action of the United States Government—action declared by an International Tribunal to have been entirely unjustifiable. They are made out, not for profits based on the results of profitable seasons, but on the actual results of the sea ons in which they arose. Some of the claims not they arose. Some of the claimants not only lost property, but suffered a rigorous imprisonment in a severe climate. The arrangement made between the Governments for the payment of a lump sum amounting to little more than half the claim preferred without any allowance whatever for interest cannot be regarded otherwise than as a settlement favorable to the United State e. Bearing in mind that the claims had already been outstanding for 10 years and that more than a year had elapsed since the decision of the arbitrators had been given, it is not easy to believe that if the late Congress had been fully acquainted with the circumstances it would have refused its sanction to so reasonable a propo al, or would have declined even an appropriation for the payment of the claims subject to their examination by a commission appointed for the purpose, or for the simple expenses of such a commission.

TOOK THE WRONG DOOR

And By So Doing Miss Montgomery of Wroxeter Lost Her Life.

Gorrie, Ont., Nov. 13.—This Morning at the residence of Mr. Marshall, near Belmore, Miss Mary A. Montgomery of Wroxeter lost her life. Miss Montgomery was attending her sister, Mrs. Marshall, who is very ill, and upon answering a night call, which necessitated her going into a room, she by mistake opened a door leading to an unfinished balcony, and fell a distance of 14 feet, receiving injuries from which she died at 11 o'clock this morning.

Man and Horse Killed.

Thorold, Ont., Nov. 13.—Bert Upper, a farmer from Stanford township, while driving from here last night in the darkness took the wrong road, and drove over the edge of the Battle cement kiln, and fell a distance of about 30 feet. Both he and his horse were killed.

MANITOBA SCHOOLS

To be Discussed by the Presbyterian Synod.

RESOLUTIONS TO BE INTRODUCED.

They Favor Non-Interference by the Federal Government, and a Conference Between Dominion and Provincial Authorities to Settle It.

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—At the meeting of the Presbyterian Synod of Manitoba and the Northwest to-day Rev. Dr. King, Principal of Manitoba College, gave notice of the following resolutions:

1. This Synod, being opposed on the one hand to an absolutely secular system of public education, and on the other to the bestowment of public moneys in support of denominational or sectarian schools, embraces this occasion to express its general approval of the unsectarian Public schools system as now in operation in this province.

2. The Synod would strongly deprecate any interference with the existing system by the Federal Government or any legislative action on the matter of public education in this province by the Parliament at Ottawa, eve nif constitutionally competent on these grounds: First, the subject of education belongs properly to the Provincial Legislatures; second, that any such action, besides probably failing in the accomplishment of the end contemplated, is certain to endanger to an extent not easily calculated the peaceful relations which should exist between the different portions of the Dominion, and third, that it cherishes the hope that the Provincial Legislature when left to deal with the whole question freely and on its own responsibility will endeavor to satisfy all reasonable demands of any section of the people.

3. The Synod, while deprecating any legislative interference on the part of the Central Government, would rejoice to see an effort made to settle existing difficulties by a conference between the authorities of the Dominion and the province, and would not despair of a solution in large measure satisfactory as the result of such an effort.

4. The Synod would be glad to see provision made for such fuller moral religious instruction in the Public schools as might be found consistent with the maintenance of the general system, and in view of the great importance to the community, of the moral and religious character of the teacher, the Synod would especially urge the members of this Church to have constant and large regard to character in the appointment of teachers.

The Grain Exchange yesterday selected the following grades of grain for export: Nos. 1, 2 and 3 hard wheat; No. 1 Northern, Nos. 1 and 2 frosted; No. 2 white oats; No. 2 mixed oats. It was decided to approach the C.P.R. authorities with a view of securing a reduction of all grain rates.

Over three hundred farm laborers, who came from Ontario in August to work in Manitoba harvest fields, returned home to-day.

Dr. A. E. Versailles died this morning.

NEWS FROM MONTREAL.

Mr. R. S. White Gone to Cardwell—Canada's Rich Iron Mines.

Montreal, Nov. 13.—It is evident that the campaign in Cardwell is now on. Mr. Robert S. White, ex-M.P. for the county, left town last evening and Cardwell is said to be his destination. Mr. White will, however, spend Thursday in the Queen City.

Mr. W. F. Fitch, general manager of the Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic Railway is in the city with several of the company's land agents, with a view to get pointers from the Canadian Pacific colonization officials. Mr. Fitch has seen the timbered lands along the line of the Canadian Pacific from the Ottawa to Lake Superior filled up in a short time with a most desirable population, and as the D., S.S. & A. have similar lands in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin, they are desirous of learning from the Canadians how the work is to be done.

After interviewing Sir William Van Horne, Mr. Fitch was seen by your correspondent, to whom he stated that the iron industry was picking up very considerably. The gentlemen declare there is a very great future for Canadian red hematite iron, because of its purity. The ore in Canada, Mr. Fitch says, is almost entirely free from phosphorous, and as a matter of fact, the Standard Oil Company and several other wealthy concerns are quietly buying up Canadian mines.

A despatch from Verner states that Bishop O'Connor of Peterboro has written a letter to Father Paradis, giving him 30 days to leave the diocese. The Rev. Father is a well meaning and most zealous man, but he does not appear to understand the French Canadian people, either in Quebec or Ontario. Not long ago Rev. Mr. Paradis was made parish priest of Verner, but it is learned that serious trouble arose over the location of a church, hence the recent decisive action of his lordship of Peterboro.

The quantity of new wheat which is being moved from the Manitoba farms to the different elevators along the line of the Canadian Pacific Railroad continues to increase in volume. From the beginning of the season in September to the 11th of November, some 7,957,000 bushels have reached the elevators, against 6,156,620 bushels during the same period of last year. From the 1st to the 11th of November, 1,313,000 bushels were received, against 701,000 bushels for the corresponding period of 1894.

The Million Versus the Hundred.

It is for the million. It is for the table of the working man. It is within the reach of all. And it is wholesome. It is healthful. It makes blood. It makes hope. It stimulates. and this is what the Bordeaux Claret Co, has been doing with its cheap French Wines. The whole country is buying clarets, sherries and burgundies now at $3. and $4 per dozen. And there is not an ache in a hogshead. The light wines of France, pure, and supple. A boon to the whole people. One can treat a friend now when he comes to the house. One can have a bottle of wine on the table with dinner, to aid in the assimilation and digestion of his food, and thus promote health. Address Bordeaux Claret Co, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

Catarrh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease because it is liable to result in loss of hearing or smell, or develop into consumption. Read the following:

"My wife has been a sufferer from catarrh for the past four years and the disease had gone so far that her eyesight was affected so that for nearly a year she was unable to read for more than five minutes at a time. She suffered severe pains in the head and at times was almost distracted. About Christmas, she commenced taking Hood's Sarsaparilla, and since that time has steadily improved. She has taken six bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and is on the road to a complete cure. I cannot speak too highly of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and I cheerfully recommend it." W. H. THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1895.

TURKEY will be no Turkey when the other powers become Turkey-gobblers.

THE Government has vindicated its claim for courage made for it in respect of the bye-elections, by Dr. Montague, by issuing writs for elections in Cardwell and North Ontario, but they lack the courage to fix the dates.

THE Dominion Cabinet has three strings to its bow in the matter of Cabinet patching. Chapleau, McIntosh and Meredith, but it seems that none of them will work—the only music that can be got out of them is a weak sort of discordant dirge.

OSCAR WILDE is suffering from confinement in prison. A cablegram states that he is ill from the incarceration. Why should not the tender hearted Dominion Government, with their reckless clemency in the case of Messrs. Connolly and McGreevy, petition the Home Secretary for Wilde's release on the grounds that the all is not operating as a sanitarium.

THE Toronto Star gives reasons why Mr. Justice Meredith will not take a plunge from the bench into the dirty waters of Dominion politics as represented by his party—Mr. Meredith would not be acceptable to Quebec—if he took a stand he would not recede from it for political purposes—Mr. Meredith has always kept himself clean and in good company, and in this connection he would not be likely to find himself in congenial company in having as colleagues some members of the present Dominion cabinet—if he entered the cabinet there would have to be a sweeping change in the personnel and methods of the government.

HON. MR. FOSTER has an odd idea of political morality. At London he advanced the wonderful doctrine that the Conservative party should be judged by its principles and policy, and not by the men at Ottawa charged with the duty of applying them to the government of the country. If this be true, suppose an amnesty be granted to the cleverest scoundrels in our penitentiaries, in accord with Conservative principles and policy, who have undoubted ability but doubtful morality and honesty, and intrust the reins of government to their hands. Such a proposition would be at once voted as absurd; but it demonstrates the absurdity of Mr. Foster's specious claims to immunity from criticism.

THE NEXT WAR.

The indications of coming war in the east are of interest here in connection with the prospect of the powers generally fighting among themselves over the division of the spoils. European military writers are a unit in the opinion that the struggle before it is over will be the most destructive in the world's history and end in a new map of Europe being made. Owing to the increased destructiveness of the death dealing implements of war any future fighting on a large scale seems destined to witness heavy carnage. The side that can throw the most deadly missiles with the best effect will win. Melinite bombs dropped at night from balloons into the camps of helpless and defenseless hosts is foretold as one of the features of future butcheries. It is a pity the powers of Europe cannot put their heads together and agree on arbitration as a means of settling the questions that have so long threatened the peace of the world. —Journal, Ottawa.

Many people, when a little constipated, make the mistake of using saline or other drastic purgatives. All that is needed is a mild dose of Ayer's Pills to restore regular movement of the bowels, and nature will do the rest. They keep the system in perfect order.

Doctors recommend Norway Pine Syrup because it is the best cure for coughs and colds. Price 25c. and 50c. at druggists.

Pleasant as Syrup.

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, Ont., states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as a syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases.

OUR ANTI-CONSUMPTIVE CLIMATE.

Dr. Bryce Reports on Sanitarium Sites—Typhoid Epidemic in a Brantford Milkman's Pump.

Toronto, Nov. 14.—At yesterday's sitting of the Provincial Board of Health a number of complaints were received with reference to unclean slaughter houses. A letter from Belleville stated that certain slaughter houses there were in a filthy condition and that meat hung up in the abattoirs invariably became tainted. The official inspector had made numerous complaints, but on account of the uncertainty of the law in the matter, the Police Magistrate was unable to convict. The Board decided that the Government be requested to give the various municipalities definite and unmistakable powers in such matters and to alter the act bearing upon such cases wherever necessary.

Four hundred thousand bacilli to the cubic inch were discovered by Dr. McKenzie in the well of a Brantford milk man and the recent typhoid epidemic was attributed to that cause.

On the question of Brantford's water supply Dr. Bryce read a report which he had made recommending that the cost of the city water be reduced to the lowest possible figure; the filling in of all wells in ward three before June next and the immediate closure of all wells which have proved or are likely to prove dangerous; special examination of all dairies and withdrawal of permits from those not using sanitary wells and the stricter enforcement of the Notification Act. An additional report on the same subject was read, which emphasized the alarming condition of the wells causing the recent fever outbreak and exonerating the city water supply; at the same time recommending the improvement of the Island ravine, at present one source of supply, so as to be if necessary an extra reservoir. The report was adopted.

Dr. Bryce, having taken advantage of his recent trip to Denver to the meeting of the American Provincial Health Associatio to travel through the Canadian Northwest, made some interesting investigations into the character of the climate of that part of the country compared with Toronto, and various health resorts; he found it largely in favor of the high level districts of Western Canada. Toronto's mean decimal temperature was 45.1 degrees, Gravenhurst 41.8, Calgary 36.9, and Kamloops 46.3, there being 200 rainy days in the year, having thus an excessive humidity. An interesting fact was mentioned in connection with Kamloops, and that was that the Chinook winds there blow from both east and west, the explanation being that the wind came in a high current of air from the east and striking the Rocky Mountains curved down and blew from the west. Dr. Bryce summed up, after stating that Toronto represented the moist, humid temperatures, with few extremes; Gravenhurst colder, but more equable and Kamloops high and dry, with great extremes as follows: It seems therefore that in the progress of the movement which this Board has for years so persistently advocated, for the establishment of hospitals or sanitaria for the proper supervision of treatment of consumptives, there can be no good reason to doubt but that if any such institution is properly conducted, its location, whether in Muskoka, in Calgary or Kamloops, will have as happy results from the standpoint of cures as any sanitaria situated in similar climates in other countries, and how great has been their success we have to-day extended statistics to prove. It is to be hoped that in every province such action will be encouraged by both private benevolence and governmental assistance as will lead to the establishment of sanitaria at several centres so that we may from year to year be able to establish from comparative statistics the real value of the elements which go to make up the several types of climate.

SORRY SHE IS ALIVE.

A Young Wife in Hamilton Who Tried to End Her Existence.

Hamilton, Nov. 13.—Mr. George Bovaird, a handsome young married woman, with two small children, and a great deal of family trouble on her mind, owing to the drinking habits of her husband, tried to terminate all her sufferings last night by swallowing the contents of a small bottle of laudanum. She has for a few weeks resided with her mother-in-law in Stinson-street, but left there last night for her own mother's house in Spring-street. Her husband followed her. After she drank the contents of the bottle, Dr. Rennie was called and brought the woman to life, for which she is now sorry, she says.

Fred Guest, the 3-year-old son of Jas. Guest of Woodbine Crescent was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon by falling under a wagon wheel, which passed over his head, while trying to climb into the wagon.

Inspector Hughes will take proceedings against someone who is responsible for shipping a car load of horses to W. A. Freeman's fertilizer works Tuesday morning. Twenty-five horses were placed in one car and shipped from Princeton, but as the capacity of the car was only for 17, four were kicked to death, and four were horribly mangled, the box car having every resemblance of a wholesale slaughter house. The horses were shipped by a man named Strode.

At the Court of Revision this morning, appeals against the assessment of property along the T., H. & B. line were heard. The appellants not only referred to the inconvenience that has been caused during the construction of the railway, but also to the permanent injury to their property. A proposal was made to allow for the temporary inconvenience by the remission of taxes, but as there was a point of law involved the following reductions were allowed:

Ivorine for the Teeth.

Asks only a trial. Roasting will not whiten teeth; Ivorine for the teeth does. Extravagant claims will not render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine never fails to do this. Ivorine for the teeth asks for an oportunity to demonstrate its value. Dentists have affirmed it and the public corroborate professional opinion, but do you know, as every tooth loving man or woman ought to know Ivorine for the teeth is best?

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

TORONTO.

Nov. 12—Most of the stuff was bought to-day before the close of the market, but prices were no better. Hogs have a downward tendency. There were 51 car loads of stuff came in to-day, which included 1,111 sheep and lambs, 2,100 hogs, 12 calves and about 20 milch cows. For the week ended Saturday, Nov. 9, total receipts at the two markets were: Cattle, 1,744; sheep and lambs, 3,123; hogs, 6,363; weigh foes, $12½. 2L. The most active lines to-day were feeders and exporters, and they are not moving with the vim which they should have.

Export cattle—No really choice cattle are coming in, and good ones are wanted. About half a dozen loads of fair cattle were picked up to-day at prices ranging from 3 1-4 to 3 3-4 cents per lb.

Butchers' cattle—There were not so many in to-day and sales were made a little more easily, although prices were no higher. Prices were firm at from 2 to 3c per lb, the latter for choice. Quite a few deal were made at 2½ and 2¾c per lb. There continues complaint about the quality of the cattle. Too many poor ones are offering.

Feeders—There was a good trade done in this line to-day, but the demand is about supplied, so that farmers run a chance of glutting the market if they rush too many in. About 200 head are wanted yet for the Toronto distillery byres, but the outside byres are nearly filled.

Sheep and lambs—There is no change in this line, except that perhaps it is even weaker than it has been. The top figure for both sheep and lambs is 3c per lb, with sale fair at that rate.

Calves—Very few are wanted; most of those coming in are of not good quality and are hard to sell.

Hogs—This line was only fairly good. Top figure paid for the best bacons, weighed off the cars, was $3.85 per cwt; sows, 3c per lb; thick fat hogs, 3½c per lb; stags, 2c per lb; no demand for stores. Prospects are for still lower prices.

MONTREAL.

Nov. 11.—The offerings were fairly lar at Point St. Charles to-day and business generally was better, the demand being more active. Good cattle sold from 3½c to 3¾c and inferior quality from 2¾c to 2¾c. There were about 450 head of butchers' cattle, 40 calves and 450 sheep and lambs offered for sale at the East End Abattoir to-day. The butchers were out in considerable numbers and there was an active demand with higher prices for anything really good in the beef, veal or mutton animals, but the common and inferior cattle are still a drug on the market and bring low prices. Good cattle were scarce, some of the butchers maintaining that there were really no good beeves on the market; a few head were sold at about 3½c per lb, and some more at about 3½c do, but scarcely 50 head in all were sold, at from 2½c to 2¾c per lb, and the lower sents brought less than 2c per lb. Good calves were in demand and sold up to 4c per lb, but there were several "bobs" which sold at from 2½c per lb. All the good large sheep were bought up for shipment to Britain at about 3½c per lb, and the good lambs sold readily at about 2½c do, while the common lambs sold at about 3c. per lb. Fat hogs are very numerous and sell at about 4c per lb.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Cheese sales to-day—1,776 boxes large cheese at 9½c; 510 do at 9¼c; 834 small at 9½c; 1235 do at 10c; 950 consigned; 50 pkgs of creamery butter at 22c, 25 at private terms. Cheese markets dull and weak.

London, Nov. 9—Nine factories boarded 1445 boxes September and balance. Sales—200 boxes at 9 3-16c and 160 at 9½c. Attendance small. Market adjourned for two weeks.

The Fools not all Dead yet.

Even a blind man can see that more clearly than daylight, or else why should so many continue to use ill smelling, oily, and often useless preparations for the relief of pain, when a preparation just as cheap, elegant, more powerful, and penetrating as Nerviline is can be purchased from any dealers in medicine? Nerviline cures instantly aches and pains. Nerviline is the most efficacious remedy for internal pains. Nerviline applied externally subdues the most intense pain almost at once.

UNCONSCIOUS OF DANGER!

Many people buy Clothing without fully considering who they are buying from or what they are getting. You know that when you sell an article that is the product of your own hands, you know just what it contains and can thus guarantee it.

If you did not manufacture the article, but bought it from somebody else, you could not honestly guarantee it. This is where OAK HALL CLOTHING has the call over all others.

We make every article we sell. We know what it is then from stem to gudgeon. We know how they are made and can thus guarantee them Every Suit bears our name. Would we likely deceive you with goods bearing our trade mark? This is sensible talk. BUY OF THE MAKERS.

The large number of orders we have received during the past month is evidence that the people of Peterborough, as well as outsiders, have "caught on" to our great stock of which is really the best ever imported to this town. Over four hundred different samples to choose from, including West of England Cloths, English Venetians, French Worsteds, Irish Serges, Scotch and Canadian Tweeds, etc. etc.

We desire to call special attention to our Overcoatings, in Meltons, Beavers, Cheviots, Thibets, etc, etc. We have also had made up expressly for our own trade a large number of which we will sell as cheap, if not cheaper, than any house in Peterborough, style and finish taken into consideration. We don't quote prices, but ask you to look at these Overcoats and satisfy yourselves as to the truth of our statement. Then you will buy.

In Gent's Furnishings, Hats and Caps, we have everything you need, and all up-to-date; which we can afford to sell cheap as we buy for cash. Call and inspect them.

A $25,000 SUBSIDY

Granted for Steamship Service in Winter.

THE BEAVER LINE GETS THE PLUM.

Gossips at Ottawa Still Busy With the Cabinet Shuffle—An Owen Sound Veteran of 105 Asks for a Pension—Heavy Traffic Through the Soo Canal.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—At yesterday's meeting of Cabinet an Order-in-Council was passed granting a subsidy of $25,000 to the Beaver Line Steamship Co. for a fortnightly service during the present winter between St. John and Liverpool. The contract stipulates that preference is to be given to all freight coming from the western provinces, and that the rates shall be as low as from any port in the United States. Another condition is that the steamships shall be able to carry each trip on an average 400 head of cattle, or the equivalent thereof of horses and sheep. It is understood that none of the other offers came up t the requirements of the proposed service. Indeed, the Allan and Dominion lines did not submit a tender, confining their representations to a protest against granting the subsidy to the Beaver line. Messrs. Burnett and Hu, nill submitted an offer on behalf of the Furness line to furnish a service between St. John and Liverpool, but they wanted a contract for five years. As the design of the Government is to make the service this winter a test of the possibilities of the route, and is therefore of an experimental character, it was not thoug perimental character, it was not thought well to enter into a contract for such a long term of years. The first steamer of the new service, the Lake Superior, will leave Liverpool for St. John on November 23, and St. John for Liverpool on Dec. 11.

Considerable speculation is still being indulged in with regard to the political situation. The general impression is, that the desire manifested in many quarters for the entrance into Dominion politics of Chief Justice Meredith is likely to be met by his acceptance of a seat in the Government at no distant date.

Current report has it that Hon. Mr. Daly will be appointed to a judgeship in Manitoba in succession to Justice Killam, who may be transferred to the Supreme Court here. Judge Gwynne is about to retire, and he will be made chairman of the commission to revise and consolidate the Dominion statutes. If Mr. Daly accepts the judgeship it is likely his portfolio will go to Sir C. H. Tupper, while the portfolio of Justice will be assumed by Mr. Meredith. This arrangement will give great satisfaction throughout the country, but whether it will take effect before the session depends entirely on circumstances.

The Minister of Militia has had presented to him a claim on behalf of John Hall of Owen Sound for a pension as one of the veterans of 1812. Hall is 105 years of age, and his story is authenticated by some of the most reliable citizens in Owen Sound. He was taken prisoner in one of the engagements in the war of 1812 and was practically in slavery for a period of 12 years, having been carried away to the Southern States by the commanding officer of the regiment which captured him. When Hall returned to Canada in 1825 he did not know that pensions had been granted to those who had served in the war, and it is only quite recently that he and his friends became aware of the fact. His story is a most romantic one, and would form a fit theme for a novelist. Mr. Dickey will have the matter thoroughly investigated with a view to recommending him to the Imperial authorities for a pension.

The Public Works Department is engaged on plans and specifications for the proposed Dominion reformatory at Alexandria, or more strictly speaking, for that portion of the building which will be erected by contract. When one wing has been completed, a gang of stone masons and stone cutters will be transferred from Kingston or St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary and the remainder of the building will be erected by them.

Mr. Schreiber, Deputy Minister of Railways and Canals, returned from Sault Ste. Marie to-day. He reports having found every thing connected with the canal running very smoothly. From the date of the opening, Sept. 9 to Nov 11, inclusive, 1005 vessels passed through the canal with a tonnage of 668,605.

Complaints have been made to the Fishery Department that United States fishermen are working havoc amongst the fisheries of lakes Champlain and Memphremagog, by the use of seines. Some time ago an agreement was made with the authorities of Vermont and other states for prohibition of the use of seines in those waters, with a view to preserving them for sportsmen. Canada has faithfuly observed the agreement, but our neighbors have lived up to it in a manner which they usually adopt in all international obligations, that is they have observed just so much of it as suits them.

The analysts of the Inland Revenue Department are at present engaged examining samples of milk procured in different cities of the Dominion. The investigation so far shows that there is a vast improvement in the quality of milk supplied to customers in the big cities.

Gen. Gascoigne and the headquarters staff visited the rifle range this afternoon and witnesed the tests of rifleite, or smokeless powder, manufactured by the London Smokeless Powder Co. The officers and marksmen were well pleased with tee results. They say there is practically no fouling of barrels from this powder, while the recoil is reduced to a minimum.

For years past the farmers in Lowe Township, Ottawa County, have declined to pay their taxes. The Provincial Government has determined not to be thwarted any longer in securing sums justly due the Provincial Exchequer, and to-day a squad of Quebec Provincial Police arrived here en route for the township to collect the taxes by force.

Mr. E. C. Keefer is to be appointed the third commissioner for Canada in the deep waterways investigation. Mr. Rubidge, C.E., whose name was mentioned in this connection, will be fully occupied with his departmental duties during the winter.

The Sealing Commission

Washington, Nov. 13.—The convention looking to the settlement of the claims arising out of captures of Canadian sealing vessels in Behring Sea, prior to the Paris award, has been practically finished. It provides for a joint committee, consisting of one representative each from Great Britain and the United States, to meet at Victoria, B.C., to assess the damages suffered by the Canadians. If the two commissioners fail to agree, a third member will be chosen.

BURNED IN HIS HOUSE.

A Lonely Resident of Thamesville Meets His Death by Fire.

Thamesville, Nov. 12.—At an early hour this morning the house of William Cameron in London-street was destroyed by fire and the owner and only occupant, Mr. Cameron, was apparently suffocated by smoke. Deceased, when found, was partly dressed and although pretty badly burned about the chest and part of the face, his lower limbs were not scarred. He had been a respected resident of Thamesville for several years; a bachelor, native of Scotland, where all of his relatives reside, except two nephews, Charles Cameron of Chicago and D. Cameron, Dubuque, Iowa. An inquest will be held.

Ex-Senator Palmer's Residence Burned.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 12.—The residence of ex-Senator Thomas W. Palmer, president of the World's Fair Commission, Woodward-avenue, was destroyed by fire this morning with the most of its contents, which consisted of valuable works of art and bric-a-brac. The loss on the building is $30,000, with $15,000 insurance. No estimate of the loss of the contents can yet be made.

DUCK HUNTER FOUND DEAD.

Fred Mallandoine Was His Name—Sealer Marvin Released.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 12.—The body of Fred Mallandoine was found to-day drifting in a boat in the Straits of Fuca. He had been out duck hunting and it is supposed he died from exposure.

The sealing schooner Marvin, seized for violating the Behring Sea regulations, was released to-day after trial in the Admiralty Court. The suit against the Beatrice begins to-morrow.

Enforcing Sunday Law in Gotham.

New York, Nov. 12.—Police Captain Pickett of the West 30th-street station to-day, by order of Acting Chief Conlin, notified all the wholesale and retail flower dealers in his precinct that beginning next Sunday, they would be arrested and charged with violating the Sunday laws if they sold flowers on Sunday. It is believed that the chief's order will affect florists all over the city.

"Prepare or the worst, but hope for the best," says the old proverb. Hope for health, but be prepared for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, or any other throat or lung difficulty by having Ayer's Cherry Pectoral always at hand. It is prompt to act, sure to cure.

Fort William, Ont.

Mr. William Day, of Fort William, Ont. says: Two years ago my wife was very ill with dyspepsia. No remedy that she could find gave any relief. Finally she tried Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. That is now more than two years ago and she has had no return of the malady. I also have had occasion to use B. B. B. and I cannot speak too highly in its favour. I always recommend it to my friends and in every case with good results. Yours truly, WM. DAY.

WORLD OF SPORTS.

Baltimore, Nov. 12.—Favorable conditions made the second day's meeting at Pimlico very successful. The entries were not numerous, but the winners were hard to pick. But two favorites won. The track was in much better condition, and a large crowd was present. Results:

PULLMAN HOUSE

FRANK FAIREN, Proprietor | 380 George Street, Peterborough.

Fresh air and exercise are all right, Boy's, but you want a little something occasionally for the stomach's sake. You can always count on getting it good at the Pullman. But be temperate, Boy's, and let your motto be "moderation."

First-class Billiard Room in connection.

A business man is not the most patient creature in the world. He cannot stop work every minute to bother with an irritating skin disease, or a hacking cough that insists on breaking into his bargain-making. Neither will he wait to hear any long-drawn-out story of the cause of his ailment. He doesn't care two straws about a fine spun theory of how he should treat himself. He may be predisposed to scrofula, or consumption. "That," he will tell you "has nothing to do with the case." He wants to be well. If he can be cured, write out a prescription and send in your bill. So, here's the first part of the proposition.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a medicine that permeates the whole body as water goes through a sponge. It is a microbe hunter and a microbe killer. It is a well-known fact that many persons of scrofulous blood, encourage the breaking out of unsightly sores, to prevent the disease going to the lungs. There is no need of living in this state of dread and discomfort. Purify the blood. It can be done. The "Golden Medical Discovery" will cure 98 per cent. of all consumptive cases, also of all other lingering, bronchial, throat and lung diseases. Don't allow a druggist to persuade you into taking something that he says is "just as good." Maybe it's better for him—better for his profits. Take the "Golden Medical Discovery"—the greatest discovery of the age. In addition, in order to know yourself better, send to the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only, and get in return, Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is a book of 1008 pages, illustrated, and is full of common sense talk that any one who can read will understand.

And here is the testimony of Mrs. E. E. ENDERS, of Carey, Ohio, in regard to the "Golden Medical Discovery": "I had a troublesome skin disease. I suffered much from surface sores. Nothing helped me until I tried the 'Golden Medical Discovery.' A year or two later I had lung trouble. Again the 'Discovery' cured me."

"Sometime, when all life's lessons have been learned,
And sun and stars for evermore have set,
The things which our weak judgment here has spurned,
The things o'er which we grieved with lashes wet,

As stars shine most in deeper tints of blue;
And we shall see how all God's plans were right,
And how what seemed reproof was love most true."

AN OWL HOOTED.

At Least so a Number of People Thought Last Night.

Yesterday wasn't April Fool's Day, but a number of residents in the vicinity of Central Park think that some one played a joke last night which should have been reserved for that date.

Just who was the first who said there was an owl up in one of the big trees no one knows, but there was soon a crowd gazing up into the foliage. As people passed they asked the cause of the racket and they were told about the owl. In a short time there was a good sized crowd in front of the tree.

A well known sport was the first discover the owl. Away up at the top of the tree it was huddled up close to the trunk. Stones, bricks and branches went sailing up into the air, but nothing could move the owl. Then a man came dashing across the lot with a shot gun. When the smoke cleared away the owl was still there. Then a little boy was sent up the tree and the owl was found to be the stump of a broken branch. The funniest part of it all is that half a dozen respectable citizens stated that they heard the bird hoot and this without connection with another kind of "hoot."

AN EVENTFUL RUN.

A G. T. R. Freight Engineer Has a Terrible Experience.

Mr. James Haugh, of Lindsay, the well-known G. T. R. freight engineer, found his trip to Allandale Tuesday a very eventful one. On the up trip in the morning the engine struck a sectionman's lorry and knocked it to smithereens.

On the return trip a woman was noticed walking on the track near the public crossing south of Oro station station, a few miles out of Barrie, and Engineer Haugh, after sounding the whistle several times, expected to see her step off the rails. She took no notice of the signals, however, and was struck by the end of a buffer and knocked into the ditch. When picked up she was recognized as Miss Allingham, a music teacher at Hawkstone, to which place she was returning. She was terribly injured and died soon after the accident.

Driver Haugh's ill-luck did not end here. At Grass Hill, about eight o'clock last night, his engine struck and killed a horse which had strayed on the track, and during the balance of the run into town he was a very nervous man.

ONTARIO CREAMERIES.

Eleventh Conventlog to be Held at Cornwall.

It is expected that one of the largest gatherings of dairymen ever held in Ontario will be seen at the eleventh annual convention of the Ontario Creameries' Association, which will be held in Cornwall on Jan. 14, 15 and 16. This will be a very important meeting, as the dairying industry is daily becoming of more and more portance. Some of the most eminent dairymen of the United States and Canada will be present. Among those expected are:—Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture of Ontario; Prof. Robertson Dominion Dairy Commissioner; Prof. Dean, Guelph; Prof. Fletcher, Experimental Farm, Ottawa; Prof. W. P. Brooks, Dairy School, Amherst, Mass.; Mr. A. O. Wright, manager of the Renfrew Creamery and others. There is some talk of the Cornwall Board of Trade, which has lain dormant for some time, reorganizing for the purpose of arranging a fitting reception to the delegates.

RAISING THE GRADE.

What Proportion Will the Town and the Street Railway Each Pay.

The Sewerage and Street and Bridge Committee met last night and decided that the new sewer would not be connected with the old system this year, as it would necessitate the putting in of traps at every street corner to keep the street washings out.

The question of whether the town or the Street railway should pay for the raising of the grade of George street was fully discussed, but no definite conclusion was reached, although a proposition will be made to the railway. It was decided to go ahead with the completing of the work at the outfall of the sewer in the way of purchasing the necessary steel pipe.

POLICE COURT.

THURSDAY, Nov. 14.

At the police court this morning Walter Hanon, town, was charged with larceny of oats from Mr. Eli Tamblyn of Otonabee, and remanded until Wednesday, Nov. 20.

A case under the auspices of the Children's Aid Society engaged the attention of the court the most of the morning. It is reported elsewhere in this issue.

This morning the Chief of Police received a postcard from Walkerton, where Frank Murphy, the tramp who was arrested by Constable Moore, and after numerous enlargements and remands was finally discharged, was tried for the robbery of an Arabian and acquitted.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

A Complicated Case Before the Police Magistrate—Another Evidence of its Usefulness.

This morning a peculiar and rather complicated case, which the society thinks comes within its province and powers, was ventilated at the Police Court. It was to determine the proper custodians of two orphan children—Sadie Free, aged 9 years, and Luella Free, aged 6 years,—who, it seems, were being shifted about from one place to another in a very undesirable manner. It appears the children's father, a farmer of Seymour West, has been dead six years. The two farms he owned were sold and the proceeds largely used up in the payment of his debts. Mrs. Free bought a house and lot in Campbellford, and two years ago the family came to town. The mother placed the children with Mrs. George Blackstock, 101 Rubidge street, on March 17th. Mrs. Blackstock testified that the mother desired her to have charge of the children, and expected to pay for their care, partly by the proceeds of the sale of the house in Campbellford. She also testified to being desirous to keep and adopt the pretty girl, Luella, the younger, and it is to this desire that the present proceedings are due. A short time since the elder child left Mrs. Blackstock's and went to Mrs. George Tighe's, and subsequently the younger child was taken from her custody and finally placed with Mrs. W. J. Hanbidge, a respectable farmer of Otonabee. Mrs. Blackstock brought her desire to regain the custody of the children to the notice of the Children's Aid Society, and the latter organization brought the matter before the Police Magistrate to decide the question as to who was the proper custodian of the children, and if necessary, to take charge of them.

Miss Helena Free (McKelvie) a pretty, modest girl, about 18 years of age, with a good looking face, the eldest of two step-sisters of the children, testified that since her step-mother's illness, who is now in the Asylum for the Insane in Toronto, she had had the most care of the children; she was not able with her earnings to properly support them and expressed herself as willing that the two bright-looking little girls should become wards of the Children's Aid Society. She did not wish them to be returned to Mrs. Blackstock, but was quite willing for the younger to remain at Mr. Hanbidge's, where she would have a good Christian home.

At the conclusion of the evidence offered in the case, Mr. Dumble made an order handing over the children to the custody of the Society. The younger girl remains for the present with Mr. Hanbidge. The scene in court at her parting with her friends was very affecting.

Mr. Burnham, secretary, and Mr. Miller, agent, were present.

Mrs. Smith, of Antrim street, has been taken to the hospital very ill. The Society which had the oversight of the family for some time will now take over four of the children, three boys, aged 2, 8 and 9 years and one girl aged 11 years. The Society needs funds to enable it to provide for the keep of the children in a temporary shelter and for other purposes connected with the promotion of its objects. The Society is doing a work which should appeal to the practical sympathy of the charitably disposed.

FAIR, at the Golden Lion.

—An ingenious man comes to the front with a stud button that can't be snatched from the owner. When the stud goes the owner goes with it. This is a good thing. Now let him invent a collar button that can't roll under a bureau, nor creep beneath a bed, nor slide down a water pipe. When he does that the sons of man will rise up and call him blessed.

The Stage of Convalescence.

Is at once interesting and critical. The patient, carefully guarded at this period and provided with the means essential to health, may be enabled once more to enjoy the inestimable blessing of health. On the other hand, neglect of even minor needs, at this period, is likely to impose upon him the life-long penalty of ill-health, resulting in a wasted life. The assimilative processes are, at the time, sure to be impaired, and nerve tone overtaxed in its resistance to the assaults of disease; will both sadly need impetus which Maltine with Coca Wine alone can give.

By the action of Maltine with Coca Wine upon the digestive processes, which it rapidly strengthens, and its permanent and striking influence upon the nervous system, to which it gives vigor and tone, the restorative power of the body is immensely increased, and strength and vigor come to the invalid so quietly as to seem almost impossible. Experience, however, has demonstrated its efficiency in convalescence, as well as in the various forms of which debility, arising from faulty nutrition, manifests itself. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. George Syer, of Cavan, who has been residing in town at 795 George street, has purchased the Appleby property, 212 Barnardo avenue, and is putting the premises in a first-class condition for his residence, where his many country and town friends will find the family.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people youthful. Dr. Pierces Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists sell the "Discovery."

Still Unheard From.

Up to going to press, the whereabouts of James Brown, who disappeared from Hastings on the 28th ult., remains undiscovered, though every effort has been made to do so. Crowds during the past week have searched every nook and corner of bush between the village and his home. Some parties have sought the aid of a lady in Rawdon township by name of Mrs. Booth, who has the reputation of being able to solve mysteries and reveal secrets. Her prognostications, which pronounce him dead in the woods, has tended to create more and renewed searching, but without avil. If drowned it is time his body was afloat.—Hastings Star.

Children's Aid Society Notes.

Rev. J. C. Davidson has kindly offered a special service in St. John's in the interests of the Children's Aid Society, to be held on Sunday evening, Nov. 24th. It is probable that the society will accept his kind offer. This service should be a most interesting one, as the society is in every way worthy of the heartiest encouragement.

Rev. J. J. Rae has consented to deliver a lecture in the interests of the Children's Aid Society, in the Opera House, some time during next February. The society is on a firm foundation now, doing a good work, which is hindered largely by lack of funds, and the fact that ministers are taking an active interest in the promotion of the society's objects is very encouraging.

PRAISE FOR MR. SERGEANT.

A High Compliment Paid to Him by the Trunk Line Representatives.

The presidents of the trunk lines of railway and their principal western connections met in New York on Oct. the 30th. There were present representatives of twenty-four great railway lines, including the Allegheny Valley, the Baltimore & Ohio, the B. & O. Southwestern, the Central of New Jersey, the Chesepeake & Ouio, the Chicago & Erie, the Chicago and Grand Trunk, the C. C. C. & St. L., the D. L. & W., the D. L. & N., the Grand Trunk, the Lake Shore, the Lehigh, the Michigan Central, the New York Central, the N. Y. C. & St. Louis, the Erie, the Pennsylvania, the Reading, the Toledo, the Peoria & Western, the Vandalia, the Wabash, and the West Shore. Mr. G. B. Roberts, President of the Pennsylvania, was in the chair, and Mr. F. H. Hoyt, was secretary.

At this meeting Mr. L. J. Sergeant, late General Manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, and now Canadian representative on the British Board of Directors, in announcing this appointment, and the succession to his late office of Mr. Charles M. Hayes, expressed his acknowledgement of the kindness and consideration he had received at the hands of the members of the Trunk Line Association.

Mr. Chauncey M. Depew, President of the New York Central, after paying a very high tribute to the rare, good judgment, patience and courtesy exercised by Mr. Sergeant in his intercourse as Manager of the Grand Trunk with the members of Trunk Line and Central Traffic Association, moved the following resolution:

Resolved, that we, the president and general managers of the railways in the Trunk Line and Central Traffic Association, learn with profound regret that L. J. Seargent, Esq., of the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada, who, on account of the acceptance of other duties abroad in connection with that company, cease to be a member of our organizations. He has brought to the discussion and decision of the important questions which are constantly before us such ability and fairness that he has materially assisted in our deliberations. He carries with him to his new position our cordial regard and best wishes for his health, happiness and success.

Mr. Ingalls, in seconding the resolution, added his testimony to that of Mr. Depew, and referred to the importance of having on the London Board of the Grand Trunk Railway someone who understands railway affairs in America, and closed his remarks in these words:—"I do not remember a man who has ever left our association that has carried with him more profound respect and sincere good wishes of his associates than Mr. Sergeant."

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

ATTACKED A MINK BOA.

Pussy Mistook it for an Enemy and Though She did all the Fighting She Made the Fur Fly.

A woman and man were sitting in the waiting room at the station. The lady had taken a mink boa from about her neck and laid it carelessly down in her lap. The snarling face of the stuffed mink with its vicious little glass eyes looked defiantly over the edge of her lap into the room. At a little distance the station cat was contentedly making her toilet by alternately licking her paws and giving her face a vigourous rubbing. So absorbed was the cat in her ablutions that she was not aware of a pair of bright little yellow eyes fixed intently upon her.

After a minute or two, however, Tabby seemed satisfied that her appearance was as it should be. Then she deigned to take a look around the room to see what was going on. Suddenly her eyes ceased their aimless wandering and became riveted on a spot in the direction of the lady with the boa. This was followed by a nervous twitching in the end of the cat's tail. There was evidently something interesting there, and all indications pointed toward trouble of some kind.

The cat stared at the gleaming little eyes, while her tail increased the violence of its twitchings. The mink, when it came to staring, was more than able to hold its own against the cat. The latter seemed to realize this. She slowly rose from her haunches and began to steal out of the line of vision of the little eyes, meantime keeping her own fixed steadily on the snarling face in the lap. The cat circled slowly out of the mink's range of view, quickened her pace for a few yards, and then suddenly crouched down and began to creep along the floor. The prospects of trouble were becoming promising.

Nearer and nearer crept the cat. She was evidently going to attack the mink on its left wing. The woman and man were engaged in conversation, unaware of the designing cat. The woman began tapping her foot on the floor, which gave the mink's head a bobbing motion. This show of independence and bravado seemed to aggravate the cat beyond feline endurance.

There was a sudden spring, and almost simultaneously the cat landed a swift short arm blow on the mink's left jaw. With a little scream of terror the woman jumped up, dropping the mink to the floor, where the cat promptly seized it. For a few seconds there was an interesting intermingling of fur, then the man succeeded in rescuing the boa. The cat strolled off with the air of one who had vindicated herself, and the trouble was over.

Rumoured Establishment by a Canadian Firm of a Branch in Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY (Special) Nov. 4.—The outcry in certain quarters against the high tariff still goes on, but it is to the tariff that Albany is likely to owe the addition of another industry to her numerous existing ones. A Canadian firm located in Toronto has, it is understood, been interviewed by an Albany business man, with a view to establishing in this city a manufactory of the staple kidney remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. As the business done by the Canadian firm throughout the United States has assumed very large proportions, owing to the recognition by the American public of the great value of this staple, it is probable that arrangements will be satisfactorily entered into. The annual output is very large and is rapidly increasing.

CHINA AND THE CHINESE.

A Most Interesting Lecture on This Subject Last Evening at the Park Street Baptist Church.

The Rev. J. Tate Kitts, who for five years was a pioneer medical missionary in the interior of North China, is at present lecturing and preaching in this town and neighborhood. Last Sunday he occupied the pulpit, morning and evening, for the Rev. Mr. McWilliams, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, and the previous Sunday morning for the Rev. Mr. Trotter, of the Baptist church; he has also given an address at the Y.W.C.A., on "The Moral, Social and Religious Life of Women in Northern China." Last evening Mr. Kitts delivered a lecture on "China and the Chinese" at the Park street Baptist church, and to-night he is announced to lecture at St. Andrew's church on "John Chinaman, His Ancient Home and Strange Customs."

Mr. Kitts has lectured extensively in England, the United States, and also in this country. While in China he adopted the native dress (even shaving his head and wearing the queue) followed the customs and manners of the people, and lived, as one of themselves. The majority of missionaries in China reside at one of the open ports, but Mr. Kitts went some ten days' journey inland, to about the centre of Shantung Province, and for about the first 12 months was the only foreigner in that neighborhood, and had abundant experience of both village and city life. Mr. Kitts' early training rendered him peculiarly adapted for pioneer work of this kind. He is a fully-qualified marine engineer and draughtsman, and with this knowledge he was enabled to teach native artizans to work from drawings made to the Chinese scale; also how to use some of our tools to make furniture, lay down wooden floors, etc.

AS FAR AS POSSIBLE,

He was also the first to take photographic dry plates to China, and as soon as it was safe to do so, took a number of views of people and places of interest. He taught a native the art of photography, and this man has since earned his living as a photographer and in this way helps to undermine the universal and fearful superstition and prejudice of the people.

As a physician and surgeon, Mr. Kitts was wonderfully successful. It was from Mr. Kitts that the viceroy, Li Hung Chang, purchased and a quantity of drugs for the hospital which Li built at Tientsin as the result of Lady Li's life having been saved by a medical missionary after all the famous native doctors had given the case up and pronounced it hopeless. In the interior, Mr. Kitts gradually gained the confidence of the people until he was at length able to perform an amputation. This probably was the first surgical operation of the kind ever performed in China. Mr. Kitts has had over 200 patients waiting outside his door at 4 o'clock in the morning. He has also sent home a written report of more than 10,000 cases treated in less than a year.

The large and valuable collection of native articles with which Mr. Kitts illustrates his lectures are of themselves worth the seeing. Probably some of them could not be duplicated on this continent.

Mr. Kitts' lectures have been most favourably received wherever he has been. The mass of information crowded into so short a time is extraordinary. One goes away with totally different ideas and opinions respecting that ancient and wonderful people and their great country. They have had a great past, and a great future also doubtless awaits them. No one will regret attending these lectures. The EXAMINER wishes Mr. Kitts every success in his work.

SALOONS IN THE U. S.

A statement by Mayor Strong that the number of saloons in New York city ought to be cut down one-half, makes interesting a comparison which the World has obtained:

Items of Interest to Local Sportsmen —Aquatic and Field Sports.

THE WHEEL.

At a meeting of the passenger committee of the Trunk Line Association yesterday, the principal matter considered was the carrying of bicycles and their riders for one fare by the various roads forming the associations. The matter was discussed at length, and it was agreed finally that each railroad should take such action as the officials should deem advisable. While no concerted action was taken, it is generally conceded that within a fortnight bicycles will be designated as freight and charged for accordingly.

John S. Johnson telegraphed to the American Wheelmen that he would accept the challenge issued a short time ago by J. Michael, the Welsh champion, for a series of match races to determine the world's championship. Michael offers Johnson $500 expenses to go to Paris, and Johnson replies that if the Welshman will place his money in the hands of the American Wheelmen it will be covered and the plans arranged.

An insurance company has made the following proposition to the associated cycling clubs of Chicago:—That if the association would turn in a list of members from whom 1,500 policies of $1,000 each could be secured by the company, the latter would build the association a $15,000 club house, or a bicycle track with a club house to cost $15,000, or pay into the association treasury $10 for each life insurance policy; the last proposition to also hold good on any number of policies secured, from one to 1,500.

That the bicycle is in a state of evolution makes every wealman and every prospective rider interested in the various stages of this progress as shown by the yearly changes in pattern and fittings. Mr. Wm. Hyslop, who has just returned from a lengthy British tour, reports the greatest activity in the trade in the old country, and brings news of the most important points that will distinguish the wheel of 1896 from its predecessors.

"It was the custom of the British factories," he said, "to close during August, September, October and November of each year, but that is changed now, and they are running steadily with hardly time to take stock. One firm that we do business with having a capacity of 10,000 machines, had not at this time last year a single order on its books. Now, though the Stanley and National shows have not yet occurred, this concern cannot take an order for next year's delivery, the entire capacity being engaged. This state of affairs I found pretty general throughout the country.

"What changes will there be? Well, the machines will be better; manufacturers are always learning something. The changes will not be many, though. The horizontal top bar will be more used and the tubing will be a trifle larger. Hubs will be larger, to be in proportion, and treads narrower. The weight will not be reduced. The light wheel idea was an unhealthy one, anyway, and could not last. Next year's machines may be a trifle increased in weight.

"Not a few British manufacturers were caught napping in the matter of securing their supply of tubing. You know European tube mills supply the world, and American manufacturers have been over to Britain and purchased all the tubing in in sight. The supply is so short that a number of British manufacturers have had to buy at an advance, which in some cases amounted to 50 per cent. I was more fortunate than that.

"There is not much talk of novelties in the way of accessories. The Simpson chain, though, did create some discussion on account of the claims put forward for it. However, since Osmond and Chiun, with the Perry chain, beat all the Simpson chain records, manufacturers are inclined to classify it with the Boudard gear, which promised so much and fulfilled so little.

"English manufacturers stick to steel rims, one reason for the preference being the effect of the moist climate on wood rims, of which I had some experience with my own machine. Then, too, they don't think that the wood rims suit Dunlop tires and the Dunlop is the tire ridden almost exclusively in the Old Country. The ladies' wheels used over there are heavy, 38 pounds being the lightest. Mrs. Hyslop was riding a 25-pound machine on our tour and could have sold it fifty times over. I tell you it is a treat to get into a city like Toronto where so many decent bicycles are ridden. You would be astonished at the old crocks, with hard tires, cushion ...es and old-fashioned ordinaries that you meet even in Coventry, Wolverhampton and Birmingham, head centres of the cycling trade. The Canadian wheels were highly complimented by the manufacturers who saw them when we were on the other side. Next year cycling will see a still greater growth and we are preparing for an output of five times as many wheels as we turned out last year. The time is coming when everybody will ride bicycles."

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The local team goes down to Port Hope Saturday to play Trinity College School, and on Thanksgiving goes up to Toronto to play the return match with Trinity University. On Saturday, Nov. 23rd, Trinity College School will play in Peterborough. The boys should be in good shape for these matches, and it is hoped that no practices will be missed in order that the team may reflect credit on the town. A practice will be held in the skating rink this evening at 7.30.

CURLIANA.

A meeting of the Colts of the Peterborough Club is called for to-morrow evening in the parlours over the Palace Restaurant. Every Colt is urged to be in attendance, as matters of importance will come up for discussion.

The following letter has been received from the secretary of the Duluth Curling Club:—"At a meeting of our board of directors the date of the fourth annual bonspiel of the North-western Curling Association, which will be held at Duluth, was set for the week commencing Monday, Jan. 13th, 1896. The programme and list of prizes will be sent to you shortly. We expect your club represented, so make your arrangements to come. Our committee are hard at work, and all we need to make this bonspiel a success is your presence with us."

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

HOT WATER BAGS are something more than a winter luxury—they are a household necessity. In many cases it will take the place of the family doctor, and in other emergencies it will help to check inflammation and keep the patient in a comfortable state until the doctor comes. A three-quart India Rubber hot-water bag filled with hot water and encased in flannel and applied to the proper place will relieve neuralgia, indigestion, sick headache, stomach ache, toothache, rheumatic pains and a hundred other ills that flesh is heir to.

I sell hot water bags with nickel-plated screw tops that will not leak and bottom tabs with eyelets. See them in the window.

His Face was a mass of Blotches.

But now his skin is clear as a year old babe's.

Scott's Sarsaparilla his Salvation.

Nothing blights existence like the knowledge that our appearance is repellant to those with whom we come in contact, nor is there any relief like that of feeling that the disfiguring causes have been removed. Says Mr. William Alger: My face on one side was a mass of blotches, some of which were constantly full of matter. I run a bake shop doing my own work, but my face got so bad that customers drifted away. Then I hired a man and went to a doctor. He said my blood was in a horrible condition. I sold my business and moved to the city where Scott's Sarsaparilla was recommended to me. The first bottle did me much good, and after taking five bottles my skin is as clear as possible, and not a sign of my previous disfigurement. I say Scott's Sarsaparilla is the best blood medicine going and am speaking from experience.

Pimples, blotches, boils, ulcers and all diseases arising from vital exhaustion and impure blood are radically cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla, a concentrated compound of the finest medicines ever known. Your druggist has it at $1. But get Scott's. The kind that cures.

OLD AGE AND YOUTH.

A Kindred Influence Affects Each —Sergeant Willison M. Copp and Mrs. John Dinwoodie.

The Former Under 30 and the Latter Nearly 80 Years of Age— Both Cured of Extreme Nervous Prostration by South American Nervine.

Down by the sea, in the thriving town of Newcastle, N. B., resides Sergeant Willison M. Copp, a creditable representative of the militia of the Maritime Provinces. He is a young man under 30 years of age. This fact, however, did not prevent him a short time since suffering from nervous prostration. It took a grip of him, that looked as though his days were numbered. Quoting his own words: "Friends and relations despaired of my life." He was influenced, after every other effort had failed, to try South American Nervine, and it effected a complete cure. No wonder he says:—"This remedy is the best on earth."

Mrs. John Dinwoodie, of Flesherton, Ont., is a lady who has reached well nigh to fourscore years of age. She has been a resident of Flesherton for forty years. Everybody knows her, and knows that her word is as good as her bond. Three years ago, through the loss of a beloved daughter she became prostrated with nervous trouble. No medicine, or doctor's skill did her any good. Sorrow and age appeared to combine to number her days. But it was not to be so. South American Nervine came to her relief. She took twelve bottles of the medicine, with the result that today she is in the enjoyment of the best of health and her shattered nerves have again become healthy and strong. The secret of South American Nervine is that it immediately works on the nerve centres through which comes all disease, and this being the case it matters not whether one is young or old, this medicine is certain to effect a cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

LION HUNTING PERILS.

A Beast Fortunately Shot in a Tussle With Its Victim.

One of the most readable of papers in the new number of The Nineteenth Century is that by Mr. H. C. Lowther, who, with a brother officer, recently went lion hunting in that paradise of big game, Somaliland. On the return journey to the coast both Mr. Lowther and his companion had an exceedingly narrow escape. A lioness which they had previously missed had been "rounded up" beside a bush by one of their native attendants, and in describing what followed Mr. Lowther says:—

"I fired, striking her in the shoulder; the shot had only the effect of making her crouch still lower, and to begin a low growling and switching of her tail from side to side. Again I fired, this time aiming at the head; my unsteadiness spoilt my aim and the bullet cut a neat hole in the tip of the ear, but did not otherwise injure her; the next moment she swung round and charged me while I was loading, V. putting a bullet in her shoulder as she rushed past him, but without result. I could not get the cartridge in soon enough to fire during her rush, so endeavored to take a step to my right to avoid the spring I expected.

"As I did so I felt myself held right in the lioness' path by a small thornbush which reached about to my waist, and the toothed arms of which held me in a close embrace. I thought I was done for, and my relief knew no bounds when she suddenly swerved to her right and passed behind me. In a moment I tore myself clear, and turned round to find that the lioness had seized Geleh by the wrist, and that he was struggling to thrust her off with the rifle, which he held in both hands. They were not more than three yards from me, but I dared not fire for her heart, as she was so close to the man; in fact, it looked in the dust cloud they had raised as if they were wrestling. Her back was toward me, so I fired at the spine about the loins, and she fell instantaneously, gave one quiver, and was dead."

How the Phonograph Was Discovered.

Mr. Edison in his new biography—his "Life and Inventions"—describes the accidental method by which he discovered the principle of the phonograph. There is a kind of accident that happens only to a certain kind of man.

"I was singing to the mouthpiece of a telephone," Mr. Edison says, "when the vibrations of the voice sent the fine steel point into my finger. That set me to thinking. If I could record the actions of the point and send the point over the same surface afterward I saw no reason why the same thing would not talk.

"I tried the experiment first on a slip of telegraph paper, and found that the point made an alphabet. I shouted the 'Hallo! Hallo!' into the mouthpiece, ran the paper back over the steel point and heard a faint 'Hallo! Hallo!' in return.

"I determined to make a machine that would work accurately, and gave my assistants instructions telling them what I had discovered. They laughed at me. That's the whole story. The phonograph is the result of the pricking of a finger."

It is one thing to hit upon an idea, however, and another thing to carry it out to perfection. The machine would talk, but, like many young children, it had difficulty with certain sounds—in the present case with aspirants and sibilants, Mr. Edison's biographers say, but the statement is somewhat exaggerated.

"He has frequently spent from fifteen to twenty hours daily for six or seven months on a stretch dinning the word 'Spezia,' for example, into the stubborn surface of the wax. 'Spezia,' roared the inventor. 'Pezia,' lisped the phonograph in tones of ladylike reserve, and so on through thousands of graded repetitions, till the desired results were obtained.

"The primary education of the phonograph was comical in the extreme. To hear those grave and reverend signors, rich in scientific honors, patiently reiterating:

Mary had a little lamb,
A little lamb, lamb, lamb.

and elaborating that point with anxious gravity, was to receive a practical demonstration of the eternal unfitness of things."

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

Mr. Nicholson says: "I consulted doctors who prescribed for me, but to no purpose; the cancer began to spread to my chin, and I suffered in agony for seven long years. Finally, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a week or two I noticed a Encouraged by this result, I persevered, until in a month or so the sore under my chin began to heal. In three months my lip began to heal, and, after using the Sarsaparilla for six months, the last trace of the cancer disappeared."

THE GROUND CHERRY.

With many farmers the ground cherry is classed among the weeds, as it grows wild in many parts of the central and western states. Its value as a fruit has not been generally appreciated and until the past few years it was seldom seen in cultivation. An improved variety is now finding its way in our seedmen's catalogues, and there is no doubt that it will grow in favor. With me the improved ground cherry has proven itself worthy of a place in the garden. The plant is quite hardy, and will thrive on any soil where potatoes will grow. The fruit when the husk has been removed is a handsome yellow cherry of about three-fourths of an inch in diameter. It has something of a strawberry flavor, and is excellent for sauce, pies, or preserves. For winter use the fruit may be canned or dried. Or if kept in a cool place in its husk the cherry will keep plump and sound until December, or later.

In growing ground cherries about the same method is pursued as in growing tomatoes. The seeds are sown in hotbeds and the young plants are not taken to the garden until danger of frost is past. The plants are very branching, most of the branches taking a lateral direction, almost touching the ground. For this reason they should be set not less than four feet apart each way. There is need of extra care in keeping down the weeds during the first half of the season, for later on the plants are in the way of such work. The ground cherry is wonderfully prolific. The first ripe ones are gathered about the first of August. After this the fruit may be picked every two or three days until cut off by frost. The fruit drops off as soon as it is ripe, so the most of the picking is done from the ground. On good soil one may expect to get a bushel from 18 to 20 plants, or from 130 to 150 bushels per acre.

An Island Playing Peek-a-Boo.

Falcon Island, a lonely but picturesque mass of earth and rocks, situated in the Tonga group below latitude twenty degrees south, has been playing hide-and-seek with three nations since 1889. The British first took possession, finding it crowned with palm trees and tropical vegetation. The British flag was planted on the highest bluff 158 feet above the sea. A year later the island was found to be nothing but a low lying reef, the cliff had disappeared, and there was no sign of vegetation. In 1892 France, looking for islands to claim, rediscovered Falcon, which at that time had a new growth of green bushes and ferns, while a promontory twenty-five feet high gave character to its southern end. The French tricolor was then raised on its cliff. In April, 1894, the island had again disappeared, a low, dangerous streak of reef only remaining. A little later the Tongan Government went out to solve the mystery, and found an island with bold steep sides, the highest point being fifty feet above the sea. Possession was taken in the name of King George of Tonga. The San Francisco Bulletin suggests that when Tonga's claims have been wiped out by the sea the United States might try to secure the island for a brief term.

AFTER THE HUNT.

How the Buffaloes Were Divided Up Among the Indians.

No man was in haste to claim his game the moment it fell, because his arrows had some peculiarity in their decoration by which they could be identified, and later his bullets were marked. The Omahas were expert hunters, and many a man could boast of having sent an arrow clean through one buffalo to lodge in a second beyond.

The flaying and cutting up of the animal takes place upon the field, and the meat and pelts are packed upon the ponies in charge of the boys. The method of skinning and dividing the buffalo, elk and deer is according to fixed rules; there are twelve cuts, four specified ones, with the hide, belonging to the slayer of the animal. The first man who comes to assist in the cutting up of the game is entitled to his choice of two of the remaining pieces, with the exception of "the breast," which is always the property of the last to give his services. This disposition of the pieces gives opportunities to the poor and the luckless to obtain provision for themselves and their families. If a hunter has borrowed a horse or a weapon, half of his share must go to the owner.

Women never go upon the hunting field unless to assist a childless husband in taking care of the game. After the laden ponies have reached the camp, the duties of the women begin in the preservation of the meat. They cut the hindquarters into thin slices, and hang them up on frames to dry; the muscle over the ribs is cut in strips, dried and braided; and when the meat is well cured pemmican is made. The drying or canning of the skins then requires attention: the summer pelts are used for moccasins, clothing and tent covers; for robes and for bedding only the winter skins are used. For the latter purpose the hide of the bull is preferred because of its weight, and the animal is cut and flayed differently from the others.—"Hunting Customs of the Omahas," by Alice C. Fletcher, in September Century.

THEY CAME OFTEN.

A Bright Newsboy with a Weak Plea but a Ready Answer.

A small and dirty newsboy worked a paying game for a week or so down in the shopping districts. He would don a most pathetic expression, go up to a woman and say, "Missis, won't you buy a paper, dis is my birfday, and I ain't sold hardly any." Of course he would sell one in nine cases out of ten, and would generally get a nickel and be told to keep the change. He must have kept this up fully a week and reaped a bountiful harvest. At last one young woman who had tired of the same story, and who became rather skeptical on the subject of the "birfdays," stopped the young genius and remarked in tones clear enough to be heard some little distance. "See here little boy, what did you say about your birthday?"

"Lady, please buy my paper, dis is my birfday, and I ain't sold but one paper to-day," whined the young rascal.

"Now, little boy to my certain knowledge you have had a birthday every day this week. Aren't you ashamed to tell such stories?"

He was cornered for a minute, and stood with head cast down and every appearance of remorse. At last he looked up with the most innocent expression and said: "Well you see, lady, you en me we're different. I ain't very old, en I thought I'd have a lot of birfdays to oncet, en den I could quit havin' 'em, like you. See?"

She concluded he was past reforming, and, slipping a dime in his hand, moved on sighing over the wickedness of this generation, while the young sinner executed a pas seul of his own invention.

HE FOUND OUT.

The Policeman was Kind Enough to Give Him a Practical Illustration.

"If you don't object I'd like to ask you sunthin," said an old man with a cane and satchel as he stopped a policeman on Monroe avenue.

"Ask you question," was the reply.

"I live up in Macomb county, and I have a son Bill who comes down here purty often. The last time he was here he came home with his coat ripped up the back and dead broke, and said a policeman had given him the collar."

"Well?"

"Wall, what did he git?"

"He got the collar, probably, just as he said."

"But what is the collar? That's what I want to ask."

"Why: he was probably half tight and whooping along the street and an officer took him by the collar—this way—and gave him a shake—that way—and rattled his heels together—just so—and—"

"Say, hold on!" shouted the old man, as he picked up his satchel and cane and hat and worked himself down into his coat.

"What's the matter?"

"I've found out all I want to know! If Bill got that kind of a collar and was locked up and fined $5 to boot, I'll go home and raise his wages $4 a month and give him every Saturday for a holiday.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from . . . prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Our Trespasses

There is a great deal in the papers nowadays about Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Scarcely a daily paper, or any paper, in fact, but you may read the particulars of some one who has been at death's door and cured.

It seems that at last there is a medicine that has been designed and advertised for a single purpose, and it answers expectation.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys, and every day it becomes more and more certain that all diseases resulting from impure blood are kidney diseases.

The doctors know this to be true. They understand that the blood must be as pure as distilled water.

You can't make water pure with drugs. It is nonsense to say it can. You must filter it. And so must the blood be filtered and that is what the kidneys are for.

A grateful old farmer who had been cured at a hopeless stage of diabetes said: "People ought to buy Dodd's Kidney Pills the same as groceries and never be without them in the house."

The moment any of the symptoms are felt, such as chills, fevers, creeping sensations, backaches, headaches, etc., then you ought to take a few doses of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

They are so much like the stitch in time.

It is wonderful how like a "shoulder to the wheel" they are for tired kidneys.

Except sitting in a draft, over-eating and over-drinking has more to do with poor kidney work than any other cause.

Then Dodd's Kidney Pills affect us like forgiving our trespasses.

What is the cause of sallow, sickly skin, nervousness, depression, lack of ambition, hysteria, sleeplessness, Bright's disease, diabetes, paralysis, female troubles?

The plain, unvarnished truth is, the kidneys are failing or have failed to do blood filtering work. They want the help, the cleansing that only one medicine in the world can give, that is Dodd's Kidney Pills.

GALWAY.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A quiet wedding took place last Thursday, when Miss Sarah Kennettle, of this place, and Mr. Joel Henderson, of the adjoining township of Sommerville, were united in the bonds of matrimony. The happy couple boarded the train at Kinmount in the morning and went to Fenelon Falls, where the Rev. Mr. McKinnon, pastor of the Presbyterian church, performed the ceremony. Mr. J. Kennettle, brother of the bride, acted as groomsman, and Miss G. Appleyard, of Bobcaygeon, officiated for the bride. They moved to the township of Sommerville, where they will reside upon a farm. We join with their many friends in wishing them a happy and a prosperous wedded life.

Mr. W. Haslett, of Fenelon Falls, has travelled over this section of the country in the interests of H. D. McCaffrey, looking for telegraph poles. He reports that the company wants 50,000 poles to be delivered along the sidings of the Grand Trunk. It is to be deplored that owing to the large quantities of poles and cedar ties that have been taken out in the vicinity of Kinmount during the last few years, the timber is rapidly diminishing. It is in reality the best and most profitable crop that the farms in the northern part of the county of Peterborough will ever produce, and it is in the winter months, when the farmers have little else to do, that they can employ themselves in taking out this timber.

Mr. J. T. Gilmour has just completed a large frame stable and open shed for the accommodation of his cattle during the winter months.

Fitzsimmons Has the First Call.

New York Sun: John J. Quinn, the backer of Peter Maher, called at The Police Gazette office yesterday before leaving for Boston, and issued a challenge on behalf of Maher, whom he offers to buck against any man in the world. Fitzsimmons or Joe Goddard preferred, for $5000 to $10,000 a side and the heavyweight championship of the world. It is not very plain how Maher becomes the champion by whipping Steve O'Donnell, for the latter has never been anything but a third-rater. Fitzsimmons whipped Maher, and if anyone is to be champion he has the first call.

A Pair of Baseball Preachers.

Rev. Ogle O. Gates of the Methodist Church at Kingman, Kas., is a great pitcher. He recently accepted an invitation twirl for a nine at Enid, O.T., and possibly it paid him better than a pulpit talk, for he got $25 and expenses. Before the game the preacher-pitcher mustered his nine around him and addressed them after this fashion: "Boys, I believe in athletic sport, but you all know my dislike to profane language, that none of us would introduce in our parlors or home circles. While I have agreed to pitch the game, I also reserve the right to quit at any time a member uses profane and vulgar language. Let us play with this understanding." The Enids won without the use of a cuss word.

A baseball service was held by Rev. Mr. Ford in the town of St. Louis, Central Michigan, last Sunday. The church was decorated with a profusion of all the implements used in playing baseball, and in his sermon the minister compared features of the game with phases of life. He spoke of the pitcher's nerve, and likened him to the Christian soldier; said that the first base was meditation, the second conviction, the third repentance, and the home plate heaven; dilated on the qualities of the batsman, the catcher and the shortstop; but, to the disgust of the cranks in the audience, utterly ignored the umpire and the rooters.

Paralyzed All Through.

New York Herald: "Steve" O'Donnell went up to Corbett's hotel in Jerome-avenue, near High Bridge, Fordham, yesterday afternoon, where he had done part of his training, and was met by several friends, who sympathized with him. He said he had no recollection of going into the ring with Maher at Maspeth on Monday night. His whole body, he said, seemed to be paralyzed.

Captain Barr of the Varsity team met with a most unfortunate accident yesterday afternoon while practising with his men on the lawn, which will incapacitate him from playing the rest of the season, and Ontario's champions will meet the Quebec representatives on Thanksgiving Day minus their great leader.

Like most Rugby mishaps, this one occurred in a simple manner. Barr was brought down in a tackle, and when he arose it was found that his shoulder was dislocated. Three medical men were soon in attendance, and last night the sufferer was doing as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

As Varsity captured the Ontario cup minus Art Campbell, one of their brilliant defence men, by just such an accident, the students hope to surmount the second misfortune and win the Canadian championship.

SORROW TURNED TO JOY.

South American Nervine Proved an Unfailing Helper.

Parents Who Tell How This Great Discovery Brought Help and Happiness to Their Homes.

In the home of James W. McRitchie, of Bothwell, Ont., is a little blue-eyed girl, called Maggie, who was afflicted with nervous fainting spells for a considerable period of time. These left her in terrible weakness. Various remedies and the skill of doctors were employed, but the child continued to fade away. Says the father: "Seeing South American Nervine advertised as particularly efficacious in nervous diseases, I decided on seeing if it would help my daughter. After only a few doses had been taken there were signs of improvement. I continued the use of the medicine, and with the result that the fainting spells have entirely disappeared and the child is to-day as healthy as any little one could be. My confidence in this medicine has been further strengthened, and I cheerfully proclaim its virtues, because it proved a sure cure in the case of indigestion and nervous prostration with which my wife was afflicted.

If proof still closer to home is needed of what nervine will do for the afflicted one needs only to visit Mrs. M. A. Joy, of Toronto Junction, who will cheerfully tell how this medicine cured her little daughter Annie, aged 15 years, of severe nervous trouble. The child was close to death's door and the mother was thoroughly discouraged. South American Nervine proved the key to perfect health and happiness, and her girl does not know to-day what nervous sickness means. "Three bottles," says the mother, "brought her back to her health and strength and vigor."

Thousands of homes throughout the land are blighted because of the sickness that has fallen upon mother and the boys and girls of the fireside, whose place it is to bring brightness and not sadness to the home. The remedy for these troubles is South American Nervine."

KILLED WIFE AND CHILD.

On His Crime Being Discovered He Shot Himself Dead.

Laredo, Texas, Nov. 13.—Last Monday evening a tall, fine-looking man, accompanied by a woman, registered at the Hotel Hamilton as C. Schuler and family. With them was a pretty girl, 8 years old. Yesterday at 5 o'clock the man hired a buggy and took the woman and girl away from the hotel. At 5 o'clock he returned the buggy and ate supper, retiring afterwards.

Last night a shepherd discovered two bodies lying in the bush in Chacon bottom, two and a half miles from Central City. He noticed the trails where the bodies had been dragged through the thorns and the prints of the buggy wheels on the ground. Being afraid to touch the bodies he came in and notified Recorder Pierce of what he had seen. Officers proceeded at once to the place and secured the bodies of the woman and child. They were identified as the persons who had gone riding with Schuler.

At 6 o'clock this morning the proprietor of the hotel knocked at Schuler's room and asked him where his family was. He replied that he had taken them last evening to Aztec, where they had taken the limited train for Mexico.

"I think you are mistaken," said the proprietor. "Your family is not in Mexico."

Schuler shut the door, and drawing a revolver, shot himself through the heart. On his person was found a cigar case containing over $1600 in greenbacks. The cigar case bore the name of Sam Kuenz.

It is believed his brother lives in Fort Worth, and he was at once notified of the tragedy. Schuler stated during his stay here that he had been master mechanic for a railroad. He spent most of his time in saloons and his actions indicated that he was either unbalanced or meditating the murders which he committed.

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros. the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earthquake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won.

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98

SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10.

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

		Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.	SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
	SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	50
	HAT	$2.00	98	$1.02
	Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not a store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

What's Your Experience?

—)o(—

Can you buy your Dry Goods any cheaper in the large and luxurious stores for cash than you can from us with our smaller and less expensive shop, where you can get a little accommodation if you need it?

I frequently ask my customers this question and the answer is invariably No. I have always been in a position to meet the lowest prices in town, no matter where or what; but I have never been in a better position to make close prices than now, and as a consequence some Wonderful Bargains are just to hand.

GENUINE THANKSGIVING AND STOCK-TAKING SALE.

For the next Thirty Days I intend running off my whole stock at about COST price, previous to stock taking, in order to save the expense of unrolling and measuring the goods, which requires expensive additional help. In this way the cost of stock-taking clerks will be taken off the price of goods and my customers will get the benefit.

I will give my customers any of the goods advertised by any of the Friday and Saturday "Bargain Day" stores at the same prices any day of the week. Look as long as you like—let your search take you where it may—but don't spend a cent until you have compared what we have to offer with what is offered elsewhere.

AS TO SUNDAY CARS

The Question Before Judge Rose in Hamilton.

LARGE ATTENDANCE IN THE COURT.

The Legal Fraternity, the Clergy and the General Public Manifest Great Interest—People of Different Religious Denominations Who Oppose Sunday Cars.

Hamilton, Nov. 15.—Before Judge Rose yesterday the celebrated case of the Attorney-General against the Hamilton Street Railway Company for operating its cars on Sunday, came up and at 6 o'clock this evening a large number of witnesses for the prosecution had been heard, although those who testified comprised only a small number of the witnesses subpoenaed, and the case will likely be in progress all day to-morrow.

A great deal of interest was taken in the proceedings, the court room being filled, and the clergy and the legal fraternity well represented.

The company had doubts as to the sentiment of the citizens being favorable to Sunday cars, and not being in existence for philanthropic purposes, agreed to operate the cars as long as they paid, the extent to which they were patronized being an index of the sentiment of the community. The receipts from the Sunday traffic have handsomely reimbursed the company, for the cars have been well patronized, by the church-going public principally, some of the clergymen setting the example to their flock by riding to and from church. Even delegates to the Methodist conference in the city in the summer took advantage of the cars on Sunday, and almost every Sunday afternoon hundreds of the working classes retreated from the stifling city air, to some cool spot on the outskirts of the city.

But a few weeks ago the Lord's Day Alliance, with John Henderson as a figurehead, commenced proceedings to stop the running of Sunday cars, alledging the offence was contrary to the statutes of Ontario.

The evidence taken was to endeavor to show that by Sunday cars property had depreciated in value and church services had been disturbed.

Charles Moss, Q.C., and A. E. O'Meara of Toronto, prosecuted and E. Martin, Q.C., and D'Arcy Martin appeared for the defence.

In his opening remarks Mr. Moss said the charter of the company does not give permission to run on Sunday, and Judge Rose replied that as it does not name any day, if the prosecution could not show it unlawful to run on that day the application will fail. His Lordship thought the matter could be argued on its record without any evidence being taken.

John Parkyn, a Christadelphian alleged that the congregation moved its quarters from Green Bros.' Hall in King-street east, to a hall over the Traders' Bank in King-street west, but when reminded that the new meting place was closer to the tracks than the old one was, he could not give a satisfactory explanation, and it transpired that the rent of the new hall was $3 cheaper than the rent of the old one.

J. A. Moffatt, a member of Knox Church, and a Sunday school teacher, gave evidence as to the noise of the cars passing the church, and he alleged the noise made it difficult to hear in the Sunday school. When Principal Grant preached there in June he could not hear the sermon as distinctly as he might have done had the cars not been running. Comparing the effect of noise in the Sunday school with that in the church he said he frequently had to stop speaking in Sunday school, and the class was often restless, all of which had a bad effect on the school. He admitted being opposed to Sunday cars on general principles and couldn't tell how the noise would effect him if he were not opposed to them. The attendance in the class is kept up and the annoyance in winter is not so great as in summer.. The fact that the stret in front of the church is paved with asphalt, makes the noise from vehicles mbore audible. He is a member of the Lord's Day Alliance and contributed to the expense of the suit. During the church services the cars are now run more slowly.

Thomas Gain, a member of the First Methodist Church, affirmed that the church services are disturbed by the cars. During a certain baptismal service he was unable to hear the name of one of the children. His pew is at the back of the church. The annoyance is not perceptible every Sunday, but occasionally, and the pastor is never forced to stop the service. He is a member of the Lord's Day Alliance and is amazed at the sight of cars on Sunday.

He knew of one member of the congregation who rides on Sunday cars.

John E. Wodell, a Spectator reporter, said he had frequently attended churches along the streets upon which the cars run on Sunday, to report the sermons. The noise affects the hearing to various degrees in different churches. Loud-voiced men are usually heard. The noise made it necessary for the reporter to pay close attention to catch the sermon.

Isaac Coombs, a member of the James-street Baptist Church, whose [illegible] of the time, testified as to the disturbance caused by the noise. He has seen reporters put their hands to their ears tao hear, and another annoyance of the cars is the dust thrown up by the cars. He was brought up in the country, where they keep the Sabbath. He has seen people driving in carriages to church, but has never seen anyone come on the street care.

The congregation still holds together, and is not decreasing, although during the summer many people go to the Beach to spend a quiet Sunday. The asphalt pavement increases the noise from vehicles, and also the dust.

Dr. McMasten, a member of the Wentworth Presbyterian Church, said the noise from the cars did injury to his soul; he goes to church to be fed, and is not fed fully when the cars run. He is convinced that the running of cars on Sunday is wrong. He thought he had been interrupted two or three times by the cars; the clergyman never has to stop owing to the noise, and the congregation of the church is not decreasing.

H. J. Healey, John Skinner, F. A. Green, G. W. Carey, W. H. Nichols, R. White, Rev. W. H. Watson and Rev. J. Young also gave evidence along the same lines.

MINISTERS AT SMITH'S FALLS.

A Great Gathering of Conservatives—Torchlight Procession.

Smith's Falls, Nov. 14.—To-day is one to be remembered by the people of Smith's Falls. Bright and early flags were flying and Conservatives making preparations for the reception of the Ministers. Special trains were run from Kemptville, Merrickville, Perth and different places, and many hundreds of people from the above places flocked her to hear these noted speakers.

The special carrying the Ministers arrived here at 7 p.m., and was met at the station by members of the Smith's Falls Liberal-Conservative Association and presented with an address just as they stepped off the train, which was read by Mayor Steacy.

Mr. Foster made a short and suitable reply, after which a procession was formed, headed by the Citizens' Band, then about 500 torchlights, the Oddfellows' Band; then came the carriages conveying the hon. gentlemen and other visiting members of the Government.

The procession paraded the principal streets and wound up at the opera house, where it was found that hundreds of the friends were unable to gain admission.

The association, thinking tshis would be the case, had the town hall all in readiness, and to their astonishment, when both audiences had got settled, they were full to overflowing.

Among those on the platform might be mentioned Hon. George Foster, Hon. J. G. Haggart, Hon. Dr. Montague, Dr. Ferguson, M.P., George Taylor, M.P., Mr. Spence, Mr. Bush, M.L.A., Col. Matheson, M.L.A., John Tavell, S. M. Barnes and many other prominent Constrvatives.

Dr. Anderson, president tnd made a short speech, after which he introduced Mr. Spence, who, in a half-hour oration, discussed points in the leading questions of the day and was received with great applause.

He was followed by Dr. Ferguson, M.P., for North Leeds and Grenville, and he took a great delight in raking over Hon. Wilfrid Laurier for what he had said at the Merrickville meeting a few weeks ago.

George Taylor, M.P., for South Leeds was very glad to be here and also to see both the Opera House and Town Hall filled to overflowing.

Hon. Mr. Foster was intrduced and for a few minutes it was impossible for him to proceed. He said it seemed to do him so much good to be here and the reception he and his colleagues had received would never be forgotten He was also glad to see so many ladies present. He dealt quite lengthily with the trade question, railways and canals and also the Manitoba school question, and dealt some very severe blows to Mr. Laurier and his party.

Hon. J. G. Haggart was the next speaker. He dealt largely with the Hon. G. W. Ross in refernece to his statements in regard to the indebtedness of the country in 1878 and 1895.

Hon. Dr. Montague was the next speaker and addressed the audience for about an hour and carried the audience with him throughout his speech.

The meeting ended with three cheers for the Ministers. They were then conveyed to the Storey House, where an elaborate repast was awaiting them. They left by special train at 12.30 for Ottawa.

West Wellington Vacancy.

Drayton, Nov. 14.—A Conservative convention was held here to-day and a resolution was passed advising that a Conservative candidate be placed in the field for the vacancy in West Wellington, caused by the unseating of Mr. George Tucker, the Patron member in the Ontario Legislature.

Healy and O'Connor Expelled.

Dublin, Nov. 14.—The Parliamentary Committee of the Irish National party at a meeting to-day, passed a resolution by a vote of 33 to 24, expelling Timothy M. Healey and Arthur O'Connor from that body.

Pigeon Flying

Major-General Cameron of Kingston sent 50 pigeons a few days ago to the secretary of the A.B.D.M.P.A. The birds are a grand lot, and are bred from thoroughly reliable stock. The majority of them are to be distributed amongst the members of the above-named club. The drawing for them will take place next Saturday night at the club room, 140 Front-street west. Amongst the 50 birds are a few that Major Cameron wishes to be returned to their owners in Toronto. The numbers, etc., of them are as follows: D.L., 14, red, W.N., J. L., 55, 93, b.c., E.H., 93, N——, Q.C.C., 319, 94, b.c., wfts., 14, I., 95, b.c. The owners of the above-mentioned pigeons can have same on application to C. P. Kinsey, 41 Baldwin-street.

Deseronto Man Killed.

Belleville, Nov. 14.—Peter Merrill, a respected resident of Deseronto, was run over on the Grand Trunk about a mile west of this city last night. He stepped out of the way of the train and into the way of another. He was brought to the city and died about two hours later. He leaves a widow, two sons and three daughters.

THE HYAMS TRIAL.

Yesterday Was a Bad Day for the Defence.

AYLESWORTH AGAIN ON THE STAND

The Brother-in-Law Proves to Be the Crown's Star Witness and Ably Holds His Own Against Mr. Lount's Searching Questions.

Toronto, Nov. 15.—For four hours and fifty minutes yesterday E. W. H. Aylesworth stood in the witness box telling Mr. Osler what he knew about the alleged murder of his brother-in-law, Willie C. Wells, by the Hyamese twins, and for one hour and forty minutes he braved the severe cross-examination to which he was subjected by Mr. Lount, of counsel for the defence. Mr. Aylesworth will continue as the leading attraction in the great murder trial this morning, and it is altogether likely that the greater portion, if not all, of the morning session will be consumed in concluding his examination.

The prisoners did not appear to have passed a very pleasant night when they were brought into court in the morning; their faces were paler than usual, and bore a pinched, worried expression. As Harry handed his counsel, Mr. Johnston, a couple of pages of notes he had probably made in the solitude of his prison cell, his hand shook perceptibly and there was a very noticeable absence of that cheery smile of recognition with which he is wont to greet his counsel before the commencement of each day's proceedings. It is not unlikely that the sensational developments of the day before had had much to do with the apparent discomfort of the twins; certain it is, at all events, that they were not of a nature calculated to strengthen them in the belief that "the crown's case is weaker than on the occasion of the former trial."

Mr. Aylesworth, as a witness, must be pronounced a success. His story of yesterday was plain, seemingly unadulterated and convincing, and his cross-examination at the hands of the able Mr. Lount was in strange contrast to that of six months' ago, when the same legal gentleman so skilfully tangled him up that his evidence in chief must have been very materially weakened in the minds of the jury. Of course, the defence is not yet through with Mr. Aylesworth, and there is a possibility that he may yet be broken down, but at the close of yesterday's session it was strongly impressed upon the two or three hundred spectators that in the battle of words between the prisoners' former employe and the brilliant barrister for the defence the latter gentleman had come out second best.

It cannot be said that anything particularly new was elicited in the examination of Witness Aylesworth, but his story was of the deepest interest. Commencing with his first meeting with the prisoners and the dead boy, he was carried along bit by bit through all the transpirations of the years which followed; his engagement and that of the deceased as clerks in the establishment of the Hyamses, the peculiar business methods employed at the warehouse and office, the tragic scenes of the fatal day and his observations and investigations at that time, the circumstances surrounding the securing and collection of the heavy insurances, the grasping and eagerness of the accused men with respect to Martha Wells' heirloom, and the hundreds of other circumstances right up to the hour of the investigation, which led to the arrest and prosecution of the diminutive prisoners, were told with a precision and earnestness that left but little room for doubt as to the relater's sincerity.

The identification of an enormous amount of clerical work that had been performed in connection with the Hyamses' alleged commercial agency; the bushels of addressed envelopes, as Mr. Osler termed the huge stack of stationery near the jury box; the telltale bank cheques, which bear silent testimony, to the driftings of large slices of the $30,000 which Martha Wells received as a result of the untimely killing of her young brother, were interesting features of Aylesworth's testimony, while the introduction, as an exhibit, and the identification of the blood-stained chisel, a murderous-looking weapon, caused a little ripple of sensation in the crowded court room. Taking it all in all, the testimony of Mr. Aylesworth was most damaging to the prisoners, and the interest in its continuation this morning will likely be unchecked. Following this witness, the Crown will probably call Mrs. Aylesworth and Miss Mabel Lattimer, the young lady who was employed with Aylesworth and Wells at the Colborne-street warehouse.

Shortly before the noon recess a complaint was made to Sheriff Mowat that the newspaper representatives on duty at the trial were stationed too close to the jury box, and that the conversations among the pressmen might be heard by the 12 good men and true, and tend to affect their verdict. The sheriff therefore notified the newsgatherers to prepare to move, and it is probable that to-day may find them located where they can neither see nor hear, nor be heard. Such an act on the part of the court's officers woud be rather unjust. The acoustics of the dingy little room are not of the best, and in the very favorable space devoted to the use of the press it is even now difficult to hear all that is said at times; and to render their conditions more adverse would be an injustice to the people who depend upon their newspapers for a faithful and exhaustive report of this very important trial.

The implied accusation that the pressmen of this city would for a moment be guilty of an attempt to influence a jury in its duty is too ridiculous for serious consideration.

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. GOOD HEALTH AND PURE WATER SUPPLY.

Peterborough may be fairly well pleased with the purity of her well water supply. If it is not entirely pure it is, judging by medical health reports, the purest in the province. At the annual meeting of the Provincial Board of Health, held in Toronto on Wednesday, reports were presented from the cities and chief towns of Ontario of the causes of typhoid fever which were attributed to either polluted water or bad drainage. Peterborough had a lower record of cases of typhoid and a lower death rate than any town or city of its size in Ontario. At the second day's session specific cases were brought up to show the manner in which foul water contributed to the development of typhoid. The city of Brantford has had a bad outbreak of typhoid fever, lasting from July till October. It was found that the source of the well water supply was villainously bad. One we certain part of the city which contributed several cases of typhoid, was found to contain 21,000 colonies of microbes to the cubic centimeter of its water. But the greatest surprise was a well belonging to a milkman, which contained the enormous number of 400,000 colonies of microbes to the cubic centimeter. Using water of this deadly character to dilute milk is held to be accountable for the spread of typhoid amongst this monster of a milkman's customes. Brantford's case is so bad that all the wells in one ward are to be closed before June next. This is a lesson to towns that have not a thorough system of sewerage to be careful in the use of well water. With wells sunken in the gravelly and porus subsoil that underlies this town, the most favourable conditions of contaminations are presented. The contents of privy pits, which never become full, and household slops thrown at back doors, must penetrate the soil, and when the surrounding gravel will absorb no more, the surplus must naturally find its way to the nearest wells, with what results the experience of Brantford with typhoid fever plainly indicates. The absence of sewerage in most parts of this town is a serious menace to the public health, arising from the certainty that, sooner or later, our wells, which are a large source of water supply for domestic and drinking purposes, will become more polluted than they are at present, and that those which are now pure will in time become foul from the leaking of sewerage into them. The preservation of the public health is of paramount importance and should take precedence of every other consideration. The time is rapidly approaching, especially in the general absence of sewerage facilities, when wells, especially in the more thickly inhabited parts of the town, will be unsafe for use. We all know that the wells that formerly existed on George street became absolutely putrid with pollution, and the same danger exists in other parts of the town, in proportion to the density of population. Under these circumstances it is advisable that an unpolluted source of water supply, such as our water works system affords, should, in the interests of the public health, be as largely employed as possible. In Brantford one of the remedies suggested for a tendency to typhoid caused by foul water of wells, is that the cost of city water be reduced to the smallest point consistent with revenue in order to encourage its use. And Brantford's source of city water supply is not nearly so pure as that of Peterborough, as shown by analysis, as well as by physical conditions. Brantford derives its water supply from the Grand River, not a very large stream, which from its source, in the county of Gray, to Brantford, receives pollution from the town of Galt, with nearly 8,000 inhabitants, Elora, with a population of about 1,500, besides a dozen or so villages on the course of the river, all emptying their sewerage into the stream. On the other hand, Peterborough's water supply comes from a vast network of northern [illegible] almost in their primitive purity, is concerned. From the forest primeval untenanted and, in many cases, untrodden by man, through all the chain of lakes and rapids, with inconsiderable exceptions, there is not sufficient proximity of human habitation to permit of the possibility of even appreciable contamination. The water being thus almost absolutely pure, as regards organic matter, when it enters the Otonabee river, the riotous tumble over nine miles of rapids between here and Lakefield, exercises a powerful aerating and depurating effect upon the water supply of the Peterborough water system. Since pure water is one of the conditions of good health, the more widely its use can be extended so much the better in this respect will the public health become and be.

A subscriber to the Hamilton Times writes from South Edmonton, N.W.T., inclosing three dollars along with the information that "the times up here are pretty hard. I had to sell 24 bushels of potatoes to get $3. Oats are selling at 12½c a bushel; potatoes from 10 to 12½c; wheat 20 to 35c." The Times remarks that farmers are not likely to get rich at those N. P' prices.

THE cowardice of the Government in refusing to appoint Mr. R. S. White to the collectorship, because that appointment would necessitate an election in Cardwell is thus commented upon by the Toronto Week—"It (the Government) has announced that the principle 'to the victors belong the spoils' will be carried out in its most odious form in Canada, that 'the spoils' include the business interests of the whole country, and that these must be subordinated to party interests as long as the party chooses; that it is better that the port of Montreal should have no collector for three seasons rather than the party should run the slightest risk of receiving a check; and—more alarming still to every lover of the British Constitution—that the principle of the independence of Parliament, the very keystone of our liberty, may be trampled on, year after year, without apology, we are inclined to think that the Government has lost more than it is aware of. It must have lost the respect of Mr. White, of his friends, of the commercial men of the country, and of the largest class to whom party is secondary to good Government, and in whose eyes all shuffling—whether in a man or in a Cabinet—is contemptible. It has lost caste and in all probability it has lost Cardwell."

Anyway—The Victim Given Up by Five Doctors, Acknowledges a Cure and Says Dodd's Kidney Pills did the Curing.

Galert, Oct. 12, 1895.

The Dodds Medicine Co.

Gentlemen,—Some time in December, 1893, I was taken sick, and laid up unable to work for fourteen months. I was attended at various times and took medicine from five doctors. Three agreed in calling my disease Floating Kidney, and the other two thought it was some form of spinal disease. I got no help, was still in bed, and all pronounced my disease incurable.

About this time some friend advised me to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. I was run down to a skeleton, and suffering night and day. I had taken about three boxes only when I was able to get out and walk a few steps. I kept on taking the pills and getting better, until now I have taken eighteen boxes, with the result that I am able to work again and perfectly cured of what was considered an incurable kidney disease or spinal trouble.

You are at liberty to use this certificate for the benefit of all who suffer and desire a cure, and believe me to be

Dentists have affirmed it and the public corroborate professional opinion, but do you know, as every tooth loving man or woman ought to know Ivorine for the teeth is best?

Lack of Tact.

The over pressing of an invitation may be as disagreeable as a lack of cordiality. Good taste should teach one not to insist upon a friend's partaking of one's hospitality. The unpleasant fact remains that it is always possible that the hospitality is not desired. Sensitiveness is idiotic, but obtuseness is impudent.

Mr Chamberlain Sees the West Indians.

London, Nov. 14.—Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, received at the Colonial Office to-day a deputation of prominent sugar farmers of the British West Indies, who had called to ask that negotiations be opened with foreign Governments looking to the abolition of sugar bounties. Mr. Chamberlain replied that he would communicate with his colleagues upon the question of opening negotiations. Regarding the application of countervailing duties, he said he did not believe that the House of Commons would favor such a policy.

Refused to Thank Sir Joseph Renals.

London, Nov. 14.—At a meeting of the London City Corporation to-day, that body for the first time in its history refused by a considerable majority to pass the usual vote of thanks to the outgoing Lord Mayor. The question was debated with much heat, several speakers declaring that Sir Joseph Renals, the retiring Lord Mayor, had been a discredit to the position.

The Fools not all Dead yet.

Even a blind man can see that more clearly than daylight, or else why should so many continue to use ill smelling, oily, and often useless preparations for the relief of pain, when a preparation just as cheap, elegant, more powerful, and penetrating as Nerviline is can be purchased from any dealers in medicine? Nerviline cures instantly aches and pains. Nerviline is the most efficacious remedy for internal pains, Nerviline applied externally subdues the most intense pain almost at once.

A MOB WITH CLUBS

Met Policemen Who Were Sent to Collect Taxes.

EVIDENTLY A BIG JOB ON HAND.

Farmers of Lowe Township Refuse to Pay and the Bailiffs Find Nothing to Seize—Threats of Bloodshed—Penny Postage—News From Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The Quebec Provincial Police who have gone into Ottawt County to enforce payment of taxes by the farmers of Lowe Township, have evidently a good sized contract on hand. A special from Lowe says the police and bailiffs visited six houses of delinquent ratepayers this forenoon and found nothing to seize, evidently everything having been removed before they arrived. A mob of 40 persons gathered and followed the officers from place to place, and finally, when the officers attempted to enter a house owned by Stephen Driscoll, the mob, all of whom were armed with clubs, offered resistance and prevented the officers going on the property, claiming that it was not Driscoll's property. The officers sought to ascertain where Stephen Driscoll lived, but the mob refused to give any information ,and thus the officers were handicapped in performing their duty. The mob is still together, and its numbers are increasing. They have made many threats of violence and state that blood will be shed if the officers persist in making seizeures.

Mr. William Wainwright, assistant general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, and Mr. Thomas Tait, assistant to the general manager of the C.P.R., had an interview with Hon. Mr. Ives to-day with reference to the duty on coal. The companies represent that in purchasing suplies of bituminous coal in the States they have to take the coal, as the mining companies express it, from the "Run of the mine," or, in other words, all grades of coal, whether it be in large places or small, or even slack. When the coal reaches Canada, before it is used, it has to be screened, and what the companies now claim is that, inasmuch as the duty on screenings is considerably les than on coal, being 20 per cent, as against 60 cents per ton, the Government ought to fix a fair average allowance in every 100 tons of coal which coud be rated for duty as screenings. Hr. Ives said he would lay the matter before his colleagues.

Dr. Dawson, Director of the Geological Survey, was asked to what he attributed the unusual lowness of the water in the rivers generally this fall. In reply he stated he could not give any other explanation for it than deficiency of rain fall and evaporation during dry periods. For the last three years at least he rain fall had been unusually light, and this all went in the direction of reducing the volume of water in the streams to an unusually low level.

Speaking of the low water in the St. Lawrence, Dr. Dawson said that the St. Lawrence rose and fell according to the volume of water in the great lakes. The great lakes had cycles of low water. Some years ago Dr. Dawson made a computation of the rise and fall of waters in Lake Erie, and from these observations he discovered that the water from the year 1798 reached an unusual low level about every ten years.

Sir Adolphe Caron has replied to Gen. Laurie, M.P., in reference to Canada's position in the matter of Imperial penny postage, and supplied that gentleman with al lthe figures and data that he requires. The Postmaster-General says that Canada cannot join an Imperial league that will give a penny inwards and outwards postage to the Australian colonies unless the British Government is prepared to lose on penny-half-penny on each letter, and thus Canada would be just where she is now as regards postal receipts and shipping mail contracts.

Commander Spain of the fisheries protective service, has returned to the city nearly all the vessels having gone out of commission for this year. Capt. Spain reports having had a very busy summer, as there were a good many Yankee vessels off our coasts which, if they had not been closely watched, would have quickly invaded the three-mile limit.

The General Mica Association of Canada met here to-day, Capt. Robert C. Adams of British Columbia presiding. Amongst those present were Messrs. Baumgarten, the Mica King of Canada; E. D. Ingall of the Geological Survey, and many others. The purport of the meeting was to strengthen the hands of mica men in Canada, the market being greatly depressed at present, owing to competition from India.

"Prepare or the worst, but hope for the best," says the old proverb. Hope for health, but be prepared for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, or any other throat or lung difficulty by having Ayer's Cherry Pectoral always at hand. It is prompt to act, sure to cure.

BOONE BAY TO BELLE ISLE.

A Telegraph Line Between These Two Points to Be Built—General News From Montreal.

Montreal, Nov. 14.—Your correspondent learns that the Dominion Government is in negotiation with a prominent contractor here to build a telegraph line from Boone Bay, Newfoundland, to the Straits of Belle Isle, a distance of over 200 miles. The necessity of the line arises from the fact that at the present time a ship coming through the straits cannot be reported until she reaches Fame Point. The need of such a line has also been keenly felt the past season, when several wrecks have taken place in the Straits of Belle Isle, and no news could be obtained from the scene of the disasters for some time. The cost of constructing the line in question would not be large, and it is quite likely that the scheme will be carried out during next season.

Joseph Marchand, agent, has been authorized by Judge Archibald to proceed in forma pauperis against the Archiepiscopal Roman Catholic corporation of Montreal to compel it to render an account of its administration under the will of the late Francois Boucher, in his lifetime of Maskinonge, great-grandfather of the plaintiff. Patrick Lacombe, notary, who had been named as the executor, appointed in his place Rev. Francis Morrison, cure of St. Cyprien, who is also dead. The corporation having been appointed legatee, the plaintiff wants it to render an account, though some of the heirs declined to ask it to do so.

A man named Brault, aged 35, met with a violent death shortly after noon to-day. The Dominion Bridge Company have a gang of workmen on the new Notre Dame-street bridge at Dalhousie Square, and it was here that the fatality occurred. Brault was warned of his danger, but he attempted to jump from one cross beam to another and fell upon a bed of stones, 35 feet below. Death was almost instantaneous.

A COUSIN OF LORD WOLSELEY

Who Helped to Spend a Lot of Good English Money in Mines.

Chicago, Nov. 14.—A special from Ontonagon, Mich., says: Edward T. Wolseley of London, England, the son of an English nobleman and cousin of Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the English army, is here for the purpose of transferring the old belt mining property to Cleveland parties, who propose to reopen it. This property includes the Bohemian, International and Great Western Mining Companies, and their holdings have all indications of being rich in copper. A few years ago the English syndicate which Wolseley represents put up $750,000 to develop the mines. The funds were all spent without accomplishing the object. Stamp mills were built, expensive machinery ordered and shafts sunk where there was no chance of success. The Belt mine as reorganized will be known as the Diana Mining Company, with a capital of $1,250,000 dividend into non-assessable shares of $10 each.

OTTAWA C. P. R STATION BURNED.

It Was a Frame Structure and Was Speedily Reduced to Ashes—Other Fires Yesterday.

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—The Canadian Pacific Railway depot was totally destroyed by fire about 6 a.m. to-day. The conflagration broke out in the refreshment room and owing to the inflamable nature of the building made rapid progress. Despite the strenuous efforts of the fire brigade the building was completely gutted.

Great inconvenience was experienced for some time in the telegraphic service as all the lines of the company to the city office passed through the station, but by 10 o'clock telegraphic service had been restored. The total loss is estimated at $12,000. It is said the fire was caused by an electric light wire.

Elkhorn Indian School Burned

Ottawa, Nov. 14.—Hon. Mr. Daly was notified to-day of the destruction by fire of the Indian Industrial School at Elkhorn. All the buildings with the exception of the boys' quarters, were burnt. The pupils will be accommodated at St. Paul and Regina schools as far as possible.

Dwelling Burned at Thoreld

Thoreld, Nov. 14.—The dwelling of Mr. William Boyle, Ormond-street, was destroyed by fire this morning. The family had a narrow escape with their lives. Loss $2500. Insured in the Phoenix for $1300.

Mill and Evaporator Destroyed.

Amellasburg, Nov. 14.—Roblin's saw mill and evaporator were burned here early this morning, and were a total loss. Insured in Queen's and Perth Mutual, which will partly cover loss.

RETURN OF THE HUNTERS.

The LeBrun-Strickland-Hatton Party Have Great Luck and Capture Thirteen Deer.

All hail the return of the bold hunter boys,
With forest-stained garb and health's bronze on their brows,
With decided increase of their avoirdupois—
All due to their guns and their keen-nosed bow-wows.

The members of the LeBrun-Strickland-Hatton hunting party returned this morning from Stony Lake, more than delighted with their outing. Each member of the camp is positive that so jolly a party never was organized before. Messrs. Harry LeBrun and Geo. Hatton are to be credited with selecting the members of the party, and that they chose wisely goes without saying when it is mentioned that the following hunters were selected, viz: Harry LeBrun, Geo. Hatton, Roland Strickland, Harry Phelan, R. Ruddy, Harry Winch, R. H. Morrow, J. D. Collins, Arthur Strickland, George Cochrane, W. H. Bradburn, William Gould and Percy Strickland.

The entire party were domiciled for the two weeks of the deer season in Mr. Strickland's commodious summer cottage on a Stony Lake island, and the evenings were enjoyed almost as much as the shooting during the day.

Thirteen of the finest deer which ever came to Peterborough were captured—one for each of the party. The honour of capturing the finest of the lot falls to Mr. Geo. Hatton, who brought down a buck weighing 218 pounds and having a magnificent set of antlers. A buck was also brought down by Mr. Geo. Cochrane which had a most symmetrical set of horns coming gracefully around until within about two inches of each other at the tips.

Messrs. Harry Phelan, W. H. Bradburn and R. Ruddy had never secured a deer before, but each of them were successful in getting a fine buck this year.

Of the thirteen deer shot, eleven were secured in the water, but fully a score run by the dogs belonging to the party were shot on the runways by outsiders, who posted themselves around the shores as soon as they heard that the LeBrun-Strickland-Hatton party were well provided with dogs.

The hounds were all that could be desired, one owned by Mr. Harry Winch being especially keen, on one occasion running a deer for over three hours.

During the sojourn at Stony lake Mr. Harry Strickland joined the party and secured a large number of ducks.

That the appetites of the hunters was something enormous is testified to by Mr. Tommy Hooper, the capable and efficient caterer, who was taken along. Tommy states that one day he prepared six partridges, four ducks, two rabbits, and a haunch of venison for dinner, and there wasn't a scrap left.

A funny little incident occurred when the Bennett-Fitzgerald party steamed up to Mr. Strickland's island for a visit to the campers. They were casting off their ropes when leaving for home in their steam yacht, when Harry Phelan, Harry LeBrun, and a couple of other heavyweights, seized hold of one of the lines, and though the yacht did its level best, they drew it back to the shore again.

All the members of the party gained greatly in flesh since the departure from town and look healthy and bronzed after their most enjoyable outing.

OBITUARY.

The Late Mrs. John Walton.

Last night, at 12 o'clock, Mrs. John Walton passed away at the family residence, 289 Hunter street, at the advanced age of 86 years. For the past three years Mrs. Walton has been in failing health, but this affliction was very greatly lightened by the devotion of Miss Walton, whose assiduous attention to her mother, especially since the death of Mr. Walton, four years ago, has been of the most exemplary character. The immediate cause of death was the infirmities of old age. Mrs. Walton was a native of Galashiels, Scotland, and in 1826 came to Canada with the family of her father, the late Wm. Hall, who settled in Smith township, where the deceased was united in marriage to John Walton, Esq., in 1831. To this union there were born eight children, of whom three are living—Mr. Jos. H. Walton and Mr. Wm. Walton, of Smith, and Miss Walton, town. About eighteen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Walton removed from Smith to town, where they have since resided. Mrs. Walton was a member of the Baptist church, whose interests, in her days of health, she was very active in promoting, and in the sphere of social life her many estimable qualities as friend and neighbour won her the highest respect and esteem. The funeral takes place from the family residence, 289 Hunter street, to Little Lake Cemetery to-morrow (Saturday), at 2 o'clock.

Resolution of Condolence.

Last evening the members of City Lodge, No. 404, I. O. G. T., having learned with deep sorrow of the death of fathers of Sister Emmerson and Brenton, tendered the following resolution:—Moved by Bro. Might, seconded by Bro. G. W. Powell, "That we, the members of City Lodge, No. 404, I. O. G. T., having learned with deep sorrow of the recent sad bereavements of our Sisters, M. Emmerson and F. Brenton, in the deaths of their fathers, desire to express our sympathy with them, and our belief that One, who has ever been a kind and loving God, will heal the wounds laid open by the cruel thrusts of the hand of death, with the thought that God has taken them to Himself, to a home where all sufferings have ceased, and that He will impart strength to our sorrowing sisters to bear these afflictions which are but for a moment and work out for them a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory."

Friendship, Love and Truth are Three Great Motives in Life and Will Raise the World's Moral Standard.

The spacious hall of the Peterborough Oddfellows was filled last evening with members of the Order anxious to hear Rev. J. J. Rae deliver an address on "Why I am an Oddfellow." The popular divine had been invited by the members of Peterborough Lodge to speak on the subject and a large number of visiting brethren were in attendance from Otonabee Lodge, as well as from outside places, and the address, interspersed with a number of amusing anecdotes, was greatly enjoyed.

THE SPEAKER OPENED

by stating that man was never better than his own idea of what life ought to be. If this idea was low, the man was low. If this idea was high, the man became noble. We need something to enable us to raise our ideas of life. Something that will call into activity all our powers—physical, mental and moral, and thus secure the highest possible usefulness. Any organization that can show man the needs of his fellowmen and obligate him to live with the great idea of benefitting others was a blessing, and this the I.O.O.F. was organized to do.

Men are great, he said, in proportion to what they see in life for themselves and for others. No man can be great who lives for self alone, and no man could be great who underestimated himself and who failed to see that was to qualify himself to benefit others. We cannot give what we do not possess. We cannot help without power to help with, and any organization that will present the needs of life and bind man to live to meet those needs of necessity urges man to the highest possible attainment, and this the I.O.O.F. stands organized to do. The common world standards are not helpful. The man who lives for wealth alone loses the great end of life—neglects the claim of brotherhood because he neglects himself.

The speaker, in continuing, stated that the man who lived for also missed the true end of life. This was a transient thing unworthy of the devotion of a life, and yet the man who does not care for the world's good opinion may ultimately become a criminal.

The man who lives for pleasure alone misses the true end of life. This is not worthy the devotion of manhood.

Man must live to be a man, their wealth honour and pleasure become the implements through which his energy shows itself, the avenues through which his manhood walks to benefit others. Man can never be true amid the world's standard of the present, unless he bind himself to live to help others, and this the I.O.O.F. binds men to do.

The ideas that sway the life of an Oddfellow are those which have in them all

THE HIGHEST POSSIBILITIES.

Friendship, how the world needs it today. Not the necessity to be dependent, but the qualification to be a friend.

Brotherly Love—amid the cold sacrifice which man makes of his fellow man in order to attain personal ends, how necessary that some organization stand forth to declare that men are brothers—brothers in love.

Truth, the shortest road to life's highest attainment in word and deed and being. Earth is waiting still for the men who shall lead their lives with Truth.

In conclusion the brethren of the Order were urged to adhere to the principles of the Order, and manifest them in their lives. For ever before them in the highest fields at life's upward climbing—yes, in the highest field of life's richest conquest, in Heaven itself, the emulations to manhood should be the emulations to Friendship, Love and Truth.

THE KING'S DAUGHTERS.

A Very Successful "At Home" was Held Tuesday Afternoon.

The King's Daughters of St John's church, held a very pleasant "At Home" on Tuesday afternoon at the rectory, when the ladies of the congregation were received.

The rooms were prettily decorated in purple and white, the colours of the organization, and a most enjoyable afternoon was spent.

Incidentally quite a large augmentation to the funds of the society was received through a somewhat novel method. Each lady who received an invitation received at the same time a small silken bag in which she was requested to place a cent for every year which she had lived. The idea was something entirely new in Peterborough, and that it was a success was proven by the neat sum realised.

The members of the King's Daughters desire to thank Mr. A. Clegg for furniture kindly loaned for the occasion, and Messrs. Jordan Bros., florists, for their kindly donation of flowers.

THE TAILORS' UNION.

An Address by the General Secretary of the Organization.

Mr. John B. Lennon, General Secretary of the International Tailors' Union of America, who is travelling through Canada, last evening paid a visit to Local Union No. 47, and addressed them on the benefits of organization and trade questions in general.

He reports trade all over the United States and Canada to be in a very healthy and prosperous condition, the demand for tailors being greater than it has been in the last seven years.

In every town which the secretary has visited he has been asked by the employers to endeavour to secure more men for them.

The visit of Mr. Lennon was occasioned through the fact that the head offices of the Tailors' Union are being removed from New York to Bloomington, Ill., and he desired to become more fully acquainted with the different unions before the move. The change is made on account of the political pressure which is being brought to bear in New York on all organizations of this nature. This influence is felt to be undesirable, hence the change.

THE LATE MRS. CHARLES JENKINS, OF PETROLIA.

An Interesting Sketch of her Life and Tribute to Her Worth.

The following reference to the late Mrs. Charles Jenkins, of Petrolia, a lady well known in Peterborough, is taken from the last number of the Canadian Churchman:

"Our numerous readers will read with the deepest sorrow, the death of the beloved wife of Mr. Charles Jenkins, one of the most esteemed and influential citizens of that town, whose name in connection with the unification of the Church of England in this country is known from one end of Canada to the other. The sad event took place at Buffalo, N.Y., at six o'clock on Thursday morning, the 7th ult. The deceased lady was the eldest daughter of the late Stafford B. Kirkpatrick, Esq., of Peterborough, Ont., who was for many years judge of the counties of Frontenac, Lennox and Addington, before the division of those counties. Her mother was Henrietta Fisher, daughter of Judge Fisher, who was an U. E. Loyalist and one of the first judges appointed in Upper Canada. Her uncle, the late Thomas Kirkpatrick, Esq., Q.C., was for many years member of parliament for the county of Frontenac, and his son, the Hon. Geo. A. Kirkpatrick, is now Lieut.-Governor of Ontario. The deceased lady was well known, and much respected by all the people of Petrolia, and a large circle of friends in other places, and she will be sadly missed, not only by her own family, but by all who knew her. Her unfailing kindness, and calm, dignified manner endeared her to all she came in contact with, while her influence for good was felt in many directions, how many will never be known, for there was no ostentation in her goodness. She was a consistent member of the Church, and took a deep interest in everything pertaining to it, aiding in every way possible the congregation, and the various societies connected with it. By her death Christ Church is deprived of one of its most useful and beloved members, whose absence will long be felt, and cause a feeling of sadness to those engaged in the work of the Church. Deep sympathy is universally felt for Mr. Jenkins and the family in the affliction that has so suddenly visited them, and they are not alone in their sorrow, for it is felt by many, though not expressed in words, for mere language falls in such cases. As a true Christian the dead lady lived, as a Christian she died, and as a Christian, in the widest and fullest sense of the word, will her reward surely be, now her spirit has returned to its Maker, and the dark bourne of death, that deep gulf between humanity and immortality, separates her from all whom she loved and who loved her on earth. The funeral took place on Monday afternoon in Christ church, where she had long been so familiar, in the presence of a large number, who assembled to show this last sorrowful token of respect to the silent dead. The chancel and the family pew were heavily draped with sombre crepe cloth, and the lowering clouds seemed to reflect the sorrow that was shared by so many in that darkened church. The beautiful and impressive funeral service of the Church was read by Revs. Wm. Craig and E. L. Hutchinson, while Messrs. C. McKenzie, Geo. Moncrief, Robt. Morris, Dr. Mcalpine, Dr. Dunfield and Dr. C. Fairbank acted as pallbearers. The coffin was of plain dark wood, and bore upon it three white wreaths of roses and lilies. Beautiful and appropriate music was rendered by the choir. After the "Nunc Dimittis" was sung, the mournful procession headed by the coffin, left the church, while the plaintive strains of the "Dead March" from "Saul" echoed through the building, and the funeral proceeded to the Hillsdale Cemetery, where the last sad rites were concluded at the graveside. Amongst the friends from a distance who attended the funeral were: Hon. Geo. A. Kirkpatrick, Lieut.-Governor of Ontario; Rev. J. Downey, of Watford; R. Max Dennistoun, of Peterborough; Chas. MacKenzie, ex-M.P.P.; Frank Smith, A. C. Clarke and H. M. Poussette, of Sarnia; F. A. Fitzgerald and J. R. Minhinnick, of London; F. Ward, of Wyoming, and others. When the sad news of Mrs. Jenkins' death was telegraphed to Principal Dymond at the Huron Diocese Anglican Lay Workers' Convention which was in session at Windsor, that gentleman conveyed the information to the delegates and a reply was immediately dispatched to Mr. Jenkins, expressive of the deep sympathy of the members.

The Stage of Convalescence.

Is at once interesting and critical. The patient, carefully guarded at this period and provided with the means essential to health, may be enabled once more to enjoy the inestimable blessing of health. On the other hand, neglect of even minor needs, at this period, is likely to impose upon him the life-long penalty of ill-health, resulting in a wasted life. The assimilative processes are, at the time, sure to be impaired, and nerve tone overtaxed in its resistance to the assaults of disease; will both sadly need impetus which Maltine with Coca Wine alone can give.

By the action of Maltine with Coca Wine upon the digestive processes, which it rapidly strengthens, and its permanent and striking influence upon the nervous system, to which it gives vigor and tone, the restorative power of the body is immensely increased, and strength and vigor come to the invalid so quietly as to seem almost impossible. Experience, however, has demonstrated its efficiency in convalescence, as well as in the various forms of which debility, arising from faulty nutrition, manifests itself. Sold by all druggists.

THE WONDERFUL CELESTIAL EMPIRE

REV. R. TATE KITTS SPEAKS ON THE SUBJECT.

He Predicts, With Napoleon, that When China Does Move the Whole World Will Move With It.

A very large audience assembled in St. Andrew's church Sunday School hall last evening and listened with the deepest attention to a wonderfully interesting lecture on China, delivered by Rev. R. Tate Kitts, a recently-returned missionary from the Eastern Empire.

The speaker was arrayed in the garb of a celestial and with a long plaited braid of hair hanging down his back, looked a typical Chinaman.

The subject, he explained, was so gigantic that he hardly knew of what to speak concerning an Empire of such stupendous size and of origin so ancient. In order to

IMPRESS HIS AUDIENCE

with the vastness of the Chinese Empire the speaker stated that if every man, woman and child in the world were marshalled into line, every third person would be a Chinaman. One wonderful thing about China was that the further we inquired back into its history, the more perfect was its civilization, culture and education, discovered to have been. Rome and all the great powers had come and gone, and yet the great Chinese Empire, whose people were looked down upon and despised by all nations, had grown and prospered. If there was any truth or strength in the theory of the survival of the fittest, then it must be acknowledged that the Celestial Empire had outlived all its contemporaries because it was fit to do so. No nation on earth could compare with it in age. A coin of the date of Abraham had been picked up in China by the speaker, which was proof conclusive that even in that remote age the Chinese were to recognize the advantage of having a recognized system of coinage.

The Chinese, who came to this continent, Mr. Kitts stated, were not fair representatives of their class. Those who emigrated were chiefly from Canton, where the climate was such as to promote effeminacy and stunt the stature of the residents. These were nothing like the robust inhabitants of the western portion of the Empire, who were a fine race of men.

China was not like other countries, dependent upon outsiders for its needs. On the contrary, all the necessaries and luxuries of life as well were procurable within the boundaries of the Empire.

The Englishman who could trace his ancestry to William the Conquerer was a proud man. This era was a mere yesterday to the Chinaman, whose forefathers were clad in the of home production when the English were naked savages, uncivilized and barbarious.

As agriculturists the Chinese were unsurpassed. In the United States, the newest country in the world, complaints could be heard already that the soil was worn out and would not yield crops and yet within the memory of man all this was virgin soil. The Chinese were tilling their land when David was watching his sheep on the Hills of Bethany. They were still getting two crops a year off their farms. This showed they were superior farmers, as no land in the world would stand this strain unless most carefully strengthened and renewed. The way in which the land had been preserved, therefore, argued that the Chinese were advanced agriculturists indeed.

Through the lack of practice and neglect of the inventive faculty the Celestials had entirely lost the art of invention and in this respect when compared with other nations. This was due to their being so completely shut off from the rest of the world, as to be unaware of the advances which were being made all around them. Thinking their own creations of former years could not be improved upon they had, as stated, lost the art of invention, but instead of it had acquired the knack of imitation to a marvellous degree. They had no difficulty in copying anything whatsoever down to the very minutest detail, whether they knew for what purpose it was designed or not. If an agent had an invention to sell the Chinese he assuredly set his sale if he exhibited it, as in the latter case it would of a surety be copied.

WERE GREATLY HANDICAPPED

In education, the speaker stated, the Chinese ranked high, as the lowliest were able in almost every instance to speak and write at least four languages, and when teaching them English he was astonished to find that when he

it to them and when they could not take down what he said in Chinese, they did it in Arabic. And these were the men who from one year's end to the other lived on a diet of bird seed porridge with the husks ground in. Their memory was something wonderful. He had scholars only fourteen years of age who could repeat the New Testament, word for word from the beginning to the end without an error of any account. Once the great wall of reserve between China and the rest of the world was thrown down a wonderful evolution would take place. China had lived entirely within itself up to a short time ago, but her subjects were now roaming the world and gathering information which they imparted to their fellowmen when they returned to the place of nativity. Education was thus being slowly imparted and China was fast becoming enlightened. He thought, with Napoleon that it would take a good deal to [illegible] but when she did move the [illegible] would have to move with her.

The inhabitants of the Celestial Empire were far advanced beyond any other nation in one particular, viz.: Every office in the gift of the Government was awarded by competition; birth, station or influence had nothing to do with it, and accordingly the affairs of state were in the hands of the cleverest men.

Mr. Kitts concluded his instructive lecture by predicting a great and grand future for China, when the Chinese were once awakened to the possibilities which were in store for them. At the close a large number remained to examine the many interesting curios which the missionary had picked up during his sojourn amongst the Celestials.

THE LOCK COMPANY QUESTION.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Peterborough Lock Manufacturing Company held about the end of last month a committee was appointed to consider the different propositions that had been presented to the company in reference to their proposed removal from their present premises. From the following letter, that has been forwarded to the managing director of the Lock Company by the local manager of the Bank of Montreal, it will be seen that the committee has taken no action to communicate with the Bank in reference to the proposition submitted to the directors at the meeting referred to above, as indicated in express terms in the following letter:

BANK OF MONTREAL,
Peterborough, Nov. 15, '95.

Thos. Brooks, Esq., Managing Director Peterborough Lock Mfg. Co., Peterborough:

DEAR SIR,—Referring to the rental of your company's buildings held by this bank as mortgagees in possession, I have not yet been approached by the committee appointed by your Board last Monday, to report on this and other matters in connection with the proposed removal from your present premises to Auburn. I therefore now beg to offer you a ten years' lease of your Simcoe street property at a yearly rental of $750 and taxes. I am also authorized by Mr. William Snowden to state that his premises now occupied by you may be obtained at a rental of $150 per annum for the same period. As you will hereby be enabled to effect a saving of $120 per year in the matter of rent alone, I trust that an early and favourable reply may be forthcoming.

I remain,
Your obedient servant,
F. W. TAYLOR,
pro. Manager.

From this it will be observed that the company have an opportunity presented of effecting a distinct saving of $420 per year, which it is possible may be supplemented by cheaper power.

The company is now confronted with the question of whether it is more profitable, to accept the offer of the Bank, or to erect a building costing from $10,000 to $15,000, not considering the interest of the capital locked up in such a building, together with the amount that should be written off annually, nor the large expense of removal and the incidental loss of business. Besides the town will sustain the loss of about $300 annually by the exemption of the Auburn Woollen Mills Company's buildings and the new Lock Works buildings over and above the amount that would be remitted by exemption in the present location.

On the other hand, the object the town wishes to attain by exempting the Lock Company and the Auburn Company is to procure the investment of sufficient capital in new buildings by the shareholders, to guarantee, so far as possible, the permanent location of the company in Peterborough. And those who favour this latter arrangement do so from the idea that this will be an inducement for the company to become a fixture in Peterborough.

CARDS OF THANKS.

To H. J. Smith, Superintendent London Life Insurance Company, 336 Water St.:

Please convey to your company my sincere thanks for the very prompt payment of $120, amount of claim caused by the death of my husband, John Fausett, on the 11th of this month.

ANN FAUSETT.

RUSH POINT.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Threshing was finished in this locality last week, and the farmers are now busy with the fall ploughing.

There has been a great deal of improvement made in this vicinity by the erection of new buildings. Mr. Daniel Young has replaced his house, which was burned last winter, by a comfortable rough-cast dwelling.

Mr. John Seeney has a fine new house in course of erection, and Mr. David Breckenridge has also a residence nearly completed.

Mr. John Balfour has also made improvements in his house.

Messrs. Williams & Hart have moved their saw mill from its former site on Ballyporeen Creek to the edge of Round Lake. They are again busy sawing logs.

Mr. Taylor, whose saw mill was destroyed by fire last September, will start his new one in a few days.

Mr. W. Cochrane, who has spent his summer in the Northwest prospecting, returned home a few days ago. Also Mr. Pethenck has returned and appears to be well pleased with the land of the setting sun.

Mr. Milton Brown, of Rockdale, canvassed this section for the Peterborough EXAMINER last week and reports great success through Belmont.

R. D. Breckenridge, our efficient and popular teacher, intends to resume his studies at the High School in Norwood after holidays.

A party of hunters, among whom was our genial cheesemaker, Mr. Pollock, left here for Methuen on Monday. They reported having killed two deer the next day. Success to the boys.

Was Queen Elizabeth ever in love.

We don't know, but we do know—which is more to the purpose—that the purest salt in the world for table use is the celebrated Windsor Salt. Ask your grocer for it.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

HOT WATER BAGS are something more than a winter luxury—they are a household necessity. In many cases it will take the place of the family doctor, and in other emergencies it will help to check inflammation and keep the patient in a comfortable state until the doctor comes. A three-quart India Rubber hot-water bag filled with hot water and encased in flannel and applied to the proper place will relieve neuralgia, indigestion, sick headache, stomach ache, toothache, rheumatic pains and a hundred other ills that flesh is heir to.

I sell hot water bags with nickel-plated screw tops that will not leak and bottom tabs with eyelets. See them in the window.

A REMARKABLE CASE.

Rheumatism of 20 years' standing radically cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

Mrs. Sarah Browning, an estimable resident of the Ambitious City, was for twenty years a sufferer from acute rheumatism, and her restoration to health is so remarkable that we present the case for the benefit of our readers, many of whom are doubtless sufferers from this painful complaint which arises from blood poison. Mrs. Browning says: "I used only one bottle of Scott's Sarsaparilla and received such benefit that I continued taking only at intervals for two months. That is seven months ago, and the pain has not returned. I had spent a fortune in various "treatments" and was told by one medical man that a cure was impossible as I had suffered so long."

Scott's Sarsaparilla cures by making and keeping the blood pure. It increases flesh by digesting flesh-forming foods. It is the most successful medicine in the world to-day, for dyspepsia, nervous troubles, rheumatism, sciatica, syphilitic afflictions, pimples and all diseases originating in a foul condition of the blood. Dose from one half to one teaspoonful.

Sold by J. D. Tully, Peterborough.

OLD AGE AND YOUTH.

A Kindred Influence Affects Each —Sergeant Willison M. Copp and Mrs. John Dinwoodie.

The Former Under 30 and the Latter Nearly 80 Years of Age— Both Cured of Extreme Nervous Prostration by South American Nervine.

Down by the sea, in the thriving town of Newcastle, N. B., resides Sergeant Willison M. Copp, a creditable representative of the militia of the Maritime Provinces. He is a young man under 30 years of age. This fact, however, did not prevent him a short time since suffering from nervous prostration. It took a grip of him, that looked as though his days were numbered. Quoting his own words: "Friends and relations despaired of my life." He was influenced, after every other effort had failed, to try South American Nervine, and it effected a complete cure. No wonder he says:—"This remedy is the best on earth."

Mrs. John Dinwoodie, of Flesherton, Ont., is a lady who has reached well nigh to fourscore years of age. She has been a resident of Flesherton for forty years. Everybody knows her, and knows that her word is as good as her bond. Three years ago, through the loss of a beloved daughter she became prostrated with nervous trouble. No medicine, or doctor's skill did her any good. Sorrow and age appeared to combine to number her days. But it was not to be so. South American Nervine came to her relief. She took twelve bottles of the medicine, with the result that today she is in the enjoyment of the best of health and her shattered nerves have again become healthy and strong. The secret of South American Nervine is that it immediately works on the nerve centres through which comes all disease, and this being the case it matters not whether one is young or old, this medicine is certain to effect a cure. Sold by H. S. Macdonald.

HIGHWAYMEN IN KINGSTON

A Gentleman Kicked and Beaten to Insensibility and Robbed.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 13.—Last evening W. S. Shuttlebotham was slugged and robbed while on his way home. When a short distance from his house two men attacked him and knocked him into unconsciousness. His pockets were emptied and $47 taken. His watch and watch chain were smashed. Joseph Edwards, one of the alleged assailants, has been arrested.

Cottage Burned at the Falls

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 13.—A cottage occupied by William Hillesheinn and owned by E. V. Orme of Toronto, was burned this morning, caused by some clothing being near the stove in the kitchen and igniting. Loss $1000, partly covered by insurance. Mrs. Hillesheinn and her sick child escaped from the flames.

Black Rock Toughs Arrested.

Fort Erie, Ont., Nov. 8.—About two months ago Customs Officer Charles Young of this place, was robbed of $19 by two ruffians. Shep. Smith and another Black Rock tough have jusе been arrested for the robbery and fully identified by Mr. Young. They are locked up in Buffalo awaiting trial.

Cook and Fireman Lost.

Fort Monroe, Va., Nov. 8.—The tug Katie of Norfolk was run into and sunk in Hampton Roads by the Norfolk and Washington steamer Newport News about 7.30 this evening. The cook and fireman were lost.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people youthful. Dr. Pierces Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists sell the "Discovery."

A LIFE VOW.

A Woman's Continual Thanksgiving and How It Was Brought About.

Thanksgiving Eve! and the darkling night
Was all star-sewn to splendor,
And the moon hung low,
A golden bow,
And the air was crisp and tender.

But a woman who sat where the firelight clear,
Everywhere rich and rosy,
Did dance and flit,
Ere the lamps were lit,
In the parlor quaint and cosy—

Harbored no happy, grateful heart
Because of the glad to-morrow,
But only thought
Of the work it brought,
With a feeling akin to sorrow.

Yet since she came to that home a bride,
From that day to the present,
Her life had been Full fair, I ween,
And sweet, and smooth, and pleasant.

But still as she sat in the pretty room,
Where firelight and shadow blended,
She thought of the day
Then drifting away,
And sighed with relief 'twas ended.

So tiresome life! Just a weary round
It seemed of care and hurry.
"Oh, one," she said,
"Might as well be dead
As forever work and worry!

"And sometimes I wonder, I really do,
Where is the joy of living,
What cause have I,"
(With a weary sigh)
"To be thankful at Thanksgiving.

Just then the children came hurrying in—
Fred, Flora, Nell and Neddie,
Each with a kiss
For mother, and this
Query, "Is supper ready?"

Then, lenient and loving, father came,
And up the lights burned brightly;
Talk flew about,
And began the rout
That merrily reigned there nightly.

But when all had gathered around
The sparkling, tempting table,
They grew aware
A shadow was there;
Nor to banish it were they able.

A subtile and elusive thing,
They could not grasp or smother;
'Twas the discontent
Which worry had lent
To the brooding brow of the mother.

But when around the hearth they sat,
The outer cold enhancing
The cheery grace
Of the pleasant place,
Where the warm red light was glancing—

"Did you hear?" asked Fred, in a voice which held Sorrow as well as scorning,
"That Robert Gray
Ran away, they say—
Ran away to sea this morning?"

No one spoke for a little space,
The baby woke up crowing,
With wonder-wise,
And laughing eyes,
And cheeks and lips a-glowing.

A sudden thought the father struck,
"Dear, you have heard, it maybe,
That yesternight,
Poor Mrs. Wright
Lost her little baby?"

No, oh, no! the mother clasped
Close to her heart her treasure,
With a swift, intense,
And humble sense,
Of her happiness and its measure.

How had she dared her days to give
To petulant repining,
When her home was a shrine
Of love divine,
And the sunlight of peace was shining?

Would trivial troubles grieve her,
While God above,
In his tender love,
Did all her darlings leave her.

Brilliantly dawned Thanksgiving Day,
And happy hearts did greet it;
But none more glad
Than one that had
Cheerlessly thought to meet it.

And the children cried, "O mother, how young
And pretty you are growing!"
And her husband's kiss
Brought a thrill of bliss,
And a knowledge worth the knowing.

"Dear Lord," she said, when she knelt that night,
"For all the joy of living,
My life shall be
In praise to Thee—
One loving, long Thanksgiving!"

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.

A LIFE SAVED

BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. A NUMBER OF DONT'S.

Don't forget that plain and inexpensive clothing is most appropriate to the country.

Don't think that life is impossible without passing the summer in the country.

Don't wear an abbreviated bathing suit unless your figure is above criticism.

Don't give as an excuse for not being in to dinner that the wind died out when it did not.

Don't go to sleep in a hammock in a conspicuous place or where tramps may happen by. Don't, because you are not able to excel in athletics, dub the women who are "mannish."

Don't write to your friends at other summer resorts that they ought to be where you are.

Don't judge a man's financial resources by the number of his colored shirts or duck trousers.

Don't be too lazy, or you will deteriorate physically and mentally when you should improve.

Don't read too many novels, for yo will thereby injure your eyesight and fuddle your brain.

Don't worry about sunburn and freckles. The latter are an indication of unaffected good nature.

Don't spend so much money that you will have to live in discomfort for the rest of the year.

Don't help to make a summer resort a breeding place of envy, hatred, malice and all uncharitableness.

Don't talk learnedly with farmers about cattle and horses when you know less of the subject than they do.

Don't go into over-ingenious schemes for amusement. They are apt to end in discomfort and bad temper.

Don't shock the artistic sentiment of the community by wearing black and tan on your feet at the same time.

Don't think that a summer resort is the most favorable place to lay the foundation of a life of domestic happiness.

Don't allow yourself to be monopolized by one young man. It may make the guests at the hotel think you unpopular.

Don't imagine that every young man who behaves foolishly is in love with you. That is one of the signs, but is not infallible.

Don't, if you happen to look better in flannel than in muslin, call the girls who flutter in ribbon and lace "little idiots."

Don't call the girls who spend a good deal of time with the summer men "outrageous flirts." They may be merely popular.

Don't powder so thickly that you will look like a miller, but don't abjure powder so thoroughly that you will look like a beet.

Don't flirt with the hotel clerk when he is on duty. You will cause embarrassment to shy people who want to get to the office.

Don't avoid the piazza too conspicuously, or your little idiosyncrasies will be magnified into crimes by those who frequent it.

Don't strive too hard to get into picturesque attitudes on piazzas, boats, and so forth. That sort of thing is usually very apparent.

Don't forget that many young men are making a bluff. The poor man sometimes pretends to be rich and the rich man to be poor.

Don't forget that there is more humbug at a summer resort than anywhere else on earth, and don't contribute to it any more than you can help.

Don't forget if you go yachting the wind may die out and leave you all night in a small boat with a young man, which will excite comment.

Don't, when you are rowing or sailing, trail your hand through the water. It looks big and shapeless at the time and sunburns easily afterwards.

Dont worry your father to give you as many dresses as the daughters of a much richer man. Be thankful that you get away from town at all.

Don't expect a poor tired man, who is staying over from Saturday to Monday, to dance attendance on you. Make him comfortable and let him rest.

Don't proclaim loudly your knowledge of botany, geology and astronomy upon the strength of a superficial fashionable boarding school education.

Bedding for Farm Animals.

A great variety of bedding-materials are employed in different localities, and each farmer will of course, select for his own use such of these as are the cheapest and most available. In lumber districts, where sawmills abound, farmers find cheap bedding in the sawdust and shavings that are produced in so large quantities. Sawdust makes clean, tidy bedding, but the impression is quite strong among farmers that its effect upon the soil is not desirable. Certainly it decays very slowly. The common beach sand near the seashore possesses, when dry, good absorbing power, and affords a comfortable bed for stock. It is, however, very heavy to handle, and its application, in the manure, to land already too sandy as is much of the land bordering upon the sea coast, is not a good practice. Meadow and salt hay, and the straw of our small grains, supply excellent bedding, and by their decay return a large amount of humus to the soil. Their use should be supplemented by the employment of some dry material, such as loam dust, sifted coal ashes, or land plaster, so that all the gases and liquid manure may be saved. It is a simple matter for every

Doing His Best.

A Scotch school journal recently published the following pathetic anecdote, says The Wellspring: The crack batsman of a school cricket team was the only son of a gentleman who for many years had been blind. He had played and loved the game in his boyhood, and when his son was old enough to take a part in it he would be led to the field every time he played, and anxiously follow every stroke through the eyes of his companions. Upon returning home the game was eagerly discussed, and the son advised in every detail. Last summer the father died suddenly. The next week, to the surprise of the school, Tom, who mourned bitterly for his father, asked to take his place in the team. He played with unusual care and brilliancy, and when the game was over went to the umpire.

"How did I play?" he asked anxiously.

"Never better; you outdid yourself," was the reply.

"Because," the boy said as he turned away, "it was the first time my father ever saw me bat."

Marie Antoinette Hood.

If there is no new dress under the sun, Aaron's linen coat being worn to-day by women and pantaloons having been found from the stone epoch, there are at least designs that re-appear like comets at such long intervals that they are new to some consecutive generations. Thus it is with a certain Marie Antoinette hood, part of a Marie Antoinette cloak, that has appeared and seems destined to a career. Not so very old in its design, it is so extremely odd and its career was so short in its day that it comes with all the effect of surprise. This hood is extremely wide and is hooped round the opening, and when on the head stands out like an inflated half balloon somewhat flattened on the top and leaving a wide space on each side of the face, that may be filled with hair or shadows. The width of this hood reaches out to that of the widest sleeve ever made. Attached to a long cloak it is bound to figure in evening wraps next winter, but forestalling the time they are occasionally seen on hotel piazzas at night, and made of taffeta bouched or of satin lined with cloth; one or two travellers have worn them coming from Paris to the beach. The effect is truly marvellous.

Butter Globules.

Never set milk or cream in a cellar where there is the least smell of mold.

To avoid white specks in butter, keep bits of loppered casein out of the cream.

It is as necessary to have thorough ventilation in the dairy-room, as in the living apartments.

The care of butter does not end with its being packed in tubs or jars. The packages should be kept stored in a cold atmosphere, kept pure by ventilation.

Even if you can "guess" on temperature to within half a degree, always use a thermometer in cream before churning.

Makers who never forget the fact that butter is a conglomeration of delicate fact globules, and who handle it accordingly, are the successful ones.

The creamery that makes butter nowadays without using the Babcock test ought not to receive patronage. This may seem a strong statement, yet without the use of this test the rich milk of a fine breed of cattle, well fed, brings no more than that yielded by scrubs, with a diet of straw.

Never guess at the salt used in salting butter, any more than you guess at the temperature of cream. Weigh it down to the ounce, after you have weighed the butter. Many experienced makers daily "lump" these articles off, because they think experience makes them technical guessers. Such a method is unscientific and dangerous. When you wash butter after the salt has been put in, as some do, uniformity in this line becomes impossible. Work butter continuously to incorporate the salt, and press it firmly into the tubs in packing, not violently pound it in.

A Maine Invention.

The newest market novelty is the tomato sausage. It is made in a domestic way at Portland, is a delicate pinkish white, and tastes of sago and ripe tomatoes. It has made quite a hit in that city and surrounding towns.

Children Cry for

What a great quantity of work a "good housekeeper" finds to do! There are so many little time-and-strength-taking chores that have no names. And it must all be done whether the housekeeper feels like it or not. This is true of men's work too, but men's manual labor is never so complicated as housekeeping. In some way or other "the world's work must be done." This iron-clad rule is harder on women than it is on men. A man can't be as sick as a woman.

As a man's organization is simpler and stronger, it follows that his ailments are less complicated. He is not subject to the chances and changes, physiologically, that come to the average woman.

If a woman is in good health there is no more healthful employment than housework. Generally speaking, there is no happier woman in the world than the one who is well and busy all day long "making home" for dear ones who depend upon her. But how different when every breath is pain, every step torture! This state of health, in nine cases out of ten comes from derangements of the delicate, feminine organs of generation. The family doctor inquires first concerning these. He most usually insists upon an "examination." From this the modest woman naturally shrinks. She is right. Excepting in very unusual cases of "female weakness" examinations are unnecessary. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a simple, natural remedy for these ills. It cures gradually, safely, permanently. Here is one testimonial out of thousands:

"I was ill four years with 'female weakness.' I took two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. I do my house work now without pain or faintness." Yours truly,

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from [illegible] prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story:—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

ALGER INSURANCE FRAUDS.

Two Other Charges to Be Laid—Agent Brown Under Arrest

Toronto, Nov. 15.—Nicholas L. Brown, Ontario county agent for the Home Life Association of this city, was arrested at Whitby last evening by High Constable Calverley, on a charge of conspiracy to defraud. His arrest is the first of many which have been expected since the developments of last week in the Alger insurance fraud.

The adjourned preliminary investigation into the charge against Alger, of conspiracy to defraud the Equitable Life, will be resumed at Whitby before Magistrate Harper to-day.

Alger will also be charged with conspiracy to defraud the Home Life Association and the London & Lancashire Company. It is for complicity in the first of these two charges, yet to be laid, that Agent Brown has been arrested. In a deposition made at the Attorney-General's department, immediately after his return from Buffalo, Dr. Francey gave the authorities full information regarding all the Alger policies and applications, as well as of a number of additional cases where organized attempts had been made by means of fraudulent medical reports and forged signatures to place insurance upon bad lives. Francey's statement, which is largely borne out by corroborative circumstances, is said to involve the agents of several insurance companies, as well as men in other professions.

A great deal of quiet work has been devoted to the case by the provincial and county authorities since Alger's arrest, and when the full result of these investigations is made public, one of the most extensive insurance swindles ever undertaken in this province will be exploded.

Brown is well-known throughout Pickering Township, and his arrest will cause some surprise, but the residents of that township have a genuine sensation in store for them when the evidence is given in the London and Lancashire charge against Alger. But according to Dr. Francey's statements, Pickering Township was only the basis of operations for a company or gang of conspirators, the members of which reside in all sections of the county. Some parties who took no active part in the attempts to insure dying risks, but at the same time were accessories to the fraud, may also find themselves in very uncomfortable positions before the air has cleared.

It will be remembered that the application made by Alger for a $5000 policy on Mrs. Alger in the Home Life, was in the hands of the company when Mrs. Alger died. When asked by his company for an explanation Brown stated that the risk had been recommended to him by J. Hortop, of the Ontario Mutual, and as he knew Hortop, he thought the risk was all right. This explanation was accepted at that time, but Dr. Francey's confession put the matter in a new light.

If Alger's solicitors follow out the lines of defence indicated by their remarks to a World reporter at Brougham on the day Mrs. Alger's body was exhumed, they will endeavor to prove that the application to the Home Life was the result of a conspiracy between Francey, Hortop and Brown, and of which Alger had no knowledge.

Brown is out on bail in two sureties of $500 each.

WILL THEY GET IT?

Rumoured Establishment by a Canadian Firm of a Branch in Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY (Special) Nov. 4.—The outcry in certain quarters against the high tariff still goes on, but it is to the tariff that Albany is likely to owe the addition of another industry to her numerous existing ones. A Canadian firm located in Toronto has, it is understood, been interviewed by an Albany business man, with a view to establishing in this city a manufactory of the staple kidney remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. As the business done by the Canadian firm throughout the United States has assumed very large porportions, owing to the recognition by the American public of the great value of this staple, it is probable that arrangements will be satisfactorily entered into. The annual output is very large and is rapidly increasing.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

The T.C.S. team has backed out of meeting the local Rugby men to-morrow on account, presumably, of the good showing which Peterborough made against Trinity University, which latter team won from the T.C.S. by a score of 72 0. Instead, therefore, of leaving town to-morrow, the local team will have a practice at 3.30 p.m. on the P.A.A.A. grounds.

THE WHEEL.

That Class B men find racing profitable will be shown by the following list:—Eddie Bald, the plucky rider from Buffalo, has been in the race all the season, and up to date has won prizes valued from $6.500 to $7.200. These figures, it is estimated, will easily be increased to $10.000 before he enters upon the winter's rest. Placing his salary, on creditable hearsay, at $5.000 with expenses paid, brings the total to a modest fortune for his efforts of the summer. The winnings of the fourteen men following him in order of achievements are:—Cooper, $4.053; Murphy, $3254; Cabanne, $3.255; Titus, $2.426; Bliss, $1.451; Gardiner, $1.764; L. C. Johnson, $1.640; Jenny, $1.688; Kiser, $1.475; Maddox, $1.235 Ziegler, $1.170; Brown, $1.010; Coulter, $980; MacDonald, $707. These figures total up to $25.867, with one month's racing yet to hear from.

THE TURF.

Pimlico Race Track, Nov. 14.—Rain began to fall just before noon to-day, and kept it up during the afternoon. It had a telling effect upon the attendance. The only ones to visit the track were the regulars from New York. The card offered was the best of the meeting, but the condition of the track made some owners scratch their horses.

The management posted notices on the grounds this afternoon prohibiting hand books. Most of the bookmakers here have been bookmaking on the big tracks in New York under the Percy-Gray law. There they do not have to pay for privileges, and they have to pay $100 here to make a book. If the offenders do not heed this warning they will be put off the track. The notice seemed to have good effect, for 12 books were in line to-day. Summaries:

First race, ⅝ mile—Chester, 6 to 1, 1; Beatrice IV., 2 to 1, 2; Nestor 3. Time 1.05½.

Second race, 1 mile—McKee, 5 to 2, 1; Candelabra, 5 to 1, 2; Long Bridge 3. Time 1.46.

Says Corbett Must Fight.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 14.—Dan Stuart was not in El Paso when the news reached here of Corbett's retirement from the ring. Stuart was in Mexico, but returned to this city yesterday, and wired Brady asking him if it was true that Corbett had retired. He received a reply from Brady that Corbett had given the championship to Maher.

Stuart said he would like to know who authorized Corbett to make or unmake championships. "I expected," said Stuart, "to be able to announce to-night that Corbett and Fitzsimmons could fight within five miles of El Paso for a purse of $20,000, and also expected to name the day for the battle, but there's considerable detail for one to attend to. Consequently it will be 30 or 40 hours before I can make public my program. Then I can offer the purse as a forfeit that the fight will not be interfered with.

"I have Fitzsimmons pledged for the fight as soon as my arrangements are completed here. I am going after Corbett. He cannot refuse to meet the Australian, for if he does he will use his popularity, and had just as well quit the road. But I believe public opinion will whip Corbett into fighting Fitzsimmons. Anyway, I am going right ahead with my arrangements, and will offer the men a purse and the battle-ground at El Paso, and there will be no slip-up this time. I know I can bring off the fight here in the vicinity of El Paso."

The Stanbury-Harding Combination.

Vancouver, Nov. 14.—Advices by the steamship Warrimoo say that Oarsman Stanbury has accepted the challenge of Wag Harding, the English champion, to row the latter in England for the world's championship. If Stanbury defeats Harding his backers will match him against Gaudaur.

The despatch also says: Harding claims the championship of the world, because Jake Gaudaur failed to row him when challenged. Realising, however, that the pretensions of Stanbury were a menace to the title, he has challenged him for the world premiership and $2500. Stanbury accepts, subject to his friends raising $10.000 for stake money, expenses and side bets. This amount has already been promised, and if Harding does not back out Stanbury will leave for England in February. Stanbury's backers agree to stake him against Gaudaur if he beats Harding.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN SUFFER

Within an Ace of Death's Door.

SORROW TURNED TO JOY.

South American Nervine Proved an Unfailing Helper.

Parents Who Tell How This Great Discovery Brought Help and Happiness to Their Homes.

In the home of James W. McRitchie, of Bothwell, Ont., is a little blue-eyed girl, called Maggie, who was afflicted with nervous fainting spells for a considerable period of time. These left her in terrible weakness. Various remedies and the skill of doctors were employed, but the child continued to fade away. Says the father: "Seeing South American Nervine advertised as particularly efficacious in nervous diseases, I decided on seeing if it would help my daughter. After only a few doses had been taken there were signs of improvement. I continued the use of the medicine, and with the result that the fainting spells have entirely disappeared and the child is to-day as healthy as any little one could be. My confidence in this medicine has been further strengthened, and I cheerfully proclaim its virtues, because it proved a sure cure in the case of indigestion and nervous prostration with which my wife was afflicted.

If proof still closer to home is needed of what nervine will do for the afflicted one needs only to visit Mrs. M. A. Joy, of Toronto Junction, who will cheerfully tell how this medicine cured her little daughter Annie, aged 15 years, of severe nervous trouble. The child was close to death's door and the mother was thoroughly discouraged. South American Nervine proved the key to perfect health and happiness, and her girl does not know to-day what nervous sickness means. "Three bottles," says the mother, "brought her back to her health and strength and vigor."

Thousands of homes throughout the land are blighted because of the sickness that has fallen upon mother and the boys and girls of the fireside, whose place it is to bring brightness and not sadness to the home. The remedy for these troubles is South American Nervine."

Fort William, Ont.

Mr. William Day, of Fort William, Ont., says: Two years ago my wife was very ill with dyspepsia. No remedy that she could find gave any relief. Finally she tried Burdock Blood Bitters, and after taking six bottles was entirely cured. That is now more than two years ago and she has had no return of the malady. I also have had occasion to use B. B. B. and I cannot speak too highly in its favour. I always recommend it to my friends and in every case with good results. Yours truly, WM. DAY.

CHAS WYNN,

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros. the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earth-"quake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won.

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98

SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10.

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

		Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.	SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
	SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	50
	HAT	$2.00	98	$1.02
	Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

What's Your Experience?

—)o(—

Can you buy your Dry Goods any cheaper in the large and luxurious stores for cash than you can from us with our smaller and less expensive shop, where you can get a little accommodation if you need it?

I frequently ask my customers this question and the answer is invariably No. I have always been in a position to meet the lowest prices in town, no matter where or what; but I have never been in a better position to make close prices than now, and as a consequence some Wonderful Bargains are just to hand.

GENUINE THANKSGIVING AND STOCK-TAKING SALE.

For the next Thirty Days I intend running off my whole stock at about COST price, previous to stock taking, in order to save the expense of unrolling and measuring the goods, which requires expensive additional help. In this way the cost of stock-taking clerks will be taken off the price of goods and my customers will get the benefit.

I will give my customers any of the goods advertised by any of the Friday and Saturday "Bargain Day" stores at the same prices any day of the week. Look as long as you like—let your search take you where it may—but don't spend a cent until you have compared what we have to offer with what is offered elsewhere.

THE ALGER CHARGES.

The Pickering Insurance Case Grows in Interest.

AGENT HARTOP IN THE TOILS.

A Witness Badly Wanted and He Cannot Be Found—The Home Life's Charge Against Alger, Brown and Hortop Now on For Preliminary Hearing.

Toronto, Ontario, November 16.—In the pretty little Assize Court room of the Ontario county court house, which for neatness, cleanliness and cheerfulness presents a strong contrast to the dingy apartment in the York county buildings where the Hyams twins are being tried, the preliminary investigation into the charge of conspiring to defraud the Equitable Life Insurance Company, laid against Geo. E. Alger, was resumed before Magistrate Harper. At 6 o'clock the Crown's case had been presented with the exception of the much wanted testimony of Henry Trull, the local agent for the Equitable Life Company.

Trull had been subpoenaed to attend as a witness, but as he had not appeared at mid-afternoon, a constable was despatched to his home at Oshawa, to ascertain the cause of his absence. Trull, however, could not be found, his family informing the officer that he had left town for a few weeks. His intended destination no person appeared to know, and Detective Murray will be compelled to close his case without the agent's testimony.

Before the investigation was resumed this forenoon, High Constable Calverley started for Kinsale to apprehend Joseph Hortop, agent for the Ontario Mutual Association, but he met Hortop, who had heard that there was a warrant out for his arrest and was coming in to give himself up. The charge upon which Brown and Hortop are held is that they, together with Dr. Francey and George Alger, conspired together to defraud the Home Life Association by means of procuring an insurance policy upon Mrs. Alger when they knew her to be in a dying condition. Brown and Hortop were both in a merry mood, and appeared quite confident of establishing their innocence of the crime charged. The court room was well crowded during the day, sensational developments evidently having been looked for. Many of Alger's acquaintances from Pickering were present, and a goodly representation of Whitby's beauty sat in the gallery and watched with interest the proceedings in the court room below.

The proceedings of the day were opened with Dr. Francey, who is charged as co-conspirator in all the indictments, in the witness box. His cross-examination was resumed by Mr. T. H. Lennox, in answer to whose questions Francey stated that he arrived in Toronto from Buffalo about four weeks before the trial at Osgoode Hall. Immediately on arriving in Toronto he went to the Equitable people and told them all about the case, and then wrote to Alger and told him what he had done. Mr. Lennox than began to question the witness about a trip to the Spanish River. Crown Attorney Farewell objected to this, as it was wandering far afield.

"I see you have been reading The World, and are using their words," said Mr. Lennox.

"Yes, I read The World and their words are very appropriate, too," was the retort corteous of the Crown Attorney.

Counsel for the defence then undertook to learn from the witness whether or not he had received letters from other parties who were interested in the conspiracy. His Worship ruled that the witness could not be compelled to give any information about private letters. Mr. Lennox pressed for an answer to his questions and intimated that one line of the defence was that if there was any conspiracy it was by parties others than Alger. The witness finally admitted that he had received letters from the crown and also from other parties, but the latter were private, and had no reference to the evidence he was to give before the courts.

Mr. Lennox asked the witness if he could explain why, when Alger was fully aware of the condition of his wife, he should ask Dr. Eastwood to come down and make the examination for the London and Lancashire. "I can't explain it," said the witness, "unless he thought that Dr. Eastwood would help him to grind his axe, the same as I did."

Dr. Eastwood apparently is not as bad as you are, then?" asked the counsel. "He hasn't been showed up as bad in this case, anyway," replied the witness.

In referring to the conversation held in the office of Macdonald & Fitch at Stouffville, Francey denied that he had there said that Alger was innocent of any fraud in connection with the Equitable policy. Francey told Alger in the presence of Macdonald and Fitch that Dr. Eastwood knew that Mrs. Alger was a consumptive and he would put the insurance companies on to the racket. The reply was made to this that "We will fix Dr. Eastwood on that point.

The spicy little conversation referred to by Francy at the last hearing of the case, as having taken place between the witness and Messrs. Macdonald and Fitch, was related at the request of the counsel for defence. Francy said that Mr. Macdonald told him that he would have to stick to Alger, and couldn't be with the Equitable. Fitch also said that if Francy went to the Equitable and told the story, they would have him under arrest at once. This took place subsequent to the conversation in which the witness told Macdonald and Fitch that the whole thing was a fraud.

Francy admitted that he had spoken to other persons and told them that if if they would take out a policy in the Equitable he would pass them. One or two consented, and he passed them, and others refused to enter into such an arrangement. He went to the son of a Mr. Hoover of Whitehall and told him that his father was not in a very good physical condition, and if the son wished to place any more insurance on his father's life, tht he, the witness, would pss him. After the witness had admitted that he was guilty of false representations and conspiracy to defraud, Mr. Lennox asked him if the position of counsel and prisoner was reversed, if he, the witness, would believe Lennox on his oath. "If you was going to get your liberty by telling the truth, there is a possibility that I would," replied the witness, and the laughter was turned on the counsel.

In re-examination, Dr. Francy said that he understood from Messrs Macdonald and Fitch, when at Stouffville, that he would have to swear the whole thing through, as though it was all right. In explanation of certain statements made by Mr. Broughall of the Equitable Life, when the gentleman was giving evidence last week, the witness said that the application made for a policy on the life of D. R. Bolton was rejected on the face of his medical report.

Mr. Elliott, manager of the Standard Bank at Stoffville, produced papers and books showing Alger's financial position with the bank. Soon after Mrs. Alger's death it was proposed by the witness that Alger assign the Equitable policy to the bank, as a security for the amount due the bank, and the bank would give him an extension of time. When the insurance company learned of the swindle, a writ was served on teh bank for the cancellation of the policy, and the policy was re-assigned by the bank to Alger. Alger paid the costs incurred by the bank in connection with this writ.

The witness said that immediately after this he sent for Francy to come to Stouffville. Francy told the witness that the policy could not be cancelled, as the whole transaction was fraudulent. The witness appeared somewhat unwilling, and Mr. Farewell's leading questions called forth the protests of Mr. Lennox, who contended that the Crown counsel had no right to lead the witness. This matter was settled to the satisfaction of Mr. Lennox, and Mr. Farewell proceeded. a second conversation held the same day in the office of Macdonald & Fitch, Francey at first said it was alright, but again changed and said that Mrs Alger was a consumptive and Alger knew it. Francey at that time advocated throwing up the Equitable policy because there was so much dirt about the Home Life deal. In that conversation Alger denied that his wife was ever troubled with consumption.

Subsequent to this date a conversation was held in the head office of the Standard Bank in Toronto, at which Dr. Francey, the witness, and other officials of the bank were present. The witness admitted at this conversation witness admitted that at this conversation he corroborated in many particulars the statement of Dr. Francey as to the conversation in Stouffville. The witness said that at the conversation in Stouffville, Francey said that he was not going to go down alone. Mr. Elliott's version of what Macdonald said to Francey about swearing the thing through was also quite different from that given by Dr. Francey. According to Mr. Elliott, Macdonald's statement was that Francey would be prosecuted by the insurance companies whether he stayed with Alger or not. In cross-examination Mr. Elliott said that he had had frequent financial dealings with Alger, and always considered him an honest, upright man, worthy of every confidence.

When the cross-examination of Mr. Elliott had been completed, Mr. C. Russell Fitch, of Macdonald & Fitch, requested to be allowed to make a statement with reference to the conversation between Dr. Francey, himself and Mr. Macdonald, which took place in Stouffville. Mr. Fitch said that when they were apart Francey and Alger told widely different stories, and it was thought necessary to get them together, to get at the true facts of the case. When the meeting took place Francey at first denied that he had said to Mr. Elliott that anything was wrong. During the whole conversation Francey never asserted that Mrs. Alger had consumption in December, 1894, in fact; he said he would swear to the truth of his medical report on a stack of bibles a mile high. Francey advocated the throwing up of the policy in the Equitable because of the Home Life deals. He had passed Mrs. Alger in that case without seeing her, and he was not going to take his chance of going to jail for Alger for $7000. He told them that if they pressed the claim he would go into the box and swear that Mrs. Alger had consumption, in order to clear himself. Alger asked Francey if he had ever told him that she had consumption and he admitted that he had not told him recently.

Francey said that he was going to swear himself out of it, and stick by those who could protect him. Alger denied all knowledge of the Home Life application and also said that he was somewhat suspicions of the Equitable policy as his application for a policy on his own behalf was rejected and that for Mrs. Alger was accepted. He said he was being led on by an insurance agent, whose name he did not divulge to Mr. Fitch. To Mr. Farewell Fitch admitted that the writ against The World was proposed as a means of scaring the insurance company in the payment of the policy.

Edward Wilson of Brougham, a relative of the deceased, Mrs. Alger, was called into the witness box and asked to tell of a conversation he had with Mrs. Alger in July last in reference to her health. The witness was very reticent at first, and said that a conversation had taken place, but he did not want it to come out. For this statement he was sharply remanded by the magistrate, who reminded him that he was sworn to tell the whole truth. In this conversation Mrs. Alger told the witness that she had not seen a well day since the death of her father in January, 1894. The witness said that he knew nothing of the insurance on Mrs. Alger, until the Toronto World published the proposed investigation.

At the evening session of the court the charge against Alger, Brown and Hartop was proceeded with. Brown was represented by Mr. R. A. Dickson, of Toronto, with Messrs Don and McGillivray looking after Hartop's interest. The testimony of Drs. W. Ferguson and W. F. Eastwood was practically the same as that given by them at the last trial. The purport of Dr. Ferguson's statement was that Mrs. Alger die dof consumption, and that of Dr. Eastwood that Alger had known for years she was so afflicted.

Michael Gleson, a store keeper at Greenwood, and agent of the London and Lancashire, swore that he accompanied Joseph Hortop to Alger's a day or two after the funeral, when Alger and Hortop talked about the Home Life application. Hortop professed there was nothing in that as he held a due-bill or receipt which must be attached to the application before it could be completed. Nothing would come of it, he confidently predicted. At 9.45 court adjourned to 10 a.m. to-morrow, when Dr. Francey will tell the story of the Home Life application. Hortop was bailed in $2000 recognisances, himself in $1000 and $500 each by Wilfrid Sadler and Dr. Frank Warren.

De Barry After the Canucks.

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 15.—Inspector De Barry examined three suspects who were held at Niagara Falls yesterday. He deported one of them, a blacksmith named Louis Douglass, who, it is alleged, was coming across under contract to work for Wilbur McArthur of Buffalo.

Immigration Inspector Estell of Ogdensburg, N.Y., is in Buffalo consulting with Assistant United States District Attorney Mackey and Inspector De Barry, regarding some violation if the Allen Contract Labor Law in his district. Mr. Estell has jurisdiction over the north border and is trying hard to break up the importation of Canadian lumbermen to work in the Adirondack camps.

THE HYAMS TRIAL.

Aylesworth Stands Mr. Lount's Cross-Firing Without Weakening—Mrs. Aylesworth's Evidence.

Toronto, Ontario, November 16.—The testimony of Brother-in-law Aylesworth is all in and his wife, the sister of the dead boy, is still under examination.

examination in the sensational Hyams case and will take her place in the witness box immediately on the opening of the court this morning.

Mr. Lount dallied with Brother-in-law Aylesworth for nearly five hours yesterday, making a total of nearly seven hours of cross-examination, but, with the exception of a few minor points, it canont be said that he succeeded in hurting the evidence given by that witness in chief before the jury. Aylesworth is what might be termed a shrewd witness; he is a good thinker and takes all the time he wants in answering questions, particularly those propounded by counsel for the twins, and this fact probably accounts for his decided success in parrying the thrusts of the able Mr. Lount.

There was nothing that could possibly be termed sensational in yesterday's procedings, but the indications are that later developments will more than border on the sensational if the rumors concerning the Crown's proposed coups are to be verified. Among the new witnesses which the Crown has in store is said to be County Constable McIlwain, who succeeded Guard Bell as a custodian of the Hyamese twins at the county jail. McIlwain is expected to testify that immediately after the first trial, one of the Hyams boys remarked that Aylesworth, who was then as now the Crown's star witness, was just as guilty as they. McIlwain then asked: "Then you did kill young Wells?" but the prisoner turned on his heel and refused to reply. This testimony coupled with other evidence that the Crown will likely produce, going to prove the many suspicious acts of the prisoners subsequent to the exposures of last February, may likely tend to greatly strengthen the cause of the prosecution.

Just prior to adjournment last evening His Lordship asked the Crown counsel when they expected to finish with their testimony and Mr. Osler replied that they might be able to see the end of their case Saturday night. This means that it will be Wednesday or Thursday next week before the defence will be permitted to begin the introduction of its evidence. Allowing that side of the case ten days to finish, it will be, as The World has all ish, it will be, the first week in December before the fate of the little prisoners, at the hands of the present jury, will be announced.

AGAIN THE TROLLEY.

Rev. Dr. Shaw Seriously Injured at Yonge and Richmond Streets.

Toronto, Nov. 16.

Rev. John Shaw, D.D., assistant secretary of the Methodist Missionary Society, was the victim of a trolley accident at Richmond and Yonge-streets, at about 6 o'clock last night. He was riding his bicycle across the car tracks and did not see a car coming from the north. Being somewhat deaf, Mr. Shaw did not hear the warning of the bell, and the car knocked him down. He was picked up on the guard and caried about 30 yards. The fall had rendered him insensible, and the police ambulance conveyed him to the residence of his son-in-law, Mr. Alexander Mills, 418 Ontario-street.

Drs. Doolittle and Boultbee dressed the injuries, which consisted of a bad scalp wound and a slight concussion. Late last night the unfortunate gentleman was resting quietly

TURKEY'S PROMISES

Said to be a Means of Delay—Belief That War is Inevitable.

London, Nov. 15.—A despatch from Constantinople, under the date of Nov. 14, says it was announced that the commission appointed to put into force the reforms adopted for the administration of affairs in Asia Minor will begin its sittings to-day. It is asserted by persons in a position to obtain the very best and most reliable information that the terms of the convention signed by the six powers agreeing upon joint action in the matter of compelling the immediate application of reforms in Armenia and the other districts have been kept strictly secret, in order to avoid an uprising of the Mohammedan populace. It is asserted that the reserves recently called out by the Turkish Government, ostensibly for the purpose of restoring order in Asia Minor, are really being prepared for participation in the European war which the Sultan and his Ministers believe to be inevitable.

THE ORIGIN OF THE N. P.

The Montreal Witness has an interesting article dealing with this subject, which is of present interest. It points out that Mr. W. F. McLean, M.P., for East York, and editor of the junior Conservative organ in Toronto, told that Sir John Macdonald, who is canonized as the patron saint of the National Policy, did not believe in protection—how he distrusted it from the beginning, and had to be dragged into adopting it. Mr. McLean's father was one of the authors of the policy, and Mr. McLean himself knows the secret history of its adoption against the judgment of Sir John Macdonald. Mr. Goldwin Smith, who was in Sir John's confidence at the time of the adoption of the policy, was assured by Sir John Macdonald that he was not going to consent to protection. "You don't catch me getting into that hole," said Sir John after his own airy fashion. Sir John assured Mr. Smith that a readjustment of the tariff was all he contemplated in 1878. And the Witness remarks: "Afterward, with that frank immorality, that was so charming to his friends, Sir John explained his support of protection, 'Protection has done so much for me that I must do something for protection.' What a hole protection lifted Sir John out of everyone knows, and Sir John's gratitude was doubtless sincere enough. All that is told of Sir John's words and acts in this connection smacks so of his very character that no one doubts the truth with which they are reported." It is known that Sir John was a Free Trader of the same type as the late Thomas White, who a few years before "Protection" was adopted, at a meeting of the Dominion Board of Trade, Ottawa, declared his Free Trade principles. "As a matter of fact," the Witness asserts, "there were no Protectionists in Canada before 1878." Sir Charles Tupper had a Free Trade policy for use by the Conservative party in the case the Liberals should so far forget principle as to adopt a protection policy in order to retain office. We all remember the well-known answer of Sir John Macdonald to Senator Boyd's question as to the Conservative intention to increase the tariff in case they were returned to power—that there was to be no advance in tariffs, simply a "readjustment." And Sir John declared for "a reciprocity of trade or a reciprocity of tariffs." Conservative journals are so anxious to father the N. P. upon Sir John Macdonald and thus invest it with a respectability of origin which a less brilliant paternity would fail to confer, make remarkable twists to torture a speech of Sir John's as old as 1875 into proof that he was in favour of the protective principle. At that time, as the Gazette quotes, Sir John declared that the policy of his party since 1869 had been a protective one, in the interests of the native industries and the party held that duties should be so imposed as to provide "incidental" protection and not to be so excessive as to prohibit importations. This "incidental" protection of Sir John's was a very weak one in the modern acceptance of "protection"; the average duty was 15 per cent., and all the protection affords was "incidental" and not prohibitory. This "protective tariff" which the Gazette parades as proof that Sir John was a protectionist, was increased by Mr. Mackenzie to 17½ per cent. to provide for the demands of revenue made necessary by the extravagance of his Conservative predecessors. The tariff that was adopted in 1878 was in no way related to that protective policy advocated by Sir John Macdonald in 1875; it is prohibitive and not merely affording "incidental" protection. The burden of evidence shows that Sir John Macdonald did not develop his "readjustment" of duties because he believed the principle of protection the right one, but merely to gain power. If honest Alexander Mackenzie had thus sacrificed principle to expediency he would not have been beaten in 1878. "Protection" is a policy of policy, and has so signally failed to answer the purposes of its creation that the people need only to have a chance to, reverse their decision of 1878.

CONSUMPTION

INSURANCE FRAUDS.

Insurance companies are credited with making big money, but their enterprise is equalled these days by those who would be the insured or rather the beneficiaries of those who are insured. Witness the recent cases of depravity that have resulted in brutal and coolly premeditated murder in order to derive gain from the earnings of policies placed on the lives of others. The frequency of arson to gain insurance money on buildings has long been common, and now a third form has come into recent prominence. A despatch from St. John's, Newfoundland, states that the practice of insuring vessels and also insuring cargoes that are never put on board, and then sinking them has become notorious. This form of depravity is closely allied to the others, especially the first, for many of these vessels are scuttled or run on the rocks, (becoming loss to the insurance companies who have sometimes to pay twice their value,) with in many cases fearful loss of innocent lives. These practices, all of them, are an abuse of the beneficial possibilities of insurance which it is the interest of all insured persons to prevent as far as possible. If such things are not brought to a stop, or nearly a stop, life insurance amongst other forms will stand a chance of being brought into discredit and thousands of widows and orphans run the risk of being deprived of the proceeds of insurance policies on the lives of their natural protectors, which in very many cases is all that stands between the widow and orphans and want.

Hit The Enemy.

The process by which blood is made is called digestion.

This fresh supply of new blood is constantly being added to the circulation.

The kidneys receive this new volume direct from the heart.

It brings with it watery and other matter which would be injurious, or in other words poisonous if not separated from the blood.

It is the office or function of the kidneys to separate the poisons out of the blood.

But suppose they do not do this?

Then there is a sick man. It may be a fever. It may be one of a dozen forms of suffering, depending on the circumstances and on the constitution of the patient. What must be done?

Dodd's Kidney Pills is the answer to this question. Only they must be used.

The Kidneys must be set right, and once this is done the work of purification will be started at once.

For only by the kidneys can this blood cleansing be done.

Did you ever notice that we never say "Try" Dodd's Kidney Pills?

We say "Use" Dodd's Kidney Pills.

This is because they have have earned a position beyond mere experiment.

A few doses will always show beneficial effects; because the first dose helps.

You can cure a cold quicker by using Dodd's Kidney Pills than with anything else in the world. So keep a box in the house.

This is because a cold always acts by way of the kidneys.

And a cold is the commonest beginning for nearly all fatal endings.

It is a good thing to know how to meet a cold.

It is half the battle to know how what to fire at an enemy, and to know just where to hit.

Use Dodd's Kidney Pills as ammunition and you will hit a cold every time.

Other despatches from St. Petersburg confirm the report of the birth of a daughter to the Czarina.

St. ePtersburg, Nov. 16.—12.30 a.m.—A bulletin that has just been issued states that the condition of the Czarina and her daughter is entirely satisfactory. At the religious services held according to the orthodox Greek rite after the birth, the infant was named Olga.

A DECLARATION UNDER OATH.

The Record of a Very Remarkable Case at Hamilton.

County of Wentworth, to wit:

I, Thomas Emil Starling, of the City of Hamilton, in the county of Wentworth, clerk, do solemnly declare:

1. That I live at 96 John street north, in the city of Hamilton. I am seventeen years of age, son of Thomas Sterling, motorman on the Hamilton Street Railway.

2. About fifteen months ago I was attacked with chronic rheumatism. The doctors who attended me said it was chronic rheumatism, and that it would be hard to get rid of. I took about twelve bottles of the doctor's medecine and four differen kinds of patent medecines, none of which did me any good whatever. I suffered great pain and was unable to do any work whatever.

3. On the 8th April, 1895, I started taking the medicine (Kootnay Cure) which Mr. S. S. Ryckman, M.P., gave me.

4. The rheumatism was in my right arm and in my right shoulder, and in my back, and in both my legs.

5. I have used five bottles, and I am now entirely cured, and have gained ten pounds in my weight.

6. My general health has also wonderfully improved since I commenced taking this medecine. I had hives all over my body for three months before taking the medebine, and they have now completely disappeared and my health has never been better than it is now. It is a grand tonic.

7. The attack of rheumatism which I had so severe that my feet and legs were so weak and painful that I could not walk without stumbling.

8. I am now able to work without any injurious affect. I believe Kootenay Cure is one of the greatest medecines in the world to-day for rheumatism and to build up the system

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and knowing that it has the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act, 1893.

TRADE IN CANADA.

No Change From Last Week—Collections Reported Good.

New York, Nov. 15.—Bradstreet reports that general trade throughout the Canadian Dominion develops no change, when compared with the preceding weeks, and little improvement is expected prior to the close of navigation at the end of this month. At Montreal the tone of general business is firm, and higher prices are expected for many staples. At Quebec City the volume of business is only moderate, and collections are slow. Most shoe factories there are running on half-time, and improvement is not expected prior to Dec. 1. Jobbers at Toronto report a sorting up trade, without special features, except that collections are satisfactory. A fair volume of business throughout Nova Scotia is reported by the leading jobbers at Halifax, who also announce collections are prompt.

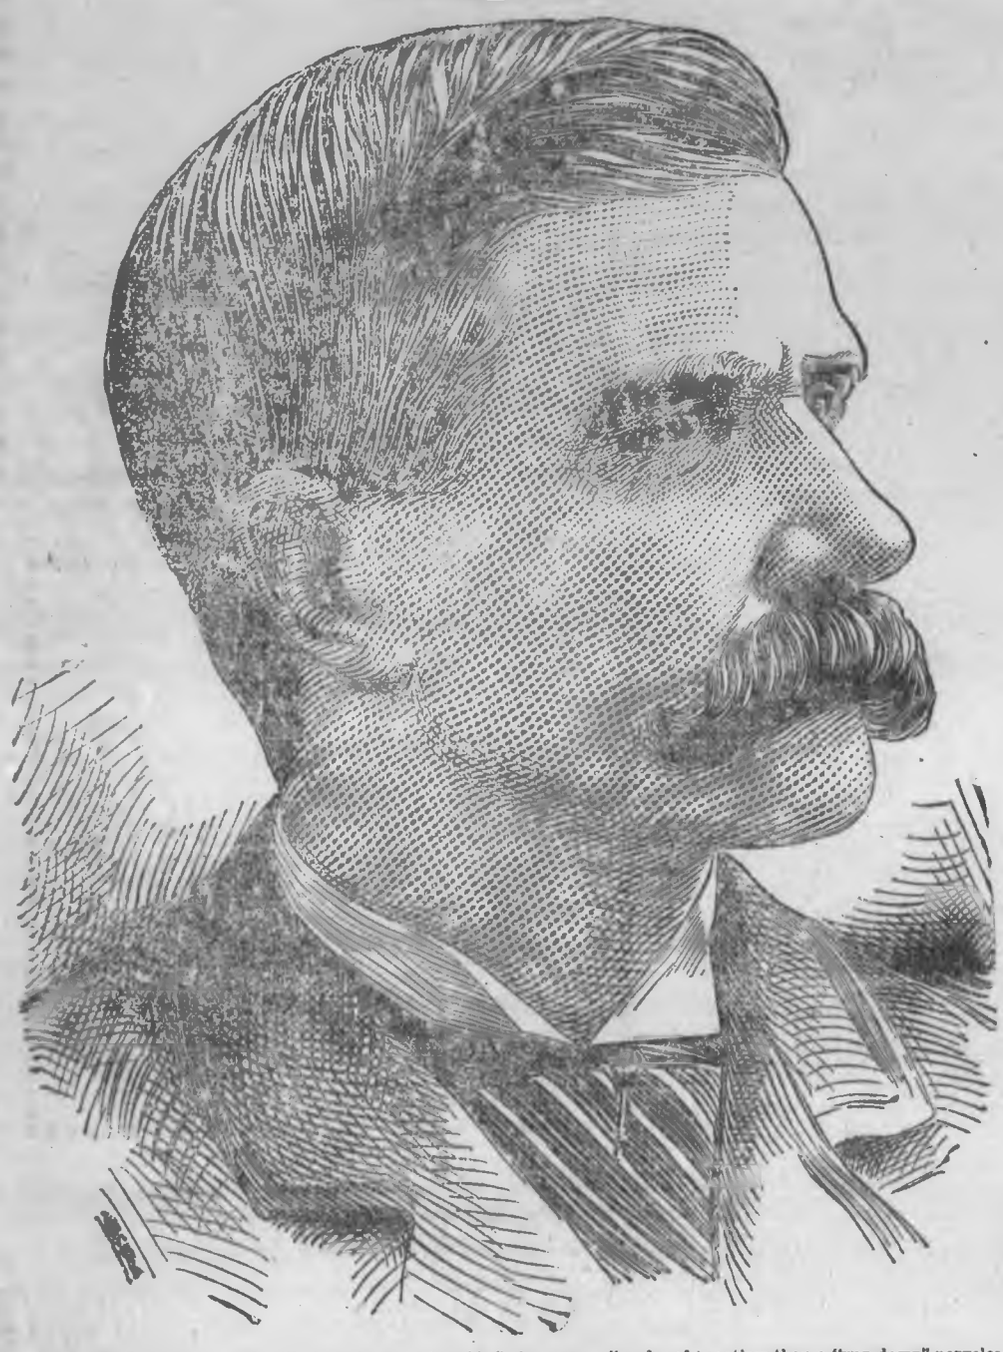
BEST KNOWN OF AMERICA'S WRITERS.

M. Quad, the Detroit Free Press Man, Made Well by Paine's Celery Compound.



Mr. Charles B. Lewis is more familiarly known to the thousands whose life he has cheered, as M. Quad. It must be more than a score of years since the country was laughing over the sayings of his honour and Bijah, chronicled by Mr. Lewis to the Detroit Free Press. From that time until now M. Quad has delighted the public with unnumbered quaint sketches of character, overflowing with a humour that appealed to readers all the more strongly because they recognized the fidelity to life under the fun.

Among Mr. Lewis' recent creations, the Bowsers, Brother Gardiner, Mrs. Gallup's Tribulations, Possum Sketches, and the Arizona Kicker are destined to long life. Mr. Lewis' admirers will be surprised to learn that, like Walter Scott, Mark Twain and other highly gifted authors, he has produced work of rare quality while tormented by pain.

Mr. Lewis suffered intensely from rheumatism. "It made my days and nights miserable," he says, "and, of course, the agony was greater in bad weather. At the same time my nerves were weak, and I was in worse shape than I hope ever to be again. Yes, I took advice by the yard and medicine by the quart with no success. I was broken in spirit and bent almost double in the body, when somebody suggested Paine's Celery Compound for the nervousness. That remedy made short work of the nervousness and of the rheumatism, too. A few doses made me feel much better, and to-day I am well; a happy change that I attribute to the use of Paine's Celery Compound. It gives me sincere pleasure to bear witness on the merits of the compound. I know at least a dozen authors and journalists who have found it a remedy for the same complaints."

Rheumatism attacks the body when it is tired out, and when its functions begin to act sluggishly. Disordered nerves, faulty digestion, and a slow, incomplete nutrition of the body, invite rheumatism, just as they do neuralgia and nervous debility. There is no surer starting point for rheumatism than a "run-down" nerveless condition.

Paine's Celery Compound increases the appetite by giving a healthy tone to the stomach; it makes sure that the entire nervous system gets completely nourished. It regulates the bowels and the kidneys and encourages them to get rid of harmful and poisonous matter that the sluggish system has allowed to lodge in the blood, thus causing rheumatism and kindred disorders.

You cannot cure rheumatism by outward applications. The disease is due to internal disorder and must be continually attacked and got rid of. Paine's Celery Compound has done for thousands of other people exactly what it did for Mr. Lewis. They were sufferers as he was, and the Compound has made them well.

The warmest praises of Paine's Celery Compound are from men and women of high character and keen intelligence. They know they are doing a work of humanity and mercy in commending to all persons out of health this certain and speedy means of getting strong and well.

SUNDAY CAR CASE.

More Evidence Taken Yesterday—The Matter to be Argued in Toronto.

Hamilton, Nov. 16.—One witness for the plaintiff yesterday brought to a conclusion the evidence against the Street Railway Company in the celebrated fight of the Lord's Day Alliance against Sunday cars, and after several important pieces of evidence, including the testimony of three ministers of the gospel, had been given for the defence, the case was disposed of so far as the non-jury sitting of the court was concerned. It was decided that the argument should take place before Judge Rose in Toronto.

W. H. Wardrope was the last witness for the plaintiff, but his testimony was that the Sunday cars did not interfere with his enjoyment of the services in St. John's Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member. He would not care to see the cars stopped on Sundays, but he thought they might be run more quietly. He used the Sunday cars occasionally.

Mr. Moss was prepared to call more witnesses, but the judge discouraged him from doing so.

Mr. Martin informed His Lordship that he wished to tender the evidence of church people who were not annoyed by the Sunday cars, and also to prove by a witness that no cheap trips, or excursions, were run on Sunday.

The judge consented to hear the evidence, but he said the witnesses would have to be confined to representative classes. Thereupon J. B. Griffith stepped into the witness stand.

Manger Griffith said tht the cars were used on Sunday to carry passengers to and from the Hamilton Cemetery, Stuart-street Depot, R. C. Cemetery, ferry and the churches. As a member and constant attendant of First Methodist Church, he could say in refutation of Mr. Gains' testimony, that he had never experienced any disturbance on the cars. In fact, unless he was paying particular attention to the cars he never heard them. Only half the usual number of cars were operated on Sunday.

Cross-examined by Mr. Moss, witness admitted that on June 4, the first Sunday the cars were operated during the summer, 4903 passengers were carried. But a small percentage of these would be to or from the Grand Trunk Depot.

Mr. Moss: Do you go to church?

Mr. Griffith: Yes, usually on Sunday mornings.

"According to your examination you must spend all your time on Sundays looking after the cars."

"Well, I am liable to be called on duty at any time."

"You don't hear the cars when in church?"

"Not unless I listen intently for them."

Mr. Martin: How about the speed?

"No greater on Sunday than on any other day. Motormen have strict orders to shut off the power and run quietly past all churches."

C. G. Booker, superintendent of the James-street Baptist Church Sunday School, was not disturbed in church by the noise of the cars. When they first ran on Sunday the novelty made the noise more noticeable than at present. He used the cars on Sunday whenever convenient, particularly in bad weather.

Rev. I. Tovell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, speaking for himself, said that the noise of the cars did not affect him in the least in the conduct of the service. In the summer he was not conscious of a slight rumbling noise, but there was no annoyance from it. He could not even say that he had ever noticed that any of his congregation were disturbed by the noise.

Rev. E. M. Bland, rector of Christ's Church Cathedral, stated that the noise of cars had no effect whatever on either the Sunday or week day services of the church. A very large number of his parishioners used the cars every Sunday. To many of these Sunday cars were a necessity. A large number of ladies living at a distance had been unable to attend church after the old Sunday horse car service was discontinued, and until the present service was inaugurated, unless they were lucky enough to get a ride in the carriages of friends. His congregation had made strong appeals to the company on several occasions to get the present service established.

To Mr. Moss, witness said he had noticed the noise of the cars on but one occasion during the summer. A large portion of his congregation lived a mile away from the church, and when there were no Sunday cars the attendance fell off considerably. The cathedral was located farther back from the tracks than Knox Church.

F. Mackelcan, Q. C., City Solicitor, said he attended Unity Church, and frequently other churches, and he never noticed any disturbance during the services on account of the street car noise. He was asked whether or not the cars disturbed the deliberations of the aldermen at meetings in the City Hall in summer evenings, when the windows were open.

"No; the street car noise doesn't disturb the aldermen," smilingly replied Mr. Mackelcan. "They dose on, and in fact they often talk the street cars out. They're at the hall when the cars are stopped."

In the matter of City Hall disturbances, the City Solicitor said the Salvation Army meetings were a much greater disturbance than were the street cars.

George S. Lynch-Staunton said he attended service at St. Patrick's Church, where he was never disturbed by the Sunday cars, even when the windows and doors were open. He and many other members of the church patronized the cars on Sunday, and frequently they were saved a drenching in the rain by having cars in which to ride to and from church.

J. J. Mason said he considered the value of Christ Church Cathedral had been increased by the running of the cars on Sunday, and buildings costing about $7000 or $8000 had been erected since the electric Sunday railway service began.

The judge thought about enough evidence had been heard to furnish material for argument for the defendant's counsel, but Mr. Martin wished to call another witness to prove the carrying of passengers to the Grand Trunk station and to the cemetery on Sundays.

"The passengers go into the cemetery?" the judge asked.

"Yes," replied Mr. Martin.

"Oh, well, I suppose they come back," his lordship smilingly remarked.

This concluded the evidence and the judge decided to hear the argument on the question as to the legality of the Sunday cars, and on the evidence taken in the case. The argument will be heard at a date to be decided on between the counsel and His Lordship.

400 Children in Peril.

Augusta, Ky., Nov. 15.—Augusta College, the most historic building in the city, is being destroyed by fire. It caught at noon, with 400 children in the building. There was a mad rush and the greatest difficulty in rescuing them. It is thought all are saved. There is no hope for the building.

A CALL FOR SOLDIERS.

To Help Collect the Taxes in Lowe Township.

THE POLICE WAGONS DISABLED.

Bailiffs and Constables Compelled to Trudge Through Rain and Mud in Search of Help—Military Officers at Ottawa Appealed to for Help.

Lowe, Que., Nov. 15.—The delinquent tax-payers of the township stole a march, through the night upon the provincial police and bailiffs who are here to make them pay up if they can. Morning broke wet and dismal, but to make the prospect worse it was found that the police wagons had been disabled. Somebody had removed the nuts from the axles and there was nothing for it but to walk over the blue clay roads of the township. It was evident the posse relished the job but slightly, and when the Gatineau train arrived from the north at 7 o'clock the county solicitor and two of his aides boarded it for Hull city. Some said it was to get reinforcements; others are of the opinoin that the terms of a settlement are to be arranged.

To all appearance the disposition of the people in this neighborhood has not improved towards the invading officials, but the prospect of the force being added to has given the leaders pause.

To-night quite crowd gathered at the railway station. They made no demonstration, but eagerly listened to the accounts of the affair in the city newspapers. Evidently they are not averse to the publicity their goings are receiving.

No seizures were attempted to-day. To-morrow a move will probably be made upon the settlement, where the delinquents are of a better class, and have heretofore only resisted payment because their neighbors had been allowed to continue in arrears in defiance of th law.

Ottawa, Nov. 15.—The Quebec County authorities have raised a little rebellion up in Lowe Township. Yesterday the police force failed to secure a dollar of taxes, and it is questionable whether they will succeed without bloodshed. The residents of the township are of Irish descent, and opposed to any class of taxation. This morning it rained heavily at Lowe, so that the police and bailiffs decided not to go back to the settlement until the afternoon. During the night a contingent of the mob quietly approached Brooks' Hotel, the headquarters of the police, and removed the nuts from the rigs that are in use to carry the officers to and from the scene of operations. The missing parts of the rigs cannot be found, and consequently the vehicles are unfit for use. No rigs can be got about there, as those who have rigs refuse to rent them. The officers are thus stranded, and will be obliged to march back on foot. This over roads knee-deep in mud will be no easy matter.

Finding it impossible to vindicate the law with the small force at their command, County Solicitor Major, High Constable Genest and Sergt. Patry of the provincial police drove to Hull this afternoon and made a formal requisition on a justice of the peace for military aid. Sheriff Coultlee, Justices Champaigne, Cousineau and Trudel attached their names to the requisition, which sets forth that "certain troubles, riot, or violation of the public peace," are apprehended in the execution of warrants against defaulting taxpayers.

The requisition was handed over to Col. Joshua Wright of the 43rd Battalion, who in turn transferred it to Col. Aylmer, assistant adjutant-general, who commands this district.

Col. Aylmer consulted with Hon. Mr. Dickey and General Gascoigne, and it was decided not to do anything until to-morrow. In the meantime the law will be looked into to see if the case is such as contemplated by section 34 of chapter 41 of the Revised Statutes. The members of the 43rd Battalion are on the alert, and, despite the miserable weather and frightful roads, will be on hand to-morrow if duty calls them to Lowe.

It is stated that the Attorney-General of Quebec has telegraphed asking for assistance.

"Prepare or the worst, but hope for the best," says the old proverb. Hope for health, but be prepared for colds, coughs, croup, bronchitis, pneumonia, or any other throat or lung difficulty by having Ayer's Cherry Pectoral always at hand. It is prompt to act, sure to cure.

Wedded at Newmarket.

Mr. John Finlay, ex-reeve of Norwood, and Mrs. Finlay, were in town to-day. On Wednesday of last week Mr. Finlay was united in marriage to Lydia Betts Scott, widow of the late Dr. Scott, formerly of Norwood. The happy event took place at "Weehauken," the residence of the bride, Newmarket, the ceremony being performed by Elder W. H. Chidley. Mr. and Mrs. Finlay arrived home on Tuesday, after spending a week in the east, and were given a reception by the members of his family, who presented them with a silver tea service. Later in the evening the village band serenaded them at their residence. The EXAMINER extends it cordial congratulations and wishes for happiness.

THE FORESTERS CONCERT.

The Usual Annual Success Repeated—Good Attendance and Good Programme.

The Foresters of Courts Peterborough and Langton, C.O.F., scored their invariable success in their splendid concert last night. It was in every way delightful. There was a large attendance and a programme presented that must have highly pleased those present, judging by the cordial applause given every number. Encores were the order of the evening as shown by the fact that while there were only thirteen numbers on the programme twenty-two numbers were actually given. The stage was neatly decorated with blooming pot plants.

The concert opened with a vocal solo by the old time Peterborough favourite Mr. Thos. Dunn, who sang the "Gallant Salamander" in capital manner, the robust character of the selection receiving very appropriate treatment. Mr. Dunn was very cordially recalled and in response sang "Rosy Darlin'" with exquisite sweetness and pathos. Mr. Dunn's second number was that grand old sea song, "The Rolling Wave," which he sang with fine spirit and execution, earning a hearty encore, to which he sang with great acceptance that beautiful ballad, "The Girl I Left Behind." His closing number was a variation, "The Skipper," being substituted for "The Heroes Return." Mr. Dunn's name on a programme is always a drawing card. Mr. Sim Fax was the hero of the evening in a popular sense. His first song, a serio-comic selection, was very finely sung, and of course he was recalled and sang one of his inimitable comic combinations. His wonderful versatility and powers of entertaining were largely drawn upon and during the evening he appeared ten times. He is not only an inimitably funny comic singer, but as a reciter of comic or serious sketches, he takes high rank. Miss Lola Ostrom, the extraordinary child elocutionists, last night added new laurels to her crown of fame. She recited the Beacon Light and for encore "Why Girls will Wed." Her second number was "Poor Little Joe" with, of course, the inevitable repeat number. This little lady is a wonder. Her stage presence in its airy attractiveness suggests an escaped fairy, while her interpretation of either pathetic or humourous selections is in every way worthy of first rate artists of mature years. She recites with more genuine art and feeling than nine-tenths of the adult professional artists. Miss Stevenson, the gifted Canadian soprano, sang Dudley Buck's "When the Heart is Young." In this song, as in her other selections, Miss Stevenson's clear, strong, round, toned soprano voice, used with the refinement of art, and delicately appreciative shading, made this song, as all her other numbers, a delight. She is a most pleasing singer and always scores a decided success. Her first number was encored, and her second number a selection from the opera of La Favorita, was sung with artistic brilliancy of execution and expression. She also appeared a duet with Mr. Dunn in "The Fisherman," in which there was a beautiful blending of voice and charming harmony of effect. Her duet with Mr. Fax, "Master and Pupil," was a fine example of florid vocalization, and Mr. Fax performed his part with excellent effect. Miss Stevenson has always been a favourite in Peterborough, and her last night's appearance shows that she has acquired a maturity of method and confident steadiness since her former appearances.

The duties of accompanists were performed by Mrs. T. Dunn in a capital manner, a circumstance especially creditable to her skill, when it is known that the only opportunity for rehearsal with the visiting artists was after the arrival of the 5:15 train. Few, if any of the accompanists that appear on this stage are superior to Mrs. Dunn. Last night she was much assisted by the excellent instrument provided for her use—a Williams piano, kindly supplied from the local branch warerooms of R. S. Williams & Sons, which Mrs. Dunn says, in ease of action and beauty of tone, is one of the best instruments she has ever used.

Obituary.

The death of Mrs. Margaret Matchett, relict of the late Alexander Matchett, occurred yesterday at the family residence, lot 18, con. 15th, of Otonabee, in her 82nd year. The deceased had a large circle of friends, having lived in Otonabee for over 60 years. She was the daughter of the late William Stewart, of Otonabee, one of the first settlers in the township and leaves four children, viz., Messrs. John and James Matchett, and Mrs. Deyell, all of Otonabee, and Richard, who has been in the United States for many years and whose residence is at present unknown. The funeral takes place on Monday afternoon at 1.30 o'clock.

Tuesday Night's Attraction.

An excellent company with Mr. John Griffith, as Mephistophles, will present Goethe's immortal spectacle "Faust" at Bradburn's Opera House, next Tuesday night. The play will be given upon a scale of grandeur not often equalled. New and elegant scenic effects, special mechanisms and novel electrical accessories form a pleasing and startling innovation. One of the features of production will be the Nuremburg Cathedral Choir, who will render appropriate music throughout the performance. The revels on the Brocken in the fourth act is a marvel of stage art. Its vivid flashes of lightning, showers of real fire, the dance of the demons and electric duel form a most weird spectacle. Mr. Griffith will be seen in his original conception of the Evil One. No production of this great scenic sermon can surpass that presented by this company. Prices 25c, 50c, 75c and $1.00.

A GRIST OF CASES BEFORE THE MAGISTRATE.

Tomato and Stone Throwing Cases disposed of by the Payment of Costs.

There was a big crowd of school children in the police court this morning, as it was known that a couple of cases were coming up for disposal, in which their companions figured as either principals or witnesses.

Three little urchins faced the magistrate charged with breaking the window in Mr. McCreary's window on Walton street. It seems that half a dozen of the boys in the neighbourhood banded together and as Hallowe'en was too wet for sport, they decided to hold their celebration the following evening. The little party speedily possessed themselves of a couple of tomatoes each and sallied forth prepared for anything. Mr. McCreary's residence was the first place visited and a tomato was sent whirling through his window, whilst several others fell short and struck the steps or the sidewalk. Mr. McCreary was expecting a visit from the boys, as he had been let off lightly the evening previous, and had posted himself in a convenient window to watch the proceedings. He saw three of the boys enter the yard and heard the crash of broken glass which followed their advent upon the scene. He gave chase, but with possible remembrance of sundry floggings during school hours, the youngsters scattered with such amazing rapidity that the principal was unable to make a capture.

The magistrate sized up the case as a conspiracy planned for the purpose of evening up with the school master, and gave the lads a week in which to pay for the glass broken. On Saturday next each of the "prisoners" will appear in court with a dollar bill in his pocket in settlement of the costs.

The other lads were then brought up charged with damaging the property of Mr. William Wilson by throwing stones at his door. They pleaded guilty and will each show up in court next Saturday with a dollar.

James Guerin charged with having a dog, and neglecting to get a tag for it, was discharged, as he stated that he did not own a dog at all.

Thomas Tierney, for being drunk, was asked what he was willing to pay to avoid being sent to gaol. He expressed his willingness to put up two dollars, but as he is an old resident, and was never up before, he was allowed to go.

Wm. Murphy and Ozias Lefevre were charged with being disorderly on the street. Murphy was fined five dollars, and Lefevre was discharged.

CLOSE THE STABLE DOOR AFTER THE STEED IS STOLEN

The Council Will Pass By-laws Where by the Town is Not Liable for Damages in Certain Cases.

Half a dozen sheep were worried to death by dogs in the lower portion of the town some weeks ago and the owner Mr. Ledger Letellier, asks the town for damages. He can get them, but if a by-law had been passed by the council in which it was stated as required by statute, for what purpose the dog taxes were to be used, the payment of damages could have been avoided. The clerk has been authorized to prepare such a bylaw immediately.

Another case of closing the stable door after the steed is stolen was noticed at last evening's meeting of the council, when it was stated that if a paragraph was inserted in the local papers to the effect that the town could not be held responsible for damages in case of accidents on the sidewalks that the corporation would be free from the danger of being sued in the event of such accident occuring. It was stated that in Smith's Falls this plan was adopted. The clerk was instructed to communicate with Smith's Falls at once and ascertain if such a system could not be introduced in Peterborough.

THE RAY-RUTHERFORD PARTY.

Another Hunting Camp Breaks up for the Season.

The members of the Ray-Rutherford hunting party returned to town last evening delighted with their outing near Gull Lake watars.

There were nine members in the camp, viz., Messrs. S. Ray, Thos. Rutherford, Larry Steele, Arthur Blade, Robert J. Fife, Charles Amos, D. Belleghem, F. Ferguson and Bert Brown. Nine deer were secured—just one each, which seems to be the average this year. Last season this party secured two a piece, but this year the dogs seemed to run the deer into other waters and as there were a number of hunters out with no dogs, who stationed themselves on the runway, many of the deer were either shot or turned before they reached the lake. The dogs were lost a number of times, both of Sam Ray's hounds disappearing, although he got one of them again. Mr. John Stanger's dog getting lost, struck out for home and got here safely.

Mr. Bob Fife had quite a time getting his first deer, and states that the sensation of chasing one can only be realised by experience. He and Mr. Tom Rutherford were on the watch together and overhauled a deer in the lake. Bob fired two shots at it from his rifle and in his excitement missed both times. He then picked up a shotgun from the bottom of the canoe and put a charge of buckshot in the deer's neck, thus despatching it.

Mr. Charlie Amos was on a runway when a deer came quietly walking along. He put a bullet into it but it got away. He ran across a couple of hounds shortly afterwards and put them on the scent. They ran the animal into the water, where Messrs. Fife and Ferguson were out in a canoe. The gave chase and overhauled the animal. Bob shot a horn off the buck and Fred put a bullet into its brain. After towing it four hundred yards to shore they were considerably disgusted when the owner of the dogs, which had run the deer into the water, showed up and demanded the carcase. Of course it was his by the unwritten law of deer hunters.

Miss Wrinch, of Toronto, is visiting Mrs. G. K. Martin, Dublin Street.

Mrs. H.C.Hall, Waterford, Street, has returned after spending a few days with friends out of town.

Mrs. Stenton is at present in Lindsay having been summoned there by the serious illness of her mother.

Miss Tottie Hartley and Miss E. H. Russell have returned home after a sojurn with friends and relatives in Toronto.

The Port Hope Times says: Mr. J. G. Elliott of Peterborough, formerly a local compositor, is in town. "Jim" gave his hand a bad cut with a piece of glass which necessitated his quitting work for a few days.

Monsieur Chas. LaSimple, who is at present a guest at "The Perch," was born in Cologne in 1866, and began his musical education under Panotoge, and afterwards studied at the Cologne Conservatory. He then went to Paris, where he took lessons from Ronchini, the famous 'cellist. In Paris he met Madame Waddington, wife of the French ambassador, who invited him to London, where he played before the Prince of Wales, and acquitted himself with honour. LeSimple afterwards travelled through Germany, France, Belgium and Holland, and is at present a professor in the Academy at London. In June last he came to Montreal, and has since played in all the great cities of Canada, and is greatly impressed with the musical development which he has found here. In Westminster he heard Norah Clench play, and was greatly delighted with the young Canadian girl's talent. She is, he states, greatly thought of in London, and has a bright future before her. Monsieur LeSimple returns to England in January, but expects to come to Canada again next year, accompanied by a noted German pianist.

AT MERCER'S.

The Latest Effects in Neckwear.

There is a sense of satisfaction to Peterborough gentlemen of good dress in knowing that they can procure the newest things in fashionable neckwear at Mercer's, as well as if they were in London or New York. Every new wrinkle which has received the approval of the elite finds its way to Mercer's. Among a very select importation of the newest English fall neckwear, just to hand, is the "Lombard" scarf, which can be tied either into a bow or sailor's knot. This is a favourite. Another has the professional name of the "Graduated Derby," quite prominently worn just now in the metropolises. Another leader is the "De Joinville," a dashing, picturesque scarf, to be worn much this season, made in handsome figured silk, very broad and spread out at the ends, and tapering off so as to tie into as small a sailor's knot as you can make it. Every pinch, twist and wrinkle of the genuine tied-by-hand scarf is shown. The newest linen collar in vogue—the "Aberdeen"—is also shown. This is a stylish, high-band turn-down collar, with a spruce military air about it, its peculiar high cut forming quite a protection to the throat in cold weather.

Born Hunters.

Out at Ufford, Muskoka, two little boys, aged 10 and 15—born hunters, evidently—had quite an adventure with a large buck the other day, which they discovered swimming across the lake. Piling into a canoe they gave full chase, but when they got close to the deer they found to their dismay that their gun wouldn't go off, the cap being damp. However as they couldn't do anything else, they kept on snapping the gun, which presently went off wounding the deer in the neck. By this time Mr. Deer had struck bottom, and would in all probability have escaped had not the two kids jumped out of the canoe into the water, which was neck-deep, and after an exciting fight managed to club the buck to death. A dog which fortunately arrived on the scene kept the animal in the water. There is fun in Muskoka the whole year round.

THE CATHOLIC LITERARY SOCIETY.

Successful Inaugural Entertainment—Excellent Address by Ven. Archdeacon Casey.

The opening meeting in connection with the Literary Society of the Catholic Association was held in their hall last evening. The chair was occupied by the Rev. Father Scollard. The attendance was not as large as expected owing to the various other entertainments and meetings being held at the same time, but throughout it was a most successful entertainment, consisting of an excellent literary and musical programme together with a practical and instructive address by Rev. Archdeacon Casey.

The chairman opened the meeting by a few fitting remarks after which the following musical and literary bill of fare was satisfactorily presented:

1 Instrumental Duet ..... Selected
Misses Kelly and Doherty.
2 Song .....
Miss Mary Ball.
3 Banjo and harmonica ..... Selected
Messrs. Talbot and Hickey.
4 Opening address .....
Rev. Archdeacon Casey.
5 Quartette ..... "Awake"
Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Lynch, Miss L. Mahoney and Miss L. Hurley.
6 Song ..... Selected
Mr. Brown.
7 Recitation ..... "A Legend of Bregenz"
Miss Mary Brennan.
8 Banjo and harmonica ..... selected
Messrs. Talbot and Hickey.
9 Quartette ..... "Oft in the Stilly Night"
Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Lynch, Miss L. Mahoney and Miss L. Hurley.
God Save the Queen.

Ven. Archdeacon Casey in the course of an interesting address, outlined the object of the Literary Association, pointing out that it was the development of the minds of the young men and women. It was the young men of the present day, now growing into manhood, who would be called upon to occupy the prominent positions in this country in a few years, and the question was, how were they to be fitted for the great trust that would be laid upon them. To be successful they must be good, and the object of this association was to confer good. Education was a great advantage in fitting young men and women for future usefulness. One of the first conditions of education was reading. In this age people must and would read, and an important question was what they should read. If they would not read good books and literature, they must necessarily read bad books and bad literature. Good books edified, bad books demoralized. Reading, to be effective, must be done with intelligence, so as to permit of the digestion of what was read. Bacon said that books must be read and swallowed. Books should be read that give instruction in the doctrines of the Church. His hearers, the speaker said, were Catholics, and therefore they could not know too much of their beloved Church. False statements were made respecting the doctrines and positions of the Church. To enable us to bring up good authority to vindicate our practice, we must read books by such authors as Cardinal Newman or Cardinal Manning. Selene was also demanding the attention of our young men of to-day. A warning was thrown out about putting trust in the false deductions and theories of so-called science. The beauty and importance of the study of history was pointed out, especially the history of Canada, the land of freedom, where every man might rise to a position of importance; yet how few were acquainted with the history of this country. As examples of men who had risen the names were cited of Sir John Macdonald and Sir John Thompson, with education as a foundation. Hon. Alex. Mackenzie was a stone mason, but he built up his intellectual faculties to such an extent that he was called to the highest position Canada could give. He built on a good foundation, and he has left behind him a grand name. After referring to the splendid literature of the English language as furnishing the best of material for reading, the speaker spoke strongly upon the evils of reading sensational novels, which by their evil teachings so inflamed the minds of the readers that they were carried away to emulate the bad deeds of the bad characters depicted in such books. The speaker concluded an admirable address replete with wholesome counsel, by advising his hearers to take advantage of the opportunities they enjoyed which would aid them in living lives of usefulness and good. The successful entertainment closed by the singing of the National Anthem.

The Million Versus the Hundred.

It is for the million. It is for the table of the working man. It is within the reach of all. And it is wholesome. It is healthful. It makes blood. It makes hope. It stimulates. and this is what the Bordeaux Claret Co, has been doing with its cheap French Wines. The whole country is buying clarets, sherries and burgundies now at $3. and $4 per dozen. And there is not an ache in a hogshead. The light wines of France, pure, and supple. A boon to the whole people. One can treat a friend now when he comes to the house. One can have a bottle of wine on the table with dinner, to aid in the assimilation and digestion of his food, and thus promote health. Address Bordeaux Claret Co, 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

From E. B. Edwards as follows:—"In view of the resolution passed by the Town Council appropriating money for security for costs, I wrote to Mr. Dumble on the 1st Nov. to know whether there was any prospect of effecting a settlement of the matter. I have to-day received Mr. Dumble's reply in which he states that he will consider the case settled on receipt of a cheque for the amount of verdict, interest and costs. I enclose a copy of the correspondence. As it is evident that there is no prospect of a settlement, I have paid the $500 into the Court as security for the costs of appeal."
Received.

From W. G. Allen, Joseph Delaire, Samuel Kennedy and Mary E. Bell asking for remission of dog tax.
Referred to the Court of Revision.

From E. B. Edwards, stating that the town was liable for damages in the event of dogs killing sheep, unless a bylaw was passed declaring that the application of the proceeds of the dog tax, as provided by Chapter 214 R.S.O., shall be dispensed with. The letter was called for through the reference to Mr. Edwards of a claim from Mr. Ledger Letellier of $15 for sheep worried to death in the southern portion of the town.
Received.

From John Wood, Clerk of the Ashburnham Council, stating that the Village Council would confer with the Fire, Water and Light Committee of the Town Council regarding the account for fire protection.
Referred to the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

THE SEWERAGE COMMITTEE

through its chairman, Councillor Best, recommended that David O'Brien be given the work of laying the steel pipe for the outfall of the trunk sewer at the river, and of setting, jointing and covering the same and furnishing all material therefor, except the pipe, in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by the town engineer, and that he be paid $120 for the work, upon certificate of the town engineer that it has been properly performed and completed.

Adopted, on motion of Councillors Best and Brady.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE

through its chairman, Mr. Best, reported that the committee had asked for tenders for the construction of a bridge on George at Townsend street and received the following tenders:

Winch and Grant, for masonry	$1825 00
John Hayes, for masonry	2 00 00
James Bogue, "	2490 00
W L Innes for bridge	2795 00

The committee recommended that the contract for the masonry be let to the lowest tenderers.

The brick sewer on George street between Perry and the C. P. R. station and also at points north of the C. P. R. station, will require more covering to protect it from frost than the present level of the street will give. It is therefore necessary that the street be raised at these places and the street railway track will also have to be raised. The committee recommended that it be authorized to procure gravel for these purposes, and that upon the street railway agreeing to draw the material from the pit to the places where it is required, including furnishing and filling the cars, the committee also to purchase the gravel necessary to raise the roadbed of the railway and spread it on the street and roadbed.

Councilor Cahill stated that he had opposed the project of building the bridge from the start as there was no funds to meet the expense, and the Street and Bridge appropriation was nearly gone. As the matter had gone so far, however, it was useless to oppose it any longer, and he now thought the matter of how the funds were to be raised should be taken up. The amount required he believed was $4,000. If the town account was overdrawn at the bank a bylaw would have to be passed indemnifying the treasurer.

The Mayor thought that as the expenditure was altogether unforseen that the best way out of the difficulty was to carry the account over until next year. He didn't see the necessity of passing a bylaw indemnifying the treasurer, as the town had often been overdrawn $15,000 without having to do this.

Mr. Best stated that Mr. Cahill had overestimated the cost of the bridge. The outlay would not exceed $3,000 at the outside. The old bridge was almost gone and the work was a necessity. It would have to be put in next year anyway and much expense would be saved by doing it now.

Councilor Dawson thought the bridge should be rebuilt at once, as the piers were rotten and the gravel filling dropping into the river.

Mr. Cahill did not see the use of putting in the pipe at the outfall, as the sewer could not be used this year and the expense might as well be staved off.

Mr. Best pointed out that the Peter Hamilton Company and others wished to connect with the sewer as soon as possible. Of course this was impossible until the steel pipe was inserted connecting Sections Nos. 2 and 3. If these sections were to be connected it would necessitate the construction of the bridge. If the work was not proceeded with at this point the whole of the new portion of the sewer would lie idle until next year.

Mr. T. E. Bradburn was asked to express an opinion concerning the raising of the grade, but stated that he was not in a position to say anything, as he had not as yet ascertained if he could get dump cars from the railroad with which to carry the gravel along the track to the different points where it was needed.

The report was adopted.

THE CHARITY COMMITTEE,

through its Chairman, Councillor Sawers, reported that the amount expended up to Oct. 31st this year by the committee was $1,540.42, which with the two months' salary of the Relief Officer, makes $1,557.09 expended by this committee. The amount expended by the Charity Committee during the corresponding ten months of 1894 was $1,733.78, which with the ten months' salary of the Relief Officer, made a total of $1,822.09, showing a saving in 1895, as compared with 1894, of $265.00.

Adopted on motion of Councillors Sawers and Cobb.

On motion of Messrs. Best and Denne, it was resolved that all taxes, except school, rated against the Peterborough Carbon and Porcelain Company (limited) and on the colector's roll for the year 1895, be and the same are hereby remitted and discharged, and that it be and is hereby declared that the property of the said company is free from all taxes, except school, up to and inclusive of the year 1895, and that this resolution be signed and sealed for the purpose of giving it the effect of a by-law.

Mr. John Smith, councillor, of Ashburnham, was present and when the question pertaining to the Ashburnham fire protection came up, through Mr. Dawson stating that unless a settlement was speedily reached, he proposed moving that the fire engine be sold and fire protection to the village entirely discontinued.

Councillor Smith was invited to speak on the subject. He stated that the village was being charged too much for fire protection. An agreement existed in which it was definitely stated just what the village had to pay. It had paid this and objected to pay any more. In this agreement it was stipulated that the village should have two representatives on the Town Council's Fire, Water and Light Committee. This clause had never been fulfilled, and even when the fire engine did go into Ashburnham it was often frozen up and useless for half an hour. He was anxious that the matter should be straightened out and an agreement drawn up on a new basis.

Councillor Brady stated that the Fire, Water and Light Committee would be called together immediately to confer with the Village Council in the matter.

SOME BY-LAWS.

Councillor Phelan introduced the by-law granting exemption to the Lock Manufacturing Co. and the Auburn Woollen Mills, in accordance with the proposition of Mr. Carnegie.

Councillor Cahill inquired of Mr. Carnegie, who was present, if the inducement to remain in the present premises, by the Bank of Montreal and Mr. Wm. Snowden, were not sufficient to keep the company where it at present operated.

Mr. Carnegie replied that the company did not intend remaining in its present premises, and if the council did not wish to carry out and ratify the proposition as embodied in the bylaw, negotiations would be immediately re-opened with outside towns.

The bylaw then passed through its different readings and was signed, sealed and passed.

The bylaw authorizing the execution of a contract for the erection of abutments of a bridge to be built over the creek at George street, was read, signed and passed, being introduced by Councillor Best.

On motion of Councillors Mason and Dawson, the Street and Bridge Committee will immediately advertise for the tenders for snow-ploughing.

The council then adjourned.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

HOT WATER BAGS are something more than a winter luxury—they are a household necessity. In many cases it will take the place of the family doctor, and in other emergencies it will help to check inflammation and keep the patient in a comfortable state until the doctor comes. A three-quart India Rubber hot-water bag filled with hot water and encased in flannel and applied to the proper place will relieve neuralgia, indigestion, sick headache, stomach ache, toothache, rheumatic pains and a hundred other ills that flesh is heir to.

I sell hot water bags with nickel-plated screw tops that will not leak and bottom tabs with eyelets. See them in the window.

CARD OF THANKS.

Messrs. Cox & Davis, Peterborough, Ontario:

Re J. W. Moore's CANADA LIFE POLICY No. 249.27.

GENTLEMEN—I beg to acknowledge (on behalf of the late Mr. Moore's Executors) receipt of cheque for $1181.25 in full discharge of claim under the above mentioned policy. Considering that the total cost of the Thousand Dollars Insurance paid up in ten years was only $312.00 and that the Company have added One Hundred and Eighty One Dollars to the policy as bonus, the result is most satisfactory. I also beg to thank you for the promptness with which the claim was discharged, only three days having elapsed between the filing of same and my receipt of cheque.

Yours Faithfully,
JOHN BURNHAM.

Nervous Prostration.

Cured effectually by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

His heart was affected.

"Overwork as a student at college brought on an attack of nervous prostration," says Mr. Gilbert, a railway missionary. "I was exceedingly nervous and if I exerted myself my heart commenced to flutter violently, and I was warned that even ordinary exercise endangered my life. But thanks to Scott's Sarsaparilla I feel better than I ever expected to feel, for I can now address a meeting without effort, can walk a brisk pace for two hours or more without exhaustion and am free from that distressing palpitation. In my work I have oftentime recommended Scott's Sarsaparilla, and have seen many cases where its effects have been most marked."

Scott's Sarsaparilla acts like magic in restoring shattered nerves because it rebuilds the nerve centres. Nervous headache, nervous dyspepsia and all nerve derangements wear on the system. Scott's Sarsaparilla makes new blood and muscles and strong nerves. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle. Dose from half to one teaspoonful.

FRIENDLY ADVICE.

IS THE MEANS OF RENEWED HEALTH TO A SUFFERER.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Succeed Where Doctors Had Failed for Thirty Years —The Sufferer one of Northumberland Co's Best Known Men.

From the Trenton Advocate.

Mr. John Frost's case is a most remarkable one. He is one of the best known residents in the county of Northumberland, being a retired farmer of most ample means, and having financial dealings with hundreds throughout the townships. We have known him intimately for over ten years. From him we gleaned the following facts in February last:—"I was born in England and at twelve years of age arrived in Canada with my parents, who settled in Prince Edward county and remained there for three years. We then moved to Rawdon township in the neighbouring county of Hastings. For thirty years I was a resident of Rawdon, three years I resided in Seymour township and I am at present, and have been for the passed ten years, a resident of Murray township. For thirty years I have been a martyr to rheumatism. During that time I have been treated by scores of doctors and found partial relief from but one. I have, during the same period, tried innumerable remedies, but all failed to cure me. Scarcely a month passes that I am not laid up, and frequently I am confined to bed six or eight weeks, unable to move hand or foot and suffering untold agonies. Two well known doctors told me one time that I would have to have an arm taken off to save my life. I tell you that I have been a great sufferer in my time and I would give anything to find relief. My business causes me a great deal of driving and getting in and out of my rig is agony."

Getting into my Rig was Agonizing.

Knowing this story to be true and anxious that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should have a severe test, we prevailed on Mr. Frost, much against his will, to give them a trial. He got six boxes and commenced to use them. At the start he smiled at our confidence in the pills. We saw him after he had used the first box. He admitted some relief and said he believed there was something in the remedy. He continued their use and by the time he had finished the six boxes he was as sound and proud a man as could be found in five counties. A couple of months have passed since the cure was effected and we deferred giving a history of the case in order that we could see for a certainty that the cure was permanent. We see him several times a week actively attending to his business and at all times loud in his praise of Pink Pills. All who know Mr. Frost know that his word is as good as his bond. Yesterday we said to him, "Now, Mr. Frost, do you really feel that you are cured of rheumatism? Do you feel any twinges of the old trouble at all?" He replied, "I am cured." The Pink Pills have thoroughly routed the disease out of my system and I feel a new man. The use of the pills has given me new life and I am telling everyone I meet about the cure." Such is the case, and having known Mr. Frost for years the sufferer he was, and seeing him now active, and almost youthful again, the rapid change from suffering to health seems almost a miracle. However we are not at all surprised, for on all sides we hear of cures effected by the use of Pink Pills. The druggists remark their rapid sale and the satisfaction they give their customers.

Towels at $20 a piece are among the luxuries shown beneath glass cases in some of the linen stores. They do not seem even distantly related to the heap of huckaback and damask which the fingers of the multitude handle on the bargain counter. They are as fine as silk, the bird's eye weave of the background close and soft. They are big affairs. They have drawn work as delicate as lace, and embroidery almost as fine as that on christening robes for their adornment. Sometimes the embroidery is of pale pink and blue, but usually it is in linen tints. But it would require a multi-millionaire to use them without feeling that she was committing a desecration as well as an extravagance.

Many people, when a little constipated, make the mistake of using saline or other drastic purgatives. All that is needed is a mild dose of Ayer's Pills to restore regular movement of the bowels, and nature will do the rest. They keep the system in perfect order.

No Fight for Corbett.

New York, Nov. 15.—Joe Vendig wires as follows from Baltimore, Md.: "Mr. Dan A. Stuart has just telegraphed me, under date of El Paso, Texas, that he has found a spot where he believes the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight could take place without interference from the authorities. It is situated in Juarez, Mexico. A purse of $20,000 is offered for the contest, and absolute protection is guaranteed. In case of interference we will forfeit all the purse money. Will Corbett accept? Joseph. H. Vendig." Corbett was seen at his hotel last evening, and shown the above despatch. He said: "I have nothing to say. Fitzsimmons had an opportunity to fight me, and failed to take advantage of it. I have retired from the ring and turned the championship over to Mr. Maher, whom I consider quite capable of defending it successfully against all comers."

R. P. Searle, the Chicago-New York rider, lowered the American record for 100 miles from 4 hours 27 minutes to 4 hours 22½ minutes at Louisville on Thursday. He had started for the 24-hour record, but stopped at the end of the century.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

Hair Dressing in Africa.

In some sections of the Dark Continent great stress is laid upon the proper style of hair-dressing. As it must answer for months, no wonder that careful attention should be given to the process. Women demanding such service must compose themselves full length upon a mat of reeds or rushes; the attendant, sitting at the head of the subject, combs with a long pin the matted locks that have not been under treatment for months, now and then snipping off an offending lock, to be a little later used in some form of original ornamentation quite unknown in nature's comely modelling.

To give full scope to her genius, this female barber so arranges the numerous plaits that the full sweep of native artistic talent may be amply shown. The long braids, dripping with oil of questionable fragrance, are made to form grotesque figures and shapes; and the recumbent lady must for hours be patiently obedient, no matter how lofty her social position, for a long period must intervene before she again submits herself to the severe and wearisome operation.

The Fools not all Dead yet.

Even a blind man can see that more clearly than daylight, or else why should so many continue to use ill smelling, oily, and often useless preparations for the relief of pain, when a preparation just as cheap, elegant, more powerful, and penetrating as Nerviline is can be purchased from any dealers in medicine? Nerviline cures instantly aches and pains. Nerviline is the most efficacious remedy for internal pains, Nerviline applied externally subdues the most intense pain almost at once.

Norway Pine Syrup cures Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, etc.

Knowledge.

A man may have all the knowledge that this world's life can give him, and yet not be a good man. Knowledge will lift a man higher in this world. Goodness will lift a man higher in any world. Knowledge will give a man power, goodness will give a man direction of power. Knowledge will consecrate a man's intellect to get for himself, goodness consecrates a man's intellect to get in order to give for the uplifting of others.—Rev. Dr. Egbert.

Hemstitching seems to be the one requisite to elegance in these days. Pillowcases and sheets of fine cotton as well as those of linen are hemstitched. These are comparatively cheap and the woman who watches bargain counters intelligently sometimes finds full-sized, fine hemstitched sheets selling for 60 or 75 cents a piece.

Women are not the only ones who are sensitive about their ages. A man doesn't like to be told that he is getting old. Health keeps a man young. It doesn't make any difference if he has lived eighty years. If they have been healthy years, he will be hale and hearty and won't look within twenty years as old as he is. Good digestion and rich, red blood make people youthful. Dr. Pierces Medical Discovery makes rich, red blood. It makes health in the right way. It works according to the right theory, and in 30 years of practice, it has proved that the theory is absolutely correct. It begins at the beginning—begins by putting the stomach, liver and bowels into perfect order, but it begins its good work on the blood before it finishes with the digestive system, It searches out disease germs wherever they may be and forces them out of the body. All druggists sell the "Discovery."

DEAR SIR:—I have suffered from Eczema for two years; tried different kinds of medicine. I was at the hospital for some time, and was told there that all had been done for me that could be done. I ceased treatment at Christmas. After leaving the hospital I was under the care of a Hamilton physician, but got no relief. I have taken four bottles of Kootenay Cure, and I am now well and free from Eczema. Yours very truly,

WM. MARCHAM,

Just the Thing The Doctor Ordered

When the System is Run Down.

WYETH'S Liquid Malt Extract.

Dr. H., a leading Ottawa Physician, writes:—"During lactation when the strength of the mother is deficient, or the secretion of milk scanty, I find Wyeth's Liquid Malt Extract gives most gratifying results."

In cases of Consumptive Tendencies, and in the latter stages of the disease, it will be found to improve the appetite, and promote the assimilation of carbonaceous food.

As an Aid to Digestion. Dr. C., of Ottawa, writes:—"It is an excellent assistant to digestion and an important nutritive tonic."

It has that liveliness and freshness of taste which makes it grateful to everyone, and is always taken with a sense of satisfaction.

Almost a Hopeless Case.

A Terrible Cough. No Rest Night nor Day. Given up by Doctors.

A LIFE SAVED

BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life."—W. H. WARD, 8 Quimby Ave., Lowell, Mass.

A VAST DIFFERENCE.

HOW TO DISTINGUISH THE GENUINE FROM THE IMITATIONS AT A GLANCE.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

"MAKES PEOPLE WELL."

Other Preparations Mislead and Deceive.

There is truly a wonderful difference when the pure, solid, heavy and legal gold coin is compared with the miserable imitation.

The genuine coin is passed with confidence from one person to another; all people believe in it. How is it with the imitation—that spurious coin made and issued by dark and criminal hands? It is made in dark places; it is issued stealthily to deceive and defraud; and all who are connected with the work of deception are ever fearful of the hands of justice.

The genuine gold coin has music and crispness in its ring; the base coin sounds dead and harsh to the ear.

As the genuine gold coin and the imitation differ so vastly, so also is there a world of difference between Paine's Celery Compound, and the imitations of Celery that people are frequently deceived by.

Paine's Celery Compound is universally popular owing to its great efficacy; it is hailed everywhere as the great healer of disease; it is recommended by professional men all over this continent; it is genuine, reliable and honest, and "makes people well."

The imitations, and all crude preparations, are made to sell without regard to results. Deceived buyers are naturally indignant at loss of money and the aggravation of their troubles. When such imitations are used, life is positively endangered.

The genuine Paine's Celery Compound—the kind that cures—is easily distinguished by the words "Paine's Celery Compound," and the "stalk" celery, found on the bottle and outer cartoon. Look for these special features and you will always get just what will meet your case.

Rheumatism Runs Riot

When there is lactic acid in the blood, liniments and lotions will be of no permanent benefit. A cure can be accomplished only by neutralising this acid and for this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier prominently in the public eye.

Hood's Pills act easily, yet promptly and effectively, on the liver and bowels. 25c

Acts Like Magic.

DEAR SIRS,—I can truly say that Burdock Blood Bitters acts like magic. It drove all the pimples and blotches from my face, cleansed my blood and increased my weight by simply using one bottle. J. E EDWARDS, Arnprior, Ont.

Only a Question of Time.

Mr. Bingo (viewing the table)—My dear, where did you get all these fine things for Thanksgiving?

Mrs. Bingo—You'll know when the bills come in.

One Way to Keep Thanksgiving.

Some of us have but little hearts for the giving of thanks or for rejoicing when we look back at those who have helped us to rejoice, and for whom we now sorrow in lonely desolation. But although we no longer care for the national feast of delicate food and generous wines because we shrink from the Thanksgiving toast of "Absent Friends" as from a blow, we may yet make the day a joyous one by giving of our abundance in material goods to those of our brethren who have nothing. A really good dinner to those who have not is one way of keeping the day, and the circumstances and position of each reader will suggest some other equally good, but there is one thing quite certain—that no matter how desolate one's hearth or however lonely one's heart, we all can and should keep Thanksgiving, if not for ourselves for others, and in so doing we will find happiness lying far, far deeper than the gay laughter and thoughtless merrymaking, only possible for those who have passed but very few anniversaries and who have seen but very little of life.

Fooled the Spying Tutor.

Labouchere, while undergoing his Little-go examination at Cambridge, noticed a number of dons prowling about, in the hopes of catching someone cheating. So he hastily scribbled a few words upon a sheet of paper, hid it away under his blotter and ostentatiously referred to it from time to time, with a great parade of glancing furtively around to see that nobody was looking. The trap was not long in taking effect. Argus thunderingly inquired what he had got there. "Oh, nothing—at least only a piece of paper," stammered the ingenious youth, provokingly. But the examiner was inexorable. He insisted on looking under the blotter, and was rewarded by reading, in a large, round hand, the words: "You may be very clever, but you can't eat coke."—San Francisco Argonaut.

Well Preserved.

"Did the captain of the football team keep his head?"

"Yes, his head and the upper portion of his trunk."—Detroit Free Press.

A Cause for Thanks

Fond Husband—Look hre, Ethel, I see you daily getting thinner and paler; you cannot eat, you cannot sleep, while I find life a burden to me. I can bear it no longer! Let us make a bargain. If you promise not to give me a Christmas present, I'll promise not to give you one!

An Exception.

She (gratefully)—Well, everybody has something to be thankful for.

He (casually)—Except the turkey.

Ivorine for the Teeth.

Asks only a trial. Boasting will not whiten teeth; Ivorine for the teeth does. Extravagant claims will not render the breath sweet and fragrant. Ivorine never fails to do this. Ivorine for the teeth asks for an oportunity to demonstrate its value. Dentists have affirmed it and the public corroborate professional opinion, but do you know, as every tooth loving man or woman ought to know Ivorine for the teeth is best!

Distressing Pain Cured.

DEAR SIRS,—I can recommend Hagyard's Yellow Oil for pain of any kind. It cured me of distressing pain that the doctor could not cure, and my doctor is a good one, too MRS. DAVID LABOR, Waterford, Ont.

To destroy worms and expel them from children or adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

Strange, but True

The child that cannot digest milk can digest Cod-liver Oil as it is prepared in Scott's Emulsion. Careful scientific tests have proven it to be more easily digested than milk, butter, or any other fat. That is the reason why puny, sickly children, and thin, emaciated and anæmic persons grow fleshy so rapidly on Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil and Hypophosphites when their ordinary food does not nourish them.

Don't be persuaded to accept a substitute!

Scott & Bowne, Belleville. 50c. and $1.

In the Nursery.

Flossie—It's Fanksgivin', ain't it, mamma?

Mamma (wearily)—Yes, Flossie.

Flossie—What's you doin' to dive fanks for, mamma?

Mamma (impatiently)—I don't know, Flossie.

Flossie (cheerfully)—I know, mamma. I dess you better dive fanks cause I isn't twins.

Ingrown Wisdom.

The class was being questioned on the difference between "sins of omission and sins of commission." One pupil gave it as his opinion that "sins of omission" were "sins you ought to have committed, but hadn't."—Scraps.

A Natural Inference.

Minnie—I wonder if her complexion is natural?

Mamie—Well, it is natural for a girl like her to paint, so I suppose it is.—Indianapolis Journal.

Too Particular by Half.

"It seems ter me dat folks gets mighty 'ticular about lockin' up deir ole hencoops when T'anksgivin' comes erlong How do dey 'speck hones' poor folkes's goin' to get a dinner, I won'er?"

The big, hearty, healthy man is a continual irritation to his dyspeptic friend. One man in a hundred is perfectly healthy. The other 99 have some digestive trouble, and perhaps more than 50 per cent. of these could trace their trouble to that most prevalent evil—constipation. It's a simple thing of itself, but like many simple things, it may grow and become complicated. Constipation is the root of nine-tenths of the sickness of men, and of a large proportion of the sickness of women. It can be cured. It can be cured easily, naturally and quickly. There is no reason save that of carelessness why it should cause the trouble that it does. Nature is continually working as hard as she can to throw off impurities, and to force out poisonous refuse matter. Nature is not a dray-horse and should not be overworked. Nature is systematic. Some little thing may interfere with the system, and cause serious derangement. The removal of this little impediment sets the wheels working again without any trouble.

This is exactly what Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets do. They assist nature in a gentle, healthful, efficient way. There is nothing violent about their action, and yet it is just as certain as if it were twice as violent. The use of the "Pellets" doesn't derange the system in any way, and once it is in order, you can stop taking them. There are unscrupulous druggists, who will tell you that something else is "just as good." They are mistaken—or worse. Whether they are ignorant or untruthful matters little to you if you do not get the "Pellets." Insist on getting what you ask for.

THE WHEEL.

At Hanlan's Point, Thursday, Harley Davidson took two records away from T. B. McCarthy. It was two and five miles, and the performance was all the more creditable owing the high wind that prevailed. He did the two miles in 4.20 1-5, a fifth better than his rival, and the five miles in 11.23, a 2 2-5 seconds better mark. Davidson failed at a mile trial, his time being 2.04.

The flying wheelman was paced by three tandem teams, Penseyres and Steimal of Buffalo, McCall and Gratz, and Percy Brown and Sam Gibbons.

Next the wheelmen go to Buffalo, where Steimal will try for the 100-mile road record.

The Toronto Telegram says,—Already Peterborough and the papers of that thriving place are talking for the C. W. A. meet in 1896. Peterborough deserves to have the opportunity of entertaining the Canadian wheelmen. At the annual meeting last spring the representatives of Peterborough made a hard fight for the big meet, but with influence put forth by Mr. J. E. Seagram Waterloo got the meet. If Peterborough gets the C. W. A. meet the hundreds of enthusiastic cyclists of that place will most assuredly furnish a programme that no bicycle organization could be ashamed of. The hotel accommodations and the track are also as good as there are in Ontario.

Town wheelmen will have to exercise more caution when riding on the sidewalks or they will lose this privilege which is so valuable in wet and muddy weather. Councillor Brady complained last evening at the meeting of the town council of the high rate of speed at which the wheels were ridden on the sidewalks, and stated that he had heard of cases where pedestrians had already been hurt. Although Mr. Brady may have taken to gloomy a view when he stated that he knew of pedestrians being hurt, as it is always the bicyclist who comes to grief in the collision, still a note of warning has been sounded and if more care is not exercised in riding on the sidewalks the council will probably take a hand in the matter.

CURLIANA.

The Peterborough "Colts" met in the Palace Restaurant parlours last evening and organized for the season. The chair was occupied by Mr. H. R. H. Kenner and the meeting was a most enthusiastic one. The following officers were elected :

Hon. Pres.—Dr. Boucher.
President—H. R. H. Kenner.
Vice.-President—Charles N. Brown.
Sec.-Treas.—Dickson Davidson.
Executive Committee—Geo. A. Horkins, Geo. Matthews and the officers.
Representative members to general meeting—Geo. Matthews, Geo. A. Horkins and Dickson Davidson.

The skips for this year will be the same as piloted the local Colts to victory last season, viz: Messrs. Geo. A. Horkins and Dickson Davidson.

The annual meeting of the Midland Colts Association takes place in Belleville on Monday evening next.

Rumoured Establishment by a Canadian Firm of a Branch in Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY (Special) Nov. 4.—The outcry in certain quarters against the high tariff still goes on, but it is to the tariff that Albany is likely to owe the addition of another industry to her numerous existing ones. A Canadian firm located in Toronto has, it is understood, been interviewed by an Albany business man, with a view to establishing in this city a manufactory of the staple kidney remedy, Dodd's Kidney Pills. As the business done by the Canadian firm throughout the United States has assumed very large porportions, owing to the recognition by the American public of the great value of this staple, it is probable that arrangements will be satisfactorily entered into. The annual output is very large and is rapidly increasing.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES.

The members and friends of the association are reminded of the Provincial Y. M. C. A. Convention to be held at St. Catharines Jan. 23-26. Special interest will be taken in this gathering, as one of America's foremost Bible students will be present to take a prominent part.

The usual meetings to-morrow, workers at 9 a.m., young men's rally at 4.15. Work of International Committee will be presented and a short address on a gospel topic.

The work during the Week of Prayer, now on, has resulted in several young men receiving Christ as Saviour.

Remember all the sermons to-morrow evening are to young men and in the interests of the special work for them. You cannot hear them all, but hear one.

The Stage of Convalescence.

Is at once interesting and critical. The patient, carefully guarded at this period and provided with the means essential to health, may be enabled once more to enjoy the inestimable blessing of health. On the other hand, neglect of even minor needs, at this period, is likely to impose upon him the life-long penalty of ill-health, resulting in a wasted life. The assimilative processes are, at the time, sure to be impaired, and nerve tone overtaxed in its resistance to the assaults of disease; will both sadly need impetus which Maltine with Coca Wine alone can give.

By the action of Maltine with Coca Wine upon the digestive processes, which it rapidly strengthens, and its permanent and striking influence upon the nervous system, to which it gives vigor and tone, the restorative power of the body is immensely increased, and strength and vigor come to the invalid so quietly as to seem almost impossible. Experience, however, has demonstrated its efficiency in convalescence, as well as in the various forms of which debility, arising from faulty nutrition, manifests itself. Sold by all druggists.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. XXXVIII.

Character of the Happy Warrior.

We purpose occasionally to publish in this column some really good poem or prose extract. "The Character of the Happy Warrior," by Wordsworth, doubtless well known to many of our readers, might yet be new to some. It is not only one of the most complete and finished poems ever written, but the sentiment in every line is of the noblest and most inspiring character. We do not know whether it is in any of the school readers, but if not we commend it to the attention of our school teachers, as an admirable selection for study and memorizing by advanced classes.

CHARACTER OF THE WARRIOR.

Who is the happy warrior? Who is he
That every man in arms should wish to be?
It is the generous spirit, who, when brought
Among the tasks of real life, hath wrought
Upon the plan that pleased his boyish thought:
Whose high endeavours are an inward light
That makes the path before him always bright:
Who, with a natural instinct to discern
What knowledge can perform, is diligent to learn;
Abides by this resolve, and stops not there,
But makes his moral being his prime care;
Who, doomed to go in company with pain,
And fear and bloodshed, miserable train!
Turns his necessity to glorious gain;
In face of these doth exercise a power
Which is our human nature's highest dower;
Controls them and subdues, transmutes, bereaves
Of their bad influence, and their good receives:
By objects, which might force the soul to abate
Her feeling, rendered more compassionate;
Is placable—because occasions rise
So often that demand such sacrifice;
More skilful in self-knowledge, even more pure,
As tempted more; more able to endure
As more exposed to suffering and distress;
Thence, also, more alive to tenderness.
—'Tis he whose law is reason; who depends
Upon that law as on the best of friends;
Whence, in a state where men are tempted still
To evil for a guard against worse ill,
And what in quality or act is best
Doth seldom on a right foundation rest,
He labours good on good to fix, and owes
To virtue every triumph that he knows;
—Who, if he rise to station of command,
Rises by open means; and there will stand
On honourable terms, or else will retire,
And in himself possess his own desire;
Who comprehends his trust, and to the same
Keeps faithful with a singleness of aim;
And therefore does not stoop, nor lie in wait
For wealth, or honours, or for worldly state;
Whom they must follow; on whose head must fall
Like showers of manna, if they come at all:
Whose powers shed round him in the common strife,
Or mild concerns of ordinary life,
A constant influence, a peculiar grace;
But who, if he be called upon to face
Some awful moment to which Heaven has joined Great issues, good or bad for human kind,
Is happy as a Lover; and attired
With sudden brightness, like a man inspired;
And, through the heat of conflict, keeps the law
In calmness made, and sees what he foresaw;
Or if an unexpected call succeed,
Come when it will is equal to the need:
—He who, though thus endued as with a sense
And faculty for storm and turbulence,
Is yet a Soul whose master-bias leans
To homefelt pleasures and to gentle scenes;
Sweet images! which wheresoe'er he be,
Are at his heart; and such fidelity
It is his darling passion to approve;
More brave for this, that he hath much to love—
'Tis, finally, the Man, who, lifted high,
Conspicuous object in a Nation's eye,
Or left unthought of in obscurity—
Who, with a toward or untoward lot,
Prosperous or adverse, to his wish or not—
Plays, in the many games of life, that one
Where what he most doth value must be won:
Whom neither shape of danger can dismay,
Nor thought of tender happiness betray;
Who, not content that former worth stand fast,
Looks forward, persevering to the last
From well to better, daily self-surpast:
Who, whether praise of him must walk the earth
For ever, and to noble deeds give birth,
Or he must fall, to sleep without his fame,
And leave a dead unprofitable name—
Finds comfort in himself and in his cause;
And, while the mortal mist is gathering, draws
His breath in confidence of Heaven's applause:
This is the happy Warrior; this is He
That every man in arms should wish to be.

THE NEWCOMBE PIANOS.

A Few Important Points of Superiority Presented.

The public interested in pianos are reminded that the opportunity for purchasing a really first-class instrument is brought to their very doors by the placing of our traveller, Mr. W. A. Shaw, (300 Rubidge street), in the town, so that persons desirous of purchasing a piano may have the advantage of personal intercourse with him, and of securing the results of his large experience and special knowledge of the piano. However, Mr. Shaw will not have on exhibition samples of pianos, because any extra expenditure we incur is devoted, not to the operation of little branch agencies, but to the employment of the most highly skilled mechanics in our manufacturing establishment. We employ only the most experienced artizans in the special line of piano manufacture. We have no place on our staff for inferior workmen. Therefore, the most expert mechanical skill, combined with the very best of materials, result in the production of instruments that challenge competition. The foremost position has been taken by our instruments wherever exhibited in competition with the best makes of the world. At the Columbian World's Fair the highest award was made to a Newcombe Grand piano. Similar awards were made at the Colonial Exposition in London and at the New Orleans Exposition. These awards are proof positive of the success we have achieved in placing before the public the very best pianos that are made. Not only are the mechanical qualities, excellence of finish, strength and durability superior, but the unsurpassed richness and character of tone—soft, full and pure—combine to furnish the most desirable characteristics in a piano, which is sure to give lasting satisfaction and to give no cause for regret for the investment of money in such an instrument. The purchase of a piano, like the buying of a farm, is not an every-day matter, but one that requires deliberation and inquiry, and no one should take such a step without investigating fully the great merits of the Newcombe piano, which meets the most rigid inquiry with the certainty that the result will be its selection. Persons contemplating the purchase of a piano are urged to put themselves in communication with Mr. Shaw, who will be pleased to meet them and give all necessary details. A card dropped into the postoffice to his address, 300 Rubidge street, will insure prompt attention.

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros. the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earthquake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won.

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98

SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10.

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

		Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.	SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
	SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	.50
	HAT	$2.00	.98	$1.02
	Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

FOR COLDS

No Two Alike.

The weekly announcements of "77" are like a row of raw militia, no two alike. 'Tis the same with Colds, sometimes it is a Cough or Sore Throat; or Catarrh, Influenza or Cold in the Head; or Soreness in the Chest, General Prostration and Fever; when nearly all these symptoms are present, then it is genuine

GRIP.

"77" is the master remedy for all of these conditions. Taken early, cuts it short promptly. Taken during its prevalence, it prevents its invasion. Taken while suffering from it, a cure is speedily realized.

"77" will "break up" a stubborn cold that "hangs on."

Our aim is to make our store the brightest and best shopping place in the country by keeping always on hand such goods as people require, making quality the first consideration and price the second. Knowing that this is what the people appreciate, with double our old floor space we are now in a position to carry a much larger and varied stock than ever, and keep adding lines as we see we can handle them.

This week we have added a nice assortment of Felt Embroidered Table Scarfs, Table Covers and Shopping Bags.

See the nice Embroidered Shopping Bag we can give you for 25 cents.

We also handle Silk and Chenille Pom Pons, Tassels, Cords, etc., for Fancy Work, at much lower prices we find than they have been sold for before. We also keep a stock of Curtain Poles, Dado Blinds, Screws and Curtain Nets, and have doubled our Carpet stock. We will not quote prices to-day, but you will find our values more than right.

We expect on the next train a big shipment of American Table Oilcloths in beautiful colours and small patterns. Drop in and see them, if you do not want to buy you can tell your neighbors about them.

We have something interesting for boys this week in eight or ten pieces good Wool Tweeds, only 25c a yard; men will also find them excellent goods to wear. Boys be happy, we have a stock of new Braces, only 5c per pair.

See our Astrachan and Cloth Caps at from 30c to 75c each, just fresh from the factory. We have also a number of lengths of choice imported Overcoatings to make up for whoever selects them, at prices that cannot be beaten elsewhere. We speak strongly because we are strong on this line. Perfect fit and style guaranteed in our ordered clothing or no sale.

Heavy Flannelette Night Dresses, our own make, at $1 each.

Those Dress Tweeds we spoke about a week or two ago at 25c, worth 65c, are rolling rapidly; although we purchased a very large quantity, they will soon be out. We call attention to them again, as we would like our regular customers to get their portion of them before they are all gone.

THE LOWE TROUBLE.

Military from Ottawa Now on the Ground.

EXCITEMENT AT THE CAPITAL.

An Expedition, Fully Equipped, Sent Out on Sunday—Farmers Show Signs of Weakening—Latest from the Scene of Disturbance—History of the Affair.

Ottawa, Nov. 17.—Hundreds of people assembled at the drill hall last evening, the announcement having been posted throughout the city ordering the 43rd Battalion, under arms. The regiment mustered its full strength and it was remarkable the large number of young fellows, over the actual number required, who were anxious to go on active service. The selection of the detachment from this corps, the P.L.D.G. and Feld Battery was made, equipment served out, and the men instructed to parade again at 8 o'clock this morning, but no one knew the probable hour of departure for Lowe. It was kept a profound secret by Col. Aylmer, as it was thought desirable not to give the settlers a chance to muster in their strength. There is only one telegraph line to Lowe, and this is owned by the G.N.W. Company and operated by the Gatineau Valley Railway. It was quite easy therefore, to withhold information from Lowe people. The men paraded at 8 o'clock this morning and quickly got under way. Col. Aylmer in command. The band of the 43rd accompanied them to the station. Before embarking on the train the men were carefully inspected by General Gascoigne. The horses of the Dragoons were carried in four box cars, and the officers and men in three first-class carriages of the Gatineau Valley Railway. Shortly before 10 o'clock the train pulled out of the station for its trip up among the Laurentians.

ORIGIN OF THE TROUBLE.

Bailiffs Were Assaulted and Their Official Papers Taken From Them.

The events which led up to the present state of affairs are explained in the review of the history of the township of Lowe which follows.

The township was formed in 1854 under the title of the municipality of Wakefield and Lowe. A council was elected each year and the reeve represented the municipality in the county council up to the year 1878, when Wakefield and Lowe were made two distinct townships. Upon this division the township of Lowe refused to pay any longer the tax levied by the county council although only the trifling matter of one mill on the dollar. Two years later (in 1880) the county council took action against Lowe township to compel the township to pay the county tax. Judgment was given against the municipality of Lowe. After this a portion of the county tax was paid up, but the greater proportion was not paid. Three more years passed and there was no improvement and again the county took another action against the township to the same end, securing judgment again. The township of Lowe and levy upon every of the judgment compelling them to pay all arrears of county tax with interest and costs of the two actions that had already been taken, but the township paid no attention to the judgment or its demands. A few months later the township council was dissolved, the ratepayers failing to see the use of such a body. The only course the county council could pursue under these circumstances was to issue a writ of seizure from the clerk of the court addressed to the sheriff instructing the sheriff of the county to take the last assessment roll of the township of Lowe and levy upon every ratepayer of the township by act of apportionment of such a rate of taxation as would cover the amount of the judgments with interest and costs.

This was done, but not a ratepayer of the township paid a cent of the taxation thus imposed. The next move of the county was to post up notices at the doors of churches and in all public places throughout the township informing the ratepayers that if the tax imposed was not paid within 15 days their effects would be seized upon. The county was also required to serve notices to this effect upon every ratepayer. It was in carrying out this duty that the hostilities began.

The bailiffs sent to perform this work were assaulted, the notices taken from them and torn to pieces. One of the then leading bailiffs of the county, Bailiff Flatters of Aylmer, who was afterwards shot dead near his home, was one of the officers sent to serve these notices. He was seized by the ratepayers, his papers taken from him and put into a cellar, where he was kept for 48 hours without food or drink.

Bailiffs have been receiving such treatment every time they set foot in the township on a similar errand since.

In 1891, when Mr. C. B. Major, the present county solicitor, was warden of the county, he, County Clerk Desjardins and J. M. McDougal, Q.C., then county solicitor, met the ratepayers of Lowe at two meetings, at which the ratepayers decided to reorganize as a municipal corporation, elect a council and again be represented in the county council. A municipal council was elected, and the reeve, Mr. McJaffray, took his seat at the county council board. The council decided at one of their meetings upon motion of Reeve McJaffray, to settle the differences with the county by paying all due by the judgments of the court with interest and costs. Three months after the passing of this resolution the township council of Lowe dissolved again and refused to meet their obligations. The council never was re-organized, and since that time Lowe Township has been altogether without municipal government.

The county council, however, since that time have done everything to bring about a settlement of the arrears.

The two priests in the township, Rev. Father Foley of Farrelton and Rev. Father Blondin of Lowe, were asked to request their parishioners to pay up their taxes. They did so, and the parishioners promised their spiritual advisers that they would pay up, and for a time it was hoped a settlement would be realized. But the promises fell to the ground.

Last July another fruitless attempt was made by the bailiffs to serve notices upon the ratepayers. The first ratepayer the bailiffs met, named O'Rooke, asked the bailiffs what they wanted on his premises, and when they were about to serve a notice upon him as many as a score of this ratepayer's friends and relatives approached, abused the bailiffs, took their papers from them and told them to leave the place as quickly as their heels could carry them. They obeyed the injunction. It was thus plainly seen that there was no other way of coping with such people than by force. County Solicitor Major was instructed to solicit aid from the Attorney-General of Quebec, and in response to this request the Quebec Government have sent on a squad of police to protect the bailiffs in the performance of their duties.

MILITARY ON THE GROUND.

Already the Farmers Have Made Overtures Looking to a Settlement.

Lowe, Que., Nov. 17.—A detachment comprising 112 officers and men of the 4th Brigade Division, being a portion of the 43rd Batt., Ottawa Field Battery and Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, arrived here at noon, Lt.-Col. Hon. M. Aylmer, A.A.G., in commnd.

The field battery men are practically mounted infantry. The troops camped near the bank of the Gatineau River, and the afternoon was spent in preparing for a stay. In the brigade Hon. M. Aylmer, A.A.G., in command, en route from Ottawa, baggage and brigade guards were detailed, to whom twenty rounds of ammunition per man was issued.

A special order enjoins that the troops treat with the greatest courtesy all inhabitants with whom they may have dealings.

No sooner had they arrived at their headquarters than Solicitor Major was waited on by a representative farmer and asked under what condition this enormous expense could be stopped. He was informed that unless every delinquent agreed to pay up by tomorrow morning, the troops would be divided, and the work of seizure proceeded with as expeditiously as possible. That is the ultimatum. There will be no backing down on the part of the authorities, who now feel that the time for compromise or settlement is past. As to the cost of this expedition, Major also informed the men, that it must be borne by the Township of Lowe, how each individual paid his share was no concern of the authorities.

It is believed that the sight of such an imposing force will bring the delinquents to unconditional surrender. The troops are well equipped, and therecannot for a moment be any question of effective resistance. The cost of keeping the troops here, to say nothing of transportation, is running up at the rate of $275 a day.

The first military duty of the troops to-night was an escort for Rev. Father Foley and William Farrell, J.P., of Farrelton, with Solicitor Major, and Sergt. Patry. They visited Rev. Father Blondin of North Lowe.

To-morrow will decide the issue, for a meeting of the ratepayers has been called to discuss the situation. If the majority are agreeable, and come forward with their money, receipts will be given, reserving the question of costs, since the militia were called. A new Township Council will be organized and most of the troops withdrawn. If this is not done, the seizures will continue, protected by the armed force. Settlement is more probable now than at any previous time since the trouble began.

PLUNGED TO DEATH.

A Car Goes Through the Draw of the Cleveland Viaduct

SEVENTEEN PEOPLE ON BOARD.

The Motorman, on Seeing the Danger, Gave a Terrified Shout and Jumped—The Car Went Down Amid Screams.

Cleveland, Nov. 17.—A frightful accident, by which 13 lost their lives, occurred in this city Saturday afternoon. Owing to the criminal and still unexplainable carelessness of a street car conductor, a car well filled with people took an awful plunge of 120 feet from the Central-street viaduct into the dark waters of the Cuyahoga River.

The following were drowned:

Following are the dead identified up to midnight:

Miss Martha Sauernheimer and Mrs. John Sauerheimer, her sister-in-law, of No. 154 Merchant-avenue.

John Hoffman, the conductor, and Curt Lephehne, a 16-year-old boy, who had a ticket in his pocket from London, Canada, to Victoria, B.C.

Bessie Davis, school teacher of Noyes-street, 19 years old.

Henry W. Mecklenburg, tailor, No. 58 Mary-street, 38 years old.

Harry W. Foster, clerk at the Root & McBride Co., No. 51 Mentor-avenue, aged 25 years.

James McLaughlin, printer, No. 77 Trowbridge-avenue, aged 35.

——— Ferguson.

Pat Rooney was taken out of the river alive, but badly injured.

Mrs. A. W. Hoffman and her son, Harvey G. Hoffman, 10 years old, of 158 Pearl-street.

Mrs. Staudt, 21 years old, nurse in the Northern Ohio Insane Asylum.

Mrs. Brown, No. 10 Thurman-street, 45 years old.

The woman who was taken from the river alive, was Mrs Sauernheimer, who died in the ambulance.

The accident occurred at 7.35 o'clock.

The Central Viaduct is a long stone and iron structure which crosses the valley railway and Cuyahoga River and connects Jennings-avenue on the south side with Central-avenue on the east. The bridge is 120 feet above the river.

The draw was open for a tug drawing a schooner, which was about to pass beneath the bridge.

The car was one of the Cedar and Jennings-avenue branch of the Consolidated line, and had 15 passengers, a conductor and motorman aboard. At what is known as the "derailing switch" some 200 feet from the draw, the conductor mechanically alighted, as is the wont of all conductors at this point to see if all was right. The car came to a standstill and the motorman waited for orders.

The conductor, for some unaccountable reason, failed to see the red signal of danger or the closed gates, or perhaps custom made him careless and he signalled to the motorman, John Rogers, to come ahead. The motorman turned on the electric current, the conductor jumped aboard the car and at considerable speed the vehicle neared the death trap. Why the motorman did not see the danger lights or the closed gates sooner than he did will always remain a mystery.

But the fact remains that he did not. Nearer and nearer came the car to the awful abyss. A few feet from the draw it dawned upon the motorman that it was open. With a speed born of desperation he threw the handle and applied the brakes. The bridge captain seeing the approaching car shouted like a madman, but it availed nothing. The car was already on the down grade to the draw and the brakes would not hold the car on the slippery rails.

The motorman, realizing his danger, forsook the precious cargo he was hauling and with a wild cry leaped off the front platform, ran down from the viaduct in the direction of Central-avenue and disappeared in the darkness.

At the same instant two male passengers jumped off the rear platform and escaped death as by a miracle. The car reached the closed iron gates and in an instant the crash of snapping iron and breaking glass was heard. This alarmed the conductor, who had stepped inside, and he was seen to make a dash for the rear door, but was too late. A second later the car swayed on the edge of the awful space, steadied for an instant as though in a frantic endeavor to maintain its equilibrium and toppled over. There was an agonizing chorus of screams and in an instant all was quiet.

The car struck upon a projection of piles in the abutment beneath the draw, then turning and collapsing, it fell into the dark river below, scattering its passengers in all directions and breaking the tow line between the tug and schooner that were passing. A few suppressed groans were heard by the men who happened to be on the dock below. Men from the bridge above and from the docks who had witnessed the accident called to the men on the tug to pick up the people, but only two passengers, one man and one woman, were rescued.

The news of the accident spread rapidly and in a few minutes a fire boat, six ambulances, six dead wagons and a squad of policemen were on hand. The injured man and woman were taken to a hospital and the work of recovering the bodies was taken up. One by one they were found and taken to undertaking establishments in different parts of the city, as Cleveland has no morgue. The work of identification was extremely slow. Late at night when the South Side residents heard of the catastrophe and when they began to realize that their beloved ones had not returned home, the undertaking establishments were telephoned and visited, several of the bodies being identified before midnight.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 17.—Up to 6 o'clock this evening the bodies of 15 victims of last night's catastrophe had been recovered.

At an early hour this morning Augustus Rogers, the motorman, was arrested at his home and brought to the Central Station, where he was questioned by the coroner and police. He was released on $5000 bail.

Mr. Jacob Wilcox of St. Thomas, Ontario, is one of the best known men in that vicinity. He is now, he says, an old man, but Hood's Sarsaparilla has made him feel young again.

"About a year ago I had a very severe attack of the grip, which resulted in my not having a well day for several months afterwards. I was completely run down and my system was in a Terrible Condition.

I lost flesh and became depressed in spirits. Finally a friend who had been benefited by Hood's Sarsaparilla advised me to try it and I did so. I continued taking it until I used twelve bottles and today I can honestly say Hood's Sarsaparilla has restored me to my former health." JACOB WILCOX, St. Thomas, Ontario.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1895.

TOWN COUNCIL REPRESENTATION.

To a very large extent the prosperity and progress of a town are dependent upon its good government. If we really have government by the people, the people who govern through their delegates, the town councillors, should see that the very best available men are selected, and if good men are not ordinarily available extraordinary efforts should be made to make them so. At present it seems so far as the best men, are concerned the position of town councillor goes a begging, that is men best qualified by business habits and administrative ability, are very backward in declaring their readiness to serve themselves and the town in the Council. It seems that there will be several of the present councillors who will not present themselves for re-election. In No. 1 Ward entirely new candidates will be required, as none of the present representatives will, it is expected, offer themselves for re-election as councillors, and in the other wards there will, it is said, be several retirements of sitting members. Public spirited citizens are confronted with the plain duty of seeing that proper candidates are forthcoming either in their own persons or in the persons of those whom their influence may induce to enter the field. We should certainly have no worse a council for 1896, but even a better council than that of the past year. Let the matter of suitable candidates be agitated with a view of getting the interest of capable men enlisted in our town affairs. This is very desirable, but it is not very sanguinely hoped for, till a different system of election is brought about—till councillors are elected by the vote of the whole people. This will render election more difficult; for a candidate to receive the confidence of the general body of electors, will have to possess a higher grade of qualification than the average ward candidates require Naturally under the improved system better men will be induced to present themselves as candidates; the honour of election, involving as it would, the confidence of the entire body of citizens, will be as great, except, perhaps, in name, as is that of election as mayor. Men of medium ability and scant qualifications will find the contest too formidable to risk a candidature, with the result that only men of exceptional ability will be able to command public favour and secure election.

THE GOVERNMENT NOT WORTH SAVING.

DON, of Saturday Night, is a Conservative of Conservatives, and in full accord with the principles of that party, but he has no love for the men who are at present mismanaging the party interests at Ottawa as well as the interests of the country. In the last issue of Saturday Night he says:

"I doubt if either one or two or a half a dozen of the best men in the Conservative party could to-day save the old Government club from going to the bottom, and, furthermore, I feel quite certain that neither a half a dozen, nor two, nor one, can be found amongst our prominent, strong and reputable Conservatives who have no axes to grind, who would risk the effort or who really desire the wreck to again reach port. True, there is but little to hope from the probable successors of the present Government, but if there is no other way to clean up the Conservative party and to get rid of the men who are sitting astride the necks of those who are anxious for better things, then let it be defeat, and the country and the Conservative party will be better off. It is not the chief mission of Conservatives in Canada to till the soil and engage in their daily tasks merely to keep body and soul together, that on election day they may be afforded the glorious opportunity of voting for whatever mismated and misshapen collection of politicians who, happening to wear the party name, are in power or anxious to get there. The present outfit at Ottawa does not represent the opinions or impulses of any considerable body of electors in this province except the footsore heelers who are still hoping for a job. There are a number of able and reputable gentlemen in the Cabinet who are overshadowed and overpowered by those in whom the electors have no confidence, but as it seems impossible to get rid of the rubbish without firing the whole outfit, the Conservatives of Ontario will endure defeat with considerable equanimity rather than see the rubbish remain."

ACCORDING to Mr. Foster and Mr. Haggart, a vote for a Government candidate in Ontario, says the Globe, is a vote for coercion in Manitoba.

THE Globe cartoon of Saturday representing the disgruntled ministers trying to smoke Sir Mackenzie Bowell out of the Cabinet, is full of point. It indicates exactly the condition of discordance that exists in the Cabinet, and, perhaps, unwittingly suggests something that other members of the Ottawa aggregation are more in need of than the first minister—fumigation—a very potent means of disinfection.

THE anti-remedial Conservatives, says the Welland Tribune, are giving out that nominally a mild Separate school law for the province of Manitoba will be passed at Ottawa, but that it will be only a Separate school law in name—that practically the full control of such schools will be placed in the hands of the provincial government. This may or may not be so. One section of the Conservative party is promising one thing to the Catholics, whilst another section is declaring quite the reverse to the Orange element. The one thing certain is that somebody is going to be badly fooled.

A STRIKING ILLUSTRATION.

G. M. Gardiner, solicitor, Toronto, has responded to the request of Sir Hibbert Tupper that instances should be supplied wherein prisoners have been detained in jail after it has been proved that they were suffering from serious illness. He points out that John Anderson, of Toronto, on May 9, 1893, having pleaded guilty to removing a mark from postage stamps, was sentenced to pay a fine of $500, and was imprisoned in the Kingston penintentiary for two years. A petition was presented to the then Minister of Justice praying for Anderson's release on the ground that he was suffering from an incurable disease of such a nature that life could only be preserved by the exercise of the strictest care in the matter of diet and associations. The petition was accompanied by medical certificates from the gaol surgeon, etc., corroborating the statements, and was signed by many well known citizens of Toronto, for example, R. J. Fleming, then mayor of Toronto. It was, however, refused, and Anderson died in the penitentiary, after much suffering, on Aug. 21, 1894. While he was so treated, the Dominion government pardoned out McGreevy and Connolly, particular friends and associates of the men in power at Ottawa, on the pretext that they suffered from sore ears and weak kidneys. They recovered so rapidly that they were able to attend a banquet as soon as they were released!

At Ottawa, under the present regime, there is undoubtedly one law for the rich and another for the poor.—Welland Tribune.

Our contemporary is perhaps mistaken in inferring that the action or rather lack of action of the government is due to toadyism to riches. Consideration for their own safety doubtless influenced the government to recommend executive clemency to Messrs. Connolly and McGreevy. If John Anderson had known as much about corruption funds and the connection therewith of ministers as the distinguished criminals named, and had threatened to "split," he would have been let out of jail as promptly as the illustrious political pals of the government aforesaid.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

THE CHEESE MARKETS.

The cheese markets are dull and the situation shows but little change so far as values are concerned. The demand from Great Britain is small, and the cables on white show a slight decline for the week. There is a lot of 25,000 boxes of Prince Edward Island on the market in Montreal for sale, and exporters are trying to establish lower prices. The Montreal Gazette, referring to stocks there, says:—"Any estimate of the stock in Montreal is pure guess work, but it may be remarked that the rates as posted on 'Change since the 1st of May foot up the total of 1,806,000 odd boxes. Against these there have been shipments of 1,574 000 boxes, which would give a residue of 200,000 odd boxes."

The demand for Ayer's Hair Vigor in such widely-separated regions of South America, Spain, Australia, and India has kept pace with the home consumption, which goes to show that these people know a good thing when they try it.

THE ALGER FRAUDS.

Preliminary Examination at Whitby Concluded.

BAIL GRANTED FOR THE PRISONERS

Alger Held in Six Thousand Dollars, Half of Which is Personal—Brown Said to Have Confessed that Mrs. Alger's Signature was Forged.

Whitby, Nov. 16.—The preliminary investigation into the charge of conspiracy to defraud the Home Life Association, preferred against Geo. E. Alger, Nicholas Brown and Joseph Hortop, was concluded here this evening and all were allowed out on bail, judgment being reserved until Tuesday.

Alger's bail was fixed at $6,000, himself in $3,000 and two sureties of $1,500 each. Hortop's former bonds were renewed as were also Brown's.

At the opening of the afternoon session Mr. Lennox pressed for Magistrate Harper's decision in the Equitable case against Alger. The defence announced that they would offer no evidence and Alger was formally committed to stand his trial. A feature of the day was a statement by Mr. A. J. Pattison that Agent Brown had confessed to secring the forging of Mrs. Alger's signature to the applicant's warrant in the application for the Home Life policy. The identity of the forger of the deceased woman's signature to the application itself was not disclosed.

The investigation into the alleged attempt to secure a policy on Mrs. Alger's life in the London and Lancashire will in all probability be opened during the coming week. The several charges present many curious and intricate complications, which will involve an immense amount of work on the part of Chief Provincial Detective Murray and his genial and able assistant, High Constable Calverley, before the cases are in proper shape to present to the judge and jury whose duty it will be to decide upon the guilt or innocence of the accused.

With his characteristic assiduity, Detective Murray has been following out the lines of each case, and when the proper time arrives will no doubt be able to bring out the true history of many phases that are at present inexplicable.

Agent Trull is thought to be in possession of many facts of the utmost importance to the Crown's case. Every effort will be made to discover his whereabouts and assure his attendance at the assizes when the accused are put upon trial.

Mr. A. J. Pattison, manager for the Home Life Association, was the first witness called when court was resumed Saturday morning. The application made for a policy by Alger was dated Aug. 30. In connection with this a letter was produced written by A. Brown to Pattison, in which Brown says that Mrs. Alger is an unusually good risk, and asks that she be accepted without a due bill, as the family is wealthy, and it will be a good chance to introduce our company. Mr. Pattison said that the application could not be accepted without the necessary due bill, which constitutes a protection to the insurance company in case of the death of the applicant within the time proscribed by the due bill. These due bills are required only when the applicant is a woman. In this case the time limit required was eight years, owing to the age of Mrs. Alger.

The medical report attached to the application was improperly filled and was returned to Brown for correction. Mr. Pattison said that Brown had admitted to him that many of the replies purported to have been made by Brown to questions which he as agent was expected to answer were not made by himself, but by Hortop. When the applicant's warrant reached Brown's hands the signature of Mrs. Alger was not appended, and Brown confessed to the witness that on the representations of Hortop, who said that the risk was a good one, and in order to save a drive of several miles, he got his wife to sign Mrs Alger's name. If the company had known that their agent had never seen the applicant, and that the medical man who made the report had not made an examination, the application certainly would not have been accepted.

A letter was read which Brown sent to Mr. Pattison immediately subsequent to the death of Mrs. Alger, in which Brown stated that he had been a dupe of Hortop in the matter and was in possession of information to show that the whole thing was a fraud. The witness first learned of Mrs. Alger's death on the day of the funeral, when Brown telephoned him apprising him of the fact.

On cross-examination by counsel for Brown, Mr. Pattison said that in his short acquaintance with Brown he had thought him to be upright and honest. Brown has had no connection with the company since the affair came to light.

Dr. Warren of Whitby said that it was on his recommendation to the Ontario Mutual that Hortop was accepted as agent by them. Soon after Mrs. Alger's death the witness met Brown, who told him that Mrs. Alger was dead and that a job had been put up on him. The next day again the witness met Hortop and the latter told him how he came to be mixed up in the affair. He (Hortop) met Alger in an hotel at Whitby and Alger asked him to come up and insure the whole family and the hired man. He could not accept Mrs. Alger and recommended her to the London and Lancashire. This application was refused and Hortop then, at the request of Alger, endeavored to get her accepted by the Home Life. Dr. Warren gave Hortop a general good character and said that he did not think that Hortop would be guilty of doing any wrong in a matter of this kind. John Brown, head agent for the county for the Home Life, and a brother of one of the prisoners, told of a conversation between his brother and Hortop, in which the latter said that the Home Life application was signed before it was handed to the prisoner, Brown. Hortop also told the witness then that he (the witness) came very near being into it, as he was first going to ask him to insure Mrs. Alger.

Dr. Francey, on being called, first told of the circumstances leading up to the placing of the insurance in the Equitable Life. The London and Lancashire application the witness had nothing to do with Francey and Hortop had a conversation at Kinsale, according to an arrangement made by Alger. Alger told the witness that there was $200 in it for the witness and Hortop if they could place the insurance, and at that conversation Mrs. Alger's physical condition was discussed. The matter was laid over for the time until Hortop could procure the necessary papers for the application. The papers were procured by Hortop and handed to Francey. The witness understood that Mrs. Alger would not have anything more to do with insurance, and in order to fill out the medical report without an examination, he went to Toronto and secured a copy of the report he had sent to the Equitable, and from this he filled out the report for the Home Life application and forged Mrs. Alger's name to it. The offer of $200 made by Alger was reduced to $150, but a promise was made to Francey that he was to get $1000 when Mrs. Alger died. The day the application to the Home Life was signed, the witness, Hortop and Alger were in a room of an hotel at Brougham. Hortop left the room in the midst of the conversation and returned again in five minutes with the application signed. The day prior to Mrs. Alger's death Alger and the witness talked the situation over, Alger's only regret at that time being that the witness had been so tardy in the matter of the Home Life deal, and took so long to consider the question before the application was sent in. The conversation at Brougham, already referred to, was the only occasion on which the witness, Alger and Hortop ever discussed the matter together. Hortop called at Francey's residence in Whitevale one day in July, when the application was being prepared. A signature was necessary to one of the documents. The document was handed to Hortop by the witness. Hortop retired from the room and came in again a moment later with the name signed.

To Mr. McGillivray, counsel for Hortop, the witness admitted that he had never told Hortop that Mrs. Alger was a bad risk and had no reason to believe that Hortop knew the true condition of affairs.

Mr. Lennox's cross-examination shook Francey's testimony very little. In reply to the questions, the witness said he never heard of the Home Life Association until Alger suggested trying to place a policy on Mrs. Alger with that association. He did not know Brown until to-day, and had never had any conversation with him on any subject. Francey said he would like to tell something, which the Crown attorney omitted to bring out. His Worship expresed a desire to hear what it was. The purport of the revelation was that Hortop had said that if the Home Life policy went through he was going to get a rake-off.

Michael Gleason of Greenwood swore to being at Francey's house in Whitevale in company with Horton. The witnes ebhard Hortop and Francey talking insurance, but the particulars of the discussion he could not tell.

McCARTHY AT MONO MILLS.

Mr. Stubbs Confirmed as the Independent Candidate.

Mono Mills, Nov. 17.—The meeting of the Cardwell McCarthy Association here on Saturday was largely attended. Mr. William Stubbs, the independent candidate, discussed the tariff question and other topics, taking occasion to denounce Hon. Mr. Haggart in connection with the Curran bridge contract.

Turning to the Manitoba school question, Mr. Stubbs said Mr. McCarthy and his views on this question should draw support from Reformers as well as Conservatives. Government would charge that Mr. McCarthy was trying to oust them from power on this question. Then Mr. Laurier would come into power and immediately reestablish Separate Schools. Such was not the case. Neither Mr. McCarthy nor the Province of Manitoba had any desire to assist Mr. Laurier, Manitoba had always been and still was a Conservative province. It was the oppression of the C.P.R. monopoly that brought Mr. Greenway into power. The people of Manitoba believed in provincial rights, and common justice, and it was his stand on these two matters that brought Mr. Greenway into power.

Mr. McCarthy criticised the action of Mr. R. S. White and went on to deal with the policy of the Government and claimed that everything was subordinated to the interests of party.

The nomination of Mr. Stubbs was unanimously confirmed.

About two weeks ago, the Rev. Mr. Surf, of Blue Springs, Nebraska, lost his hair, after fever, and became nearly bald. He finally resolved to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now has as fine a head of hair as could be desired. This is certainly a fact worth remembering.

KIND WORDS FOR DR. MOHER.

Good Wishes and God Speed From Trenton.

Dr. Moher, who recently arrived in Peterborough and is established at 217 Brock street practicing his profession, is a welcome and valuable addition to our citizenship. The following from the Trenton newspapers where Dr. Moher has spent five years bears strong testimony to the high estimation in which he was held both as professional gentleman and private citizen :—

"In a few days Dr. Moher leaves Trenton to take up residence in Peterborough. In his new field of labour we understand fine prospects await him. We are sorry to lose Dr. Moher. He has during his five years residence here won friends in all walks of life. He has always been ready to do his share as a citizen in any way calculated for the social or material progress of Trenton. For several years past he has rendered good service as a Director of the Mechanics Institute and two years ago was elected president, and he did the same during his term of office as Medical Health Officer. He was also a president of the Young Men's Liberal Club. Trenton's loss will be Peterborough's gain. We wish the Doctor and his estimable wife every success in their new home.

Another journal says :

On Tuesday evening Dr. Moher started for Peterborough to commence the practice of his profession in that flourishing town. During his five years residence here, Dr. Moher had an extensive practice and had the entire confidence of his brother professionals as well as the public. We are satisfied he will enjoy a large practice in his new field of labour. Gentlemanly, courteous, a student in the modern acceptation of the term, he cannot fail, thoroughly skilful doctor that he is, to succeed. Trenton much regrets to lose so good a citizen.

That the sentiments expressed above were generally endorsed by the people of Trenton is shown by the fact that previous to his departure the citizens of the town presented Dr. Moher with a highly complimentary address, expressing the high esteem he had won during his stay in Trenton and the great loss to the citizenship his departure involved. The address was accompanied with the presentation of a gold-headed cane.

THE EXAMINER cordially welcomes Dr. Moher to Peterborough and extends to him its best wishes for success.

A WIFE BEATER.

The Police were after one in the North Ward on Saturday Evening.

The North Ward is making quite a name for itself, and certain portions are credited with being the roughest parts of the town.

Complaints are received with frequency at the police station, and the Chief states his intention of putting a stop to the nuisance.

On Saturday night, at about ten o'clock, the police received a call to Edinburgh street, where they were told a man was beating his wife most brutally, whilst her cries of "murder" awakened the whole neighbourhood. By the time the officers arrived on the scene everything was quiet, and on being questioned the offender stated that he was no worse than his neighbours. For if he kept them awake one night they did the same for him the next.

FIGHTERS FINED.

They were Scrapping on Brock Street Last Thursday.

Frederick Eastland and Charles Pogue were each assessed ten dollars this morning for fighting on Brock street on Thursday evening last.

An old fine registered against Pogue last February, and allowed to remain uncollected as long as he behaved himself, has been again brought to the Magistrate's notice, and unless both fines, amounting to twenty dollars, are paid to-day, it is probable that Pogue will go up to Castle Nesbitt.

None More Pleasing.

The Van Amburgh Family, who furnish the programme for the anniversary entertainment of Otonabee Lodge No. 13, I.O.O. F., on Monday evening, Dec. 2nd, were in Port Hope on Friday evening. Referring to their programme the Port Hope Times says:—"Mr. and Mrs. Van Amburgh are first-class artists, and it is not too much to say that every member of the family is a musical prodigy. The star of the company, however, is the talented cornetist and violinist, Master Earl Van Amburgh. He is capable of producing with this instrument most enchanting music, and he thoroughly captivated his audience and was encored enthusiastically at each appearance. He is also an artistic violinist, and plays with great expression. His brother, Fred, is also very clever, and his clarinet solo received a well-deserved encore. Little Baby Bonnie made a decided hit. She is a wonder—the cleverest child we have ever seen on the stage. Little Miss Kattie's songs were also appreciated and encored. We have not space to give the Van Amburgh family the full measure of praise they deserve, but we may say that their orchestral numbers, choruses, quartettes, vocal numbers, clarinet and cornet solos are first-class, and hit the popular tastes. There is no more pleasant entertainment on the road." 1d

MANY SERMONS TO THE YOUNG MEN.

SIX DIVINES ADDRESSED THEM LAST EVENING IN DIFFERENT CHURCHES.

Ministers Exchange Pulpits and Give Timely Words of Advice to the Young Members of the Congregation.

The six members of the ministerial Association exchanged pulpits last evening, and all delivered sermons especially devoted to the subject of "Young Men." The attendance at the different churches was all very large, and that the idea was a good one is proven by the favourable comment evoked.

Rev. Mr. MacWilliams took his text from Daniel i, 8: "But Daniel purposed in his heart that he would not defile himself with the portion of the king's meat, nor with the wine which the king drank."

By way of introduction, the captivity of Judah was referred to, the Hebrew children carried into Babylon. The speaker's first thought was,

YOUNG MEN FROM HOME.

Many causes conspired together to sever the old home ties—the natural desire to establish a new home, the desire to acquire a trade or education, or labour that the home does not furnish, the desire to extend the home business to foreign or distant lands, and the discharge of duties to country, as a soldier. Such causes were righteous. But sometimes the causes were unrighteous—or when driven by force as was Joseph, Daniel, or when forced by domestic jealousies or feuds, or by the sin of some member of the family when to escape the shame they flee. Thus many causes, righteous and unrighteous, conspire to sever the old home tie. This led the speaker to a second thought—the dangers to which young men from home are exposed.

The first danger was the lack of parental counsel and parental sympathy and love. This was a two-stranded cable binding in the paths of rectitude. From home this counsel was denied them, and often the counsel and sympathy of the stranger was unwise and impure and so like a ship in the storm whose cable was broken, they drift to destruction upon some angry rock. The second danger lay in the peculiar mental condition of many between the years of 14 and 20. Many at this period of life have a supreme estimate of their own wisdom, and so consequently underestimate every one else. This occasions a great unrest in the home, the Sunday school, day school, church and in obedience to laws of all kinds. Hence the desire to leave home, if at home, the desire to quit day school, Sunday school, church, etc. This unrest by reason of their peculiar mental condition makes it very dangerous for those away from home, from parental counsel and restraint. They are likely to follow the promptings of their own mind, to form evil habits and go down to destruction. The third great danger was the many temptations to which they were exposed. Daniel had strong temptations. These were, by the speaker, divided into two great classes. (a) First those that appealed to his appetite. Daniel was a mere lad of 14 years. How the rich meats and sparkling wines must have appealed to his boyish appetites. So one great class of temptations that surround our young people are those that appeal to their

APPETITES AND PASSIONS.

Here the speaker vividly pictured the temptations of the gilded saloon, the brothel, the gambling den, etc.

The second great class of temptation to to which Daniel was subjected was AMBITION. Had he any ambition to be popular for position, for riches? All these were held up before him if he would but pay the price—eat the king's meat, serve the king's gods, and so forsake the true God. So to-day the second great class of temptations that surround our young men are those that appeal to their ambition; ambition to be popular with the world, ambition for position, ambition to be rich. Here the speaker at length showed the various ways that the temptations come, and also showed the classes that paid the terrible price—sacrifice of truth, honesty and God—that they might obtain that for which their ambition lusted. The speaker then spoke of the duty of young men when thus tempted. It was to do as did David, "purpose in the heart that you will not defile yourself." It was to say "No!" from the heart, not from the lips. It was to fortify themselves with power Divine—the sufficient grace—for in their own strength they would fail. This led Mr. MacWilliams to his fourth and last thought—the duty of Christians in relation to those young people from home. It was to open up their homes as far as possible. It was to welcome them to their churches. But it was also to provide for them a special home to which they might resort at any time. Such a home he believed the Y. M. C. A. to be. Here the speaker dwelt upon the great advantages of a properly equipped and well conducted Y. M. C. A. and thus concluded with a strong appeal first to the Christian people to assist in making our Y. M. C. A. what it ought to be and secondly to the young men to resist in God's strength the many temptations would meet. If they did God would bless and prosper now, comfort and sustain in death, and beyond the tomb they would receive the Master's "well done," and would shine as stars of greater magnitude in the spiritual firmanent forever more.

REV. J. R. TROTTER'S TEXT

was from Judges, 16:28, his theme being "Samson, his strength and his weakness." To estimate correctly the character of any man, said Mr. Trotter, we must judge him by the standards of the age in which he lived. To apply to Old Testament saints the advanced standards of the New Testament would be manifestly unjust. Moreover, to rightly estimate the character of these Old Testament heroes, we would need complete biographies of them, which we do not possess. This lack of complete data concerning Samson makes him a very difficult character to understand. Much that is said about him seems dark and inexplicable. While he possessed great physical strength, he manifested great moral weakness. A man of strong faith, yet so often faithless; his life a strange mixture of comedy and tragedy; "the judge who wrought the greatest number of miracles and yet committed the greatest number of faults." He was a rough, grim character, certainly, but he belonged to a rough, grim age and was raised up to do a stern and difficult work. God uses strange material and makes no mistake in choosing His agents.

Let the good in Samson be as a beckoning hand to cheer us on, and let his faults be as beacons to warn us from the rocks.

1. Consider the elements of his strength.

(a) He was Nazarite unto God. That is, separated unto God. His long hair was simply one of the marks of this separation. Herein is power. It gives power to any life to be separated from all that God prohibits and to be consecrated to Him.

AT MERCER'S.

The Latest Effects in Neckwear.

There is a sense of satisfaction to Peterborough gentlemen of good dress in knowing that they can procure the newest things in fashionable neckwear at Mercer's, as well as if they were in London or New York. Every new wrinkle which has received the approval of the elite finds its way to Mercer's. Among a very select importation of the newest English fall neckwear, just to hand, is the "Lombard" scarf, which can be tied either into a bow or sailor's knot. This is a favourite. Another has the professional name of the "Graduated Derby," quite prominently worn just now in the metropolises. Another leader is the "De Joinville," a dashing, picturesque scarf, to be worn much this season, made in handsome figured silk, very broad and spread out at the ends, and tapering off so as to tie into as small a sailor's knot as you can make it. Every pinch, twist and wrinkle of the genuine tied-by-hand scarf is shown. The newest linen collar in vogue—the "Aberdeen"—is also shown. This is a stylish, high-band turn-down collar, with a spruce military air about it, its peculiar high cut forming quite a protection to the throat in cold weather.

OAK HALL

MANY SERMONS TO THE YOUNG MEN.

(b) He had strong faith in God. (Heb. xi., 32.) The spirit often came upon him mightily. He had power with God in prayer. He was a terror to God's enemies. Would that there were many more like him in this respect.

2. Consider the elements of weakness in him. There was carnal indulgence. (a) This is seen in his seeking an alien for a wife. No restraint was put upon his desires. A cub bear is a harmless thing, but keep it cherished and some day it will embrace you and crush out your life. So with unrestrained human passions.

(b) He kept bad company. His relation to Delilah led to his fall. His association with evil wrought shame to Lot and ruin to Ahab.

(c) He trifled with temptation. This is a perilous thing to do. The secret of the Lord was with him and he revealed it to the enemy. Thus he brought shame and humiliation upon himself, reproach to his nation and dishonour to God. See him blind, helpless, shackled and ponder over it.

His death.—There are signs of repentance just before his death. His hair grows again. He seeks after God. God hears him. Here is penitence, and pardon and acceptance are granted him. The covenant is renewed. It is good to see this penitence before he dies; but far better had he never fallen. And there is many a child of God's like this, shorn of strength through sin, but brought back again only through bitter experience.

Rev. Mr. Trotter occupied the pulpit in the Mark street Methodist church, Ashburnham.

REV. MR. BEER

took as his theme "The Happiness of Religion." His text was from Proverbs iii, 16 and 17: "Length of days is in her right hand, and in her left hand riches and honour. Her ways are ways of pleasantness and all her paths are peace."

A very common mistake in reference to religion, he said, is that it is something of sadness, gloom and melancholy, that it has mostly to do with sick beds, death beds and the life beyond the present, and that a person who becomes a Christian parts company with all real happiness. No greater error was ever entertained, and through this delusion the devil keeps many people, and especially the young, from embracing the religion of Jesus Christ. As God is infinitely happy himself he could not but desire that his creature, man, should be happy too, and in the great scheme of human redemption he has provided that man may be restored to a state of pardon, peace and acceptance with God, and thus be truly happy. All sadness and misery come from sin, while all real happiness comes from the religion of Jesus Christ. The language of the Bible is: "Rejoice in the Lord always." Rejoice in the Lord ye righteous, and shout for joy all ye that are upright in heart. The joy of the Lord is your strength. Christ said to his disciples: "These things have I spoken unto you, that my joy may remain in you and that your joy may be full." All happiness arises from living in harmony with God as He has revealed Himself to us in His Word. In this chapter religion and wisdom are synonymous terms, while sin is folly. "Happy is the man that findeth wisdom, and the man that getteth understanding." Wisdom or religion is here represented as reaching forth gifts to her faithful and loving subjects and offering them to all that will submit to her government.

1. Religion holds out length of days. How valuable is life. How we ought to prize it. Life when spent in the service of God and answering the great end of our being is a grand and noble thing, and the religion of the Bible when properly understood and practiced is conducive to health and long life. It saves us from those vices and habits that injure the health of body and mind. It teaches us that our bodies are the temples of the Holy Ghost, and that we are not to defile this temple, but to preserve it in sanctification and honour. How many young men are destroying their bodies and weakening their intellects by the use of intoxicating liquor, tobacco and other evil habits that bring them to a premature grave. It is said that the wicked shall not live out half their days. Righteousness tendeth to life. Godliness is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come.

2. It confers upon us riches and honour. God will give to those that love and obey Him as much of the riches and honour of this world as he sees good for them, but he will especially confer the true riches and honour that will endure forever the unsearchable riches of Christ.

3. Religion directs us into ways in which we are to walk and in those ways we shall have abundance of satisfaction and delight. Her ways are ways of pleasantness. This way begins with reconciliation to God through Jesus Christ. We are all naturally out of the way to happiness. The sinner walks in the error of his way, but when he turns from his sinful course and, through faith in Christ, becomes reconciled to God, he finds the way of peace and happiness. In all the duties of religion there is happiness. God's commandments are not grievous. Christ says, "My yoke is easy and my burden is light." In keeping God's commandments there is a great reward. In every path of duty God meets us and blesses us.

4. "All her paths are peace." It begins with peace, and so it continues all through life. Great peace have they that love Thy law, and nothing shall offend them. The work of righteousness shall be peace, and the effect of righteousness quietness and assurance forever. As the paths of religion are peace, so is the end peace. Mark the perfect man, behold the upright, for the end of that man is peace. Let us thank God there is true and lasting happiness for all. While the world is crying, Who will show us any good? let our prayer be: "Lord, lift Thou up the light of thy countenance upon us." I would especially urge upon our young men the importance and necessity of embracing the religion of Christ. It is for all the one thing needful. Seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness and all needful things shall be added unto you. Yield yourselves wholly to the Lord while young and let your life be spent in doing His will.

"Live while you live, the sensualist may say,
And catch the pleasures of the passing day.
Live while you live, the holy man replies,
And give to God each moment as it flies.
Lord in my life let both united be,
I live in pleasure when I live to Thee."

REV. DR. TORRANCE

occupied the pulpit of the George street Methodist church, and in his address stated briefly as follows:—

There is no period of life, to which a greater interest belongs, than the period of youthful manhood. It is the period, when one, having just emerged from boyhood, begins to feel that he is master of himself. It is the period, when one is just about to enter actively upon the business of life, after having completed the work of preparation. It is the period of large possibilities, when onlookers pause to see what is to come out of youth's bloom and promise. It is the fixing time for life; the building time of character—the time from which the subsequent years are to derive their complexion. It is the time when hope is bright, and when the world is invested with a peculiar charm. How many are there in the world to-day, who look back to this time of youthful manhood with mourning regret? How many are there who wish that they could live over again the days of youthful manhood? How many are there who chide themselves for having allowed those days to slip away unimproved?

In the text, Solomon says, "The glory of young men is their strength."

1. The words of Solomon may be applied to the physical strength of young men. There was a time when physical strength was prized as strength of the highest kind. The fabled heroes of olden time were giants of huge proportions, the gods whom they worshipped were possessed of enormous physical strength. And in those early days they depended for success in battle not so much upon the skill of the general as upon the physical strength of the individual soldier. The men whom their poets delighted to honour were not men like Ulysses, wise in counsel and skilful in making plans, but men like Achilles, who in single combat could conquer every foe.

Now while physical strength is no longer regarded as strength of the highest kind, it is a gift for which one ought to be sincerely thankful. It is an inestimable blessing to come into the world with a sound body and to find oneself on reaching youthful manhood in the possession of bodily strength and vigour. We have read of a humourist who determined on honouring health alone. And instead of bumbling himself to the high born, to the rich and well dressed, he insisted on taking off his hat to the healthy. The healthy are to be more envied than the most pampered mass of fortune. All other earthly blessings are of little value if one has not health to enjoy them.

Now if physical strength is so great a blessing one ought to strive to keep it as long as possible. The years of weakness and of decay come soon enough in the ordinary course of nature, without their being hastened by sin or by imprudence. Somebody has said that there are few who die natural deaths, the large majority hastening their end by violating the laws of health. At any rate there can be no doubt that multitudes in their youth sow the seeds of disease or undermine their system to such an extent that they become incapable of resisting disease.

"The glory of young men is their strength," and yet while this is the case, young men ought not to glory in their strength. "Let not the wise man glory in his wisdom, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches."

REV. W. R. YOUNG, B.A.,

occupied the pulpit of St. Andrew's, and spoke from Matthew, 25:22, "The Parable of the Talents." The speaker introduced his subject by referring to the familiarity of the parable to the Bible reader, and to the varied lessons drawn from it in all ages of the church's history. The idea of responsibility, variety of gifts, extremes of character, joy of reward and sorrow of punishment, were truths legitimately drawn from the parable. Three classes of people were represented. The man of genius, whose powers of mind and heart influenced society both in church and state was the man who received the five talents. The timid, fearful man, afraid of himself, was the man who received only one talent. The man with two talents stood midway between the two. He might be described as the average man. Contrasts were seen in society as existing under the laws of a Christian civilization. Men of wealth and men of poverty met in the same society. Princes and paupers jostled each other under the flare of the electric lamp. Almshouses and prisons were as much an evidence of material prosperity as colleges and churches. But the great mass of humankind, were men who had neither poverty nor riches. Men who had the power to make an honest living. Too often we dwelt upon the brilliant successes of the man of genius and pitied the failures of the timid fearful man and forgot that, as a rule, we had to consider man as occupying a middle line.

The speaker then proceeded to point out some of the difficulties which had to be overcome before even the average man attained success, and then developed the two ideas which must obtain in every successful life. These were the thoughts expressed by two of the seven Greek sages, Know thyself and know thine opportunity. Knowledge of self was essential to success. Men as a rule did not study themselves, consequently they did not appreciate the talents they had received. Every man was a creature stamped with the Divine image and redeemed with the blood of Christ. We are not mere creatures of chance but brought into existence for a special purpose, and whether we had five, two or one talent it mattered not, so long as we filled the position God intended us to fill.

Knowledge of opportunity was essential to success. The man of genius had his opportunity. His responsibility was great. The man of one talent had his opportunity. In fact to every man was open a door for usefulness and if we employed even the one or the two talents faithfully, the reward would be ours.

The different opportunities presented were described and a strong appeal made to engage in active work for the Master.

REV. J. J. BAN

Occupied the pulpit of St. Paul's and spoke from the text: "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God." Micah vi., 8.

The young man who stands at the threshold of active life in this age of tension and conflict may well pause to consider his position. Life is before him a book, the pages of which shall be written full by his own hand, each day a page. What shall its message be? A field which bends with illimitable harvest, and what shall that harvest be? A path which trends over the future and whither shall it lead?

There are a few underlying principles which are but the base of every successful life and which through all ages are unchanging, and these we may consider as the essential things which prepare a young man to face the problems of his life, and these are most beautifully expressed in the words before us, words which be like pearls in the book of Micah, "What doth the Lord require of thee but to do justly, love mercy and to walk humbly with the Lord."

Do justly, this is the first requisition, without this no real success is possible. The desire to be just, upright, righteous, must sway the soul before a man can measure up to manhood. The path of right has been made plain and that right finds its expression in the revealed will of God. The man who links his life to right must eventually come into accord with God. This is the demand, then, of manhood, and this is the demand of the world to-day. A complete gospel visible to the naked eye in street and shop and home, in social and political life—a gospel that does not multiply creeds or theories—whose theology is a human character, and whose sermons are the words and deeds of righteousness through which that character expresses itself.

This, then, is the first qualification for manhood. The next is only possible when the first has been accepted. We can only love mercy when we do justly. Mercy is not pardon, it is not forgiveness. It may be neither of these. Mercy is that quality which seeks in benevolence and compassion the highest good of others. Having done justly we are able to look beyond ourselves to the highest good of others. How much this is needed in this dollar grabbing age, a love to help others, being right ourselves, to lift others to the same plane. The young man who has looked beyond himself to see needs of others, who has learned to live qualified to meet those needs, has solved two of the greatest problems that underlie success.

"Walk humbly with thy God." This is the third step, or rather the beginning of the third series in that progression upward to God. How well is the truth expressed here—Walk humbly, not vain of doing justly, not boastfully. A terrible precipice is here at the bottom of which the lie faddist, the crank, the theorist, the bigot and the fanatic. No life can be truly successful, whatever its great motives, that is not progressive. It is ours to walk step by step onward. No life can be truly successful that does not recognize God—that does not go on with Him.

The speaker referred in concluding to the work of the Y. M. C. A., which exemplified these principles and stood out with the world to declare itself for righteousness, helpfulness and co-operation with God.

Young men, he thought, were not to be reached by the organizations that sought for them or hunted for them, but by the organizations that welcomed them, drew them, sympathize with them and above all showed them how to do right, be helpful and secure the favour of God.

CARDS OF THANKS.

To H. J. Smith, Superintendent London Life Insurance Company, 336 Water St.:

CHURCH CHIMES.

Holden's arrangement of "Sun of My Soul" was very suitably sung by Mrs. Mein, in St. Paul's church, last evening.

Miss Montgomery took the solo in the anthem "Dear Refuge of My Weary Soul" in a most pleasing manner, last evening, in St. Paul's.

Yesterday evening Mrs. Mein and Miss Montgomery sang "Rock of Ages," as a duet, in St. Paul's church. The harmony was most pleasing.

Mrs. Pearney, of Norwood, delighted both the morning and evening congregation at the George street Methodist church yesterday, with her solos, which she rendered in a clear soprano voice.

At St. Andrew's church last night there was unusually excellent music. In the anthem "Hark! Hark! my Soul" Miss Maggie Fowler took the contralto solo in a most praiseworthy and effective manner. Mr. and Mrs. Jones, Mr. Mulligan and Miss Fowler sang a quartette, "Saviour, when Night Involves the Sky," with splendid accord and effect.

Honest Help.

Thousands of men are suffering because they lack the courage to make known their early errors and to endeavour to remedy them. Nervous weakness, loss of manhood and the many ills due to early discretions, excesses or overwork can be quickly, successfully and permanently cured if you will only let the right people know what ails you. Write to me in confidence and I will tell you free of charge how to get cured. I have nothing to sell, but am desirious of honestly helping you. Perfect secrecy assured. UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

HOT WATER BAGS are something more than a winter luxury—they are a household necessity. In many cases it will take the place of the family doctor, and in other emergencies it will help to check inflammation and keep the patient in a comfortable state until the doctor comes. A three-quart India Rubber hot-water bag filled with hot water and encased in flannel and applied to the proper place will relieve neuralgia, indigestion, sick headache, stomach ache, toothache, rheumatic pains and a hundred other ills that flesh is heir to.

I sell hot water bags with nickel-plated screw tops that will not leak and bottom tabs with eyelets. See them in the window.

RHEUMATISM
Its Cause and Cure.

A poisonous Acid in the Blood, which needs removal.

Only one means for a radical cure.

Rheumatism is a blood disease, due to the presence of uric acid—a poison—in the system, and it is only by the removal of this pain-producing poison, that a radical cure can be effected. Acute rheumatism is hereditary, and thus it is that young children are often victims to this torture. The use of liniments, embrocations and outward applications, may give temporary relief, but can never cure, for the poison is in the blood, and until it is expelled, rheumatism, sciatica and neuraligic pains will continue. Scotts' Sarsaparilla cures rheumatism by removing the cause—by neutralizing and expelling this poisonous acid. In chronic cases, this medicine reaches the source of the disease as no other medicine can. It gives renewed energy to the organs that sustain life, the forces that make the blood. For the nervous troubles of youth, for the debility that precedes old age, for ladies in their severe ordeals, it is without a compeer.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a concentrated compound of the finest medicines known to modern medical science—The dose is from one half to one teaspoonful and during its use the ordinary vocations are not interfered with.

AGED 13 AND A PREACHER.

A Wonderful Boy-Evangelist Who Makes Many Converts.

During a remarkable series of revival meetings held at Pertle Springs, near Warrensburg, Mo., this summer, a lad of thirteen years was the central figure.

He was Master Ray York, the boy revivalist, who has been regularly licensed to preach by the First Baptist Church of Warrensburg and is one of the most successful Christian workers in the state. He was converted at the age of six in the Baptist Sunday-school, and since that time has evinced deep and earnest interest in religion, coupled with an astonishing maturity of thought and command of language. On Nov. 27, 1893, Ray formally united with the Church, and since that time has been active in evangelistic work.

On Feb. 9, 1894, when not quite twelve years of age, he preached his first sermon, which electrified his audience, and which was, Ray says, as much a surprise to him as to his friends. During last summer's school vacation he did a good deal of gospel work under the direction of his pastor, and in the fall assisted the Rev. R. L. Kirkland in a series of revival meetings at St. Joseph, Mo. Mr. Kirkland pronounced the boy the best helper he ever had. The lad is a hard student and as soon as he finishes his high school course he will attend a theological seminary. He is slightly built and weighs only about seventy-five pounds. He still wears knee-breeches and a broad boy's collar. He has brown hair and eyes. His voice retains its childish treble, but is clear and strong. His manner is simple, earnest and impressive. In his work at Pertle Springs this gifted youth will be assisted by another distinguished boy preacher, the Rev. Ervin F. Leake, aged seventeen years, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Mount Carmel, Ill., the youngest regularly ordained pastor in the United States.

Little Breeches and the Telephone.

Little Breeches was five years old last week. His five years of mortal experience have included a daily acquaintance with the telephone and, from what happened a day or two after his completing his fifth year, he must be a close observer.

Little Breeches has very recently joined a kindergarten. His mother generally calls to take him home at dinner hour, but on this particular day she sent word that he would have to make the homeward journey of one square and a half by himself, as she was obliged to go somewhere else. He formed his own conclusion on general grounds as to where "somewhere else" was, so as soon as he found himself at home and a little lonesome, he got a chair and put it in front of the telephone.

When Exchange heard the call she asked, as usual, "Number?"

But little Breeches wanted no number in particular, so the answer Exchange got was, "Please tell my mamma to come home She's at Fourth avenue, two doors from the corner."

Exchange at once perceived that it was a five-year-old voice, and her general information helped her to help Little Breeches. She knew the number of the telephone from which the little voice came, and she also knew of a big house on Fourth avenue, "two doors from the corner," where the mistress of the telephone often visited. The natural conclusion was that 'my mamma' was at that very house, and that house is also furnished with a telephone. So Exchange rang up that house and gave the message.

Little Breeches, confident that he had done enough to establish communications with his absent mamma, quietly hung up the receiver and climbed down off his chair. Just then the front door opened and "my mamma" walked in. Her son thought she must be a very obedient mamma to come so quickly but as she entered the room the telephone bell rang again, and, answering the ring, she got from Exchange the message, "Your mamma has gone home already, Mr. Little Breeches."

Of course, this rather puzzled mamma, but explanations followed from Exchange, supplemented by her son's own statement of the case.

"Didn't you get any message, mammar" he asked in a disappointed tone.

AGAINST CANADIAN CATTLE.

Secretary Morton Will Not Have the Port of Richford Opened.

Washington, Nov. 15.—Secretary Morton has declined to approve the request made by the Treasury Department for opening up the port of Richford, Vt., to the admission of Canadian cattle and sheep in bond, to be exported from Boston. He states that the British Government has declared that pleuro-pneumonia exists among Canadian cattle, and that he does not want to run the risk of infecting American cattle. Under present arrangements Canadian cattle are admitted into the United States at Beecher Falls and Island Pond, Vt., in bond for export at Portland, Me. It is not clear to those who have asked that Canadian cattle be admitted at Richford, Vt., that American cattle would be more subject to contagion than from cattle admitted at the other two points. In all three cases the cattle come through the United States in cars and are not unloaded until they reach the wharf to be put aboard ship for export.

MANY LIVES LOST.

London, Nov. 15.—The Admiralty have received information that a steam launch belonging to the British cruiser Edgar was lost near Nagasaki on November 13, and it is believed that all of the 48 persons in the boat were drowned.

Later despatches state that the missing steam launch has been found. No details accompany this statement, however, and it is not yet known whether the crew of the boat was saved or not.

Horseless Carriage Trip of 960 Miles.

New York, Nov. 15.—Frank R. MacPherson and J. O'Connor, the engineer of the R. H. Macy & Co.'s Roger motor cycle, will start at noon to-day in the horseless carriage, on a 960-mile journey to Chicago. The men will run from daylight to dusk, spending the nights wherever they may happen to be when darkness begins. It is expected that the trip will consume eight days.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

Baltimore, Nov. 16.—The races at Pimlico to-day concluded with the Green Spring Valley Club, a steeplechase over the full course, and it was a corker. The conditions provided that the horses should be owned and ridden by members of the Eld Ridge, Green Spring Valley, or Chevy Chase Hunt Clubs. Only two out of the six starters went the course. The favorite, Chevy Chase, finished second to Empress, but was disqualified for having gone over the wrong course. Silver Bill, the only other horse to finish, was placed second. Nadji bolted at the fifth jump, and gave Mr. Hall a bad fall. The talent was in good form in the other races, and picked four of the five which were run on the flat. Summaries:

First race, ⅝ mile—The Sage, 10 to 1, 1; Too Much Johnson, 6 to 5, 2; Mable Glenn, 7 to 10, 3. Time 1.04⅝.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

Almost a Hopeless Case.

A Terrible Cough. No Rest Night nor Day. Given up by Doctors.

A LIFE SAVED

BY TAKING

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctors, after working over me to the best of their ability, pronounced my case hopeless, and said they could do no more for me. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which I began to take, and very soon I was greatly relieved. By the time I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured. I have never had much of a cough since that time, and I firmly believe that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved my life"—W. H. WARD, 8 Quimby Ave., Lowell, Mass.

OSCULATORY EXERCISES.

Every Variety of Osculation May be Witnessed When a Big Steamer Comes In.

Right or wrong, everybody likes to see kissing—that is, everybody who isn't soured on life. The sight isn't equal to the act, but, nevertheless, it is a cheering sight. There are places in this city where every variety of osculatory salutation can be witnessed several times a week.

It is on the pier when some big ocean steamship comes in that this delicious drama is played. This is the time of the year when those who have been doing Europe hie themselves homeward, and when their brothers and other fellows' brothers, their husbands, sisters and friends gather on the pier to welcome them, and, finding language inadequate, do just what Adam and Eve would have done under similar circumstances.

The end of the pier is packed with as happy an aggregation of mortals as can be found anywhere. Out in midstream is the big, black hulled steamer. Nearly everybody on the pier is going to kiss somebody on the steamer, and vice versa, and in most instances the exchange will not be limited. Pleasureable expectancy makes everybody good natured. The crowd doesn't mind having its toes trod upon or its elbows jostled.

Pushed and pulled by panting little tugs the ocean leviathan, itself powerless and unwieldy, crawls toward the pier. At length she gets near enough for recognitions to be exchanged. Handkerchiefs are waved frantically. Kisses are wafted across the intervening space. Greetings are hurled from shore to ship and from ship to shore. Everybody is in a tight place, but nobody can keep still. Women on pier and on steamer jump and clap their hands ecstatically.

It takes an awful long time to get the big steamship snug alongside of the pier. It is deliciously tantalizing to those who are impatiently waiting to rush into one another's arms. But it gives the more spectator, who has no such reason for impatience, time to observe that there are some stunning girls on board that steamship. The glow of health is on their cheeks and the light of love in their eyes, and they look their prettiest because in the excitement they forget themselves entirely. The breeze toys with bangs, whisk veils aside and sets their hair adrift. But their eyes are on "Tom," or "Harry," or "Charley," on the pier and they are oblivious to such trifles. They won't be so tomorrow; they will be just like other girls then, but now they are different and that very difference makes them so attractive, and makes you wish that you were "Tom," or "Harry," or "Charley."

The steamship is made fast to the pier at last, the pudgy tugs scurry off in search of others, the gangplank is swung out, and the race to get the first kiss begins.

A man starts in the lead; he is halfway down when a puff of wind lifts his hat; he pauses to clutch it and loses the race. A superb brunette, with hat securely moored, darts by, and in another moment is embraced by stalwart arms, and two spirits have "rushed together at the touching of the lips." Nor do they mind who sees it, and the spectator looks on without compunctions of conscience.

In a moment the osculatory engagement becomes general. It is kisses to right of you and kisses to left of you. You can't see them all, can't see one-tenth of them, but the regret vanishes when you recollect that it will be practically repeated two or three times a week for a month to come, so that you can come again and see what you missed the first time because nature limits you to one pair of eyes.

All the world loves a lover—or ought to—and naturally the kisses which lovers exchange interest one most. There is something about them—the look which accompanies them, the blush which acknowledges them—by which they are recognized and classified. But perish the thought that they are the only kind of kisses worth seeing. There an old man, with the snows of winter on his head but eternal spring in his heart, kisses a white-haired lady. And the way he does it and the way she receives it and returns it tells a story of mutual devotion and loyalty that has stood the test of two score years or more, and makes you feel like taking off your hat.

There are kisses between mothers and their children, and brothers and sisters, and girls and girls—sweet and wholesome to look on, and sufficient in themselves to make a misanthrope revise his miserable philosophy and acknowledge that there is genuine happiness in this world and much to make life worth living.

Osculation continues unrestrained for half an hour or more. There is contagion about it. It makes you feel like kissing somebody yourself. It almost prompts you to go up to some girl and say, "Pardon me, but I am a stranger here and there is no one to kiss me. Don't you feel sorry, and won't you try to console me?"

But the rules of polite society forbid it, and, if they didn't, "Tom," or "Charley," or "Harry" would have something to say that wouldn't be a bit pleasant.

But if you are of Anglo Saxon blood there is one species of osculation you witness which, instead of exciting your envy, merely causes your risible muscles to twitch. That is when two bearded foreigners exchange "plumpers." Of course, there is no accounting for taste, but that is a sort of taste you can't understand. Possibly it can be acquired.—New York Herald.

Faith, Hope, Charity.

"Without faith it is impossible to please God." Heb. chap. 11th, vi. verse.

While faith is the fundamental principle of religion, hope is the food of the soul, and charity is the honey which sweetens the heart, and the three combined are the bulwarks of Christianity. As faith is essential to salvation, so also is charity necessary for the accomplishment of God's will, while, as St. Paul tells us that, "Through faith we glory in the hope of the glory of the Son of God." Faith comes to us by knowledge, and is strengthened or weakened according to the guidance of passion. It is a gift of God, and as such should be treasured with the greatest care. True faith begets firm hope, and inspires an ardent charity, while all three enriches the soul, making it zealous for the honor and glory of God, and its own sanctification, makes it ambitious by its yearning for supernatural happiness, and inflames it with a Christian ardor. The Christian's duty not only consists in attaining a knowledge of God but loving and serving Him; indeed St. Paul assures us that "faith without good works availeth nothing," so that it is just as essential to practise as it is to profess faith, and Jesus Christ Himself tells us that the great commandment of the law is: "To love the Lord thy God with thy whole soul and with thy whole heart and with thy whole mind and with thy whole strength," which we can only do by obeying Him in all things and so merit the glory of the blessed, the end for which we were created.—Francis S. Mitchell.

Catarrh in the Head

Is due to impure blood and cannot be cured with local applications. Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured hundreds of catarrh because it purifies the blood and in this way removes the cause of the disease. It also builds up the system and prevents attacks of pneumonia, diphtheria and typhoid fever.

Hood's Pills become the favorite cathartic with everyone who tries them. 25c.

CONSUMPTION

IT has been held that consumption is hereditary, and the fact that one person of a family had died with consumption was considered a sure sign that others of that family could not escape it. This is partly true and partly untrue. A man with weak lungs is likely to transmit that weakness to his children. But there is no reason in the world why the weakness should be allowed to develop. There is no reason why the lungs should remain weak. Weak lungs predispose a child to consumption. They provide a place for germs to settle. That is all that is necessary. Once let the germs of disease gain a foot-hold, and they increase with a deadly rapidity. Pretty soon the blood is full of them, and so loses its healthfulness and its strength-giving qualities. If the weakness is in some other organ, the disease will show itself in that organ. The germs will get into the blood, just the same, and the body will begin to lose strength. We speak particularly of consumption because it is most common—because it causes more than one-sixth of all deaths in the world.

If there is a weak and crumbly spot in the foundation of a house, the owner clears out the decaying material, supplants it with new, strong stuff. That's all there is to do. That's all that's necessary.

That is exactly the thing to do with the lungs. Keep them full of rich, red, wholesome blood, and the weakness will disappear. Decaying tissues will be thrown off, and new material will be added until the lungs are well and perfectly strong again. This is the thing that Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery does. This is what makes it cure 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption where it is taken according to directions. It searches out disease germs wherever they may be in the body. It exterminates them completely and forces them out of the system. It supplies the blood with rich, life-giving properties. It makes the appetite good, digestion perfect. It supplies the needed nutriment to all the tissues and makes sound, healthy flesh.

There are some interesting facts about it told in one chapter of Dr. Pierce's great work, "Common Sense Medical Adviser." This book of 1008 pages will be sent free on receipt of thirty-one (31) one-cent stamps to cover cost of customs and mailing only. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main Street, Buffalo N. Y.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from seven prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.38	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.68	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Common Colds.

Never neglect the kidneys when you have a cold.

The diseases that kill—those the doctors shake their heads at—all commence with a cold.

Bright's disease, diabetes, paralysis and female troubles all commence with a cold.

From the first sneeze, at any stage, Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure.

It is not the cold that gives you an attack of rheumatism.

It is the impure blood caused by a derangement of the kidneys, caused by a cold.

Of course the cold gets to your joints and muscles, but it is by way of the blood.

The kidneys stand guard to keep out these poisons which cause rheumatism, or any other of the many effects of a cold.

Now, when you have a cold, take Dodd's Kidney Pills.

You can knock it out quicker with Dodd's Kidney Pills than anything else you ever saw.

It is so much better to prevent than to cure serious disease.

For a long siege of disease weakens the defences.

And life is worth saving.

We are preparing a medal to be worn by those who have been saved by using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

It will require thousands to give each person one.

CHANDOS.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A very sad and fatal accident occured at Clydesdale last Monday. As Mr. Barney Long was entering his stable, one of his horses kicked him and knocked him backwards. His cry of anguish brought his brother to his assistance. He was carried to the house, and Dr. Fitzgerald of Coe Hill was summoned, but despite the fact that everything was done to relieve him, his injuries proved fatal and he died near midnight. He was a young man who led an exemplary life, and had a wide circle of friends, and the large number who followed his remains to the Roman Catholic cemetery, testified to the respect in which he was held by the community.

What might have proved a serious accident happened to Maurice Hobbins, Wednesday. He was out hunting and as he fired off a shot, the gun, which was an old one, burst in his hands, but beyond a severe fright, Maurice escaped unhurt.

Out of Tooth Powder!

Then get the best. The best is Ivorine. "Best" because it whitens the teeth and does not destroy the enamel. Good as the best in fragrance and cleansing and polishing properties. Better than most, as it contains no acids to destroy. Better than all because pleasant, fragrant, cleansing, and whitening, all the good qualities combined. Ivorine for the teeth can claim to be the best.

COLDSPRINGS—OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The union Sunday school here held a free social in the school house on Friday evening. The people took this means to say good-bye to Mr. W. Matchett, who has so ably filled the position of Superintendent of the Sunday school and who has severed his connection with the Sunday school on account of his removal to Peterborough. The chair was taken by the present superintendent, Mr. H. P. Kennedy. The following short, but choice, programme was rendered:

Opening hymn......"All Hail the power"
Prayer.....Mr W Matchett
Instrumental....Miss Robertson and Messrs [W Robertson, M Kennedy, C and W Sisson
Reading.....Lorne Brooks
Mouth organ and autoharp selection....Messrs [M Kennedy and W Robertson
Reading.....Miss L Bennett
Club swinging.....Miss E Long

Mr. Matchett was then asked to come up to the platform and Mr. H. P. Kennedy spoke in very high terms of his services as superintendent of the Sunday school, and also of the loss which would be sustained by this class, which he had so ably taught for the last seven years. He then said the Sunday school wanted to make some more material expression of their feelings and so asked him to accept a cane as a slight token of their appreciation of his services. Miss Bennett then presented him with a beautiful gold-headed cane, with a neat inscription.

Mr. Matchett responded in very touching terms to Mr. Kennedy's address. He reviewed briefly his connection with the school, and also humourously referred to his early connection with the day school. He said he would always prize the beautiful memento which they had presented to him.

The ladies then took charge of the meeting and served cake, coffee and fruit, and a very social time was spent.

The chairman called the meeting to order again. Mr. J. H. Beer then spoke very highly of his connection with Mr. Matchett, and also expressed a wish that Mr. Matchett would still ally himself with Sunday school work, in which he had been so successful in the past.

After a well-rendered autoharp and mouth organ selection by Messrs. H. P. Kennedy, W. Robertson and M. Kennedy a most enjoyable evening was brought to a close by all singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds," and prayer by the chairman.

Mr. Matchett's removal required a rearrangement of the officers and teachers and a meeting called by the late Superintendent, the following teachers and officers were elected:

Sup't—H. P. Kennedy.
Sec.-Treas.—Miss L. Bennett.
Home Class Sec.—Miss M. Mann.
Primary Class—Miss C. Robertson.
Primary Class No. 2—Miss J. Ambrose.
Intermediate Boys' Class—Miss J. Gillespie.
Intermediate Girls' Class—Mrs. Sisson.
Young Men's Bible Class — Miss L. Bennett.
Young Ladies' Bible Class—Mr. H. P. Kennedy.

The annual Christmas entertainment will be held on Monday, Dec. 23. A choice programme is being prepared and no pains will be spared to make it a decided success.

It is in the Nature of Things.

That, as age advances with its concomitants of wear and tear, some parts of the delicate machinery of the body, upon which health and vigor depend, should suffer derangement. Feelings of weariness, listlessness, or despondency are the signals that Nature throws out to warn, and woe to him who neglects these warnings, for severe are the penalties she exacts. To quicken into new vigor the failing energies; to impart; with certainty, tone to the nervous system, to renew its one time force; these are the special tendencies of the wontrous tonic and nutrient, Maltine with Coca Wine. It gives strength to the nervous system and is thus a "nerve restorer;" it increases nutrition, and is, therefore a "body-builder." Maltine with Coca Wine, by its power to add to nerve force and to increase weight, will be found by debilitated and weak a veritable "life-giver." Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine Its composition may be known to you, as it has long been known and subscribed to by the medical profession. Maltine with Coca Wine gives strength, vigor and health. Sold by all druggists.

THE HYAMS TRIAL.

Nothing Particularly New in Saturday's Proceedings Mrs. Aylesworth on the Stand.

Toronto, Nov. 18.—The second week of the Hyams trial drew to a close on Saturday and although the taking of Crown testimony has already lasted longer than it did at the previous trial, the lengthy medical testimony is yet to be heard; nor have all the witnesses as to fact been examined. On Saturday Mr. Osler brought out two points which are not novel but extremely important in proving the ingenious modus operandi with which the Crown credits the twins, in bringing about the alleged murder of Willie Wells.

The prisoners could profit by the death of the boy to any considerable extent only by the marriage of Harry Hyams to Martha Wells; therefore, says the Crown, the twins theorized that an active motive could only be proven against Harry and it was arranged that Dallas should do the deed and Harry should prove an alibi. Two of the witnesses put into the box on Saturday swore that in all the stories told by the Hyamses immediately after the death of Wells, it was alleged that Dallas was present in the Colborne-street warehouse and was fixing the elevator when the weight dropped and killed Wells. Mrs. Aylesworth received this explanation and Miss Latimer, the typewriter for the firm at the time, also learned so from the lips of H. P. Hyams. The defence's present position is that neither brother was present when that tragic event occurred.

Mrs. Aylesworth's testimony proved important in another respect, it showed the tremendous efforts that Harry Hyams made to secure the hand and heart of Martha Wells after she had become an heiress. His appeals were so earnest that Mrs. Aylesworth herself was touched and Martha finally broke down and married him. All through the telling of her story the little brunette sister of the dead lad frequently broke into tears, as she recalled his end. She showed also a feminine tendency to tell her story in a roundabout way and had to be expostulated with by the judge at the instance of the counsel for the defence, who objected to certain allusions likely to prejudice the jury. Miss Mabel Latimer, on the contrary, proved the best of witnesses, calm and self-possessed, having as she admitted refreshed her memory with notes taken at her previous examinations. Even His Lordship was roused to admiration by her precision and beamed down at her.

His Lordship manages to brighten considerably the dull, tedious episodes of the case by the humor with which he seizes a point and comments on it. His extreme fairness in permitting nothing to be said which is likely to draw a herring across the trail is most commendable and the defence never fails to secure a ruling if the point is well taken. On Saturday the requests for rulings were as frequent as ever.

Another notable aspect of the case against the twins was entered upon on Saturday, when the money-lenders Grandidge and Macpherson were put into the box to show that during the months in which the twins were anxious to carry a heavey burden in insurance premiums they were so hard up as to be in the habit of borrowing money at 2 per cent. a month. New testimony as to the wound over the left eye and the uselessness of the labors performed in connection with the alleged business enterprise on Colborne-street was introduced as well.

The entire change which has taken place in Mrs. H. P. Hyams since the last trial was exemplified in the attempt to examine her lawyer, Mr. Smoke, as to his knowledge of the affairs of his client and her husband. Although she testified herself last time and allowed Mr. Smoke to do so, she has now withdrawn her permission with the words, "Please do not testify."

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros. the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earthquake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won.

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98

SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10.

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.		Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
	SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
	SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	50
	HAT	$2.00	98	$1.02
	Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

Nervous Prostration

It is now a well established fact in medical science that nervousness is due to impure blood. Therefore the true way to cure nervousness is by purifying and enriching the blood. The great blood purifier is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this letter:

"For the last two years I have been a great sufferer with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart. I was weak in my limbs and had smothered sensations. At last my physician advised me to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did, and I am happy to say that I am now strong and well. I am still using Hood's Sarsaparilla and would not be without it. I recommend it to all who are suffering with nervous prostration and palpitation of the heart." MRS. DALTON, 56 Alice St., Toronto, Ontario. Get Hood's, because

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE ELECTIONS.

The Dominion Government will in the course of a few months—more or less—the exact date is locked in their chaste bosoms—make an appeal to the people of Canada for a renewal of the trust they are now charged with. One would naturally inquire upon what grounds they can base such an appeal. Is it upon the grounds that they have run up the national debt to the enormous sum of two hundred and fifty-two millions of dollars? That they, the present Conservative Government have added one hundred millions of that debt within the past seventeen years? That the huge sum of ten millions dollars a year is required to pay the interest alone on our debt? Think of it; it means the people of Canada are compelled to pay $30,000 a day for interest, which further means that the hard paid taxes of the people are poured out at the rate of $1000 an hour to pay interest on the public debt. It is true that some of the debt was incurred in the construction of important and necessary public works, but it is also true that millions of this debt represents stealings from boodled public works—stealings used as corruption funds to maintain the present government in power. Hard working taxpayers, who have further hard work to make ends meet, don't you think the high tariff pistol has been at your temple long enough? The taxes you pay with so much sacrifice are, to a large extent, squandered, stolen or devoted, not for your benefit, but for the purpose of rivetting the shackles of unjust and burdensome taxation upon you for another five years. Think of the record of the Government and then decide whether your vote will be cast to perpetuate a rule that is marked at every step with wanton waste, excuseless extravagance and appalling corruption. Are your present rulers worthy of another lease of power at your hands? Think the matter over quietly, not as a party man, but as a patriotic Canadian, anxious for the full development of the magnificent resources of this country, untrammelled by the gigantic incubus, represented by our present corrupt and reckless rulers. We need a change.

NEW PARTY NAMES.

The Woodstock Sentinel-Review is agitating in favour of changing the name of the Liberal party, and advances many reasons deserving of respectful consideration, but the Conservative party seems to need a change in its nomenclature very badly. The party is so split, fissured, ramified and complicated that no one name will serve to designate the various factions. The situation in Cardwell, as indicated by a special despatch to the Globe, presents the spectacle of so many stripes and shades of Conservative element as to suggest Joseph's coat of many colours. The despatch, speaking of the situation in Cardwell, after referring to the political unity that used to mark that riding, says: "Down to the death of Sir John Macdonald there was one banner alike for the men of Mono and of Adjala. It was afterwards, and upon the events which followed, that divisions and dissensions showed themselves, and the party was broken into Thompson Conservatives and McCarthy Conservatives. Since Sir John Thompson's death the divisions, instead of being healed, have been increased in number, until in the present election we hear of McCarthy Conservatives, Bowell Conservatives and Wallace Conservatives." And this division is creditable to the Conservative party. The action of the present ministry is such as no patriotic self-respecting Conservative can tolerate. They are not to blame for their repudiation of the present government, and their condemnation of its corrupt, shuffling, imbecile courses. This very revolt is highly creditable to the rank and file of the Conservative party. Their party loyalty strong as it is, cannot stand the strain of supporting the vacillating policy of the present government. It will be a sad day for Canada and a hopeless one when either Liberals or Conservatives are so infected with purblind partyism that they cannot break away from party attachments upon as strong provocation as that presented by the record of the present incapable and corrupt cabinet at Ottawa.

We shall now learn from the stumpers what the N. P. has done for the county of Ontario, where the increase of population has been only one-tenth of one per cent. in the past ten years. The first bye-election is booked for North Ontario, nominations Dec. 5th, polling Dec. 12th. The Liberals have their candidates already on the field. The Conservative or, rather, government, standard bearer has not yet been chosen.

DR. BARNARDO'S HOMES.

The Annual Report—An Interesting Record of a Great Philanthropic Work—Increasing Effectiveness and Encouraging Progress.

We have received the twenty-ninth annual report of Dr. Barnardo's Homes, covering the year 1894. In a note to the reader Dr. Barnardo explains that much delay has arisen owing to his serious and sudden illness in the course of the summer. Delay, however, may well be excused when the full and detailed nature of the document is borne in mind. It is a report which belies the usual character of reports for it is eminently readable and interesting, while its voluminous and widely varied details may well excite astonishment at the extent of the work with which it deals. If they are still (and there seem to be) multitudes of children who need a friend and protector, here certainly are agencies which are obviously straining every nerve to meet the difficulties and necessities of the case. Surely society owes a debt of gratitude to her Preventive and Red Cross Institution. The work of "Dr. Barnardo's Homes" appears during 1894 to have gone forward steadily and solidly, if not by leaps and bounds. They have under their care little short of 5,000 children of all ages, from babies to big youths. They dealt with in the year no fewer than 12,393 cases, of whom 7,999 were fresh applications. Ninety-six of the children admitted were infants in arms, and fifty-two were incurable, physically disabled and blind or deaf mutes. Free lodgings were supplied to otherwise homeless young street wanderers to the large number of 14,806, and free rations to the number of 128,261. It is remarkable to observe that, out of a total of 6,673 children in the Homes at one time and another during the year, only twenty-four deaths occurred, which works out at an annual death rate of about 3½ per 1,000. 724 trained and tested boys and girls were emigrated to the Colonies, making a total of 7,310 emigrants in all. One of the most interesting features of the report is the conclusive evidence it furnishes of the extraordinary success which has attended the emigration efforts of the Homes. Not only are the failures practically a negligeable quantity (about one per cent), but the letters which are quoted from the young colonists themselves testify abundantly to the contentment which has followed their transplantation from slumland to the west. Ample material furnished to a reader to form his own conclusions in the numerous case records and personal letters which are published. We cordially commend the publication to the notice of our readers. A copy will be sent to any one supplies his or her name and address to the Secretary at the Head Offices of the Homes, 18 to 26 Stepney Causeway, London, E. Of course the work is solely supported by voluntary contributions, and we are sure that for the support of his 5,000 boys and girls Dr. Barnardo will be glad to receive also any message of practical sympathy from any who are interested in his well known labours. It is worthy of note that 60 per cent. of last year's admissions were from the provinces; so that the Homes are by means to be reckoned as a merely Metropolitan Charity.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

The following extract from the Act setting forth the powers possessed by the Children's Aid Society, throws light on a subject regarding which many people are still in the dark:

Officers of any Children's Aid Society duly approved by the inspector or superintendent may be authorized by boards of police commissioners in cities and towns having such boards, and by the mayors and reeves of other municipalities to act as constables for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of this or the Industrial Schools Act, and such officers may apprehend without warrant and bring before the judge as neglected any child apparently under the age of fourteen years, if a boy, or sixteen years, if a girl, who comes comes within any of the following descriptions, namely:

1. Who is found begging or receiving alms or thieving in any street, thoroughfare, tavern or place of public resort, or sleeping at night in the open air;

2. Who is found wandering about at late hours and not having any home or settled place of abode, or proper guardianship;

3. Who is found associating or dwelling with a thief, drunkard or vagrant, or who by reason of the neglect or drunkenness or other vices of the parents is suffered to be growing up without salutary parental control and education, or in circumstances exposing such child to an idle and dissolute life;

4. Who is found in any house of ill-fame, or in company of a reputed prostitute;

5. Who is found destitute, being an orphan or having a surviving parent who is undergoing imprisonment for crime. 58 Vict., chap. 52.

RAILWAY CONSOLIDATION

By Which a New Connection is Made Between Canada and the States.

Albany, N.Y., Nov. 18.—There were filed to-day with the Secretary of State the certificates of consolidation of the Malone and St. Lawrence Railway Company, and the St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railway Company. The new company takes the name of the St. Lawrence and Adirondack Railway Company, and proposes to run from Malone, Franklin County, New York State, to a point near the the village of Salaberry de Valleyfield, in Quebec. The new company merges the capital stock of the two companies and secures the capital stock of $590,000. The capital stock of the New York company was $[illegible] and that of the Canadian company $[illegible],000.

The following are the officers of the new company: President, W. S. Webb; vice-president, Chauncey M. Depew; secretary, Henry L. Sprague; treasurer, Frank G. Smith. The directors of the company are W. S. Webb, Chauncey M. Depew, Edgar Van Etten, John Jacob Astor, Frank G. Smith, Charles H. Burnett, Henry L. Sprague of New York city; Martin E. McClary of Malone, and Edward C. Smith of St. Albans, Vt.

The company will maintain an office in Montreal, and will hold its first annual meeting in April, 1896.

THE ONLY HELP.

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

THE GAUTHER CASE.

This Time Rheumatism is Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Up the Opeongo—A Frenchman Uses This Great Kidney Treatment and is Cured of Kidney Disease.

Special to the Examiner.

Brudenell, Nov. 19.—Investigation having proved the case of Elie Gauthier of sufficient public interest, your correspondent found this gentleman at a leading hotel here. Explaining the object of his call, he induced him to talk of his cure.

"Yes, sare, I am Monsieur Gauthier."—This in a decided French accent. "I was suffare veray much of rheumatic."

"Veray long time in bed.

"That was ovars two years ago.

"I could not walk. No! I could not walk one acre. I would drop—so weak. Oh, Mon Dieu—awake all night."

"Monsieur Costello sell to me the Dodd Kidney Pil, and tell me they cure 'evary ting."

"I say to Mr. Costello—'Excuse me, I don't want to be cure of evary ting; I only want to be cure of rheumatic,'

'I am sick of sat evary ting.

"At same time I was trouble along with Dyspepsay. That is also gone with rheumatic.

"I am known by evary man from those corners ovare to Killaloe—ten mile.

'Evary lady tell to me some cure—sure! To try. But it all was no bon.

"The only cure do me good is Dodd Kidney Pil.

"I got appetite so the hotel stare at ze plate, like mad.

"I have no more psin; I walk straight; I am cure."

Burglars Scared Off.

Comber, Ont., Nov. 18.—Burglars entered C. W. Watson's banking office on Saturday night by cutting the glass in the door and removing the fastenings. They had commenced to drill the door of the safe, but did not finish it, having evidently been frightened off. There was over $1000 in the safe.

War Veteran Shot by a Convict

Arcade, N.Y., Nov. 18.—Hilas Martin, a veteran of the war, was shot and instantly killed in the United States Hotel in this village yesterday morning by William Plucker, an ex-convict. The men had quarrelled.

Winnipeg's Good Street Railway.

Winnipeg, Nov. 18.—William Mackenzie, president of the Electric Street Railway Company, is here inspecting the company's plant. He says it is fully as good as the Toronto equipment.

Mutiny on a Ship.

London, Nov. 18.—The British barque Margaret Mitchell, Captain Mendus, from Troon, Nov. 5, for Mahanagua, has put into Lamasash, Isle of Arran, Scotland, her crew having mutinied.

Belleville, Nov. 18.—H. A. Folger was to-day sentenced to 30 days for misappropriating funds belonging to the York County Loan Association.

Hood's is Wonderful.

No less than wonderful are the cures accomplished by Hood's Sarsaparilla, even after other preparations and physicians' prescriptions have failed. The reason, however is simple. When the blood is enriched and purified, disease disappears and good health returns, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the one true blood purifier.

Hood's Pills are prompt and efficient and do not purge, pain or gripe. 25c.

SIFTON AND WATSON

Said to be the Obstructors on the School Question.

SOME CONCESSIONS PROBABLE.

In the Reply to be Forwarded to Ottawa —The Ideas Given Out by a Winnipeg Gentleman Now in Montreal —Suicide Mania in the Metropolis.

Montreal, Nov. 19.—A gentleman away up in official circles just arrived from Winnipeg declares that, although the Manitoba Government would never consent to the re-establishment of Separate Schools, it is generally understood that the local Ministry's reply to Ottawa will embrace one or more important concessions. It is said that the Premier is a sick man and is willing to do anything for peace, but the trouble comes from Hon. Messrs. Sifton and Watson. However, the Government will agree to make the schools of the province absolutely non-sectarian, and any tinge of Protestantism that may have worked into the system will be done away with. The objections to the historical works used in the schools will also be met in a satisfactory manner; and last, but not least, ministers and priests will be permitted to come to the schools after 3 o'clock and give any religious teachings to the children that the reverend gentlemen may see fit.

A man named J. Y. Lloyd, aged 73, living on Park-avenue, put an end to himself this forenoon. He had an attack of paralysis a year ago and had been suffering a good deal since. To-day the old man took a 32 calibre revolver, and, going into the woodshed in the rear of the house, shot himself through the head. He lived but a very short time.

A man named John Finnerty, aged 45, who attempted to hang himself at Point St. Charles yesterday afternoon, did not meet with the same success as Mr. Lloyd. Finnerty had a clothesline round his neck, but was prevented from carrying out his terrible design by several boarders who happened to be in the house at the time.

The third case is that of Mayor Choquette of Farnham, who had been troubled in his mind of late, and on Sunday he took a knife, cut a vein in his neck and bled to death, almost before he was discovered.

The Grand Trunk Railway has inaugurated an important change in the running of its trains over the entire system. It is the adoption of what is known as the block system, and practically abviates all chance of accident by trains colliding or telescoping each other.

It is said on pretty certain information that Mr. George Olds, who for 10 years past has been general traffic manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway, will retire from active service at the end of the present year. This information will be received with general regret as Mr. Olds has been popular with the business men of Canada and faithful to the interests of the Canadian Pacific. Ill health is the cause. Mr. Olds was waited on at his office and asked if the rumor of his retirement was correct. The general traffic manager said he was not yet in a position to make a definite statement.

Mr. Olds has been in receipt of a salary of $12,000 a year. It is generally conceded that it will be a difficult task to fill Mr. Olds' place, but it is thought a general reorganization may follow.

John Haynes, the fire-bug, who has been on trial for some days past, was found guilty to-day at the Court of Queen's Bench. The trial of Ganthier, the murderer, will be on to-morrow.

EIGHTEEN DEAD.

The Cleveland Bridge Horror Worse Than at First Reported.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 18.—Two more bodies of victims of Saturday night's bridge horror were taken from the river this afternoon. They were those of Martha Sauernheimer and Edward Calahan. This makes 18 bodies that have been recovered. It is believed that the last of the bodies have been found, as no more persons are reported missing. The blame for the accident has not been fixed.

AS TO TRINIDAD.

The Brazilian Government Says No Arbitration With Britain.

New York, Nov. 18.—A despatch from Buenos Ayres says: The Brazilian Government has definitely concluded that no arbitration is admissible with respect to the ownership of the Island Trinidad, as proposed by the British Government. The Government also refuses to consider such suggestions as may arise through discussion in the British Parliament of the question.

A B. T. Men Must be Imprisoned.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The conviction of W. H. Clune and others, local officers of the American Railroad Union, for conspiracy to obstruct the passage of mails on the Southern Pacific Railway in California during the railroad strike of 1894, has been affirmed in the Supreme Court of the United States. The sentence imposed upon the prisoners by Judge Ross was imprisonment for 18 months.

Against the Tobacco Company.

Syracuse, N.Y., Nov. 18.—Attorney-General Hancock decides the Tobacco Trust case against the American Tobacco Company, on the ground that, under the conspiracy laws their consignment agreement which compels dealers to sell their goods exclusively is illegal and constitutes a trust.

Monks Drove Off Brigands.

Rome, Nov. 18.—A band of brigands attacked a convent at Viterbo yesterday, but were successfully resisted by 20 monks, who, armed with muskets, compelled the brigands to retreat, leaving several of their number wounded.

The Beatrice Released.

Victoria., B. C., Nov. 18.—The sealing schooner Beatrice, which was seized by the officers of the Rush for contravention of the Behring Sea regulations, was to-day released from custody, the Admiralty Court deciding that the charge against the vessel had been entirely disproved.

The Sultan's Purchase Sails.

London, Nov. 18.—The Prince of Wales' schooner yacht Aline, which was recently purchased by the Sultan of Turkey, has sailed from Cowes for Constantinople.

It is in the Nature of Things.

That, as age advances with its concomitants of wear and tear, some parts of the delicate machinery of the body, upon which health and vigor depend, should suffer derangement. Feelings of weariness, listlessness, or despondency are the signals that Nature throws out to warn, and woe to him who neglects these warnings, for severe are the penalties she exacts. To quicken into new vigor the failing energies; to impart; with certainty, tone to the nervous system, to renew its one time force; these are the special tendencies of the wontrous tonic and nutrient, Maltine with Coca Wine. It gives strength to the nervous system and is thus a "nerve restorer;" it increases nutrition, and is, therefore a "body-builder." Maltine with Coca Wine, by its power to add to nerve force and to increase weight, will be found by debilitated and weak a veritable "life-giver," Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine Its composition may be known to you, as it has long been known and subscribed to by the medical profession. Maltine with Coca Wine gives strength, vigor and health. Sold by all druggists.

Mr. John Gall Retiring.

Mr. John Gall, the well known proprietor of the Victoria House, Keene, is about to retire after having spent forty-two years in the hotel business and acquired a snug nest-egg, through his obliging qualities and business ability. A handsome brick residence is already being erected in the village for Mr. Gall, and at present Mr. John Simons, of town, is engaged in painting it. It is understood that Mr. Fletcher, of Midland, has bought out the business.

A BROKEN PANE OF GLASS.

A Young Man Puts His Shoulder Through Mr. Geo. Carton's Door.

Mr. George Carton was seen, this morning, in reference to the rumour that an attempt had been made to burglarize his store on the corner of George and Charlotte streets, last night. Mr. Carton laughed heartily when asked about the burglary, and explained that for several hours three young fellows, who had indulged in a glass too much, were fooling around the corner, and pulling one another around.

At about eleven o'clock, when there were plenty of people out on the street, he heard a crash and the sound of falling glass, and at once surmised that in their pranks one of the young men had been pushed through the window on Charlotte street. An examination showed the window in the door to be broken, and the police were summoned, but the trio, who were supposed to be responsible for the mischief, had disappeared.

When Mr. Carton explained the matter to the police they entirely agreed in his theory as to the affair being the result of an accident, pure and simple, but those concerned in it are expected to defray the cost of putting in a new light.

The door was found to be unlocked, but as Mr. Carton has opened it before by throwing his weight against it, nothing is thought of this occurrence.

FOUR CHILDREN FOR ADOPTION.

The Children Aid Society Constituted the Custodian of them.

A final settlement has at last been reached in regard to the Smith family, which for some time has been such a burden upon the Children's Aid Society.

The father has recently been committed to the Toronto Insane Asylum and the mother has been accepted as a patient at the Nicholls' Hospital. This morning the Magistrate formally committed the four children to the custody of the Children's Aid Society, as they were wholly dependent on charity, and in danger of moral injury for want of oversight and care.

The children are all bright and most suitable for adoption. Their names and ages are as follows:—Louisa, 12; Joseph, 10; Fred, 7, and Harry, 3. The case is a particularly sad one, and but for the action of the society the children would have been in a destitute condition indeed.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Rutherford has been elected President of the Dominion W.C.T.U., meeting in Quebec.

Mr. Theodore Ludgate, of Traverse city Michigan, is in town for a day or two renewing old associations.

Herr Klingenfeld, head of the violin department of the Metropolitan College of Music, Toronto, will be in town on Friday, 22nd Nov, to arrange for classes in violin music.

Mr. Hales, of Hales Bros., Orillia, publishers of the Packet newspaper, accompanied by Mrs. Hales passed through town to-day en route for Canbourne, in Northumberland, on a visit to relatives.

Mr. Max Johnston, of Toronto, is in town to-day. Mr. Johnston was a former employee of the EXAMINER office, and for some time carried on a printing business in Toronto. He is now travelling representative of Palmer's Printing Machinery Depot, Toronto.

The condition of Rev. Dr. Shaw, who was injured by a trolley car, on Friday in Toronto, is not showing the marked improvement that was hoped for. He recovers sensibility at times and then relapses. He can give no coherent statement regarding the accident.

OAK HALL

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY.

Four Interesting Sessions Held in Keene on Sunday and Monday.

On Sunday and Monday a Sunday School Rally was held in Keene. There were four sessions held and the result was most satisfactory and beneficial, indeed.

On Monday afternoon and evening the meetings were held in the Presbyterian church and on Sunday in the Methodist. Mrs. Duncan, President of the Toronto Primary Union, and Mr. Geo. M. Elliott, of Napanee, addressed the meetings on the first day, and yesterday Mr. S. R. Armstrong, of town, and Mrs. Duncan delivered addresses.

Last evening the chair was occupied by Mr. John Kindred, of Zion, Otonabee. Mrs. Duncan spoke on the subject of Illustrative Teaching. In the afternoon her address concerned Primary teaching. Mr. Armstrong based his remarks on the question "Does the study of the Bible pay." Mr. Elliott gave his attention to the discussion of Bible study and revivals.

The attendance at all the meetings was large and most encouraging and great benefit was derived from the addresses by the many Sunday school teachers in attendance. A number of those not hitherto interested in Sunday school work paid the closest attention to the remarks made and will in all probability embrace the first opportunity of connecting themselves with some Sunday school and identifying themselves with the work.

TO INCREASE THE SUNDAY SCHOOL MEMBERSHIP ROLL.

A Great and Laborious Task Undertaken by the Young People of the Town.

The Local Union of Christian Endeavour is proving itself to be a most active factor in church and Sunday school work.

At present a census is being compiled from the returns in the town clerk's office, of the different families in town who have children of an age which calls for the attendance a Sunday school. A tally is then made up of those who are not registered on the rolls of the Sunday schools of the churches to which their parents belong, and the Union announces its intention of seeing each and every one of these children and their parents and endeavouring to make arrangements for the attendance of the little ones hereafter. Such a movement, if attended with success, should do more to improve the morals of the community than all the laws and enactments ever put in force. Doubtless Peterborough's example will be followed by hundreds of towns in Canada.

WILL BE VISITED BY LINDSAY LODGE.

Otonabee Lodge, I. O. O. F. Will Entertain Guests To-morrow Evening.

At a meeting of Otonabee Lodge, I. O.O. F., last evening, the visit of the degree team of Lindsay Lodge to-morrow evening was officially announced and a special meeting of the Lodge summoned for half-past seven o'clock Wednesday evening.

The Lindsay brethern will, it is expected, arrive in town at eight o'clock by a special train and will be met at the Grand Trunk station by the members of Otonabee Lodge, who are especially urged to turn out in large force. All other Peterborough Oddfellows are also invited to be present and accompany the visitors from the station to the I. O. O. F. Hall.

The 57th Battalion Band will lead the procession.

The visiting team will confer degrees, after which they will be entertained by Otonabee Lodge. Last winter, it will be remembered, the members of Otonabee Lodge paid a fraternal visit to Lindsay and were most sumptuously banquetted.

RAILWAY NOTES.

Sparks of News From the Whirling Wheels—Interesting Cinders for the Eye.

The earnings of the C.P.R. for the week ending Nov. 14th last show an increase of $71,000 compared with the corresponding week of last year.

A banquet will be given to Mr. Seargeant, the retiring general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway, by a number of prominent citizens of Montreal.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company has adopted the block system, by which one train is not allowed to leave a station after another until the next station signals that the latter has left. The change will necessitate the employment of a large number of extra telegraph operators.

LUMBER OPERATIONS.

Preparations Making for the Winter's Work, Which Will Not be Quite as Extensive as Usual.

(Toronto Globe.)

Lumbermen, that is those who own and operate timber limits, are now making preparations for the winter's work, some, in fact, having their gangs in the woods and at work already. It does not appear probable that operations will be conducted on as extensive a scale this year as in former years, although most of the large firms will have pretty heavy cuts. Some owners of limits, however, will not put any men in the woods at all this winter.

William Peter, the big lumberman of Columbiaville, Michigan, who operates in the Parry Sound district, has recently rebuilt the mill owned by Mr. Ulliott, Peterborough, and has started in on the winter's operations. Gilmour is working limits north of Haliburton, and one of the largest companies, the Hallam-Emery Lumber Company, are cutting extensively up near French River. Booth & Shannon and J. R. Booth & Co. have commenced their winter's work.

There has not been, however, so great demand as usual for men for the lumber woods, and as a usual thing no difficulty has been experienced in securing suitable men. Men were inquired for recently to go to Parry Sound to saw pulp wood at $1 per cord, and John Scully to-day sent a gang of 50 men up there. For work on the Parry Sound, Toronto & Arnprior Railway men have been wanted, building operations being conducted on that portion of the road from Elmsdale into Parry Sound.

The programme will also include instrumental and vocal music, and refreshments will be served by the W. A. The public is cordially invited to attend. Silver collection. 1d

Tramps Caused it all.

Mr. Robert Weir, of town, met with a heavy loss last week by the destruction by fire of a valuable house owned by him in Baltimore. A spark from a neighbour's house, which was in flames, caused the conflagration to spread to Mr. Weir's property. As a bag full of hens was found in an adjoining field it is thought that tramps in robbing the hen-roost dropped a match and caused all the trouble. Mr. Weir, although carrying considerable insurance on his property, still stands to lose six or seven hundred dollars.

Death of a Former Peterboroughonian

A Winnipeg paper contains the following: "The death is announced at Chicago of Mr. Parley J. Ayres, father of Mrs. Thos. Lyons and Mrs. H. Verinder of this city, and Mrs. D. S. McKay of Edmonton. At one time Mr. Ayres carried on one of the largest tool factories in Canada, but for the last thirty-five years had devoted himself to patents of which he controlled several of value." The deceased gentleman was a former resident of Peterborough, and will be remembered well by the older citizens. He was considered a local genius, and one of his inventions, a machine for "upsetting" wheel tires, is perhaps used in every general blacksmith shop in town.

The Canadian Concert Co.

The first of the star course of first class concerts will be held in the Opera House next Monday evening, November 25th. The attraction will be the Canada Concert Co., consisting of Miss Alice D. Burrows, messo soprano, George Fox, violinist, Herbert Simpson, ventriloquist, Chas. J. McHeath, comic vocalist and impersonator, and Miss Rena Cowley, accompanist. The course runs over several months there being one concert a month, omitting Lent, the course ending with the Harvard Quartette. Course tickets, entitling the holder to one reserved seat at each of the five concerts, are sold at $1.25. Plan of hall open at Salisbury's Bookstore. 1d

A Pointer to Postmasters.

Notice has been issued to postmasters enjoining them to exercise extreme care in redirection of letters. In a recent case a letter addressed to a commercial traveller, who was about to visit a certain place, was sent away from the post office of that place to a neighbouring office for the altogether insufficient reason that no person by the name mentioned in the address was accustomed to call at the first office, while a person of similar name was known to live near the second office. The result was that the letter was opened by a wrong party and the proper addressee failed to receive it, to his great inconvenience and disappointment. It would greatly help to insure prompt delivery of letters intended for commercial travellers, if parties posting such letters would endeavour so to address them as to make it evident that they are not intended for permanent residents of the same name in the localities where they are to be delivered.

LASSWADE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Chandos cheese factory had a very pleasent wind up to the year's work by a grand entertainment and supper in the factory, on Nov. 15. Many visitors came from Coe Hill, Apsley, the Ridge, and some from a distance. The programme was the best given in this neighbourhood for some time. The violin and piccolo music, readings and singing were a credit to the talent of this back country, while Rev. Mr. Dickson's address was listened to with pleasure by all present. Mr. Dickson said he had never been to a better entertainment at the close of a factory than this one in Chandos, and when he got home again he would be proud to call himself a Chandosite. An election cake was contested for by Miss N. Parmer and Miss Maggie Bullied, the former being successful by the narrow majority of six votes in a total of 309.70.

Mr. J. A. McColl acted as chairman in his usual able manner and maintained the best of order all through the long programme. The following programme was rendered:

Chairman's address
Violin music	Mr C N Dingman
Reading	Mr Rogers
Solo	Mr Gould
Reading	Mr W J Dobson
Song	Mr Baskins
Piccolo duet	Mr and Miss Dingman
Address	Rev Dickson
Address and Reading	Mr J Ratcliff
Violin music	Mr Dingman
Reading	Mr T Lowry
Music	Master Willie Dingman
Song	Mr Baskins
Piccolo duet	Mr and Miss Dingman
Violin music	Master S Hawley

At the conclusion of the entertainment many of those present walked across to Mr. Woodbecks, and enjoyed themselves to the wee sma' hours dancing.

Mr. Gould is visiting at Mr. J. A. McColl's.

A number from here attended the Quarterly Board for this circuit in Apsley on Monday. Among other matters the building of our church was discussed. A board of seven trustees was appointed to see about the work, and a committee consisting of Mr. J. Bullied, Mr. W. Snelgrove and Mr. W. Bullied was appointed to choose a site.

Work still continues at the copper mine and a good sample is now being found. Mr. Hanway, a New York capitalist, Mr. James Young and Prof. Robertson, of Toronto, and Mr. Richardson, of Montreal, visited the mine last week and reported favourably of the prospects.

On his road home from the Ridge Mr. Thos. Snelgrove had a narrow escape from an angry bull on the roadside. The last seen of Thomas he was making for home at a lively pace.

Miss Charlotte Weese has returned home from Norwood again.

Mr. John Bullied, Thos. Steen and Harry Alley left this week for the north.

Mr. Henry Foster, of Wicklow, returned home Monday, after a very successful hunt.

Mr. John Hill and party, from Havelock, passed here on their way home, having captured six large deer averaging 200 lbs each.

COLDSPRINGS—OTONABEE.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

There are numerous signs of an open winter. Old settlers say they never saw blackbirds around so late in the fall. The squirrels have an unusually light coat of fur, and even a crow has been seen loitering in the vicinity, but some small boys have learned by close investigation that his wings had been clipped. Farmers are delighted with the weather, as it enables them to finish their fall ploughing.

Attendance at school is picking up since the potatoes and turnips have all been gathered. As the school has had a prosperous year, the hope is expressed that the present teacher will be 'er(e) again next year.

CURLIANA.

The annual meeting of the Midland Colt's Curling Association was held at Belleville yesterday, and the attendance was much larger than last year, as representatives were present from Kingston, Cobourg and Port Hope, seeking admittance into the organization. The three old clubs, viz: Peterborough, Campbellford and Belleville, also had their representatives present signifying their willingness to again enter the series.

The election of officers was first taken up and resulted as appended:

Patron and Patroness—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Biggar, Belleville.
President—Fred J. Smith, Campbellford.
Vice-President—George W. Allen, Kingston.
Secretary-Treasurer—T. W. R. McRae, Belleville.
Executive Committee:
Belleville—J. F. Wills.
Campbellford—Geo. Benor.
Peterborough—Geo. J. Horkins.
Port Hope—J. A. Campbell.
Cobourg—G. T. Bickle.
Kingston—Capt. Donnelly.

It was decided not to play home and home matches this year, as the system would prove very expensive. Instead the Association has been divided into two groupings. Group No. 1 will embrace Peterborough, Port Hope and Cobourg, while Campbellford, Belleville and Kingston will comprise group No. 2.

The winners in the respective groups will decide where they will play off for the trophy by mutual agreement, but if the matter cannot be settled in this manner, it will be referred to Mr. W. H. Biggar, whose decision will be final.

The bonspiel to decide the victors in Group No. 1 will be played off in Cobourg, although certainly it should have come to Peterborough by courtesy, as being the only club in the group which contested in the series last year. Courtesy however, is not one of the most salient features in any of the athletic sports with which the names of Cobourg and Port Hope are connected. When the voting on this question took place, Kingston sided in with Port Hope and Cobourg. Both Belleville and Campbellford threw their votes for Peterborough, but as Campbellford only had one representative present, whilst all the other clubs had two, the bonspiel went to Cobourg by one vote.

Last year it was decided that no one could play in the series for more than three years. At the expiration of this time it is assumed that a Colt has developed into a veteran and is therefore not an eligible player in the series. The three new clubs wished this provision to still remain in force, but as they would thus possess a handicap of one year over Belleville, Peterborough and Campbellford it was decided to begin anew in regard to this matter and all the members of the Association now stand on the same footing and their eligibility expires in 1898.

The first bonspiel has to be played off on or before February 1st.

The local representatives present at the meeting yesterday were Messrs. Dickson Davidson and Geo. Matthews and both speak most highly of the manner in which Belleville curlers entertained them at the Hotel Quinte.

Cobourg is very cocky about the result of the series this year and is most confident that the beautiful trophy will adorn the rooms of the Cobourg curlers next season. They openly express the opinion that Belleville and Cobourg will be "in it" to the exclusion of the other clubs and that the chances are all in favour of themselves. The local men all think that Peterborough's chances are better than ever this year and that there is no doubt whatever that the great trophy will still remain in Peterborough.

Belleville has consented to come to Peterborough to play off the final bonspeil if each of the two clubs come out winners in their respective groups, which they most probably will.

Kingston is seriously handicapped this year, as the majority of her players are accustomed to using iron, instead of granite, and therefore for the first season or two will labour under quite a disadvantage.

THE WHEEL.

Sanger rode for the unpaced mile record at Denver on Saturday, but his best time was 2.00 2-5. He rode a 92 gear.

These tandem records were made: McCall and Grats, 1 mile flying paced, 2.14; unpaced, 2.14 3-5; ½ unpaced, 1.03 1-5.

Harley Davidson had a heavy wind to ride against at the Island on Saturday morning and the times that he made were very slow. In the event of his straight-away records made at the Woodbine not being accepted the following records will be submitted: ¼ standing, unpaced, .35 2-5; paced, .35 ½; standing, paced, 1.07 1-5; unpaced, 1.07 1-5; mile unpaced, 2 29 2-5; paced, 2.13 2-5.

The Toronto Globe says: An English cycle insurance company sounds a wheel's lungs and liver and makes a careful record of its personal history before issuing a policy. The records thus obtained are open to inspection by intending purchasers of second-hand wheels, a slight fee being charged as a side issue.

HAVELOCK.

A Resolution Passed by the Methodist Board to Mr. A. Kniewasser.

At the meeting of the Quarterly Board of the Methodist Church on Monday Nov. 4th, it was evident that a brother, who had been an honoured member of said Board for a goodly period would not likely be present at the next meeting owing to the close of a term of five years as principal of the public school in this village, and of equally faithful service in the Church and in every good word and work, as Sunday School Superintendant and Local Preacher, it was thought well to give some expression of appreciation to Bro. A. Kniewasser before taking the parting hand. It was moved by J. W Wiseman seconded by C. H. Brewster and heartily resolved that on behalf of ourselves as a Board as well as those we represent, whose personal regards, sympathy, and respect you have so long a period merited by the very satisfactory discharge of all the duties developing upon you, not only the discharge of your official duties as a public school teacher in this place for a period of five years, (which duties have been well and faithfully performed) but in the exercise of the best of moral qualities so characteristic of you as a man and now that you are so soon to take your departure from our midst many are our regrts and fervent our prayers for your success wherever in the Providence of God your path may be opened and your mantle fall on your successor here.

Mr. Kniewasser was deeply moved by this expression of confidence by the Board and made a most touching and feeling reply, thanking the brethern for their kindly expression of confidence and sympathy.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Havelock School Board met in special meeting Nov. 15, 1895. Members present: Messrs. Maiden, Miell, Mark, Bryans, Ritchie and Chapman.

Minutes of last meeting read and signed.

Moved by Messrs. Ritchie and Bryans, that we accept Mr. Gillett's application, at a salary of five hundred and fifty dollars per year.

Moved in amendment by Messrs. Miell and Chapman, that we accept Mr. Eadie's application, at a salary of four hundred and seventy five dollars.—Amendment carried.

Moved by Messrs. Miell and Chapman, that we accept Miss Mark's application, at a salary of two hundred and fifty dollars.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Bryans and Ritchie, that Miss Nichol be engaged at a salary of two hundred and seventy-five dollars.—Carried.

Moved by Messrs. Ritchie and Bryans, that the account for repairs, etc., be paid.

Board adjourned at 11:30 p.m.

The teachers for the coming year, 1896, will be Mr. Wm. Eadie, of Beamsville, for first room; Miss A. M. Nicoll, of Norwood, for second room, Miss E. Mark, of Peterborough, for third room.

Honest Help.

Thousands of men are suffering because they lack the courage to make known their early errors and to endeavour to remedy them. Nervous weakness, loss of manhood and the many ills due to early discretions, excesses or overwork can be quickly, successfully and permanently cured if you will only let the right people know what ails you. Write to me in confidence and I will tell you free of charge how to get cured. I have nothing to sell, but am desirous of honestly helping you. Perfect secrecy assured. Describe your case and address with stamp:—L. A. Edwards, P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

HOT WATER BAGS are something more than a winter luxury—they are a household necessity. In many cases it will take the place of the family doctor, and in other emergencies it will help to check inflammation and keep the patient in a comfortable state until the doctor comes. A three-quart India Rubber hot-water bag filled with hot water and encased in flannel and applied to the proper place will relieve neuralgia, indigestion, sick headache, stomach ache, toothache, rheumatic pains and a hundred other ills that flesh is heir to.

I sell hot water bags with nickel-plated screw tops that will not leak and bottom tabs with eyelets. See them in the window.

CARD OF THANKS.

Messrs. Cox & Davis, Peterborough, Ontario:

Re J. W. Moore's CANADA LIFE POLICY No. 24937.

GENTLEMEN—I beg to acknowledge (on behalf of the late Mr. Moore's Executors) receipt of cheque for $1181.25 in full discharge of claim under the above mentioned policy. Considering that the total cost of the Thousand Dollars Insurance paid up in ten years was only $312.00 and that the Company have added One Hundred and Eighty One Dollars to the policy as bonus, the result is most satisfactory. I also beg to thank you for the promptness with which the claim was discharged, only three days having elapsed between the filing of same and my receipt of cheque.

Yours Faithfully,
JOHN BURNHAM.

IT PUT NEW LIFE IN ME.

"ALL I DID WAS JUST TO MOPE AROUND"
"SCOTT'S SARSAPARILLA CURED ME."

The chilly weather of late fall and early winter finds them unprepared to stand the change and hence they suffer. This fact is plainly proved by the following opinions of some who speak from practical experience:

"I felt like a man that could commit suicide. I caught a cold while camping on damp ground, had twinges of awful muscular pains, couldn't eat and couldn't sleep. All I did was to mope around and make all in the house as miserable as myself. Scott's Sarsaparilla put new life in me, braced me up thoroughly, and since its use pain is a stranger to me." Alex Grant, Toronto.

J. T. McGraw, a mining prospector, writing from Minden: Express me three bottles Scott's Sarsaparilla here before Saturday. Have been a martyr to rheumatism and indigestion brought on by exposure. Scott's Sarsaparilla is rapidly curing me."

Nothing has ever equalled Scott's Sarsaparilla for building up the systems, putting the blood in healthful circulation and invigorating the body. Thousands testify to its splendid effects in extreme weakness and all debilitating diseases. On this account no imitation of Scott's should be accepted. Of your local druggists at $1 per bottle, 6 bottles $5,

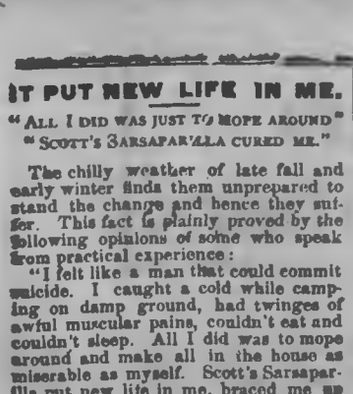
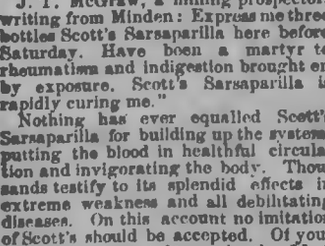
THE FOXES AND THE TURKEY.



Two foxes in search of a Thanksgiving dinner discovered a turkey.



Each forthwith claimed the bird, which resulted in a spirited argument as to which spied it first.

In the squabble they met with misfortune, which gave them ample time to consider the folly of their ways.

Roast Turkey, Extra.

Ingredients.—One turkey,
One pound of veal,
One pound sausage meat,
Parsley,
Cold chicken,
Pepper and salt,
Twenty-five big chestnuts,
Two stalks of celery,
3-4 of a pound of butter.

After cleaning the fowl prepare the dressing, of veal chopped fine, chicken, sausage meat, pepper and salt. While this is being prepared, boil in very salt water the chestnuts, with the green heads of the celery stalks. When the chestnuts are sufficiently done, reduce them to a pulp, and mix them with the dressing with a quarter of a pound of butter. When this has been inserted in the fowl, put it on the spit, and baste freely with butter which has been salted and peppered, before being put in the pan. When perfectly done, little jets of smoke will issue like miniature volcanoes from the turkey. Meanwhile, the remainder of the two heads of celery, having been carefully washed, trimmed and cut into pieces about five inches long, place in the dripping pan when the turkey is half done, where it will become thoroughly impregnated with the savory juices from the bird. It will then form a pleasant accompaniment to a delicious dish, the cooking of which should last from two hour and a quarter, according to the size of the fowl.—Godey's Lady's Book.

About two weeks ago, the Rev. Mr. Surf, of Blue Springs, Nebraska, lost his hair, after fever, and became nearly bald. He finally resolved to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now has as fine a head of hair as could be desired. This is certainly a fact worth remembering.

Canadian Winners at New York

New York, Nov. 18.—Now that the National Horse Show of 1895 is a thing of the past a summary of the results of the great exhibition is in order and of interest to everybody who was interested in the show itself. Joseph E. Widener of Philadelphia heads The Sun's list of winning owners this year, he having piled up the largest total with his champion high-stepper Dash and other good ones in the hackney and harness classes. In the number of ribbons won, the honors belong to Charles F. Bates, his entries in the name of the New York Coach Horse and Cob Company having been placed 16 times in the harness classes alone, but the prizes won were not so valuable as those captured by some of the other exhibitors. Among the hackney breeders, Dr. W. Seward Webb is in the lead, Matchless of Londesborough and his tribe having won a round sum in their classes.

In the trotting horse division, Col. Lawrence Kip easily holds first place, his two road teams and the single drivers, Quis and Cora Monarch, having won enough to buy a couple of 2.20 trotters. In this division the Hon. Charles M. Reed of Erie, Pa., makes a good showing, in view of the fact that his entries were nearly always forced to compete with the turnouts of Col. Kip. Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Howland's hunters and jumpers won enough to place the Belwood Stud second on the list of successful owners. Subjoined is a list of owners winning $1000 and over:

Joseph E. Widener, Philadelphia, $2238; S. S. Howland, Mount Morris, N. Y., $1835; Col. Kip, New York, $1695; George Green, New York, $1030; D. W. S. Webb, New York, $1142; C. F. Bates, New York, $1055; H. McK. Twombly, New York, $1025; C. J. & Harry Hamlin, Buffalo, $1025.

Adam Beck, London, Ont., was fourteenth on the list with Monarch, first in 100, $150; Hurricane, fourth in 107; second in 100, $100; first in 110, $200; first in 111, $150; total, $600.

Other successful Canadians were: L. Meredith, Loudon, Ont., Murchioness, first in 84, $100; W. J. Price, Montreal, Que., Prince Arthur, first in 93, $100; G. H. Hastings, Deer Park, Ont., Black Nobleman, second in 32, $75.

Century Road Club Record.

Chicago, Nov. 18.—The Century Road Club to-day announced the following records had been allowed by the club: A. W. Evans, 200 miles, 12.20, Aug. 10, New Jersey and State American records; A. W. Evans, 277 miles, Aug. 10, New Jersey, 24, record; E. O. Peabody, 15 miles, 41.17, Aug. 21, Massachusetts state record; A. B. McDonnell, Buffalo, Rochester, 71 miles, 3.18.10, Sept. 28, course record.; Cal Paxson, 25 miles, 1.02.20, Sept. 30, New York state and American record; J. R. Dunlop, 100 miles, 6.28, Oct. 6, Maryland state record; N. W. Hewitt, 25 miles, 1.01.30; 50 miles 3.15, Oct. 6, Utah Territory records; C. A. Westcott, Waukegan, Libertyville course, 5.42, Oct. 20, Illinois state 100-mile record.

EXPLOSION AT WOODBRIDGE

Three Men Badly Burned in the Knitting Factory There.

Woodbridge, Ont., Nov. 18.—To-day, while Mr. Dawson, manager of the Universal Knitting Company of Woodbridge, along with Mr. James Stone and Mr. W. W. Smith, was engaged in taking sulphuric acid out of a large tank, the bung flew out, and a terrible explosion was the result. All three men were badly burned about the head, chest and arms. Dr. McLean was summoned at once and attended to their injuries. It is not known yet whether any of them will lose their eyesight or not. They were conveyed to their homes.

Man, Wife and Daughter Drowned.

Calgary, N.W.T., Nov. 18.—It has just been learned that almost at the very hour when the body of Paul Fallant was found on the Island in the river here, his wife and daughter broke through the ice and were drowned in Buffalo Lake, 150 miles away. The coincidence has caused much comment.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A MEDICINE

WITHOUT AN EQUAL.

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

A YEAR IN A WAGON.

The Queer Home on Wheels of an Artist and His Wife.

H. L. Brewer, the well-known artist, and his wife, have lived for over a year in a cottage on wheels, says the San Francisco Chronicle. Their movable residence is at present a lot in Alameda, where they are couched under a spreading oak, and where they intend to stay the coming winter.

Their house is a result of Mr. Brewer's attempt to secure a place where he could work at his art and still be at liberty to go where he wished. The house was built in 1894, at a cost of about $500, and Mr. Brewer said recently that he had already made enough by the saving in rent and expenses to pay for it. The van is somewhat similar to those in use by gypsies, but is fitted up in much more comfortable style. It has one room 10 feet long, 4½ feet wide and 6 feet 8 inches high, and in this space Mr. Brewer and his wife have lived, slept and eaten for the last year. At one end of the wagon, over the wheels, is a raised platform, and here is a pocket edition of a cooking stove, with a collection of shining pots and pans around it. Under the seat of the wagon is Mrs. Brewer's cupboard, and her table consists of the top of the big trunk, which contains the wardrobe of the pair.

The sleeping arrangements are, however, the greatest puzzle to the uninitiated. The bed consists of two big cushions laid out upon the floor of the wagon, and bedding is stored in a box under the wagon, reached by a trap door in its floor.

The little house has plenty of light, as it must have, for Mr. Brewer has it for his studio on occasions. The door is on the left side, between the wheels, and is made in two halves, so that either can be opened independently of the other. Beside the door there is a big plate glass window and several smaller windows. The whole contrivance, including two persons, the little stove and the big trunk, weighs less than 2,400 pounds, and can be taken anywhere by two horses. Mrs. Brewer is no less enthusiastic about the traveling home than her husband. All last winter they were domiciled in the hills above Berkeley and never felt better in their lives. Last August they started with their caravan from Alameda. They went over the hills to Contra Costa county and spent several months sketching in the valleys. Then they went to Berkeley for the winter, and in the spring moved their residence farther up into the hills. This winter they expect to spend in Alameda, and in the spring they will start out for a tour of the state.

Six Dollars for a Wife.

A very romantic story comes from Summerville, Chattanooga county. Some days ago a couple arrived in that city evidently in the first stage of a violent case of conjugal affection. Their loving tendencies and conspicuous caresses attracted the attention of the steady-going citizens of that model mountain town. They could be seen in the gloaming out strolling together, and the precincts of Cleghorn spring were rendered still more picturesque by their presence. Married folk took it for granted that they were enjoying the first fruits of love's young dream, and simply passed by on the other side and made wry faces. The single folk blushed and giggled and possibly wondered if it were always thus. The couple registered as Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Thurston, Knoxville, Tenn., and the people of Summerville naturally supposed that their conduct was but a fair sample of east Tennessee married life.

Late one afternoon a weary looking individual alighted from a train from Chattanooga and walked hurriedly up to the hotel. He scanned the faces of those he passed very closely, as if he were looking for some one he expected to find. From the few inquiries that he made people learned that he was in search of a wife, and that he had not resorted to the usual method of putting a notice in the strayed or stolen column, but had started out on a personal search.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston had been out for a customary stroll, and just as they rounded a corner they were confronted with the stranger in search of a wife. He had found his wife, but, unfortunately, she was in the hands of her friend. Expectation was on tiptoe for blood-and-thunder denouement, and from various coigns of vantage, in the shape of dry goods boxes and sycamore trees, behind which they had ensconced themselves, the townspeople peered anxiously, awaiting the signal for open hostilities. But they waited in vain. Those nearest caught the fragments of a spirited conversation, in which the husband reproached his recreant spouse with her faithlessness in deserting his bed and board. She retorted that he had not treated her nice and that she had found a handsomer man than he, which was indeed the God's truth when the two men were compared. Mr. Thurston then began to parley with the rueful husband and tried to effect a compromise. The husband demanded $10 damage, which he thought was too high, considering that he had already won the affection of the wife and was in possession which was nine points in the law. He offered $5. Then there was a lot of jawing and haggling until they finally compromised on $6, which the interloper paid the forlorn husband, and the latter took the next train for Chattanooga, probably proud of his bargain. The couple also took their departure for green fields and pastures new.—Atlanta Constitution.

Dignity Doesn't Pay.

The post-office at Grass Valley was at the back end of a "general" store, and the postmaster, who was also the proprietor of the store, was weighing me out some tobacco, when a stolid, middle-aged woman came and slammed a two-cent piece down on the counter, and exclaimed:

"Stamp—two-center!"

The postmaster handed her one, but she waved it away and pitched a letter at his head, and said:

"Lick 'er on."

He promptly and humbly obeyed, and as the woman walked away, I asked:

Don't people out this way lick on their own postage stamps?"

"Yes, most of 'em, but that woman is rather particular, and I don't want to take chances again."

"Chances on what?"

"Well, she came in here about six months ago for the first time, and bought a stamp and commanded me to lick. I laid back on my dignity and refused, and she turned around and kicked the head out of a barrel of N. O. molasses, and I lost about eleven dollars by the operation. As my salary as postmaster is only twenty-three dollars a year, I can't take no more chances."

Jess.—What is the difference between the religious and the civil marriage?

Bess.—At one you promise to 'love, honor and obey,' at the other to be only 'civil.'

In Inverse Ratio.

"It shows the inconsistency of a man," said the abnormally new "new woman."

"What does?"

"The course the authorities are taking about bloomers. They object to a woman's wearing them."

"Yes, and properly."

"And the less of them she wears the more they object to it!"—Washington Star.

A Terrible Threat.

"I don't like you, Aunt Jennie," said Wilbur, after his aunt had interfered with some cherished idea he had in mind; "an' if you don't let me alone I'll save up my pottet money an' buy a tapir."

"A what?" asked his aunt.

"A tapir," said Wilbur; "an' tapirs they eats ants!"—Harper's Round Table.

A Great General's Tribute.

"I see," said the Chinese Emperor, "that Pugilist Corbett, after all his talking, is not going to fight."

"Yes," replied Li Hung Chang. "And then, with a mournful, faraway look in his eyes, he added: "If we had only had that much foresight!"—Washington Star.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—it may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

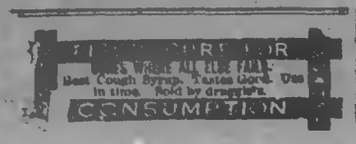
People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause and show itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

To destroy worms and expel them from children or adults use Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.



Healthy, happy children make better men and women of us all. A man is hardly himself until he has the development that responsibility brings. After the child comes, the father and mother both plan and promise what shall be done with it. A little care and a little planning before birth is often more important than anything that can be done after.

On the mother's health and strength depend the life and the future of the children. A weak and sickly woman cannot bear strong and healthy children—as well expect figs from thistles. Most of the weakness of women is utterly inexcusable. Proper care and proper medicine will cure almost any disorder of the feminine organism. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has been tested in thirty years of practice. It is healing, soothing, strengthening. It is perfectly natural in its operation and effect. By its use, thousands of weak women have been made strong and healthy—have been made the mothers of strong and healthy children. Taken during gestation, it makes childbirth easy and almost painless and insures the well being of both mother and child.

The following letter is only one of thousands of similar ones:

MRS. FLORENCE WHITE, of Victor, W. Va., writes: "I commenced using the 'Favorite Prescription' when half through my period of pregnancy. I used four bottles and felt like another woman. My time of labor was easy and rapid. I have a dear, strong, healthy little boy baby."

ART AND LITERATURE IN CANADA.

There are cynics who say that there is no public opinion in Canada, no literature. At a dinner given recently by the publishers of Toronto to Mr. Hall Caine, the great novelist, this question was discussed, and a leading publisher remarked that literature would never make rapid advance in this country because it is difficult to induce Canadians to read the works of a Canadian author. This statement, however, is not true with regard to Toronto Saturday Night, which has as large a circulation as any newspaper of its class in America. Its Christmas Number, which will be issued Dec. 1, is the eighth in a series of art numbers. It will be accompanied this year by five splendid colored supplements; the largest, a reproduction of a painting by a Canadian artist, done specially for Saturday Night, is 24 x 33 inches in size. Its title is "Champlain the Explorer," and depicts him and a flotilla of war canoes entering the mouth of a river on Lake Huron. The picture has been praised by the Historical Association as the most interesting and artistic attempt ever made to carry us back to the old days when Canada was little more than a geographical term. The other four pictures are done in sixteen colors, and the book itself, consisting of over forty pages, contains the four prize stories in the Saturday Night competition. Following is a list of contents:

1st prize, "A Reconnaissance at Fort Ellice," by William Bleasdell Cameron. Illustrations by J. C. Innes.
2nd prize, "Bob Shwey's Ruby," by W. A. Fraser. Illustrations from photographs.
3rd prize, "A Matter of Necessity," by John McCrae. Illustrations by F. M. Bell-Smith, R.C.A.
4th prize, "Widow Molony," by J. C. Innes. Illustrations by the author.
"Jim Lancey's Pass," by E. E. Sheppard. Illustrated.
"From the Sublime," by Warren H. Warren. Illustrations by G. A. Reid, R.C.A.
"Nanton's Sister," by Alice Ashworth. Illustrated.
"Hendershott of Strathgannon," by Joe Clark. Illustrations by Carl Ahrens, A.R.C.A., and Beatrice Sullivan.
"So-Long," an etching by "Don."
"Hawkie's Dream," (poem), by Alexander McLachlan.
"The Love of the World Rejected," (poem), by William Cowper. Illustrations by J. W. Bengough.
"Life of Champlain," by George Stewart, M.A., D.C.L.
"As a Little Child," (poem), by Evelyn Durand.
"A Song," (poem), by Gertrude Bartlett.

The price of the number, postpaid to any address, in a pasteboard tube to protect it from damage in the mails, is 50 cents, and in point of literary excellence and the quantity and quality of the supplements it far exceeds anything offered by foreign holiday publications. Mr. James L. Hughes, Inspector of Schools for Toronto, has said that the Champlain picture should be framed and hung in "every schoolroom in Canada," and schoolteachers everywhere should take an interest in bringing it before the public. Teachers and young people can do a good work by sending for a Christmas Number of Saturday Night, and a better work by acting as agent for it and inducing their neighbors to send for it as well. A liberal commission is allowed. Address the Sheppard Publishing Company, Limited, Adelaide Street west, Toronto. The price of the regular edition of Saturday Night, which undoubtedly stands alone as Canada's most interesting and thoroughly high-class illustrated weekly, is $3 per year.

Out of Tooth Powder!

Then get the best. The best is Ivorine. "Best" because it whitens the teeth and does not destroy the enamel. Good as the best in fragrance and cleansing and polishing properties. Better than most, as it contains no acids to destroy. Better than all because pleasant, fragrant, cleansing, and whitening, all the good qualities combined. Ivorine for the teeth can claim to be the best.

LOOKS BAD FOR HOLMES.

And Lawyer Shoemaker Has Been Placed in an Ugly Position.

Philadelphia, Nov. 19.—The argument for a new trial for the convicted murderer Holmes was remarkable and furnished another sensation.

One of the counsel for the prisoner produced an affidavit in court alleging to show that Pitezel, the murdered man, contemplated suicide.

Amidst the silent amazement of the spectators, and the shocked astonishment of the court, District Attorney Graham proved the affidavit to be false, and showed that Mr. Shoemaker, the attorney of Holmes who offered it, had paid the woman who swore to it $20 for doing so.

Shoemaker was so overcome by this exposure that he could make no explanation, and at the conclusion of the argument he was held in $1500 by the court to answer to the charge of subornation of perjury.

Holmes was in court during the argument, and he failed perceptibly in looks since his trial. He has lost the prison bleach which paled his cheek, and a hectic flush has taken its place. His eyes were bloodshot and dark rings around them told of anxious days and nights. His manner was not as cool and unconcerned as it was during his trial, and he showed an almost feverish interest in the proceedings. As formerly, however, he retained his self-possession and took notes of the district attorney's argument, and prompted his lawyer during his address. The argument consumed the entire day, and the court reserved its decision, but from the questions asked by the judges, it seems certain a new trial will be refused.

A private detective named Swetzler testified that Shoemaker, weeks ago, had written out the affidavit and given him $20 to pay some one to swear to it.

Then Detective Geyer was called and testified that Swetzler had shown him the affidavit before it was signed.

Then a woman was called to the stand who said she was the "Blanche Hannigan" who signed the affidavit. She swore that she knew nothing about the statements in the affidavits. Her name instead of being Hannigan was Rhea, and she is the matron in the Fourth Police District. It was at the suggestion of Detective Geyer that she went with Swetzler to Shoemaker's and impersonated "Blanche Hannigan." Shoemaker gave her $20 and took her before a notary public, and she swore to the statement.

This statement evidently surprised the court, and when Shoemaker attempted to make some confused remarks, Judge Thayer suggested that his greatest safety lay in silence.

Mr. Rotan, Holmes' other attorney, stated to the court that he knew nothing of the affidavit, and then he began the argument for a new trial.

Mr. Rotan argued for an hour and 50 minutes, and then District Attorney Graham replied. In his argument, Mr. Rotan had dwelt upon the inadmissibility of the evidence of Miss Yohe, on the ground that the Commonwealth had not clearly shown she was not the prisoner's wife, and that, therefore, she was not a competent witness.

Mr. Graham reproduced the prisoner's letters to the Willimette, Ill., wife, acknowledging the ceremony of marriage, and then Mr. Graham put in evidence a record from the Chicago courts of an application for a divorce filed by Holmes, asking for a separation from his real wife, who lives in Gilmerton, N.H. He also produced an affidavit from his wife that while making the now famous journey with Mrs. Pitezel and Miss Yohe, Holmes came to see her and resumed his relations as a husband with her.

Mr. Graham reviewed the contentions set up by the defence and demolished them.

LORD ABERDEEN AS A CANADIAN FARMER.

Reference to His Excellency's Cattle Ranch in the Far West.

Lord Aberdeen's Coldstream ranche, situated in the White Valley, 4 miles east of Vernon, B. C., includes an area of 15,000 acres, or over 23 square miles, all fenced. Of this some 10,000 acres are serviceable only for stock grazing. The remainder is good plough land. The Governor-General's total expenditure on the estate in purchase money, improvements and management to date, is understood to approach $360,000, and at first at the hands of inefficient managers, His Excellency made some costly failures. Good results are, however, now gradually accruing, and Lord Aberdeen confidently expects in the early future a profitable return on his large investment. Rather more than seven hundred acres are already under cultivation, and of these some five hundred are devoted to cereals, wheat and barley being largely grown. One hundred acres are in fruit, 27 in English hops, of the London Cluster variety, whilst the remaining cultivation acreage is in roots and garden produce, etc.

There are six hundred head of cattle on the ranche, one hundred horses and some sheep. The estate produced this year 120 tons of wheat and 40 tons of barley, 21 of which has been shipped to England experimentally. The cattle sold were 250 head, all disposed of within the province. Small fruits yielded 5 tons, and hops 25 tons, at the rate of about 1,750 pounds per acre. The large fruit trees are, however, yet too young to bear save to a very limited extent. Lord Aberdeen's Coldstream estate, with its produce and continuous experimenting, largely serves the purpose of an experimental farm for the whole surrounding district, and his Excellency consequently thus renders very considerable service to the agriculture of a most promising district of the British Columbia upper country, in which the expected early development of gold and copper mining should afford exceptionally good opportunities for profitable general farming and fruit growing.

The body must be well nourished now, to prevent sickness. If your appetite is poor take Hoood's Sarsaparilla.

Coughs, Colds, Sore throat, Asthma, Bronchitis, and all Lung Troubles are quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry and Hypophosphites is the surest and best cure for coughs, colds, hoarseness, bronchitis and asthma. Price 50c. and $1.00 per bottle.

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros. the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earth-"quake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won.

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98
SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10.

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

		Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.	SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
	SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	50
	HAT	$2.00	98	$1.02
	Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

STORE NEWS
—AT—
TURNBULL'S

Our aim is to make our store the brightest and best shopping place in the country by keeping always on hand such goods as people require, making quality the first consideration and price the second. Knowing that this is what the people appreciate, with double our old floor space we are now in a position to carry a much larger and varied stock than ever, and keep adding lines as we see we can handle them.

This week we have added a nice assortment of Felt Embroidered Table Scarfs, Table Covers and Shopping Bags.

See the nice Embroidered Shopping Bag we can give you for 25 cents.

We also handle Silk and Chenille Pom Pons, Tassels, Cords, etc., for Fancy Work, at much lower prices we find than they have been sold for before. We also keep a stock of Curtain Poles, Dado Blinds, Screws and Curtain Nets, and have doubled our Carpet stock. We will not quote prices to-day, but you will find our values more than right.

We expect on the next train a big shipment of American Table Oilcloths in beautiful colours and small patterns. Drop in and see them, if you do not want to buy you can tell your neighbors about them.

We have something interesting for boys this week in eight or ten pieces good Wool Tweeds, only 25c a yard; men will also find them excellent goods to wear. Boys be happy, we have a stock of new Braces, only 5c per pair.

See our Astrachan and Cloth Caps at from 30c to 75c each, just fresh from the factory. We have also a number of lengths of choice imported Overcoatings to make up for whoever selects them, at prices that cannot be beaten elsewhere. We speak strongly because we are strong on this line. Perfect fit and style guaranteed in our ordered clothing or no sale,

Heavy Flannelette Night Dresses, our own make, at $1 each.

Those Dress Tweeds we spoke about a week or two ago at 25c, worth 65c, are rolling rapidly; although we purchased a very large quantity, they will soon be out. We call attention to them again, as we would like our regular customers to get their portion of them before they are all gone.

The Vessels of the Proposed Canadian Fast Line.

IMPERIAL GOVERNMENT WILL AID.

A Decision to Subsidize the Line to the Extent of £75,000 Per Annum—Pacific Cable Scheme Also Endorsed by Mr. Chamberlain—Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Nov. 20.—Cable advices were received by the Government yesterday announcing that the Imperial Government had decided to support the project of a fast mail service between Great Britain and Canada to the extent of $375,000 annually for a class of vessels similar to the Teutonic, that is with a speed capacity of 20 knots an hour. The $375,000 is to implement the $750,000 voted by the Dominion Parliament two or three sessions ago. It is understood, however, that the Home Government will require the Dominion authorities to invite tenders for the service, so that the different syndicates which have been asking permission to submit tenders since the matter was placed in Mr. Huddart's hands will now have an opportunity of submitting their offers.

Speaking to your correspondent tonight Sir Mackenzie Bowell said that with the Imperial aid he had no doubt the line could be established. The people of Canada would be much gratified at the course pursued by Mr. Chamberlain and the Imperial Government in this matter. The aid to the fast service would form another link in the chain binding the colonies to the Mother Land, and the service itself would be an important step in the direction of making Canada an Imperial highway, and give the shortest and quickest route between England and her most distant colonies.

The persistency with which the Dominion Government has advocated the laying of a cable between Canada and Australia has at last borne fruit. Many months ago a proposition was made by our Government to the Home authorities asking for a conference to be convened with a view to discussing the financial aspects of the enterprise, whether it should be constructed as a state work, or the contract given to a private company to build and operate, and in the event of state ownership being decided upon, the proportions of the cost which should be assumed by the several Governments interested. Cable advices announce to-day that at an interview held between the Colonial Minister and the several Agents-General for the colonies yesterday, an agreement was reached to appoint six commissioners, to be nominated, two by the Imperial Government, two by the Australian colonies and two by Canada, for the purpose of considering the Pacific Cable matter in all its bearings. The Premier ought, certainly, to be one of the Commissioners for the Dominion, but in view of the near approach of the meeting of Parliament he can hardly leave Canada for some weeks to come. It is assumed of course that Mr. Sandford Fleming, C.M.G., will be one of the commissioners for the Dominion.

A Winnipeg grain dealer has written to the Customs Department stating that he purposes shipping a large quantity of Manitoba wheat in a United States vessel from Duluth to Buffalo, to be stored in a bonded elevator there, and asking for information as to what steps he shall take to get the wheat from Buffalo into Ontario duty free, if the markets in this province warrant him in so doing. He asks the Customs authorities to give him the option of disposing of the wheat either in the United States or Canada. The question brings up a point raised last year, viz., whether or not Canadian-grown grain can be re-imported into Canada without payment of duty. The decision of the Department last year, it will be remembered, was adverse to those dealers who had Canadian wheat stored in Buffalo, and who, when the market here was higher than in the United States, were anxious to sell the grain in Ontario. The Winnipeg dealer has been informed that no wheat shipped in bond from Duluth to Buffalo in a United States vessel can be allowed free entry into Canada. The carrying of grain by this route and in the way proposed would be contrary to our coasting laws, and by a customs route not designated by the department there as a bonding route.

The case of J. R. Hooper, formerly of Port Hope and Ottawa, who is serving a 20 years' term in St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary for attempting to murder his wife, is familiar to most newspaper readers. Recently stacks of petitions were sent in to the Minister of Justice praying for a new trial, on the ground that Hooper had not had fair play in Quebec; others asking for commutation of the sentence passed on Hooper, owing to the doubts existing in the case, and on account of his excellent record as a volunteer in the Northwest during the rebellion of 1885. The petitions have been carefully considered by His Excellency and all the circumtaces in connection with the case have again been examined into, with the result that His Excellency does not see any reason either for ordering a new trial or for interfering with the sentence.

Of the excellent work which has been done during the past few years by the different departments of the Experimental Farm the poultry branch is not the least entitled to commendation. Mrs. Barton Howes of Metcalfe, two years ago secured from the Experimental Farm a quantity of eggs for hatching purposes, they being the product of a cross between Wyandottes and Brahmas. Since that time Mrs. Howes has been carefully following the directions given by Poultry Manager Gilbert for raising chickens, and this week she sent the Premier a sample of the stock raised on her farm in the shape of a 13-pound chicken of the breed mentioned. The chick was hatched in May last and is one of a large brood of equally fine birds. This shows the immense possibilities that there are in the poultry trade.

Now that efforts are being made by the Government to open up an export trade in poultry with the Mother Country, the example which Mrs. Howes furnishes may lead many others to apply to Mr. Gilbert for information as to the best manner in which to raise poultry.

United States Consul Steers, at St. Piere, telegraphed the Marine Department to-day that the steamer Albert, Captain Nelson, of Charlottetown, had been abandoned in a sinking condition 85 miles away from that island. The crew were saved by the Newfoundland schooner Julia Forsey, Captain Courtney, and landed at St. Pierre in a destitute condition. Deputy Minister Smith telegraphed to the Consul, asking him to send the men home at the expense of the Canadian Government.

Mr. J. S. Ewart, Q.C., of Winnipeg, who has been here for some days on Supreme Court business, left for Toronto to-night en route for home. It is not correct, as stated in some newspapers, that Mr. Ewart has been here consulting with the Government about the Remedial bill. During his stay in the city he has met different members of the Government, but has not discussed the school question at any length. It is understoodw that the Government has had a draft Remedial measure prepared for some time, so that if Manitoba refuses to do anything the bill could be introduced into Parliament immediately the address is disposed of. Senator Bernier of St. Boniface, the great champion of the Manitoba minority, is here and Mr. LaRiviere, M.P., is expected to-morrow.

The Department of Justice has received all the papers connected with the Shortis murder trial, including the verbatim copy of the evidence and the judge's report. They constitute a pile of documents about a foot and a half high. It will be the duty of Mr. A. Power, Q.C., chief clerk of the department, to study the case, paying special attention to the insanity plea. His investigation of the evidence on this particular point and the expert testimony of the doctors will be presented to the Minister of Justice, and the case will then go to the Privy Council for a final decision. The issue hangs largely on the point of insanity, and it is just here that the legal opinion is apt to differ from that of the doctors.

THE LOWE REBELLION BROKEN.

All the Delinquents Have Come to Terms and the Military Will be Called Off.

Lowe, Que., Nov. 19.—The backbone of the Lowe rebellion is broken. Within twenty-four hours the militia will return to Ottawa. Accompanied by a cavalry escort, County Solicitor Major and Sergeant Summerville of the provincial police left at midnight on an expedition to Farrellton, seven miles distant, the object of which was to ascertain from Father Foley and Magistrate Farrell, the peacemakers, if the ratepayers at Brennan's Hill were still determined to resist, in consequence of which it would be necessary to march the militia back this morning. They were informed that the delinquents had promised to come to terms and would pay up this forenoon. Nearly all have fulfilled their promises and up to 6 o'clock this evening, when the treasurer closed his books, only two, against whom warrants were issued, had not settled, while all but 20 of the passive delinquents have handed in their cash, netting about $800 to the county.

The new township council met to-night for the election of a Mayor and finished organization by midnight.

FARR GETS TEN YEARS.

Sentences Passed on Those Convicted of Different Crimes at the Winnipeg Assizes Just Closed.

Winnipeg, Nov. 19.—The criminal docket at the assizes was finished to-day, when sentences were imposed on all those found guilty. Mrs. O'Reilly got four months for libel; Percy Walwyn six months for forgery; Daniel Shields three months for robbery; P. Langevin three months for larceny; A. Hewitt eight months and fifteen lashes for criminal assault; Michael Egan three months for larceny; F. Ayot, two years for incest; William Farr ten years for arson and attempted murder.

The committee for devising a scheme of civic reform decided on having a general superintendent of civic affairs, but the feeling of the citizens seems to be against creating any more officials, there being already too many.

Who'll be Next Premier?

To obtrude a question, but this we know th he who uses Windsor Table Salt with his food will be a healthier man than he who uses salt—and lime. A pure salt. Ask for it.

NORTH ONTARIO.

Mr. J. A. McGillivray Chosen by the Conservatives.

VERY CAREFUL IN HIS REMARKS.

Prefers to Wait Before Declaring Himself on the School Question—Endorses the Government in the Meantime—Hon Messrs. Foster and Montague Present.

Cannington, Nov. 20. A convention of the Liberal Conservative Association of North Ontario was held yesterday to nominate a candidate to carry the standard of the party at the coming bye-election. The scene of the meeting was the town hall.

The convention began at 2 o'clock. At that hour the accredited delegates of every municipality in the large riding were duly on hand prepared for business. The town hall was crowded to the doors. On a count being taken it was found 155 delegates had reported. The rest of the hall was filled with spectators.

Dr. Gillespie, president of the association, was called on to preside.

Dr. Gillespie explained that the reason for calling the convention was the death of the late member for the riding, Mr. Frank Madill. The deceased gentleman was eulogized by the speaker in a few well-chosen words. The last time a Liberal-Conservative convention was called in North Ontario was in February, 1891, when Mr. Madill was nominated.

Two resolutions anent the death of the late lamented member were then read to the meeting. One had been prepared by William Smith, M.P., South Ontario, and the other by Mr. William Nelson of Brock.

After hearing them both the audience preferred the latter, and a motion was carried authorizing the resolution to be sent on to the widow of the late Mr. Madill, as an expression of sorrow and a mark of the esteem in which the late member was held throughout the county.

It was announced by the chairman that he, as president of the association, had ordered a wreath of flowers on the occasion of Mr. Madill's funeral. The expense of this was $10.

At the suggestion of a gentleman on the platform, the hat was passed round and in the course of a few minutes the secretary had before him $21.25 in dimes, quarters and half-dollar pieces.

The chairman then announced that the nomination of candidates was in order. Half an hour was allowed for this purpose, and these names were filed with the chairman.

John A. McGillivray, Q.C., Uxbridge.
W. H. Hoyle, Reeve of Cannington.
Dr. Gillespie, Cannington.
James Glendenning, ex-M.L.A.
A. A. Mahaffy, Bracebridge.

Before the balloting was begun it was decided to allow each of the candidates 10 minutes to address the delegates.

Major Sam Hughes, M.P., and Mr. J. W. St. John, M.L.A., were appointed scrutineers.

Mr. McGillivray, being called on to address the meeting, briefly spoke as follows:

I have never been asked a question by mortal man upon a public question to which I was not anxious and willing to give a straight answer, and I will give you an answer to a question which was asked of me by the delegation from Muskoka this morning. I would be sorry to represent you in Parliament upon any false issue. My desire is that we may act unanimously here to-day, because of the love we all gladly give to the party of our choice. We are in troubl some times. There is no one denying it; but we have had more troublesome times in the past, as instance the Rebellion of 1837. I believe whoever you nominate to-day is sure to be the successor of Frank Madill. (Applause.) A few words as to the Patrons. They are our brothers and neighbors. I have no unkind word to say of them, but I have taken occasion through the press to point out the fact that most of the Patrons are Liberals, and it was therefore prudent on the part of Conservatives to act cautiously in regard to that order. Now, I come to the issue of the campaign. I have come to the cross-roads. I hope, however, there will be no cross roads. It is in the best interest of our beloved country that the Liberal-Conservative Government should remain in power, because in the main we are all agreed as to its policy. We disagree upon one point only, the question of the so-called Remedial Order. What are you to do and what am I to do on that question ? It is said the controversy is likely to be settled before Parliament meets. The Ministers are of that opinion, and there is no reason why we should not believe them. Even if such a settlement is not arrived at, it is said the parties interested have come so close together that a measure will be passed that will be satisfactory to every Conservative throughout Canada. I read in to-day's World, from a Montreal despatch, that it is generally understood that the Manitoba Ministry's reply to Ottawa, will embrace one or more important concessions. If that is going to be the case, why not let us first hear what Mr. Greenway has to say, and then see the kind of measure the Dominion Government wants each of us to support ? I want to see the measure first, and then I will tell you how I will vote. We are not in Russia. We are surely entitled to some liberty of action to decide on questions as they come up. I don't believe the Government have yet exactly agreed upon what their policy is to be. Inside of three or four months the general election will be on and if I have not satisfied you by my actions in Parliament all you have to do is reject me. (Loud applause.)

Hon. Messrs. Foster and Montague entered the hall and were very loudly applauded, the audience rising to its

Women, who seem to be all worn out, will find in purified blood, made rich and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla, permanent relief and strength. The following is from a well known nurse:

"I have suffered for years with female complaints and kidney troubles and I have had a great deal of medical advice during that time, but have received little or no benefit. A friend advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began to use it, together with Hood's Pills. I have realized more benefit from these medicines than from anything else I have ever taken. From my personal experience I believe Hood's Sarsaparilla to be a most complete blood purifier." MRS. C. CROMPTON, 71 Cumberland St., Toronto, Ontario.

THANKSGIVING.

It is a good thing to give thanks unto God.—Psalm xcii., 1.

A certain philosopher who was not blessed with a surplus of the world's goods, wishing to go out into the streets, lamented his hard lot in that he had no boots to wear. However, he did venture abroad in his naked feet and during his walk encountered a poor man without feet. He returned home quite contented. Hard as he thought his lot, he had two things to be thankful for—a pair of good feet. We must be reduced to a very low estate when we can find no cause for thankfulness. However difficult our lot, however great our afflictions, however lacking in worldly gear and goods, we may be, the heart tuned to grateful recognition of the benefactions of divine Providence, will find some cause for thanksgiving. This applies, it is a pleasure to say, to the great mass of the people of Canada. Therefore, it is meet that our rulers should set apart a day for, as it were, a corporate thanksgiving—a day when all can unite in heartfelt thanksgiving for the blessings vouchsafed during another year. We in Canada have special reason to be grateful. We have been blessed with a bountiful harvest, and though some good souls, to whom grumbling is meat and drink, discover the fly in the ointment in the shape of low prices, yet the supply of nature's bounties is sufficiently abundant to offset this disadvantage. We have enjoyed the blessings of peace—no rude alarms of war have disturbed the peaceful serenity of the national life; no epidemic of wasting disease has ravaged our homes. We have enjoyed on the whole a reasonable degree of worldly prosperity and, in a thousand ways we have reason to be thankful, and therefore we all unite to-morrow in recognizing with grateful hearts the heavenly protection that has sheltered us another year, and the bounties the open hand of Providence has showered up us.

In recognition of the day special services will be held in the churches to-morrow. At eleven o'clock a special thanksgiving service and sermon will be held in St. John's and St. Luke's, and the churches represented by the Ministerial Association hold a union t[illegible]ving service in the George street [illegible]st church.

That the staff of the EXAMINER may join in the general thanksgiving, there will be no issue to-morrow.

THE world would not be sorry if the European powers could have given it carved Turkey for to-morrow.

THE peacefulness of Thanksgiving Day was threatened to be rudely broken by the clash of arms in the sister Province of Quebec. Canada's reputation for the peaceful behaviour of her inhabitants was marred by the conduct of the ratepayers of the township of Low, Ottawa county, in the province of Quebec. For years they have refused as a body to pay their county taxes, and a battalion of infantry and a battery of artillery were sent to bring the recalcitrant ratepayers to time. The 200 delinquent ratepayers were overawed. They have capitulated and a general amnesty has been declared in the event of their paying up. These people should have reflected that it is as useless to fight against taxes as it is to fight against death—both are inevitable; both are debts we all must pay.

Y.P.S.C.E. NOTES.

WORLD'S C. E. PRAYER CHAIN.

Topic for November "That we may all be taught of Christ to pray, in spirit and in truth, 'Lord teach us to pray.'"

This is the special topic, along with it we are to remember the Christian Endeavour movement throughout the world, and the individual links of the chain, in our morning and evening prayers. The chain is growing longer, quite a few links having been added this last week. All it will cost you is the price of a postage stamp, and the benefits are beyond calculation. Send your name and stamp to Box 865.

SALEM.

Salem E. L. of C. E. held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening. The meeting was led by Bro. Wm. Sargent. The topic was conducted by Bro. Samuel Sargent, sr., in a pleasant and impressive manner. He quoted some of the precious promises found in God's book of promises. He also told not only why they were dear to him but how they might become dear to all. The meeting was then thrown open and several of the members gave their favourite promises, each one telling in a few words why it was endeared to them. We found this mode of conducting the meeting very interesting and helpful, also making a very agreeable change from the usual form. We hope to get some ideas on the line of variation from other societies.

C. E. Editor's Note.—Mutual improvement in Society work is one of the leading objects in publishing this column. We would prefer hearing of novel or interesting ways of conducting a meeting, or some good helpful thought given by a speaker, than to hear of crowded meetings conducted in a rut. New ways of work in your Society may be old in others, but it will be new to many, and therefore we will be glad to hear of anything along that line.

VILLIERS—OTONABEE.

Our meeting on Tuesday evening was not only interesting but indeed very profitable. After the opening exercises conducted by our president, Miss Bathgate, a paper on the topic, "My Favourite Promise, and Why it is Dear to me," was read by Miss Aggie Elmhirst. Mr. Lancaster then explained the two different kinds of promises—those pertaining to this life, and those to the life everlasting, after which the meeting was open for each member to give their favourite promise. A short address on "Endeavour" was then given by Mr. J. O. Fife and the topic was brought to a close. The prayer meeting was conducted by Miss Lizzie Nelson, all the active members promptly taking part. We are much pleased to report a new member.

ST. PAUL'S.

Miss McIntosh, vice-president presided on Monday night. The topic, "Rejecting Christ: the Consequences," was taken up by seven members of the Executive, each giving a short paper on the daily reading. This is an excellent plan for bringing the many sides of a topic before the meeting, of course, to be a success each paper should be short—not over two or three minutes in length. The meetings of this society are increasing in interest, no two of them being conducted alike.

Owing to Rev. W. Patterson's lecture next Monday evening, the consecration meeting will be held after the Sunday evening service. The names will be called by committee conveners, each calling their own committee.

GEORGE STREET SOCIETY.

Owing to the entertainment next Monday, the temperance meeting of this society was held last evening, with Mr. Mitchell, convener of the Temperance Committee, in the chair. Mr. Moffatt took the topic very acceptably, after which the regular business meeting was held. Reports were read from the different departments of work, showing that each committee had been active during the month. Fifteen new names had been received and were, last night, brought before the society and accepted.

ST. ANDREW'S SOCIETY

Held their regular meeting on Monday night. There was a good attendance. The chair was occupied by Mrs. Mulligan. After the opening exercises the topic, "Rejecting Christ and Its Consequences," was ably taken by Miss E. White, showing the terribleness of rejecting Christ, that the firey elements which destroyed Sodom and Gommorah, falls far short of the punishment which will be experienced by those who still refuse to accept Christ. After the reading of this excellent paper the meeting was open and a number took part, making the meeting lively and interesting.

We are glad to report another increase to the number of members, by the acceptance of one active and two associate members into our society, for which we thank God and trust it will be continued.

CHARLOTTE STREET SOCIETY

Had a good meeting on Monday evening last. Mr. H. Kennedy occupied the chair. The topic, "Rejecting Christ, and its Consequences," was taken up by Messrs. J. Richardson, H. Taylor and the chairman of the meeting. All being good speakers made the meeting not only one of great interest but one of instruction.

We were glad to welcome several visitors from other societies.

Six new members were added to our roll this week and we are still looking for more.

THE ONLY HELP

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

Coughs, Colds, Sore throat, Ashhma, Bronchitis, and all Lung Troubles are quickly cured by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam.

MILLBROOK.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The East Durham Liberal Association will meet in Millbrook on Wednesday, Nov. 27th.

The Charles O. Willard Company appeared in the Town Hall on Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings, and were greeted with large audiences on each occasion. This was their last appearance of the season, they having now disbanded.

Union services will be held in the Methodist church on Thanksgiving morning, by the Methodist and Presbyterian congregations. Music will be furnished by the united choirs of the two churches, and collections taken up in aid of the poor.

A grand concert will be given in the Town Hall, on December 5th, in aid of the Mechanics' Institute.

The English Church will give a ten cent tea and concert on Thanksgiving evening.

Rev. Geo. Nickle has been visiting his parents in Madoc.

The Fallis line church pulpit will be occupied next Sunday morning by Rev. Mr. Phelps, and in the afternoon by Rev. Wm. Johnston.

Mr. E. J. Guy, who has been in Millbrook for some weeks, has returned to his home in Oshawa.

Miss Lottie Cochrane spent Monday in Peterborough.

Dr. Fred. Mulligan, son of Mr. Henry Mulligan, and who has lately returned from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, London, Eng., has bought out a practice in Petrolia, where he intends locating.

Messrs. Gardiner and Mulligan, hardware merchants, will this week remove to their new and commodious quarters in the Might block.

Dr. Hassard has purchased the brick residence on King street belonging to the estate of the late Maria Johnston, and has moved there this week.

Mr. Geo. Burnham has returned from Toronto, where he has been for the past three months.

Miss Laura Vance, of Lornville, was in town over Sunday.

The demand for Ayer's Hair Vigor in such widely-separated regions of South America, Spain, Australia, and India has kept pace with the home consumption, which goes to show that these people know a good thing when they try it.

feet and indulging in prolonged cheering.

Dr. Gillespie next addressed the delegates. He said he did not intend to go into the details as to his birthplace or pedigree. All his life he had been a loyal Liberal-Conservative. Referring to Sir John Macdonald, he repelled the insinuation that the old chieftain didn't honestly believe in protection. The trade policy is the grand central policy around which we must rally in this campaign. As a mater of fact, the trade policy is our living. In regard to the main issue now before the country, I have a word or two to say. Up to yesterday I was a firm opponent of the course proposed by the Government, but when I read the papers yesterday and to-day and see the action taken by large bodies of men, who live at the scene of the trouble, I am disposed to change my opinion and ask myself if I am right in taking the extreme view I have taken. The Presbyterian Synod assembled at Winnipeg has expressed itself as desirous that some means will be arrived at whereby a conference will be held between the Dominion and Provincial Governments and the grievances complained of rectified. For this and similar reasons, my views have altered very materially. This far will I go. I am opposed to any interference with provincial rights and if a measure interfering with Manitoba were introduced in Parliament I would of course opose it.

Mr. Hoyle was the next speaker. He said he had not changed his mind on the question of Remedial Legislation or interference. He stood to-day exactly where he did five years ago. Dearly as he loved his party, he could not endorse the position taken by his friends, Dr. Gillespie and Mr. McGillivray. He believed with these two gentlemen that the Government would be relieved from the responsibility of introducing the measure which they believe should be introduced, from a constitutional standpoint. The Government made a mistake when they sent the Remedial Order to Manitoba. He could not endorse the action of any Government that interfered with Manitoba: He believed Manitoba would do justice to the minority, and that the controversy would not come to a vote in Parliament. He was going to allow his name to stand before the convention for the purpose of testing the feeling of the people on the Manitoba question.

Messrs. Glendenning and Mahaffy begged to withdraw their names from the convention.

The scrutineers then proceeded to take the ballot, this function occupying some 15 minutes. It was announced that Mr. McGillivray had secured 99 out of 155 ballots, giving him a plurality of 43 over the other candidates.

Mr. Hoyle obtained 29 votes.

After the announcement of the ballot Mr. McGillivray was called on. He thanked the delegates for selecting him as their candidate and announced his intention of taking off his coat and working like a beaver for the next three weeks.

A motion was put and carried making the nomination of Mr. McGillivray unanimous.

Hon. G. E. Foster, on being introduced, was received with rousing cheers. He intended to speak to-night, and would therefore only make a few remarks now. He referred with deep regret to the death of Mr. Madill and praised that gentleman for his many virtues. He was well pleased with the result of this convention this afternoon.

Hon. Dr. Montague also addressed the meeting for a few minutes.

The meeting closed with the usual cheers for the candidate.

THE EVENING MEETING.

Major Hughes Makes Patriotic Remarks and Puts in a Word for the Trent Canal.

Despite the bad state of the weather that prevailed, there was a large turnout at the evening meeting, among the audience being a good representation of the ladies.

Mr. Hoyle presented an address of welcome to the Hon. Mr. Foster and Dr. Montague. The address emanated from the municipal corporation of Connington, and was of a purely non-political character.

Hon. Mr. Foster thanked the Reeve and corporation for their address, and in doing so referred to the importance of municipal institutions. The coming general election, said the speaker, involves questions of greater concern to Canada than those of any other general election that has yet been held in Canada. He said this advisedly. In judging the two parties at this time, it is fitting to review their conduct not for a year or two years back, but for a period of 20 years. Comparing the two parties in a general way, the one was famous for its work of construction and the other for its work of destruction.

It took the speaker probably half an hour to cite the various fads that the Liberals had taken up during the past 20 years, all of which had dropped out of sight, except the one that is now being preached, viz., the doctrine of free trade, as they have it in England. This, too, would have its day like the rest of the fads, and like them would drop out of sight. The unification of Canada was opposed all along by the Liberal party. They opposed the acquisition of even the great Northwest, opposed uniting British Columbia, now probably the richest province of Canada, with the rest of the Dominion; opposed the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway, because in the language of Mr. Blake, such a railway would not earn enough to oil the wheels of the locomotives and cars. Another instance of the destructive work of the Liberal party was its hostility towards the industries of this country. The policy of that party is to destroy and cripple the manufactures of Canada. The Liberals laughed at the Intercolonial Conference, and the establishment of a fast Atlantic service. "Did you read this morning's paper? If you did you probably saw a telegram from London, saying it is well ascertained that the British Government have resolved to subsidize that fast Atlantic service. I believe very thoroughly this telegram states the exact truth, and that with British and colonial aid there will soon be a line of communication from Australia to Liverpool, both cable steamships, which will be an honor, and more than that, a benefit and a continually growing bond of union between the empire and its outlying parts.

Dr. Montague was loudly applauded when he was called on to address the meeting. He agreed with Major Hughes in his estimate of Hon. Mr. Foster. The leader of the House of Commons, was a fitting successor to Joseph Howe, Sir Charles Tupper, Sir Leonard Tilley and the other great Canadian statesmen, who came from the provinces by the sea. (Applause.) A characteristic feature of Liberal meetings is the failure of their speakers to refer to what their party has done in the past. This feature was worth thinking over. The Liberals had really done nothing towards the up-building of the Dominion. Their policy was not only not progressive, it was a policy of positive destruction to Canadian industries, and to Canadian progress.

The greater part of Dr. Montague's speech was devoted to a detail of the various Acts the Government had passed in the interest of the Canadian farmers and Canadian workmen, with all of which the public is more or less familiar.

A characteristic feature of the meeting was the omission by the speakers of all reference to the Manitoba school question.

After Dr. Montague's address an informal reception was held in the hall, when a large number of ladies and gentlemen were presented to the two Cabinet Ministers.

John Patterson to Oppose James Tucker

Drayton, Nov. 19.—The adjourned Reform convention to choose a candidate for the Local Legislature for West Wellington here to-day was largely attended. A ballot without nominations was cast, and upon the third Mr. John Patterson received the majority over Mr. James McEwing, who was second. Mr. Patterson was tendered the unanimous nomination by a standing vote.

"The Common People."

As Abraham Lincoln called them, do not care to argue about their ailments. What they want is a medicine that will cure them. The simple, honest statement, "I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla cured me," is the best argument in favor of this medicine, and this is what many thousands voluntarily say.

Hood's Pills are the best after-dinner pills, assist digestion, cure headache. 25c.

KING OF ASHANTEE COMES DOWN.

He Will Accede to Britain's Demands and Pay All the Costs

London, Nov. 19.—The Daily News says that Lord Suffield and Mr. Sutherst, as intermediaries on behalf of the Ashantee envoys whom the Government has declined to receive, to-day visited Mr. Chamberlain, and undertook that the British demand relative to having a resident at Coomassie and the other demands contained in the ultimatum to King Prempeh shall be satisfied. The King will also pay the cost of the present preparations for sending an expedition against him. The formal terms will be made known when the envoys arrive at Coomassie for which place they will start shortly.

Mr. Chamberlain undertook that no troops would be sent to Ashantee if the King endorses the above terms.

The preparations for the expedition will continue for the present, but the difficulty will probably be settled without war.

MR. SOL. WHITE ROBBED.

The Ex-M.P.P.'s Little Daughter Frightened Off the Burglars, But Not Before They Had Made a Haul.

Windsor, Nov. 19.—The little daughter of Sol White, ex-M.L.A., frightened away burglars from her father's house last night by arousing her mother when the marauders tried to enter their bed chamber. As it was they got away with a sold silver set, costing $250, a gold watch, which Mr. White says was worth $150, $30 in cash and 18 bottles of wine. They took all his clothing into his private office near the parlor. Everything of any value in it was taken. Entrance was gained by removing a pane of glass from the parlor window. Mr. White says he must have been chloroformed.

Two little girls, daughters of Charles and Samuel Shuel, two brothers, residing in the Shuel settlement, 12 miles back of Windsor were riding home on a load of corn, when the horses took fright and bolted, overturning the wagon and throwing the girls out on the road. One of them had her thigh broken and the other her skull fractured.

It is in the Nature of Things.

That, as age advances with its concomitants of wear and tear, some parts of the delicate machinery of the body, upon which health and vigor depend, should suffer derangement. Feelings of weariness, listlessness, or despondency are the signals that Nature throws out to warn, and woe to him who neglects these warnings, for severe are the penalties she exacts. To quicken into new vigor the failing energies; to impart; with certainty, tone to the nervous system, to renew its one time force: these are the special tendencies of the wontrous tonic and nutrient, Maltine with Coca Wine. It gives strength to the nervous system and is thus a "nerve restorer;" it increases nutrition, and is, therefore a "body-builder." Maltine with Coca Wine, by its power to add to nerve force and to increase weight, will be found by debilitated and weak a veritable "life-giver," Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine Its composition may be known to you, as it has long been known and subscribed to by the medical profession. Maltine with Coca Wine gives strength, vigor and health. Sold by all druggists.

When any part of the body isn't doing the work that nature intended it to do, it puts the whole system out of tune—out of harmony. When all of the parts do not work well together, none of them can work just right. Sickness in one part of the body is likely to run into all parts of the body. It isn't necessary to be sick all over the body, in order that you may feel sick all over. When children stand a row of bricks on end, they knock the whole row down by upsetting one brick. That is exactly what happens to the health when the bowels fail to perform their proper function. Constipation makes trouble all along the line—puts the liver out of order, is bad for the kidneys—bad for the stomach. It holds in the body poisonous matter, and because it cannot go any place else, it gets into the blood. The blood carries it all over the system. That makes sluggishness, lassitude, bad breath and foul taste in the mouth, fills the stomach with gas and causes windy belching, stops digestion in the stomach, causes sour stomach, heartburn and flatulence. It makes pimples and blotches and causes sick and bilious headaches. Nine-tenths of all human ailments are due to this one seemingly trivial cause. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. They really cure it. Nobody becomes a slave to the use of the "Pellets." They cause no griping and are as mild as they are efficient. At any drug store. Look out for the druggist who tries to sell you something which he says is "just as good." There is nothing just as good. There is nothing that is nearly as good. Anybody who tells you there is is mistaken—or worse.

A GREAT MEDICAL WORK FREE.

This Evening's Lecture.

Mr. J. J. Tilley, Inspector of Model Schools, lectures this evening at the Opera House on "Home Preparation for the School and After Life." The address is delivered in connection with the first annual convention of the Town Teachers' Association, which is now in progress. Other sessions will be held Friday afternoon and evening.

Charity Entertainment.

A most enjoyable charity entertainment under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Peter's Cathedral, will be held in the Foresters' Hall, Hunter street, on Wednesday, evening, Nov. 20th. The Fire Brigade Orchestra will be present. Tickets, admitting gentleman and lady, $1.00; ladies, 50c. A good time in the interests of a good cause is guaranteed all who attend. 3d

Extension of the Oriental.

Increasing trade at the Oriental Hotel, has necessitated the building of a new wing to the building. The barns in the rear will be pulled down and a large and commodious addition erected on the south side of the street. It will be 30x80 feet in size. The ground floor will be used for sample rooms, and in each of the two upper flats there will be seven bed rooms. The connection between the present building and the new addition will be through the kitchen wing, in which the upper halls will be widened into airy corridors.

A THANKSGIVING HYMN.

Thou crownest the year with thy goodness.—Ps. lxv.,11.

Lord of the Harvest, once again
We thank thee for the ripening grain,
For crops safe garnered, sent to cheer
Thy children through another year;
For all sweet holy thoughts supplied
By seed time and by harvest tide.

The bare, dead grain in autumn sown,
Its robe of vernal green puts on,
Glad from it wintry grave its springs,
Fresh garnered by the King of Kings;
So Lord to those who sleep in Thee
Shall new and glorious bodies be.

Nor vainly of Thy Word we ask
A lesson from the reaper's task;
So shall Thy angels issue forth,
The tares be burnt; the just of earth
To wind and storm exposed no more,
Be gathered to their Father's store.

Daily, O Lord, our prayers be said,
As Thou has taught; for daily bread;
But not alone our bodies feed,
Supply the spirit's fainting need;
O, Bread of Life, from day to day,
Be thou their comfort, Lord, and stay.

Magnificent Chrysanthemums.

Mr. Councillor J. H. Cobb is one of the most successful amateur floriculturists in town and makes a special success of the chrysanthemum. He is by no means illiberal in distributing the flowers, either. He will be at the Chrysanthemum Show at Toronto to-morrow, but it is doubtful if he sees any finer specimens than are to be found at his residence, Aylmer street.

Out of Tooth Powder!

Then get the best. The best is Ivorine. "Best" because it whitens the teeth and does not destroy the enamel. Good as the best in fragrance and cleansing and polishing properties. Better than most, as it contains no acids to destroy. Better than all because pleasant, fragrant, cleansing, and whitening, all the good qualities combined. Ivorine for the teeth can claim to be the best.

The Ground Floor Gallery Sold.

The photographic studio of Mr. G. B. Sproule, Charlotte street, was sold en bloc at bailiff's sale this afternoon to Mr. J. R. Stratton, who has employed a first-class artist to manage the business, which will be resumed on Friday morning, Nov. 23rd. The studio will be thoroughly renovated and refitted, and persons desiring pictures of first-rate quality, may obtain them after the above date. The former assistants will resume their places on Friday morning, and the business will be pushed to its full capacity.

Will Pay the Costs.

Walter Harron was assessed the costs this morning on a charge of taking some oats which did not belong to him from Mr. Eli Stimlin, of Otonabee. Joseph Graham who was found guilty on a like charge some time ago and given ten days in which to pay the costs, was sent up to Castle Nesbitt for neglecting to settle. The reason for letting the two prisoners off so lightly was that Graham is a half brother of Mr. Stimlin, and therefore probably thought that he was privileged in taking the oats without asking permission.

She was Bound to go.

A lady and gentleman were walking slowly down George street this afternoon gazing intently into all the store windows. Suddenly something startled the lady and grabbing her husband she hustled him him down the street and went into Saisbury's Book Store. A number of citizens followed her in wonder, but they wondered no longer. She went in to buy one of the star course concert tickets for $1.25, which entitles the bearer to a reserved seat in five first-class entertainments. The first of which will be the Canada Concert Company, Nov. 25th. The plan for which is now open.

St. Andrew's Dinner.

The committee of the St. Andrew's Society have completed satisfactory arrangements for the celebration of St. Andrew's Day by a banquet to be held in the Huffman House, on Monday evening, December 2nd. The preparations for this annual event are in the hands of an influential committee, composed of the following gentlemen: Dr. R. W. Bell, Dr. D. N. Carmichael, Dr. W. Caldwell, R. Max Dennistoun, Alex. Gibson and W. Menzies. Under such efficient management the dinner ought to be the principal public event of the season, and doubtless will be. The newly-elected president, Dr. R. W. Bell, has been an an active member of the society for the past fifteen years. He is known to be painstaking and sincere in everything he puts his hand to, and is, withal, well known and popular throughout the town and country. THE EXAMINER congratulates the doctor on his promotion and the society on their choice.

A NIGHT IN THE NORTHWEST AT ST. LUKE'S.

A Successful Reception at St. Luke's. Miss Symonds gives an Interesting Address on Mission Work Among the Blackfoot Indians—A Good Entertainment.

Despite the inclemency of the weather there was a large attendance of members and other friends of St. Luke's church, including a good representation from the South Ward Mission at the reception of St. Luke's Branch of the Women's Auxiliary. The school house was arranged with chairs, sofas and tables, to represent a drawing room, whilst on the platform was an Indian tepee (tent), in which was suspended the iron cooking pot, over the representation of a fire, in the middle of the tepee. Outside the tent was a "travois," the Indian carriage, which answers the purposes of a cab, a buggy, an express cart, and a waggon, so superior is the red man to the white. Master Frank Burnham, in Indian full dress of buckskin, shirt and leggings, trimmed with beaded ermine skins, and Miss Helen Burnham in the picturesque garb of a squaw, with papoose in moss bag, were a great success, and the whole scene lent an air of reality to Miss Symonds' talk and illustrated many of the points to which she referred.

The first piece on the programme was an instrumental solo by Mrs. Peck. This was followed by an excellent song by Rev. W. L. Baynes Reed. Miss Lily Jackson sang in her usual pleasing style "The College Belle." Mr. Adams brought down the house with his banjo and whistling performance, and his comic songs. Miss Bellegham, too, was loudly encored for her rendition of "Esmeralda."

In introducing Miss Symonds the rector said it gave her much pleasure to be able to make some return for the goodness of the Women's Auxiliary, who sent a large bale to the Home at Gleichen last winter, and to St. Luke's Bible Class, who last year sent a Christmas box of $20.

Miss Symonds said the Indian Reservation of the Blackfeet tribe was divided into two main camps the North and South camps, and there were mission homes in each camp. Referring first of all to Indian camp life she said the women did the greater part of the work, as there was but little for men to do, but matters were improving in this respect, and they were in possession of and used mowing machines to cut hay, worked a small coal mine, bred horses and were beginning to rear cattle. In the winter the Indians lived in huts, but in the summer they camped on the prairie.

The missionary work was not confined to the homes, but Mr. Tims visited among the tepees and performed innumerable services of all kinds for the Indians. The adult Indians, however, were not easily converted to Christianity. They would come to church and behave with the utmost gravity, but that was all. Yet they were quite willing that the children should be educated in the Christian faith.

The life of the Indian home was in many respects similar to that of any Children's Home. In addition to the ordinary education, the children were day by day assigned various tasks, as preparing the breakfast, making the beds, and "doing the chores" generally. They needed a great deal of oversight. One great difficulty in helping the Indians, both adults and children, was their lack of ambition. The idea of progress, so universal amongst white peoples, had no existence amongst the Indians. The services in the church were in Blackfoot, and the children sung hymns very prettily and repeated the prayers very heartily. There was no doubt that many of the children understood the teachings they received and as far as any children's mind can do, they apprehended the meaning of Christianity. Of their own will they were baptized and confirmed when the Bishop visited the Home. In society they were polite and well-mannered, neither too shy nor too forward.

Miss Symonds referred in terms of the highest praise to the work of Rev. Mr. Tims, now Archdeacon Tims. He had laboured under great discouragements for many years and had successfully laid the foundations of a lasting work for the physical, moral and spiritual well-being of the people.

Mr. Tims was a master of the Blackfoot tongue, and had translated parts of the Bible, prayers and hymns into that tongue, which were published by the S.P.C.K.

In conclusion, Miss Symonds referred to some needs of the new hospital recently erected by the government.

Immediately after the close of the address the Rector said that the Junior Bible Class of St. Luke's Sunday school, conducted by Mrs. Warde, had, during the past year, in addition to their Sunday school offerings, laid by small sums to be devoted to some special object, which they had decided should be the St. John's Home. The sum ($5) was not large, but it represented a good deal of self denial. Bert Prattley on behalf of the class then came forward and presented the money to Miss Symonds, who made a grateful acknowledgment. Refreshments were then served by the W. A. to the accompaniment of the hum and clatter of many tongues in social conversation. At the close of the programme the evening hymn was sung and the benediction pronounced by the rector.

It was universally agreed that a very pleasant evening had been spent, and that the work of the Women's Auxiliary in St. Luke's had received a great stimulus.

The annual tea and sale of work by the Ladies' Aid, will be held on Thursday, Dec. 5th, beginning at 5 p.m. The usual stock of useful and ornamental articles will be offered for sale, and "High Tea" will be followed by an entertainment.

Bible Society Meeting.

A highly successful meeting of the Keene branch of the Upper Canada Bible Society was held in the Presbyterian church, Keene, on Tuesday night. Mr. John Kindred, president of the society, occupied the chair, and Rev. Mr. Andrews and Rev. Mr. Liddy occupied seats on the platform. Mr. George Read, who has been secretary-treasurer of the local society for 36 or 37 years, presented his report, which showed that the contributions of the Keene branch last year amounted to the handsome sum of $169. There was a good attendance. A union choir of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches furnished excellent special music. The evening's collection totalled $7.00.

THE SOCIALISM OF TO-DAY.

Summary of an Interesting Paper Read Before the Canadian Institute by Mr. Hampden Burnham, M.A.—The Evolution of Society—The Author Deservedly Complimented.

At the regular meeting of the Canadian Institute on Saturday evening in Toronto, a paper was read by Mr. Hampden Burnham, M.A., on "The Socialism of To-day," of which the following is a summary:

The writer began by tracing the rise of that class or portion of the people known as the working class, which gains its living by working for others. During the early part of the Christian era in Northern Europe, as well as in Southern, the lowest order of the people were the serfs. Then came the free men, next in order above them. With the exception of a few smiths of various kinds the great body of the tillers dwelt on land. The worst could not come to the worst with them until the land failed to bring forth food. Gradually, however, and chiefly through the decay of the feudal system, the labourers ceased to find employment on the land, and swelled the population of the towns. In process of a long series of years these former dwellers upon land became comparatively numerous, and competition began to have a distinct influence upon the wages paid to artificers and craftsmen. Then the day came when discovery and invention gave a great and sudden impulse to manufacture. The wage-workers then became a distinct class, in the employ of another distinct class, the capitalist employers. Then the desire of profit on increasing capital gradually narrowed down the condition of the wage-worker, who once had been fairly well off and contented. But the wage-worker had no recourse, for he was now off the land for good, and if he did not take the wages offered he would have to starve. Some, of course, as at the present time, fared well; many, however, just as we see to-day, were in the depths of despair. This last condition of things has become so distressful that the workingmen as a body or society are calling out about it, and asking the State to become the sole and only employer, so that they may get a fair return for their labour, and a more certain employment and subsistence. This State-ownership of the means of production and distribution is State-Socialism, the desire of many millions of workingmen. Mr. Burnham was of opinion that Prof. Schoffle's objections to it were insuperable. State-Socialism proposes to pay men in labour-time notes made up according to time spent on the work. This made no distinction between merit and carelessness. Prices regulate production now, and factories stop or double time as the market price advises them. No State could ever control this supply and demand, so that one class would not waste its energies in producing a surplus while another was behind in supply. Evidently the idea of ascertaining the proper selling price of an article by the time spent upon it was impracticable. Then, too, a sudden urgency of demand produces a premium price on supply. How could this premium tendency be stamped out?

The measuring of all work by a uniform measure of time; the consideration of a demand value; the firm authoritative system of control, are all inconsistent with democracy and justice to each individual, and the theory of a share for each in the control of all. The spirit of Socialism as a spirit of justice to the workingman is not reconcilable with this system. The plan that commended itself to all those who wished to see the individual free and well employed was the co-operative one. He dwelt at length upon the practical results and benefits of this system. He also dealt with the philosophical aspect of the question, taking up to some extent the various theories of State and individual rights, and the distinction between moral and physical rights. In this connection, he took up Kant, Hegel, Herbert Spencer, Mill, Ritchie, Goldwin Smith, and, in fact, most of those connected with the more abtruse view of the question. He also put in a good word for single tax, as tending to pave the way for a return of the labourer to the land. He considered, however, that single tax was confiscation as George presents it. But he suggested an original plan, to the effect that, whilst all present improvements or those within reasonable contemplation should continue to bear their shares of the taxes, there was nothing to prevent the exempting at a future date of all future improvements. He was strongly in favour, too, of labour unions, and considered that they were capable of bringing about a vast purification of political methods. The individual should be free from the physical constraint of others, but well under the control of his moral or religious ideal. Only by the feeling of dignity and worth could men be made what they ought to be. Women, he considered, as included in man, since nature had decreed that the continuance of the species depended upon pairing. Social relations were therefore between pairs, properly speaking, and not between individuals. What the two agree on should be what the pair should seek. They must not be at variance. What the State should do is to protect the individual and not to interfere with him by initiating or suggesting.

He thought that capital should be treated of as labour in a transformed state, as this permitted the reducing of the two to a uniform basis of comparison.

At the conclusion of the paper and discussion of it Mr. Burnham was warmly congratulated, the chairman and others expressing the wish that he should see his way clear to the delivering of a course of lectures before the institute upon Social Science.

DISDUSSION ON STREET GRADING.

AN AGREEMENT BETWEEN THE TOWN AND RAILWAY COMPANY REACHED.

The Town Will Buy the Gravel and Pay for the Loading and the Spreading of it. While the Street Railway Company Hauls it.

A special meeting of the town council was held this morning at ten o'clock, for the purpose of endorsing the recommendation of the Street and Bridge Committee regarding the settlement of the matter of coming to an agreement with the Street Railway, concerning the raising of the grade on George street.

The following members were in attendance, the Mayor, and Messrs. Cahill, Best, Deane, Mills, Clinkscale, Stone, Sawers, Mason, Dawson and Brady.

THE STREET AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE,

through its chairman, Councillor Best reported that after consultation with the Street Railway management, they found that a change will be necessary in the arrangement proposed for raising the grade on portions of George street. They recommended that upon the Street Railway Company furnishing cars, laying the spur to the gravel pit and hauling the gravel to when it is required [to the amount of 2,400 yards] the town furnish the gravel, fill the cars and spread the gravel on the street and roadbed and the town shall tamp the earth under the railroad track.

The Mayor explained that the Street Railway Company required about 700 yards of gravel and the town 1,700 yards. The cost to the town of raising the grade by the proposed method would be about 30 cents a yard. Ten for the gravel, ten for filling the cars and ten for laying it on the street. This, he thought, was very cheap, and by the gravel being hauled on the cars by the street railway the streets would not be cut up by the heavy loads.

Councillor Cobb did not think that 30 cents a yard was very cheap. He had good earth brought to his garden and laid at 37 cents a yard, but he supposed the Street Railway had to be met half way in the matter, as they contended, he understood, that legally they need not be put to any expense.

Mr. Dawson thought that the Street Railway was getting the big end of the bargain. There were plenty of teams out of work just now and the gravel could consequently be hauled very cheaply. He recognized the fact, however, that there was need of urgency in completing the job as winter was almost here.

Other members spoke of the necessity of haste in having the work taken up immediately and finished as soon as possible. As it was pointed out that the the teams would take a great deal longer time to do the work than the railway, and would cut up the road considerably, the scheme as recommended by the committee was adopted as being of the question of raising the grade.

Councillor Best in introducing another question stated that the Central Bridge Works agreed to erect the superstructure of the new bridge on George street, at a cost of $600 providing the length was reduced from 25 to 20 feet and they be permitted to put four heavy girders instead of eight light ones. They furthermore agreed to paint the bridge and construct a sidewalk for foot passengers supported on cantilevers. The reason actuating this offer was the fact that the company had the necessary girders already in stock suitable for the work.

The following resolution was then passed, moved by Councillors Best and Denne, as appended:—That the bridge over the creek on George street be constructed of 20 feet length and 66 feet width, and that the contract for the superstructure be given to the Central Bridge and Engineering Company, to be constructed according to a plan submitted by the company, and the company give a guarantee that it will be of sufficient strength for the street railway and other traffic, and at a cost not to exceed $600; also, that the Sewerage Committee be authorized to contract for the steel pipe to connect Nos. 2 and 3 sections of the sewer. Council adjourned.

No Cobwebs Hang to Pinemalt.

"Old Reliable;" "old and tired," are the words often used to recommend certain medicines. They are really words of condemnation. A medicine might have been the best ten years ago, but so rapid is medical progress that to-day it is long in the rear and outrun by better remedies. Pinemalt, on the other hand, lays no claim to antiquity. It is a New Reliable, based on the latest discoveries of medical science. Pinemalt was not formulated under the mists and clouds which overhung medical practice in years, happily gone by. No; it was formulated rather in the glare of the search-light of present-day knowledge and experience. Hence, one reason why this new remedy has leaped at a bound into public favour. In all throat and lung ailments it relieves always and cures all curable cases. In chronic cases, and incipient consumption, ask druggist for Pinemalt and Hypophosphites instead of plain Pinemalt.

MR. JOHN GRIFFITH'S MEPHISTO.

He is Hardly Equal to Morrison, but in Some Points Excels.

Mr. John Griffith, in his presentation of Faust, was greeted with a large audience last night in the Opera House. The chief interest, of course, centered in Mr. Griffith as Mephisto. He took the part well—exceptionally well—but does not possess the fine subtlety of Lewis Morrison, which makes the latter assume the part with such regal success. Griffith's laugh is piquant with demoniac glee, and in the first act, where he ventures too near the church door, and is repelled by the apparition of the blazing cross, Mephisto's terror and hate are indeed well portrayed. The audience on the whole had reason to be well pleased with Mr. Griffith's interpretation of Mephistopheles.

Mr. Frank Lyman, as Faust, displayed exceptional ability, and his love-making was something worth witnessing, as too often the clumsiness of stage lovers makes the sublime passion farcical.

Miss Nadine Winston assumed the role of Marguerite in a manner which completely won the audience, and in the denunciation scene, where Valentine curses her before he dies, after being wounded by her lover, Marguerite's grief and contrition were so well portrayed as to have half the ladies in tears.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

HOT WATER BAGS are something more than a winter luxury—they are a household necessity. In many cases it will take the place of the family doctor, and in other emergencies it will help to check inflammation and keep the patient in a comfortable state until the doctor comes. A three-quart India Rubber hot-water bag filled with hot water and encased in flannel and applied to the proper place will relieve neuralgia, indigestion, sick headache, stomach ache, toothache, rheumatic pains and a hundred other ills that flesh is heir to.

I sell hot water bags with nickel-plated screw tops that will not leak and bottom tabs with eyelets. See them in the window.

CARD OF THANKS.

Messrs. Cox & Davis, Peterborough, Ontario:

Re J. W. Moore's CANADA LIFE POLICY No. 24927.

GENTLEMEN—I beg to acknowledge (on behalf of the late Mr. Moore's Executors) receipt of cheque for $1181.25 in full discharge of claim under the above mentioned policy. Considering that the total cost of the Thousand Dollars Insurance paid up in ten years was only $312.00 and that the Company have added One Hundred and Eighty One Dollars to the policy as bonus, the result is most satisfactory. I also beg to thank you for the promptness with which the claim was discharged, only three days having elapsed between the filing of same and my receipt of cheque.

Yours Faithfully,
JOHN BURNHAM.

CHRONIC HEADACHE.

The change in my Mother's condition marvellous.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a Boon.

MONTREAL, August 29th, 1895.

GENTLEMEN:—There is such a change in my mother's health that I cannot restrain myself from writing you. She suffered for years past with a chronic headache, accompanied with a disordered stomach. She was weak and irritable, and we thought she was going into a decline. For three weeks she has been taking a course of Scott's Sarsaparilla, which was recommended to her by Mr. McGale, Druggist, Montreal. Her headache is now but a memory, her appetite is good, and she has gained five pounds in weight in twelve days. She is a different woman, and I feel that you, in God's hands, have been the means of restoring her to health. I shall always recommend Scott's Sarsaparilla to sufferers from head or digestive troubles. Thanking you again, I close.

Yours sincerely,
Hortense Gavlliere.

Scott's Sarsaparilla is a concentrated extract, pleasant to the taste, and is taken in small doses. It is the finest remedy for disorders of the stomach and liver, palpitation, scrofulous sores, eczema and skin diseases arising from impurities of the blood. It builds up the weak, the strong it maintains in health. $1 of all druggists.

Sold by J. D. Tully, Peterborough.

BRITAIN WILL JOIN CANADA

In the Proposed Fast Atlantic Steamship Service.

London, Nov. 18.—It is reported and generally credited in official circles, that the Imperial Government has decided to join Canada in the establishment of a fast trans-Atlantic service.

A Canadian Loan Fully Taken.

London, Nov. 18.—The portion of the loan issued here by the Dominion Cotton Mills Co., 308,200 pounds, first mortgage, has been fully subscribed for.

THE BUTCHERY CONTINUES.

No Improvement in the Eastern Situation—Russia Wooing Germany.

London, Nov. 18.—The Anglo-Armenian Association has received the following telegram from Constantinople: "Massacres are proceeding almost everywhere in Asia Minor. Over 100,000 persons are dying from starvation in Armenia. For God's sake urge the Government to put a stop to the most awful event of modern times. The Porte is powerless, as the telegraph lines are controlled by the palace officials who have incited these massacres."

The Pall Mall Gazette asserts that it has high diplomatic authority for the statement that the powers have no intention of immediately making a joint naval demonstration against the Porte. Each fleet will in the meantime act under independent instructions.

When Sir Philip Currie, the British ambassador, returns to Constantinople a meeting of the ambassadors will be held to consider whether the circumstances demand action in regard to Armenia.

Russia Wooing Germany.

New York, Nov. 18.—A special from St. Petersburg says: The Grand Duke Vladimir has an autograph letter from the Czar to the Kaiser relating to the situation in Eastern Europe. It suggests that in case England insists too much on the disintegration of Turkey the three powers who united upon the Japanese question should again join hands against all comers.

Russia Will Act Independently.

Rome, Nov. 18.—M. Viangali, the Russian ambassador, had a long interview with Baron Blanc, Minister of Foreign Affairs, to-day, after which it was reported that Russia had decided upon independent action in the east.

As to Warships in the Bosphorus.

London, Nov. 18.—The Times publishes a despatch from Vienna saying hitherto it has been customary for each of the powers to maintain one light warship in the Golden Horn or the Bosphorus. It is now intended that each power shall have two warships there. As irade by the Sultan will be required to allow foreign warships to pass the Dardanelles, Russia, Austria and Italy have applied to the Porte for the necessary irade for their ships to pass.

Greece's request that she be allowed to send a warship to Constantinople has been refused on the ground that she is not a signatory power to the Berlin treaty.

War Vessels on the Move.

Athens, Nov. 18.—Five French warships are at the Piraeus. One of them will sail for Turkish waters to-morrow, while the others will await orders.

The British warship Arethusa sailed yesterday from Salonica for Alexandretta.

About two weeks ago, the Rev. Mr. Surf, of Blue Springs, Nebraska, lost his hair, after fever, and became nearly bald. He finally resolved to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now has as fine a head of hair as could be desired. This is certainly a fact worth remembering.

Two British Tars Lost.

London, Nov. 18.—The British steamer James Turpie, Captain Smith, from Genoa, Nov. 6, for New York, has arrived at Gibraltar with her bows seriously damaged from coming into collision with and sinking the British steamer Vulcano, from Antwerp, Nov. 7, for Odessa. Two of the Vulcano's crew were lost. The remainder were brought to Gibraltar by the James Turpie.

The Quadra's Captain Blamed.

Victoria, B.C., Nov. 18.—The official inquiry into the cause of the recent accident to the Dominion steamer Quadra has been concluded by Captain Devereaux, superintendent of the Esquimalt Graving Dock. He finds Captain Walbran blamable for running at high speed in a thick fog, thus unnecessarily risking the safety of the valuable ship entrusted to him.

With Invalids.

Yes! with invalids the appetite is capricious and needs coaxing, that is just the reason they improve as rapidly under Scott's Emulsion, which is as palatable as cream.

Karl's Clover Root will purify your blood clear your complexion, regulate your bowels and make your head clear as a ball. 25c, 50c. and $1.00. Sold by John Nugent, 399 George Street.

A DUTY ON WHEAT

Suggested for Relief of the Agricultural Depression in Britain.

London, Nov. 19.—The annual conference of the National Conservative Association was held at Brighton today. The Duke of Norfolk, Postmaster-General, was elected president for the ensuing year.

Mr. James Rankin, M.P. for the Leominster division of Herefordshire, in moving a resolution for the benefit of agriculture, to which he demanded immediate attention on the part of the Government, suggested the imposition of a duty on wheat, barley, oats and hops, so as to relieve land from the burdens of local taxation, and a re-adjustment of railway rates, so as to benefit farm produce. He also advocted the advancement of Government loans to persons purchasing farms.

The other speakers who followed Mr. Rankin supported his resolution.

Mr. Morley Will Have a Seat.

Edinburgh, Nov. 19.—The Evening News announces that Mr. John Morley, Chief Secretary for Ireland in the late Rosebery Cabinet, who was defeated for re-election to Parliament for Newcastle-on-Tyne in the last general election, will accept the nomination for the seat for Montrose, the incumbent of which, Mr. John Shirris Wills, has resigned. Mr. Morley's return is assured, as the Montrose constituency has a Liberal majority of 1000 or more.

LIVED 77 YEARS

And Was the Mother of Thirteen Children All of Whom are Grown Up.

Bowmanville, Nov. 19.—Mrs. John Ruse died at Hampton, five miles north of here, Tuesday, after an illness lasting five years, the last two of which the old lady was confined to her bed. Mrs. Ruse was 77 years old. Her husband survives and is now in his 80th year, enjoying good health. Deceased was the mother of eight boys and five girls, all of whom are living. Among them are Joseph and Charles Ruse of Toronto, and Samuel Ruse of Friendship, N.Y., One son lives at Oshawa and two are in Wisconsin. The daughters are all married and most of them live in this district.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

Haulan Won First Heat.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 19.—The first heat in the single-scull race between Haulan and Bubear for a purse of $1000 and the championship of England, was rowed to-day on Dickinson Lake, and was won by Haulan, who defeated Bubear by about a length. It was a two-mile race, with three turns. The conditions are best three out of five. One heat will be rowed each day. Bubear is the favorite in the betting.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

Troops Being Mobilized

Constantinople, Nov. 18.—The troops are being actually mobilized in Anatolia, but each battalion instead of reaching the estimated strength of 1000 men does not exceed 600 men.

The Porte has cancelled the order for six battalions in Macedonia to go to Syria, the Vali of Salonica protesting that it would be unsafe to weaken the forces in Macedonia under existing conditions.

ARABS WHIP TURKS.

A Serious Outbreak in Arabia—Turks Besieged in a Town.

Aden, Nov. 18.—A serious outbreak has occurred in Yemen, the principal division of Arabia. The Imaun of Sana in Yemen, at the head of 45,000 Arabs, armed with Martini-Henry rifles, has defeated the Turkish troops in three successful fights. The Turks are now inside the walls of the town of Sana, which is closely invested by the Arabs.

THANKSGIVING 1895

A PATHETIC THANKSGIVING.

By Ella Higginson.

She was an old old woman. She was crippled with rheumatism and bent with toil. Her hair was gray—not that lovely white that softens and beautifies the face, but harsh, grizzled gray. Her shoulders were round, her chest sunken, her face had many deep wrinkles. Her feet were large and knotty; her hands were large, too, with great hollows running down their backs. And how painfully the cords stood out in her old, withered neck!

For the twentieth time she limped to the window and flattened her face against the pane. It was Thanksgiving day. A violet sky sparkled coldly over the frozen village. The ground was covered with snow; the roofs were white with it. The chimneys looked redder than usual as they emerged from its pure drifts and sent slender curls of electric-blue smoke into the air.

The wind was rising. Now and then it came sweeping down the hill, pushing a great sheet of snow, powdered like dust, before it. The window sashes did not fit tightly, and some of it sifted into the room and climbed into little cones on the floor. Snowbirds drifted past, like soft, dark shadows; and high overhead wild geese went sculling through the yellow air, their mournful "hawnk-e-hawnk-hawnks" sinking downward like human cries.

As the old woman stood with her face against the window and her weak eyes strained down the street, a neighbor came to the door.

"Has your daughter an' her fambly come yet, Mis' Risley?" she asked, entering sociably.

"Not yet," replied Mrs. Risley, with a good attempt at cheerfulness; but her knees suddenly began shaking, and she sat down.

"Why, she'd ought to 'a' come on the last train, hadn't she?"

"Oh, I do' know. There's plenty o' time. Dinner won't be ready tell two past."

"She ain't b'en to see you fer five year, has she?" said the neighbor. "I reckon you'll have a right scrumptious set-out fer 'em?"

"I will so," said Mrs. Risley, ignoring the other question. "Her husband's comin'."

"I want to know! Why, he just think he's some punkins, I hear."

"Well, he's rich enough to think his-self anything he wants to." Mrs. Risley's voice took on a tone of pride.

"I sh'u'd think you'd want to go an' live with 'em. It's offul hard fer you to live here all alone, with your rheumatiz."

Mrs. Risley stooped to lay a stick on the fire.

"I've worked nigh onto two weeks over this dinner," she said, "a-seed'n' mincins an' cur'nts an' things. I've had to skimp harrable, Mis' Tomlinson, to get it; but it's just—perfec'. Roast geese an' cranberry sass, an' cel'ry soup, an' mince an' punkin' pie—to say nothin' o' plum puddin'! An' cookies an' cur'nt-jell tarts fer the children. I'll hev to wear my old undercloes all winter to pay fer't; but I don't care."

"I sh'u'd think your daughter'd keer you more cof-terble, seeing' her husband's so rich."

There was a silence. Mrs. Risley's face grew stern. The gold-colored cat came and arched her back for a caress. "My bread is beautiful," Mrs Risley said then. "I worried so over't. An' my fruit cake smells that good when I open the stun crock! I put a hull cup o' brandy in it. Well, I guess you'll hev to excuse me. I've got to set the table."

When Mrs. Tomlinson was gone the strained look came back to the old woman's eyes. She went on setting the table, but at sound of a wheel or a step even, she began to tremble and put her hand behind her ear to listen.

"It's funny they didn't come on that last train," she said. "I w'u'dn't tell her, though. But they'd ort to be here by this time."

She opened the oven door. The hot, delicious odor of its precious contents gushed out. Did ever goose brown so perfectly before? And how large the liver was! It lay in the gravy in one corner of the big dripping-pan, just beginning to curl at the edges. She tested it carefully with a little three-tined iron fork.

The mince pie was on the table waiting to be warmed, and the pumpkin pie was out on the back porch—from which the cat had been excluded for the present. The cranberry sauce, the celery in its high, old-fashioned glass, the little beehive of hard sauce for the pudding, and the thick cream for the coffee, bore the pumpkin pie company. The currant jelly in the tarts glowed like great red rubies set in circles of old gold; the mashed potatoes were light as foam.

For one moment, as she stood there in the savory kitchen, she thought of the thin worn flannels and of how much better her rheumatism would be with the warm ones which could have been bought with the money spent for this dinner. Then she flushed with self-shame.

"I must be gittin' childish," she exclaimed indignantly, "to begrudge a Thanksgiving dinner to 'Lizy. 'S if I hedn't put up with old undercloes afore now! But I will say there ain't many women o' my age thet c'u'd git up a dinner like this 'n'—rheumatiz an' all."

A long, shrill whistle announced the last train from the city. Mrs. Risley started and turned pale. A violent trembling seized her. She could scarcely get to the window, she stumbled so. On the way she stopped at the old walnut bureau to put a lace cap on her white hair and to look anxiously into the mirror.

"Five year!" she whispered. "It's an offul spell to go without seein' your only daughter! Everything 'll seem mighty poor and shabby to her, I reckon—her old mother worst o' all. I never sensed how I'd changed till now. My! how no-account I'm a-gittin'! I'm all of a trimble!"

Then she stumbled on to the window and pressed her cheek against the pane.

"They'd ort to be in sight now," she said. But the minutes went by and they did not come.

"Mebbe they've stopped to talk, meetin' folks," she said again. "But they'd ort to be in sight now." She trembled so she had to get a chair and sit down. But still she wrinkled her cheek upon the cold pane and strained her dim eyes down the street.

After a while a boy came whistling down from the corner. There was a letter in his hand. He stopped and rapped, and when she opened the door with a kind of frightened haste, he gave her the letter and went away, whistling again.

A letter! Why should a letter come? Her heart was beating in her throat now—that poor old heart that had beaten under so many sorrows! She searched in a dazed way for her glasses. Then she fell helplessly into a chair and read it:

"Dear Mother: I am so sorry we cannot come, after all. We just got word that Robert's aunt has been expecting us all the time, because we've spent every Thanksgiving there. We feel as if we must go there, because she always goes to so much trouble to get up a fine dinner and we knew you wouldn't do that. Besides, she is so rich; and one has to think of one's children, you know. We'll come sure next year. With love from all,

"ELIZA."

It was hard work reading it, she had to spell out so many of the words. After she had finished she sat for a long, long time motionless, looking at the letter. Finally the cat came and rubbed against her, "myowing" for her dinner. Then she saw that the fire had burned down to a gray, desolate ash.

She no longer trembled, although the room was cold. The wind was blowing steadily now. It was snowing, too. The bleak Thanksgiving afternoon and the long night stretched before her. Her eyes rested upon the little fir-tree on a table in one corner, with its gilt balls and strings of popcorn and colored candles. She could not bear the sight of it. She got up stiffly.

"Well, kitten, she said, trying to speak cheerfully, but with a pitiful break in her voice, "let's go out an' eat our Thanksgiving dinner."

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CAANDA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

Hyams' Twins Received that Much Insurance Money.

THE ADMISSION FORCED FROM THEM

The Crown Intimated That a Charge of Forgery Could be Proved Against H. P. Hyams, and to Stop This the Admission Was Made.

Toronto, Nov. 20.—With little prospect of the testimony of Mrs. Hymas or of that of her solicitor being admitted as evidence by His Lordship Justice Ferguson, the defence in the Hyams murder trial had confidently expected to defeat all efforts of the Crown to trace the proceeds of the insurance on Wells' life into the hands of the prisoner. In the calling of one of the best experts on handwriting in Aemrica to prove that Harry Hyams forged four names of parties who never exist except in the imagination of the forger and alleged murderer, to as many cheques by which he swindled Martha Wells out of $3000 before he married her, the Crown succeeded in putting the defence in a position were they deemed it more to the interests of their clients to admit that they received this money than to have it proven before the jury that these signatures were forgeries. The extent of the admission covers the purpose for which Barrister Smoke's testimony was so badly required by the Crown.

The cheque given by the New York Life in payment of the policies held by them on Wells' life was, in round numbers, for $23,900. Of this amount the prisoners are shown to have received $22,800; Mrs. Aylesworth got $4750, leaving less than $2000 for the actual beneficiary. It was in reference to the best way of escaping punishment for the forgeries he had committed that Harry Hyams is said to have sought advice from his bosom friend, Money-lender Lane. It is the conversation that took place on that occasion that Lane conveniently forgot when he was on the witness stand Monday, and it is alleged by the Crown that it was upon the advice given by Lane to Harry Hyams that the latter married Martha Wells.

Among the rulings of His Lordship was the exclusion of the evidence of an attempt on the part of Dallas Hyams to suppress the publication of the insurance article in February last by bribing The World reporter who was assigned to the case.

Mr. D. Miller, manager of the Merchant's Bank, identified a cheque which showed that on Nov. 3, 1893, Dallas Hyams drew from the Toronto branch of the bank $700, which had been transmitted by wire from Montreal on that day. On Nov. 8, again $900 was drawn by Dallas Hyams, transmitted in the same way. On June 16, 1893, Harry Hyams deposited, by cheque on the Imperial Bank, the sum of $2000 in the Merchants' Bank. To simplify matters the defence admitted that on Sept. 30, 1893, Dallas Hyams and Thomas Horn attended the Yonge-street branch of the Imperial Bank and obtained a draft for $7964, payable to Martha W. Hyams, and transmitted the draft to her at Montreal. The object of the Crown in showing the dealings of the prisoners with the Merchants' Bank was to trace a portion of this money back to Dallas and show that he shared in the proceeds of Wells' death.

D. T. Ames of New York, pen artist, publisher of works on penmanship, and expert examiner of hand-writing, stepped into the witness box and with uplifted hand repeated after High Constable Jones the words of the oath. When asked his name, he drew from his pocket a number of cards and handed one to His Lordship and another to Stenographer Butcher.

Mr. Ames was called to prove that the endorsation of cheques issued by Martha Wells, presumably to Alexander Crone, John Jackson, William Stone and William Lee, were forgeries committed by Harry Hyams in his efforts to obtain possession of the money for which it was alleged he killed Wells.

The consultation was continued for half an hour after the opening of the court for the afternoon session. Finally an agreement was reached and Mr. Osler rose to make this statement to the court:

"The evidence tendered of Mr. Ames and two or three other witnesses, and the evidence of Mr. Smoke, now under consideration by your Lordship, is tendered by the Crown with the view of having the total amount of money the proceeds of this insurance reaching the prisoners. In giving this evidence, I, as the Crown officer, might have to give evidence of certain collateral facts which are perhaps not strictly relevant to the issue, but which will necessarily come up. Having regard to what is fair and proper on the part of the Crown, I have after discussion with Your Lordship, in the presence of counsel for the prisoners, arrived at the conclusion that I should accept certain admissions which the prisoners through their counsel are willing to make in order to avoid the necessity of calling these witnesses, thus putting the matter in a more simple form to the court and jury. The result of checking over the various vouchers and bank accounts comes to this, that prior to the marriage of the prisoner H. P. Hyams with Martha Wells the sum of $8500 was received and not accounted for; $1900 of this sum went to pay the joint debt of the prisoners, viz., the chattel mortgage of Dr. McPherson. That money was the proceeds of the insurance in Martha Wells' hands. After the marriage, the prisoner H. P. Hyams, in large sums, received $14,300, the last large amount being represented by a draft for $7950, produced by Mr. Rice, manager of the Imperial Bank. Apparently after that sum, only one amount of any size, $350, was received by H. P. Hyams from his wife. The total sum, apart from small cheques not in the whole aggregating a very large sum, amounts to $14,300, of which some $3180 came directly into Dallas Hyams' hands. Now, that being admitted by my learned friends to the fullest extent, I refrain from giving the further evidence that I was tendering to Your Lordship when this discussion arose. I have stated the nature of the discussion, so that the jury might know just what was going on. The giving of this admission by the prisoners through their counsel does away with the necessity of proceeding with the examination of Mr. Ames and other witnesses of a like class. It also does away with the necessity of my pressing Your Lordship to rule upon the competency of Mr. Smoke's evidence, tendered on Saturday."

Mr. Lount, on behalf of Harry Hyams, and Mr. Johnston, on behalf of Dallas, admitted the statements made by Mr. Osler.

The Maker of man has set certain organs of the body to perform this duty.

This is the sole and only purpose of the kidneys.

How important, then, that the kidneys should always remain in healthy working order.

If they do not so remain then you have the usual signs of kidney distress.

Headache, backache, dizziness, thirst, ravenous appetite, coated tongue, sleeplessness, shortness of breath.

Non-retention of urine, brick-dusty urine, cloudy urine or night-sweating.

These symptoms, any of them may start from a cold.

Any of them may end in a funeral at your expense.

The duty of the moment is to heed these warnings of blood poisoning.

Dodd's Kidney Pills never fail at any stage of kidney ailments.

The small beginning of grave conditions will be quickly overcome by a few doses.

The settled disease, at any stage, is firmly opposed and gradually cured by a few boxes.

Dodd's Kidney Pills always cure any kidney complaint, and do so any stage.

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros. the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earthquake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won.

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98
SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10.

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.

	Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	50
HAT	$2.00	98	$1.02
Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

STORE NEWS —AT— TURNBULL'S

Our aim is to make our store the brightest and best shopping place in the country by keeping always on hand such goods as people require, making quality the first consideration and price the second. Knowing that this is what the people appreciate, with double our old floor space we are now in a position to carry a much larger and varied stock than ever, and keep adding lines as we see we can handle them.

This week we have added a nice assortment of Felt Embroidered Table Scarfs, Table Covers and Shopping Bags.

See the nice Embroidered Shopping Bag we can give you for 25 cents.

We also handle Silk and Chenille Pom Pons, Tassels, Cords, etc., for Fancy Work, at much lower prices we find than they have been sold for before. We also keep a stock of Curtain Poles, Dado Blinds, Screws and Curtain Nets, and have doubled our Carpet stock. We will not quote prices to-day, but you will find our values more than right.

We expect on the next train a big shipment of American Table Oilcloths in beautiful colours and small patterns. Drop in and see them, if you do not want to buy you can tell your neighbors about them.

We have something interesting for boys this week in eight or ten pieces good Wool Tweeds, only 25c a yard; men will also find them excellent goods to wear. Boys be happy, we have a stock of new Braces, only 5c per pair.

See our Astrachan and Cloth Caps at from 30c to 75c each, just fresh from the factory. We have also a number of lengths of choice imported Overcoatings to make up for whoever selects them, at prices that cannot be beaten elsewhere. We speak strongly because we are strong on this line. Perfect fit and style guaranteed in our ordered clothing or no sale,

Heavy Flannelette Night Dresses, our own make, at $1 each.

Those Dress Tweeds we spoke about a week or two ago at 25c, worth 65c, are rolling rapidly; although we purchased a very large quantity, they will soon be out. We call attention to them again, as we would like our regular customers to get their portion of them before they are all gone.

THE HYAMS DEFENCE.

Crown's Case Closed on Thanksgiving Day Noon.

PRODUCTION OF PROOFS OF DEATH.

H. T. Hyams Swore That He Had No Interest in the Life Policy—How a Physician Was Mixed Up by Mr. Osler Amid the Laughter of the Court.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—Wednesday's proceedings in the Hyams trial were the dullest to ordinary spectators since the case opened.

The testimony of medical experts when clothed in professional and scientific terms, has little attraction and less meaning to the uninitiated. With the aid of His Lordship and the counsel, the jury were enabled to comprehend the theory advanced by the six professional men who entered the witness box. In concise form it is simply this, that two distinct lines of force were necessary to produce the conditions found in the skull; one delivered from in front, fracturing the cheek bones and internal angular process, which the Crown claims was struck while Wells was standing erect; and the second the heavy crushing blow, upon which both sides agree.

The evidence for the prosecution in the Hyams murder trial has at last been placed before the jury, and when court adjourned last evening, the defence was fairly begun. The only incident worthy of note in the closing of the Crown's case was the production of the proofs of death sent to the New York Life by the friends of young Wells. One of the demands of this company is that proof papers in all cases shall be accompanied by a sworn statement by an uninterested householder, who is acquainted with the facts connected with the death of the subject of the policy. In this statement by H. T. Hyams he swears that he was in no way interested in the policy. The jury will be asked by the Crown to reconcile, if possible, this deposition with the fact admitted by the defence that before Harry Hyams married Martha Wells in May, he had obtained $8500 of the money paid on the policy in which he was not interested.

The theory of how the injuries to the skull of Willie Wells could be caused by one blow accidentally administered, as set up by Dr. Teskey, on behalf of the defence, was very plausible, and withal very beautiful, while Dr. Teskey was the tender handling of Mr. Johnston, but at the end of a brilliant cross-examination by the great Queen's Counsel the many bare possibilities and more numerous improbabilities upon which it depended for existence were fully exposed, and its glaring inconsistences and contradictions brought out in such a light as to evoke the laughter of the whole court. The trap into which Dr. Teskey allowed Mr. Osler to lead him was the cleverest production of the trial, and was made more complete by the manner in which the witness, by fortified and positive statements, closed off all avenues of escape from the ludicrous position into which he was going.

In describing the angle at which the weight was tilted when it struck Wells' head as it lay on the floor, Dr. Teskey added another strong link to the Crown's chain of evidence. The witness accounted for it by a possible rebound of the weight from the buffer block throwing the lower end of the 200 pound weight so far into the air that when it reached the head, it was at an angle of 15 degrees. The Crown's theory is that the weight was at the angle of 15 degrees when it gave the crushing blow to the recumbent head, but instead of the rubber ball theory, they allege that it dropped in that position from the hands of the prisoners as they stood over the prostrate form of their bleeding, senseless victim. The two theories will be presented thus, and left for a practical jury to choose between them.

THE IRON TRADE.

Quietness in the Market, But Hopefulness for the Future.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 21.—The Iron Trade Review says to-day: There is scarcely life enough in the iron market to create any interest in the limited business that a week brings forth. Settling prices for pig iron and steel, weakness though less pronounced in nearly every form of finished product, a prolongation of the wait in iron ore, that now promises to go on until there are distinct signs of new conditions in secondary markets—this is the situation in brief. There is plenty of optimism abroad in the trade in spite of the quietness and those whose prediction of $20 bessemer iron was made freely and confidently three months ago are still giving utterance to their faith in the plentiful buying and the remunerative prices that are to come with the opening of the new year.

The speculative markets for bessemer pig and billets shows further declines—nearly $1 a ton in the case of the former. In the 500 tons and 1000 ton sales of the week, $2 in the valley has been touched. Furnace men have had little oportunity to say what they would accept for 1896 deliveries, but it is known that a large cut could be had from the $15 figure talked of some time ago. Billets have dropped to $13.50 Wheeling, and $19 Pittsburg, and have been shaded. Steel mills in the Wheeling and Pittsburg district are now running full and there is found an ample supply of steel in second hands to meet current buying. Foundry items are lower, though there is little on which to establish a market. Salesmen everywhere find foundrymen disposed to wait and the question to be settled at the opening of the year is whether they will contract freely for the future or follow the market with month to month purchases. In finished material there has been no new declines in prices, though demand is light. Agricultural implement buyers are disposed to postpone contracting at least to the first of the year. Meantime the Merchant Bar Iron Association has decided to keep prices on the present basis.

NEWS FROM THE ORIENT.

The Corean King's Short Mourning—Good Story From Pekin Mail Advices Received.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 21.—The steamer Empress of China arrived Tuesday night, bringing the following Oriental advices:

The news reached Nankin on Oct. 28 of another anti-missionary riot having taken place in the southern part of Kaing, and that wholesale destruction of foreign property resulted, as well as the wounding of a Roman Catholic priest. Whether American property was included in the work of destruction is not known, but such is not unlikely to have been the case, as Episcopal churches have missions there.

On the 16th ultimo, the Korean Minister of Household issued a proclamation announcing the intended selection of a consort for the King. According to time-honored custom, the issue of this proclamation has the effect of prohibiting for the time being the marriage of all girls of and above 13 years of age throughout the country.

The Queen-elect must be a maid, and in Korea, early marriage being the prevailing custom, a choice will be practically limited to girls between 13 and 17, or 18 at most. Thirty of 40 girls are to be nominated, and from among them three will be first selected, and on one of the three the final choice will fall.

It is believed that a reorganization of the Japanese Cabinet is about to take place. The new Cabinet will be coalition composed of statesmen of the elder generation, mixed in with "new men." It is spoken of in advance as "the Cabinet of all af the talents."

The inhabitants of Tokunoshimt Kagoshima, prefecture, are said to be in a very destitute condition. A serious storm visited the island on July 24, and the sweet potato crop, the chief staple of the islanders, was ruined. The rice was also greatly injured. The inhabitants, numbering 30,000 in all, are now reduced to eating leaves and stalks of potatoes, various herbs, etc. Local officials find it difficult to relieve such a large number of persons, and it is feared that many will die.

An excellent story comes from Peking. A leadig member of Tsung Li Yamen, evidently great Wong, who is said to owe his position to his anti-foreign proclivities, found on assuming office, that it was one thing to abuse the foreigner verbally, and another to deal with him practically. Sir Nicholas O'Connor proved specially disturbing, for he actually pounded the table under the serene mandarian's nose. The latter complained to London about the sledge-hammed diplomacy, whereupon the Marquis of Salisbury replied that Wong had better attend to Sir Nicholas or he, the Marquis, would come out and do the pounding himself.

COMMITTED FOR MANSLAUGHTER.

That Is the Result of the Preliminary Hearing in the Case of the Barnardo Boy's Death in Keppel.

Owen Sound, Nov. 21.—Helen Findlay was again this morning brought up before Police Magistrate Spencer for causing the death of the Barnado orphan lad Greene. The court room was crowded to suffocation and little sympathy is felt for the prisoner. The evidence goes to show that the boy was treated in a most shameful and cruel manner. Several witnesses were examined and the evidence was much similar to that of yesterday. The prisoner was committed for trial under the charge of manslaughter.

TRUNK LINE AGREEMENT.

A General Cutting Down of Expenses and Many Men to be Out of Work.

Chicago, Nov. 21.—It is almost a certainty that as a result of the adoption of the new trunk lines' presidents' agreement, the Central Traffic Association will, on Jan. 1, become a thing of the past. This association, which costs the roads about $100,000 a year, will be merged into the new joint traffic association.

Probably the Chicago freight commitee will be continued, as its work to a great extent is local. Commissioner Blanchard and Chairman Donald McKnight will, it is understood, be taken care of in the new association.

Ne of the main feautres of the new compact is an economic arrangement of its affairs, and wherever possible a general cutting down in expenses will take place. This means the loss of positions to hundreds of traveling and soliciting freight and passenger agents. In addition to these, hundreds of clerks connected with the district offices and the Central Traffic and Trunk Line Associations will be without employment.

BAD BLAZE IN BARRIE.

Sevigney's Block Destroyed Young Man Very Badly Hurt.

Barrie, Ont., Nov. 12.—Sevigny's block on Collier-street was almost totally destroyed by fire early this morning. The fire broke out in the second storey, occupied by Mr. Sevigny as a dwelling. Mr. Sevigny's loss on buildings and contents will be about $6000; partly covered by insurance; Scott & Scott, egg dealers; damage to their stock probably $1500; insured. William Marshall, employed by Scott & Scott, was very badly, if not fatally, injured by a portion of the wall falling on him.

Sir Charles Tupper Speaks at Newcastle.

THE IMPERIAL FEDERATION IDEA

Advanced by the High Commissioner—Death of Sir Henry Ponsonby at the Age of 70—The Eastern Question Still a Foremost Topic in Europe

London, Nov. 21.—Sir Charles Tupper, High Commissioner for the Dominion of Canada in Great Britain, addressed the Tyneside Geographical Institute at Newcastle to-night on the subject, "Canada." His address was largely descriptive and statistical. He strongly advocated reciprocal trade between the British colonies and the Mother Country. Many articles, he said, that Great Britain imported from foreign countries could be supplied by Canada. He contended that it was the duty of every Briton to promote between the colonies and Great Britain that connection which he believed was indespensable for their future progress and prosperity.

DEATH OF SIR HENRY PONSONBY.

He Was For Many Years Private Secretary to the Queen.

London, Nov. 21.—General Right Hon. Sir Henry F. Ponsonby, for many years keeper of the Privy purse, and Private Secretary to the Queen, died at Osborne Cottage, Cowes, at 7.45 o'clock this morning. He was 70 years of age. He has been ill and incapacitated from duty for several months.

THE SULTAN'S LETTER.

A Report That the Turkish Potentate Wants to Visit London.

London, Nov. 21.—The Guardian says it is reported that the Sultan's letter to Lord Salisbury contained a proposal that after the execution of the Armenian reforms he should visit London and the other European capitals for the purpose of establishing an entente with the great powers in regard to the future administration of affairs in Turkey.

Conferred With Goluchowski.

Vienna, Nov. 21.—Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, to Turkey, who halted here on his way from London to Constantinople, had a long conference with Count Goluchowski, Austrian Minister of Foreign Affairs, this afternoon. He will proceed this evening for Constantinople.

HORSE BREEDERS IN SESSION.

Clydesdales, Hackneys, Shires and Thoroughbreds Under One Association.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—The Canadian Horse Breeders' Association is the name of the new association with which breeders of different classes will all be in affiliation. A meeting was held at the Albion Hotel yesterday afternoon and the new association formed with the following membership: Robert Davies, Dr. A. Smith, Jos. Duggan, William Wilkie, H Wade, J. D. Graham and John Holderness, Toronto; N. Awrey, M.L.A., A. G. Ramsay and William Hendrie, Hamilton; David McRae, Guelph, R. Beith, M.P., Bowmanville, James Gardhouse, Highfield; H. N. Crossley, Rosseau; J. H. Allen, Picton; Leeming Carr, Stoney Creek; J. C. Boyd, Sault Ste. Marie; Hugh Smith, Claude; C. P Geary, St. Thomas; R. Graham, Claremont; H. Cargill, Cargill; F. Chisholm, Milton; W. A. Lawrence, Milton; Jas. Cochrane, Hillhurst, P.Q; William Beith, Bowmanville; A. G. Bowker, Woodstock; John Vipond, Brooklin, and John Gardhouse, Highfield.

The birth of the association was really at a meeting held on Sept. 10th, when it was resolved upon motion of Dr. A. Smith, seconded by Mr. R. Beith, M.P., that the association be formed and the following provisional directors appointed, and their election was confirmed yesterday, with a few exceptions: From Clydesdale Horse Association, Robert Davies, Toronto; David McRae, Guelph; from Hackney Horse Society, R. Beith, M.P., Bowmanville; N. Awrey, M.L.A., Hamilton; from Shire Horse Association, James Gardhouse, Highfield; H. N. Crossley, Rosseau; from Thoroughbred Horse Association, Dr. A. Smith, Toronto; William Hendrie, jr., Hamilton; from Standard Bred Trotters' Association, H. Cargill, M.P., and Leeming Carr.

At a meeting of the directors held afterwards, Mr. Robert Davies was elected president; Dr. A. Smith, vice-president; Mr. H. Wade, secretary-treasurer; and the following Executive Committee, Messrs. Davies, Smith, Crossley, McRae, Beith and Cargill.

A constitution was adopted; article two of which reads: "The objects of said association being to encourage the importation and breeding of pure bred stock in all the recognized breeds of horses in every legitimate way, and maintaining the reputation which Canada has gained of being the most healthy breeding ground for stock that there is on this continent."

The association is to be governed by a board of ten directors, to be elected annually, the duties of other officers to be the same as in the other associations and to hold office for a year. Any person interested in horses may become a member upon payment of the $1 fee, and complying with the provisions usually required for admittance to other breeding associations.

After this business had been disposed of an informal discussion followed, and a number of recommendations made per resolutions, as follows: That a deputation to be appointed by the executive should wait upon the Ontario Government and ask for a grant in aid of a spring horse show; that the Industrial Exhibition be asked to give a herd prize at coming fairs for stallion and four of his get of two years and under; that more encouragement be given to the showing of fillies at the spring horse show, and that the Industrial Exhibition Board be requested to allow the association to have two representatives upon the committee, and that Messrs. Cargill and Beith, M.P.'s, be the two representatives.

Tired but Sleepless

Is a condition which gradually wears away the strength. Let the blood be purified and enriched by Hood's Sarsaparilla and this condition will cease.

"For two or three years I was subject to poor spells. I always felt tired, could not sleep at night and the little I could eat did not do me any good. I read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before I had finished two bottles I began to feel better and in a short time I felt all right and had gained 21 pounds in weight. I am stronger and healthier than I have ever been in my life." JOHN W. COUGHLIN, Wallaceburg, Ontario.

A FRIEND'S CRITICISM.

THE Conservative press is very considerate these days. The Opposition newspapers are called upon from time to time to criticise the composition or course of the government, but they are relieved from the unpleasant duty by saying hard things against the government by the Conservative organs themselves. No Liberal newspaper in Canada said harder things about the government than "Don" in Saturday Night, who is a Tory of the Tories. Here is one way he relieves his conscience in reference to the bringing of Mr. Meredith down from the bench to help the floundering ministers: "Moreover, it is proper to enquire, whom is he asked to help? Is it a brave band of patriots. Much abused as the word patriot has become, to apply it to the majority of the members of the Ottawa Government would be to make the staunchest Conservative laugh. Weakness and self-seeking, pandering and procrastination have made the Government an object of pity and contempt. Alternate fits of bullying and begging have alienated their friends and encouraged their enemies. The Ministry's absolute lack of principle has left the ship of state rudderless to drift with every changing wind and tide of circumstance. If we believed Chief Justice Meredith to be a selfish and self-seeking man—though this we know would not be said of him even by his enemies—we might be left in doubt as to his decision were he being asked by powerful friends to accept a safe and honourable position. When there was anything in Ottawa that was politically safe, or there was any great honour to be bestowed upon old and well-tried Conservatives, Mr. Meredith was not consulted; he was simply sacrificed. When what was practically the present Government thought they could carry Ontario and the country, Minister Haggart, egotist enough to imagine himself a possible premier and fearing to be dwarfed in the presence of such a conspicuous figure, was even stronger than the Ministers from Quebec in resisting the entrance of Mr. Meredith into the Cabinet of Sir John Abbott."

THERE should be a cabinet meeting called immediately to settle the question of the proper label for Mr. McGillivray, Q.C., the Government candidate in North Ontario. Judging from his nomination address one cannot decide whether he is a Wallace Conservative, a Coercion Conservative, a McCarthy Conservative, or merely an average Wobbler Conservative. He is distinctly on the fence on the Manitoba school question, and doesn't know whether he will support remedial legislation till he sees what it looks like. But if he is a candidate of the government he must support coercion, for that is the policy of the government—that is what they have called an extra session of Parliament for.

LIVE LAKEFIELD.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. Wm. Dunsford has again secured the rink for the season, and will, as soon as the weather permits, have good ice for the skaters and curlers.

Mr. Wm. Jones, of Toronto, was in the village this week.

Mrs. S. Nelson, who has been visiting friends in Bowmanville for the past week, has returned home.

Mr. Geo. Scrimger has returned home from Rochester, where he spent the last two months.

Mr. Geo. A. Grills, of Belleville, was in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. James G. Brown has gone on a trip to Ireland and will most likely take in London, England, before returning.

R. Graham & Son have opened up a new lot of ladies' model mantles in black and brown at great reductions on former prices. $11 mantles for $7.75, $10 mantles for $6.50, $9 mantles for $6.

Mr. W. Campbell left here on Tuesday to fill a position in a mill at Fenelon Falls.

Mr. R. Hodgson, who has been working for some time with Mr. Wm. Harper, has gone to Brooklin, Ont., where he has secured a position.

Mr Emmerson Thompson, foreman of the T. V. C., was in the village on Saturday.

Mr. Greenwood, C. E., was in the village on Saturday.

Mrs. W. M. Graham addresses meetings in the interest of the Presbyterian W. F. M. S. on Thursday evening at Warkworth and and on Friday evening at Meyersburgh, in the county of Hastings this week.

The several hunting parties have now returned home, well pleased with their outing and having captured a large number of deer. The Casement-Fraser party had 15 deer, Gordon-Grylls party 7, Payne-Hendren party 9, Strickland Canoe Co. party 10, R. C. Strickland party 13, Mr. Larry Steel's hunting party 9.

Mr. Samuel Montgomery has his house on the way to its new situation behind Mr. Wm. McKibbon, Mr. McCarthy has the job. They expect to have it in position this week.

Mr. G. A. Strickland, who has been spending the last two or three months in England on business in connection with the canoe factory, returned home on Monday evening with a bride. Congratulations will now be in order.

Work has commenced near here on the T.V.C., getting ready to blast out about 3 feet of the river bed from Mr. Nelson's down below Mr. Galvin's. This brings the work a little nearer to the village than before.

A lot of rails, cars and other plant has been put over on Mrs. Sage's lot, so that operations may be made on the cut through the village the first thing in the spring.

R. Graham & Son are offering new teas, raisins, currants, figs, peels, nuts, etc. also a full supply of crockery and glassware at very low prices.

The time of arrival and departure of the afternoon train is changed. It now arrives at 2.45 and departs at 3.30. This makes it inconvenient in the way of answering letters, as now you cannot answer a letter the same day on which you receive it, owing to the fact that the mail going o is closed before the letters which arrive on this train are distributed.

The Golden City has been taken out of the water for the winter.

The water was let out of the millrace on Monday to allow repairs to be made to the water wheel in the planing mill of Messrs. J. F. Lillicrap & Co.

At the annual meeting of the Bible Society, held in the Presbyterian church last Thursday evening, Rev. Mr. Bryan, of Toronto, delivered a very able address on the work of the society.

The following officers were elected:
President—Mr. F. J. Lillicrap.
Secretary—Mr. Wesley Sherin.
Treasurer—Mr. J. C. Sherin.
Depository—Dr. J. A. Burgess.

A meeting of the Board of Health was held in Dr. Bell's office on Monday afternoon, at which there were present, Mr. C. J. Bloomfield, chairman, Dr. Bell, Medical Health Officer, and Messrs. R. Graham and John Isbister.

The following report was presented for the year:

To the Chairman and Members of the Board of Health, Lakefield.

Gentlemen,—I am able to report a more sanitary condition of the village than for some years past, as not a single case of infectious disease has been reported. There is one case of typhoid fever, which was contracted in Peterborough, and the patient is almost convalescent.

Our death rate has fallen one-third as compared with that of last year. I append a schedule showing age, sex and cause of death, for your inspection.

An increased number of water tests have been made (over 60) and in every instance where the water has been found bad or doubtful, the well has been cleaned or closed up, a fact which may account for the absence of typhoid fever, which is prevalent in the surrounding municipalities.

The usual notices were posted in the spring, and your inspector reported the provisions of the Health By-law as being well carried out, leaving but few complaints to be dealt with.

All of which is respectfully submitted,
ALEX. BELL, M.D.,
M. H. O., Lakefield.

THE ONLY HELP

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

JOHN DILLON MARRIED.

And it is Asked by Some Whether He Will Continue a Home Ruler.

London, Nov. 21.—The marriage of Mr. John Dillon, member of Parliament for East Mayo, to Miss Elizabeth Mathew, daughter of Mr. Justice Mathew, of the Queen's Bench Division of the High Court of Justice, took place this morning in the oratory at Brompton. The couple will spend their honeymoon in Paris.

Right Rev. Francis MacCormack, Bishop of Galway and Kilmacudagh, who officiated at the ceremony, read a telegram from the Pope, bestowing the papal benediction upon Mr. Dillon and his wife.

The last shipment of cheese was made from the Victoria factory last week. This cheese factory has been very successful, considering the expense which the company has had this last summer. Thanks should be given to the president, Mr. Chas. Wilde, for the successful sales he has made, and also the directors, Messrs. Fraser, Leeson, Ryolit and Holcomb should be remembered for their services during the past summer. Mr. W. H. Minchin, the much esteemed teacher of Victoria school, should also receive credit for the excellent way he has fulfilled his position as secretary. We hope that the shareholders of Victoria cheese factory will see fit to again elect these officers for the next year.

NORTH DUMMER.

From Our Own Correspondent.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by the members of the Epworth League of South Dummer church on Monday evening November 18th. An excellent programme was provided and refreshments served. The programme opened with a speech from the chairman. Then followed recitations and singing. The programme closed with a stirring debate on the subject, "Which is the most pleasant and beneficial, outdoor or indoor life?" The subject was ably discussed by both parties and the judges decided in favour of outdoor life. Refreshments were then served and before the close of this part of the entertainment Rev. Mr. Peake, the pastor, proposed a toast to the prosperity of the Epworth League, which was responded to heartily by the members present. A toast was then proposed to the health and prosperity of the visitors present, which was also responded to with enthusiasm.

Great credit should be given to Rev. Mr. Peake, the pastor of the South Dummer church, for the prosperity of the Epworth League at this place, and the steady advancement of the church.

MONEY IN THE BANKS

The Difficulty is in Finding Good Investments.

BANK STATEMENT FOR OCTOBER

While There is Plenty of Money in the Country the Banks Seem to Have a Safe Grip Upon It—General News From the Capital.

Ottawa, Nov. 21.—The bank statement for October, which was issued yesterday, continues its upward and onward, though steady, movement. There is nothing unusual for the season in it. The bank notes in circulation increased $1,896,586 over the September statement, and stand at $34,671,028. The greatest amount of notes in circulation at any time during the month was $35,393,876, being $2,240,701 more than the amount under the same heading for the month of September. The amount of bank notes in circulation is greater than October, 1894, by $154,377. Although gradually increasing, we have not yet reached the figures of 1893, which were $36,906,941, and 1892, $38,688,429. This difference can be accounted for in a great degree by the existing low prices prevailing for cheese, grain and farm produce generally.

Deposits by the public go on increasing, and it would seem the most difficult problem the banker has to solve is to procure paying investments. The increase in deposits during October was $2,256,048. The total stands at $186,665,352. Deposits on demand, or after notice, by other banks in Canada increased 0946,274, a goodly amount of which is shown to have taken place in the Bank of Montreal. Balances due to banks and agencies in the United Kingdom increased $512,331, and in foreign countries $43,992. Total liabilities increased $3,295,648. A reduction of $167,814 is shown in specie, but Dominion notes increased $261,233. Notes and cheques between banks declined $251,198. Deposits payable on demand, or after notice, between banks in Canada, increased $1,090,149, nearly half of which is attributable to La Banque du Peuple. Foreign balances show a decline, those from the foreign countries having increased $277,909, while those from the United Kingdom decreased $1,773,513. The tendency to invest in permanent stocks still prevails. Dominion Government stock increased $141,182; Canadian Municipal securities $101,388; railway securities increased $539,260, call loans $100,842, and current loans $4,023,882. The latter seems pretty evenly divided throughout the provinces. Overdue debts show a reduction of $270,442. Assets not included under the foregoing headings show a reduction of $478,479. Total assets increased $3,766,779. Directors' liabilities increased $776,014. The whole situation may be summed up thus: That business is being conducted carefully; money is plentiful and that the prices of products being low, even the enormous quantities being handled falls to draw upon the banks' circulation to the extent of the past year. Another cause may be the great accommodation of the cheque system, so much in vogue where transactions are on a large scale.

This morning a delegation from Toronto and vicinity reached town almost simultaneously with zero weather. The deputation consisted of Ald. Bell, Saunders, Sheppard, Davies, J. Knox Leslie, Graham and Shaw, with "Jimmy" Somers as secretary and cashier; Mayor Caliary, F. Moberley and John Nettleton of Collingwood. They were accompanied by Col. Tyrwhitt, M.P., and our own Emerson Coatsworth, M.P. They saw Messrs. Foster and Haggart and pressed for a subsidy of $3200 per mile for the Toronto and Collingwood air line Railway, which has been chartered to be built between the points named via Allliston, Beeton and Schomberg. It was pointed out by Messrs. Moberley, Callary, Shaw, Sheppard and others that the construction of this line would shorten the distance between Collingwood and Toronto by 25 miles, over existing routes, and that it would be a great benefit, so far as the carriage of grain from the Northwest was concerned. After hearing the representatives of the deputation Mr. Haggart said he would immediately lay them before his colleagues. He could not, however, hold out any great hopes the subsidy would be granted, as it was not the policy of the Government to encourage the building of competing lines.

While the deputation were with the Ministers Ald. Davies called attention to the position of the James Bay Railway charter. This charter had been granted many years ago and renewed from time to time, although the holders of it had practically done nothing towards building the line. The railway would be of great benefit to Ontario; and the citizens of Toronto were anxious to see its construction pushed. He thought the company should either be compelled to proceed with the work or else other parties should be given the privilege of building the road.

Mr. Haggart, in reply, pointed out that this was a question with which the Government had nothing to do. The James Bay Railway Company would come before Parliament next session to ask for a further extension of time and it would be for the Railway Committee to say whether this extension should be granted. If the citizens of Toronto had any complaints to make there would be ample opportunity afforded them by the Railway Committee.

Mr. W. A. Fraser, the oil expert, has had an interview with Dr. Dawson, director of the Geological Survey, in reference to future operations in the Athabaska region. Boring has been carried on to a depth of 1700 feet and it is the intention to go still lower to a stratum where it is thought a flow of oil will be struck.

Major Gourdeau, commanding officer of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards, and for many years the leading spirit of the troops, has sent in his resignation to the Militia Department. Major Gourdeau thinks he was not fairly dealt with by the Department in connection with the recent expedition to Lowe Township. He ws in Montreal on Saturday when his troops wos ordered out, and was not apprised that he was wanted for duty, Major Bliss of the Field Battery being placed in command of the composite force of drugoons and mounted artillery.

Sermons were delivered in most of the Protestant churches this morning, appropriate to the day. A large congregation assembled in St. Andrew's Church and listened to a grand discoure from Rev. Mr. Herridge. It was of a most inspiring nature, full of faith in Canada's future. Mr. Herridge incidentally referred to the Manitoba school question, and said that it would be a great pity if the real issue were obscured by the squabbles of partizanship. Religious teaching lay at the root of the trouble it seemed to him as beyond dispute that the inculcation of Christian precepts should form part of the education of every youth. If our schools were secularized, we shold soon produce a harvest of atheism. In so far as Roman Catholics were anxious for religious knowledge as an integral part of education, he agreed with them entirely. Where Protestants differed with Roman Catholics was that the tenets of ecclesiasticism were not those of the common principles of Christianity. It was the duty of the state to teach Christianity, and he thought that all denominations ought to be able to agree on broad lines of scripture, which should be imparted to the youth of the country in our schools. He greatly mistook the spirit of the intelligent Catholic laity if they would not be willing to join in ay rational attempt to unify our school system on such a basis, and thus eliminate what could not but be regarded as an anomalous feature of Separate schools, which in themselves were unnecessary.

Mr. A. F. Wood, ex-M.L.A., left for his home at Madoc to-day, having wound-up his work as land valuator on the Soulanges canal for this year. Mr. Wood, with his wife and daughter, leaves for the Cotton States Exposition in a few days, thence to New Orleans, and from there to Los Angeles, Cal., where he will spend the winter.

Col. Hussey of Boston, president of the Broad Cove Mining Company, had an interview with Sir C. H. Tupper to-day in reference to the proposed improvement to the harbor at Broad Cove.

The Inland Revenue report on inspection of weight, measures and gas was issued to-day. During the year 265,000 weights, measures and scales were presented to officers of the department for verification, of which 1585 were rejected. Toronto gas was tested on many occasions with the following results: For sulphur 24 tests, never inexcess; for ammonia, 24 tests, never in excess; for sulphuretted hydrogen, 104 tests.

A deputation from the Marine Association, saw the Minister of Justice this afternoon in reference to the recent libelling of the Canadian steamer Arabian at Duluth. They discussed with Sir C. H. Tupper the desirability of representations being made to the United States authorities to prevent United States district courts on the great lakes from dealing with disputes between British subjects in regard to Canadian vessels. Sir C. H. Tupper asked them to send a memorial on the subject and it would be forwarded to the United States Government through the Department of Secretary of State. Regarding particulars o fthe case of the Arabian litigants would have to follow the usual channels.

The Missionaries in Turkey for Whom Protection is Asked Include Some From Toronto

Boston, Nov. 21.—The missionaries of the American Board, for whose protection the United States cruiser Minneapolis is ordered to Smyrna, are those of the Western Turkey Mission. Their names and residences among others in the United States are as follows:

Miss Annie M. Barker, Toronto; Ont.; Rev. Robert Chambers and wife, Woodstock, Ont.; Mrs. Mary L. Dodd, New York, N.Y.; Miss Flora A. Fensham, Albany, N.Y.; Miss Eliza Fritcher, Syracuse, N.Y.; Rev. Albert W. Hubbard, Cameron, N.Y.; Mrs. Emma R. Hubbard, Corning, N.Y.; Rev. Alexander MacLachlan, Toronto, Ont.; Miss Emily McCallum, St. Elmo, Ont.; Rev. James P. McNaughton, Dominionville, Canada; Miss Ilse C. Pohle, Elmira, N.Y.; Miss Ida W. Prime, Huntington, N.Y.; Rev. Edward D. Riggs, New York, N.Y.; Rev. Charles C. Tracy, D.D., Waverly, N.Y.; Mrs. Myra A. Tracy, Athens, Pa.

As a station for missionary work, Smyrna has been prominent from the earliest times. The British and foreign Bible Society early established an agency there, and the first missionaries of the A.B.C.F.M. to the Levant were located there.

It is in the Nature of Things.

That, as age advances with its concomitants of wear and tear, some parts of the delicate machinery of the body, upon which health and vigor depend, should suffer derangement. Feelings of weariness, listlessness, or despondency are the signals that Nature throws out to warn, and woe to him who neglects these warnings, for severe are the penalties she exacts. To quicken into new vigor the falling energies; to impart; with certainty, tone to the nervous system, to renew its one time force; these are the special tendencies of the wontrous tonic and nutrient, Maltine with Coca Wine. It gives strength to the nervous system and is thus a "nerve restorer;" it increases nutrition, and is, therefore a "body-builder." Maltine with Coca Wine, by its power to add to nerve force and to increase weight, will be found by debilitated and weak a veritable "life-giver," Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine Its composition may be known to you, as it has long been known and subscribed to by the medical profession. Maltine with Coca Wine gives strength, vigor and health. Sold by all druggists.

King Humbert on Turkey.

Rome, Nov. 21.—King Humbert returned to Rome this morning. He was met at the station by his ministers, with whom he at once entered into conversation upon the subject of the troubles in the East, which, His Majesty expressed the hope, would be speedily brought to a pacific settlement. It is reported that the Government of France has sent to the Foreign Minister, Baron Blanc, a friendly dispatch, approving Italy's views upon the Eastern question.

Baron Banffy on the Situation.

Buda Pest, Nov. 21.—Baron Banffy, Premier of Hungary, replying to an interpellation upon Eastern affairs in the Hungarian Chamber of Deputies, says that the representatives of the powers had directed the attention of the Porte to the necessity of the institution of reforms in Asia Minor. Happily, he said, Turkey had recognized the necessity for these reforms and had sent troops to suppress the troubles. The powers had sent naval squadrons into Turkish waters, Baron Banffy said, but he could make the reassuring statement that the powers would assist Turkey to maintain peace and preserve the statu quo.

THE SHIPPING TROUBLE.

Talk of a Combine of Employers Against the Engineers—Orders From China.

London, Nov. 21.—Several employers of shipping engineers in Glasgow, Belfast, Newcastle and Barrow have decided to form an alliance for the purpose of fighting the engineers' unions.

The large employers have declined to join the alliance. Captain McClure, who was nominally a vice-admiral in the Chinese navy at the time of the naval engagement at the mouth of the Yalu River, will arrive in England next week with a commission from the Chinese Government to place extensive orders for the construction of warships.

In consequence of the continued struggle between the ship builders and the engineers and the possibility of a general lock-out, these orders for warships may be placed in other than British yards.

TELEPHONE 306, Night or Day.

An important message often comes by telegraph, but the most important message that ever was delivered to mankind has been given to them through the newspapers. It is given again in this article.

It is the information that 98 per cent. of all cases of consumption can be completely and permanently cured. There is no doubt about it. The statement is not made recklesly, but after the experience of thousands has made it an indisputable fact. Consumption is not a disease of the lungs. It is a disease of the blood, which in weak lunged people manifests itself by the formation of tubercles in the lungs and the wasting away of lung tissue. The cure for consumption is simple. It consists in the administration of a medicine that will assist the lungs in throwing off tuberculous matter, and that will cleanse the system so that this refuse matter will be replaced by strong, healthy tissues. That sounds like a very simple operation, and yet consumption baffled the combined medical skill of the whole world for hundreds of years. Consumption was considered incurable until the advent of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. This great remedy is the most wonderful blood purifier and strengthener that the world has ever known. It is the result of years of study and experiment, by a scientific physician and has been tested in every way by him for over 30 years. It has an unbroken record of success. It cures a great variety of diseases, because almost all diseases have their origin and support in impurity and weakness of the blood. As long as a man's blood is rich and pure, he is in no danger from diseases. The blood is the medium through which food is carried from the digestive system to all of the tissues of the body. If it carries impure things, or an insufficient quantity of good things, trouble will ensue. There is nothing about that so very hard to understand. It is perfectly plain and natural and rational. The "Golden Medical Discovery" puts the digestive system in perfect order, purifies and enriches the blood and so puts the whole body into perfect tune.

Accidental Death.

Mr. Frank D. Kerr returned yesterday from Hastings, where he was representing the Crown at the inquest on the death of James Brown, whose body was recovered from the Trent River at Fowld's Mill, after having been missing since Oct. 28th. The jury brought in a verdict, compatible with the evidence, of "accidental death by drowning."

Fortnightly Club.

The next meeting of the Fortnightly Club will be held next Tuesday evening, Nov. 26th, in the County Council Chambers. Rev. H. Symonds will read a paper on "Christian Socialism." All, both ladies and gentlemen, who are, or desire to become interested in this great question, are most cordially invited to be present.

Not a Murder.

A rumour was afloat around town yesterday and to-day that a murder had been committed a short distance from town, but upon inquiry it was found that there is nothing in it at all. The facts are these: A man and wife had a slight quarrel, which the woman won, and the man told all the neighbours about it. The wife wanted the hubby to buy two tickets, at $1.25 each, for the star course concerts, the first of which will be the canada concert company on Monday evening. The plan for the hall is now open at salisbury's bookstore.

The Fireman's Ball.

Unfortunately the Firemen's Ball on Wednesday evening was not attended with the success which usually characterizes these gatherings. The large number of other attractions on Thanksgiving Eve was in all probability the cause of the fiasco. The market hall was never so lavishly decorated before, and Mr. Alf Kingscotte is deserving of great credit for the manner in which the work was done. A sumptuous supper had been prepared by Mr. Will McCallum for the occasion, but as only a dozen or so dancers turned up it was decided to indefinitely postpone the affair. Belcher's orchestra was in attendance.

THE ANNUAL CHARITY BALL.

It was a Great Success Under the Auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Cathedral.

The Catholic Order of Foresters Hall on Hunter street presented a bright appearance, indeed, on Wednesday evening, it being the occasion of the holding of the annual charity ball under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Peter's. There were fifty or sixty couple in attendance and the evening passed off most pleasantly.

The rooms were very prettily decorated for the occasion, and Miller's orchestra was in attendance, Miss McCabe presiding at the piano.

Mr. Michael Costello officiated as floor manager with his usual efficiency.

During the evening refreshments were served in the ante room, and the ball continued until half-past two o'clock Thursday morning. The affair was under the management of Mrs. Dr. O'Sullivan, Mrs. Justus Dunn, Mrs. George Ball, Mrs. J. J. Lynch, Mrs. N. F. LaPlante and Mrs. Martin McFadden. Mr. Geo. Ball looked after the receipts, which were very satisfactory.

DOURO'S ANNUAL BALL.

It was Attended with Most Marked Success, and Many were Present from Peterborough.

A highly successful social under the auspices of the young people of Douro was held in St. Patrick's hall on the evening of the 21st inst.

The popularity which these socials have attained was attested by the large patronage received by this one from surrounding parts.

A sumptuous supper was served in the gallery of the hall by the young ladies of the parish, and was fully adequate to appease the guests' midnight appetites.

The Scollard orchestra of Ennismore, strikingly conspicuous by being composed solely of lady artists, furnished the music. Their renderings were marked by a harmony and sweetness acquired only by constant practice, backed by rare musical ability.

That an enjoyable evening was spent was evident from the expressions of satisfaction heard from all. To state which young lady bore off the honours of the evening is a very difficult task. While some claim the honours for a local young lady, others assert that they fell to Ennismore.

WILDER IS COMING.

Marshall P. Wilder, the entertainer of continental fame, has been engaged to appear here Thursday evening of next week.

LAST EVENING'S "AT HOME."

It Was a Most Successful Affair Indeed—A Pleasing Programme.

The "At Home" which was held at the residence of Mrs. G. A. Smith, Water street, last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of St. John's church, was conducted to a very successful conclusion.

The "At Home" was the second of a series, which are being given by the ladies for the purpose of raising a fund to defray the expense of sending the usual bale back to the timber limits for the shantymen.

The chair was occupied by the rector, Rev. J. C. Davidson.

During the evening vocal selections were rendered by Miss Vair, Mrs. Seward and and Mrs. Stapleton, with their usual capability. Mr. Parker and Mr. Burnham both delivered excellent readings, and Master Holden Blackwell contributed a recitation to the evening's programme. Brilliantly executed instrumentals were afterwards given by Miss Vink and Miss Barlee. Refreshments were served at the close of the pleasant affair.

OTONABEE.

Death of Mr. Wm. Stewart.

Thursday morning Mr. Wm. Stewart, of Otonabee, brother of Mrs. Margaret Matchett, whose death was recorded a few days ago, and of Mr. George Stewart, ex-reeve of the township, passed away to rest at the age of 72 years. The deceased was a native of the county Monaghan, Ireland, and has been a resident of Otonabee since his boyhood. He leaves behind him a widow, two sons and three daughters, who are living at home. His death is the sixth that has taken place among the relatives and connections of the family within two years. The funeral takes place on Saturday, Nov. 23rd, at one o'clock p.m.

George Street Church, Monday, Nov. 25th, Alfred H. Perry, of Detroit, Elocutionist. Tickets 25 cents. dt

Obituary.

The death of Mr. Thos. McMahon occurred this morning at the residence of his father, Mr. John McMahon, Lake street. Deceased contracted a cold about six weeks ago and allowed it to settle on his lungs, with the result that although an athletic young fellow he succumbed to its effects. He was 21 years of age and a great favorite, being one of the members of the Athletic Lacrosse Team. The funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon at 1.30, from the family residence, Lake street, to the Roman Catholic cemetery.

Delighted Port Hope.

The Van Amburgh Family, who will furnish the programme at the anniversary entertainment of Otonabee Lodge, No. 13, I.O.O.F., on December 2nd, were in Port Hope on Friday evening, and the Guide says of their entertainment:—"From the first number on the programme to the close they held the undivided interest of the audience. They are a talented family. The cornet solos by Master Burt, and the clarionet solos by Master Fred were gems, and called forth enthusiastic encores. Little Bonnie was the star of the evening, and her song, "Johnny Johnson is my Sunday Beau," brought down the house. Space forbids particularizing, but every member performed his and her part in a talented and pleasing manner. 1d

What an Emily Man Says About Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure.

A highly respected and well known citizen of the township of Emily has furnished the following testimonial to Mr. Jas. Lynch, druggist: I am a young man and have been a slave to tobacco since I was a boy. Although I have often tried to stop it I never could succeed until I used Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. Mr. Jas. Lynch, the druggist, recommended me to try this tobacco cure, and after some persuasion I bought [illegible]. I continued using it for a short time and soon found the appetite for tobacco was leaving me. My nerves became stronger, my eyesight brighter and my desire for food improved. Now, I have lost all craving for the filthy weed; and I hereby certify that after using one package of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. I have gained six pounds in weight, and I can heartily recommend it to any who are run down in weight from using tobacco. Some men object to lending their name to a testimonial of this kind, but I consider it my duty to do so if it will help any of my friends or fellow sufferers. G. DARR, Emily, Franklin P.O., Ont.

ABLE ADDRESS BY J. J. TILLEY, M.S.I.

A LARGE AUDIENCE GATHERS IN THE OPERA HOUSE.

"Home Preparation for the School and After Life" Forms the Subject for an Instructive and Able Discourse.

The first annual convention of the Town Teachers' Association was opened on Wednesday evening in the Opera House by an address from Mr. J. J. Tilley, Model School Inspector.

The attendance was very large and most encouraging to the teachers, who only know by such occasions what a great interest in their work is taken by the citizens.

The chair was occupied during the evening by Mr. Peter Hamilton, and upon the platform were seated Mr. J. Coyle Brown, County Inspector of Public Schools and Venerable Archdeacon Casey represented the Separate Schools of the town.

The programme was opened by the singing of a number of choruses by about two score of the tiny members of Miss Warner's Kindergarten Class, under the direction of Miss Warner and Misses Hall and Moore. Three songs were sung by the little ones in a manner which opened the eyes of the audience to the possibilities opened up for children through the introduction of the kindergarten system. The first chorus was symbolic of summer and was entitled "Out in the Beautiful Garden." Then came a typical autumn song "Sweet Summer's Gone Away," followed by a breath from the northern zone, known as "Jack Frost." Another pretty little song entitled "In the Branches of a Tree" was also sung. To say that the audience was delighted beyond measure is putting it very mildly indeed. A number of those present had never heard the tiny tots sing before, and by the expressions of pleasure heard on every side, it is safe to predict that the next opportunity of hearing and seeing the Kindergartners will be taken advantage of by many more than have hitherto attended the public exercises.

Little Aggie Patterson's recitations were very humourous and so pleased the audience that she had to respond to a most enthusiastic encore after which Miss Florence Hall sang "The Beacon Light" in her beautifully modulated soprano voice, to which it is always a pleasure to listen.

The children then sang a lullaby song very sweetly.

MR. J. J. TILLEY

was introduced to the audience by Mr. Peter Hamilton, with a few brief prefatory remarks. The Inspector, as the subject of his address, took the topic "Home preparation for the School and After Life." The underlying principles, he stated, of such a preparation might be classed under three heads:

1. The formation of correct moral habits.
2. The development of sound moral sentiment.
3. The implanting in the mind of pure moral precepts.

The child's idea of right and wrong, he argued, was gained, not from precept, but from action. What the parents permitted was right, and what the parents prohibited was wrong.

If parents wished their children to grow up with correct ideas of obedience they could only only obtain this result by making the children comply with the laws of implicit obedience in every and all cases.

Kindness was another foundation stone in the child's character, which should be laid in early life. It was no use talking to the little one of kindness. He should be persuaded to take the money from the bank, buy something with it and take it to a sick friend. His little heart would be touched by the look of gratitude on the sufferer's face, and more had been done to of his nature than if he had been talked to for a week on kindness in the abstract.

A parent should never break a promise given to a child, as if confidence was once lost in the word of either the father or mother, it would be a very hard matter to rectify the matter and the seed of distrust and suspicion would soon take root and grow. A command once given should be carried out in a firm manner to the letter, and the penalties attached for non-commission should be as inevitable as those of nature. If a child was burnt every time it picked up a cinder it would soon learn that it need not attempt to do it unless it would be burnt. If a parent was firm from the start the child would see the uselessness of resisting, as with the cinder.

The Inspector did not urge frequent punishment, but thought there should always be a reserve force of strong compulsory power. Severity was not necessary if the parent was consistently firm with the child from infancy. The lessons of obedience should begin with the baby, when it was four months old. Flogging would never instil moral courage into a boy, but would probably develop sneakishness, which was far worse than stubbornness.

Obedience, prompt and unquestioning, begun is the corner stone of character. If a child was taken in hand sufficiently early the lesson could be taught in the first year of its life, afterwards theere would be no proneness to disobey. The child was often allowed its own way until it grew older, and when it was sent to school the teacher was expected to correct its faults. Many a teacher's hair was whitened and brow wrinkled, prematurely, through this very fact. If obedience were only taught in early life the present state of chaos would not reign as it does in the world to-day.

EARLY IN LIFE,

The children should be taught to look for everything which was noble in their parents, and if their parental reverence was wanting, supreme excellence of character did not exist.

Power of self government was a grand thing. It was not observable in the young, but moral as well as physical strength grew with age. Time and patience would play a part in the development of this.

Nagging and always finding fault was responsible for a great many spoiled lives, as a child frequently lost hope through lack of encouragement. The same warning, he thought was applicable to the employer. Far more could be gotten out of a man by a word of encouragement now and then.

Parents, said the Inspector, in conclusion, try to

POSSESS THE CONFIDENCE

of children, and explain to them the wickedness of the world when you are by to guard them. Aim to build up a moral will power so that when occasion arises your child can say "no" and stick to it. Remember that everything you do towards training the young bears upon it the mark of eternity.

Inspector Tilley was warmly applauded when he took his seat and the audience heartily concurred in Mr. Peter Hamilton's remarks anent the instruction which he felt sure had been imparted through the practical and interesting address just heard.

Venerable Archdeacon Casey, seconded by Mr. J. Coyle Brown, moved a vote of thanks to the Inspector, which was carried with applause.

A cornet solo was then admirably rendered by Mr. J. Miller, after which the Kindergarten Class sang the National Anthem and the audience dispersed.

The Teachers' Convention is in session to-day, and this evening Rev. H. Symonds will deliver an address in the Y. M. C. A. Hall. An attractive musical programme has also been prepared for the occasion.

Died at St. Joseph's Hospital

Last evening at six o'clock Richard Flaherty, a young man 22 years of age, son of Mr. James Flaherty, Emily, and cousin of Mr. Peter Simons, town, died at St. Joseph's Hospital. He had been working in the lumber woods in the Muskoka district, where he was attacked with brain fever. He was removed to Dunchurch, and yesterday sent to St. Joseph's Hospital, arriving by the G. T. R. But the disease had progressed too far, or the journey had been too much for him, stalwart and strong physically as he had been, for death came to him, as mentionrd, at 6 o'clock. Funeral from his father's residence, Emily, at 9 o'clock to-morrow.

A Pretty Wedding.

On Wednesday afternoon, at half-past four o'clock, the wedding of Mr. W. Green and Miss Martha Newall was solemnized in St. John's South Ward Mission by Rev. Carl Smith. The bride looked most attractive in a gown of cream cashmere and Irish lace, and carried a handsome shower bouquet of cream Marechal Neil roses. The groom is the general foreman in the packing house of the Geo. Matthews Co., and is well and favourably known in town. Miss H. Crowe was the bride's maid on the auspicious occasion, and Mr. George Secord officiated as best man. A tempting wedding dejeuner was served at the residence of the newly-married couple, on Townsend street, immediately after the ceremony, where the bride received a number of her friends. As a substantial mark of the esteem in which Mr. Green is held by his fellow-employees, he was presented with a handsome plush parlour suite for his new residence.

Didn't know What was the Matter.

But you felt weak and spiritless till you took a bottle or two of Wilson's famous Invalid's Port. And that made a wonderful difference. You felt brighter. You could eat your food with relish. You began to get strong. You felt bright, elastic, hopeful, for it is two things. It is a fine, old generous wine, with a glow at the heart with an exquisite bouquet, with a pleasant, stimulus in the use, while it is at the same the best tonic on the market, sharpening the appetite, removing that "all gone" feeling which is insupportable. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Thousands use it to their advantage. The Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

THE LINDSAY ODDFELLOWS PAY A FRATERNAL VISIT.

And are Entertained Most Hospitably by the Members of Otonabee Lodge.

The members of Lindsay Lodge, I.O.O.F. degree team came to town on a special train, Wednesday evening, to pay a fraternal visit to Otonabee Lodge, in return for the trip which Otonabee's team took up to Lindsay earlier in the year.

The 57th Battalion Band and a large number of the members of Peterborough as well as Otonabee lodges were at the station to receive the visitors, a number of whom were from other outside lodges. The procession, headed by the band, marched up Charlotte and George streets to the Oddfellow's Hall, when opened their ranks and uncovered whilst the visitors marched through and upstairs. After the lodge had been formally opened at nine o'clock the proceedings were placed in the hands of the visitors.

The initiatory degree was then exemplified under A. B. McIntyre, P.G., in a manner, which greatly impressed the local members, the work being done in a manner most creditable indeed to the Lindsay team.

The first and second degrees were conducted under W. Widdes, P. G., and A. Carmichael, P.G., respectively, in a commendable manner.

Refreshments served in the supper room by Bro. W. J. Watt were then partaken of after which they all returned to the Lodge room and the following toast list was run through with Dr. Bell, P. G., of Otonabee Lodge in the chair.

THE TOAST LIST:

The Queen—"God save the Queen."

The Soverign Grand Lodge and Grand Lodge of Ontario—A. B. McIntyre, P.G., and D. Ray, P. G., of Lindsay and Bros. Macfarlane and Hooper of Peterborough.

Lindsay Lodge—D. Chambers, P.G.; W. R. Widdes, P.G.; S. W. Anderson, P. G.; Bro. Johnston: Bro. Harding, P. G., and Bro. Williamson, secretary.

Other Visiting Lodges—Bro. Short, P. G., of Manilla; Bro. Reid, N. G., of Little Britain; Bro. Menzies, Central Link Lodge, Maynooth; Bro. Johnston, Hastings; Bro. Reid, Bobcaygeon; Bro. McFadden, N.G., Peterborough Lodge; Bro. Jobbitt, Nipissing Lodge, Uxbridge.

Otonabee Lodge, proposed by Bro. Ray, Lindsay—Bro. Edgecombe, N. G., Bro. Mowry, P.G., and Bro. Workman, P.G.

The Ladies—F. D. McKay, P.G.

The Press—F. D. McKay, P.G.

The proceedings wer finally brought to a close early Thursday morning, and the visitors returned to Lindsay greatly pleased with the result of their trip, as were their entertainers, the members of of Otonabee Lodge.

THE FIRST ANNUAL TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

THOSE WHO TEACH THE YOUNG IDEA HOW TO SHOOT.

The Town Teachers Confer on Different Subjects and Derive Much Benefit From the Discussions.

The morning session of the first annual convention of the Peterborough Town Teachers' Association was opened at 9.30 by Inspector Wherry, who briefly introduced Mr. J. C. Brown, P.S.I. for the County, who gave an address on "Reading."

He said that although reading is the most important subject on the programme, it is perhaps the most badly taught, and while pupils should become excellent readers in three years, they often fail in twice that time.

If a strict test in reading were applied at the entrance examinations, few would pass. Reading should be intelligent and intelligible, but often it is neither. A pupil who can read well a piece he never saw before may be called a good reader. If he reads well what he has read before he may perhaps be only an imitator.

Pupils enter the High School unable to read, hence they cannot learn for themselves, and have to be taught all they learn. They have to be spoon-fed throughout their entire course.

On the whole the alphabetic method is the best yet found for teaching reading, but many of our letters are wrongly named. The proper name for g is gee, for k, kee; for h, hee; for q, koo; for w, woo; and for y, yi. Tause names better represent the force of the foregoing letters.

Mr. Brown referred to many combinations of letters and the way to teach them. Teach general rules first, and exceptions afterwards; it is a waste of time to pronounce words before spelling them.

There are five stages in teaching reading:—1, letters; 2, words; 3, phrases; 4 sentences; 5, practice.

To teach the letters should occupy only two months; the words, six months; phrases, two months; sentences, two months.

Pupils should be good readers at the end of the second year, and accomplished readers at the end of the third year.

Teach letters in alphabetical order, to help pupils to use works of reference easily.

Pupils must learn to place pauses properly,—not before each difficult word, as is often the case.

Half the time in school should be given to reading, from other books, such as history, grammar, &c., as well as from Readers.

Mr. Brown has many new ideas, has given much attention to the subject, and is prepared to discuss and defend his plans. Want of time unfortunately prevented an interesting discussion.

METHODS.

After intermission, Mr. J. J. Tilley, Inspector of Model Schools, spoke on "Analysis of methods." He said to teach intelligently one must know the natural laws which govern the action of mind. Classification is the basis of all knowledge, and methods may be classified thus:—

(1) Get realities before the mind, get concepts in the mind, and by word or symbols we may call up these concepts.

(2) Teach by a process of reasoning, inductively or deductively.

The realities around us are the only source of primary knowledge, but this knowledge comes through many avenues.

When a child has certain concepts, we may lead him through the use of his memory and imagination to form new concepts. Imagination never creates an elementary concept, though it may lead to many rearrangements of concepts and ideas.

Words do not convey ideas, they merely call up ideas already in the mind.

The mind in learning passes through five steps: 1, Noting particulars; 2, Examination; 3, Comparison; 4, Abstraction; 5, Generalization.

Mr. Tilley showed that many seemingly good plans are really worthless.

He took a class of a dozen girls to illustrate by teaching them, how to proceed from the known to the unknown.

He taught them how to reduce a mixed number to an improper fraction and did it so well that he won hearty applause from the forty or fifty teachers who were present.

The Convention then adjourned for dinner.

The teachers of all the Peterborough schools, the Collegiate Institute and Ashburnham Public School are in attendance. So were several of the clergy—we are pleased to notice this. The sessions are open to all who are interested.

The afternoon programme is also interesting, and in the evening at eight o'clock there will be an entertainment under the auspices of the Association, in the Y.M.C.A. Hall, when Rev. Mr. Symonds will give an address on "Cheap Literature." There will also be music, recitations, &c. The public are cordially invited.

A HIGHLY SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL.

Thanksgiving Entertainment in Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

In the delightful social entertainment held in the school room of the Charlotte street Methodist church on Thanksgiving night, the Ladies' Aid Society achieved another of the great successes that always attend entertainments presented under their auspices. The platform was magnificently decorated with a beautiful array of chrysanthumums, kindly supplied by Mrs. A. L. Davis. One feature of the entertainment, for which those who had the pleasure of partaking of them had cause for thanksgiving, was the really sumptuous refreshments admirably laid out in the Sunday school room on four large tables, and served from 5 to 8. There was a large attendance of visitors who greatly enjoyed the hospitality of the of the ladies. After refreshments, adjournment was made to the church and Rev. J. J. Rae, the pastor, occupying the chair, after a few happy and appropriate remarks, introduced a most meritorious programme which consisted of:— An anthem by the choir; a duet by Mesdames Seward and Stapleton; pianoforte duet by Miss Stratton and Miss Rose Clark; vocal duet by Miss Hendren and Mr. Davis; a banjo solo, Mr. Adams; vocal quintette, Messrs. Hall, Davidson, Hendricks, Brooks and Watt; vocal solo, Miss Vina Belleghem; vocal duet, Miss Hendren and Miss Florence Hall; recitations, Mr. Christie and Mr. McKay, of the Business College, vocal solo, Miss Hendren. All the contributors to the programme acquitted themselves very creditably and their efforts met with heartily appreciative applause. Miss Clarke performed the duties of accompaniste in a most satisfactory manner. The decidedly pleasant evening's entertainment was brought to a conclusion by the singing of the doxology by the audience.

CANADIAN ASSOCIATON OF STATIONARY ENGINEERS.

The Installation of Officers in the Local Branch on Wednesday Evening.

The local branch of the Canadian Association of Stationary Engineers met on Wednesday evening in the Sons of England Hall, and their recently elected officers were installed by Bro. A. E. McCallum, as appended:

President—Bro. Othwaite.
Vice-President—Bro. C. E. Robinson.
Treasurer—Bro. W. Taylor.
Secretary—Bro. W. L. Sharpe.
Conductor—Bro. C. Foden.
Doorkeeper—Bro. F. E. Hunt.

At the conclusion of the business of the evening the members adjourned to the dining room in connection with the Hub, and partook of refreshments, with Bro. Othwaite in the chair. A number of speeches were delivered and songs sung before the National Anthem was rendered and the meeting adjourned.

'Xmas . . . Numbers

The Special Christmas Numbers of the Illustrated Papers are growing more and more popular as Holiday season succeeds season, and this year sales are to be larger than ever.

The Graphic
Has a new story by Kipling and another by Zangwill. Its two chief supplements are respectively reproductions of Mary L. Gow's picture of Queen Victoria receiving the news of her accession, and of Sir Joshua Reynolds' famous painting of "The Duchess of Devonshire and Child." Price 50c.

Pears' Pictorial
Will include Dickens' famous story "The Haunted Man and the Ghost's Bargain," copiously illustrated. Three large coloured prints accompany the number. Price 50c.

The Art Annual
Is the Christmas number of the Art Journal, and has some first-class illustrations and pictures, with the life of Luke Fildes, R. A. Price 50c.

Black and White.
The chief attraction of the Christmas Black and White will be seven complete stories by Anthony Hope, Robert Barr and others. "Lux in Tenebris," a double-page engraving, and "Comrades," from Robert Globe painting, are superb supplements. Price 50c

The Chatterbox
The Children's Christmas number, will contain a number of large pictures and some choice stories for the little ones. Price 50c.

Holly Leaves
The Christmas number of The Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News, will consist of 48 pages of bright literature, and a fine coloured picture of Nelson bound for Trafalgar Bay. Price 50c.

The Young Ladies Journal
Will have a lot of original and seasonable literature, and some high-class supplements. Price 50c.

Figaro Illustre
Will have a story by Alphonse Daudet, and another by "Gyp," and besides two large double-page supplement plates. The number is embellished with a coloured cover, and retails this year at $1, that is to say 50c cheaper than formerly.

The Ladies' Pictorial
Containing among other good things a story by Marie Corelli, and a beautiful coloured reproduction of Sichel's painting "Day Dreams" at 1s.

Other Christmas Numbers
Are Chicago Horseman, New York Dramatic News, Frank Leslie's, Father Christmas, Gentlewoman, Harper's Weekly, Illustrated London News, In Town, Judge, Life, Modern, Art and Literature, N. Y. Dramatic Mirror, Punch, Puck, Queen, Sketch, London Truth, N. Y. Truth, London World and Yule Tide.

UNTIL THE DOCTOR COMES.

HOT WATER BAGS are something more than a winter luxury—they are a household necessity. In many cases it will take the place of the family doctor, and in other emergencies it will help to check inflammation and keep the patient in a comfortable state until the doctor comes. A three-quart India Rubber hot-water bag filled with hot water and encased in flannel and applied to the proper place will relieve neuralgia, indigestion, sick headache, stomach ache, toothache, rheumatic pains and a hundred other ills that flesh is heir to.

I sell hot water bags with nickel-plated screw tops that will not leak and bottom tabs with eyelets. See them in the window.

CARD OF THANKS.

Messrs. Cox & Davis, Peterborough, Ontario:

Re J. W. Moore's CANADA LIFE POLICY No. 24937.

GENTLEMEN—I beg to acknowledge (on behalf of the late Mr. Moore's Executors) receipt of cheque for $1181.25 in full discharge of claim under the above mentioned policy. Considering that the total cost of the Thousand Dollars Insurance paid up in ten years was only $312.00 and that the Company have added One Hundred and Eighty One Dollars to the policy as bonus, the result is most satisfactory. I also beg to thank you for the promptness with which the claim was discharged, only three days having elapsed between the filing of same and my receipt of cheque.

Yours Faithfully,
JOHN BURNHAM.

Racked with Rheumatism

Unable to Walk, owing to excruciating pain.
After ten years' terrible torture, Cured by Scott's Sarsaparilla.

A. H. Christiansen, writing from the Clifton House, Niagara Falls, says: "I owe you more than I can ever pay. For ten years I suffered the tortures of the damned with rheumatism. Father had it before me, and I believe it is an hereditary disease. My knee joints would get inflamed and if I was out in any "weather" I was sure to be laid up, which to a travelling man is a calamity. In a score of Canadian towns local doctors treated me, some giving relief, others none. I read that Sarsaparilla was a rheumatic cure, and I asked a druggist for "a bottle of the best Sarsaparilla on the market." He gave me Scott's, remarking that it was an improvement on all others, and that he could honestly recommend it. I have taken four bottles, and am as free from pain as a man can hope to be. I was out in a rainstorm two days ago and never felt a twinge. As I said before, to Scott's Sarsaparilla I owe more than I can ever repay."

The best remedy for rheumatism, sciatica, and neuralgic pains—all arising from the presence of poison in the blood—is Scott's Sarsaparilla, a modern concentrated medicine, prompt in its curative effects. Doses from one half to one teaspoonful. At $1 per bottle of your druggist.

MOTHER AND CHILDREN SUFFER

Within an Ace of Death's Door.

SORROW TURNED TO JOY.

South American Nervine Proved an Unfailing Helper.

Parents Who Tell How This Great Discovery Brought Help and Happiness to Their Homes.

In the home of James W. McRitchie, of Bothwell, Ont., is a little blue-eyed girl, called Maggie, who was afflicted with nervous fainting spells for a considerable period of time. These left her in terrible weakness. Various remedies and the skill of doctors were employed, but the child continued to fade away. Says the father: "Seeing South American Nervine advertised as particularly efficacious in nervous diseases, I decided on seeing if it would help my daughter. After only a few doses had been taken there were signs of improvement. I continued the use of the medicine, and with the result that the fainting spells have entirely disappeared and the child is to-day as healthy as any little one could be. My confidence in this medicine has been further strengthened, and I cheerfully proclaim its virtues, because it proved a sure cure in the case of indigestion and nervous prostration with which my wife was afflicted.

If proof still closer to home is needed of what nervine will do for the afflicted one needs only to visit Mrs. M. A. Joy, of Toronto Junction, who will cheerfully tell how this medicine cured her little daughter Annie, aged 15 years, of severe nervous trouble. The child was close to death's door and the mother was thoroughly discouraged. South American Nervine proved the key to perfect health and happiness, and her girl does not know to-day what nervous sickness means. "Three bottles," says the mother, "brought her back to her health and strength and vigor."

Thousands of homes throughout the land are blighted because of the sickness that has fallen upon mother and the boys and girls of the fireside, whose place it is to bring brightness and not sadness to the home. The remedy for these troubles is South American Nervine."

Known to Fame.

Lieut.-Gen. Sir Evelyn Wood, who completed his fortieth year of service in the British army on September 7, has probably seen more hard fighting than any other officer of his rank in the empire. He was one of Beatson's Horse in the Indian mutiny, commanded "Wood's" regiment of blacks in the Ashantee war, and held important posts in the Kaffir, Zulu and Transvaal campaigns and the Egyptian expeditions. Before he joined the army, he was three years in the navy, during which time he was with the Naval Brigade at Inkerman and in the trenches, and was severely wounded at the assault on Redan. He is not yet fifty-eight.

M. Goron, who was once the head of the detective bureau of Paris, and who was as well known in Scotland Yard as on the Continent, has made an application to be retired on a pension of $400 a year. M. Goron became famous by clearing up the Gouffe murder mystery, but was afterward deposed from his high office and relegated to a division superintendency.

To a letter from an Italian firm of real estate agents, offering him a great estate in Italy with a dukedom thrown in for so many thousand dollars, Barnett I. Banato the South African diamond king, replied that he would consider the offer if the crown were included.

Labouchere is one of the hardest working members of parliament, being usually the first to arrive in the House and the last to leave. He is a man of great self-possession, with a large head and a powerful face. His eyes, under their thick-set eyebrows, are small and piercing.

Ex-Judge William C. Price, who was Treasurer of the United States under Buchanan, is living in St. Louis, an interesting relic of the lost cause. The old judge gets painfully excited when he talks about "the wrongs of the South," and in spirit he is as unreconstructed as were Jefferson Davis and Jubal Early. Judge Price, who is now eighty years old, said the other day: "When Buchanan asked Attorney General Black, of Pennsylvania, if the Government could coerce a state, he promptly replied, "No." Despite this fact Buchanan ordered the reinforcement of Anderson at Sumter. That I could not stand, and I resigned."

Cardinal Vaughan has been accused of appropriating the arms of the See of Canterbury. The arms conferred upon him by Pope Leo are the historic arms belonging to all British Archbishoprics, a crozier surmounted by a pall; as the field for the Protestant sees is azure, that in the arms given to Westminister is gules.

About two weeks ago, the Rev. Mr. Surf, of Blue Springs, Nebraska, lost his hair, after fever, and became nearly bald. He finally resolved to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now has as fine a head of hair as could be desired. This is certainly a fact worth remembering.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

SUICIDE INCREASES.

MANY TITLED PERSONS INDULGE IN IT.

In the English Peerage in the Present Generation—Also in the Continental Aristocracy, and Royal Families—Some Notable Cases.

Suicide is increasing among the aristocracy to such a degree that those unsophisticated people who fondly imagine that to be a lord is the culmination of bliss must have their faith in this respect somewhat shaken.

Among the most notable suicides in the English peerage within the memory of the present generation are those of the Duke of Bedford, probably the richest peer of the British realm, and the Marquis of Londonderry, who was driven to desperation by blackmailers, who preyed upon the infamous vice for which he was noted. Lord Congleton, the head of the house of Parnell, took his own life, and so did the Earl of Delaware, Lord Lyttleton, Lord Cloncurry, Viscount Forth, whose son, Lord Drummond, died in New York, a porter in the employ of the New York World, and the Karl of Munster, an illegitimate son of King William IV. There are others to whom the coroner's jury gave the benefit of the doubt in ascribing their death to accident, such as Lord Drumlanrig, eldest son of the Marquis of Queensberry; the late Karl of Lonsdale and the Duke of Hamilton, who is pretty generally known to have blown out his brains while crazed with the pain of gout during a visit to Algiers.

Suicides are also frequent in the Continental aristocracy. There is not a court in Europe the annals of which have not been darkened in recent years by self-inflicted death. Only a few weeks ago was recorded in these columns the suicide at Naples of Prince Pignatelli, to whose lovely wife the Crown Prince of Italy has been so devoted that they have been nicknamed "the inseparables." Then there is the Spanish Duke of San Carlos, principal chamberlain to the little King of Spain, who blew his brains out in a fit of religious mania the other day on returning home from mass, leaving a letter bewailing his inability to attain moral perfection. Just about the same time, Prince Corsini, the popular aide-de-camp of the Duke of Aosta, and so well known to American visitors at Florence, shot himself through the heart on account of losses at gambling. At the court of Vienna, Count Stephen Czaki, son of the Hungarian Cabinet Minister of that name and a chamberlain of the Emperor, cut his throat in consequence of financial troubles, and at the court of Berlin, one of the Princes Reuss, who held a high office in the Emperor's household, took his life in the same manner on being taxed by the young monarch with a disgraceful offense.

Even in royal families suicide ends many a life, the most notable case, perhaps, being that of Queen Isabella's son-in-law, Count Girgenti, who cut his throat in his wife's presence while in a fit of epilepsy. A member of the house of Bonaparte, Count Cammerata, belonging to the Lucien branch of the family, shot himself through the heart in his apartments in the Tuileries, in consequence of his inability to pay his losses at the gambling table. The step-father of Queen Marguerite of Italy killed himself in the gardens of the beautiful residence which his wife, the Duchess of Genoa, occupied on the shores of Lake Como. Sultan Abdul Aziz stabbed himself to death with a pair of scissors. Prince Baldwin of Belgium and Crown Prince Rudolph of Austria are known to have committed suicide in consequence of their having become entangled in a situation from which it was impossible that they should extricate themselves without entire loss of honor.

Had the policeman who attacked the coachman of the British Ambassador at Vienna lived in the last century he would long ere this have paid with his life the penalty of his assault. As it is he will be let off with dismissal from the force and a term of imprisonment. And it must be confessed that he well deserves his punishment. It seems that the old English coachman of Sir Edmund Monson got into an altercation about an overcharge in his mill at a restaurant in the Prater. A policeman was called in and took the whole party of waiters, the coachman and his wife, an elderly Englishwoman, off to the police station. The policeman said that on their way thither the Englishman made some threatening movement. Thereupon the policeman drew his sword and inflicted several severe cuts on the old man's head and shoulders until he fell insensible. The wife, who interfered, likewise received a couple of cuts from the policeman's sword. The matter was taken up by the entire Diplomatic Corps, who joined Sir Edmund Monson in demanding exemplary punishment for this gross infraction of their most cherished privileges, namely the immunity of themselves and their servants from interference on the part of the police and civil authorities of the country to which they are accredited.

Swords are far too easily and readily drawn in Germany and Austria. Four young nobleman in military uniform in the streets of Vienna, one of them Count Czaky, son of the statesman of that name, and another, Prince Batthyany, declared that they had been jostled by two Hebrew shopkeepers. To the insulting epithets addressed to them by the officers, the civilians replied in kind. The officers drew their swords and slashed the men until they fell covered with blood. Before a civil tribunal the officers were acquitted. They were censured, however, by their commanding officer for getting into a quarrel with men whose social status was not such as to permit their according them satisfaction in a duel. The climax of the situation is that the lawyer of the victims, Dr. Rosenfeld, who, during the course of his address at the trial, denounced the attack of the four officers upon two unarmed and defenseless men as cowardly, has just been sentenced to pay a fine of 300 florins for having insulted the army of his Imperial and apostolic Majesty, the Emperor.

The demand for Ayer's Hair Vigor in such widely-separated regions of South America, Spain, Australia, and India has kept pace with the home consumption, which goes to show that these people know a good thing when they try it.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria,
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A MEDICINE

WITHOUT AN EQUAL.

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills cure liver and bowels.

Foresight

O she rattled the corn with a cluck and a call,
And the biddies came every one,
But the turkeys went marching away by the wall,
Their bronze feathers a-gleam in the sun:
So she rattled the corn with a cluck and a call:
"Come you back, turkey-birds, I say!"
But they gobbled in answer, far off by the wall:
"We'll be back, after Thanksgiving Day!"

WAYS TO DO THINGS.

Grandma Messer's Mother Goose Plum Pudding For Thanksgiving.

MUCH a time as was in Grandma Messer's kitchen! all because the three Messer children from Hamilton, who had come to spend Thanksgiving holidays at the form, a mile out of Milton, were not able to plan a creditable surprise for their cousins who were to drive over from Oakville to have Thanksgiving dinner with them. They had turned their minds inside out and upside down, but all with no effect; at last Nan, the eldest, feebly proposed a donkey-party.

"Fun in that? I think it's too stupid to go poking around trying to pin on a donkey's tail," cried Lena, whose real dislike to these parties was because she could not win a prize.

"Why don't you p'ease let Grandma 'cide it," lisped little Bennie, who was resting his curly head on a pair of chubby arms, and listening to all that was going on; "it's p'lite to let the biggest have her way, specibly when it's Gran'ma."

"Just the thing, little Sir Wisdom," said the girls; "that is just what we will do. Grandma, what shall our surprise be for to-night?"

"I have been thinking for you," said Grandma; "and all at once there came into my mind the vision of a Mother Goose Plum Pudding which I had a great many years ago, before my parents left England."

"How delightful! Do let us have one! How do you make it?" cried the girls in one breath.

"Well, the first thing will be for Nan to run up to the store for some clay pipes; and while Lena gets the roll of colored paper from the big chest in the attic I will do my part."

Off went Grandma to the baking-table to prepare the dough pudding which was made in the queerest way. first, a large round tin dish was lined with pie-crust, then this was filled one foot high with pieces of linen, and then the upper crust put on.

"Do we eat the linen?" asked the girls, scarcely knowing what to make of such a strange mixture.

"Certainly, if you care to," said Grandma; then pushing the huge pudding into the oven, she sat down and with a penknife chiselled the knobs under the bowls of the pipes into noses, while with pen, ink and paint the bowls were soon changed into six odd-looking and very expressive faces.

"There!" she said. "Now, girls, let me see if you can with your paper and glue, charm my six old ladies into Mother Goose characters; suppose you each do two, and I will do two for Bennie."

"It won't take two minutes to decide what mine will be," said Nan, selecting a pair of the pipes; "I will have one, the Queen of this Feast, Mother Goose herself, in her black-and-gold gown, high frilled cap, and the deep lace collar that was woven on the day of her birth. And with a brown gown, sunbonnet and rake the 'Contrary Mary' shall do her part. How could you contrive, Grandma, that one of these pipes should be so youthful and the other so ancient!"

"P'ease make me the 'Old Woman of Norwich,' and make her face full of dimples inside out, and her nose awful red 'cause she ate so much porridge," said Bennie; "I dess, too, you'd better fix me a 'Nan Ettitote,' 'cause I like her, for mamma says if it wasn't for her I couldn't see to do to bed."

"I will take 'Mother Hubbard,'" said Lena, "with her gay red gown, grey shawl tied in a soft cushion in the back, and I must do my best to tie on her big hood which is always slipping off her head; and this nose with its red knob will hold her spectacles through which she looked so long for a bone. And this face," continued Lena, looking at the pipe carefully, "must be framed in a red shoe as a hood, with the white frill of her under cap for a border, a green petticoat and yellow dress rolled up to her loose sacque."

The fingers flew, the paper rattled, the scissors clicked and clipped, and there was such fitting and crimping and gluing and tying; and the busy company laughed and talked until the kitchen was a Babel of merriment.

"I shall expect some rhymed tributes to Mother Goose," said Grandma, "and now that this part of the surprise is finished, you had best prepare your verses. Hurry off and get ready, for your cousins will soon be here. No more questions, remember, and no peeping eyes either!"

At last Grandma was alone, and with a smile on her face she brought the delicately browned pudding which she had taken from the oven while the girls were at work, and putting it in the closet, she closed the door that she might finish the surprise leisurely and with "artistic effect."

That night while the Messer children from Hamilton, and their three cousins from Oakville, were just finishing their Thanksgiving goodies, the great pudding was put in the middle of the table. Not a word was spoken; they all sat still, looking at the huge pastry.

Taking advantage of their silence Grandma raised the upper crust and such a chorus of laughing and clapping that followed! For what do you think? The linen filling had all been taken out of the pudding, and there stood Mother Goose in the centre looking untold words of sympathy to Mother Hubbard who, with an alarming expression of grief on her face, had just returned from the empty cupboard. Lena was very sure her expression had been heightened since she last saw her. Next to her stood the fat Old Woman from Norwich, wearing her gray dress and hood, and using for a cane the spoon with which she daily ate her porridge. A little back from the others stood "Mistress Mary," looking as "contrary" as ever. At her side sat the Old Woman who owned the famous Shoe; she appeared satisfactorily careworn and she carried her rod all ready for action; while bending forward a little from the circle, came the slender form of "Nancy Litticoat with her white petticoat" and night-cap, her face glowing with a taper-light expression from her red nose.

Was there ever such a sight, and did the old brown house ever before come so near bursting its sides with laughter?

In the midst of the uproar Nan raised her finger to Bennie who stood on his chair and with a fine low bow toward Grandma, repeated a little verse which she and Lena had composed as a compliment for Grandma instead of Mother Goose:

"Some folks fill their puddings full
Of currants, citron, raisins;
But this I'm sure exceeds them all,
For it's filled with nice old maidens."

So the flood of surprise was turned on Grandma, and how she enjoyed it!

But all was not yet over; the toast was yet to be given; and Nan bowing sweetly before the stately and serene Mother Goose recited:

"In a quiet spot of an olden town
Lived a queen of the nurseree,
Whose work was to smooth when the sun went down
The up-hill road of her subjects wee,
Over to Bye-low-land,
And a song was her wand.
Do you think there is need to introduce
The friend of our childhood—Mother Goose?

Thou genius of melody, myth and muse,
Who would thy innocent name abuse?
Poets and sages have sung in thy praise,
Danced to the strains of fiddle-dee days,
Wept at the cupboard, laughed heartily too
At the Old Woman who lived in a Shoe.
And we, dear Mother, as subjects of thine
Now bend before thy mystical shrine."

As they said good-night to Grandma, the cousins from Oakville confessed that they had had a surprise indeed.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

Yellow Oil used internally and externally cures asthma, croup, coughs, sore throat, bronchitis, and similar complaints. Externally it cures rheumatism, lumbago, sprains, cuts, chilblains, frost bites, and sprains and aches of every kind.

Mrs. T. S. Hawkins, Chattanooga, Tenn. says, "Shiloh's Vitalizer saved my life.' I consider it the best remedy for a debilitated system I ever used. For dyspepsia, liver or kidney trouble it excels Price 75 cts. Sold by John Nugent, 389 George street.

A Reputed Remedy for Hay Fever.

Martyrs to hay fever will learn with interest the experience of Dr. Fuber, of Hamburg, who suffered a great deal from hay fever during several summers. He noticed that in winter a coryza was accompanied with hot ears, which retained their normal temperature when the discharge from the nose was established. He tried a reverse order of things on the hay fever and rubbed his ears until they became, red hot. He can now lead an endurable existence. As soon as there is the least amount of fulness in the nose, the ears are noticeably pale. A thorough rubbing of the ears has always succeeded in freeing the nasal mucous membrane from congestion. The rubbing must be thorough and repeated.

THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from various prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANADA LIFE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	Per Cent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life	2.63	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

Now Backache.

There is only one kind.
And there is only one cure.
So don't expect to escape or recover until you have used the cure.
Backache always results from trouble or ailment in the kidneys.
Now, the cure is Dodd's Kidney Pills.
It is wonderful how much backache means.
It is not a violent pain—no match for toothache, or even a corn.
But it means a great deal.
Nearly always it is preceded by a cold.
The circulation of the blood is checked right at the kidneys in such a case.
Take one of the worst and most fatal kidney diseases—Bright's.
The doctor shakes his head and says it is incurable.
This disease is essentially an inflammation of the kidneys.
The blood is checked, or dammed up, right in the kidneys themselves.
Still the heart keeps pumping away against the obstruction caused by congestion or inflammation.
We are not talking about the heart just now, but sometimes it fails at such a juncture.
What does it all mean?
It means that by this extra pressure on the walls of the blood vessels, watery particles ooze through. This accumulated water is the condition called dropsy.
It means a breaking down of the tissues of the kidneys, and then the doctors retire or send the patient away somewhere to die.
Or it means the passage of a great part of the blood unfiltered to do harm at the weakest spot.
Is there still hope?
Yes.
The hope—the only hope of such a patient is Dodd's Kidney Pills.
And they always cure.

DOURO.

From our own Correspondent.

A very pretty wedding was celebrated Tuesday morning in St. Joseph's church, when Frank Moher and Bridget Theresa Allen joined hands and hearts in matrimony.

The ceremony was performed at 9 o'clock by the Rev. W. J. Kielty in the presence of a large number of relatives and friends, while the choir, of which the contracting parties were members, rendered appropriate music.

The bride was neatly attired in a gown of ashes of roses cashmere, and was assisted by her sister Minnie, while John O'Brien acted in the same capacity for the groom.

After the ceremony the wedding party were driven to the residence of the bride's parents, where dinner was served, after which the afternoon and evening was spent in social intercourse.

The high esteem in which the bride was held was attested by the many and valuable presents received, while the groom was given full and hearty congratulations from his many associates.

That they may enjoy a life of unalloyed happiness is the wish of their many friends.

RUGBY FOOTBALL.

On the Trinity lawn yesterday afternoon, in Toronto, the college fifteen defeated Peterborough in an exceedingly well played match by 24 points to 7. The Trinity team had several of the Lornes on, and their passing and combination playing was too much for Peterborough, who were evidently lacking in experience. The bitter cold affected the play to a considerable extent, benumbing the hands of the players and causing much fumbling. In the first half Peterborough had the wind, and though they did not hold their own they kept the Trinity score down to 12, while they notched 7 points. Trinity scored a touch without a try, and two unconverted tries, making 12 points, and Peterborough scored a rouge and a goal. Lefevre scored their try by a beautiful run. He played by far the best game for the visitors. He kicked and ran well. In the second half Trinity had things all their own way, scoring a touch in goal, 2 rouges and 2 tries, and bringing their final score up to 24 points. Bain, the Trinity quarter, was always on the ball, and his passing was very accurate. Tremaine, Chadwick and Reid made several effective rushes. For Peterborough Lefevre, Montgomery and Jones were the stars. The teams:—

Trinity—Back, H. H. Bedford Jones; halves, Senkler, Reid, Campbell; quarter, Bain; scrimmage, Gwyn, White, Bushell; wings, Chadwick, Tremayne, Cartwright, Osler, Heaven, Becher and Cooper.

Peterborough—Back, Rogers; halves, Moore, Lefevre, McKenzie; quarter, King; scrimmage, Wilgar, Allen, Grey; wings, Poussette, Lambe, Bell, Kerr, Stephenson, Jones and Montgomery.

THE WHEEL.

In speaking of Mrs. Paton's reference to bicycling a W. C. T. U. member said: "I am very sorry to have the wheel opposed at a W.C.T.U. Convention, for our society is on the whole strongly in favour of the bicycle. Those who know anything about us know that our World's President rides, has written a book on wheeling and that about bloomers she says, "wear them if you please.

A Hamilton paper pretty nearly hits the nail squarely on the head in the following editorial: "Some of the ladies at yesterday's session of the W. C. T. U. convention took strong ground against bicycling by ladies. We fail to see the wisdom of such censure as one lady visited upon wheelwomen. All women are not graceful on a wheel, but to most women the modern bicycle is conducive to health, beauty and good temper if not to godliness. Of course the intemperate use of the bicycle by either sex is to be condemned on commonsense grounds, but we should distinguish between use and abuse. It is probably too true that some bicyclists turn Sunday into a day of long tours and "scorching," and do not attend churches but it is to be said—in defence of the wheel, not the wheelmen—that this class would not go to church anyway, and it is perhaps better they should spend the day in the country, on the road, than lounging about questionable resorts. At any rate the censure of the wheeling girls won't go. Those who don't like the bicycle needn't ride it, but just as good women do ride it as ever set foot in pulpit or on platform."

Peterborough, says the Wheelman, proposes making a strong bid for the meet next year—so report says. We hear that the indefatigable Horkins and his able coterie of assistants intend to begin the work of organization at once and hope between now and Good Friday to have the claims of Peterborough so vigorously presented that victory will be a certainty. It will be a live club and a smart general that will beat Horkins and Peterborough this time.

HOCKEY.

A meeting of the Port Hope Hockey Club was held last Monday evening, when the following officers were elected:

Hon. President—H. A. Ward, Esq.
Pres.—Chas. Stuart, Esq.
Vice-Pres.—S. Patterson, jr.
Sec.-Treas.—V. T. Griffin.
Capt.—Chas. Colman.

It was decided to have the club run under the name of the Y.M.C.A. They had a good record last winter, and the team promises to excel even last year's.

With Invalids.

Yes! with invalids the appetite is capricious and needs coaxing, that is just the reason they improve as rapidly under Scott's Emulsion, which is as palatable as cream.

The Orillia Packet.

This live and well-conducted weekly issued a splendid special edition in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of its publication. This special number consists of eight pages, is copiously illustrated, and is distinguished by the typographical neatness that characterizes the weekly issues of the Packet. The special edition contains about seventy-five capital portraits of the chief business and prominent citizens of the northern town. Most of the portraits are excellent, the EXAMINER speaking with knowledge of those of Mr. Melville Millar, once a resident of Peterborough, and Mr. T. H. Robinson, who served his apprenticeship to the drug business with Messrs. Ormond & Walsh, and remained some time with them as assistant. Another feature of local interest is two reproductions—a birds-eye view of Orillia in its early days and one of Lake Couchiching—from drawings made by Capt. W. H. Grubbe, R.N., father of Mr. R. W. Grubbe, of the bank of Toronto, Peterborough. The Packet has every reason to be proud of its anniversary number, its illustrations are high class, its special advertisements very neatly and effectively displayed, while the descriptive letter press including an original story of local interest and racy pot pourri, is of unusually high literary character. The EXAMINER cordially congratulates Hales Bros. the enterprising publishers, and hopes they may live to celebrate the jubilee of the Packet's publication.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Montreal, Nov. 20th.—The live stock shipping season will close with the sailing of the Lake Huron on Saturday next. The season has been a most successful one, and in fact ahead of any previous year. The records of Messrs. Pope and Morgan, the Government cattle inspectors, show that during the present season up to Nov. 18 there have gone to European ports from Montreal 197,467 sheep, 93,941 head of cattle, and 12,564 horses. Taking the record of the entire season of 1894, it shows a marked decrease compared with those of the present year. In 1894 there were 139,780 sheep exported, an increase for this year of 57,687. Last season the returns show that there were 86,636 head of cattle sent abroad, an increase for this year of 7,306. The number of horses exported is more than double what it was in the year 1894. Last year 5,623 were shipped, showing an increase of 6,931 for this year. The cargoes of live stock taken out this year have been, in point of size, as large as have ever left a port in America. It is said that the Scotsman, when she left port on Oct. 19 for Liverpool, had more live stock on board than had ever been carried from any port. It consisted of 5,340 sheep, 798 head of cattle, and 10 horses. On the trip following this same vessel took out 4,308 4,308 sheep and 940 head of cattle. At another time this season the Scotsman sailed with 2,080 sheep, 1,050 head of cattle, and 47 horses. On this vessel were employed 55 cattlemen to take care of the stock. There are still seven ships to leave between now and Saturday, and it is expected that a large amount of live stock will be taken. In speaking of the cattle this morning, both Messrs. Pope and Morgan stated that the stock had averaged very high this season, higher, perhaps, than ever before. While the Ontario cattle were up to the standard, the stock from Manitoba and the Northwest had been of a high grade.

Fairweather's Fine Furs

THESE ARE THE DAYS

Which make one think of the winter that is almost on us. FURS will then be needed. Call and inspect our stock, where you will find a full range of what is good, what is fashionable, and what is really cheap, in Fur Garments. Beauty in Fur Garments depends upon having the supervision of artists in the manufacture. No matter what beautiful and precious materials one may use, if the artistic taste is lacking, there will be no beauty in the result. We have always borne this fact in mind and the result is that the artistic element enters into even our most inexpensive Fur garments. For anything you need in Fur it will pay you to call on us.

BIG COMBINATION FOR WORKINGMEN!

Is This a Landslide Or an Earthquake?

I saw a vast crowd of Men marching bodly, victoriously, with cash in hand, to Gough Bros. the Wonderful Cheap Men. "Stop," I cried. It is futile. You cannot win all the time.. Landslides "do not come year after year in this northern latitude." "Wake up, Rip Van Winkle," they shouted in a mighty voice. "This may not be a landslide but it has all the earmarks of an earthquake. We are workingmen and you can't stop us! They marched on boldly, victoriously, and won

AN ENTIRE OUTFIT —FOR— $9.98
SUIT, $7.50
PAIR OF SHOES, $1.50
HAT, 98c

This Week

We will make a strong bid for Workingmen's trade by offering a complete outfit of wearing apparel consisting of SUIT, SHOES and HAT for $9.98—about the regular price of the Suit alone.

This offer is specially for wage earners who know the value of a dollar and want to make their money go as far as possible.

THE SUITS Are made of Worsteds, Canadian and Scotch Tweeds, in blue, black, brown and fancy mixtures. We have all sizes in cutaways and single and double breasted sacks. You cannot buy their equal at any store in the city for less than $10

THE SHOES Are made of solid leather, well lined and trimmed. The sale includes two styles of toes and all sizes from 6 to 11. Every pair is worth $2.

THE HATS Are black and brown—Stanleys and Fedoras—stylish and made to wear well—worth $1.50 to $2.00.

		Regular Price	Workingmen's Price	SAVING.
You Will Save $4.02 on the Outfit.	SUIT	$10.00	$7.50	$2.50
	SHOES . . .	$2.00	$1.50	50
	HAT	$2.00	98	$1.02
	Total . .	$14.00	$9.98	$4.02

To workingmen who do not need a complete outfit we will sell the Suit, Hat or Shoes separately at the reduced price quoted.

When price-cutting is at its keenest is the time we're most happy, because we know that not store in Canada buys cheaper than ours, and not one in a hundred dare sell so cheap. Why? Simply because the stock is turning in and out so quickly, the sharpest little shave over cost is enough to satisfy and recompense us. WE'VE GOT THE TRADE AND WE'LL KEEP IT.

STORE NEWS

—AT—

TURNBULL'S

Our aim is to make our store the brightest and best shopping place in the country by keeping always on hand such goods as people require, making quality the first consideration and price the second. Knowing that this is what the people appreciate, with double our old floor space we are now in a position to carry a much larger and varied stock than ever, and keep adding lines as we see we can handle them.

This week we have added a nice assortment of Felt Embroidered Table Scarfs, Table Covers and Shopping Bags.

See the nice Embroidered Shopping Bag we can give you for 25 cents.

We also handle Silk and Chenille Pom Pons, Tassels, Cords, etc., for Fancy Work, at much lower prices we find than they have been sold for before. We also keep a stock of Curtain Poles, Dado Blinds, Screws and Curtain Nets, and have doubled our Carpet stock. We will not quote prices to-day, but you will find our values more than right.

We expect on the next train a big shipment of American Table Oilcloths in beautiful colours and small patterns. Drop in and see them, if you do not want to buy you can tell your neighbors about them.

We have something interesting for boys this week in eight or ten pieces good Wool Tweeds, only 25c a yard; men will also find them excellent goods to wear. Boys be happy, we have a stock of new Braces, only 5c per pair.

See our Astrachan and Cloth Caps at from 30c to 75c each, just fresh from the factory. We have also a number of lengths of choice imported Overcoatings to make up for whoever selects them, at prices that cannot be beaten elsewhere. We speak strongly because we are strong on this line. Perfect fit and style guaranteed in our ordered clothing or no sale.

Heavy Flannelette Night Dresses, our own make, at $1 each.

Those Dress Tweeds we spoke about a week or two ago at 25c, worth 65c, are rolling rapidly; although we purchased a very large quantity, they will soon be out. We call attention to them again, as we would like our regular customers to get their portion of them before they are all gone.

DEEP WATERWAYS.

Messrs. Howland, Keefer and Monro Appointed

AS COMMISSIONERS FOR CANADA

Decreased Exports and Increased Imports Shown by the Trade Returns—Prospective Retirement of Mr. William Smith—Other Ottawa News.

Ottawa, Nov. 23.—At yesterday's meeting of the Cabinet, O. A. Howland, M.L.A., Toronto; T. C. Keefer, C.E., Ottawa, and Thomas Monro, C.E., Coteau Landing, were appointed commissioners to act with the three commissioners already appointed by the United States Government to investigate and report on the subject of deep waterways.

The trade returns for the four months of the current fiscal year were published yesterday. The exports total $48,646,986, a decrease of half a million as compared with the same period last year. This falling off arose last month, when the value of exports was $830,000 less than in October, 1894. On the other hand, the imports of last month increased by two million dollars, and the duty collected by a quarter of a million. For the four months the imports are valued at $39,813,073, an increase of $513,000. The duty collected for the four months amount to $6,910,261, an increase of $875,000.

The conference on the copyright question, which has been spoken of, is definitely fixed to be held on Monday next, the 25th inst., in the Department of Agriculture. Hon. Mr. Ouimet, acting Minister of Agriculture, will be chairman, and Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper will be present. As previously stated, the conference will be open to authors, printers, publishers or others interested in the copyright question, who may desire to be present or to make any representations on the occasion.

The Marine Department has at present under consideration certain proposals with reference to the changes in the winter service to Prince Edward Island. The distance between Cape Tormentine and Charlottetown is 36 miles; between Pictou and Charlottetown 48 miles; between Pictou and Georgetown 38 miles, and between Tormentine and Traverse, eight miles. The latter route would, of course, be the most economical one, but unfortunately there is no deep water wharf at Traverse, and therefore the Stanley could not land her passengers or freight. The Summerside people are, however, anxious that the Stanley should run between that city and Cape Tormentine, the distince being only 18 miles.

For some years past the possibility of the retirement of Mr. William Smith from the position of Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries has been discussed, and it is now reported that his resignation of the position will shortly be tendered. Mr. Smith is 75 years of age and doubtless feels that he is now entitled to rest from official duties after years of faithful service. Among the names of those mentioned as possible successors in the Deputy Ministership are A. W. Ross, M.P., and L. Z. Joncas, M.P. The latter has, it is said, been laying pipe for the position for a long while.

There is talk also of dividing the department and constituting separate deputy heads for the Marine and Fisheries branches, and promoting Mr. John Hardie or Major Gourdeau to be Deputy Minister of Marine, and Prof. Prince, the talented Commissioner of Fisheries, to be Deputy Minister of Fisheries.

The Dominion Bridge Company have nearly completed the movable dam for St. Mary's Canal. It will be 350 feet over all in length, and will be an effective barrier against the waters of Lake Superior, in the event of its being desired to not only unwater the canal, but to take off the lock gates. The dam will be tested early next spring. During this winter it is in contemplation to unwater St. Mary's Canal and strengthen the mitre sills. Although there is not the slightest apprehension of any danger, yet the recent big accident to the American lock is an object lesson to our department.

Mr. John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, returned from Windsor to-day, whither he had been to look into the system for transit of cattle through Canadian territory. He reports everything working perfectly.

Reports received at the Fisheries Department indicate considerable illegal fishing going on in Georgian Bay district, notably around Presque Isle. The overseers have been instructed to keep a sharp lookout for law breakers.

The Canada Gazette to-morrow will contain the announcement of the following appointments: Lieut.-Col. A. C. Landry of Quebec and Capt. D. H. MacPherson, Inspector N.W.M. Police, to be honorary A.D.C.'s to His Excellency. A. Drysdale of Halifax, E. Ruggles, Bridgetown, and C. Chisholm of Sydney, to be Queen's counsel.

The Railways Department was notified to-day of the arrest at Boston of the parties who are supposed to [illegible] have broken into the station at Riviere Du Loup recently. Evidence is forthcoming that the same individuals were implicated in a shooting affray at Rimouski some time ago. The Justice Department will take measures to extradite them.

William Parker the officer in charge of the Sandwich hatchery, reports having secured a splendid collection of white fish spawn, so much so that the hatchery accommodation will be taxed to the utmost limit.

Messrs. Hugh MacLennan, James Crathern, H. E. Murray, George Hyde and A. Kingman of Montreal [illegible] Buntin of Toronto are applying for incorporation by letters patent as the Beaver Line, Limited, with a capital of $250,000.

Among the applications to Parliament this week is one to incorporate the Calgary and Lethbridge Railway and Irrigation Company, to build a railway from Calgary to Lethbridge.

The Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway Company will seek power to extend its line from Simcoe to Fort Erie.

Incorporation will be sought for the Manitoba and North West Millers' Association.

Under a recent decision of the City Solicitor, the assessors have not placed the members of the incorporated companies on the voters' list this year, and it has led to a large number of appeals, amongst the appellants being Bronson & Weston, of which Hon. FIRE AND DEATH.

Another Conflagration in Chicago Attended With Loss of Life—Property Loss $200,000.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—Fire, attended with loss of life, broke out at 9.30 yesterday morning in the seven storey building at 215 and 217 Vanburen-street. The fire originated on the fifth floor and the occupants, including men, women and children, became panic-stricken and made a dash for the stairs, the elevators and windows. Two girls, Nellie Turner and Kittie Landgraff, who seemed terrified with fright, rushed to the windows and despite the cries of the crowd on the street to await the ladders, they threw themselves headlong into the street, breaking almost every bone in their bodies. They were taken to the hospital, where it was said both would die. A ladder was finally raised and the firemen rushed up it just as another girl jumped from the window. The firemen caught her dress, but could not save her and she fell to the pavement below, probably fatally injured. The fire spread rapidly and inside of ten minutes the inner portion of the building was a seething furnace. The flames then jumped the alley and ignited the large seven storey building facing on Franklin-street, numbered 276 and 278, and occupied by Stern & Bliss, manufacturers of boys' clothing; Henry Newman & Company, clothiers' supplies; the National Drug Company and other concerns. The loss will exceed $300,000.

The Vanburen-street building is occupied by B. D. Arnold, dealer in clothiers' supplies; S. Rosenberg, dealer in tailors' trimmings; M. D. Richman & Co., tailors, and a large number of similar concerns.

Patrick J. O'Donnell, lieutenant of Engine Company No. 2.
Thomas Prendergast, pipe man.
Martin Sherrick, pipe man.
John Downs, pipe man.
Kate Landgraff, employed in A. Stern & Company's garter factory.

Among the injured are: Daniel McNally, pipe man, sprained leg and bruises; Olga Heller, leg and arm injured; Harry O'Neil, arm broken and back injured; Nellie Turner, fell from fourth storey and seriously hurt; John Bruenheimer, badly injured by falling from fourth storey, while assisting girls to escape.

The others who were injured were girls and spectators who saved them, all being overcome by smoke, but they soon recovered after medical aid at the hospitals or their homes.

The frantic girls were determined in their half crazed mental condition to hurl themselves to the stone flagging, but were partly restrained by the shouts of the citizens on the street and the quick work of the firemen. One small extension ladder was run up under where the girls were standing in fear of a double death. A fireman mounted it, but when his feet touched the rungs of the second section either his weight or some defect in the ladder caused it to slip back to its original position, bringing its top four or five feet below the sill of the fourth storey window.

Either crowded from behind, or frenzied by fear, Nellie Turner, Kitty Landgraf and Harry O'Neil made a wild attempt to lower themselves so that they could touch the top rung of the ladder. In doing this the foolhardy ones slipped and fell headlong to the pavement. Capt. Hermanson tried to grasp the dress of Kitty Landgraff as her body flew past him, but he failed and she struck the sidewalk with a sickening thud in sight of thousands. A few seconds elapsed and the same spot upon which Miss Landgraff's body had struck was covered with the unconscious form of Nellie Turner, who had taken the terrible plunge in the effort to save herself. She was saved from death, however, by being momentarily held by three firemen in her descent, thus breaking the force of her fall.

House Burned at Hespeler.

Hespeler, Nov. 22.—A fire broke out here this morning in the house occupied by W. C. Hamacher and owned by Mrs. John Sipes. The fire was confined to the upper flat, which was almost destroyed. The furniture and contents were all saved, though considerably damaged. Cause of fire supposed to be a defective chimney. Building insured for $500 in the Union of Liverpool. Contents fully covered in the Agricultural of Watertown, N.Y.

Presbyterian Teacher Burned Out.

Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—The teacher's house at the Okanase Presbyterian Mission, near Elphinstone has been burned. Loss $500; insured.

THE FIRST ANNUAL TEACHERS' CONVENTION.

THOSE WHO TEACH THE YOUNG IDEA HOW TO SHOOT.

The Town Teachers Confer on Different Subjects and Derive Much Benefit From the Discussions.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The proceedings were opened by Mr. Tilley taking up "Reading." He said we should begin the teaching of reading by teaching words. Give the words as a whole. A child learns the names of things as a whole, therefore give him words as a whole to begin with. A child will learn to discriminate words as easily as he will distinguish objects.

When a child learns these words he may associate them with some ideas already in his mind, or which may be put in his mind. If we teach isolated letters there will be a lack of interest on the part of the pupil.

The steps in reading are: 1, Recognition; 2, Pronunciation; 3, Meaning; 4, Relation; 5, Expression.

Pupils must be taught to grasp the form, seeing the word, and by tracing and making it themselves. Attention may be easily aroused by working on curiosity, which is the parent of attention. Give pupils the word form first, then show pupils either the object signified by it, or a picture of that object. Having taught a few words, combine them into phrases, by adding as few new words as possible, and having taught the new words, the pupil the whole phrase or sentence.

WILL BE ABLE TO READ

Pictures on cards may be used to assist in teaching reading.

Use script at first in teaching reading, before the printed forms are used. The similarity is so great that a pupil easily learns the latter if he knows the former.

Train the ear to detect the sounds. Train the tongue to repeat the sounds. Then associate the sounds with the word form.

He said a teacher should not ask a pupil to read as he reads, before he leads a pupil to thinks as he thinks.

A teacher seldom needs to read as a model for the pupils, though sometimes it is an inspiration to the pupils to hear excellent reading, just as it inspires a painter to see a great painting, or a sculptor to see beautiful sculpture.

After discussing the subject with the teachers, Mr. Tilley took a junior second class in reading.

After placing a sentence on the board and questioning the pupils about the ideas conveyed by the words contained in the sentence, pupils were asked to read it so as to bring out different ideas. The pupils placed the emphasis very correctly and in a natural manner, as a result of the skilful questioning by Mr. Tilley. The interest of the pupils was well sustained throughout the lesson, and Mr. Tilley showed his well known ability to help the pupils out of their varied difficulties, not by telling, but by leading them to see the way for themselves.

The teachers were delighted with the admirable way in which the lesson was presented, and gave it well merited applause.

At the close of Mr. Tilley's presentation of the subject, there were a number of questions asked and answered. The discussion was entered into by Mr. Wherry, Mr. Smith, Miss Morrow, Mr. Keogh, Mr. Brown, and others.

COMPOSITION.

After a short intermission, Mr. Keogh, of the Peterborough Separate School, took the subject "Entrance Composition." He defined composition as the art of finding appropriate thoughts on a subject and expressing them in suitable form. Entrance Composition means less than the general term "composition," and Mr. Keogh read the syllabus of the work as outlined by the Educational Department for entrance classes. The subject of composition has two aspects—invention and style. With the latter, entrance work chiefly deals, though there is much to be done in the line described as invention.

Mental power is based on mental order, hence to train the mental power we must give them a training in mental order. All that can be expected in the entrance class is a beginning in this line.

The first laudable object in teaching composition is to give the pupil a good English style, then training to habits of mental order, then the ability to write a good composition. Entrance composition presupposes much knowledge on the part of the pupils along the line of grammar, and much of the work mentioned under the title of composition might better be included in the grammar period. Pupils because their vocabulary is limited.

Train pupils thoroughly in literature, teach them to use their dictionaries, and the result will be a great increase in the vocabulary of the pupil.

Words are to ideas what the body is to the soul, and clear thought does not always beget clear expression.

Pupils have to be trained to express their thoughts logically, coherently and suitably.

Choose subjects familiar and interesting to the pupils.

Mr. Keogh used the convention as a class, and by questioning its members he secured a number of thoughts on the subject, "Thanksgiving Day." These he wrote on the board as given, that they might be re-arranged and serve as an outline for a written composition, to follow the oral expression of ideas.

Mr. Keogh favoured completing each paragraph as it is written, rather than going over the whole composition afterwards. Pupils may read their compositions and a joint composition may be worked out on the board afterwards.

Call attention to the excellencies and defects. Have pupils write the compositions at school.

It is well to have pupils form plans of their own, occasionally select their own topics, and write compositions independently.

Mr. Keogh's address was well received.

At its close, on account of the lateness of the hour, discussion was waved and this very successful gathering of teachers came to an end.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1896.

THE Welland Telegraph demands that somebody "name the wrong Dr. Montague has ever done." Perhaps the Telegraph thinks that putting up a post office big enough for a large town in the little village of Cayuga was right, the Ottawa Free Press suggests. The taxpayers, perhaps, think otherwise.

MR. HUGH RYAN, the well known Government contractor, is a rara avis amongst the band of contractors that expend the people's money on public works. Instead of permitting Sir Adolf Caron and his political coadjuters to take the cream of his profits to swell the tale of corruption funds, Mr. Ryan deposits his money in the bank of Heaven—by donating the cost of the magnificent and magnificently-equipped new wing to St. Michael's Hospital that was recently opened in Toronto. That's the kind of contract boodling the people of Canada can stand with more equanimity than that with which they can regard the public funds stolen to maintain a corrupt and extravagant Government in power.

TORONTO is beginning to realize that her financial position is not exactly satisfactory—that too much money has been expended without adequate return. Some idea may be formed of how Toronto's finances have come to be in an alarming condition, by stating that the cost per pupil in the Public Schools has increased from $12.98 in 1867 to $16.64 in 1895, and the cost per pupil of High Schools from $30.82 in 1867 to $54.92 in 1895. If these increases represent proportionately greater efficiency and better results, it is not so bad, for within reasonable limits, liberal expenditure for educational purposes is in every way desirable and justifiable. But this has not been the case—at least the Globe says in effect that extravagance has characterized the management of the city schools and when extravagant expenditure has been associated with transactions like purchasing sites to assist "friends" of the Board, it is not to be expected that real considerations of the interests of the schools has very greatly influenced the administrators of school affairs.

NORWOOD NEWS NOTES.

From our own Correspondent.

On Friday last the Pearce party returned from the hunting grounds, out near Gull lake. They had thirteen deer for the seven members of the party—the best luck any party from this vicinity have had this year. The party consisted of F. Pearce, H. Reynolds, Johnston, G. Taylor, F. Hendren, D. Armstrong, A. Emery. H. Reynolds made the best record of any heard of this year. Two deer were coming down the runway, and Mr. Reynolds killed both and fired only two shots.

On Saturday J. Fraser returned from the hunting ground. He had the worst luck this year of any. His party broke up at the beginning of last week, but Mr. Fraser was determined to see it out. He brought back two deer with him.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church intend holding a Thanksgiving tea and concert on Friday evening, Nov. 22nd. Tea will be served from 5.30 o'clock, after which a programme will be rendered.

The ladies of the Methodist church met last Thursday evening after prayer meeting, and re-organized the Ladies' Aid Society. They intend holding a social a week from Wednesday evening.

Last Sunday evening was baptismal service in the Baptist church.

The annual meeting of the Norwood Branch of Bible Society was held in the Presbyterian church Monday evening, Nov. 18th. Rev. J. Somerville, president of the society, in the chair. The meeting was opened with prayer, praise and Scripture reading. The reports of the treasurer and depository were then read and on motion were confirmed. The officers elected for the next term were as follows:

President—Rev. Weaver.
Vice-Presidents—Resident clergy of the village.
Secretary—J. W. Rork.
Treasurer—Dr. S. P. Ford.
Board of Directors—A. R. Anderson, W. E. Roxburgh, R. Nicholl, W. G. Patterson, Wm. Bailey, W. P. Plant, P. W. Stephenson, W. H. Stephenson, W. B. Howson, Jas. Cummings, Jas. Raddon.

The Rev. Mr. Bryant was then introduced and delivered a very interesting address on the Bible taking for his main thoughts:

1. Why should all men support the Bible?
2. Why should all Christians support the Bible?
3. Why should young people support the Bible?

At the close of the meeting a vote of thanks was tendered to Rev. Bryant for his able address. The Rev. J. Gibson pronounced the benediction.

A union service of all the Protestant churches will be held in the Presbyterian church on Thanksgiving morning at 10 o'clock. All the resident clergy will be present and deliver short addresses.

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 20th, the High School held their annual Commencement exercises at which a number of the ex-pupils, among whom are Prof. H. B. Anderson, M.D., (Trinity), F. D. Roxburgh, B.A., B. J. Hales, B.A., Cephas Edwards, B.A., delivered addresses. A very artistic programme was presented. It contained a cut of the school, the members of the staff and the department taught by each member, the Board of Education, a list of the scholars passing the departmental examinations last July, also those who passed the commercial and art school exams., and a report of the record made by the ex-pupils attending the various colleges in '95 and the programme for the concert.

Mrs. F. E. Perney, A.T.C.M., is going to give a rehearsal for the benefit of the Mechanic's Institute.

The scholars of the Model School have begun to practice for their annual concert. They are being trained in the choruses by Miss Roxburgh.

Last Friday evening the Model School Literary Society held its regular meeting, the president, J. McDonald, in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Miss Gillespie, and adopted. They then proceeded with the programme:

Speech	Sir John A Macdonald
	Mr F E Perney.
Critic's Report	Mr A Brethen
Reading	Miss E Lewis
Chorus	Glee Club
Reading	Mr Johnston
Journal	Miss O'Leary

The programme was well rendered throughout, especially the speech made by Mr. Perney, in which he gave a brief sketch of the great statesman's life. The voices in the Glee Club are not very strong but with practice will develop. Mr. Johnston's readings are always well received, and this proved to be no exception.

The foundation of Mr. J. Davidson's new house is completed.

T. M. Grover's new house has the foundation laid.

J. Harper's new house has been shingled and is receiving its first coat of paint.

H. G. Buck's buildings are going up rapidly. The first has received a coat of paint and the frame of the second has been put up and the brick is half way up.

The masons have commenced the foundation of C. O'Reilly's new house on Ridge street.

The carpenters are hustling things on Roxburgh's new block.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooney and son, of Arnprior, were in town for a few days, the guests of Mrs. McNichol. They are on their way to join their sons in Montana.

Mrs. Eaton has returned from her visit to her son in Ottawa.

Dr. Oliver, our young dentist, has left town.

Mr. Blacklock, who was in the employ of Wm. Nicoll, has left town.

W. E. Roxburgh and G. Sherry were arbitrators in the case in Havelock between a resident in that village and the council for damages done to property in grading the street.

Died on Sunday morning, Nov. 17th, 1895, Sarah Jane, wife of Chas. Nicholls, aged 53 years and 4 months. The funeral took place from the family residence in Dummer on Wednesday afternoon to the Norwood cemetery.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

RUSTLING HAVELOCK.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The arbitration case between the corporation and Mr. Milne to determine the damage (if any) done to Mr. Milne's property by the cutting down of the street in front of his premises, began in the School Hall, Havelock, at 2 p.m., Wednesday, November 13th. The arbitrators are Messrs. Sherry and Roxburgh, of Norwood, and Mr. Brown, ex-Reeve of Belmont. Messrs. Mills and McMurry, C.P.R. solicitors, Toronto, watched Mr. Milne's interests, and Mr. E. B. Edwards, Peterborough, appeared for the corporation. There was a large attendance of visitors. It soon became evident from the length of the evidence taken that the case would not be finished that day, so the Court adjourned at nine o'clock to meet the next day, Thursday, Nov. 14th, at nine o'clock, when the taking of evidence was resumed. As the case developed new witnesses were brought forward by both parties, and before the evidence was all taken there were eight witnesses sworn for the prosecution and twenty-two for the defence. The hearing of evidence was continued from Wednesday, Nov. 13th, to Monday, 18th inst. The Court then adjourned till next Monday, the 24th inst., to make the award.

On Friday word was received of the death of Mrs. Taylor, Kingston, mother of Mrs. J. B. Gould of this village.

Miss Jane Barlow is nicely recovering from a severe attack of illness.

The friends of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Milne spent a very pleasant evening at their residence on Monday night of last week.

It is reported here that Mr. W. A. F. Campbell, Norwood, will spend two days each week in the village on professional business.

The Havelock and Campbellford hunting party returned laden with the spoils of the chase, including eight splendid deer besides a sprinkling of other game.

A FAMOUS REFORMER.

REV. C. J. FREEMAN SPEAKS OF HIS LIFE AND WORK.

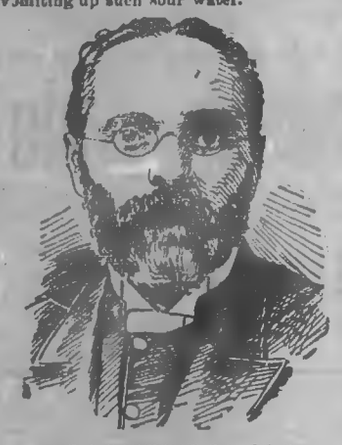
He Has Written and Preached on Both Sides of the Atlantic—Recently the Victim of a Peculiar Affliction from Which He was Released in a Marvellous Manner.

From the Boston Herald.

No. 157 Emerson street, South Boston, is the present home of Rev. C. J. Freeman, B.A., Ph.D., the recent rector of St. Mark's Episcopal Church at Anaconda, Mont. During the reform movement which has swept over Boston, Dr. Freeman has been frequently heard from through the various newspapers, and although a resident of a comparatively recent date, he has exerted much public influence, which has been increased by the fact that he was ten years ago on a commission appointed in England to investigate the troublesome question of the vice of great cities.

He has preached before cultured audiences in the old world, as well as to the rough pioneers in the mining towns of the Rocky Mountains, and his utterances as well as his writings have been in the line of progress and liberality, well-seasoned with practical common sense. Dr. Freeman has written this paper a letter which will be read with interest. He says:

"Some five years since I found that deep study and excessive literary work, in addition to my other ministerial duties, were undermining my health. I detected that I was unable to understand things as clearly as I usually did; that after but little thought and study I suffered from a dull pain in the head and great weariness, and all thought and study became a trouble to me. I lost appetite, did not relish ordinary food, after eating suffering acute pains in the chest and back. There was soreness of the stomach, and the most of my food seemed to turn to sour water, with most sickly and suffocating feeling in vomiting up such sour water.



REV. C. J. FREEMAN, B.A., PH. D.

At this time I consulted several physicians. One said I was run down, another said I had chronic indigestion; but this I do know, that with all the prescriptions which they gave me I was not improving; for in addition I had pains in the region of the kidneys, a very sluggish liver, so much so that I was very much like a yellow man, was depressed in spirits, imagined all sorts of things and was daily becoming worse and felt that I should soon become a confirmed invalid if I did not soon understand my complaints. I followed the advice of physicians most severely, but with all I was completely unable to do my ministerial duty, and all that I could possibly do was to rest and try to be thankful. After eighteen months' treatment I found that I was the victim of severe palpitation of the heart, and was almost afraid to walk across my room. Amid all this I was advised to take absolute rest from all mental work. In fact, I was already unable to take my duty for the reason that the feeling of complete prostration after the least exertion, precluded me from any duty whatever, and it appeared to my mind that I was very near being a perfect wreck. As for taking absolute rest, I could not take more than I did unless it was so absolute as to rest in the grave. Then it would have been absolute enough.

"It is now quite three years sicnce, in addition to all the penalties which I endured, I found creeping upon me a peculiar numbness of the left limbs, and in fact could not walk about. If I tried to walk I had to drag the left foot along the ground. The power of locomotion seemed to be gone, and I was consoled with the information that it was partial paralysis. Whether it was or not I do not know, but this I do know, I could not walk about and I began to think my second childhood had commenced at the age of 41 years.

"Just about two years ago or a little more, a ministerial friend came to see me. I was sick in bed and could hardly move, and he was something like old Job's comforter, although not quite. He had much regret and commiseration which was a very poor balm for a sick man. But the best thing he did say was this: "Did you ever see Pink Pills?" I said, "Who in the world is he?" He said, "Why do you not try Pink Pills?" He said good bye very affectionately, so much so that doubtless he thought it was the last farewell. Nevertheless, after thinking a little, I just came to the conclusion that I would make an innovation and see what Pink Pills would do. I looked at them, and I said can any good possibly come out of those little pink things? Anyway, I would see. I was suspicious of Pink Pills, and I remembered the old proverb: "Sospetto licentia fede," "suspicion is the passport to faith." So Pink Pills I obtained, and Pink Pills I swallowed. But one box of them did not cure me, nor did I feel any difference. But after I had taken nine or ten boxes of pills I was decidedly better. Yes, I was certainly improving, and after eight months of Pink Pills I could get about. The numbness of the left limb was nearly gone, the pains in the head had entirely ceased, the appetite was better. I could enjoy food and I had a free, quiet action of the heart without palpitation. In fact, in twelve months I was a new creature, and to-day I can stand and speak over two hours without a rest. I can perform all my public duties which devolve upon me, without fatigue, and do all the walking which I have to do, and am thankful for it. I can safely say I was never in a better state of health than I am to-day, and that I attribute it to the patient, persevering use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

"I fully, cordially and strongly commend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills to all or any who suffer in a similar way, and feel sure that any one who adopts Pink Pills with perseverence and patience cannot find their expectations unrealized or their reasonable hopes blasted. But he will find that blessing which is the reward of a full trust in a true and reliable remedy. I shall always wish and desire the greatest success for Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and always cherish a deep feeling of gratitude to the friend who first said to me buy Pink Pills. I have tried them and know their true value, and am truly glad I did, for I have found them from a good experience, to do more than is actually claimed for them."

Very faithfully yours.

C. J. FREEMAN, B.A., Ph.D.
Late rector of St. Mark's Montana.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain, in a condensed form, all the elements necessary to give a new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are an unfailing specific for such diseases as locomotor ataxia, partial paralysis, St. Vitus dance, sciatica, neuralgia, rheumatism, nervousness, headache, the after effect of la grippe, palpitation of the heart, pale and sallow complexions, all forms of weakness either in male or female. Pink Pills are sold by all dealers, or will be sent post paid on receipt of price, (50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50—they are never sold in bulk or by the 100) by addressing Dr. William's Medicine Company, Brockville, Ont., or Schenectady, N.Y.

LATE CABLE NEWS.

The Eastern Situation a Little More Hopeful—China Seeking Another Loan.

London, Nov. 23.—The Daily News prints a despatch from Vienna saying that advices that have been received there from St. Petersburg show that China is negotiating with Germany with the object of raising a new loan. It is stated that Germany agreed to the Chinese proposals on condition that Great Britain undertake the loan jointly with Germany, and that Russia be made cognizant of the matter. Russia has been informed that the negotiations are already somewhat advanced.

The Porte Denies the Report

Constantinople, Nov. 22.—The Porte denies that the Arabs of the Yemen district in Arabia, headed by the Imaum of Sana, are in revolt, and that the Turkish forces are invested in the town of Sana, as was reported a few days ago.

AS TO TURKISH AFFAIRS.

Twenty Villages Burned and Their Inhabitants Massacred.

Paris, Nov. 22.—A despatch to The Matin from Constantinople says 20 villages northwest of Aleppo have been burned and their inhabitants massacred.

The massacres at Marash, the despatch says, took place in the presence of the Turkish Governor-General, who did not interfere to stop them. Upwards of 300 persons were killed. The Kurds, according to the despatch, are gathering upon the Euphrates, and preparing to march into Syria for the purpose of massacring Christians.

Things Looking Better.

New York, Nov. 22.—A special from Vienna says: The conference which took place yesterday between Sir Philip Currie, England's Ambassador to Turkey, and Count Goluchowski, Austrian Minister of Foreign affairs, and General Nigra, Italian Ambassador at the Austrian Court, has tended greatly to increase the optimistic feeling here.

The alarming reports published by The Kreuz Zeitung on the subject of a Russian intrigue to detach Germany from the Triple Alliance met with no credence.

A feeling of sympathy with the Sultan is again beginning to show itself, and the crisis, outwardly at least, is becoming less acute.

Foreigners in Great Danger.

London, Nov. 22.—A correspondent in Constantinople telegraphs under the date of Nov. 21 that telegraphic advices from Marash report the foreigners there as being in great danger from attack by the Kurdish raiders.

A letter received in Constantinople from Erzeroum, under the date of Nov. 5, supplies abundant proof that the massacres there were begun and ended by Turkish soldiers acting under orders, rather than by the populace, who followed the lead of the soldiers throughout. The soldiers and their civilian allies plundered 1000 dwellings and 2000 shops and killed 1000 men, women and children. The Government, the letter says, is now endeavoring to restore to the people such of their property as may be available and to distribute some bread among the starving inhabitants, doubtless under instructions from Constantinople.

A telegram received in Constantinople yesterday says that bands of marauding Circassians are plundering the villages of Missis and Plaz, near the city of Adana, in Asia Minor, and also says that outbreaks have occurred in two villages near Angora.

The correspondent adds that it is reported in Constantinople that 10 Albanian guards were executed in the Yildiz Palace Wednesday evening. The Government has officially issued a threat to severely punish any persons found guilty of marking houses occupied by Armenians in Constantinople.

One hundred and fifty members of the Young Turks party who have been active in fomenting disturbances were expelled from Constantinople on Wednesday.

The Government has issued an order prohibiting the English newspapers of the date of Nov. 19, German papers of Nov. 18 and American papers of Nov. 18 and 19 from entering the country.

Lord Salisbury to the Sultan.

London, Nov. 22.—The Daily News reports that Lord Salisbury has urged the Sultan to promise protection to the revolting Armenians at Zeitoun if they will surrender. Unless terms are made they are certain to be ruthlessly massacred.

It is in the Nature of Things.

That, as age advances with its concomitants of wear and tear, some parts of the delicate machinery of the body, upon which health and vigor depend, should suffer derangement. Feelings of weariness, listlessness, or despondency are the signals that Nature throws out to warn, and woe to him who neglects these warnings, for severe are the penalties she exacts. To quicken into new vigor the failing energies; to impart; with certainty, tone to the nervous system, to renew its one time force; these are the special tendencies of the wontrous tonic and nutrient, Maltine with Coca Wine. It gives strength to the nervous system and is thus a "nerve restorer;" it increases nutrition, and is, therefore a "body-builder." Maltine with Coca Wine, by its power to add to nerve force and to increase weight, will be found by debilitated and weak a veritable "life-giver," Maltine with Coca Wine is not a patent medicine Its composition may be known to you, as it has long been known and subscribed to by the medical profession. Maltine with Coca Wine gives strength, vigor and health. Sold by all druggists.

Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria.

A Stern Recall Order.

London, Nov. 22.—The Times will tomorrow print a despatch from Sebastopol saying that the Russian Black Sea fleet which went out of commission about 10 days' ago, has been recommissioned. The commander of the troops at Odessa has been warned to have his force ready for active work.

Keeping the Sealing Agreement.

London, Nov. 22.—The Gazette announces an order of the Privy Council which enacts that after Nov. 21, until the council shall otherwise direct, the catching of seals by British ships shall be prohibited within a zone of ten marine miles of the Russian coasts on the Behring Sea, and within a zone of 30 miles around the Kormandorsky and Rebben Islands, this action being taken in accordance with an agreement with Russia.

Lost Two Cattle and Forty Sheep.

Liverpool, Nov. 22.—The Dominion Line steamship Angloman, which sailed from Montreal Nov. 8, via Quebec, Nov. 10, with a shipment of 707 head of cattle and 3137 sheep, arrived here yesterday, reports a loss of two cattle and 40 sheep.

Want to Release Oscar Wilde.

Paris, Nov. 22.—The Gaulois asserts that a movement is on foot to obtain the signatures of Emile Zola, Alphonse Daudet, M. De Goncourt, Francois Coppee, M. Heredia, the Countess De Mirabeau and other distinguished litersteurs to an international petition for the release of Oscar Wilde from prison.

Returned Rich With Ivory.

Berlin, Nov. 22.—A despatch to The Tageblatt from Zanzibar says that the caravan which was under the direction of the British trader Stokes, who was hanged in the Congo country by the Belgian Captain Lothaire for selling arms and ammunition to natives, has arrived at the coast of German East Africa, with £4000 worth of ivory.

Germany Puts in a Claim.

Berlin, Nov. 22.—The German Government has demanded of the Congo State indemnity for the carriers attached to the caravan of the British trader Stokes, who was executed by the Belgian Captain Lothaire, on the ground that they were hired by Stokes in territory within the German protectorate.

Lothaire to be Court-Martialed.

Brussels, Nov. 22.—It is announced that the authorities of the Congo State have decided to court-martial Captain Lothaire for hanging the British trader Stokes, his summary action being held to have been unjustified.

THE ONLY HELP

A Victim of Bright's Disease for Many Years—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

NEEPAWA, (Special) Nov. 11.—Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly of Listowel, came here as a last resort. Had suffered ten years with Bright's disease. Reported to be past help and dying, her reappearance on the street in apparent good health, was a pleasant surprise. The explanation given was that her little boy had insisted that she should use Dodd's Kidney Pills and prophesied that they would cure her. She says: "From the first few doses I began to feel better, and after taking four and a half boxes, I say it with heart felt gratitude, I am perfectly cured." Dodd's Kidney Pills is the only medicine in the world that has ever cured a case of Bright's Disease at such a stage.

Loose clothes and downy cushions bring only a negative sort of comfort to the woman who is suffering with some disease or derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. Some clothes and some positions make the pain and discomfort seem less. Nothing will ever completely relieve but a radical cure. The effects of such disorders are not limited to mere local discomforts but extend over the whole body. Perhaps the nerves are most affected, and this in turn disturbs the digestion. After that there is no telling what form the trouble may take. With irritable nerves and poor digestion, a woman is on the straight road to the grave. Women are notoriously negligent in matters pertaining to their health. Too many of them understand too little about their own physical make-up. They do not understand their possibilities or their limitations, and they do not know enough about themselves to know when a symptom is really serious and when it is not. This naturally makes them overlook the plainest of danger signals. The start of everything is simple. The start of so-called "female complaints", may be a very slight thing indeed. It may be that in the beginning some small hygienic measures would stop the trouble. Certainly at this time, a little bit of the right medicine would stop it. When the trouble becomes worse, it is harder to cure, but still it can be cured. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will positively cure any trouble of this character. It may be absolutely relied upon. It affords immediate and lasting relief to a woman whose natural modesty has kept her from consulting physicians.

The whole story of the "Favorite Prescription," and what it has done for thousands of women is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. This is a 1008 page book, profusely illustrated, written in plain language for the use of every-day people, and gives in a clear and lucid way an immense amount of valuable information about health and medicine. It will be sent free on receipt of 31 one-cent stamps to cover customs and mailing only.

EDUCATIONAL WORK

In Connection With the Methodist Church—What is Required to Promote it.

The Methodist church has always been a true friend of the educational interests of the country and has given a loyal support to the cause of higher education. The name of Rev. Egerton Ryerson, D.D., a distinguished minister of the church, is inseparably associated with the founding of the public school system of the province, a system second to none in the world.

Victoria College, founded in 1836, has always been considered amongst the best of the Canadian Universities. Her graduates are numerous and many of them hold high positions to-day. A careful examination made at the time of federation revealed the fact that a majority of those engaged in High School teaching in this province had for their Alma Mater Victoria College. There are to-day, under the control of the church, eleven institutions for higher education with an enrollment of students last year of 1927. To assist in maintaining these institutions, and to enable young men to prepare for the work of the ministry, an appeal is made every year. Last year the response was $22,000. Two-thirds of this goes direct to the college, and the remaining third is applied by way of loans to theological students, repayable in ten years without interest. To-morrow the claims of this society will be presented in the Charlotte street Methodist church by Rev. Dr. Reynar of Victoria College, and in George street church by Rev. Dr. Briggs, the popular Book Steward, of Toronto. Large congregations will doubtless greet these distinguished speakers.

A Welcome Thanksgiving Letter.

A few months ago a report, originating in Toronto, was printed in local papers to the effect that Mr. Wm. McCullough, son of Mr. James McCullough, town, had been killed in a railway accident while he was on his way from St. Louis, in the United States. Thursday the family of Mr. McCullough received a most welcome letter from their son, whose death was reported. The letter stated that he was at present in Kansas City, where, strange to say, he met his brother James, whom he had not seen for years. The two are now working in Kansas City, and they will visit Peterborough in the spring.

Didn't know What was the Matter.

But you felt weak and spiritless till you took a bottle or two of Wilson's famous Invalid's Port. And that made a wonderful difference. You felt brighter. You could eat your food with relish. You began to get strong. You felt bright, elastic, hopeful, for it is two things. It is a fine, old generous wine, with a glow at the heart with an exquisite bouquet, with a pleasant, stimulus in the use, while it is at the same the best tonic on the market, sharpening the appetite, removing that "all gone" feeling which is insupportable. Sold by all dealers at $7.50 per case of 12 quart bottles, half case $4.00 or 75 cts. per bottle. Thousands use it to their advantage. The Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital street, Montreal.

What an Emily Man Says About Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure.

A highly respected and well known citizen of the township of Emily has furnished the following testimonial to Mr. Jas. Lynch, druggist: I am a young man and have been a slave to tobacco since I was a boy. Although I have often tried to stop it I never could succeed until I used Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. Mr. Jas. Lynch, the druggist, recommended me to try this tobacco cure, and after some persuasion I bought a box. I continued using it for a short time and soon found the appetite for tobacco was leaving me. My nerves became stronger, my eyesight brighter and my desire for food improved. Now, I have lost all craving for the filthy weed; and I hereby certify that after using one package of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure, I have gained six pounds in weight, and I can heartily recommend it to any who are run down in weight from using tobacco. Some men object to lending their name to a testimonial of this kind, but I consider it my duty to do so if it will help any of my friends or fellow sufferers. G. DARR, Emily, Franklin P.O., Ont.

REV. H. SYMONDS ON CHEAP LITERATURE.

A REMARKABLY INSTRUCTIVE ADDRESS ON PRESENT DAY REALITIES.

The Closing Session of the Town Teachers' Convention is Eminently Successful—A Pleasing Musical Programme.

The closing session of the Town Teachers' convention was held on evening in the Y.M.C.A. hall, with Mr. Coyle Brown, P.S.I., in the chair.

Unfortunately every urchin who turned up at the door accorded admission, and by eight o'clock when the general public began to arrive seats were all occupied by the children and in consequence many of their elders had to stand or return to their homes. Outside of this mismanagement the evening's entertainment proved most pleasing indeed.

Rev. H. Symonds' address on "Cheap Literature" was most instructive and demanded the closest attention from all present. The adjective "cheap," he stated, from its ordinary association with things of inferior quality was one which to some extent against the the things qualified. Nevertheless, said he, there is no reason why the same article should not be both cheap and good. Indeed an article is not of necessity cheap when the price is low, for if it be not worth the money it costs no article is cheap, however low the actual price may be. Suppose, for example, some one of our lady friends purchases two pieces of dress goods, for one of which she gave two dollars a yard, and for the other one dollar. At first she may be disposed to regard the latter piece as the cheaper, but if she found out that the two dollar yard piece wore two years and the one dollar piece only six months, she would then see that the higher priced was the cheaper goods. Therefore, although, as I shall explain further, I do not mean by cheap literature that which costs little money, I do not want you to suppose that it must therefore be of poor quality. By cheap literature we understand publications sold at such a low figure that only the necessity of a very large sale would allow of their publication. Many editions of the Bible are sold at such a price as would justify our including them under the heading of cheap literature.

AROUSED OUR PREJUDICES

There is no more striking feature of our century than of cheap good literature. There is scarcely a single great work of ancient or modern times than cannot to-day be purchased for 25c., always in a neat and substantial binding, usually printed on good paper, and often in good print. If one included books up to fifty cents, I suppose one could collect a really good library of books costing no more. The series known as Morley's Universal Library includes such works as Chapman's Translation of Homer's Iliad, Virgil's Æneid, Dante's Inferno, Emerson's Essays, Don Quixote, and miscellaneous works by Moliere, Goethe, Bacon, Sterne, Goldsmith and many others, which in an English bookstore can be purchased for 10d.

I suppose, continued he, that 30 or 40 years ago this class of literature had no existence. A few cheap serials there were, but they were not largely circulated, as we judge of circulation, and I am sure that this phenomenon will amply repay a few moment's consideration. How are we to account for it that where there was one book twenty years ago there are now a hundred? What is the character of this literature?

IS IT ALL GOOD?

Is it all bad? Is it mingled good and bad? Who are the readers of these books? What are the results of their perusal? What are the duties of parents and school masters and clergymen in regard to the direction of our children's reading? Such are some of the questions that must engage our attention this evening, and though they may not be the most amusing or entertaining questions, I know of none more important.

The answer to the question "Why has this enormous trade in cheap literature sprung up?" is not far to seek. It is undoubtedly owing to the great extension of education, leading to a corresponding demand for materials to satisfy the wants thereby excited. Our children, speaking generally, can all read, and read well. Their intellects have been trained and call for food, and books are the very bread of intellectual life.

No one will question the fact that there is some reading that is good and some that is bad. Good reading is that which is calculated to improve man in any way. It may supply him with spiritual substance, it may whet his intellect, it may excite his best emotions, it may stimulate his will and it may do all these in a great variety of ways.

Now our children can all read and owing to the high average in this country almost every child has the opportunity of acquiring books good or bad. Does it not then behoove us to be careful so to watch over them, so to guide and direct their choice and if need be to exercise such direction that a taste for the good may be cultivated and the power to discriminate between the good and the bad acquired.

There is no doubt that the amount of worthless and injurious reading sold in Canada, principally in the large cities, is simply enormous, and a large proportion of this is intended for children. Tales of life in the wild and wooly west, wherein the chief virtue of the hero consists in the performance of impossibilities, feats of shooting or of horsemanship, where the heroine is more of a man than a woman, and wherein the last thing that is presented is a picture of life as it really is. Such sensational trash as this is to the mind what alchohol is to the brain. It cultivates a love of the absurd romantic, a taste for the impossible, it engenders a craving for excitement, it fosters a discontent with one's ordinary lot. The same remarks apply to the detective stories which in such amazing quantities are sold amongst us. Or to take another class of books read by those of maturer age, and often of the gentler sex—I refer to those of the most wildly improbable character, wherein elopements and abductions are the ordinary events, and the humdrum wedding at home in the Church the exception.

I desire now to pass to the consideration of a higher class of literature, viz., the Novel.

There are those who condemn all novel reading. There are others who see no harm in it at all. Here let us beware of extremes. That must be a most bigotted person who would condemn the reading of such masterpieces of romance as the tales of Sir Walter Scott, or the splendid delineation of character found in the pages of Dickens, or even the bitter satire with which Thackery scourged the vices and weaknesses, the follies and meanness of that world of society which he called Vanity Fair. What can we say against George Eliot or Anthony Trollope, a great favourite with the English clergy, who said he never wrote a line they would mind their daughters reading, or Lever with his rollicking Irish stories, where jest is followed by tears and tears by jest, as is the way in the Emerald Isle.

How much has been achieved by novels. How few of us clergy can accomplish as much for our fellowmen as Dickens. All England knew of the miseries of the poorhouse through the personnel of Oliver Twist. All England knew of Dotheboys Hall. All England knew of the hope and life destroying delays and quibbles and subterfuges of the Court of Chancery.

AND REVOLTED AGAINST

Dickens is not alone in unveiling abuses. Charles Reade stimulated prison reform by that wonderful story, "It is Never Too Late to Mend," and prompted inquiry into the evils of private asylums by writing "Hard Cash."

Therefore, I say, read some novels, but read the best. Tastes may differ, but surely we can all find much to animate or to interest, as well as instruct, from amongst the works of Scott, Dickens, Thackeray, Lytton, George Eliot, Trollope, Lever, Read, Robinson, Riddell, Doyle, Weyman, Stevenson, Marion Crawford, Balderwood, Hawthorne, Cable, James, Miss Yonge and many others.

Permit me, however, said he, in conclusion, one word of warning. Do not read too many novels, even of the best. Above all do not confine your reading to novels. There is a vast world of the noblest literature into which comparatively few ever enter, and yet it is no longer because this higher

WORLD IS EXCLUSIVE.

It demands for its entrance neither wealth nor high birth, only average abilities and a little perseverance. Remember that here, as elsewhere, what is best worth having demands effort for its attainment. You can pick up stones by the wayside, but you must dig for gold and jewels. There is no royal road to knowledge, but the prize is solid and lasting. "Get wisdom," said the wise man, "get understanding, forget it not, neither decline from the words of my mouth. Forsake her not and she shall preserve thee; love her and she shall keep thee."

Wisdom is the principal thing.
Therefore get wisdom.
And with all thy getting get understanding.
Take fast hold of instruction.
Let her not go, keep her for she is thy life.—Prov. iv, 5th verse.

A vote of thanks for his most instructive address, was passed to Mr. Symonds on motion of Messrs. Wherry and Smith.

Master Holden Blackwell's recitation entitled "Man the Lifeboat," was well received and admirably given. Miss Vina Belleghem's vocal solo, "Tell Her I Love Her So," was deserving of the warm applause with which it was greeted. The Y.M.C.A. Quartette sang "Nearer my God to Thee," in a most praiseworthy manner indicative of the excellency to which their voices have been brought by assidious practice. Little Aggie Patterson's recitation was greatly enjoyed, especially by the younger members of the audience, and though she excels in the humourous, her selection last evening entitled the "Railroad Wreck," was exceptionally well given. The entertainment was closed by an instrumental duet, "The Irrestible Galop," by Misses Ethel Wrighton and Edith Hall. The selection was executed with marked ability and the technique and touch of the performers was such as to call forth most enthusiastic applause, and a call for an encore of the brilliantly executed number.

"77"

FOR COLDS

The Master Remedy.

Master is an old-fashioned word, not much relished or used in these days of freedom, but it is the only term that fully distinguishes "77" for Colds, from the mass of cough mixtures which are charged to the danger point with Squills or Tartar emetic, to sicken the stomach; or Landanum to produce drowsiness, and possibly lead to the Opium habit.

Avoid these dangers by using "77." It is entirely harmless, and cures, not by drugging, but by acting directly through the capillaries and nerve centres. The pellets are hardly dissolved upon the tongue before the cure commences.

"77" for GRIP,

Colds, Influenza, Catarrh, Pains in the Head and Chest, Cough, Sore Throat, General Prostration and Fever, and prevents Pneumonia.

"77" will "break up" a stubborn cold that "hangs on."

Dr. Humphries puts up a Specific for every disease. They are described in his Manual, which is sent free.

DAILY MOTTO.

"Let us wipe our tears, lift up our heads, and gird ourselves for brave and cheerful toil. In due time the release will come; rest so sweet after the toil is over; glory so bright after the darkness is past, victory so grand that we shall not wish the conflicts to have been less fierce, or the perils of the way less numerous or painful."

"Who is the angel that cometh? Pain!
Let us arise and go forth to greet him,
Not in vain,
Is the summons come for us to meet him.

Let us say still, while his bitter chalice
Slowly into our heart is poured,
Blessed is He that cometh
In the name of the Lord."

The Charge Dismissed.

Mr. Charles Calder preferred a charge of larceny against Mr. Alex. Ferguson, yesterday, before the County Magistrate. Both the parties to the case were from Dummer, residing near Warsaw, and the story was as follows: A son of Calder's and a young fellow named Gallagher drew a large quantity of wood out of the lake, each furnishing a horse for the purpose, and left it to dry on the banks. Young Calder took his share away and Gallagher sold the remainder to Ferguson. When Ferguson went after the wood he was warned against taking it by the elder Calder, but drew it away, when the latter brought suit against him. The charge of larceny was dismissed, but Mr. Ferguson was fined a dollar, without costs, for trespassing.

A Fine Fur Fantasia.

The three F's are distinctive of the fur business of Fairweather & Co., and in the matter of display all previous "F"-forts are cast in the shade by the beautiful display of Grey Lamb Furs in the south window of their store, corner of George and Simcoe streets. The dressing of the window is of the most artistic conception and execution, serving to show in a beautiful manner an immense variety of fine garments in gray lamb—coats, capes, gauntlets, collarettes, etc., etc. The beauty, richness and elegance of the exhibit, emphasised by fine arrangement, is only an index to the unprecedented stock to be found inside. This window is abundantly worth seeing, and seeing will mean admiring.

Children's Aid Society Concert.

At the concert on Dec. 13th, Le Simple will play several new pieces, amongst them a composition of his own, "Village Scenes," which had great success in Germany. This piece is also arranged for orchestra and will soon be played by the Ottawa Orchestral Society, under Mr. Jenkins' conductorship. Tranckomme's celebrated Romance, and last but not least "Popper's "Spinning Wheel," with which Le Simple simply entranced his Ottawa audience. Mr. Jarvis and Mr. Dunn will shortly send in their numbers. This concert, apart from the object, will amply repay attendance. Mr. Jarvis is considered by many the finest tenor in the world. He and Mr. Dunn willl probably be heard in dust. Mr. Jarvis will give his famous rendering of "Scots wha hae" and will also be heard in oratorio.

To morrow is Educational Sunday in the Charlotte street Methodist church and special sermons will be preached morning and evening, by Rev. Dr. Reynar, of Victoria University.

The demand for Ayer's Hair Vigor in such widely-separated regions of South America, Spain, Australia, and India has kept pace with the home consumption, which goes to show that these people know a good thing when they try it.

—The Board of Management of the Children's Aid Society having accepted the kind offer of the rector and wardens of St. John's church, to devote the service and collection to-morrow evening, to the society and the Board, would remind the members of the society, that their attendance is specially requested.

STAGE DRIVER NEARLY KILLED.

Knocked Senseless With a Sling Shot and Now In a Critical State.

Hamilton, Nov. 22.—Daniel Jacobs, who drives the Ancaster stage, which carries the mail from the city to that village, was held up by two robbers last night, shortly before 6 o'clock, when about a mile and a half this side of Ancaster. As he was driving along two men jumped on the side of his rig and asked for a ride to the village. Jacobs, remarking that his horses were tired, told them that if they walked to the top of the mountain he would give them a ride, whereat one of the men drew a slung shot and struck the driver on the head, knocking him senseless and cutting his head badly. Jacobs remained unconscious for some time, and the horses proceeded homeward, till stopped by his daughters on the road, who were horrified to find their father lying in an unconscious condition at the back of the wagon. Dr. Brandon attended to his wounds, and when Jacobs recovered consciousness he told what had happened. They took some papers out of his pocket, but couldn't find the mail bag, which was concealed in the buffalo robe, and didn't get any valuables. One of the assailants was tall and the other short. Jacobs was delirious all last night, and there is a possibility of complications setting in which may result fatally.

'Xmas... Numbers

The Special Christmas Numbers of the Illustrated Papers are growing more and more popular as Holiday season succeeds season, and this year sales are to be larger than ever.

The Graphic
Has a new story by Kipling and another by Zangwill. In two chief supplements are respectively reproductions of Mary L. Gow's picture of Queen Victoria receiving the news of her accession, and of Sir Joshua Reynolds' famous painting of "The Duchess of Devonshire and Child." Price 50c.

Pears' Pictorial
Will include Dickens' famous story "The Haunted Man and the Ghost's Bargain," copiously illustrated. Three large coloured prints accompany the number. Price 50c.

The Art Annual
Is the Christmas number of the Art Journal, and has some first-class illustrations and pictures, with the life of Lake Fildes, R. A. Price 50s.

Black and White.
The chief attraction of the Christmas Black and White will be seven complete stories by Anthony Hope, Robert Barr and others. "Lux in Tenebris," a double-page engraving, and "Comrades," from Robert Globe painting, are superb supplements. Price 50c

The Chatterbox
The Children's Christmas number, will contain a number of large pictures and some choice stories for the little ones. Price 50c.

Holly Leaves
The Christmas number of The Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News, will consist of 48 pages of bright literature, and a fine coloured picture of Nelson bound for Trafalgar Bay. Price 50c.

The Young Ladies Journal
Will have a lot of original and seasonable literature, and some high-class supplements. Price 50c.

Figaro Illustre
Will have a story by Alphonse Daudet, and another by "Gyp," and besides two large double-page supplement plates. The number is embellished with a coloured cover, and retails this year at $1, that is to say 50c cheaper than formerly.

The Ladies' Pictorial
Containing among other good things a story by Marie Corelli, and a beautiful coloured reproduction of Sichel's painting "Day Dreams" at 1s.

Other Christmas Numbers
Are Chicago Horseman, New York Dramatic News, Frank Leslie's, Father Christmas, Gentlewoman, Harper's Weekly, Illustrated London News, In Town, Judge, Life, Modern, Art and Literature, N. Y. Dramatic Mirror, Punch, Puck, Queen, Sketch, London Truth, N. Y. Truth, London World and Yule Tide.

Could not get Insured.

Rejected by Straight Line and Mutual Companies.

But now insured in both.

"Should I die while I am in a position to pay my insurance premiums, my family will owe their support to Scott's Sarsaparilla. Two years ago I applied to two companies for insurance, $1000 in each. My face was a mass of pimply blotches and my urine did not stand the test. One doctor in examining me said I could not pass, but that my trouble was curable. He advised an alterative medicine, and I commenced taking Scott's Sarsaparilla. Both companies rejected me, but four months later, after I had taken five bottles of your remedy I am thankful to say both accepted me as a risk—one being a stock company, the other a mutual. The examiner who previously examined me, remarked "I never saw such a change in any man." This is indorsed by Mr. J. Todd, the popular druggist, corner Queen and Crawford Streets, Toronto.

Scott's Sarsaparilla builds up debilitated constitutions, imparts strength, vigor and vitality, clears and purifies the blood. It cures skin diseases, rheumatism, gout, indigestion and all complaints arising from poor or poisoned blood. Of all druggists, $1 per bottle.

Sold by J. B. Tully, Peterborough.

WM. G. WADE'S CASE.

Remarkable Recovery From Bright's Disease.

The Son of An East End Butcher Ailing Three Years, Given up as Incurable —Takes Dodd's Kidney Pills and Gets Well.

First of all, one word as to our attitude towards the publication of testimonials. It is not hostile; all we ask and require is that the story shall be true. We reserve the privilege in every case to first investigate, and if we prefer, to publish the account as obtained by our own reporters and correspondents.

With this explanation we give the particulars of an interview at the butcher stall of Mr. H. Wade, 940 Queen street east, this city.

Calling early this morning our reporter asked for the subject of the cure, Mr. Wm. G. Wade.

"Oh! yes, sir; that is my son," said a solid-looking man with a business turn; "he will be here presently."

"I called to see your son, then," said our man, "who has been reported as cured from an extended illness by using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

"Well, sir, as I said before, my son will be here himself, shortly," replied Mr. Wade.

"I suppose, though, to save time, and as you must know the facts, we may talk till he comes?"

"Yes, sir, certainly."

"Well, then, you will kindly tell me the ailment, how long it continued, and the particulars of the cure?" asked our representatives.

"Yes. It started from a cold after our boy, who was then fifteen, had had diphtheria. He had inflammation of the kidneys, was in his bed for many weeks; was an invalid for three years, sometimes in bed, part of the time moping about and unable to do anything. We had two doctors and a specialist in consultation with them. They made the usual tests and named his trouble Bright's Disease of the Kidneys, finally saying that the case was incurable. But here comes the boy himself," said Mr. Wade.

Looking around I saw a strapping young fellow with a quarter of beef on his shoulder, which he deftly hung on a hook, with a short puff, against the refrigerator.

"Billy," said his father, "here is a gentleman wanting to see you about your illness and cure."

"Good morning, sir," said the big boy. "Yes," I was a very long time ill, though I never thought I should die. I was very bad at times, and never could pick up until I commenced taking Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have taken thirty-six boxes, and am as well and strong as any of the lads hereabout. Oh, yes, the doctors said it was Bright's Disease of the Kidneys. At times I passed blood and suffered a great deal." And the boy stalked out to his waggon for another quarter of beef.

HARRISTON MAN HURT.

Had His Arm Broken and is Now in Winnipeg Hospital—Crooks Arrested

Winnipeg, Man., Nov. 23.—Frank Lepington, one of the Ontario farmers' excursionists working at Treherne had his arm injured and was brought to the hospital here. The injured limb may have to be amputated. Lepington came from Harriston, Ont.

James Gislason was sent up for trial to-day on a charge of passing counterfeit coin. Thomas Fay and W. Ware were also arrested. George Anderson, the supposed leader of the gang, escaped across the boundary.

DEAD ON THE ROADSIDE.

A Young Man Who Met Death From Exposure Near Ottawa.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—The body of a young man was found on the Merivale road, about two miles from the city, yesterday morning. It remained unidentified until evening, when it was found to be that of Joseph Lalond, who had lain down on the roadside the previous evening while on his way home from a day's hunting and died from exposure. A mask was found beside him: that was shown at the inquest to be one he had used in a little dramatic performance. Its discovery gave rise to the story that the body was that of a highwayman.

About two weeks ago, the Rev. Mr. Surf, of Blue Springs, Nebraska, lost his hair, after fever, and became nearly bald. He finally resolved to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and now has as fine a head of hair as could be desired. This is certainly a fact worth remembering.

FAST ATLANTIC LINE

The Allans Will Tender for the Service if Requested

SPEED AND COAL CONSUMPTION.

Some Interesting Information Gathered from the Records of the Best Ocean Greyhounds—Insanity Plea Succeeds for a Time in Gauthier's Case.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—No question has ever interested Montreal to a greater degree than that of the fast Atlantic service. Of course the representatives of the old Canadian lines do not speak with a great deal of enthusiasm on the matter, yet the information given today by the Messrs. Allan will be of interest to the public.

In the first place, the Messrs. Allan will tender for the new service if they are so requested, as they do not think that the proposed service can be performed by ships taken from the other great lines.

Running now in the trans-Atlantic service there are, acording to Lloyds, just exactly eight steamships which are capable and do make better than twenty knots an hour. These are the Majestic and Teutonic of the White Star Line; Campania, Lucania, Umbria and Etruria of the Cunard Line; New York and Paris of the American line.

The St. Paul and St. Louis, Lloyds also class as twenty knots or better, which, at the outside, makes a total of ten steamships capable of taking up the business.

It would take at least three ships at a cost, say, of $1,750,000 each, to establish the service required.

In regard to the possibility of bringing such ships to Montreal, some of the shipping men think it is not at all practicable. The nearest approach that could be made under the existing circumstances would be Quebec.

The smallest of the 20-knot steamships now in the service between New York and Liverpool is above 8000 tons These are the Etruria and the Umbria. The largest are the Lucania and the Campania of the Cunard, which run up to 1300 tons gross. This class of ship, in spite of their very large tonnage, carry very little or no freight. The difference in the coal consumption for each knot of speed brought out is shown readily by the difference in the consumption of coal of the Campania and of the Teutonic. While the former is one and one-half knots faster per hour than the latter, the coal consumption of the Campania is 520 tons per day against 350 tons for the Teutonic.

Azarie Gauthier, the murderer of Celina Consigny, will not be put on trial just now, but will be sent to the lunatic asylum of St. Jean de Dieu. The jury swore a few days ago to try this issue brought in a verdict late this afternoon to the effect that Gauthier was insane and unable to stand his trial. Judge Wurtele then ordered that the prisoner be kept confined in the common jail awaiting further orders from the Governor-in-council, which means that the murderer will be kept under close watch at the asylum during both night and day, and if the experts find that their man is simulating insanity, he will then be brought up and obliged to stand his trail. As a matter of fact, the doctors differed in Gauthier's case. Dr. Villeneuve stated that he believed the accused of sound mind, while medical gentlemen brought by the defence, had no doubt whatever as to Gauthier's insanity. The judge said that for his part, he had doubts as to the prisoner's mental state when his honor first saw him in the box, and he still had the same doubts after hearing all the witnesses.

Some of the Grand Trunk Railway people were surprised to receive a flying visit from Mr. C. M. Hayes, the coming general manager, who was here to consult with Mr. L. J. Seargeant with reference to Trunk Line Association business. Mr. Hayes would not discuss Grand Trunk matters until he takes possession on the first of the new year.

The Johnston Line steamship Nessmore, which went ashore on the west coast of Scotland yesterday, had a valuable cargo which was taken on at Montreal and Quebec, including peas, deals, apples, cheese, organs, etc., besides 520 head of cattle and one valuable horse. The cattle were shipped by Messrs. Gordon & Ironsides and were insured in the British & Foreign and Western offices. The horse on board, which was owned by Mr. Johnston, is a valuable animal, and was also insured. It is understood the boat is insured, and shippers are at a loss to understand how the vessel managed to get ashore on one of the western islands of Scotland, as the Johnston liners have hitherto entered Liverpool from the south of Ireland. Among the cheese shippers were P. W. McLagan, J. C. & G. S. Warrington and A. W. Grant.

WEST WELLINGTON VACANCY.

Mr. Tolton, Warden of the County, Nominated by the Conservatives

Drayton, Ont., Nov. 22.—At the adjourned Liberal-Conservative convention, held here to-day, to nominate a candidate for the bye-election to be held shortly for the Local House, Mr. Tolton of Clifford was given the unanimous nomination. Mr. Tolton was not in a position to accept the nomination, and was given a week to consider the matter. Mr. Tolton is reeve of Clifford and Warden of Wellington, and will make a strong candidate.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

THE SULTAN'S TROUBLES.

Appeal to the Pope for Intervention—Russia in Accord.

London, Nov. 19.—The latest advices received from Constantinople say that the Sultan continues to be greatly alarmed over the state of affairs in Asia Minor, which has unquestionably reached a point beyond his control. He spent the entire night of Nov. 16 by the side of the telegraph instrument in the Yildiz Palace, personally dictating to the operator despatches conveying instructions to the various provincial governors in Asia Minor, commanding them to spare no effort to restore order, and his anxiety to escape from the toils in which he has entwined himself has the last few days been displayed in many other ways.

Movements of Warships.

Constantinople, Nov. 19.—A British warship has been ordered to Alexandria, where the U.S. cruiser San Francisco is daily expected to arrive. A French warship has been ordered to proceed to Beyrout.

Shakir's Report

London, Nov. 21.—Shakir Pasha, the Turkish High Commissioner, appointed to enforce the reforms in Armenia, reports that the Hamadieh cavalry are entirely innocent of participation in the recent massacres in Asia Minor, with the exception of one troop, which, together with Hussein Pasha, the commander of the Hamadieh cavalry, will be court-martialled without delay.

The additional warships assigned by the Italian and Austrian Governments to do duty at Constantinople are expected to arrive here to-morrow, and the warships of the other powers will follow shortly. Each Government sends one vessel, increasing its naval strength in the Bosphorus to two vessels, instead of one.

A telegram from Marsovan announces that all the Americans there are safe.

Special Message to Turkey.

A special Foreign Office messenger started for Constantinople this morning by the way of Ostend and Vienna. It is believed that he is the bearer of Lord Salisbury's personal reply to the letter of the Sultan of Turkey.

DEAR SIR:—I have suffered from Eczema for two years; tried different kinds of medicine. I was at the hospital for some time, and was told there that all had been done for me that could be done. I ceased treatment at Christmas. After leaving the hospital I was under the care of a Hamilton physician, but got no relief. I have taken four bottles of Kootenay Cure, and I am now well and free from Eczema. Yours very truly,

AYER'S Sarsaparilla

A MEDICINE

WITHOUT AN EQUAL.

Statement of a Well Known Doctor

"Ayer's Sarsaparilla is without an equal as a blood-purifier and Spring medicine, and cannot have praise enough. I have watched its effects in chronic cases, where other treatment was of no avail, and have been astonished at the results. No other blood medicine that I have ever used, and I have tried them all, is so thorough in its action, and effects so many permanent cures as Ayer's Sarsaparilla."—Dr. H. F. MERRILL, Augusta, Me.

Ayer's The Only Sarsaparilla

Admitted at the World's Fair.

Ayer's Pills for liver and bowels.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—'Varsity defeated Montreal to-day in a hard fought game by 20 to 5. The match was a scrimmage game throughout, varied by good kicking and rushing by 'Varsity. Montreal backs played a good up-hill game, but their scrimmage did not seem to be in it from the start. 'Varsity won by their play in the first half. With a gale of wind blowing in their faces, they kept the ball down and Montreal's only score was a rouge from a free kick. In the second half Montreal played better and although 'Varsity scored freely the game was fairly close for the greater part of the time. The day was bitterly cold and several inches of snow had fallen. However, the ground was cleared and although rather slippery it afforded a pretty good foothold throughout the game. The teams were evenly matched as regards weight.

Montreal won the toss, and elected to kick with the wind. 'Varsity saw that they had little chance to score against the wind and wisely played a waiting game. Very rarely did Montreal see the ball in the first half. The Quebec men's scrimmage seemed unable to get the ball out and the few times that their quarter had a chance the 'Varsity wings got through and spoiled the half backs' work.

The first half was a long scrimmage varied by an occasional free kick for Montreal and a very occasional run by Hobbs, the 'Varsity quarter. Whenever 'Varsity got the ball the quarter would either run or pass to Kingston, who was close up and a plunge for five or ten yards was always the result. Montreal were unable to get the ball at all and 'Varsity's win was really due to their fine work in the first half. At last Montreal got a free kick and a punt over the line resulted in a rouge. Close, heavy scrimmage work followed and the half ended, 1—0, in favor of Montreal.

The second half was more interesting. Montreal, kicking off for a gain of 25 yards, played a strong scrimmage game and for a few minutes looked dangerous. A free kick given for picking out of scrimmage gave Counsell a good chance to relieve, and in a few minutes 'Varsity's goal was safe, and Montreal was driven to a defence game. From the loose scrimmage Caldwell went across the line, but lost the ball and a kick into touch in goal tied the score—1 to 1.

From the kick-out the ball was sharply returned and an exchange of punts followed, finally the ball was brought to earth near the Montreal goal line and from a scrimmage Kingston plunged across for a try. The kick was not allowed, score 5—1.

The kick-out was not productive of much ground and after a succession of hard scrimmages Kingston again went over for a try. Elliott converted by a very good place kick. Score 11—1.

Still 'Varsity pressed and after some close work behind the home team's 25-yard line, Caldwell made a long run, and passing to McDougall, 'Varsity's captain scored a try between the posts. The goal was easy and came off: Score 17—1.

Hard close scrimmage work followed the kick-off and a couple of frees to Montreal aided them to carry the ball to the 'Varsity 25 line. Armstrong, by a brilliant rush, carried it across. The kick failed and the score stood 17—5.

From this time to the finish the match was one long scrimmage with an occasional kick for 'Varsity. The Montreal half-backs played a magnificent defence game, but 'Varsity managed to punt across three times for rouges, and the match ended: 20—5.

The referee and umpire were fair and impartial.

'Varsity really won the game by their splendid defensive play in the first half. The scrimmage, wings, quarter and centre half played the best defence game ever seen on a Canadian field, and with a gale of wind and three good half-backs against them kept the score down to one point. The grandstand was crowded with people and the visitors came in for a very fair share of applause. The game, although rather rough, was a gentlemanly one, and Montreal took their defeat like sportsmen. In the evening the Toronto players were dined by Montreal and a very pleasant evening spent.

Varsity and Galt One Goal Each.

Galt, Nov. 21.—A friendly association game of football was played here this afternoon between 'Varsity and the Galts, resulting in a tie, one to one. The game was played on very slippery ground, and although fast, was not sure. Galt had considerably the best of the play, but their shooting, owing to the condition of the ground, was very poor, many good chances of scoring being lost. The cold was very much against the attendance, it being very chilly. The teams:

Galts (1)—Goal, Ducker; backs, Vardon and Brown; half backs, Short, Goldie and Spalding; forwards, Dickson, Hindmarsh, Steep and Aitkin.

'Varsity (1)—Goal, Crick; backs, McLeod and Munroe; half backs, Jackson, Gibson and McMondie; forwards, Sinclair, Morrison, Rutherford and Cooper.

Queen's Kicking the Round Leather.

Napanee, Nov. 21.—A game of association football was played this afternoon in the Driving Park between a team from Queen's College, Kingston, and the Napanee Scarlets. In the first half of the game nothing was made by either club. In the second half Queen's scored one and Napanee nothing.

Bubear Won Again.

Galveston, Nov. 21.—Bubear beat Hanlan by half a length in the third of their series of races here to-day. It was a hot race throughout, witnessed by a large crowd.

Turf Events.

Baltimore, Nov. 21.—Backers of favorites had a hard time of it at Pimlico this afternoon. The track was lumpy and hard. The condition of the going may have had something to do with the poor form shown by the first choices, but there were many persons unkind enough to attribute certain defeats to other causes than a hard track. MOTHER AND CHILDREN SUFFER

Within an Ace of Death's Door.

SORROW TURNED TO JOY.

South American Nervine Proved an Unfailing Helper.

Parents Who Tell How This Great Discovery Brought Help and Happiness to Their Homes.

In the home of James W. McRitchie, of Bothwell, Ont., is a little blue-eyed girl, called Maggie, who was afflicted with nervous fainting spells for a considerable period of time. These left her in terrible weakness. Various remedies and the skill of doctors were employed, but the child continued to fade away. Says the father: "Seeing South American Nervine advertised as particularly efficacious in nervous diseases, I decided on seeing if it would help my daughter. After only a few doses had been taken there were signs of improvement. I continued the use of the medicine, and with the result that the fainting spells have entirely disappeared and the child is to-day as healthy as any little one could be. My confidence in this medicine has been further strengthened, and I cheerfully proclaim its virtues, because it proved a sure cure in the case of indigestion and nervous prostration with which my wife was afflicted.

If proof still closer to home is needed of what nervine will do for the afflicted one needs only to visit Mrs. M. A. Joy, of Toronto Junction, who will cheerfully tell how this medicine cured her little daughter Annie, aged 15 years, of severe nervous trouble. The child was close to death's door and the mother was thoroughly discouraged. South American Nervine proved the key to perfect health and happiness, and her girl does not know to-day what nervous sickness means. "Three bottles," says the mother, "brought her back to her health and strength and vigor."

Thousands of homes throughout the land are blighted because of the sickness that has fallen upon mother and the boys and girls of the fireside, whose place it is to bring brightness and not sadness to the home. The remedy for these troubles is South American Nervine."

Congratulated His Mamma.

Berlin, Nov. 21.—The Emperor surprised his mother, the Empress Frederick, this morning by making his appearance unexpectedly at the Castle of Rumpenheim, where the ex-Empress is celebrating her birthday with her daughter, Princess Margaret, wife of Prince Frederick Charles of Hesse. The Emperor took a special train from Berlin with the greatest secrecy and arrived at the Castle at 9 o'clock and congratulated his mother. He will return to Berlin at 9.30 o'clock this evening from Mulheim.

Child Scalded to Death.

Minden, Ont., Nov. 21.—A child named Napp of Minden Township, aged 4 years, was fatally scalded yesterday by falling into a pot of boiling water which had been left on the floor. Death came 24 hours after the accident.

You Can Believe

The testimonials published in behalf of Hood's Sarsaparilla. Giolitti Ready to Answer

Rome, Nov. 21.—The Government laid upon the table of the Chamber of Deputies to-day a number of documents relating to the charges against Sig. Giolitti, formerly Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior. Signor Giolitti declared that he was entirely ready to answer for his actions, either as Minister or Deputy.

The documents laid upon the table of the Chamber of Deputies were among, if not all, of those that were abstracted from the Banca Romano and figured largely in the trial of Signor Tanlongo, the Governor of that institution some time ago.

from taking medicine. They don't like its taste. But they are eager to take what they like—Scott's Emulsion, for instance. Children almost always like Scott's Emulsion.

And it does them good.

Scott's Emulsion is the easiest, most palatable form of Cod-liver Oil, with the Hypophosphites of Lime and Soda added to nourish the bones and tone up the nervous system. The way children gain flesh and strength on Scott's Emulsion is surprising even to physicians.

All delicate children need it.

A PROSPEROUS SEASON.

The Rathbun Company Close Down Their Campbellford Mill for This Year.

Mr. John McGrath has just returned to town from Campbellford, the Rathbun Company's mill having closed down there on Friday after the most prosperous season ever experienced in Campbellford. Sawing commenced about the middle of May and continued six months without interruption; and the production is the largest and best the Company is able to record.

The interior of the mill is now being dismantled in the removal of belts and saws, and everything is being placed in readiness for next spring. A man is at work cleaning the machinery and sweeping the place from top to bottom, and putting everything in order. There are four piles of two-foot wood amounting to about 600 cords.

North of the mill an improvement has been made in filling in with sawdust the low places where the river flooded the public road, thus giving about twenty feet additional space upon which the company can lay a track if they choose from the mills to the grounds alongside the river where there are now piled in six rows about 1400 cords of edgings.

The grounds south of the mill where the lumber is piled, are also been put in good order, a credit reflecting upon the business tact, perseverance and good taste of Mr. Frank J. Golden, the company's overseer. In this quarter a large piece of low, swampy ground has been filled in with sawdust and levelled, affording additional space for piling lumber. More than a million feet is piled here, besides large quantities of railroad ties, shingles, lath, pickets, &c. Another extensive stock of fine lumber may be seen alongside the railway track, east of Booth street, comprising about seventy piles each twelve feet high and containing from ten to fifteen thousand feet.

All of this lumber, together with what is ready for shipment on the grounds near the mill, is the cut of the past season, and it will be exported to foreign markets as fast as orders are received. The railway ties, of which there are 40,000 piled up, will be purchased by the Grand Trunk for use along their road.

THE IMPORTANCE OF LIVER.

Thousands Suffer Because the Liver is Deranged. South American Nervine is the Great Panacea of the Day For a Diseased Liver and All Stomach Troubles — Indigestion. Dyspepsia. Nervousness and General Debility.

When a well-known author wrote his book entitled, "Is Life Worth Living?" Mr. Punch, with shrewd, practical commonsense, replied to the query, "That depends on the liver." And undoubtedly it is the case, that when the liver is diseased untold troubles follow, Dyspepsia, indigestion, sick headache, nervousness and general debility are all species of stomach trouble that come from this source. The practical question is, "What are we going to do about it?" The great discovery of the century. South American Nervine, with ten thousand voices says, "I will cure." We might easily quote the words of well-known Canadian citizens to fill this entire page. Let one or two suffice. Mr. John Boyer, banker of Kincardine, says: "I was very much troubled with indigestion giving rise to those distressing feelings that can hardly be described in any language, but that are so common to the dyspeptic. I tried South American Nervine, and it cured me. I have no hesitation in recommending it to any person affected with any stomach trouble." Mr. J. W. Dinwoodie of Campbellford, Ont., the large railroad contractor, says: "I keep the South American Nervine always in the house, and I do not hesitate to say that it is the very best medicine I have ever taken and most confidently recommend it to any one troubled with nervousness of whatever form and the attendant diseases of the liver and stomach that follow this weakness."

Mrs. A. V. Galbraith, of Shelbourne, Ont., says: "South American Nervine cured me of indigestion. I never fail to recommend it to my friends.

It is not an experiment with any one who need the great discovery. It has been tested and proved over and over again, with the one result, that it provides a certain cure.

FORTNIGHTLY CLUB COLUMN.

No. XXXVIX.

Municipal Government in Great Britain

The Century Company have recently published an interesting book entitled as above. The author, Mr. Albert Shaw, a thorough going American, dissects very carefully the Municipal Corporation as found in Great Britain, for the purpose of discovering the secret of its greatness, and the reasons why it is superior to its American co-temporary. The first significant fact is found in the complexion of the British Councils, where the best men in the community are ready and anxious to serve the corporation in municipal matters, not only in large cities but in almost all the smaller towns as well. The manner of electing both mayors and councillors in England is superior to our system, and is a distinct source of strength. Each councillor is elected for three years and the councillors in each ward retire annually in succession. This leaves only one vacancy to be filled and the voters have an opportunity of electing the best candidate without the necessity, as under our system, of landing two more doubtful aspirants in office at the same time. A three years term cannot be considered too long for a good man, and yet it is long enough to make the ratepayers cautious of electing an incapable. Every one knows the surprises which the triangular ballot brings with it in January. Some of the best men are defeated to the regret of the majority, which never anticipated such a result, and would have voted very differently had the choice been limited to one man instead of three. The result is that our best men shrink from these uncertain contests and prefer to eschew municipal politics rather than run the gauntlet of the three cornered ballot.

In Britain, too, the mayor is elected for a term of one year by his fellow councillors. This is a great inducement to good men to take office, for while the position of mayor is an honourable one, the tremendous contest with all the incidents of a political campaign, as we have it, more than counterbalances the prestige of the office. Another advantage of the English system is to be found in the fact that the councillor's term of office being three years, and the mayor's only one, it follows that there are many men at the council board who have filled the office of mayor and who remain in the service of the municipality, with all the ripe experience which familiarity with the duties of the office must bring them. One rarely, if ever, hears of an ex-mayor in this country returning to the councillor's chair. Not only is this the case, but the defeated candidate for the office of chief magistrate, appears to consider it contrary to custom to again seek the suffrages of his ward. Our method of election eventually deprives the municipality of two of its best men. A great deal more will be found on this subject in Mr. Shaw's interesting book. It is instructive to note that in England, where the system of police is, perhaps, superior to any other, the government bears half the expense of maintaining the force of every city or district. This payment is only made on the report of the government inspector. The result is that the whole force throughout the Kingdom is well organized, disciplined, and up to the high standard required by the Home Office. This system might be introduced in Ontario with advantage. The ends of Justice are so often thwarted by the inefficiency of country police, that a government which derives the larger part of its revenue from municipal sources could not adopt a more useful measure. The only objection is the centralization of power, which of itself is not sufficient to counter balance the benefits of increased security.

Peterborough may do well to follow the example of all the large manufacturing towns in England and Scotland in the establishment of technical schools. Each town takes pains to instruct the young in principles and processes that pertain to the standard lines upon which the locality relies for its commercial supremacy. In this they have copied the example of Germany, and if we are to compete with the older countries in our own markets we should not delay in instituting classes on these special lines.

At present a young man with a very elementary education is called upon to select his trade without the slightest idea of his own capabilities. A system of schools which would develop the latent talent and bring to the surface the natural bent of the pupil's inclination, might save the community from many an incapable carpenter or blacksmith, who would have made an excellent weaver or wood carver. In England the technical schools have done more for the working classes than was ever anticipated. Not only have they improved the workingman, but they have improved his work, and thus have directly contributed to permanent employment and prosperity.

STORE NEWS —AT— TURNBULL'S

Our aim is to make our store the brightest and best shopping place in the country by keeping always on hand such goods as people require, making quality the first consideration and price the second. Knowing that this is what the people appreciate, with double our old floor space we are now in a position to carry a much larger and varied stock than ever, and keep adding lines as we see we can handle them.

This week we have added a nice assortment of Felt Embroidered Table Scarfs, Table Covers and Shopping Bags.

See the nice Embroidered Shopping Bag we can give you for 25 cents.

We also handle Silk and Chenille Pom Poms, Tassels, Cords, etc., for Fancy Work, at much lower prices we find than they have been sold for before. We also keep a stock of Curtain Poles, Dado Blinds, Screws and Curtain Nets, and have doubled our Carpet stock. We will not quote prices to-day, but you will find our values more than right.

We expect on the next train a big shipment of American Table Oilcloths in beautiful colours and small patterns. Drop in and see them, if you do not want to buy you can tell your neighbors about them.

We have something interesting for boys this week in eight or ten pieces good Wool Tweeds, only 25c a yard; men will also find them excellent goods to wear. Boys be happy, we have a stock of new Braces, only 5c per pair.

See our Astrachan and Cloth Caps at from 30c to 75c each, just fresh from the factory. We have also a number of lengths of choice imported Overcoatings to make up for whoever selects them, at prices that cannot be beaten elsewhere. We speak strongly because we are strong on this line. Perfect fit and style guaranteed in our ordered clothing or no sale.

Heavy Flannelette Night Dresses, our own make, at $1 each.

Those Dress Tweeds we spoke about a week or two ago at 25c, worth 65c, are rolling rapidly; although we purchased a very large quantity, they will soon be out. We call attention to them again, as we would like our regular customers to get their portion of them before they are all gone.

OUR MOTTO: We Undersell but are Never Undersold.

The Hyams Twins Will Soon Know Their Fate.

THE MEDICAL EVIDENCE ALL IN.

Condition of the Elevator Looked Into on Saturday—A Witness Swears the Weight Would Come Off—He Gets Tangled Up in Cross-Examination.

Toronto, Nov. 25.—The third week of the greatest criminal trial in the history of Canada has closed, and though the details of the case are being placed before the public for the fourth time in ten months, the interest evinced is as great as when, in February last, The World unearthed the alleged crime and published the series of articles which led to the arrest of Harry Place and Dallas Theodore Hyams, upon the charge of having murdered Willie Wells.

When the present trial opened on Nov. 5, certain journals predicted for it a speedy termination, stating as the ground of the prophecy that the Crown's case had been greatly weakened, while the defence had gathered corresponding strength. As every one knows, the prediction has utterly failed of fulfilment, 17 days having already elapsed since the trial began, with every prospect that the statement made by The World more than two weeks ago will be borne out, that it would be near the first of December before the jury had passed decision upon the evidence and announced the fate of the twins. No doubt the prophecy of the collapse of the Crown's case was inspired, but no prediction made by Weather-Man Wiggins ever went wider of the mark.

Probably no murder trial in the history of Canada has been marked with such repeated and persistent objection on the part of the defence to evidence offered by the prosecution, and it is remarkable, moreover, that the decisions of His Lordship upon every question of vital importance which called for his ruling have been in favor of the accused. So much of the Crown's important testimony was adjudged inadmissible by His Lordship the defence at one time cherished the hope of preventing the Crown from proving the strongest point in their case, the motive for which the crime was committed. The evidence of the street car men, of the attempt to insure the life of Mrs. Hyams, the story of Mrs. Hyams herself and also that of her solicitor, Mr. Smoke, were all of value to the Crown, and had important bearings on their case. With the exclusion of all this, the defence were confident of weakening the prosecution to such an extent that acquittal would be assured. The evidence of the attempt to insure the life of Mrs. Hyams was not admitted at the last trial, and therefore the loss of it did not detract from the strength of the case as first presented against the prisoners. The testimony of the street car men was intended to show that it was 11 a.m. before Harry Hyams went for Dr. King, on the day of the tragedy, and that the killing therefore could not have occurred between 9 and 10 o'clock, as the defence allege. This point is not of great importance to the prosecution, for, as Mr. Osler said to the jury, in his opening address, "A few moments of time make little difference, as a man who could be there to help take the weight off Wells' head could have been there to help put it on."

The only object the Crown had in pressing for the admission of the evidence of Mrs. Hyams and her solicitor was to trace the proceeds of the death of Wells into the hands of the prisoners. Without this testimony the motive could not have been clearly established, and as might be expected, there was rejoicing in the camp of the defence at the prospect of its exclusion. But the jubilee was of short duration. By a move which was entirely unexpected by the defence, Mr. Osler was about to prove that at least $8500 of the money was secured by the prisoners by forgery, when Messrs. Johnston and Lount made an offer of compromise. This was accepted by the Crown, and the defence in admitting the reception of $22,500 of the insurance money surrendered everything they had won by His Lordship's rulings, and the Crown's case remained stronger on this point than at the last trial.

Of the new evidence presented by the Crown, that which contributes greatest strength to their case is the testimony of witnesses proving that there was a wound over the left eye. When it is remembered that the whole fabric of the defence rests upon the assumption that Wells was struck on the right side of the head by the falling weight, and again in the same place as his head lay on the floor, the importance of this piece of evidence will be appreciated. In the now celebrated Johnstonian theory no provision is made for the infliction of this second wound, and the Crown will ask the jury to believe that it was the result of a blow delivered by one of the prisoners with the instrument with which he was felled to the floor. The discovery of a piece of glass, broken from Wells' spectacles, in the wound above the right ear is also unaccounted for by the defence, but is claimed by the Crown to be indisputable proof of the knock-down blow of which Dr. Caven and the other medical experts for the Crown say the fracture of the right internal angular process is an evidence.

The contention of the Crown that both prisoners were present at the warehouse when Wells was killed was strengthened very materially by the story of Joseph Wright, who after he had left the witness box requested to be allowed to go back, and swore that Harry Hyams told him that both he and his brother Dallas were there when the killing occurred.

Five days were spent in hearing the opinions of the medical experts called by the Crown and defence to contradict one another. Boiled down, their whole testimony amounts to this: the Crown experts see evidences of two lines of force and two distinct blows; the defence experts say one blow could have caused the fractures, but admit that their theory does not exclude the knock-down blow the Crown claims was delivered.

Since the opening of the present trial rumors have been rife of new and sensational evidence for the defence. If the testimony of the three new witnesses who were called on Saturday is any criterion of what is to come, the prosecution have every reason to be thankful to the defence for putting them in the witness box. All agreed on the antiquated pattern, loose construction and unsafe character of the elevator, but none of them told of a single accident that ever occurred, except to an ill-fated cat that went to sleep at the foot of the weight shaft. The first of these witnesses, Shinp, was so overcome by the novelty of the situation in which he found himself he became too much confused to tell a coherent story; the second, Mr. Brimsmead, strengthened the Crown's case when he said that in taking the hook off the weight and putting it on again he had been compelled to use a hammer, while the story of the third contained nothing except the character of the elevator as already referred to.

When the cross-examination of J. H. McMillan was opened that gentleman wore an air of supercilious confidence in his own ability to hold his story together, even when the mind of B. B. Osler was analysing it; before he got down from the witness box his story was as full of holes as a fanning-mill sieve, and he was the laughing-stock of the whole court, the jurors especially taking delight in the predicaments in which the witness from Welland found himself.

Now that the medical evidence has been disposed of, better progress will be made, with all likelihood of a verdict before another week has passed.

HAYCOCK AT AYLMER.

The Patron Leader Addresses a Small Meeting and Makes a Speech on the Usual Lines.

Aylmer, Ont., Nov. 24.—A meeting in the interests of J. P. Martyn, the Patron candidate, was held in the Town Hall Saturday afternoon, at which about 100 were present. Mr. Wilson McCreadie, County President of the Patrons of Industry, took the chair at 2.30, and gave reasons for the existence of the P. I. movement.

Mr. Martyn contended that the N.P. has been the means of making millionaires of the large manufacturers, and crushing out the smaller establishments. The Government is about to pay $750,000 per annum as a bonus for a steamship service to export our manufactures, and to import farm products; thus the Government is controlled by the great manufacturers. He opposed superannuations and exemptions, and accused the Government of gross extravagance in the funeral expenses of Sir John Thompson.

The chief speaker was Mr. Haycock, leader of the Patrons of Industry in the Local House. He said no other party was ever so much maligned as the Patron party, as the old parties feared their influence. The buying of cheap foods is not the vital principle of the Patrons; but he defended the principle of banding together, paying cash and buying at cheap rates. The manufacturers fully control the Government, as they stand together, while the farmers are supporting the Grit and Tory parties in about equal numbers. He advanced the usual criticism on members accepting free passes. He spoke strongly in favor of the abolition of the Government Houses at Toronto and Ottawa. The tariff question was then taken up, the speaker claiming for the Patrons a tariff for revenue only. He criticised the duty on coal oil, and said there should be a duty on wool and hides, about the only articles that would help the farmers. Closing, he made a strong appeal for the farmers to become members of the P.I. party, and thus hold the balance of power.

British Capitalists Buying Up Many Institutions and Industries in British Columbia.

Vancouver, B.C., Nov. 22.—The heaviest transaction which ever took place in British Columbia in a single day was consummated through London brokers yesterday, an English syndicate purchasing for an enormous price the Vancouver Electric Tram Company, Vancouver Electric Light Company, the New Westminster and Vancouver Inter-Urban Electric Tram and Light Company, running a distance of twelve miles, and the New Westminster City Electric Tram Company. Half a million dollars will be spent in utilizing the water power of the Seymour River to run the entire immense system. An English syndicate has also bought the Victoria Tramway.

Two English companies, one of half a million and another of one million pounds sterling capital, have just been organized in London to develop the British Columbia mines.

Another deal is on foot whereby an English syndicate is to buy all the canneries on the Fraser River not already owned by English capitalists. English syndicates are also buying up timber limits. British capital is at present coming in very freely, and begging for propositions.

EXPERIMENTAL FARM.

Report Presented by Professor Saunders.

SOME HEAVY YIELDS IN GRAINS.

A Great Many Varieties Tested and the Results Shown—Oats, Wheat, Barley and Peas Turned Out Well—Hay was a Good Crop and Fodder Fair.

Ottawa, Nov. 24.—Prof. Saunders, director of Experimental Farms, has had a precis made of the results of this year's crops grown at the Central Experimental Farm. Fifty-eight varieties of oats have been tested and the yield has averaged well. The heaviest returns have been had from the varieties known as Banner and Abundance, the former of which has yielded 74 bushels 4 pounds per acre; the latter 72 bushels 8 pounds.

Of fall wheat 32 varieties have been grown and the largest crop has been given by the Dawson's Golden Chaff, which yielded 45 bushels 20 pounds per acre. Of spring wheat, 143 varieties have been tested, and the largest crops realized have been had from the Hungarian, a bearded sort, which was sent to the Experimental Farm for test by Baron von Berg, of Kapewar, Hungary. This gave 31 bushels 10 pounds per acre, and was closely followed by Preston, one of the new cross-bred sorts raised at the Experimental Farm, which gave a crop of 30 bushels 40 pounds.

Of barley, there have been 60 varieties in all under test, 31 of which were two-rowed sorts and 29 six-rowed. Of the two-rowed varieties, the most prolific sort this year was the Sidney, a new hybrid produced at the farm by crossing one of the two-rowed varieties with a six-rowed, which gave 43 bushels 16 pounds per acre. The heaviest yielder among the six-rowed sorts was the Mensury, which gave a crop of 58 bushels 16 pounds per acre; followed by the Petschora, Royal and Success, which gave respective yields of 51 bushels 42 pounds, 51 bushels 12 pounds and 51 bushels 12 pounds.

In peas, of which 72 varieties have been grown, some very good results have been had. The heaviest crop was given by one of the new cross-bred sorts produced at the farm, which yielded 58 bushels per acre.

The season has been a fairly good one for corn and other fodder crops; 274 tons were cut from 21 acres of land. The heaviest yield was from the rural thoroughbred white flint, which gave 21 1-2 tons to the acre. The next best was the white cap yellow dent, which gave 17 tons 1800 lbs. per acre. A field of 2 3-4 acres of a new variety, the mammoth eight-rowed flint, produced in all 41 tons 515 lbs. Five acres of mixed corn and horse beans gave 75 tons. The yields of horse beans and sunflower heads grown separately have also been good, 6 1-2 acres of horse beans having given 44 tons 1367 lbs. of green fodder, while 2 3-4 acres of sunflowers gave 16 tons 791 lbs. of heads.

These combined green forage crops have given a total of about 400 tons of excellent fodder, most of which has been converted into ensilage, which will be used as food for cattle in the course of experiments planned in this department for the coming year.

Mangels have given good crops. One field of two acres of the Mammoth Long Red has produced in all 47 tons 1750 lbs. Carrots also have done well. The largest yield has been from the Improved Short White, which gave a crop of 23 tons 1040 lbs. from one acre, closely followed by the Mammoth White intermediate, which yielded 23 tons 120 lbs. from a similar area. Turnips have not succeeded so well. They have suffered again from rot, which has prevailed in many parts of this district. The largest crop had at the farm was from a variety known as Elephant's Master, which gave 15 tons 1425 lbs. per acre.

Hay has averaged well. There was cut from 36 acres of land, as a first crop, 89 tons 310 lbs.; and, as a second crop, 40 tons 1900 lbs.; a total of 130 tons 110 lbs. from the 36 acres.

The yield of potatoes, of which 102 varieties have been grown, has been fully up to the average. The American Wonder heads the list this year with a yield of 385 bushels per acre, followed by the Early North with 378 bushels 24 lbs., General Gordon with 365 bushels 12 lbs., and Thorburn with 352 bushels.

According to advices received here very few of the B.C. sealing fleet purpose engaging in the coast catch early in the year. So much time was lost in the early part of the season just closed, the vessels being storm or wind bound, that most of the owners have come to the conclusion that it will pay them to keep their vessels at home. As a result 35 schooners out of a fleet of 61 will remain in port till June, when the time arrives to make ready for the north. The usual number of vessels will start for the Japan coast next month and January, but no native hunters will be taken and there is therefore likely to be a better chance for white hunters to secure engagements.

John R. Hooper, writing to friends here; says he can get further new evidence showing that he is innocent of the crime charged against him.

During the past month settlers' effects to the value of $206,824 passed the customs.

COWARDS THEY WERE.

A Captain and Mate Who Disgraced the British Nation.

London, Nov. 23.—The trial of the officers of the British vessel Why Not for deserting the ship while on fire, leaving the passengers to their fate, has resulted in the conviction of Captain Wilkinson and Mate Wilkinson. The captain was sentenced to six months' imprisonment and the mate to two months' at Guernsey at hard labor. The judge who presided at the trial in pronouncing sentence declared that the conduct of the officers and crew of the vessel was a disgrace to the nation.

While the vessel was on her way to the Island of Jersey, in June last, a fire was discovered in her hold. While the sailors were attempting to put out the fire a bucket was accidentally dropped overboard. A boat was lowered to recover it, whereupon the captain jumped overboard and climbed into the boat and was followed by the crew. One of the passengers also jumped overboard and swam to the boat, into which he was taken. The passengers remaining on board the boat handled it as best they could and managed to beach her at Erquy, where the captain and crew in the boat also succeeded in landing.

Purified Blood

Saved an operation in the following case. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures when all others fail. It makes pure blood.

"A year ago my father, William Thompson, was taken suddenly ill with inflammation of the bladder. He suffered a great deal and was very low for some time. At last the doctor said he would not get well unless an operation was performed. At this time we read about Hood's Sarsaparilla and decided to try it. Before he used half a bottle his appetite had come back to him, whereas before he could eat but little. When he had taken three bottles of the medicine he was as well as ever." FRANCIS J. A FOLLY OF YOUTH.

It is said that Agnosticism prevails to a lamentable extent among the undergraduates of Oxford and Cambridge. If this is correct, it would at first impression mean something rather serious. But it must be remembered that nearly all young men are more or less touched with a spirit of insubordination to accepted religious teachings during the green and callow age that represents the average years of the college undergraduate. This assertive evidence of independence in a great many cases arises from the same notions that causes boys to rejoice in the display of an ability to puff a cigar or toss off a glass of wine—they think it an indication of manhood, which is not furnished by their downy cheeks and mossy upper lip. But with years come sense, and a truer estimate of what true manhood is. So with agnosticism, the young man thinks by holding and uttering slighting views on religious matters to constitute himself a sort of hero—to get himself talked about, and to be regarded as a terrible fellow. Just as some toadies would rather be kicked by a lord than be denied any other sort of attention, so the callow young man had rather be talked about as an agnostic than ignored as a decent sort of a young man. In this stage he is regarded by persons of experience as a harmless sort of a person who will come around all right when he cuts his wisdom teeth. Experience shows that there are very few agnostics at heart. They are mostly shallow pretenders. The alleged agnostics at the colleges mentioned are doubtless very proud of being considered sad dogs, but the probability is that as they grow older they will grow wiser and in time become the average orthodox Christians, pew holders and examples of religious propriety.

IMPERIAL UNITY.

British statesmen are gradually abandoning the idea that the "Tight little Isle" is the world—and dropping the tone of patronage that has been customary in dealing with and speaking of the "Colonies." The unity of the Empire is becoming a live question with imperial statesmen. Mr. Chamberlain has made a notable advance in this respect. His granting a subsidy of $350,000 to a fast Atlantic steamship line between Great Britain and Canada is an evidents of a livelier recognition of the value of the Colonies, and further evidence is afforded by his great interest in the Pacific cable scheme. Imperial Federation may be regarded as being a a political dream to be catalogued with Tennyson's "Federation of the World." But it may be regarded as one of the possibilities of the future in some form or other. Britain's interests and those of her colonies are every year growing greater, and that the interests of both are common in a great many senses hardly needs assertion. The English speaking people are the dominant people; and the governing power, whether in England or her colonies, or even in the United States, is practically Anglo-Saxon, and every year the Anglo-Saxon is growing more convinced that the growth in greatness of the great communities they represent are involved in drawing closer the bonds that should unite them, whether they be bonds of common blood, common language or common commercial and national interests.

PROSECUTION UNDER GAME LAWS.

(Minden Echo.)

On Tuesday last J. Workman and Andrew Morris were charged before Police Magistrate Fielding in the Court House, Minden, with killing partridges out of season and judgment was reserved.

Messrs. R. Oswold and D. Ellis were charged with killing deer on the 30th October, to which they pleaded not guilty, but the information was amended by changing the date to the 31st, when the charge was admitted and each of them fined $20 and costs, $7.20, for killing two deer the day before the season opened.

There were six cases brought before Mr. Fielding yesterday at Glamorgan, four of the defendants were convicted and fined $20 each and costs, and the other two were dismissed; but there are two other persons from the front implicated who have yet to receive their medicine.

EAST CHANDOS.

From our own Correspondent.

The weather has taken a turn and is colder, with some snow. That is what the lumbermen are anxious to see.

Messrs. John Hawley and Hugh McDougal have taken a contract to cut and skid what timber is on two or three lots for Mr. Baskin.

Times are looking up. Plenty of work to be had since lumbering started.

Mr. A. Woodbeck has returned from the north-east, where he had been engaged in the woods, and is troubled with a very bad abscess on his leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Steinburg are visiting their many friends in this part of the country.

Mr. Isaac Hoard, while returning from Belmont, had the mishap to run off the crossway in the big swamp while trying to cross after dark and had to leave his load there until the next morning. That part of the road should be fixed.

Mr. John Baskin and wife are spending a few days in Norwood.

Mr. Hilliard Woodbeck spent Sunday at home with his parents and returned to the woods on Monday. He does not expect to return until spring.

It is with regret that we learn of the illness of Mr. Wm. Doxee, of Wollaston.

The school was closed in No. 4, and Mr. Rogers will be missed very much.

The dance at the old store was a failure.

The Cameron Copper Mines are progressing favorably. The shaft is sunk down about twenty feet and is making a good showing of ore.

Mr. Joshua Parcels has sold his farm to Mr. H. D. Trusedell.

Mr. Manford Woodbeck has bought a farm from Mr. Jacob Parcels.

The McIlmoyle party lost a couple of fine canoes while hunting in Loon Lake.

The Parcels Brothers are moving to Belmont now.

CAN YOU FORGET?

Can you forget the joyous days of childhood?

When sleep overmastered you like the odor of rare flowers?

When to wake was a new joy, and every succeeding day a new life?

When appetite was marvelous and digestion waited on it in a sort of ecstacy?

Such was a condition of perfect health, and nothing more.

Compare this happy state with your present condition.

If there is any difference, it is the measure of our progress towards a condition of disease

Would you regain the Paradise Lost?

Then remember whatever your form of suffering may be, when you sift the matter down to the bare facts the cause is impure blood.

The kidneys have everything, yes all, to do, where purity or impurity of the blood is concerned.

It is their work or duty to filter and purify the blood.

If your blood is impure it is not necessary that your condition should never alter or be brought up to the perfect state just described. Once the kidneys are set right the work of purification re-commences.

Science is the truth which comes to help you in the hour of peril.

The only condition is your prompt acceptance of this truth in the form of treatment.

The sum of medical research, special study, and years of practice in the treatment of the kidneys is embodied in three words—"Dodd's Kidney Pills."

And they always cure kidney disease.

And nineteen times out of twenty that is all that ails you or any one else.

THE PELLETIER RUMORS REVIVED.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir A. P. Caron in Conference With the Quebec Provincial Secretary.

Montreal, Nov. 23.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell appears most desirous that Mr. L. P. Pelletier should enter the Government without delay, taking the vacant portfolio of Agriculture. Yesterday the Premier asked Hon. Mr. Pelletier to meet him here this evening and Sir Mackenzie and Sir A. P. Caron left for Montreal, arriving at the Windsor at 8 o'clock. To-night the Provincial Secretary arrived from Quebec, drove to the Windsor and after registering proceeded at once to Sir Mackenzie Bowell's apartments, where the interview between the Canadian Premier, the Postmaster General and Hon. L. P. Pelletier began. Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Adolphe desire the new Minister to take office at once, or rather before the session; but the correspondent understands that the Provincial Secretary still hesitates, preferring to wait for a dissolution and run for his own county of Dorchester. If Hon. Mr. Pelletier decides between now and to-morrow to accept office under Sir Mackenzie Bowell he will most likely run for the vacant seat in Charlevoix.

MOE'S AWFUL BRUTALITY.

He Hanged a Woman Over a Gas Jet and Watched Her Strangle.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 23.—Charles Moe hanged Annie Anderson in No. 13 South Clark-street. Moe secured a rope after midnight and throwing it over a gas jet, placed the noose around the woman's neck while she was asleep in bed. He then pulled the rope, swinging the woman off the bed into the air. Securing the rope to the leg of the bed he watched the convulsions of his victim as she slowly strangled. When the struggle ceased the murderer stretched himself on the bed and went to sleep.

He was arrested by the police in the morning. He had attempted to kill the woman three weeks ago because she did not earn enough money to keep him intoxicated all the time.

Dold Didn't Want to Live.

Buffalo, Nov. 24.—Samuel Dold, 19 years old, born in Welland, Ont., shot himself this morning, inflicting a wound from which recovery is impossible. Dold claimed that he was in no particular trouble and that he shot himself because he had no desire longer to live.

A CLERGYMAN'S TESTIMONY.

Rev. Thos. Geoghegan Makes a Personal Investigation.

AND IS QUITE SATISFIED

That Kootenay Cure Has Done and Will Do All That is Claimed for it —He Investigated Twenty-Five Cases

Hamilton, Sept. 25, 1895.

S. S. Ryckman, Esq., Hamilton:

Dear Sir,—Acting upon your suggestion, I made personal inquiries from 25 persons of different ages and various social conditions who have been suffering from rheumatism and kindred diseases, as to the effect of your medicine upon them. From each and every one the testimony was the same: Kootenay Cure has cured me." Several very striking cases of chronic rheumatism, paralysis, loss of sight and hearing came under my notice, and had it not been for the personal testimony of the patients themselves I could not have believed that such results were possible. From young and old came the same hearty and grateful testimony of pain removed, health restored and a new lease of life gained. Wishing you continued success, I am, yours faithfully,

THOS GEOGHEGAN.

THESE ARE THE DAYS

Which make one think of the winter that is almost on us. FURS will then be needed. Call and inspect our stock, where you will find a full range of what is good, what is fashionable, and what is really cheap, in Fur Garments. Beauty in Fur Garments depends upon having the supervision of artists in the manufacture. No matter what beautiful and precious materials one may use, if the artistic taste is lacking, there will be no beauty in the result. We have always borne this fact in mind and the result is that the artistic element enters into even our most inexpensive Fur garments. For anything you need in Fur it will pay you to call on us.

HIGH-CLASS TAILORING.

408 GEORGE STREET.

The large number of orders we have received during the past month is evidence that the people of Peterborough, as well as outsiders, have "caught on" to our great stock of which is really the best ever imported to this town. Over four hundred different samples to choose from, including West of England Cloths, English Venetians, French Worsteds, Irish Bergas, Scotch and Canadian Tweeds, etc. etc.

We desire to call special attention to our Overcoatings, in Meltons, Beavers, Cheviots, Tibets, etc, etc. We have also had made up expressly for our own trade a large number of which we will sell as cheap, if not cheaper, than any house in Peterborough, style and finish taken into consideration. We don't quote prices, but ask you to look at these Overcoats and satisfy yourselves as to the truth of our statement. Then you will buy.

In Gent's Furnishings, Hats and Caps, we have everything you need, and all up-to-date, which we can afford to sell cheap as we buy for cash. Call and inspect them.

FAST ATLANTIC LINE.

Sir William Van Horne Speaks of the Project.

A STRICTLY FIRST-CLASS SERVICE

Will Have His Warm Approval, but Nothing Second-rate Will Do—The Topic Exciting Great Interest in Canada's Commercial and Shipping Centre.

Montreal, Nov. 24.—Since the Imperial Government manifested its intention to aid the Canadian fast Atlantic service, the topic has become a very live one and your correspondent called at the Canadian Pacific offices and sought an interview with the president regarding this all-important matter. From the first Sir William Van Horne has always been a firm believer in the St. Lawrence route in summer, and a Canadian Atlantic port in winter, providing the service be equal to the best.

When asked for an opinion, Sir William said: "I have not given the subject much thought of late, the prevailing conditions, financial and other, having been unfavorable, but my opinion as to the great need of a first-class Canadian Atlantic service is as strong as ever."

The president of the Canadian Pacific continued, "A really first-class service, mind you, not a 17, 18 or 19 knot service. Any money expended on an inferior service will be thrown away, and an inferior service will effectually prevent for very many years the establishment of one of the right kind, besides postponing it probably beyond the present generation."

In reply to a further question, Sir William spoke as follows: "In my opinion it would be an inconceivable mistake. Our competitors now hold the trade, and an inferior service will never take it from them, even in a very small part. If Canada in fact is going to play second fiddle, she should at least save her money. A competitive steamship enterprise does not differ materially from a competitive railway, hotel or manufacturing enterprise, in which inferiority means ruin. There are always too many people," said Sir William Van Horne, "who have not the courage to do such things well, and this is the cause of most failures. It is folly to swallow an anchor and stick at the tail. It is folly to spoil a ship for want of a ha'pirth of tar. I do not know," he continued, "whether or not an addition by the Imperial Government to the subsidy heretofore offered by the Dominion Government will secure first-class service. I doubt if it can be carried through as a steamship enterprise, pure and simple, by private parties, having no other ends to serve. I would like to see it undertaken by the existing St. Lawrence lines, but I shall despair of the country if any compromise is made on the question of a strictly first-class service."

It is said that there will be great activity along the line of the Canadian Pacific next season and that in less than three years the entire line from the Atlantic to the Pacific will be composed of parmanent work. The company are also making ready for the ultimate double tracking of the road from Winnipeg to Port Arthur, and from Sudbury to Carleton Junction, the last stretch being 295 miles in length. The correspondent was informed to-day by the company's chief engineer that all the new structures between the points above named are being made suitable for a double tracking, so it will be seen that the far-seeing men at the head of Canada's great highway, have confidence in the future of the country, and are making preparations to meet increased business and development. From Carleton Junction to Montreal the company claims to have as good as a double tracking, one line coming via Smith's Falls and the other by the North Shore, while a third is still in sight by the Montreal and Ottawa. A great many of the trestles in the British Columbia section will be replaced during 1895 by permanent work. The railway has had surveying parties at work all summer in the Crow's Nest Pass and these surveys are now complete, although it is not supposed that the rumors, which make this the future main line of the Canadian Pacific, are well founded. The Crow's Nest Pass will probably soon be tracked, but it will likely become a great mineral and colonization line.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour.

NOW THE FAR EAST

Comes Up with a Sensational Report which will Stir the Whole Earth.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 24.—The Novoe Vremya publishes a special despatch from Vladivostock, which, if true, will cause a stir in the world. It says that Japan has entirely withdrawn from her continental policy in Asia and acknowledges the unconditional right of Russia to hold Corea and Manchuria within her sphere of political and economical influence.

A special sign of the liberal intentions of the Corean Government is the permission which has been accorded its subjects to cut off their pig-tails.

Probably a Feeler.

Paris, Nov. 24.—The Paris edition of The Herald, commenting on the despatch it published this morning from St. Petersburg, stating that Japan had entirely withdrawn from her continental policy in Asia and acknowledged the unconditional right of Russia to hold Corea and Manchuria within her sphere of political and economical influence, suggests that the despatch, like that from Hong Kong, recently, published by The London Times to the effect that a secret treaty has been entered into by China and Russia, is a feather cast to see how the wind blows.

AS TO THE FAST LINE.

Someone Has Stated the Imperial Government is Not Committed.

London, Nov. 24.—It is stated that the Imperial Government has not committed itself in any form or to any amount of assistance that is to be given to the new Atlantic service between Great Britain and Canada. The Government expressed strong sympathy with the movement to establish the service and asked the Canadian Government to call for tenders, after which it would consider the most suitable assistance to be given.

The Times says it has no doubt that Mr. Sandford Fleming will be one of Canada's delegates on the Pacific cable committee.

YOUNG GREENE WAS HEALTHY.

That is What Dr. Barnado Says of the Boy Killed in Keppel

London, Nov. 24.—Dr. Barnardo, founder of the Doctor Barnardo's Home, where homeless orphans or waif children are maintained, educated and taught trades, has written to the newspapers complaining of the article in The Toronto Telegram last Friday, anent the manslaughter of the boy Greene, wherein it was stated that there was insufficient medical evidence regarding the boy before he left England. Dr. Barnardo declares that Greene was a healthy and intelligent lad and emigrated by his own desire at the age of 15.

VIOLENT STORMS.

English Channel Very Rough—Fearful Tempest in the Mediterranean.

London, Nov. 24.—A gale from the north northeast prevailed over Southern England to-day. A heavy sea was running in the English channel. One of the Dover-Calais boats found it impossible to enter Calais and was compelled to put about and return to Dover. The steamer met with no mishap.

A Ship Lost.

A despatch to the Central News from Queenstown says that two boats containing nine persons from the Belle O'Brien, which foundered at sea, are missing. Captain Colley and his wife and six of the ship's crew remained on the sinking vessel.

Tempest in the Mediterranean.

Rome, Nov. 24.—A violent tempest prevailed over the Mediterranean today. The Italian brig Giuseppe was wrecked at Calvi, Corsica, and four of her crew were lost. Many small vessels have been lost. A number of drownings are reported from different places along the coasts.

A GRIM STORY, TRULY.

Forty or Fifty Corpses Discovered by Divers at the Golden Horn.

London, Nov. 23.—The Westminster Gazette publishes a letter from Constantinople regarding the secret communication in which the writer tells a grim story. Divers who are employed in driving piles for a new pier outside the Golden Horn, on reaching bottom were surprised to find a number of bodies standing upright around the place that had been designated for the driving of the piles. One of the divers identified the bodies as those of students, one of whom was known to him personally. All had heavy leads tied to their feet, causing them to stand erect, the corpses thus being given a weirdly lifelike appearance. They numbered between 40 and 50.

IN A LION'S JAWS.

Three Foolhardy Young Men Who Wanted to Show Off, and Did So.

London, Nov. 24.—Three foolhardy young men furnished an excitnig scene to the spectators at the menagerie at Bourg, France, on Thursday. They asked permission to play a game of cards in the lions' den during the performance. The request was granted. A table was brought on which cards and champagne were placed, and the strangers began their game. Presently one of the majestic brutes approached a player named Chauveau and sniffed suspiciously at him. The latter, wishing to show off, gave the animal a push, and the beast, resenting the liberty, knocked the audacious stranger off his perch and, seizing him with his teeth, rolled him over and over. Everybody gave the young man up for lost, but the lion tamer seized the brute by the jaws and forced his mouth open, allowing opportunity for M. Chauveau to scramble out of the cage, more frightened than hurt.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick—that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headache and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

Cold Wave Coming.

St. Paul, Nov. 22.—Weather reports from North Dakota and Northern Minnesota indicate that a cold wave which is likely to swoop through the country to the Atlantic is moving eastward to-night. At 9.30 p.m. it was below zero at all points reporting in North Dakota. The coldest point reporting was Bismarck, where it was eight degrees below. It is nowing hard to-night in South Dakota.

Ordered to Protect Foreigners.

Constantinople, Nov. 22.—In consequence of the danger to foreigners at Marash, Hon. A. W. Terrell, the American Minister, and M. H. Herbert, British Charge d'Affaires, have demanded of the Porte that it protect the Americans, Englishmen and other foreigners there.

The general commanding at Marash continues his negotiations looking to the surrender of the Armenians who recently captured some of the fortifications at Zeltoun.

The Governor Will Not Go Back.

London, Nov. 22.—The Chronicle says that Sir Charles Cameron Lees, Governor of British Guiana, who was recently called to England in connection with the Venezuelan dispute, has informed the Government that he will probably be unable to return to Demerara, owing to his advanced age and ill-health.

Farm House Destroyed

Belleville, Ont., Nov. 22.—M. E. Davis' farm house in Thurlow was burned this morning. Loss $1500, on which there is a small insurance.

One Honest Man.

Dear Editor:—Please inform your readers, that if written to confidentially I will mail in a sealed letter, particulars of a genuine, honest home cure, by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from nervous debility, sexual weakness, night losses and weak shrunken parts. I was robbed and swindled by the quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous and strong, and wish to make this certain means of cure known to all sufferers. I have nothing to sell, and want no money, but being a firm believer in the universal brotherhood of man, I am desirous of helping the unfortunate to regain their health and happiness. Perfect secrecy assured. Address with stamp:—Mr. Edward Lambert. P. O. Box 55, Jarvis, Ont.

Grace Church.

Grace church, or as it is more generally known as "the George street Methodist church Branch," on Barnardo avenue, is being hurried forward to completion in a really marvellous manner. Already the sides have been erected and the roof placed thereon. The veneering of the brickwork was commenced last week, but the setting in of the frost caused operations suspended for the present in this respect, although the work in the interior is being pushed forward with the rapidity which characterised the erection of the outer walls. The church will be a pretty little structure and many visitors have been up to take a look at it within the last few days.

THE GROUND-FLOOR STUDIO RE-OPENED.

Mr. Eldridge Stanton, of Toronto, Assumes the Management—This Thoroughly Equipped Establishment now in Full Operation.

Mr. Eldridge Stanton, of Toronto, has assumed the management of the well known ground-floor photographic studio, Charlotte street, lately conducted by Mr. G. B. Sproule. Mr. Stanton is an artist of first rate ability and has had twenty-five years experience as a pratical photographer. For many years he carried on one of the best and most successful photographic establishments in Toronto, and achieved a high reputation for the artistic nature of his work. In fact his business so grew, and demanded such unremitting attention, that his physical powers were overtaxed and he had to take a lengthened holiday to permit of his recovery. He has now regained his health and has, as mentioned above, assumed the management of the Ground-floor Gallery on Charlotte St. which is without doubt one of the most completely equipped studios in the province. The light is of a particularly excellent kind, and permits of the most satisfactory and artistic treatment of photographic subjects, while all the appointments are of the most modern and best. With all these advantages of equipment, and with a presiding artist like Mr. Stanton, the public can depend upon securing every kind of photographic work of the very highest quality. The services of the former staff of assistants has been secured and the establishment will be conducted in a manner to gain and retain the confidence of the public. All persons desiring to obtain at reasonable prices, pictures in the highest style of the art, in all respects—in artistic pose, perfect portrature and superior finish and mounting—should bear in mind that the ground floor studio, Charlotte street is open for business under the management of Mr. Stanton.

GAVE HIM A SCARE.

A Truant Thinks the Chief is After Him With a Gun.

A seven year old boy, who is known to be an incorrigible truant, was spotted by Officer McGinty, this morning, after school hours, and after a lively chase he captured the youngster and clapped him into the cells.

When the hour of ten o'clock arrived the Chief went to the cell to take the lad up into the police court, and as there was a boys' shooting case coming on he carried a confiscated gun in his hand. The truant caught sight of the weapon and at once jumped to the conclusion that his last hour had come and that he was about to be shot, summarily. With a shriek he flung himself on the floor and almost went into convulsions in his terror. The united efforts of the Secretary and the agent of the Children's Aid Society and the Chief of Police failed to reassure the little fellow and he was left in the cell for fear that he might do himself an injury in his fright if his attendance in Court was insisted upon.

The Magistrate liberated the youngster after Court had adjourned and by the way he scooted off to school it is evident that the fright did a great deal towards reconciling him to his studies.

LIABLE TO A HEAVY FINE.

Two Young Lads Caught Shooting With an Air Gun.

Two young lads were before the police magistrate this morning, for shooting an air gun on the streets last Saturday. One bullet from the gun went crashing through a window in Mr. Joseph Morancey's residence, King street, and flattened itself out on the wall within an inch of his little one's head.

The weapon was taken from the lad who had it and given to his father who promised to see that the gun was destroyed.

In this connection it might be well to state that by enactment anyone found with an air gun or pistol in his possession, unless it be in his house or place of business, is liable to a fine of not more than $25, or less than $5. Of course soldiers, sailors and volunteers on duty, as well as justices, public officers, constables and peace officers are exempt from the application of the clause. Anyone guilty of the offense of selling or giving ammunition for these weapons to a minor under 16 is liable to a fine of $50.

Who Lost a Teakettle?

There is a teakettle at the police station with a tale attached to it. A quarter of beef was purchased from a farmer on the market, Saturday, and delivered at the Grand Trunk station at about noon, the purchaser taking it away with him on one of the trains. He forgot his teakettle, however, and left it with the farmer, who in turn handed it over to the police.

SPECIAL SERVICES IN ST. JOHN'S CHURCH

IN THE INTERESTS OF THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY.

Special Service Sunday Evening—The Claims and Merits of the Society Presented.

Gracious Saviour, gentle Shepherd,
Little ones are dear to Thee,
Gathered with Thine arms and carried
In thy bosom may we be
Sweetly, fondly, safely tended
From all want and danger free.

Last night a special service in the interests of the Children's Aid Society of Peterborough was held in St. John's church. There was a large congregation present and the society was well represented. There were present the president, secretary, honorary solicitor, agent, several members of the board of directors, the chief of police and police magistrate, besides a large number of persons outside of St. John's congregation interested in the excellent work of this excellent society. The hymns selected for the service were especially appropriate to its character and in the porch was hung a beautiful picture of Christ healing a child.

The rector preached the sermon, which was prefaced by a few apt words of welcome to those who were specially present in the interests of the society, whose platform he cordially recognized. His text was Genesis xxi—17—18:

And God heard the voice of the lad; and the angel of God called to Hagar out of heaven and said unto her, Hagar, fear not, for God hath heard the voice of the lad where he is.

Arise, lift up the lad and hold him in thy hand; for I will make him a great nation.

THE SERMON.

The preacher began by a reference to the many wails that rise from this world of pain, to which the world failed in general to respond, not from any lack of feeling but from a sense of inability to give relief or that they had no right to respond to them. But God's ear was always open to the cry of distress. Ishmael was not an exemplary or dutiful or deserving lad, but God heard his cry of distress and his mother was instructed to "lift up" the lad and to "hold" him. In relieving the distress of Ishmael God employed no supernatural means but his blessings followed the obedience to his command of a human agency. This story involving the fact of a divine helper and help by human aid, served as a fitting introduction of the Children's Aid Society and as an indication of its objects. A short outline of the movement which began about four years ago as a purely voluntary organization, was given, but recently the sanction of the Ontario and Dominion Governments was given the society in the form of specific legislation for the better protection of children, which permitted of an organization. Subsequently organization had been procured to give effect to such legislation. The excellent Peterborough society had received during the year in contributions to its funds a total of $210—not a very large sum, but the large amount of good work done upon the excellent management of the officials. Of this total $100 had been contributed by the Town Council, $10 were the proceeds of collections at the Stony Lake services, and $8 were contributed by the Coldsprings Sunday school, the speaker pointing out the exceeding appropriateness of children contributing to the cause of children, and $24 had been received from the contributions at the union Thanksgiving services in the George street Methodist church. There had been spent in the work of the society during the past year up to Dec. 31st, $205.00, leaving a small adverse balance.

REFLECTED GREAT CREDIT

The objects of the society were broadly stated in the text—first to "lift up" children who were destitute, neglected or ill-treated, and the second object was also described in the text to "hold" them up, by exercising a proper and capable supervision over them. Through the agency of the society and through the wide general sympathy with its objects that existed, a vigilant watch was kept over the children of the town, and it was almost impossible for any flagrant case of cruelty to a child to happen without its being brought to the notice of the society through some channel. Brief reference was made to the work done by and through the society during the past year in the way of

from ill-treatment and vicious surroundings and placing them where they would enjoy the comforts and healthful influences of virtuous homes. While the regular officers had been zealous in the discharge of their duties, they had received valuable assistance from our excellent police force; and the Police Magistrate and Chief of Police, who had exceptional opportunities for knowing, were quoted in evidence of the noble work done by the Society. After detailing briefly the means by which the Society carried out its objects, the preacher called attention to two points in connection with the occasion of the evening. One was the cause for gratitude that arose from the fact that another agency had been added to the many that existed in Peterborough for the promotion of beneficent and charitable objects, which would possibly be instrumental in rescuing from vice some child that might in the future occupy, like Ishmael, some important position in the world. In the second place we should rejoice that another opportunity had been presented of assisting in the promotion a good cause, one in which the members of

ALL CHRISTIAN DENOMINATIONS

could, in spite of the divisions which separated them in other respects, work on common ground. The address was closed by urging the officers and the members of the society to go forward, encouraged in their noble work, by the reflection that it was such as would meet the approval and bring the blessing of Him who especially cared for little children.

Envelopes had been placed in all the pews, and the contributions to the funds of the Children's Aid Society were placed in them, amounting to the sum of $12.

With the Sweetness of Melting Foam

Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. A dream of elegance and efficiency, for it whitens and purifies, affording brilliantly white teeth and breath as sweet and fragrant as that of the flowers.

Narrow Escape.

On Thursday morning last Mr. Simpson, son of Mrs. John Simpson, of Harvey, was preparing with a friend from North Verulam to go out for a hunt. They were in the dining room and had loaded a shot gun with buckshot. They were placing a cap on the nipple, and remarking "What if it should go off now," when, bang! the gun did go off. The charge went through the pantry partition, and passed within a few inches of the heads of two young ladies who were asleep in bed, covering the bed with plaster from the wall. The consternation and fright of all parties was great.—Independent.

Cheese Exportations.

Messrs. Hodgson Brothers, the extensive exporting and commission firm of Montreal, issue every year an annual statement giving the statistics of the cheese trade. This year's statement was issued in Montreal Friday. It shows that the total shipments from Montreal, from May 1, to November 1, 1895, have been 1,593,922 boxes, against 1,554,738 boxes last year. The estimated quantity en route to the seaboard on November 9, was 25,000 boxes. The estimated stocks in Montreal on that date are set down at 355,000 boxes, and the total stocks in the country at 2,008,822 boxes, of which are from Kingston, Brockville, Morrisburg, Prescott and Chesterville; it is estimated that 19,000 boxes are in cold storage, 10,000 in factorymen's hands unsold and undelivered, and 10,000 in factorymen's hands unsold.

A Great Feat.

The bicycle run of "200 miles in one day," performed by Dr. W. N. Robertson, of Stratford, Ont., on the 3rd of June, was a remarkable exhibition of endurance in a purely amateur rider. The doctor's scientific training would, no doubt, prove an important factor in successfully engineering such a difficult operation, though, (as may be seen by letter published in another column) he does not hesitate to award the credit for his performance to the agent he relied upon in his great effort. The doctor's testimony to the marvellously sustaining power of Maltine with Coca Wine is entirely spontaneous and unsolicited, and therefore, of the highest value. His report will be read with interest by wheelmen generally, in view of the claim that Maltine Wine with Coca Wine enabled him to "pedal comfortably for hours after the period that I should have been exhausted without it." Dr. Robertson tersely summarises the valuable action of Maltine with Coca Wine in those cases of enervation common among most "novices on the wheel" and affirms that "it is a wonderful sustainer." This preparation may be had at any drug store.

The Kinmount Bridge.

The case of the Township of Somerville against the Counties of Victoria and Peterborough, came on to be heard before Mr. Justice Meredith at the Chancery Sittings of the High Court at Lindsay last Tuesday. The action was brought by the Township of Somerville on a declaration against the Counties of Peterborough and Victoria that the latter were bound to maintain the Kinmount bridge. The County of Victoria although nominally one of the defendants, so far as contesting the case was concerned, sided with the plaintiff. Considerable evidence was taken on both sides, and after argument by counsel, Mr. Meredith reserved judgment. A. B. Aylesworth, Q.C., and McSweyn & Anderson for pltf., and Geo. H. Watson, Q.C., and Stratton & Hall, Peterborough, for dft., the County of Peterborough; Mr. F. D. Moore, Lindsay, for dft., the County of Victoria.

What an Emily Man Says About Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure.

A highly respected and well known citizen of the township of Emily has furnished the following testimonial to Mr. Jas. Lynch, druggist: I am a young man and have been a slave to tobacco since I was a boy. Although I have often tried to stop it I never could succeed until I used Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. Mr. Jas. Lynch, the druggist, recommended me to try this tobacco cure, and after some persuasion I bought a box. I continued using it for a short time and soon found the appetite for tobacco was leaving me. My nerves became stronger, my eyesight brighter and my desire for food improved. Now, I have lost all craving for the filthy weed; and I hereby certify that after using one package of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. I have gained six pounds in weight, and I can heartily recommend it to any who are run down in weight from using tobacco. Some men object to lending their name to a testimonial of this kind, but I consider it my duty to do so if it will help any of my friends or fellow sufferers. G. DARE, Emily, Franklin P.O., Ont.

FOR METHODIST EDUCATION.

SPECIAL SERMONS ON BEHALF OF THE EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY.

Rev. Dr. Reynar in the Charlotte Street Church—Rev. Dr. Briggs, Book Steward, in the George Street Church—the Educational Society and its Work—Financial Prosperity.

Yesterday was Educational Sunday in the George street and Charlotte street churches, and special sermons were given by Rev. Wm. Briggs, D.D., Book Steward, and by Rev. Dr. Reynar, of Victoria University, on behalf of the excellent educational work of the society, whose importance may be estimated by the fact that between $20,000 and $25,000 are collected and expended annually in the interests of Methodist education, in assisting, by way of loans, to be repaid within ten years, students for the ministry who have not means of their own, and to assist in maintaining the various denominational institutions of learning.

CHARLOTTE STREET CHURCH.

Sermons were preached morning and evening in the Charlotte street Methodist church by Rev. Dr. Reynar, on behalf of the Educational Fund.

Large congregations were in attendance at both services. In the evening the Doctor in explaining the object for which he was present stated that to many the Educational Fund was doubtless thought to be something which did not directly affect the congregation and therefore their interests in it were not as keen as they otherwise would be. A simile, which he introduced for the purpose of putting those present more in touch with his mission, explained away the apparent remoteness of the subject to the satisfaction of all. The snow on the top of the mountains, he said, was not esteemed to be of any assistance to the vineyards and cornfields in the valleys, but if the snow entirely disappeared the cornfields and vineyards would from the draught—so it would be with the pulpits and schools, if the educational interests were allowed to lapse.

As the text for his discourse Dr. Reynar spoke from I Cor, xiv. ch., 20 vr. "Brethren be not children in understanding, howbeit in malice be ye children, but in understanding be men." Those were the words of the great apostle. The Almighty had said "be converted and become as little children." Here were two commands found in the Scriptures which were apparently at variance with each other. The contradiction appeared plain. The apostle Paul said "be as men" and the Saviour exhorted all to "be as little children."

The apostle held forth man as the perfect ideal of spiritual life and the Almighty apparently alloted perfection to the condition of the little ones.

Though these two sentiments apparently clashed, they were found not to do so when the circumstances under which they were uttered were ascertained. In this case the Lord selected a virtue and said "be as little children"—reverent and humble. The apostle in speaking of the vice of malice writes "be as children"—ignorant of it."

IN OTHER PARTS of the Scriptures it would be found that the Saviour and his apostles were all in declaring perfect manhood to be the ideal of spiritual life. The mind of a young man naturally turned away from childish things. A divine instinct calls him to admiration of strength and valour, and in consequence he was often turned from religion by caricaturists who held religion up as childish.

It is not the will of the Heavenly Father, said he, that you should go on singing "Oh, to be Nothing." He did not create you to be nothing, but created you in the image of God, his well beloved Son—a son who was strong and the express image of his person.

In the text Paul utters a warning against low ideas of Christian life, "Be not children in understanding." Surely this was a plea for education. The circumstances under which the words were uttered were strikingly parallel with the case of the Methodist church to day. Paul was speaking to the members of the Church at Corinth. Many of these went to such extremes of religious enthusiasm, as to render their sayings

UNINTELLIGIBLE TO OTHERS.

Outsiders who could not understand the fervour of the men, thought their conduct strange, while to others who attended the church it was easy to understand the passage from sublime awe and reverence to the highest state of exaltation, when they would be lifted above the joys of physical existence to the highest plane of the spiritual world. Paul says not a word against this great exaltation, but argues against a too one-sided growth in religion and urges that a symmetrical development is preferable. The great joys, he points out, of a spiritual life are to be able to attain this exaltation and at the same time to pray with understanding and clearness of expression, in order that your religion may be helpful to your brethren and to outsiders, as well.

It was particularly important that Methodists should take this lesson to heart. There were many earnest Christians of great zeal, who, if they had but been able to derive the advantages of education sufficiently to express their grand thoughts, would have rendered inestimable services to the cause of Christ.

In closing the Doctor trusted that the words of Paul so strikingly applicable to the condition of affairs in the church today had been sent home to the hearts of the congregation in a manner which would reveal plainly to them the urgent necessity for the advancement of Educational interests.

GEORGE STREET METHODIST CHURCH.

The pulpit was occupied by Rev. Wm. Briggs, D.D., Book Steward. He preached instructive and practical sermons, morning and evening. The congregation was well represented at both services. The reverend gentleman took his text in the morning, first from the Job xxix, 15 and 16—"I was eyes to the blind, and feet was I to the lame. I was a father to the poor; and the cause which I knew not I searched out." Second, Romans viii, 28:—"And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to His purpose."

A tree, the preacher said, grows better on the weather side of the hill—the side where storms attack it, and so with the "tree of grace;" it grows better and flourishes on the side where it is attacked

ASSIGNED.

The Peterborough Carbon Company Assigns—Mr. R. R. Hall Appointed Assignee—A Meeting of Creditors to be Called at Once.

At a full meeting of the directors of the Peterborough Carbon and Porcelain Company, held on Saturday afternoon, the company decided that in the interests of the creditors, the cheapest and best way of winding up the business of the company was to make an assignment. This course has been practically forced upon them, owing to proceedings having been taken that might possibly give a priority to some creditors, and owing to the length of time taken to complete the transfer of the property to the Canadian General Electric Company. The liabilities of the company amount to about $32,000, with nominal assets. It is anticipated that about 20 cents on the dollar will be paid the creditors. Mr. R. R. Hall was appointed assignee and a meeting of the creditors has been called for on Wednesday, December fourth at the office of Messrs. Stratton & Hall.

He will take no Risks.

Shrewdness of a wellknown City Merchant.

HE KNEW WHAT WAS GOOD FOR HIM.

In winter when Canadians spend a large portion of their time indoors and cannot have the same variety of fresh food as in summer and fall, indigestion and dyspepsia afflict a majority. "If anybody will tell me that dyspepsia in its advanced stages is perfectly curable," said a Toronto merchant, "I will take his word. Personally I run no risks. As soon as I feel a sense of weight in the stomach, after a meal, I know that my blood is sluggish in circulation. In my business I cannot take much exercise, and I fight the first sign of stomach troubles with Scott's Sarsaparilla. It has never failed me, and has saved me many a doctor's bill."

Scott's Sarsaparilla possesses medicinal properties superior to all other so-called sarsaparillas made. As a remedy for indigestion, rheumatism, pimples, scrofula and all blood diseases, physicians state that its equal was never known. Sold at $1 per bottle, of all dealers.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 22.—Only two favorites reached home first at Pimlico to-day. The winners were all well backed, however, the longest shot being 10 to 1, in a large field. The Morris stable carried off two of the events with their scarlet representatives. The last race was the heaviest betting event of the season. Candelabra was the popular favorite, but there was an avalanche of Long Bridge money, his odds going down from 4 to 1 to 7 to 5. Neither of them was in it at the finish. Integrity won easily, with Tom Moore, the despised outsider, in the place. Summaries:

First race, ⅝ mile—Brisk, 9 to 10, 1; Forum, 15 to 1, 2; Irvan, 20 to 1, 3. Time 1.04½.

Second race, mile—Sue Kitty, 1 to 3, 1; Claureee, 10 to 1, 2; Lady McCann, 20 to 1, 3. Time 1.45½.

Third race, ⅝ mile—Trincolo, 3 to 5, 1; Eclipse, 4 to 1, 2; Sup Up, 2 to 1, 3. Time 1.16½.

Fourth race, mile—The Swain, 8 to 5, 1; Charter, 6 to 1, 2; Olly Gamin, 4 to 5, 3. Time 1.48½.

Fifth race, ⅝ mile—Volley, 10 to 1, 1; Palmerston, 1 to 2, 2; Beau Ideal, 20 to 1, 3. Time 1.16⅝.

Sixth race, 1⅛ miles—Integrity, 4 to 1, 1; Tom Moore, 50 to 1, 2; Diaolus, 6 to 1, 3. Time 2.17.

More Trotters Sold in Gotham.

New York, Nov. 22.—There were some fast and well-bred trotters sent under the hammer at Madison Square Garden to-day, the third day of the W. B. Fasig & Company's big sale of trotting stock.

Divan, 2.16, by Patchen Wilkes, out of Betsy, by Draco went to T. J. Wharton of Grange, N.J., for $150. The Parkville Farm got the great mare Laurel, 2.09¾, and the daughter of Brown Hal and Myrtle will doubtless prove an acquisition to Mr. Shultz's stable. Robert B., race record 2.12, was bought by R. Blumenthal of Hartford, Conn., for $540. The Silver Brook Farm's Memona, by Aberdeen, out of Senorita, dam of Republican, 2.19¼, was knocked down to R. Rusch of Baltimore at $1010. A. J. Welsh of Baltimore paid $1350 for Lady Tennyson, consigned by Howard Hayden of East Williston, N.Y. Fanny Wilcox, 2.10¼, should be of some fast trotters, and Mr. Cheney of Boston got the daughter of Jerome, Eddy and Evemont cheaply, for $850. Zilla K. and Willie Davis, from the stables of J. W. Whitney of Rochester, went to F. H. Proctor of Utica, N.Y., for $1000. The 5-year-old mare Sappho, 2.25½, with a trial record of 2.18½, fell to G. A. Kerr of Rondout for $900. Dr. Denton of Philadelphia paid $1000 for Grayfield, 2.10¾, from the consignment of John Renner of Philadelphia.

Hanlan in His Old Form.

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 22.—Ed. Hanlan to-day evened honors with George Bubear at Dickinson Bayou by winning the fourth race in the series of five for the championship of England. To-day's race was the best of those rowed. No accidents occurred. The men got away on an even start, but had not gone a quarter before Hanlan took the lead, at one time increasing it to two lengths, pulling a 40 stroke. He was never caught, and Bubear finished a length and a half behind. Time, 11½, over a two-mile course. The deciding heat will be rowed to-morrow, and Hanlan is decidedly the favorite.

Fitzsimmons After Corbett.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 22.—Martin Julian, Robert Fitzsimmons and party are here. In an interview, Julian says that Corbett must either crawl or accept Stuart's last proposal. Fitzsimmons has signed the articles in blank, and concedes to Corbett the privilege of dictating every detail, only reserving the demand that the fight be to a finish with small gloves. He will also agree that Corbett and Brady shall select the referee.

Canadian Pressed Hay in England.

London, Nov. 23.—A sample of compressed fodder has been received by the Canadian Government agent at Bristol and inspected by experts, who have made a report highly commending it as especially suitable for the purposes of the army and other large consumers.

Comet With a Ten Million Mile Tail.

San Jose, Cal., Nov. 24.—Perrin's comet has been observed here by Prof Aitkin every morning except Monday since the discovery. The tail is increasing in length at the rate of about one million miles per day. With the aid of a photograph taken Saturday morning the computed length of the visible tail was found to be at least 10,000,000 miles.

THE HYAMS' DEFENCE

Mr. Osler's Wordy Battle With the Doctors.

SOME INTERESTING CROSS-FIRING.

Dr. I. H. Cameron Proved a Strong Witness for the Twins and Made Fun for the Spectators—Dr. Strange and Dr. Powell Also Examined.

Toronto, Nov. 23.—The second day of the defence in the Hyams murder trial was the most uninteresting since the opening of the case. With the exception of the few moments occupied by the testimony of Mrs. Burgess, medical experts were on the stand the entire day. Dr. Cameron has proved to be the only strong medical witness the defence have put forward.

In the examination-in-chief of his witnesses Mr. Johnston does not display the energy manifested by him while cross-examining the witnesses for the Crown. This habit of deliberation on the part of the counsel for the defence has a tendency to unduly lengthen the time of the witness on the stand.

In The World of Thursday it was stated that Dr. E. E. King's testimony was that the apex of the cone into which the head was compressed, was at the brow. This was inaccurate, Dr. King having sworn that the apex was at the vertex.

Dr. I. H. Cameron, professor of clinical surgery in Toronto University, was the first witness examined yesterday. His evidence was couched in highly scientific terms, and, touching as it did upon so many branches of science, proved interesting and instructive to those whose mental power was sufficient to follow through its mazes, aside altogether from the value it proved to contain for the counsel for the defence in their efforts to raise a doubt in the minds of the jurymen as to the guilt of their clients. Compactly put, Dr. Cameron's evidence was that the Johnstonian theory was a reasonable one. In other words, that if Wells was holding the pull rope in his right hand, at the same time looking up the weight shaft to ascertain the cause of the stoppage of the weight, and the weight became loosened from the hook, in its descent struck Wells on the head and felled him to the floor, then continuing its downward course, struck the buffer block and toppled over on to the head which had reached the floor first and was in position to receive the second blow, all the injuries apparent in the skull, including the fracture to the internal angular process, could have been occasioned.

Dr. Cameron proved to be a strong witness in cross-examination. For the purpose of illustrating his questions, Mr. Osler had Detective Cuddy procure two small wooden models from an artists' supply store in Yonge-street. The postures which they were made to assume by the Crown counsel, during his cross-examination of Dr. Cameron, created no little amusement for the court.

Mrs. Burgess, to whom Miss Latimer swore to having delivered a letter on the morning of January 16, 1893, and who came down from Muskoka to give evidence on behalf of the defence, was afraid that the severe weather might make her return home very difficult if she was delayed, and asked to be allowed to give her testimony at once. It was agreed that her evidence given in chief and in cross-examination at the last trial should be read to the jury. Her story was that the letter delivered to her by Miss Latimer was in answer to a request by the witness to Harry Hyams to send her the address of Mrs. Hyams, in Florida.

Dr. F. W. Strange accepted the Johnstonian theory of the falling of the weight, the intervening buffer block and the waiting head as a probable and reasonable explanation of the manner in which the injuries to the skull were occasioned.

At the opening of his cross-examination of Dr. Strange, Mr. Osler asked him to place the head in the position which he thought it occupied in relation to the buffer block when the second blow was received, and then asked him to place it in a position where the crown would be presented to the buffer block, so that the right external angular process would receive the first impact.

"Is that Dr. Cameron's description?" asked the witness.

"Never mind whose description it is," replied Mr. Osler, "just place it in the position asked."

When the request had been complied with, to do which the witness found it necessary to alter the position of the head to an extent of 45 degrees, Mr. Osler informed the witness that the latter was the description given, not by Dr. Cameron, but by himself at the last trial.

Dr. Powell, said there was not more than the record of a single blow, distinguishable as such, in the injuries to the skull of Wells. The internal angular process could be broken off by the pressure of the thumb. The witness said he would willingly undertake to do it in a dead subject, where it would be accessible. Dr. Powell's examination-in-chief was not finished when the court rose.

Weak Links.

When the kidneys are weak, or overworked poisons of various kinds are sure to slip past them.

Sickness of some kind is sure to result.

The kidneys are filters and their work is to keep poisons out of the circulation.

The sickness will depend on the nature of the poison—It may be Malaria or Typhoid poison—or something else.

People with weak kidneys can escape these effects by aiding these organs by kidney treatment.

People are coming to understand this truth. It explains why Dodd's Kidney Pills though only a kidney medicine set people right, and they get well.

It is all because they go straight to the cause which shows itself in the weak link.

When you are sick use Dodd's Kidney Pills for they always cure.

ARTISTIC WOMEN.

HANDY GIRLS WITH ORIGINAL IDEAS ARE ON DECK.

How the Home Is Transformed—They Make the Old Things Like Unto New, and Their Tactful Management Is Plainly Evident.

There was a time not so very long ago when the parlor or "best room" of the house was a dreary, stuffy place, altogether uninviting, and fortunately, used only on very few occasions. There were emerald green shades at the windows, and possibly lace curtains hanging from massive gilt cornices; there was the black hair-cloth mahogany-framed lounge covering all one side of the wall, with its pillow of silk "crazy" work. There were a few stiff-backed chairs upright aginst the wall, a one-legged, round-topped stand holding the Bible, a few hideous pictures, and the "best room" was furnished in keeping with the times.

But the times are progressive; old things are pushed aside, transferred to the attic, or so renovated as to be unrecognizable, and made to do service in the artistic appointments of the modern drawing room.

Occasionally one sees a dismal old-time "best room" in a country house, where there are no young folks to "take hold" and change things, and their air of general discontent with the gay outside world gives one the creeps. It is wonderful the number of pretty, artistic trifles a woman may create from very cheap material—if only she can use a hammer and hit the nail once in a dozen times—and use the paint brush or carving tools with any amount of dexterity—and most women can, along with the progress made in all other lines. There are as yet no women in the cabinet business, but that does not infer that there will not be in time to come.

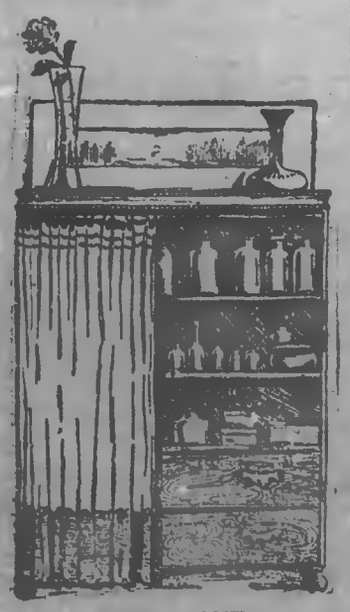
The artistic, creative part of the work seems essentially womanly. In many of the large factories the designers are women; and certainly they turn out much more graceful, idealistic furniture than do their male rivals. Wood carving may be used to a lavish extent, even on the wood work of the room; that the effect is rich goes without saying. There is one thing necessary to the success of this branch of work, and that is rich material; the wood must be evenly grained and of good quality. Black walnut has sprung forward once more, and is now very much in favor. It is one of the favorite woods for carving purposes when it is desired to leave the wood in its natural state.



MEDICINE CABINET.

The designs for such work are mostly the more artistic ones in coarse, open patterns, with a picked-out background. Very little fine work is employed, as it loses in effect, unless the article happens to be small, when, of course, the carving is made to suit.

A Moorish table, the production of a young girl, is an elaborate piece of workmanship, and is the finishing touch to an artistic corner in the picturesque drawing room. It is quite low, built with six sides, the material being solid walnut. The top, after being cut the desired size, was left in its plain state, except for a narrow edge of beading. The six sides were solid pieces three inches thick.

After the design was carefully traced the square openings were hewn out, and the carved heading put on. They were set together with small brass braces to add strength to the affair. It was treated to several coats of oil, so that it has a dull polish. Upon it is placed a massive low bowl of "Teck" ware, a rich golden brown, filled with fragrant pink roses.

This same energetic young girl changed a plain, heavily-framed hall chair into a thing of beauty by means of a little effort and her carving tools. At the top of the plain, heavy back she carved a dragon's head in the round, with huge claws spread either side and winding tails interlacing in and out down the arms to the front legs. She then upholstered the seat with crimson corduroy, and a handsomer piece of hall furniture it would be difficult to find. But we do not always have costly woods at hand, and must do without carving in many cases.

A medicine cabinet is easily planned; it is a useful piece of furniture in any house, especially when there are young children it is well to know just where to put your hand on the desired drug at a moment's notice.

The frame work is of common white pine, well seasoned; cut the back and sides of equal length and set them together in box shape. When the top is placed insert the shelves on little wooden ledges, with the drawers at the bottom. The shelves should be labeled according to the sort of drugs they hold, so that there may be no mistakes; and the drawers are to hold soft linen, old bits of muslin and flannel and surgeon's cotton for bandages. Finish the top with a narrow beaded cornice, which may be cut out by hand or bought from the cabinet maker's.

After it is all set together treat it to a coat of common white paint, then two coats of white enamel. Scroll the drawers with dull china blue, and screw on drawer pulls of brass. From the brass rod suspend a curtain of denim worked with a solid border of golden brown and white linen, making it full enough to draw across and conceal the contents.

The top is a convenient receptacle for flower holders of different sorts, and the whole represents much the same appearance as a dainty bookcase or cabinet.

The Original Uncle Tom.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 22.—George Harris, the old negro who is the original "Uncle Tom" in Mrs. Harriet Beecer Stowe's boohk, "Uncle Tom's Cabin," is living in this city in a destitute condition. He will be 84 years old next March and is very feeble. The negroes for whose freedom he worked for years do not appreciate his labors in their behalf. They have made no effort to save him from starvation and were it not for a few white friends he would starve to death.

Rheumatism Runs Riot

When there is lactic acid in the blood. Liniments and lotions will be of no permanent benefit. A cure can be accomplished only by neutralizing this acid and for this purpose Hood's Sarsaparilla is the best medicine because Hood's Sarsaparilla is the only true blood purifier prominently in the public eye.

HOOD'S PILLS act easily, yet promptly and effectively on the liver and bowels. 25c.

Yellow Oil used internally and externally cures asthma, croup, coughs, sore throat, bronchitis, and similar complaints. Externally it cures rheumatism, lumbago, sprains, cuts, chilblains, frost bites, and sprains and aches of every kind.

A foul breath is one of the greatest afflictions that a man or woman can have. An affliction not only to themselves, but to those with whom they come in contact. A foul breath is a dreadful discourager of affection, or rather of the demonstration of affection. It would probably be more so if people only realized just what bad breath means. Bad breath is one of the symptoms of constipation. Some of the other symptoms are sour stomach, loss of appetite, sick and bilious headache, dizziness, heartburn and distress after eating. These things mean indigestion. They lead to dyspepsia and worse things. They all start with constipation, and constipation is inexcusable because it can be cured—cured easily, quickly and permanently, by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. They are a perfect remedy for this most common of all troubles. They give to nature just the little help that she needs. They are very mild in their action, and act without any violence whatever. In this, they are different from many preparations offered for a similar purpose. Sometimes the remedy is worse than the disease, Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are mild, but they are infallibly efficient. They do the work which they are intended to do, without deranging the system in any way. They not only give immediate relief, but the benefit derived from them is permanent. You can stop taking them by and by and there is no danger that you will become a slave to their use. The druggist who tries to sell you something else "just as good," either does not know what he is talking about, or he makes more money on the other thing. If you care more for his prosperity than you do for your own health, take the other thing. If you value your health, insist on having Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. THE SECRET OUT

THE secret is out. The Government Insurance Blue Books have revealed it. The facts of the case will prove of real value to all those seeking a company where permanent satisfaction can be secured under a Policy of Life Insurance. The telescope has been turned upon those who withdrew from with-u prominent companies in 1894.

It is obvious to any one that the proportion of persons who lapse or surrender their policies in any company is a fairly good test of the satisfaction or dissatisfaction existing therein. If policy-holders are receiving satisfactory profit results, if they are being honestly and honourably dealt with, if they cannot do better elsewhere, then it is plain these facts will show themselves in the small number who surrender their policies or allow them to lapse.

To test these conditions, and to discover the company that is giving greatest satisfaction to its policy-holders, as evidenced by their determination to continue their policies, we have made an analysis of the facts, as reported in the blue books containing the business for 1894 of the leading Canadian Companies. We have calculated the ratio per cent. of assurances surrendered to the average business in force in 1894 also the ratio per cent. of assurance lapsed to the average business in force. Intending assurers have here an inside view of Life Assurance that is full of significance. When a company stands out so prominently as does the CANADA LIFE ASSURANCE COMPANY in this test, it means that its merits are known and recognized by those who become connected with it.

This is but another of those numerous tests in which the CANAA LI FE shows its superiority.

The following table tells the whole story :—

COMPANY.	Per Cent. Surrendered.	PerCent. Lapsed.	Per Cent. Lapsed and Surrendered.
CANADA LIFE.....	.70	2.10	2.80
Confederation Life	2.33	4.65	6.98
North American	1.73	6.97	8.70
Ontario Mutual	2.51	6.59	9.10
Sun Life.....	2.68	8.54	11.17

The above figures are compiled from the Dominion Insurance report, issued by the Superintendent of Insurance, at Ottawa.

Once more, and as usual, the CANADA LIFE COMPANY comes out on top.

COMPARE

The following two Peterborough results with anything else of the kind in existence in the town. Other companies promise, we perform. That is the great difference.

W. H's Life Policy for $10,000, issued April, 1889, Age 23, Annual Premium $177.

Total Cost for 6 years.....1,062 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,250 Dollars

Nearly 200 Dollars more than Insurance Cost.

A. E's Life Policy for $5,000, issued April, 1886, Age 22, Annual Premium $86.

Total Cost for 9 years..... 774 Dollars
Profits Added to Policy .....1,000 Dollars

More than 200 Dollars over Cost of Insurance.

FOR METHODIST EDUCATION.

by sin and the world. All things work together for good to them who love God. It should be noticed that the text says, all things, not most, few or some things, but pain as well as pleasure, loss as well as gain, sickness as well as health. A good man's life must be taken as a whole not in parts. We must not listen to a chorus and take the voices one by one, but all must be taken together, so with life, its drawbacks and advantages must be taken as one.

Some people throw their religion away when they see truth and right driven to the wall when sin and worldiness is living in palaces. And again it has been asked by some persons why doesn't God kill the devil and more than one has asked the question, but all these things work together for good.

Paul had some very hard burdens to carry but still he carried them all. A Christian who carries the heaviest burdens is all the better Christian. God keeps track of all these things. And further every man can allow that God does mark the events from the smallest worm that works its way through the ground up to the cherubim and so great events do not accomplish great ends. Sir Thos. Treshand was left in a field to die when a stranger passing an idle hour chasing a grasshopper came to where the child was, and so taking care of him, he came to be city treasurer. This was a small thing but see what it has accomplished. God gives great blessings in very small baskets. You cannot measure the limit of what a kind word or a shake of the hand will do.

The preacher said he had read of Providence and had heard sermons on it, but it was all one sided. We can do nothing when Providence will not help us. The thought of God came to us through the brains of men. In the days of the Apostles their utterances were the thoughts of God, and so to-day God doesn't act for us but He gives us the thoughts and we are supposed to utter them.

After the sermon Rev. W. R. Young very plainly told of the object of the Educational Society. He said this society had progressed very favourably in the past year. Last year the collections and subscriptions amounted to $22,000, being $2,000 more than the previous year. Its principal object was to help educate the young ministers who were unable, financially, to put themselves through college. The society lends this money without interest, payable in ten years, when the repayment goes to help others who will come in the future. It also supports Victoria and Albert College, Wesley College, Montreal, British Columbia College, and others.

In the evening Rev. Dr. Briggs preached another powerful sermon, taking as his text Exodus xiii ch., 21st ver., "And the Lord went before them in a pillar of a cloud to lead them the way, and by night a pillar of fire to give them light to go by day and night. He took not away the pillar of cloud nor the pillar of fire by night from before the people." The following verse was used in conjunction with the foregoing:—"And in their affliction He was afflicted, and the angel of His presence saved them. In His love and His pity He redeemed them, and He bore them and carried them all the days of old.

In speaking of the wonderful phenomenon of the pillar cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night, the speaker directed the attention of his audience to the fact that these were no created objects. No human will could doubt these forces, winds could not scatter nor rain quench them. In the day time the cloud spread out its folds to prevent the scorching heat of the sun from inconveniencing the multitude, and at night the fire was sent as a guide and for warmth. God was at the head of all this, and with mankind He is their leader and captain. The Israelites were not to think of the past or of the future, but of the present. God was caring for them in the present, and would undoubtedly do so in the future. So should it be with the Christians of to-day.

There are many men of genius, said he, in Canada, the United States and England, who speak very kind words about Christianity as a power in the past. They say, however, that it has not the power now that it had in the past. This is what the present day Christians have to combat. Robert Ingersoll, the American infidel, in his lectures tries to cry down Christianity, but yet the church of Christ seems to flourish even if it has such men as Ingersoll, Voltaire and others to fight against.

THE WHEEL.

It is now about time to put away bicycles for the winter, and some directions for their care before they take a rest of a few months will be of value. First, says a writer on the subject in the Buffalo Express, clean the wheel thoroughly. Wipe off every speck of dust, and if there is any rust on the nickel parts, rub it off with some good metal polish. Pay special attention to the spokes, the pedals and the rear hub close by the sprocket. Take the chain off by removing the bolt that holds the two ends together, and put it to soak in a dish of kerosene while the rest of the machine is being doctored. Then, if you want to have an easy-running wheel in the spring, fill a small oil can with kerosene and run it through all the bearings until it ceases to turn black and dirty, but comes out as clear as water. This removes all the old gummy oil and dirt, and clears the way for a dose of fresh oil, which need not be applied until you use the wheel again. The hub bearings are best cleaned through the regular oil holes, but the sprocket bearing is easily reached by removing the saddle post and pouring a pint or so of kerosene down the hollow cross brace of the frame.

After the bearings and chain are thoroughly cleaned with the kerosene, wipe off all superfluous oil and then proceed to bedaub the machine liberally with vaseline. Spread the vaseline freely and thickly, taking care that the nickel parts are thoroughly covered. The chain should be thickly covered, and it will not harm wood rims. Tires, saddles, and cork handles, however, are not improved by vaseline.

If the wheel is going to stand on the floor all winter the tires should be left inflated to prevent the rim from cutting them. A much better scheme is to suspend the wheel from a rafter with a couple of ropes and deflate the tires. A wheel thus treated and kept in a place where the atmosphere is not positively reeking with moisture will be found in the spring to be in perfect condition, and a few minutes' work with a woolen cloth will remove all traces of the vaseline and bring out all the beauty of the enamel and nickel.

From the point of view of Yankee cyclists and cycle writers America constitutes the world in so far as cycling is concerned. Whenever a record is made there it is at once labeled a world's record and every paper in the blooming country publishes it as such.

As I write the following lies before me: "Another world's record is claimed by an American rider. Fred C. List, of Syracuse, rode 5 miles, paced by the tandem, on the road in 11.17." Five miles in 11.17 is pretty fair riding but it doesn't come within forty seconds of the English record by Palmer, an amateur, who made the distance in 10.28 2 5. I am thinking that a good many of the world's records made by Americans will pan out the same w y.

CHURCH CHIMES.

The annual business meeting of St. Luke's Guild will be held in the school house this evening.

Rev. J. J. Rae preached a missionary sermon in Fairview yesterday afternoon and in the evening conducted services at Bridgenorth.

Miss Hendren's rendition of "One Sweetly Solemn Thought" yesterday in the Charlotte street Methodist church, was fully appreciated as being exceptionally well sung.

The choir of the Charlotte street church sang a beautiful arrangement of the Te Deum last evening, in which Miss Hendren and Mr. Alf Miller took the solo parts with great acceptability.

The Witmer Brothers, of St. Thomas, spent Sunday in town, and in the evening greatly delighted the congregation of the Park Street Baptist Church by singing "Jesus Changeth Not."

The Y.P.S.C.E. of St. Paul's church held its regular weekly meeting last evening, after service, in order not to conflict with Rev. Mr. Patterson's lecture on "Ireland and the Irish" this evening.

The morning anthem in the Charlotte street Methodist church was entitled "We Thank Thee, O Father." The duet was very effectively taken by Miss Florence Hall and Miss Martha Stevens.

A quartette composed of Misses Vina and Annie Belleghem and Messrs. Skitch and James Brown, sang "Nearer Home" with splendid effect and perfect harmony in the George street Methodist church yesterday morning.

Rev. W. S. McAlpine sang "When I Get Home," accompanying himself on the guitar, yesterday morning, in the Park Street Baptist Church. In the evening he sang "Come Unto Me." Both selections were admirably rendered.

Mr. Albert H. Perry, of Detroit, who gives an entertainment in the George street Methodist church this evening sang "Calvary" last night to the congregation of that church in a manner which greatly pleased all. Mr. Perry possesses a deep bass voice of wonderful range and sweetness.

Service were conducted both morning and evening in the Park Street Baptist Church, yesterday, by Rev. W. S. McAlpine, B.A., of the Kenilworth Ave. Baptist Church, Toronto. In the morning he took as his text the words: "A little while and ye shall not see me, and again a little while and ye shall see me."—John xvi ch., 16 ver. A most eloquent sermon was preached.

On the Sunday evenings of Advent and the first Sunday after Christmas a course of five sermons will be preached on "Spiritual Law," in St. Luke's church, as follows: (1) The Reign of Law in the Spiritual Life, (2) The Law of Habit. (3) The Law of Retribution. (4) The Law of Reward. (5) The Law of Love. The music at these services will be bright and congregational, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

The rector of St. Luke's very warmly thanked the members of the congregation for the liberality they had shown towards the poor fund. During the past few days the sum of about thirty dollars in cash and some ten dollars worth of provisions had been contributed. They still needed contributions of clothing. He also thanked the congregation for a further subscription of over twenty dollars for the Sunday school library fund. New books will be purchased at once.

The especial attention of the congregation of St. Luke's is directed to the communicants' class, which will be held on the last Friday in each month in the school house. All members of the church are urged to attend, but the following rules are for members of the class:—(1) To attend the monthly class; (2) To endeavour to bring at least one person with them; (3) To communicate at least once a month and always (if possible) on the first Sunday in the month. (4) To use daily a prayer for the Parish. The Rector spoke at considerable length on the objects of this class, (1) to deepen the spiritual life of the congregation; and (2) to increase the sense of fellowship amongst its members. At each meeting of the class there will be an address on some definite topic, but the meeting will be less formal than a service, and those who attend are requested to extend to each other the utmost cordiality, and to especially welcome, and make themselves known to, strangers.

Sunday next being Advent Sunday, the Rector of St. Luke's has asked the congregation to devote some hours during the next few weeks to the consideration of some of the more solemn questions of life: Death, Eternity, Retribution, Reward. There will be two celebrations of the Holy Communion on Sunday, at 8 a.m. and 11 a.m. The members of the Guild were reminded that Advent Sunday was their annual corporate communion. He hoped that as many as possible would attend. Above all he urged upon them such mediations upon their lives as would result in the joyful celebration of Christmas, the festival of God's love and men's brotherhood.

That no remedy in the market affords such prompt relief in toothache, neuralgia and rheumatism as Nerviline, and its action in cases of cramps, colic, etc., is simply marvellous. Remarking this to a physician of experience he stated that from his knowledge of the composition of Nerviline no remedy could surpass it as a family remedy, and that in every household a bottle of Nerviline should be available for emergent demands. Readers of this paper should try Nerviline.

STORE NEWS
—AT—
TURNBULL'S

Our aim is to make our store the brightest and best shopping place in the country by keeping always on hand such goods as people require, making quality the first consideration and price the second. Knowing that this is what the people appreciate, with double our old floor space we are now in a position to carry a much larger and varied stock than ever, and keep adding lines as we see we can handle them.

This week we have added a nice assortment of Felt Embroidered Table Scarfs, Table Covers and Shopping Bags.

See the nice Embroidered Shopping Bag we can give you for 25 cents.

We also handle Silk and Chenille Pom Pons, Tassels, Cords, etc., for Fancy Work, at much lower prices we find than they have been sold for before. We also keep a stock of Curtain Poles, Dado Blinds, Screws and Curtain Nets, and have doubled our Carpet stock. We will not quote prices to-day, but you will find our values more than right.

We expect on the next train a big shipment of American Table Oilcloths in beautiful colours and small patterns. Drop in and see them, if you do not want to buy you can tell your neighbors about them.

We have something interesting for boys this week in eight or ten pieces good Wool Tweeds, only 25c a yard; men will also find them excellent goods to wear. Boys be happy, we have a stock of new Braces, only 5c per pair.

See our Astrachan and Cloth Caps at from 30c to 75c each, just fresh from the factory. We have also a number of lengths of choice imported Overcoatings to make up for whoever selects them, at prices that cannot be beaten elsewhere. We speak strongly because we are strong on this line. Perfect fit and style guaranteed in our ordered clothing or no sale.

Heavy Flannelette Night Dresses, our own make, at $1 each.

Those Dress Tweeds we spoke about a week or two ago at 25c, worth 65c, are rolling rapidly; although we purchased a very large quantity, they will soon be out. We call attention to them again, as we would like our regular customers to get their portion of them before they are all gone.

BAD DAY FOR THEM.

Hyams' Witnesses Fared Badly Yesterday.

CROWN COUNSEL TANGLED THEM.

Witnesses Became Confused and Contradicted Themselves and Each Other—Both the Prisoners in Barbers' Chairs at the Time Wells Was Killed, So it is Was Said.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—The defence being put up by the counsel for the Hyamses twins received a severe shaking up at the hands of Mr. Osler yesterday. No new evidence was submitted, the witnesses examined and the lines of defence followed being the same as those at the last trial. The witnesses were placed at the great disadvantage of having to tell their story the second time within the six months. If Mr. Osler had not been armed with the sworn statements made by these witnesses at the previous trial, his cross-examination would not have been so effective as to tie up with a plenitude of contradictions every man who entered the witness box. On the points which have a direct bearing upon the case, their stories were fairly well maintained, but in many particulars, which, though not necessary to the alibi being put up, were excellent tests of memory for men who were swearing to such minute detail of three years ago, there was a confusion worse than that of Babel. It was a failing with every witness to forget matters of very recent occurrence, at the same time recalling with remarkable precision the most trivial incidents of January 16th, 1893. If the memories of the men who gave evidence yesterday were as defective as to the events of that day as they appeared to be concerning all other days before or since, faint, indeed, would be the hope of the twins for their lives.

The defence are trying to prove that Willie Wells was killed shortly after 9 o'clock in the morning; that Dallas Hyams was in a barber shop in Jordan-street at that hour, and Harry in a barber shop in Leader-lane. Three witnesses had sworn on behalf of the defence that at 9 o'clock on the morning of Wells' death they saw Dallas Hyams in his office at 11 King-street west, when another defence witness upset their testimony by swearing that Dallas Hyams was in the Jordan-street barber shop from 8.30 until 9.20 on that morning.

What little of the alibi is left when Mr. Osler's cross-examinations are concluded, the Crown expect to shatter in the rebuttal testimony they will offer.

TWO MYSTERIOUS DEATHS.

Tom Kavanagh and William Holtorf Gone to Another World.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Shortly after 6 o'clock last evening Thomas C. Kavanagh, bartender, 35 years of age, died suddenly in a police ambulance while on the way to St. Michael's Hospital, and circumstances point to a clear case of suicide.

He had been sitting in the billiard room at the Albion Hotel with a couple of friends named Deacon and Frawley, when the two latter were seen to rise, and one of them said: "Come, Tom." With this they passed into a little room at one end of the bar, and Kavanagh asked for a "hot whiskey." This was given him, and he poured into it a powder from a white paper, evidently put up at some drug store. To his friends he remarked, that it was something he was taking for his head, and, as he had been complaining of headache, nothing was thought of it. The trio returned to the billiard room and Kavanagh sat down in a chair by himself. About five minutes afterwards he called out in agony to Marker Martin of the billiard room to come to him at once. He struggled and appeared to be in pain; the legs stiffened and there seemed to be a peculiar twitching of the hands. The suffering man was laid upon the floor, and between his struggles managed to gasp out: "Send for the ambulance, boys, I'm done." The ambulance was sent for and everything possible done for the man until Dr. Noble arrived. The Doctor suspected strychnine poison from the symptoms, but the man being in a spasm, it was impossible to administer an antidote. He was put into the ambulance to be taken to St. Michael's Hospital, and, as stated above, died on the way.

Deceased's family live in Newmarket, Ont., and his wife and two children are visiting there now. His brother telephoned last night that the father would come down to-day and take charge of the body.

Deceased was despondent because, since leaving the Metropole, where he had been installed as manager by the assignee, he had been doing nothing, and on account of a deal falling through, whereby he was to have been installed in the hotel business at Lambton Mills, the hotel referred to having been secured by another brewing firm than that backing him.

Henry W. Holtorf, who has for some time past conducted a misfit clothing store at 190 King-street west, was found dead in a room at the Kensington Hotel at 10 a.m. yesterday. He had been downstairs at about 7 a.m., going out for a short time and then returning to his room.

When the chambermaid went to attend to his apartments the door was locked, and, fearing something wrong, Mr Charles Palmer, the manager, forced an entrance and found the young man's body lying on the bed, fully dressed. Life had evidently been extinct for some hours.

At about midnight on Sunday a strong smell of gas was perceived in an upper corridor, and upon Mr. Palmer going to Holtorf's room he found it full of gas. He asked Holtorf what he meant, and if he had turned the gas on on purpose, to which Holtorf laughingly remarked, "You must think I am crazy."

Coroner Johnson was called in but could not state what caused the man's death, unless it was heart disease. There was no evidence of a drug in the room and nothing to indicate that death had come hard.

Deceased was a son-in-law of Henry Hulse, proprietor of the Wilson House, York-street, and was married about five years. His wife recently went to Chicago on a visit, and since that time Holtorf boarded at different hotels. On Saturday night he left the Grand Union and registered at the Kensington.

Germany, Russia and France.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—The Tageblatt asserts that Germany, Russia and France have concluded an alliance committing them to common action upon all questions concerning Turkey.

THE POPE NEEDS CONSOLATION.

Cardinal Logue Issues a Pastoral Letter to That Effect.

Dublin, Nov. 25.—Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh and Prelate of all Ireland, upon the eve of starting for Rome, has issued a pastoral letter, in which he declares that the Pope never stood in greater need of the consolation and support of the Irish people than now. The cardinal censures the British Ambassador to Italy, Sir E. Clare Ford, who, he says, is also the representative of Ireland, for having beflagged the British Embassy at Rome during the recent celebrations in the Italian capital, which sought to outrage and insult the head of the church.

The Pope Again Ill

London, Nov. 25.—A despatch from Rome to The Pall Mall Gazette, says that the Pope was again ill this morning. During last night His Holiness had a chill and coughed a great deal, but did not have any fever.

SAILORS DROWNED

The Gales on the British Coast Caused Loss of Life.

London, Nov. 25.—The high northeast gale which set in on Saturday continues, and a large number of vessels on the eastern and southern coasts of England and the French coasts have been wrecked. In most cases, however, no lives were lost.

The Norwegian ship Isbaaden stranded near Yarmouth yesterday and broke up before a lifeboat could reach her. An attempt was made to get a line to her by means of rockets, but this failed, and her crew, about a dozen in number, perished.

A number of Torbay trawlers were caught in the gale and made for home. While running into the harbor three of them were dashed upon the rocks and one of them sank. Twenty men were seriously injured.

Channel Traffic Suspended.

Calais, France, Nov. 25.—The suspension of channel traffic owing to the fierce gales which have prevailed since Saturday led to animated scenes on the railway platforms and steamer piers here. Hundreds of persons have been waiting here for two days for an opportunity to cross the channel and the Terminus Hotel is crowded, large numbers of guests being obliged to sleep upon the floor of the buffet, while anxious crowds swarm upon the end of the pier seeking signs of a coming boat.

The Nessmore's Bottom Damaged.

London, Nov. 25.—The bottom of the British steamer Nessmore, from Montreal for Liverpool, before reported ashore on the Island of Coll, Hebrides, is found to be much damaged. Her cattle were landed Saturday night and her cattle pens are being cleared away, preparatory to the work of discharging her other cargo.

Apples Scarce in London.

London, Nov. 25.—American apples are scarce in London and the few being offered for sale are being disposed of at an advance of 2s a barrel. In Liverpool Boston Baldwins fetched 12s 4d to 13s 9d to-day. Canadian Greenings brought 13s to 14s 9d. Baldwins 13s to 17s 6d, and Kings 20s to 23s a barrel.

Clyde Engineers Will Combine.

Glasgow, Nov. 25.—The Clyde engineering firms met in this city to-day and confirmed the agreement to federate with the Belfast, Tyne and Barrow firms against the demands of their employes. This action will probably result in lengthening the strike.

Nursing the Baby Herself

St. Petersburg, Nov. 25.—A bulletin issued to-day states that the Czarina, contrary to the traditional custom, is herself nursing her infant, the Grand Duchess Olga. She is probably the first Empress to do this.

Hungarian Women May Study Medicine

Vienna, Nov. 25.—Emperor Francis Joseph has accorded permission to women to study medicine in the University of Hungary.

C.P.R. REACHING OUT.

Will Use Michigan Central Tracks and the Cantilever Bridge.

Niagara Falls, N.Y., Nov. 25.—It is announced here to-day that a lease has been signed by the Michigan Central and the C.P.R., the terms of which are that the Canadian road secures the privilege for 50 years of coming into this country and city via the Cantilever bridge at this point. The Canadian Pacific Railway will use the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo as far as Welland, and from there will use the tracks of the Michigan Central. The first train will be run as soon as the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo is completed, which will be within two months. The officers of both roads were in the city for several days last week perfecting arrangements and details.

Minnie is Absolutely Divorced.

London, Nov. 25.—The decree of divorce (nisi) granted in May last to John R. Rogers against his wife, Minnie Palmer, the actress, was to-day made absolute.

Dr. Peters Relieved.

Berlin, Nov. 25.—The Vossische Zeitung says that Dr. Carl Peters, the well-known explorer and German Imperial Commissioner to East Africa, has been relieved from the duties of that position.

AS TO COPYRIGHT.

An Important Conference at Ottawa Yesterday.

THE DRAFT BILL AGREED UPON

And Which is to be Submitted for the Approval of the Dominion Government—Mr. Hall Caine's Clear Explanation—Many Questions Answered.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—Judging from the tone of the discussion which took place in the office of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture yesterday, it looks as if the long-pending controversy on the copyright question is almost at an end. This is due in a large measure to the tact and discretion exercised by Mr. Hall Caine, who came over here a few weeks ago properly accredited and authorized to endeavor to reach a settlement. He has been met in a friendly spirit by the Canadian Copyright Association, and to-day there was submitted to the Ministry a draft bill, which has been agreed upon and which if adopted by the Government will end the present difficulty. The sub-committee of council appointed to hear the representations of the interested parties consisted of Sir C. H. Tupper and Hon. Mr. Ouimet. The Premier, however, was an interested listener to the discussion and occasionally took a hand in.

The gentlemen present, besides the Ministers, were, Messrs. Hall Caine and F. R. Daldy, representing the English authors and publishers; Messrs. John Rosa Robertson, D. A. Rose, A. S. Irving and A. W. Rutter, Toronto; and R. T. Lancefield, Hamilton, representing the Canadian Copyright Association; Sydney Ashdown, for the music publishing trade; L. W. Shannon, president, for the Canadian Press Association; W. Foster Brown represented the booksellers. The authors present included Dr. Samuel Dawson, Duncan C. Scott, W. W. Campbell, John F. Waters and Dr. Wyckstead. Officialdom was represented by John Lowe, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; J. B. Jackson, Registrar of Copyrights; George Johnson, Dominion Statistician, and others.

The meeting having been opened Mr. Ouimet called upon Mr. Hall Caine, who rose and briefly outlined the provisions of the measure which is to be submitted to the Dominion Government. He said the agreement was the best that could be arrived at under the circumstances and he believed all would be well satisfied to see its general principles carried into effect. Speaking for the body he represented, he fully believed that a bill framed on the lines indicated would be very acceptable to English authors.

Sir C. H. Tuper asked if the readers' interest had also been consulted in the framing of this measure, to which Mr. Caine replied, yes.

Sir C. H. Tupper: How have you dealt with the question of serials? For instance, magazines published in the United States, would there be any hindrance to their coming in?

Mr. Caine: Only in the case of a violation of an English copyright.

Dr. Dawson: I suppose Littell's Living Age and publications of that class would be shut out?

Mr. Caine: If they contained articles which had been copyrighted, they would certainly be shut out.

W. F. Brown, bookseller of Montreal, asked what effect the measure would have on the importation of the Nineteenth Century, The Contemporary Review, Blackwood's Magazine, and publications of that character, which were reprinted in the United States, and sent into Canada.

Mr. Caine replied that if the authors' rights were recognized and paid for, and the magazines reprinted in the United States, they could certainly come in here; but if the author had not been dealt with, the represented publications would be debarred.

Mr. J. Ross Robertson, president of the Canadian Copyright Association, then said: Our missions to Ottawa in the past have always been to discuss the difficulties of the copyright situation, but on this occasion, as far as the Canadian Copyright Association is concerned, owing to the agreement arrived at between the Association and Mr. Caine, as representing the authors, these difficulties have been removed. By the conclusions arrived at, we have endeavored, and we believe successfully, to deal fairly and honorably with all parties interested, be it the British, Canadian or foreign author and publisher, and as for the Canadian author and publisher, we have not only not deprived them of any rights which they already possessed, but have materially increased the facilities for publication. It is true that there have been mutual concessions on both sides. I do not claim that the Canadian Copyright Association got all that they wanted, or that they were perhaps entitled to; they certainly could not be accused of acting unreasonably, and in saying this I do not pretend that Mr. Hall Caine has not shown every inclination to meet our views as far as he could without endangering the interests he represents. The draft submitted will not be satisfactory to extremists on either side. This, however, should be considered proof of its fairness. We believe that of the new act is drafted on the new lines laid down, it will solve a problem that for many years has hampered the Canadian printing and publishing interests, and at the same time encourage the publication of books by our own presses, the product of the pens of British, foreign and Canadian authors, who, under the proposed law, will receive an equitable remuneration for the privileges accorded by the act now submitted for the consideration of the Government.

Sir C.H. Tupper: I suppose the cheap colonial edition will be excluded under this bill.

Mr. Robertson: Yes, but every individual Canadian will be able to import two copies.

Mr. Caine: Yes, and until a license is actually issued, the English edition will be on sale.

Sir C. H. Tupper: What do you propose regarding the author's royalty?

Mr. Robertson: It is precisely the same, 10 per cent., as in the act of 1889.

Sir C. H. Tupper: But there is something more: is there not?

Mr. Caine: Yes, the author's control.

Sir C. H. Tupper: And that will reconcile the British author?

Mr. Caine: Exactly.

Dr. Dawson addressed several questions to the members of the Copyright

WORKINGMEN AND PROTECTION.

THE workingman who imagines that the N.P. is the prop and mainstay of his existence has but to cast his eyes back to the days when the N.P. had not yet arisen, to find that manufacturers were flourishing, that workmen were employed in large numbers, and that instead of the factories being crowded into a few cities they were scattered throughout the country. Canada had periods of commercial depression, it is true, but from these she is not exempt even now when protection is supposed to be in full operation. The tariff of seventeen and a half per cent. was giving the legitimate manufacturers all the protection they needed, and at the same time the opportunities to rob the consumer by maintaining prices as high as those of the foreign article, with duty added, were not as numerous as they now are. To-day, the policy of the country is to provide these opportunities. Every manufacturer is specially dowered with the power to extort from the consumer the price and the duty. True, some do not, by reason of competition, exercise this power. The vast majority do. Take a case in which the railroad men of St. Thomas are interested. Split switches are made in but one place in Canada. The consumer has, in the past, found it just as cheap to buy in the States and pay the duty as to buy in Canada. What does this mean? That on every switch bought in Canada the amount of the duty is paid to the manufacturer. The Government gets nothing, but the consumer pays as much as though the article had been bought in the States and the duty thereon paid to the Government. In plain English the manufacturer is allowed by law the privilege, supposed to be enjoyed only by the state, of taxing the people. What is this but tyranny?

Take and instance: Cleaned rice is charged with a duty of one and a quarter cents a pound. The local millers, who get the uncleaned rice in at the rate of three-tenths of a cent per pound, keep prices so high that last year we imported 6,238,338 pounds of cleaned rice. The millers imported 13,906,983 pounds of uncleaned rice, and the public had to pay them the increased price they were allowed to extort. This is sheer robbery, perpetuated under the sheltering wings of the N. P.

The fall in the price of sugar consequent on the reduction of duty was an other proof to the workingman that he is being taxed on every hand by the beneficient policy of protection, which has given him neither more constant work nor better play. Because a man does not feel the oppressive hand of the protectionist do not let him delude himself that it is not omnipresent. If the revenue which should go to support the state is arrested by the monopolist, the taxpayer has to meet in some other way the demands of the Government. The manufacturer, as he collects toll, gives no quittance of the Government's claim, which is yearly under an extravagant Administration, becoming heavier and heavier. To the cost of every split-switch bought in Kingston at a higher rate than it could be purchased at in the States, to the cost of every pound of rice or sugar to which the miller or refiner adds the duty, every workingman in Canada pays his share. There is not an industry in the Dominion which charges more for its product than the foreigner's price for the same article but lays its hand as a tax-gatherer upon the shoulder of every tax-payer.—St. Thomas Journal.

THE Toronto Mail and Empire states that it is altogether probable that Parliament will be called, in next week's Gazette, to meet on Jan. 2nd, but that no business will be done till the 9th. Will the government meet parliament, with vacancies in West Huron, Cardwell, Jacques Cartier, Montreal Centre and Charlevoix? Or is a bye-election in North Ontario as great a strain as the government's nerves can stand at once.

A Boston paper announces that the price of whiskey is going up. That will not, however, prevent it from going down at about the usual rate. It will take a considerable advance in the cost of this spirituous luxury, which very many regard as a necessity, before the price will cause a reduction of consumption. Still it would perhaps have a beneficial effect on society and reduce the drink habit materially if the price of strong drink could be raised so that a glass would [cost,] say 25 cents. That is, if the villainous adulteration that obtains so largely and which puts so much fight and brawl to the gallon, could be guarded against. We have the drink habit with us, and until it is legislated out of existence, it is perhaps advisable to try any expedient by which its incalculable evils can be diminished.

THE Dominion trade returns for October have been issued, and they contain some information which goes to show how our truly paternal government watches over the interests of the poor man. The French treaty being in operation, the duty on sparkling wines, which was 57 per cent. a year ago, fell to 26 per cent., while the duty collected on rice was no less than 72 per cent., the duty on coal oil was nearly 70 per cent., and the tax on cotton clothing nearly 40 per cent. This is the way the National Policy makes the poor man rich—imposing a far heavier duty on the necessaries of life, which the poor man cannot do without, than on sparkling wines, which millions of poor persons never taste, and which can only be used by the wealthy. And yet the government declares that it is to perpetuate the same old fiscal policy. What about the doctrine of Equal Rights that was a Conservative war cry in recent provincial rights elections?

ANOTHER INVESTIGATION.

The London Advertiser Looks Into This Matter.

Mr Robert Bond of Mount Brydges, is Paid Total Disability by an Insurance Co., and Recovers From Bright's Disease.

Another great cure has been wrought by Dodd's Kidney Pills, in the case of Mr. Robert Bond, of Mount Brydges, Ont. We clip the following from the London Advertiser of Nov. 2:

This case is of so remarkable a nature that it is worthy being referred to at length. Mr. Bond was for years a sufferer from Bright's disease, which finally became chronic. He consulted a dozen or more physicians, who pronounced his malady incurable and assured him not only that he was totally disabled, but that his pilgrimage through this life would not be of long duration. He carried an insurance policy in the Provincial Provident Institution, of St. Thomas, Ont., and the physicians representing the society were so satisfied after examination of their patient that the tale of his years was about ended that they reported him totally disabled, and on March 21 last the society paid him $600 on the strength of their physicians' report. The Ensign, the paper published by the P. P. I., in its issue for September, 1895, contains a statement of "Death and Disability Claims Paid in Eleven Years." In this statement appears the following:

Bond, Robert, (disability), Mt. Brydges, 2917, $600. March 21, 1895.

Dodd's Kidney Pills are not only all that has been claimed for them in the past, but the most remarkable of any that have been placed on the market for the cure of a disease from which so many are suffering and from which so many die.

NOT A WORD WOULD HE SAY.

The Premier Left Montreal as Quietly as He Arrived—Archbishop Fabre Still on Top.

Montreal, Nov. 25.—Sir Mackenzie Bowell left the city to-day as quietly as he came, but he would not say a word regarding the outcome of the interview between the Premier, the Postmaster-General and Quebec's Provincial Secretary. It is said, however, that Hon. L. P. Pelletier cannot see his way clear just now to enter the Cabinet at Ottawa, or at least until the opinion of the Hon. Mr. Taillon has been taken in the matter. Although the Provincial Secretary is one of the ablest men in the Taillon Ministry, his departure for Ottawa would give satisfaction to his friends, as they feel he would soon make a name for himself in Dominion politics. The change would also give Hon. Mr. Taillon an opportunity to give an English-speaking Protestant a portfolio, and this would strengthen the present Government very considerably in the eyes of the mercantile community. There appears little doubt that, should Mr. Pelletier accept now or later on and run for Charlevoix, he would be quite sure of his election. The Liberal candidate, Mr. Charles Angers, is a rich man, but is very unpopular, and no one appears to think he can be elected, much less if opposed by a Minister of the Crown.

Mr. Horace St. Louis, who has so ably conducted the case of the condemned paper, asked at once permission to appeal to the Privy Council, which their honors allowed.

The cause celebre of The Canada Revue v. Archbishop Fabre was advanced another stage to-day, and still the victory rests with His Grace of Montreal. In November, 1892, Mgr. Fabre issued a circular to his clergy prohibiting The Canada Revue, a weekly paper published by Mr. Filiatreault, and edited by several well-known French writers whose liberal tendencies were very marked. The company took action for $50,000, but Judge Doherty dismissed the action with costs. The case was taken to Review, and to-day Judges Taft and Taschereau confirmed the judgment of the lower court, while Judge Archibald dissented.

CANADIAN TRADE WITH FRANCE.

Montrealers Who Want the Government to Send an Agent Over—Mr. Foster Cannot Come to Trinity's Dinner.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—A delegation consisting of Messrs. Cote, Laporte, Pariseau, Contant, Baller and Bickerdike of Montreal, interviewed the Minister of Trade and Commerce to-day on matters concerning Canadian trade with France. They urged that some competent gentleman be sent to France to work up trade between the two countries. They also urged the abolition of the duty of 20 per cent. on packages containing French wines.

The Minister of Finance has received an invitation from the faculty and students of Trinity Medical College to attend the nineteenth annual banquet, to be held at the Rossin House, Toronto, next Thursday, but on account of pressing public engagements he has not been able to accept.

An Ottawa milling firm has made a shipment of ten thousand barrels of oatmeal to Copenhagen.

AS TO COPYRIGHT.

Association, with a view to elucidating points in the proposed measure. He thought that there might be some dissatisfaction in Canada if such a magazine as Littell's Living Age were shut out. He presumed that under this new measure a United States copyright edition would not enter Canada as against the English or Canadian edition.

Mr. D. A. Rose, referring to the cheap colonial editions, said that they would be debarred under the act. Canadian books can a shade cheaper than the United States or English editions.

Sir C. H. Tupper asked if they had looked into the question whether they could publish as cheaply in Canada as the colonial edition which is published in England.

Mr. Rose: Yes, we can do it.

Mr. W. F. Brown thought that the printing of books could be done cheaper in England than in Canada, and Mr. John Ross Robertson promptly dissented from this remark.

Sir Mackenzie Bowell asked why matrices of books should be allowed to be imported? Why not protect the printer to the extent of requiring the type to be set up in Canada?

Mr. John Ross Robertson said that the Typographical Unions were a party to this arrangement, as they recognized that there were many books that could not be published here if the type had to be set in Canada.

Mr. Daldy said that he agreed generally with the act, although it might require examination in detail, and certain alterations to be made. He admitted that to him it was a disagreeable measure.

D.A. Rose briefly indicated the scope of the proposed measure. He considered that the two most important clauses were those of the importation and the license. The importation clause was of particularly great importance. The Canadian publisher, having purchased the right of the Canadian market, should have the control of it, and they were willing to admit that the English publisher should have the right to his own market. Mr. Rose announced that, given the control of the Canadian market, he could take a contract to publish any of the works for which there was a popular demand to-day, at 13c per copy.

Mr. W. F. Brown said that he was not in favor of this bill, which had been drawn up by Messrs. Caine and Daldy after consultation with the Toronto publishers.

Mr. Daldy interrupting: "Oh, it is not my bill."

Mr. Brown, continuing, said that there was something radically wrong in the present law. Mr. Gage of Toronto had a license to publish Ruskin's Sesame and Lilies, and on that account he, Mr. Brown, was debarred from importing a complete set of Ruskin containing this particular work. He thought the draft measure, which he had not yet had an opportunity of examining, would wipe out the bookselling business of the country.

This remark called forth a chorus of dissent from members of the Copyright Association.

Mr. Lancefield emphasized the point that any edition could come in from England until such time as a license was issued in Canada. Speaking from the reader's standpoint, he believed the adoption of this measure would reduce the price of books to the people of Canada.

Mr. L. W. Shannon, President of the Canadian Press Association, spoke briefly, intimating that the draft measure was acceptable to the association which he had the honor to represent.

Mr. S. Ashdown of Toronto addressed the Ministers on behalf of the music publishing trade, and was informed that his representations would have due weight.

Before the meeting closed Mr. Daldy asked the Ministers to recollect that in any measure which they submitted to Parliament it was contrary to British law to prevent the importation of books, whether they were reprints or not.

Hon. Mr. Guimet said that Ministers had been delighted to hear the representations of the different interests, and they would promptly lay them before the Government.

AT HIS FESTIVE BOARD.

A Brilliant Company Does Honor to the Great English Novelist

A brilliant company assembled at the Russell House this evening on the occasion of a banquet to the distinguished novelist, Hall Caine. It was a tribute to him as a literary man, and a journalist, as well as an acknowledgment of the successful result of his mission to Canada. Sir C. H. Tupper presided, and among those present in addition to the distinguished guest were Hons. Mr. Foster, Hon. T. M. Daly, Consul General Riley, Mayor Borthwick and others.

Sir Charles Tupper proposed the health of the guest of the evening in a highly eulogistic speech. Mr. Caine, in reply, delivered a most eloquent speech on literary topics. Referring to his mission to Canada, he said:

"The mission which brought me to your hospitable continent three months ago was, if I may say so, foreign to my calling, opposed to my taste, and outside the limit of my previous experience. I knew that it must disturb me in the pursuit of the work I am best fitted to do, and interrupt the progress of the particular book I had in hand. But I also knew that the first men in my profession, from Dr. Johnson to Carlyle, had allowed themselves, as occasion required, to put their hands to the same plough of copyright legislation, and I felt that this moment of a misunderstanding between Canada and the mother country was one that made a special appeal to an author who felt that he was not only a man of letters, but a lover of his country, desiring the peace and honor of his profession much, but the peace and honor of his nation more. And then, if it becomes me to say so, I brought to the consideration of the question of Canadian copyright the perception of one fact that was perhaps more clear to me than to some of my brother authors (thanks to my birthright as a son of a little self-governing nation living under the protection of the crown), that the difference between Canada and England was not mainly the material matter of the right of English authors against the rights of Canadian publishers, but chiefly a matter of sentiment, of fundamental national feeling, involving the large and weighty question of Canada's right to legislate for every interest that touched the welfare of her people. I thought there was a point at which this sentiment collided with the material issue, and perhaps with Imperial legislation, and so I came out as the delegate of my brother authors, not to contest a constitutional question with your statesmen, but to ask the Canadian people in general, and the interested classes in particular, whether in the exercise of their right to govern themselves, they had any desire to injure us. When I put the issue in that spirit I had only one response. Wherever I went in the Dominion, from the Cabinet of your genial and fair-minded Prime Minister and your accomplished Minister of Justice down to the humblest office of a country printer, I had but one reply, 'Canada does not want to wrong the English author, or yet the author of any country, and if our proposed act injures you we will tear it up and make a better one.'

"Gentlemen, I want to tell you, and also the public outside, that the better legislation which Canada promised to authors is under way. The much disputed Copyright Act of 1889 will never again be offered to your Parliament or sent to England for Imperial sanction. Instead of that there will be an amended Act to be called the Copyright Act of 1896. What provisions the Act will make is a matter to be made known by your Government when the proper time arrives. But I am betraying no cabinet secret when I say that at the conference with the Ministers of Justice and Agriculture, which my colleague, Mr. Daldy, and myself, together with the Canadian Copyright Association and Canadian publishers, were permitted to hold in Ottawa to-day a draft measure which forms an agreement between myself as the delegate of English authors and the interested parties in Canada was submitted and recommended to the Ministers, and we have every reason to hope that, in the wisdom of your Government, it will be regarded as a probable general basis for forthcoming legislation. By this agreement the time within which a copyright holder can publish in Canada and so secure an absolute and untrammelled copyright is extended from 30 to 60 days with a possible extension of 30 days more at the discretion of the authorities. Also by this agreement the license to be granted for the production of a book that has not fulfilled the conditions of Canadian copyright law is limited to one license, and this single license is only to be issued with the copyright holder's knowledge or sanction. Further, the copyright holder who has an independent chance of securing copyright for himself within a period of 60 days is to be allowed a second chance of securing it after it has been challenged and before it can be disposed of by license. And finally the royalties of the author are to be secured to him by a regulation of the revenue to stamp an edition of a book on the issue of a license. This is the ground of the Draft Bill which the Canadian Copyright Association has joined with me in recommending to your Ministers, and on its general principle I have to say, first, to Canadian authors, that a bill framed on these lines will not put them into a position of isolation among the authors of the world; and next, to the authors of England and America and of all the countries having a copyright treaty with England, that it will secure to authors the control of their property, and put them all alike on an equal footing, and therefore, it will not, I think, disturb the operation of the Berne Convention so far as Canada is concerned, or the understanding between Great Britain and the United States. Beyond this I must allow that the arrangement is a compromise. There have had to be concessions on both sides. The people who are sticklers for principle will condemn us all around, and there are always folks enough to holla for the moon when they only want green cheese.

The other toasts were the Parliament of Canada, Canadian Literature, and our United Empire. The latter toast was proposed in an eloquent speech by Hon. Mr. Foster, and responded to felicitously by Hon. Mr. Daly and Sir James Grant.

The Camel is a beast of great strength and endurance. Nothing hurts it until the proverbial "last straw" is added to its burden. The human digestive system is very much like a camel. It is really astonishing how much abuse it will stand. Sometimes, however, something worse than usual will be eaten, and will go through the stomach into the bowels, and there it will stick — that's constipation. Nine-tenths of all human sickness is due to constipation. Some of the simplest symptoms are coated tongue and foul breath, dizziness, heartburn, flatulence, sallowness, distress after eating, headaches and lassitude. A little thing will cause constipation, and a little thing will relieve it. Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets are a certain cure for constipation. They are tiny, sugar-coated granules, mild and natural in their action. There is nothing injurious about them. Sold by druggists.

The Latest in Millinery.

The season has been a very satisfactory one in Millinery Sales. Many Ladies tell us our Millinery is the finest in Peterborough. We believe it has not been surpassed. The increase in business proves that it is meeting with favour.

If you haven't looked lately you've no idea of the beautiful New Novelties we are showing. Our Milliner returned from the wholesale houses last week bringing with her some of the newer, more stylish and latest things out, and which are very pretty, very fashionable and decidedly up-to-date.

Dangers in the Golden Rod.

The state veterinarian of Wisconsin has discovered that the yellow blossoms of America's national flower, the Golden Rod, hold the germ of one of the most dangerous diseases to horses ever known; it is incurable and resembles consumption in a man. The horses which eat the tempting plant waste away in from two weeks to three months. Thousands of horses have died from the poison in Michigan, Minnesota and Wisconsin. The flower grows abundantly in this section and it would be interesting to know if any evil effects can be traced to it.

Fragrant Ivorine for the teeth dissolves in the mouth. A delightful preparation for the teeth is Ivorine, so fragrant and cleansing, so pleasant to the taste, and efficient beyond the desire of the most exacting. DASHED INTO A HYDRANT.

Narrow Escape of a Little Girl Who Was Coasting on the Court House Hill.

Little Edna Neild, the daughter of Mr. Wm. Neild, 62 Murray street, met with an accident the other day, which was nearly attended with fatal results.

The little girl was out with her hand sleigh playing around in the snow, and getting on it started down the sidewalk on Murray street leading from the Court House to the raceway. The descent, as is well known, is very precipitous, and before the child realized her peril the sleigh was running down the slippery sidewalk at lightning speed and those who witnessed the incident were horrified to think what the end would be. The sleigh with its tiny burden fairly flew over the steps, and when its momentum was temporarily checked by the shock of coming in contact with the sidewalk again on jumping the steps it crashed into a hydrant and was splintered into matchwood. When the little girl was picked up it was found that she had escaped any injury other than having her abdomen severely cut and being bruised about the body. The great wonder is that the child's brains were not dashed out, and parents should warn their children against coasting on this extremely dangerous hill.

This morning little Edna was feeling better and on a fair way to recovery.

THE SKATING AND CURLING RINK CO.

Annual Meeting and Election of Officers for the Year.

The Peterborough Skating and Curling Rink Company held its annual meeting last evening and received a most satisfactory statement from Mr. Crane, the Sec.-Treas.

The officers of last year were re-elected as follows:

President—W. G. Ferguson.
Sec.-Treas.—John Crane.
Directors—Chas. McGill, Dr. Boucher, R. S. Davidson and Adam Hall.

There will be no more colds caught at the rink as the seats along the sides have been done away with and when the skaters are tired they will, hereafter, have to repair to the warm waiting rooms instead of remaining in the open rink. The sides have all been built up to a height of about five feet and the corners neatly rounded off for the hockey players, who are now far less liable to dash their brains out as the pillars are now all behind the boarding.

Cheese Shipments.

The Montreal Herald of the 23rd inst., gives the shipments of butter and cheese from that port by the different firms doing business there for the year: Hodgson Bros. head the list with 234,910 boxes of cheese and 2,035 packages of butter; A. A. Ayer & Co. come next with 190,875 boxes of cheese and 14,650 packages of butter; J. C. Warrington, 162,436 boxes of cheese; A. W. Grant, 100,600 boxes of cheese and 4,801 packages of butter. The total shipments of all firms amounted to 1,766,914 boxes of cheese and 51,488 packages of butter, compared with 1,726,058 boxes of cheese, and 32,137 packages of butter in 1894.

Desire Independence.

The Toronto assemblies of the Knights of Labour are disappointed at the action of the General Assembly at Washington, which has refused the Canadian Assemblies' request to be allowed to secede and form an independent Canadian organization. It is probable the dissatisfaction will take the form in not a few cases of severance from the order and affiliation with some other order or the formation of a Canadian Order of Knights of Labour. It is claimed that Canadians get little or no benefit from connection with the K. of L. under present conditions. Strange to say there are no branches of the Order in Peterborough, though there are a large number of members in town.

The Clergyman's Friend.

However wide the difference in theology, there is perfect accord amongst the clergy, touching the genuine merits of Pinemalt. Extracts from published testimonials. "Many remedies have been tried in my family, but Pinemalt excels them all." Rev. A. Fisher, Rector St. John church, Beechville, Ont. "I have found Pinemalt remarkably efficient in 'nipping' a cold in the bud. * * In hoarseness it gives speedy relief. It is the clergyman's friend as the duties of the Sabbath approach." Rev. J. R. Johnston, B.A., M.A., Pastor Presbyterian church, East Toronto, "Pinemalt acts almost magically. * * It is a boon to singers and public speakers. Should be in every house." Rev. Father Gnam, Petrolia. For the relief of all symptoms of cold and chest trouble it is unfailing in my experience." Rev. R. D. Hamilton, Pastor Hope Methodist church, Alvinston, Ont. "It is a great family medicine. My faith in Pinemalt is unbounded." Rev. J. G. Calder, Pastor Alvinston and Brooke Baptist church, Ont.

THE CANADIAN CONCERT COMPANY.

They Please Well an Opera House Audience.

The first of a series of concerts to be presented in Peterborough by artists supplied by the Canadian Entertainment Bureau, was given in the Opera House last night to a fair-sized audience, doubtless greatly lessened by counter attractions—no fewer than five concerts, etc., being booked for last night. The programme opened with a well performed pianoforte solo by Miss Rena Cowley, who furnished the accompaniments with much judgment and taste. Miss Alice Burrows, the contralto of the company, acquitted herself with great credit, securing the hearty approval of the audience, expressed by very cordial applause. Her first number was "The Holy City," which she sang with excellent effect, winning a warm recall, in response to which she sang with pathetic sweetness, "Daddy." Her second selection was "Open Thy Lattice," which was also sung with charming effect. Miss Burrows has a robust voice, clear and very sympathetic and with a wide enough range to justify classing it as a mezzo soprano. She has a pleasant way of harmonizing her voice with the piano, which some singers ignore. She is young and modest and, judging by the excellent work she does now, will, with continued practice to give steadiness and confidence and to develop the rich resources of her voice, make a phenomenal success in the artistic world. George Fox, the violinist, who is the leading Canadian performer on that instrument, gave three selections with his characteristic boldness and brilliancy. He did excellent justice to the florid eccentricity of Sarasate's "Gypsy Dances." His second number was a more ambitious selection, which received a fitting interpretation. Vieuxtemps' "Reverie" was played with fine appreciation of its dreamy character. He received two enthusiastic encores, which he recognized by performing, con sordino, "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Home Sweet Home," with artistic delicacy and sweetness. Mr. Fox is a born violinist; he plays with great dash and brilliancy, and if he would put himself under competent instruction, he would with his great natural ability and his exceptional powers of interpretation, make an artist of which Canada would be proud, and one that would rank with many of the cleverest virtuosi. Mr. Harry Simpson, the ventriloquist, gave a very pleasing exhibition of his excellent ventriloquial powers. The colloquies between his several automata were intensely amusing, and the singing of some of them was wonderfully clever. Mr. Simpson's modest bearing, as well as his really excellent work, won him the favour of the audience and he was several times recalled. The humorous vocalist of the company, Mr. Charles McReath, in the nature of his selections was hardly up to the high standard of the rest of the entertainment. He was, however, successful in winning two recalls and his last song when he assumed the habiliments of civilization, was the redeeming feature of his appearance. Taken together the entertainment gave good satisfaction; some portions gave unusual pleasure and are deserving of warm commendation. The excellent pianoforte used during the evening was kindly supplied by Messrs. Mason & Risch.

GEORGE STREET CHURCH ENTERTAINMENT.

A Very Pleasant Evening Spent With Alfred H. Perry.

Last night a most successful entertainment was held in the school room of the church, which was filled with an audience which seemed to be well pleased with the programme presented. Of course Mr. Alfred H. Perry, of Detroit, reciter and impersonator, was the chief attraction, but besides a good musical programme which consisted of finely sung solos by Mrs. Seward, and well rendered duets by Mr. Mulligan and Miss Vina Belleghem, and Misses Clara and Annie Belleghem.

Mr. Perry prefaced his part of the entertainment with the statement that in two towns in Ontario he had been very harshly criticised by the leading newspapers, but he accounted for this by the circumstance that the reporters were not accountable at the time. He hoped he would make a better impression in Peterborough.

His first selection was a poem of J. Whitcob Riley which was given with good effect. His selections during the evening were a mixture of pathos and humour. His versatility was shown by the fact that his recitals at times would move to tears and others times convulse his hearers with laughter. As an impersonator he possesses unusual powers and presented several diverse characters in a very apt manner. That he gave satisfaction to his large audience is evidenced by the fact that at the close of his entertainment a cordial vote of thanks, proposed by Rev. W. R. Young, was expressed by very hearty applause. Whatever may have been Mr. Perry's receptions in other places in Canada, he has reason to be well pleased with the reception given him in Peterborough.

OBITUARY.

Death of an Old Resident of the County.

The death of Mr. Walter Robson, aged 55, of lot 25, con. 13, Otonabee, occurred on Monday of Bright's Disease, from which he had been suffering for some time, although death was not thought to be so near at hand.

The deceased was born in North Monaghan and lived for some time in town. Twenty years ago he moved out into Otonabee, where he grew to be much respected in his large circle of friends. He leaves a wife and eight children to mourn his demise. Of the latter, John, William and Mattie live in Smithtown and Jennie, Mary, Maggie, Annie and Walter at the homestead.

The funeral takes place from the family residence to-morrow to the Little Lake Cemetery at two o'clock. The services will be conducted by Rev. Dr. Torrance.

The only inheritance many receive from their ancestors is impure blood. Fortunately, it is in everyone's to transmit a cleaner heritage to their posterity by the simple use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, the only blood-purifier admitted at the World's Fair.

DOURO.

Another Interesting Matrimonial Event.

The air of Douro these days is resonant with the merry chimes of wedding bells. This (Tuesday) morning another wedding was solemnized at St. Joseph's church, by the parish priest, Rev. Father Keilty. The contracting parties were Mr. Stephen Murphy, of Peterborough, and Miss Mary Agnes O'Brien, of Douro. The solemn ceremony that united their lives was celebrated at 9 o'clock. The groom's grandfather, the late Timothy Murphy, was one of the most intimate friends of Rev. Father Keilty during the ten years of his residence in Ennismore, and the bride is one of Douro's fairest daughters.

Daily Examiner.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 26, 1895.

DAILY MOTTO.

Tuesday, Nov. 26th.—The good that we can each of us accomplish in this world is small. The good that all men in all ages could accomplish if they would is vast. But in order that this may be done, each working being must serve his own generation, and do his part to render the next generation more efficient.

Though fe- may praise, or help or heed us.
Let us work on, with head or heart or hand,
For that we know the future ages need us,
And we must help our time to take its stand.

Fortnightly Club.

The public meeting of the Fortnightly Club will be held this evening, when a paper on "Christian Socialism" will be read by Rev. H. Symonds. The special speakers will be Rev. Carl Smith and Mr. Yokome.

The Dinner

Is always the centre of attraction. Housekeepers plan to have the bill of fare extra nice; but the surest way to have it pass off right is to draw on John J. Howden's meat market for your beef and other meats. 'Phone 39.

Died of Blood Poisoning.

Mr. Benjamin Vout died at the Nicholls Hospital this morning. About a week ago he injured his hand with a hammer, and two days ago he was removed to the hospital. Blood poisoning was the immediate cause of death.

Out on Bail.

John Bothwell of Fraserville, was charged with stealing a pair of hens from Wm. Yelland, before the Magistrate this morning. He entered a plea of not guilty, and the case was enlarged until Monday next. Bail was accepted in the sum of $400.

Telfordian Temperature Topics.

Tuesday, Nov. 21.—At this morning's observation the self-registering thermometer indicated 32 degrees above zero. Yesterday was an eventful day, falling, first, three inches of snow, then coming rain. This morning's measurement giving 1 2-100 inches of water, not including snow, so I believe there is no winter yet. Some local showers.—THOMAS TELFORD.

3 Cents for Bunyan's Pilgrims Progress

100 copies Bunyan's Pilgrim's Progress, nicely bound in light tinted Bristol board, containing 150 pages, will be sold on Saturday at the Peterborough Bookstore, for the remarkable low price of 3 cents each. This is the lowest price ever offered. Don't forget but call early on Saturday for your favourite periodical, magazine or book. A. H. STRATTON & CO.

A New Skating Rink.

A number of Ashburnham capitalists are talking of erecting another skating rink in Peterborough during the coming winter. It is understood that an effort will be made to secure the drill shed, and failing to get that, a building will be erected. If the project is carried forward to completion, the Sons of England band, it is understood, will be engaged to give three concerts a week at the rink for the skaters.

The Slippery Walks.

Navigation on Saturday was slow, tedious and dangerous. Everyone wore an anxious and carewern look. All seemed to be absorbed in their own affairs. Pedestrians could not have been more careful were they on trail of a burglar. Occasionally an inquisitive or reckless person would take their eyes off their feet for an instant. Then their mistake would suddenly down on them, they would make a few mesmeric gestures, bow, and gently fall to the sidewalk. Then some cruel hearted person, who was safely clinging to an awning pole, would gently call out "hold your base." There are mean persons in the world who laugh at a man while he falls down, and those who neglect to put ashes on the walk.

The High Prices Had to go.

And they are gone now. The Bordeaux Claret Co. killed the long prices for Clarets, Burgundies and Ports. It puts a good wine upon your table at $3 and $4 a dozen quarts. This is astounding. It is without precedent. For the great thing was to keep up the price. It was an article of faith that you could not have a good cheap wine. Fiddle sticks! Rot! The Bordeaux Claret Co. do not care a straw for dignified labels. They are selling a fine, supple, wholesome wine for a little over the price of beer, and people all over the country are ordering it. It is for general consumption. One can drink a bottle of wine now with his dinner and feel that he has not swallowed an estate. Good wine for the million at nominal prices. Address —Bordeaux Claret Co., 30 Hospital Street, Montreal.

VERY SUCCESSFUL.

The Catholic Literary Society's Second Entertainment.

Despite the inclement weather, and the overwhelming opposition from other entertainments, the regular entertainment of the Catholic Literary Association last evening was a marked success. The hall was filled, and the expectations of the audience were more than realized. Every number on the programme was well rendered and well received. Mr. Gordon's songs were a decided success. The following is the programme:

PART I.

Instrumental duet...Misses McCabe and Butler
Vocal solo..."Something tells me so"...Miss [Annie Dunn
Autoharp and harmonica...Messrs. Roadhouse [and Corbin
Song...Mr Gordon
Debate...Resolved that the Catholic Association is of more benefit to the community than a benevolent association...Aff.-Messrs T Begley and T Mahoney; Neg.—Messrs W J Devlin and W Rudkins.
Autoharp and harmonica...Messrs Roadhouse [and Corbin
Recitation..."The Two Pictures"...Miss N Mc- [Cabe

God Save the Queen.

The debate afforded much amusement, the debaters entering with much fervor into their work. The audience went away thoroughly pleased with the evening's amusement.

A NATURAL HISTORY SOCIETY.

A Movement for its Organization—An Outline of its Proposed Scope and Work.

A few of the citizens of Peterborough who feel the want in the community of an association, having for its object the pursuit of the study of natural history, are taking steps toward organizing a society. The promoters of the movement will meet for the purpose at the residence of Mr. Mark, 108 Murray street, on Thursday evening at 7.30.

In the meantime the following outline is submitted in order that those desirous of taking an active part in the work may have an opportunity of examining it and suggesting improvements:

It is proposed, first, that the members, by mutual help, sympathy and encouragement, may aid one another in the study of botany, zoology and geology. Second, that by systematic observation, a better knowledge may be gained of the natural history of the district. Third, that by systematically collecting, preserving and arranging specimens, the nucleus of a museum may be formed, for the future use of the members and of students. Fourth, that by keeping permanent record of the information gathered, and the specimens collected, some interesting facts may be added to the mass of scientific knowledge and something done to collect data regarding many of our plants and animals fast becoming extinct.

All lovers of natural history, willing to take an active part are invited to be present.

What an Emily Man Says About Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure.

A highly respected and well known citizen of the township of Emily has furnished the following testimonial to Mr. Jas. Lynch, druggist: I am a young man and have been a slave to tobacco since I was a boy. Although I have often tried to stop it I never could succeed until I used Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. Mr. Jas. Lynch, the druggist, recommended me to try this tobacco cure, and after some persuasion I bought a box. I continued using it for a short time and soon found the appetite for tobacco was leaving me. My nerves became stronger, my eyesight brighter, and my desire for food improved. Now, I have lost all craving for the filthy weed; and I hereby certify that after using one package of Uncle Sam's Tobacco Cure. I have gained six pounds in weight, and I can heartily recommend it to any who are run down in weight from using tobacco. Some men object to lending their name to a testimonial of this kind, but I consider it my duty to do so if it will help any of my friends or fellow sufferers. G. DARR Emily, Franklin P.O., Ont.

"IRELAND AND THE IRISH" AT ST. PAUL'S.

THE CHURCH IS CROWDED TO HEAR REV. MR. PATTERSON.

A Lecture Abounding With Wit and Pregnant With Interest—A Lot of Instructive Historical Facts Related In a Couple of Hours.

The numerous other entertainments in town, last evening, did not seem to affect the attendance at St. Paul's to hear the lecture on "Ireland and the Irish," by Rev. Mr. Patterson, of Cooke's church, Toronto.

Rev. Mr. Patterson is one of the best known divines in Canada, and being an Irishman himself the subject was one to which he could do full justice and never, probably, was so much historical fact, enlivened by witticism and interesting narrative, crowded into two hours before. Mr. Patterson could never be mistaken for aught but an Irishman. The map of Erin is on his face—the map of educated, enlightened Erin — and his rich brogue warmed the cockles of the heart of every Irishman present. The audience was moved alternately from laughter almost to tears by the versatile fancy of the speaker, as at one moment he spoke of the fun at the fairs and anon dwelt on the effects of Ireland's evil—the whiskey traffic.

Historians differed, he stated, concerning many facts regarding Ireland's past, as some inclined to one religion and and this made all the difference in the world.

Ireland, he acknowledged, was small, but that, he argued, didn't prove that it was not important. It was something like a person's size, from which no conclusion could be drawn regarding his importance.

China and India were large enough, but neither of them had the history of Ireland. The importance of anything could be guaged from the space it occupied in the newspapers, and judged by this rule Ireland was without doubt the most important country in the world.

In dwelling on the beauty of Erin, the speaker was fairly carried away by enthusiasm. He claimed that Nature had done more for Ireland than for any other country. The beauty and interest connected with the Giant's Causeway, the headlands and the gigantic caverns were each dwelt upon in glowingly, eulogistic terms, as were the charms of the famed Lakes of Killarney, where even the angels are said to fold their wings and rest content with their beauties.

Ireland, he continued, is not only beautiful, but very, very old. Dr. Wilde being confident that the Prophet Jeremiah had once sojourned there, and three centuries before the Christian era historians refer to the Island as Hibernia. The Irish were having a marked partiality for stones in the early centuries, and this falling stuck to them yet, as whenever a skirmish was in progress stones flew as thick as snowballs in a Canadian school-yard. The ancient forts and round towers were always an object of interest to visitors and of reverence and love to the Irish, who would not touch a stone of them—"for shure the fairies live there." These round towers are supposed to have been built by the Druids, and that these strange priests once lived in Ireland and worshipped the sun is proven by the fact that many of their ancient customs are present day usages in Ireland, though few knew it. In the place where he was born the horizon was bounded on three sides by mountains and each fine evening just at twilight bonfires could be seen dotted all over the sides of the great hills and throwing their flames high into the heavens. It was always done and had been done since the days of Druidism, when the fires were built in honour to the sun, which had reached the end of its day's journey. The Harvest Home was another old Druidical custom.

Ireland, Mr. Patterson claimed, was christianized prior to England, as its religion came from the Greek Church, and not the Roman had convinced him.

The speaker dwelt for some time on the advent of St. Patrick, of which Hamilton McGee says, "No greater event has occurred since St. Paul was converted on the way to Damascus." He was a little Scottish slave tending sheep on the hills of the Emerald Isle where he received enlightenment and shortly afterwards his freedom. Returning to his own country he remained there for some time, but was recalled to Ireland by a vision and landed there for the second time in the year 432 and began preaching simple Christianity. No less than 365 churches were erected during the time of his ministrations. If Scotland gave to Ireland its greatest saint Ireland did the same for Scotland, as St. Columbia was an Irishman and began his work in Derry, where he erected a church prior to his departure to the Isle of Iona.

Ireland's golden age demanded Mr. Patterson's attention for some time and he dwelt with fervid words on the days Erin was the centre of civilization, learning and religion. It was not only the Island Green, but the Isle of Saints. Swords were indeed turned into ploughshares and Ireland forgot the arts of war in promulgating the arts of peace. Then came the awful dark ages, when the Danes swept over the country and destroying all the grand seats of learning and almost everything of value in the country. The Danes were finally shaken off, but Ireland's peace was an end. The days of her civilization had passed and she became as degraded as Israel.

PILLAGING AND BURNING

In 1154 Pope Adrian issued a bull desiring the English to add Ireland to its domains, and in 1172 the Anglo-Normans went over and established for the first time, an English court in Ireland. Then once more darkness descended on the land until the days of the great Reformation. Ireland was degraded, indeed, but Scotland was worse, until John Knox lifted her from her darkness. Scotland would never realise what she owed to John Knox. But there was no such luck for poor Ireland. Many ask, said he, how it is that while all the other nations advanced at the time of the reformation, Ireland remained sunken in the depths of ignorance and superstition. The answer was only to be given in one way. In other countries the Reformation was introduced in the name of Jesus Christ, whilst in Ireland it was introduced in the name of the devil.

THE DEAD RAISED UP.

A Former Resident Thought to be Dying of Bright's Disease—Cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Listowel, (Special) Nov. 25.—A despatch reaching here relative to the recovery in Neepawa, Man., of Mrs. T. H. McKee, formerly living here, was a surprise to her friends and acquaintances. It was met by doubt, however, until confirmed by a reply from Neepawa. Her case was well-known here, as this lady was treated by several of the local doctors for Bright's disease, and her friends thought, as did her physicians, that her case was hopeless, and it was as a last resort she left here to try climatic change. That Mrs. McKee was cured by Dodd's Kidney Pills in a few weeks, speaks volumes in in their favour.

Why is it that one man is old and decrepid at 45, and another hale and hearty at 80? The accident of birth has something to do with it. Some men are born stronger than others, but frequently the strong man becomes weak and the weak man strong. It depends on the care he takes of himself. When the man who runs an engine hears an unusual sound about it, he stops immediately and looks it up. If he finds a little looseness, or a little crack, it is remedied immediately. If it isn't, there will come a break presently—a break that will wreck the engine. Likely as not, this same man will totally ignore the call for help from some one of his own organs. He will let the trouble grow and grow until it lays him out in bed. If he keeps on working with a damaged body, he will soon wear it out. The strain on his nerves will tell on his constitution. He will not be hearty when he is old. The chances are he never will be old at all. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery restores health. It is not only a cure for disease, it is a preventive. Whenever a man feels that he is not quite as well as he ought to be, whenever he is listless, without energy and without vitality, whenever he finds that he is losing weight and that his ordinary work gives him undue fatigue, he needs the "Golden Medical Discovery." No matter how his trouble shows itself, this wonderful remedy will cure him. We say it is wonderful because of its wonderful results, and not because there is anything supernatural about it—not because it does anything that is unexpected, or anything which its discoverer did not mean it to do. That it cures many different so-called diseases is the most natural thing in the world when you understand that nearly all diseases spring from the same thing—bad digestion and consequent impure blood. The "Discovery" makes the appetite good, the digestion strong, assimilation easy, and the blood rich and pure. No disease of the blood can withstand its action.

ROBBERY IN HAMILTON.

Aaron Sayman, an Eccentric Aged Jew, Attacked by Masked Men

Hamilton, Nov. 24.—According to the story which Aaron Sayman relates, he had a very exciting experience with three burglars last Thursday night, when, with a butcher knife at his throat, he was forced to hand over all his money, a couple of watches, and several gold rings; and besides, he says, he was handled so roughly that he was ill for two days, being unable to report the robbery to the police till Saturday morning. Sayman is a Jew, about 70 years old, of eccentric habits and, resides alone with his eccentric son, Eleazar, at the corner of McNab and Vine-streets, where he keeps a curiosity shop, his young wife having deserted him some time ago. The man with a knife ordered Sayman to tell where his money and anything else of value were, and the old man told them where they could get $10, and the key to the drawer which contained the watches and rings. With these in their possession, the man with the knife told the old man if he said anything about it they would come back and cut his throat. While all this was going on Eleazar was hiding under the clothes, he having taken refuge as soon as he was awakened by the oaths of the burglars.

Proceedings have been started by Louis Morris, a King-street east butcher, and his daughter, Miss Nellie Morris, against the latter's uncle, Thomas Small, a well-known horseman, for assault and trespass. The alleged assault and trespass is said to have taken place some months ago, while Small and his niece were out driving, and as both parties are well known and highly respected, and connected with the First Methodist Church the action has created a great deal of talk, and the trial promises to be of a sensational nature. Miss Morris is at the City Hospital.

M. D. Neiligan, vice-president, and Chris Kerner, past president of the Veterans' Association, have visited Ridgeway, and have made the first arrangements for the big demonstration to be held at Ridgeway on June 1 and 2, in celebration of the thirtieth anniversary of the Battle of Limestone Ridge, in the Fenian Raid of 1866. It is proposed to have the Queen's Own and Royal Grenadiers of Toronto and the Thirteenth unite for a two days' parade, during which there will be a sham battle. The Toronto Veterans' Association will co-operate in the movement.

THE WORLD OF SPORT.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 23.—A gloomy day with a heavy track made the racing today far from enjoyable. The talent were out of line, all but one favorite being defeated. The defeat of Maid Marian by the comparatively untried two-year-old Gladys Lee was an unexpected coup. The ringer Capstone was to-day identified as Post Odds. He was given two more brands and ruled off, together with his owners, Joseph Schreiner and F. E. Brown of Cincinnati. In the last race on Friday, the judges having reason to believe that the horse which was entered by Joseph Schreiner, and said to be by Imp. Charaxus—Ellee, by Eolus, was a ringer, refused to allow him to start, and had him locked up in a stable by the track patrolman. The horse's owner could not be found, but a young fellow who gave his name as Brown claimed to be managing the horse. He said that he had no knowledge of the horse prior to a few days ago, but a gentleman who saw a letter that Brown had says it contains statements tending to show that Capstone was a ringer. Summaries:

First race, 6 furlongs—Mayor Tom 1, Mary Keene 2, Major Dripps 3. Time 1.18¼.

HANLAN WON THE PURSE.

Bubear Beaten Three Heats Out of Five at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., Nov. 23.—The final heat in the sculling match between Hanlan and Bubear was witnessed to-day by a small, but enthusiastic, crowd, who cheered lustily as Hanlan sculled himself in a winner. He has won three of the five heats in the match and a thousand-dollar purse.

There was a heavy rain falling at the time. The scullers got away well together. Bubear got a slight lead on the return, but did not keep it long, as Hanlan by one of his characteristic spurts came right up with him a short distance from the goal, and came home two boatlengths to the good.

Bubear says to-night that he will immediately challenge Hanlan for another race. Secretary Smith of the Texas Regatta Association announced to-night that next year's regatta would be held on Dickinson River instead of on the lake at Austin.

Low Prices for Trotters.

New York, Nov. 23.—William B. Fasig & Co.'s combination auction sale of trotting horses was continued at Madison Square Garden to-day. Over 400 trotting horses have been thrown upon the local market during the past week and the effect was perceptible in the shrinkage of rates today. The highest price obtained was $825, paid by M. J. McDonald of New York for Comanche, b.h., out of Reality, by Antonio, with a record of 2.27½, and the purchases ranged away down to $15. Rintoul, the well-known racing horse recently sold at $1200, consigned by E. E. Bergen, Newark, went for $250. A. T. Sandler got Missile, b.m., from the Robbhurst farm, Roslyn, N.Y., which brought $900 and $600 at late sales, for $300. The aggregated receipts of the day amounted to something over $15,000. Following is a list of principal sales: Red Lane, ch.c., by Red Wilkes, C. Fleischman, Vienna, Austria, $425; Daconia, b.c., by Norwood Star, Frank Fox, New York, $700; Addie L., b. m., by Warwick Boy, F. J. McDonald, New York, $800; Comanche, b.c., by Antonio—Reality, M. McDonald, New York, $825; Rintoul, b.s., by Mambrino, J. W. Jackson, New York, $250.
